Homelessness still an issue

DAVID RUPKALVIS The World

COOS BAY — As winter begins to bring colder weather to Coos Bay, hundreds of local residents are wondering where they might be laying their heads at night.

Coos Bay City Manager Rodger Craddock said homelessness continues to be a major problem in the city. Craddock said several years ago a survey estimated around 1,200 homeless in Coos Bay

"It's a daunting number," he said.

While the 1.200 estimates the number of homeless, Craddock said the definition of homeless is fluid. He explained technically, one is considered homeless if they don't have a permanent home. That includes people living in their cars, in hotels and even couch surfing with friends. Regardless, Craddock said there are people in Coos Bay who need help and currently are not receiving it.

Tara Johnson, director of the Nancy Devereux Center in Coos Bay, said she agrees with the estimate of 1,200 homeless.

While the city and Devereux Center agree that around 1,200 homeless are in the area, Johnson said that includes up to 300 children. A recent McKinney-Vento survey of local school districts identified 200 to 300 homeless children ranging in age from birth to 18.

David Rupkalvis, The World Blake Wright works on a computer while visiting the Nancy Devereux Center in Coos Bay.

"There's a fair number of those that are on their own, they're unaccompanied youth," she said. She said the Devereux Center sees approximately 300 homeless each month. The center offers free breakfast and lunch along with services like showers, laundry, access to computers and assistance with things like getting doctor's appointments and qualifying for government assistance.

Despite the work being done at the Devereux Center and other organizations in Coos Bay, the challenges facing the homeless population and the community are not easing.

"We know that something more has to be done," Johnson said. "We're happy to step up and do what we can. It has to be the community stepping up and helping organizations like the Devereux Center."

Second vaccine successful in trials

(AP) - Moderna said Monday its COVID-19 vaccine is proving highly effective in a major trial, a second ray of hope in the global race for a shot to tame a resurgent virus that is now killing more than 8,000 people a day worldwide.

The company said its vaccine appears to be 94.5% effective, according to preliminary data from Moderna's ongoing study. A week ago, competitor Pfizer Inc. announced its own vaccine appeared similarly effective ----

COQUILLE — One of the big focuses of Winter Lakes High School is training students for futures in construction or technical fields.

That was on display on a recent evening when the school invited leaders in those industries on the South Coast to see what the school is teaching the students through the Career and Technical Education program.

Brian Bergstedt, the CTE Construction instructor for Winter Lakes, told the guests the school's goal is to provide those companies workers while giving the students a chance to be successful after high school.

"The thing that is really neat about this program — everyone knows how hard it is to find people to work," he told the industry leaders. "We get the kids when they are younger. They can dabble at things."

Winter Lakes offers 20 different construction trade skills the students can learn.

The guests had a chance to tour the three rooms in the school where the students get practical experience.

In some ways, the most impressive is the simulator room, which has simulators of four different construction vehicles — a front loader, an excavator, a bulldozer and a grader - completely with steering wheels, foot pedals, hand levers, screens that show the views the driver would have and seats that vibrate like real tractors would.

In addition to giving experience, the simulators grade the operators on how they do, keeping track of what they do right and wrong.

A fifth simulator is on the way, scheduled to arrive later this month, that might prove most popular of all — a truck driving simulator that includes several different types of trucks and can show driving in city or rural areas, all kinds of weather and various terrain including steep uphills or downhills.

The truck simulator normally would cost $350,000, but Winter Lakes got it for $67,000, said Tim Sweeney the superintendent for the Coquille School District, which includes the Winter Lakes schools.

news that puts both companies on track to seek permission within weeks for emergency use in the U.S.

The results are "truly striking," said Dr. Anthony Fauci, the U.S. government's top infectious diseases expert. Earlier this year, Fauci said he would be happy with a COVID-19 vaccine that was 60% effective.

A vaccine can't come fast enough, as virus cases topped 11 million in the U.S. over the weekend — 1 million of them recorded in just the past week and governors and mayors are ratcheting up restrictions ahead of Thanksgiving. The pandemic has killed more than 1.3 million people worldwide, over 245,000 of them in the U.S.

Stocks rallied on Wall Street and elsewhere around the world on rising hopes that the global economy could start returning to normal in the coming months. Moderna was up 7.5% in the morning, while companies that have benefited from the stayat-home economy were down, including Zoom, Peloton and Netflix.

Dr. Stephen Hoge, Moderna's president, welcomed the "really important milestone" but said having similar results from two different companies is what's most reassuring.

"That should give us all hope that actually a vaccine is going to be able to stop this pandemic and hopefully get us back to our lives," Hoge told The Associated Press. He added: "It won't be Moderna alone that solves this problem. It's going to require many vaccines" to meet the global demand.

The National Institutes of Health helped create the vaccine Moderna is manufacturing, and NIH's director, Dr. Francis Collins, said the exciting news from follow precautions and restrictions, like wearing face masks and cancelling large holiday plans, in order to slow the spread of the virus which threatens to close schools and take up hospital capacity.

"I think that we don't truly understand the severity of the situation," said Eric Gleason, CHW's assistant director. "It's obscene, the numbers that we've had in the last few months, and it's frustrating that something as simple as putting a mask on has become a divisive topic."

The weekend was a busy one: Coos County saw 14 new cases of COVID-19 on Saturday alone, the county's highest daily case count since the pandemic began. Sunday saw five new cases, and Monday's four cases brings the county's total to 342 since beginning of the pandemic.

70 of those cases came in the past 14 days, a sign that those cases are still considered infectious and active. That's the most active cases the county has reported.

Douglas County's weekly data report shows the stark figures it is facing: The county had more cases last week alone (148) than it did in the first 152 days after its first reported case in March.

It's had 632 cases of the virus since the pandemic began, and 10 people in the county have died with the virus.

Curry County reported two new cases of the virus over the weekend, bringing its total to 83 since the pandemic began. Two people in the county have died with the virus.

The World

REEDSPORT - Paul Connolly has been named the interim chief administration officer for the Lower Umpqua Hospital District, the district's board of directors announced.

Connolly was originally hired as interim manager at Dunes Family Health Care while the district awaited the arrival of new Senior Director of Clinic Operations Marcy Wasiluk from John Day.

"Paul's time at Dunes Family Health Care has allowed Marcy to take up the reins with much insight into the issues and challenges patients in our community are currently facing," Board President Ron Kreskey, Secretary Leon Bridge and members Karen Bedard, Cheryl Young and Tamara

Paul Connolly

Szalewski wrote in a letter to community members. "Marcy is familiar with Reedsport, having grown up in the area and is very familiar with the hospital as both of her children were born here at Lower Umpqua. We very much look forward to introducing her to our community in more depth in the upcoming days."

Connolly has more than 30 years of rural health clinic management and hospital administration experience. He has worked in academic medicine, community hospital and critical access hospital settings throughout his career. That puts him in a uniquely qualified position to step into the leadership role at Lower Umpqua Hospital, the board said.

"Paul and Marcy worked together during the quick staffing transition and found their administration styles complemented each other," the board said. "Both feel confident in their ability to work together to tackle some of the immediate needs and current challenges facing our district."

Connolly is originally from Belmont, Mass., and attended Providence College in Rhode Island before doing graduate studies at Boston University.

Before coming to Reedsport he was in Colorado and planned to return there after his interim job at the clinic, but convinced his wife, Connie, he was more needed in Reedsport, the board said. Connie, who also works in the medical field, plans to join him in Reedsport soon.

The Lower Umpqua

Health District employs 200 people, making it one of the largest employers in the Reedsport area.

"Safeguarding these jobs to provide much needed health services to all of us who live, work and vacation here remains a top priority," the board said. "Our critical care hospital is fully staffed 24/7 to meet emergencies.

"While our hospital and clinics, like many other rural health care systems, experience our fair share of employee turnover on a regular basis, we always manage to fill those turnovers with an amazing amount of highly skilled and extremely talented, professional individual who come here, be it short or long term, with the commitment to bettering our community. The board prides itself in being resourceful and remaining committed to making the health district stronger. That can be challenging with 80 percent of patients on Medicaid and Medicare, as well as ongoing challenges from the COVID-19 pandemic.

The board wrote, "2020 has challenged all of us in huge ways and on multiple fronts and continues to challenge us still. Often, great needs have the greatest potential to create something we can all be proud of.

"There is much to do and we the board, as well as the majority of the work force here in our district, remain committed to seeing this through."

COOS-CURRY ELECTRIC COOP-ERATIVE, INC. IS LOOKING FOR FORMER MEMBERS — TO RETURN UNCLAIMED MONEY!

Coos-Curry Electric Cooperative, Inc. is looking for members who have not claimed the capital credits retirement checks that were issued to them in 2013 thru 2015. The names will appear as a special insert in the Curry Coastal Pilot newspaper on Friday, August 21, September 18, October 16 and November 20, 2020. The list will also be posted to our website at www.ccec.coop; and a few copies are available in our area offices.

In 2013 thru 2015, your electric cooperative board of directors elected to return capital credits for the residual balance for the year 1983, and the years of 1984, 1985, 1986. Capital credits represent the amount of revenue left over after all expenses of the cooperative have been paid for the year and are allocated to each member based on their "participation" in the cooperative. Participation is usually defined as the amount of electricity you use. Think of it as the investment you made in your electric cooperative that particular year. Your ability to invest and participate in making your electric cooperative a success and receive refunds when financial conditions are good is what makes us different than other electric companies.

Unfortunately, some capital credits refund checks issued in 2013 thru 2015 were never cashed. That's why we're looking for you. Please call 1 (866) 305-1278 if your name appears on the list, you are legally authorized to claim one of these checks, you have the current address of someone on this list or the member on this list is deceased and you are an heir. Give your name, member's name and daytime telephone number where you may be reached. Or you may send your information to the attention of Pamela or Rose at Coos-Curry Electric Cooperative, P.O. Box 1268, Port Orford, OR 97465. A member of our staff will contact you as soon as possible. Capital credits not claimed 6 months after the last published notice, scheduled for May 2021, will be forfeited.

Police begin 'click it or ticket' enforcement

The World

REEDSPORT — The Reedsport Police Department is launching a "Click it or ticket" seat belt enforcement campaign to remind drivers about the importance of buckling up before driving.

The effort, part of a National Highway Traffic Safety Administration campaign, includes highly visible, "no-excuses" seat belt enforcement and the distribution of information about seat belt safety, according to a release from the Reedsport Police Department.

Enforcement will include the nighttime hours, between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m., according to the release. In 2018, 56% of passenger vehicle occupants killed at night weren't wearing seat belts, according to the NHTSA.

"The Thanksgiving holiday is one of the busiest travel weekends of the year," wrote Reedsport police Sgt. Tom Beck. "Families will be heading out to spend time with their loved ones, so it's imperative we get the word out about the importance of seat belts."

In Oregon, the maximum penalty for a seat belt violation is $165.

In 2018, over 9,700 unbuckled passenger vehicle occupants died in crashes across the country, according to the NHTSA's data.

"If the enforcement campaign wakes people up to the dangers of unrestrained driving, we'll consider our mission to be a success," Beck wrote. "If you know a friend or a family member who does not buckle up when they drive, please ask them to consider changing their habits."

Yale University has fancy dining halls. They pay no property tax.

Local restaurants struggle to compete, but their tax burden makes that hard.

"We basically pay one-third of our rent in taxes!" complains Matt West, manager of Koon Thai Restaurant. "Yale is a money-making machine."

It is. Many colleges are.

Yale has a $31 billion endowment. Harvard's is $40 billion. My alma mater, Princeton, has $26 billion.

Yet, these schools also get government handouts and tax breaks. How government rips-off taxpayers and students by subsidizing colleges is the subject of my video this week.

Yale owns about a quarter of the town of New Haven, Connecticut, but the school pays little property tax. It even has a golf course that's half tax-exempt.

Politicians tried to tax the school, but they cannot.

"It's written into the constitution," complains New Haven Board of Alders President Tyisha Walker-Myers. "They just don't have to pay.'

Now the city is ticketing more cars to try to cover its budget shortfall.

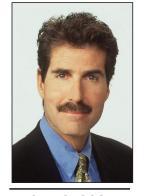

Everyone else pays more because colleges get tax breaks, government grants, and government loans.

"De-fund universities!" says Inez Stepman, senior policy analyst at the Independent Women's Forum. "Their entire business model is dependent on the taxpayer."

I push back: "You make it sound like it's all government money. But people pay their own way."

She corrects me: "Without that lifeblood of those federal student loans, very few universities would be able to operate. They are dependent on that federal interference."

They're dependent because from taxpayers. The federal government is now America's biggest largest provider of student aid.

"There is no check on the cost of a college degree," says Stepman. "If students had to walk into Wells Fargo for those loans, Wells Fargo would look at whether or not those loans would be paid back. The federal government doesn't ask any of those questions."

So, money is thrown at students who don't benefit. Today, almost half the students given loans don't graduate in six years.

Instead, says Stepman, they have "$50 or $60 or $80,000 in debt, without the degree to show for it.'

Taxpayers lose. Students lose. The winners are bloated colleges.

Colleges say they deserve every loan and tax break because they make "wiser citizens."

"They're not," says Stepman. "They're making citizens who hate their country.'

I push back again. "Most colleges educate rather than indoctrinate."

"I wish that were true," replies Stepman. "I was part of the College Republicans... registering voters. I actually had a professor walk up and spit on me. Another called us the 'Nazi Youth.' These are professors!"

"It's offensive," she adds, "that we take dollars out of mechanics' pockets and put them into the pockets of, largely, middle-class and upper-middle-class students.'

Thefts lead to community garden lockup

For the past 15 years, Lady Bug Landing Community Garden at 8th and Anderson, downtown Coos Bay, has offered local folks a safe place to plant vegetable gardens to put food on their tables. Volunteers also grow food in demonstration beds, donated to the Coos Food Cupboard, & Mission, up to 1,200 pounds per year.

Unfortunately, this year there have been too many instances of theft of the produce grown by paying members, despite much signage making it clear that this is illegal.

So, before next spring, modifications of the fencing will be done, including installation of locked gates for security. The non-profit South Coast Community Garden Association regrets having to take this step. We are well aware that many people have enjoyed walking through and enjoying the quietude and splendor of the growing plants all summer.

Of course, the garden will be open to the public during the hours when the garden coordinator is working, usually Wednesday and Saturday mornings. Thanks.

Here's something to think about, whether you are for or against this project:

Imagine a new flexible pipeline material that dramatically reduces leaks and the potential for explosions comes onto the market, say, yesterday (i.e. before this project even begins). If we extend permit timelines for Jordan Cove projects, Pembina could skip this innovation entirely because the permit has already been written. The methods they plan on using have already been documented. No change required.

Can you imagine buying a new car that had Model T features? (Wooden block brakes, no rubber tires. Cloth doors ... you get the picture.) When we extend the permit timeline, we exclude the possibility of better safety measures.

Those of us against this project are against it, primarily, because of the safety hazards of a pipeline located in a populated area along a fault line and in a tsunami zone. Those of us for this project absolutely care about the safety of their families and friends with such a project located in our city.

Given the scope of the Jordan Cove project, why would either Coos Bay or North Bend City Councils continue to give up opportunity to retain any impact control over the project? Because they haven't heard South Coast races, as well as interviews for candidates for Coos Bay and North Bend city councils. We wish to thank Marshfield High School for providing the recording studio and especially Drew Jones, who recorded and edited the videos and posted them on You-Tube.

We do want to remind future candidates and their supporters that one of our ground rules is that "No part of the recording may be used for promotion or abasement of a candidate or issue." In the lead-up to the recent election, this rule was violated with a video clip being posted on a Facebook "news and media" page without our permission.

The mission of the League of Women Voters is to promote informed participation in government, and we do not support or oppose candidates for elective office. It undercuts our mission when our voter information is selectively used in a partisan manner.

For election information, voters may always go to our website at https://my.lwv.org/oregon/coos-county/voting-elections.

Sincerely,

Alice Carlson and Frances Smith Co-Presidents League of Women Voters of Coos County

they've raised their prices so much. When I went to college, my tuition was $1,950. Now, Princeton charges $53,890.

After government increased subsidies, colleges raised tuition prices at four times the rate of inflation.

They spend the money not just on golf courses and fancy foods. They build new stadiums, first-class swimming pools, media rooms and some even offer students housekeeping

Why not spend? Colleges know they will get more money It is offensive.

But that's what America does.

Unfortunately, our next president wants to do even more of it.

We can do better

Re Joyce Clark's letter: Each voting year, the media reports that there were a record number of monies spent on campaigns. The vast majority of these monies are spent on either TV ads (mostly attack) and mail out flyers. Neither of these results in the changing of any minds. All attack ads accomplish is to turn voters off and the mail out ads simply fill up Garbage cans. I would behoove anyone running in the next cycle to simply say what you are going to attempt to accomplish, what your plans are for your district, and how you're going to make life somewhat easier for all of us. I grew so sick of the advertisements and attack TV ads this year that I wrote my name in for most offices. In addition, I hear many folks complaining about our judicial system yet Judges often run unopposed. In fact, many boards and commissions have either candidate running unopposed or seats with no one running. Come on Coos County. We can do better.

Tobacco tax increase will decrease revenue

The majority of Oregon's voters passed Measure 108, which leads me to put pen to paper. I've always marveled at this state's penchant to rail against the use of tobacco and then allow the state government to turn it into a cash cow. Wipe the smug grin from your face and think, doesn't it seem logical that if this product is the source of so much illness and disease to prohibit its sale within the borders of this state? Answer: The proponents, as the state legislature, of this measure know that if they feed you a line about the safety and health of children as well as of yourself you will give them the opportunity to shove their hand even deeper into another person's wallet.

The voters pamphlet told us that the administration of this tax increase will cost the state an estimated $2.3 million over the next two years. Further, it states that local government, the state general fund and mental health programs at the OHA will see a decline in revenue. Only in Oregon could you pass a tax and see a decline in revenue.

Another question you should ask if indeed this punitive tax has the desired effect and all tobacco use ceases is which minority will you allow the state to tax to recover the loss of revenue?

Judith "Judy" Rae Howard

May 10, 1941 - November 15, 2020

Judith "Judy" Rae Howard was born on May 10, 1941 to parents Floyd "Buster" and Irene Howard in Bandon, at the small Leep Hospital. She passed away November 15, 2020 in Bandon at the age of 79.

At the time of her birth her family was living on Grand Avenue in Bandon. Her father Buster was a logger and fell timber. When her dad would waltz through the door from work she would jump in his arms and call herself "daddy's kitten". When she was seven, her family moved to Prosper, a small bedroom community just outside of Bandon. Judy attended grades 1st through 3rd at the old Prosper School House. Her parents moved to town in 1953. She graduated from Bandon High School in 1959. While in high school, Judy was active in Girl's League, Pep Club, Job's Daughters, and she was a 1958 Cranberry Princess.

Except for a short stay in California, when her husband Robert Vierck was in the Navy, Judy lived her entire life in the Bandon area. Judy waitressed throughout her life and many remember her smiling face from her years of waitressing at Gerry's Restaurant later known as Fraser's. She was always hustling and bustling; waitressing was a perfect match for her.

She has two brothers, Steve and Mark and a sister, Sharon. Judy had lots of cousins growing up; there were 24 cousins on her father's side and eleven on her mother's side. The majority of her cousins grew up and attended Bandon schools. Even at a very young age family meant a lot to her and she cherished growing up in a small community.

In 1959, Judy and Robert Vierck had a son named Scott. A few years later, she married Bruce Manicke where they made their home on Bill Creek raising cranberries together. Bruce spent his days logging while Judy waitressed, cooked, and kept an immaculate home. Judy and Bruce had two children, Randall and Tracy. Her three children blessed her with seven grandchildren that she showed her love for through having an open door policy where you could always get a homemade meal or a piece of her famous pie. Judy put everyone's needs before her own with her generous nature and you could always expect to be welcomed with a big 'ol JuJu smooch.

Judy is survived by her ex-husband, Bruce Manicke; sons, Scott and Edith Vierck, Randall Manicke; daughter, Tracy and Ivan Hultin; brothers, Steve and Cheryl Howard, Mark and Trina Johnston: sister, Sharon and Jim Whitley; grandchildren, Nicholas Vierck, Catherine and K.C. Gonzales, Megan and James Kalina, Alana and Kevin Snyder, Ethan Hultin, Devinn Manicke, and Trevor Manicke; great-grandchildren, Makiah and Makenna Vierck, Zoë and Henry Kalina, Olivia and Kai Gonzales.

Graveside services will be held at the Odd Fellows Cemetery on Friday, November 20, 2020 at 1:30 pm. A remembrance potluck will be held the summer of 2021.

Hurricane Iota expected to batter Central America

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Hurricane lota rapidly strengthened Monday into a Category 5 storm that is likely to bring catastrophic damage to the same part of Central America already battered by a powerful Hurricane Eta less than two weeks ago.

Iota has intensified over the western Caribbean on approach to Nicaragua and Honduras. U.S. Air Force hurricane hunters flew into Iota's core and measured maximum sustained winds of 160 mph (260 kph), the U.S. National Hurricane Center said. It was centered about 100 miles (160 kilometers) east-southeast of Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua and moving westward at 9 mph (15 kph).

Authorities warned that lota would probably come ashore over areas where Eta's torrential rains saturated the soil, leaving it prone to new landslides and floods, and that the storm surge could reach a shocking 12 to 18 feet (3.6 to 5.5 meters) above normal tides.

Evacuations were being conducted from low-lying areas in Nicaragua and Honduras near their shared border, which appeared to be Iota's likely landfall. Winds and rain were already being felt on the Nicaraguan coast Sunday night.

Iota became a hurricane early Sunday and rapidly gained more power. It was expected to pass over or near Colombia's Providencia island during the night, and the U.S. National Hurricane Center warned it would probably reach the Central America mainland late Monday.

The hurricane center said Iota was centered about 20 miles (35 km) off Isla de Providencia, Colombia, and 145 miles (235 km) southeast of Cabo Gracias a Dios on the Nicaragua-Honduras border, and moving westward at 10 mph (17 kph).

Iota is the record 30th named storm of this year's extraordinarily busy Atlantic hurricane season. It's also the ninth storm to rapidly intensify this season, a dangerous phenomenon that is happening increasingly more often. Such activity has focused attention on climate change, which scientists say is causing wetter, stronger and more destructive storms.

All of Honduras was on high alert, with compulsory evacuations that began before the weekend. By Sunday evening 63,500 people were reported to be in 379 shelters just in the northern coastal region.

Nicaraguan officials said that by late Sunday afternoon about 1,500 people, nearly half of them children, had been evacuated from low-lying areas in the country's northeast, including all the inhabitants of Cayo Misquitos. Authorities said 83,000 people in that region were in danger.

Wind and rain were beginning to be felt Sunday night in Bilwi, a coastal Nicaraguan city where people crowded markets and hardware stores during the day in search of plastic sheeting, nails and other materials to reinforce their homes, just as they did when Hurricane Eta hit on Nov. 3.

Several residents of Bilwi expressed concern that their homes would not stand up to Iota, so soon after Eta. Local television showed people being evacuated in wooden boats, carrying young children as well as dogs and chickens.

Eta already wreaked havoc. It hit Nicaragua as a Category 4 hurricane, killing at least 120 people as torrential rains caused flash floods and mudslides in parts of Central America and Mexico. Then it meandered across Cuba, the Florida Keys and around the Gulf of Mexico before slogging ashore again near Cedar Key, Florida, and dashing across Florida and the Carolinas.

Iota was forecast to drop 8 to 16 inches (200-400 millimeters) of rain in northern Nicaragua, Honduras, Guatemala and southern Belize, with as much as 30 inches (750 millimeters) in isolated spots. Costa Rica and Panama could also experience heavy rain and possible flooding, the hurricane center said.

Eta was this year's 28th named storm, tying the 2005 record. Remnants of Theta, the 29th, dissipated Sunday in the eastern Atlantic Ocean.

Over the past couple of decades, meteorologists have been more worried about storms like Iota that power up much faster than normal. They created an official threshold for this rapid intensification -- a storm gaining 35 mph (56 kph) in wind speed in just 24 hours. Iota doubled it.

Earlier this year, Hannah, Laura, Sally, Teddy, Gamma, Delta, Zeta and Iota all rapidly intensified. Laura and Delta tied or set records for rapid intensification.

SpaceX launches second crew to space station

CAPE CANAVER-AL, Fla. (AP) — SpaceX launched four astronauts to the International Space Station on Sunday on the first full-fledged taxi flight for NASA by a private company.

The Falcon rocket thun-lows by just a few months SpaceX's two-pilot test flight. It kicks off what NASA hopes will be a long series of crew rotations between the U.S. and the space station, after years of delay. More people means more science research at the The flight to the space station — 27 1/2 hours door to door — should be entirely automated, although the crew can take control if needed. SpaceX had to deal with pressure pump spikes once the capsule reached orbit, but quickly resolved the launch.

"I didn't start breathing until about a minute after it took off," Pence said during a stop at SpaceX Launch Control to congratulate the workers.

Outside the space center gates, spectators crowded

SpaceX's first crew launch on May 30 went unheeded.

"In such a crazy year, we have finally some great news," said Sophia Giallanza, who came from Miami with her husband and son to see their first launch. "So it's really wonderful." The three-men, one-woman crew led by Hopkins, an Air Force colonel, named their capsule Resilience in a nod not only to the pandemic, but also racial injustice and contentious politics. It's about as diverse as space crews come, including physicist Shannon Walker, Navy Cmdr. Victor Glover, the first Black astronaut on a long-term space station mission, and Japan's Soichi Noguchi, who became the first person in almost 40 years to launch on three

The Dragon capsule on top — named Resilience by its crew in light of this year's many challenges, most notably COVID-19 — reached orbit nine minutes later. It was due to reach the space station late Monday and remain there until spring.

"By working together through these difficult times, you've inspired the nation, the world, and in no small part the name of this incredible vehicle, Resilience," Commander Mike Hopkins said right before liftoff.

Once reaching orbit, he radioed: "That was one heck of a ride."

Sidelined by the coronavirus himself, SpaceX founder and chief executive Elon Musk was forced to monitor the action from afar. He tweeted that he "most likely" had a moderate case of COVID-19. NASA policy at Kennedy Space Center requires anyone testing positive for coronavirus to quarantine and remain isolated.

HOLIDAYS THIS YEAR INSPIRE THINKING OUTSIDE THE GIFT BOX

DEAR ABBY: With the holidays fast approaching, I'm starting to think about shopping. Honestly, I'm tired of shopping for adults who don't need anything. Finding gifts for them becomes more daunting each year. I think gift cards and direct money are tacky Christmas presents.

Do you think it would be odd to ask my adult children and other family members to select a charity they would like me to donate to instead of buying them gifts that just take up more room? This year has been hard on many people financially, but most of my family members are lucky enough to still be working through everything that has happened. I think charities could use a boost. -- NEW IDEA IN FLORIDA

DEAR NEW IDEA: I am sure they could. Your idea is terrific, and it reminded me of a letter I printed many years ago, which I have edited because of space limitations. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: Like many families, we have wrestled with the "What do we get for people who have everything?" dilemma. Last year, our family finally hit upon a solution. We discussed it with our grandparents. They agreed it would be more charitable for us to give something to people who lack everyday necessities, so we adopted a battered children's shelter. Those little ones are truly refugees. They need everything from toothbrushes and hairbrushes to baby formula and diapers -- not to mention toys and games.

To our delight, our neighbors got involved in our project, too. For weeks, on Thursdays, neighbors would leave donations in a sack by their mailbox, and we would pick them up. Our goal was for every child in that shelter to wake up on Christmas morning to find packages of necessities and a few playthings.

The project created so much excitement among our neighbors that we collected enough for two shelters. There were pillows, socks, underwear, bath products, cold medicines, books, towels, baby clothes, etc. Each child also got a large gift basket, including a nonbreakable tree ornament to help him or her remember this holiday.

The cost was small when spread over so many families, but the rewards couldn't have been greater. We felt our project embodied the true spirit of Christmas. It sensitized our children to the needs of others all year long.

Because it was one of the best holidays we have ever had, we're repeating the drive again this year. When people join together, everyone CAN make a difference. -- SANTA'S HELPERS IN PHOENIX

DEAR SANTA'S HELPERS: Your signature describes you fittingly. With that in mind, I hope readers will be sensitive to the needs of charities in their local communities this year. Because monies that would ordinarily have been donated to local charities may have been diverted in other directions, many charities are having difficulty raising enough to meet their budgets. Remember, folks, charity begins at home -- and by that I mean the communities in which you dwell.

Thousands rally behind Trump

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fervent supporters of President Donald Trump rallied in Washington on Saturday behind his spurious claim of a stolen election and swarmed his motorcade in adulation when he detoured for a drive-by on his way out of town.

Hours later, after night fell in the nation's capital, demonstrators favoring Trump clashed in the streets with counterprotesters, videos posted on social media showing fistfights, projectiles and clubs. Police arrested at least 20 people on a variety of charges, including assault and weapons possession, officials said. One stabbing was reported, two police officers were injured and several firearms were also recovered by police.

A week after Democrat Joe Biden was declared the winner of the election, demonstrations in support of Trump also took place in other cities. Fury at the prospect of a transfer of executive power showed no signs of abating, taking a cue the president's unrelenting assertion of victory in a race he actually lost.

"I just want to keep up his spirits and let him know we support him," one loyalist, Anthony Whittaker of Winchester, Virginia, said from outside the Supreme Court, where a few thousand assembled after a march along Pennsylvania Avenue from Freedom Plaza, near the White House.

A broad coalition of top government and industry officials has declared that the Nov. 3 voting and the following count unfolded smoothly with no more than the usual minor hiccups — "the most secure in American history," they said, repudiating Trump's efforts to undermine the integrity of the contest.

In Delray Beach, Florida, several hundred people marched, some carrying signs reading "Count every vote" and "We cannot live under a Marxist government." In Lansing, Michigan, protesters gathered at the Capitol to hear speakers cast doubt on results that showed Biden winning the state by more than 140,000 votes. Phoenix police estimated 1,500 people gathered outside the Arizona Capitol to protest Biden's narrow victory in the state. Protesters in Salem, Oregon, gathered at the Capitol.

The crowd in Washington was beginning to gather Saturday morning when cheers rang out as Trump's limousine neared Freedom Plaza. People lined both sides of the street, some standing just a few feet away from Trump's vehicle. Others showed their enthusiasm by running along with the caravan.

Trump supporters gather in Salem to protest election

PORTLAND (AP) — Supporters of President Donald Trump gathered in Oregon for a rally to protest what they perceived as flawed or fraudulent results of the Nov. 3 election.

The event in Salem Saturday was billed by organizers as a "Defeat the Steal" rally and coincided with similar demonstrations across the U.S., KOIN-TV reported.

A crowd of 100 to 200 people gathered at the state Capitol, where many demonstrators said they do not believe the election results naming Joe Biden as the nation's president-elect. Attendees said they

They chanted "USA, USA" and "four more years," and many carried American flags and signs to show their displeasure with the vote tally. After making the short detour for the slow drive around the site, the motorcade headed to the president's Virginia golf club.

with a metal-cast statue that was previously erected in Portland to support the Black Lives Matter Movement. The statue known as "Nightmare Elk" replaced a city-owned statue that was removed over fears of damage by protesters. The elk statue was stolen Oct. 10.

Biden defeated Trump by topping the 270 electoral vote threshold needed to clinch the presidency. As of Sunday, Biden had 77.5 million votes, the most ever by a winning candidate, to Trump's 72.3 million votes.

was a Georgia Republican newly elected to the U.S. House. Marjorie Taylor Greene, who has expressed racist views and support for QAnon conspiracy theories, urged people to march peacefully toward the Supreme Court.

The marchers included members of the Proud Boys, a neo-fascist group known for street brawling with ideological opponents at political rallies.

The march was largely peaceful during the day before turning tense at night, with multiple confrontations as small groups of Trump supporters attempted to enter the area around Black Lives Matter Plaza, about a block from the White House, where several hundred anti-Trump demonstrators had gathered.

In a pattern that kept repeating itself, those Trump supporters who approached the area were harassed, doused with water and saw their MAGA hats and pro-Trump flags snatched and burned, amid cheers. As night fell, multiple police lines kept the two sides apart.

Videos posted on social media showed some demonstrators and counterdemonstrators trading shoves, punches and slaps. A man with a bullhorn yelling "Get out of here!" was shoved and pushed to the street by a man who was then surrounded by several people and shoved and punched until he fell face first into the street. Bloody and dazed, he was picked up and walked to a police officer.

The "Million MAGA March" was heavily promoted on social media, raising concerns that it could spark conflict with anti-Trump demonstrators, who have gathered near the White House in Black Lives Matter Plaza for weeks.

In preparation, police closed off wide swaths of downtown, where many stores and offices have been boarded up since Election Day. Chris Rodriguez, director of the city's Homeland Security and Emergency Management Agency, said the police were experienced at keeping the peace.

The issues that Trump's campaign and its allies have pointed to are typical in every election: problems with signatures, secrecy envelopes and postal marks on mail-in ballots, as well as the potential for a small number of ballots miscast or lost. With Biden leading Trump by wide margins in key battleground states, none of those issues would have any impact on the outcome of the election.

Trump's campaign has also filed legal challenges complaining that their poll watchers were unable to scrutinize the voting process. Many of those challenges have been tossed out by judges, some within hours of their filing.

A former administration official, Sebastian Gorka, whipped up the crowd by the Supreme Court by saying, "We can win because he did win." But, he added, "It's going to be tough."

Hate crimes reach highest level in more than a decade

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hate crimes in the U.S. rose to the highest level in more than a decade as federal officials also recorded the highest number of hate-motivated killings since the FBI began collecting that data in the early 1990s, according to an FBI report released Monday.

There were 51 hate crime murders in 2019, which includes 22 people who were killed in a shooting that targeted Mexicans at a Walmart in the border city of El Paso, Texas, the report said. The suspect in that August 2019 shooting, which left two dozen other people injured, was charged with both state and federal crimes in what authorities said was an attempt to scare Hispanics into leaving the United States.

There were 7,314 hate crimes last year, up from 7,120 the year before and approaching the 7,783 of 2008. The FBI's annual report defines hate crimes as those motivated by bias based on a person's race, religion or sexual orientation, among other categories.

Some of the 2019 increases may be the result of better reporting by police departments, but law enforcement officials and advocacy groups don't doubt that hate crimes are on the rise. The Justice Detions last year, up from 835 the year before. The FBI said the number of hate crimes against African Americans dropped slightly to 1,930, from 1,943.

Anti-Hispanic hate crimes, however, rose to 527 in 2019, from 485 in 2018. And the total number of hate crimes based on a person's sexual orientation stayed relatively stable, with one fewer crime reported last year, compared with the year before, though there were 20 more hate crimes against gay men reported.

As the data was made public on Monday, advoin part because it is based on voluntary reporting by police agencies across the country.

Last year, only 2,172 law enforcement agencies out of about 15,000 participating agencies across the country reported hate crime data to the FBI, the bureau said. And while the number of agencies reporting hate crimes increased, the number of agencies participating in the program actually dropped from the year before. A large number of police agencies appeared not to submit any hate crime data, which has been a consistent struggle mation League's president, Jonathan Greenblatt, said in a statement.

An Associated Press investigation in 2016 found that more than 2,700 city police and county sheriff's departments across the country had not submitted a single hate crime report for the FBI's annual crime tally during the previous six years.

Greenblatt also said America must "remove the barriers that too often prevent people in marginalized communities – the individuals most likely to suffer hate crimes - from reporting hate-based incidents," a sentiment shared by other advocates. "The FBI's report is another reminder that we have much work to do to address hate in America," said Margaret Huang, the president of the Southern Poverty Law Center.

DHS head didn't have authority to suspend DACA

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge in New York ruled Saturday that Acting Department of Homeland Security Secretary Chad Wolf assumed his position unlawfully, a determination that invalidated Wolf's suspension of the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program, which shields young people from deportation.

"DHS failed to follow the order of succession as it was lawfully designated," U.S. District Judge Nicholas Garaufis wrote. "Therefore, the actions taken by purported Acting Secretaries, who were not properly in their roles according to the lawful order of succession, were taken without legal authority."

Wolf issued a memorandum in July effectively suspending DACA, pending review by DHS. A month earlier, the U.S. Supreme Court had ruled that President Donald Trump failed to follow rule-making procedures when he tried to end the program, but the justices kept a window open for him to try again.

About 650,000 people are part of DACA, which allows young immigrants who were brought to the country as children to legally work and shields them from deportation.

Karen Tumlin, an attorney who represented a plaintiff in one of the lawsuits that challenged Wolf's authority, called the ruling "another win for DACA recipients and those who have been waiting years to apply for the program for the first time."

In August, the Government Accountability Office, a bipartisan congressional watchdog, said Wolf and his acting deputy, Ken Cuccinelli, were improperly serving and ineligible to run the agency under the Vacancies Reform Act.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 2020 | A7 THE WORLD Biden agenda faces a divided Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) -President-elect Joe Biden wants to "restore the soul of America." First, he'll need to fix a broken and divided Congress.

Biden is rushing headlong into a legislative branch ground down by partisanship, name-calling and, now, a refusal by some to acknowledge his win over President Donald Trump.

Democratic allies, struggling to regroup after their own election losses, harbor deep divisions between progressive and moderate voices. Republicans, rather than graciously congratulating the incoming president, are, intentionally or not, delegitimizing Biden's presidency while catering to Trump's refusal to accept the election results.

At a time when the country needs a functioning government perhaps more than ever to confront the crises of COVID-19, a teetering economy and racial injustice, Washington is being challenged by the president-elect to do better than it has.

It's going to be a hard opening.

"The country used to want gridlock because they saw gridlock as a way to protect them. Now the country's actually hungry for action and progress," said Jesse Ferguson, a Democratic strategist. "That's a mandate to flip the switch."

The idea of a Biden mandate, though, is relative, certainly embraced by Democrats who want to push ahead with his agenda. Emboldened Republicans, though, who didn't lose a single House seat, but in fact expanded their ranks and brushed back many Senate Democratic challengers, see their own mandate to serve as a block on a Biden agenda.

California Rep. Kevin McCarthy, the House's Republican leader, said the election "was a mandate against socialism," stepping up the relentless GOP attacks, even though Biden is a centrist Democrat.

Biden comes to the presidency like few in recent history, with a rare mix of experience but also a potentially divided Congress.

Not since President George H.W. Bush has the White House had an executive with such a deep Washington resume. Rarely in modern times has a Democrat started an administration without a full Democratic Congress. While the House is in Democratic hands, the Senate remains undecided, a 50-48 lead for Republicans heading into a Jan. 5 runoff for two seats in Georgia that will determine party control.

Asked this past week how he will be able to work with Republicans if they aren't acknowledging his victory, Biden said, "They will."

What Biden is presenting is a new normal in Washington that he said voters demanded from the election. "If we can decide not to cooperate, then we can decide to cooperate," he said at his election victory speech.

Much has been made of Biden's relationship with Capitol Hill, where he served as a senator for 36 years, particularly his deal-making as Barack Obama's vice president with Senate Republican leader Mitch McConnell of Kentucky.

Yet McConnell has not revived that approach as he enables Trump to delve into a legal battle rooted in unfounded allegations of voter fraud, even as state officials say the elections ran smoothly and there is no widespread evidence of fraudulent voting. McConnell won his own reelection in Kentucky.

Whether McConnell emerges in the new Congress as majority or minority leader with a narrowly divided Senate, the longest serving Republican leader in history will have great leverage over legislation that arrives on Biden's desk.

Biden could seek a repeat of Newt Gingrich's era when the Republican House speaker served up legislative victories for President Bill Clinton, infuriating Democrats with conservative budget and welfare bills but helping Clinton win a second term.

Or Biden could find McConnell rerunning his politically charged GOP blockade of Obama's agenda. Hopes of overcoming McConnell by ending the Senate filibuster, which would allow bills to advance on a simple majority rather than a 60-vote threshold, are slipping out of reach without Democratic control.

"Gingrich insisted the American people wanted it," said Rick Tyler, a former Gingrich top aide who left the Republican Party in the Trump era. He said McConnell will move on Biden's agenda when Biden has the nation behind him.

"That's how you do it. Let's see if Biden can do it," he said.

But it's not just McConnell. House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, D-Calif., Senate Democratic leader Chuck Schumer of New York and even McCarthy will have oversize roles because of the changed makeup of the new Congress.

Biden faces a restive liberal flank, powered by a new generation of high-profile progressives including Rep. Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez, D-N.Y., They helped deliver his victory and may not be so eager to compromise over health care, climate change, income inequality and racial justice issues that have growing popular support.

Trial begins for suspect in France train attack

PARIS (AP) — Head lowered, an Islamic State operative listened silently as a Paris judge on Monday detailed his alleged plot to unleash mass slaughter on a high-speed train before he was tackled and subdued by American vacationers whose heroics inspired Clint Eastwood to direct a Hollywood re-enactment.

Opening a month-long trial for Ayoub El Khazzani, the judge said the 31-year-old Moroccan with ties to a notorious terror mastermind intended to "kill all the passengers" aboard the Amsterdam to Paris train in 2015 but "lost control of events."

One of the Americans who tackled the bare-chested gunman, who was laden with an arsenal of weapons and shot another passenger, told investigators that he seemed high on drugs and "completely crazy," the ### judge said.

A lawyer for the two U.S. servicemen and their friend, whose electrifying capture of El Khazzani inspired Eastwood's movie "The 15:17 to Paris", said their heroics during the drama on Aug. 21, 2015 thwarted a "slaughter."

"This terror attack could have killed up to 300 people based on the number of ammunition that was found on the terrorist and in his bag," said the attorney, Thibault de Montbrial.

With El Khazzani in court and watched by security officers, the trial opening was largely taken up with procedural issues including whether Eastwood's presence is needed. That question was not immediately resolved. The actor-director has so far not responded to a summons.

El Khazzani boarded the train in Brussels armed with a Kalashnikov, nine clips with 30 rounds each, an automatic pistol and a cutter, according to investigators.

He is charged with attempted terrorist murder. If convicted, he faces a maximum sentence of life in prison.

His lawyer, Sarah Mauger-Poliak, said El Khazzani "regrets having allowed himself to become indoctrinated" by extremist propaganda and wants "to demonstrate his remorse."

weren't on the train, are being tried as alleged accomplices.

Bilal Chatra, 24, an Algerian member of the Islamic State group, would have been the second man on the train but dropped out of the plot a week earlier. He left Syria for Europe a week before to set up the exit route.

Mohamed Bakkali allegedly sheltered the attackers in Budapest, Hungary, which he denies. The two were arrested in Germany in 2016. A third man, Redouane El Amrani Ezzerrifi, allegedly piloted a boat to help in their return to Europe.

The trial ties into the massacre of 130 people in Paris three months later, on Nov. 13, 2015, at the Bataclan music hall and restaurants and cafes. The suspected mastermind of those assaults, Abdel Hamid Abaaoud, also worked behind the scenes in the train attack, according to the prosecution. Prosecutors say Abaaoud and El Khazzani traveled together from Syria to Belgium and holed up with Chatra in a Brussels apartment.

French special forces killed Abaaoud days after the Bataclan attack.

Once aboard the train, El Khazzani lingered in a restroom between cars and emerged bare-chested with the Kalashnikov. One waiting passenger struggled with the attacker, then a French-American, Mark Magoolian, wrestled the Kalashnikov away before being shot himself by a pistol.

'We want to allow local businesses to come in — to allow new hires to come in and do training and safety training," he said. "We're happy to have them do it."

The second room is the shop area, which includes learning spaces for a variety of skills, but also comes with practical experience.

On Friday, state officials announced new restrictions on dining, retail and other businesses that will take effect on Wednesday. Restaurants are limited to takeout-only operations, and indoor recreation facilities will close for two weeks under the new restrictions, though schools won't be impacted.

The restrictions will last longer in more-densely populated counties, since they're home to many of the state's cases, Governor Kate Brown said Friday.

But they're not only important for larger counties, CHW's Gleason says they're critical for counties like Coos, too.

"It's not a Multnomah problem that affects the rest of the state," Gleason said. "Our numbers — and especially ours — are rising significantly. That doesn't have anything to do with Multnomah. It has to do with the people that live in this community right now, doing the things that they need to do to prevent the spread of COVID, and we just haven't been able to get over that hump yet."

The surge in cases and

The study is continuing, and Moderna acknowledged the protection rate might change as more COVID-19 infections are detected. Also, it's too soon to know how long protection lasts. Both cautions apply to Pfizer's vaccine as well.

But Moderna's independent monitors reported some additional, promising tidbits: All 11 severe COVID-19 cases were among placebo recipients, and there were no significant safety concerns. The main side effects were fatigue, muscle aches and injection-site pain after the second dose.

He's had to tell a family member not to come visit from Portland, saying its too dangerous for them to travel outside of the area.

Vaccine

two companies "gives us a lot of confidence that we're on the path towards having effective vaccines."

But "we're also at this really dark time," he warned, saying people can't let down their guard during the months it will take for doses of any vaccines cleared by the Food and Drug Administration to start reaching a large share of the population.

Scientists not involved with the testing were encouraged by the early findings but cautioned that the FDA still must scrutinize the safety data and decide whether to allow line yet," said Dr. James Cutrell, an infectious disease expert at UT Southwestern Medical Center in Dallas. "If there's an impression or perception that there's just a rubber stamp, or due diligence wasn't done to look at the data, that could weaken public confidence.'

If the FDA allows emergency use of Moderna's or Pfizer's candidate, there will be limited, rationed supplies before the end of the year.

Both vaccines require people to get two shots, several weeks apart. U.S. officials said they hope to have about 20 million Moderna doses and another 20 million doses of the vaccine made by Pfize and its German partner BioNTech to use in late December.

Exactly who is first in line is yet to be decided. But Health and Human Services Secretary Alex Azar said the hope is that enough doses are available by the end of January to vaccinate adults over 65, who are at the highest risk from the coronavirus, and health care workers. Fauci said it may take until spring or summer for enough for anyone who is not high risk and wants a shot to get one.

States are gearing up for what is expected to be the biggest vaccination campaign in U.S. history. First the shots have to arrive where they're needed, and Pfizer's must be kept at ultra-cold tem 94 degrees Fahrenheit. Moderna's vaccine also starts off frozen, but the company said Monday it can be thawed and kept in a regular refrigerator for 30 days, easing that concern.

Another important message: Additional vaccines that work in different ways are still in testing and despite the promising news about Moderna's and Pfizer's shots, more volunteers are needed for those studies.

Moderna's vaccine is being studied in 30,000 volunteers who received either the real thing or a dummy shot. On Sunday, an independent monitoring board examined 95 infections that were recorded after volun cine is among 11 candidates in late-stage testing around the world, four of them in huge studies in the U.S.

Both Moderna's shots and the Pfizer-BioNTech candidate are so-called mRNA vaccines, a brandnew technology. They aren't made with the coronavirus itself, meaning there's no chance anyone could catch it from the shots. Instead, the vaccine contains a piece of genetic code that trains the immune system to recognize the spiked protein on the surface of the virus.

Pfizer CEO Albert Bourla tweeted that that he was thrilled at Moderna's news, saying, "Our companies share a common goal — defeating this dreaded disease."

Craddock said what the city can do it limited. The city has a committee that looks at homeless issues, although it has been limited recently due to the pandemic.

"The reality is we've got to come up with something," Craddock said. "Until we address the underlying conditions, it will be difficult."

Johnson also brought up the underlying conditions specifically substance abuse, mental health problems and a housing shortage in the community.

"The problems with people are broad," Johnson said. "There's no two stories that are the same. About 20 percent of my clients admit to mental health issues, but we believe it's 90 percent. They don't want to admit it because of the stigma attached."

Looking at the three core issues, Johnson said getting help is extremely difficult.

Starting with mental health, Johnson said Oregon is simply lacking in addressing the needs, homeless or not.

"Our mental health system is broken," she said. "I don't know what peratures — around minus

The Devereux Center helps its clients get into housing when possible. Thanks to a grant, the center has helped close to 40 people move into permanent housing over the last few years. The number would be higher but several times clients with jobs and the ability to pay are denied because of previous issues. Because there are more renters than available housing, landlords and rental agencies can turn down anyone with issues. So the Devereux Center does what it can. Every day during the week, they welcome anyone for free breakfast and lunch. They

Johnson said she has heard a lot of criticism about the center, explaining many believe if the Devereux Center and other organizations that help the homeless were to shut down, the homeless would leave.

Johnson said that is simply not true.

"Feeding someone, building relationships with people, is not enabling them," she said. "Many have lived here their whole life or they came here because they're linked to family or friends here." Johnson explained if organizations that helped were the problem, the homeless in Coos Bay would have already left. She explained that Portland, Eugene and other communities in the state have much better services, if that was the draw.

The homeless are not leaving, Johnson said, so the community needs to do more for them. Addressing their basic needs, providing mental health care and affordable housing is the only long-term solution, she said.

It's also good for the players tasked with defending the receivers, Marshfield's Ezra Waterman said after the second night of jamboree-style games Thursday in North Bend.

"Our secondary has a lot of reps in," he said.

The format favors the offense in the sense that there is no line and no pass rush, so the quarterback has a direct look at where he can throw the ball. But he only has four seconds to get a pass off and the defense has an advantage in numbers.

So is it more important for the offense or defense?

Johnson wins the Masters

World's top-ranked player has recordsetting victory

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) - In this one-of-a-kind Masters that had no fans and no roars, Dustin Johnson made sure it had no drama. And when he polished off his five-shot victory Sunday with lowest score in tournament history, he had no words.

Only tears. Looking smart in his Masters green jacket he dreamed his whole life of winning, Johnson spoke to a small gathering on the putting green in absence of the official ceremony, but only briefly. In control of every aspect of his game on a course that never allows anyone to relax, he couldn't speak when it was over. Instead, he turned to wipe his eyes.

"I've never had this much trouble gathering myself," Johnson finally said. "On the golf course, I'm pretty good at it." No one was better. Not even close.

Johnson overcame a nervous start that conjured memories of past majors he failed to finish off, and then delivered a command performance that added his own touch to a Masters unlike another.

Because of the COVID-19 pandemic, it was the first played in November. It was the first without ropes and without roars because patrons were not allowed, only one guest for each player, coaches, Augusta National members and officials.

Leading by two shots heading into Amen Corner, the world's No. 1 player got through the 12th hole — where Tiger Woods earlier hit three balls in Rae's Creek and made 10 — and then ran off three straight birdies to pull away from Cameron Smith and Sungjae Im, the only players

"Both," Waterman said. The defense gets repetitions. The offense gets to refine its routes.

"You just work on everything," he said.

And on scrimmage nights all that work in practice is tested.

"You can do all that stuff in practice, but the competition is good to have," Waterman said.

Coleman Compton, North Bend's quarterback, agreed.

"You can see the improvement," he said. "Our receivers were having better timing. They are making some good plays. They made me look good a few times tonight."

Compton has played a lot of seven-on-seven with Marshfield Marshfield quarterback Dom Montiel fires a pass during a scrimmage in last week's jamboree.

players over the years, but North Bend hasn't done seven-on-seven as a team much in the past since the regular offense is not passing-dominated.

"It's fun," he said. "It's a whole different type of football."

This fall season might even encouraged the Bulldogs to add more passing to the offense.

"It's definitely bringing a whole new factor to the game," Compton said.

Even if the Bulldogs don't change the playbook much, the next few weeks will help a lot, he said.

"Coming together and getting to do things — it's going to help," Compton said.

Last week's event also included Myrtle Point and Brookings-Harbor. Reedsport also has been involved and Siuslaw might join in.

A number of the players on both Marshfield's and North Bend's clubs came right from the fall baseball season to the seven-on-seven season. Waterman said that was no problem.

"Since third or fourth grade, we've transferred straight from baseball to football," he said.

It just usually happens during the summer instead of the middle of the fall, when the two schools transitioned from their first fall season of baseball, softball, track and field and outdoor volleyball to seven-on-seven, boys and girls soccer, and basketball skills competitions.

The Oregon School Activities Association pushed the entire sports year into 2021, with the fall sports scheduled to start late spring, after the winter season.

There's no guarantee that will happen.

Compton is just grateful the players get the chance to be on the field.

"You can't think about the what-ifs," he said. "You've got to be thankful for what we have."

who had a chance.

Johnson closed with a 4-under 68 and finished at 20-under 268, breaking by two shots the record set by Tiger Woods in 1997 and matched by Jordan Spieth in 2015.

He had only four bogeys in 72 holes, another record, this one held by Jack Nicklaus and Jimmy Demaret. He missed only 12 greens all week, a record last set by Woods.

All that mattered was that green jacket. Nothing ever comes easily for Johnson in the majors. Nothing looked so natural as seeing Woods, the defending champion, help him into that size 42 long in Butler Cabin.

"Having Tiger put it on was awesome. You wouldn't want it any other way," Johnson said. And then he smiled before adding, "But any guy could put it on me and I'd be just fine.'

His five-shot victory was the largest at the Masters since Woods won by 12 in 1997. All that was missing were the roars from a crowd for any of his pivotal putts early and his birdie putts on the back nine that put it away.

It wasn't the loneliest walk up the hill to the 18th green. About 250 people offering warm applause and partner Paulina Gretzky rushed onto the green to celebrate with Johnson and his brother, caddie Austin Johnson.

Johnson now has two majors to go along with his 25 victories worldwide, a combination that validates him as one of the greats of his generation.

Gone are the doubts that he could hold a lead in the major on the final day. Four times he had gone into the final round with at least a share of the lead without winning. Johnson had questions, too. His only major was the U.S. Open at Oakmont in 2016 when he rallied from four shots behind.

"I'm sure a lot of you all think ... there were doubts in my mind, just because I had been there. I'm in this position a lot of times," Johnson said.

playing their hearts out.' He did point to the Cougars recovering three straight Oregon turnovers in the first half and only producing 10 points out of those.

`That game should have been different at halftime," Rolovich said.

He added that de Laura, a true freshman, played well in only his second college outing.

``He looked comfortable from beginning to end," Rolovich said.

Oregon went 92 yards in 15 plays on its first possession, and Shough hit tight end DJ Johnson with a 13-yard scoring pass for a 7-0 lead.

Washington State replied with an 18-yard touchdown pass from de Laura to Lucas Bacon. The Cougars attempted a 2-point conversion but de Laura's pass was incomplete.

Dye fumbled on the next possession and Hector recovered for the Cougars near midfield. De Laura hit Renard Bell with a 44-yard reception and, three plays later, connected with Bell on a 4-yard touchdown pass for a 13-7 lead.

but the Cougars had to punt.

Oregon's CJ Verdell was stripped of the ball on their next possession and Hector pounced on the fumble for his third recovery. But the Cougars had to settle for Blake Mazza's 39-yard field goal.

Mazza added a 49-yarder for a 19-7 lead with 20 seconds left in the first half.

Oregon was not done. Shough completed a 57-yard pass to Jaylon Redd to the Washington State 3, and Verdell ran in for the touchdown to cut Washington State's halftime lead to 19-14.

`That took an emotional toll," Rolovich said. ``I stress being the last one to score before halftime."

The Ducks shut down Washington State's offense in the third quarter, holding the Cougars to 30 yards.

Meanwhile, Shough threw a 16-yard touchdown pass to Dye late in the third to lift the Ducks to a 21-19 lead. He added a short touchdown pass to Johnny Johnson in the opening seconds of the fourth to push the lead of 28-19.

Running back Travis Dye of No. 11 Oregon recalled the bitter feeling after the Ducks lost at Washington State in 2018, and he didn't plan to experience it again Saturday night.

Dye caught a pair of second-half touchdown passes and Oregon came back to beat Washington State 43-29.

I remember every little detail of 2018," Dye said. "It stuck in my mind ever since we left that field."

He called Saturday's win ``a thirst quencher."

Tyler Shough threw for 312 yards and four touchdowns for Oregon. The Ducks improved to 2-0, piling up 582 yards of total offense.

Freshman Jayden de Laura threw for 321 yards and two touchdowns for Washington State (1-1), which led at halftime but could not stop the Ducks in the second half. Freshman defensive back Ayden Hector recovered three Oregon turnovers in the first half.

We're looking like a real great offense right now," Dye said. "We are moving and grooving way better than we have in the past."

Oregon coach Mario Cristob-

the second quarter was key. It cut Washington State's halftime lead from 12 to five points.

Certainly a huge momentum swing," he said. "Guys went into the locker room with a lot of juice, a lot of energy."

Shough played well, especially in the second half, Cristobal said.

`He made some great plays and some great decisions. Great job with protections, used this feet to get out of stuff," Cristobal said. ``Just showing tremendous maturity in just a second start, so big days ahead for Tyler."

We just started slow," Shough said. ``We had those turnovers in the first half and those were crucial to our scoring ability. We just came out in the second half, saying that we're going to take care of the ball and each do our job individually and that showed.'

We felt they couldn't stop us when we were doing our job, and not turning the ball over," Shough said.

Oregon scored 29 points in the second half, and it was the second straight game in which the Cougars have given up a lot of points after halftime.

Indianapolis might host all of March Madness

JOHN MARSHALL Associated Press

The NCAA announced Monday it plans to hold the entire 2021 men's college basketball tournament in one geographic location to mitigate the risks of COVID-19 and is in talks with Indianapolis to be the host city.

The Final Four is already set to be held in Indianapolis next April and the NCAA has its headquarters in the Indiana capital.

Early-round games had been scheduled at 13 predetermined sites across the country, with regionals in Minneapolis, Denver, Memphis, Tennessee, and New York City, with the First Four in Dayton, Ohio.

The NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee determined moving those to one location would allow a safe and controlled environment with venues, practice facilities, lodging and medical resources all near one another.

"Trying to run an event of 68 teams, 67 games over the course of three weeks in a safe and responsible way really needed to be managed in a much controlled, singular environment," NCAA senior vice president of basketball Dan Gavitt told NCAA.com.

"The committee has made a really sound decision here, disappointing as it is to go away from our valued hosts for 13 different sites from First Four through the regionals," he said. "Condensing this to one geographic area that we can do it in a more safe and responsible way is where we need to be."

The NCAA set a Nov. 25 start date for the season as it tries to bounce back from the two lucrative tournaments being canceled last spring due to the coronavirus pandemic. Cancellation of the NCAA Tournament led to a $375 million shortfall in revenue distributed to member institutions, putting a huge strain on athletic departments across the country.

Schools have scrambled to fill schedules while the coronavirus has wreaked havoc on college football, causing the cancellation of more than 60 games. Multiple basketball programs are currently on pause due to COVID-19 and the Ivy League announced last week the cancellation of winter sports, including men's and women's basketball.

Gavitt said there is no plan to change the Nov. 25 start date and the plan is for the NCAA Tournament to be played in March and April as scheduled. No determination has been made on whether fans will be allowed, a decision that will also face individual conferences as their tournaments approach in March. mert earlier floated the idea of playing the NCAA Tournament in a bubble after the NBA and NHL managed to complete their seasons with similar setups.

It might be a while before the women's basketball committee decides what it wants to do with the tournament. Since 2015, the first two rounds have been played on home campuses of the top 16 seeds. Those aren't known until Selection Monday, so there are no predetermined sites.

The women's Final Four next March is set for San Antonio and the regionals are supposed to be played in Albany, New York, Austin, Texas, Cincinnati and Spokane, Washington.

Schilling, Bonds, Clemens are leading candidates for Hall

Baseball ballot does not include new sure things

NEW YORK (AP) — Curt Schilling, Roger Clemens and Barry Bonds are the leading candidates returning to baseball's Hall of Fame ballot in a year without any favorites among the new names.

Schilling was third behind Derek Jeter and Larry Walker with 278 of 397 votes last year, finishing at 70% and 20 votes shy in balloting by the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Clemens had 242 votes for 61% and Bonds 241 for 60.7%, both well short of the 75% needed, which was 298 votes last year. Both were overwhelming favorites before suspicions of steroids use.

Clemens has denied using performance-enhancing drugs, and Bonds says he never knowingly took performance-enhancing drugs.

All three will be making their ninth appearance on the BBWAA ballot this year, one short of the limit. Omar Vizquel was next in last year's voting with 209 ballots for 52.6%.

Pitchers Barry Zito, Tim Hudson, Mark Buehrle and A.J. Burnett, and outfielder Torii Hunter are among the top newcomers on the ballot announced Monday.

Zito was 165-143 with a 4.04 ERA for Oakland and San Francisco, including 23-5 in 2002. Hudson was 222-133 with a 3.49 ERA for Oakland, Atlanta and San Francisco.

Buehrle was 214-160 with a 3.81 ERA, throwing a perfect game for the Chicago White Sox against Tampa Bay on July 23, 2009, and a no-hitter for the White Sox against Texas on April 18, 2007. Burnett was 164-157 and pitched a no-hitter for the Marlins against San Diego on May 12, 2001.

Hunter, a nine-time Gold Glove center fielder, had a .277 average, 2,452 hits, 353 home runs and 1,391 RBIs.

Voting will be announced Jan. 26 and anyone elected will be inducted July 25 along with Jeter and Walker, whose inductions were postponed for a year due to the coronavirus pandemic.

Other holdovers on the ballot include Andy

Pettitte, Billy Wagner, Todd Helton, Jeff Kent, Scott Rolen, Bobby Abreu, Andruw Jones, Manny Ramirez, Gary Sheffield and Sammy Sosa.

Newcomers also include Dan Haren, LaTroy Hawkins, Aramis Ramirez, Michael Cuddyer, Nick Swisher and Shane Victorino.

Ballots by members of the BBWAA for 10 consecutive years or more must be postmarked by Dec. 31.

Tiger's 10 on famed No. 12 kills momentum at the Masters

Defending champ finishes the week at 1-under after highest score for any hole as pro

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — This was a very imperfect 10 for Tiger Woods.

The defending Masters champion recorded a septuple-bogey 10 on No. 12 in the final round on Sunday, plunking three balls into Rae's Creek in front of the green on Augusta National's signature par 3.

It was the highest score on any hole in his professional career. And the carnage at Amen Corner dropped him from 3 under to 4 over for the tournaaround and figure out the next shot," said Woods, who followed the debacle at No. 12 with birdies on five of the last six holes to shoot a 76 and finish at 1-under 287 for the tournament, tied for 38th. "And I was able to do that coming home."

Woods has been especially alone this year.

The 15-time major champion usually draws the biggest galleries in golf, but only a few dozen people were watching Sunday due to the coronavirus pandemic that delayed the tournament from the spring and limited crowds to Augusta National members, coaches and players' significant others.

They were left counting on their fingers, trying to keep track of all of his over for the day.

His tee shot landed on the far bank of the creek and rolled back into the water. Woods said he misread the wind on that shot when it shifted after his two playing partners already had hit.

"That just started the problem," he conceded. "From there, I hit a lot more shots and had a lot more experiences there in Rae's Creek."

After a drop, he hit his third shot a little farther but it, too, rolled back into the water. His third attempt to clear the creek — shot No. 5 — went into a bunker behind the green.

Left with an awkward uphill stance — his right leg extended and his left almost completely bent — Woods flew the green on his sixth shot and plunked it into the water. He went back to the bunker, bounced up and down a couple of times to get comfortable in the same crooked stance and put shot No. 8 on the green, about 12 feet from the pin. the left edge of the hole, leaving him a tap-in for 10. All that was left for Woods was to finish the round and head to Butler Cabin to slip the green jacket onto his successor's shoulders.

"I've hit a few too many shots (more) than I wanted to today, and I will not have the chairman be putting the green jacket on me," he conceded while Johnson and the rest of the leaders were still on the course. "I'll be passing it on."

Last year at No. 12, Woods was propelled to his fifth Masters title when

Masters

From B1 "When am I going to have the lead and finishing off a major? It definitely proved that I can do it." There were some nervous moments early. Johnson's four-shot lead was reduced to one after five holes, and then he quickly restored control with an 8-iron to 6 feet on the top shelf on the right corner of the green at the par-3 sixth for birdie. That restored his lead to three shots when Im missed a 3-foot par putt. Smith was the only one who was closer than two the rest of the way. Smith got quite the consolation. He became the first player in Masters history to post all four rounds in the 60s, and all it got him was a silver medal. "I thought I'd have a decent shot if I got to Dustin's original score at the start of the day, 16 under," Smith said. "I knew I had to put the pressure on early. Got out of the gates pretty good and DJ was just too good at the end."

four contenders dumped their shots into Rae's Creek. In the four rounds of his 2019 victory, he needed only 12 strokes to par the 12th on four straight days.

In fact, Woods needed only eight strokes combined to play the hole in his first three rounds this year. But Sunday's misadventures erased what had been a respectable title defense and set Woods on course for what could have matched his worst score ever at the Masters: a thirdround 77 as a 19-year-old amateur making his first

Johnson became the 12th Masters champion to never trail after any round, and his closing 68 broke another record held by Woods — it was his 11th consecutive subpar round at Augusta National. No one had a better finish than Woods, but only after the five-time Masters champion posted the highest score of his career on the 12th hole. He finished with five birdies over the last six holes to salvage a 76 The betting favorite and biggest basher in golf, Bryson DeChambeau, couldn't even beat 63-yearold Bernhard Langer, who shot 71 and wound up one shot ahead of the U.S. Open champion. These were only sideshows on a quiet Sunday at Augusta National. Johnson, the first No. 1 player in the world to win the Masters since Woods in 2002, was the main event. But even a record score, and the widest margin of victory since 1997, didn't mean it was easy. This is Johnson, after all, who for all his talent has dealt with more than his share of misfortune, not all his

"That's what makes this game so unique and so difficult mentally," he said. "We've all been there, unfortunately. Unfortunately, I've been there."

The good news: Woods probably needs to wait only five months to try again. The last major in 2020 is scheduled to be the first major of '21 if the pandemic allows it to return to its usual spring slot.

"Hopefully if everything continues the way it is going right now, then we're able to have this event in April," Woods said.

point at No. 6, and his nifty par save from a bunker on the seventh, Johnson didn't bother looking at a leaderboard until his brother asked if he knew where he stood on the 18th green. Johnson knew only that he was in control and it was up to everyone else to catch him. "I took what the course gave me and hit the shots I felt I could hit," he said. And so ended the Masters in November, so strange in so many ways. No roars from Amen Corner. Soft conditions - not only from rain that delayed the start but an autumn date that affected the grass — led to record scoring. The average score for the week was 71.75, the lowest ever, breaking the record from last year. Gone were the white and pink blooms of azaleas and dogwoods, replaced by autumn hues of brown and gold.

THE WORLD Huskies edge Beavers in debut for new coach

SEATTLE (AP) — Jimmy Lake's voice didn't finally start to fail until the postgame celebration in the locker room.

It wasn't prettiest debut, but Lake was a winner in his first game as Washington's coach after the Huskies held off Oregon State 27-21 on Saturday night.

Sean McGrew rushed for 91 yards and a touchdown, Dylan Morris added a 1-yard TD plunge, and the Huskies won their ninth straight over the Beavers.

"That was a joyous locker room right there. That's where I probably lost my voice was right there," Lake said. "I'm just so proud of those guys for not flinching during this tumultuous time."

McGrew was part of a multifaceted rushing attack by Washington (1-0 Pac-12) that rolled up 267 yards rushing. McGrew had just nine carries and scored on a 21-yard run. Kamari Pleasant added 61 yards and a 15-yard TD. Richard Newton ran for 15 carries for 41 yards.

"You all got to see a little bit of it tonight, or a lot of it tonight," McGrew said. "And hopefully there is a lot of it more to come the rest of the season."

Lake took charge at Washington after Chris Petersen stepped away from coaching after last season. The debut was delayed after last week's game at California was canceled due to COVID-19 concerns with the Golden Bears.

Peyton Henry kicked a 23yard field goal with 1:45 left, the only points scored in the second half by either team.

Jermar Jefferson rushed for 133 yards and a TD for Oregon State, his 12th career 100-yard rushing game. But Jefferson was stopped twice needing less than a yard from the Washington 5 early in the fourth quarter and the Beavers (0-2 Pac-12) on the cusp of taking the lead. Jefferson was stuffed on third- and fourthdown runs, although the Beavers appeared to get unfriendly spots on both runs.

"I felt like I got it the first time when it was third-and-inches but, you know, they said we didn't,"

Jefferson said. "So I felt like I got it. We felt like we got it."

Oregon State coach Jonathan Smith said he believed Jefferson had converted on third down and was thinking of first-and-goal plays.

"What my angle was on the third down call I thought we had it. We were beginning to talk about first down," Smith said. "And then the chains came out and obviously then we had to be prepare for either way it went."

B.J. Baylor had a 3-yard TD run for Oregon State in the second quarter and Jefferson scored from the 4 just before halftime.

Tristan Gebbia was just 11-of-24 passing for 85 yards and was intercepted on a deflected fourthdown pass with 54 seconds left.

"We did not play perfect, or well enough to win," Smith said. "But I know we competed until the end and had a couple opportunities to win the game.'

The question of who would be Washington's starting quarterback was answered when Morris, a redshirt freshman, took the first snap. The expectation was either Morris or graduate transfer Kevin Thomson would be the starter. But Thomson was in street clothes on the sideline and Morris directed the Huskies.

Morris was 14 of 24 for 141 yards. He wasn't helped early by his wide receivers, who dropped a few passes, including Ty Jones being unable to haul in a potential touchdown toss in the first quarter.

Morris was declared the starter after Washington's final scrimmage of fall camp.

"That was his first college football game in grimy, rainy weather and we grinded it out, and we got Dylan for his first start, he's got a win. He's 1-0," Lake said.

BLOCK PARTY: Oregon State jumped out to a 7-0 lead thanks to a special teams blunder by Washington. Long snapper Jaden Green, a true freshman, sailed his first collegiate snap on Washington's opening series well over the head of punter Race Porter. Porter ran back 20 yards and collected the loose ball, but his attempt to still punt was blocked. Jaydon Grant collected the block and ran 11 yards for the score.

It was the first blocked punt for a TD by Oregon State since 2011 against Arizona and the first allowed by Washington since 2012 against USC.

THE TAKEAWAY

Oregon State: The Beavers run defense is their biggest issue early in the season. Oregon State allowed 229 yards rushing last week to Washington State and was gashed worse by the Huskies.

Washington: The Huskies had a mixed bag on special teams. Along with the blocked punt they gave up a pair of long kickoff returns. They caught a punt at the 5-yard line. And normally reliable kicker Peyton Henry missed a 28-yard field goal in the third quarter that would have given the Huskies a 27-2 lead. Porter did have a punt downed at the 1 in the fourth quarter.

UP NEXT: The Beavers return home to face California next Saturday. The Huskies host Arizona next Saturday.

UCLA rolls to Sunday morning win over California

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) - UCLA's Dorian Thompson-Robinson was hoping to celebrate his 21st birthday with a big game against Utah. That game was canceled but he got a belated birthday present on Sunday morning.

The junior threw three touchdown passes, rushed for another TD and accounted for 248 yards of total offense as the Bruins rolled to a 34-10 victory over California at the Rose Bowl.

"It feels great to get a win. We've been fighting for it for a long time," said Thompson-Robinson, who completed 14 of 26 passes for 196 yards and added 52 yards rushing. "The biggest thing is we kind of treated it like backyard football wake up in the morning, go out and play ball.'

The Bruins and Golden Bears weren't originally slated to face each other this season, but the conference scheduled the contest on Friday after Cal's game against Arizona State and UCLA's matchup against Utah were canceled due to the Sun Devils and Utes having several positive COVID-19 tests.

The Sunday morning time slot was available because the Cal-Arizona State game was pushed back from Saturday before it was called off. Cal was playing its season opener after its Nov. 7 game against Washington was canceled following one positive COVID-19 test and subsequent contact tracing.

Coach Chip Kelly said the short timeframe resembled preparing for an NFL Thursday night game from his days with Philadelphia and San Francisco. "The one thing (Cal coach) Justin (Wilcox) felt the same way about is we both had the same amount of time to prepare," Kelly said. The Bruins (1-1) got off to a slow start and trailed 3-0 before taking control. UCLA had a punt blocked and Thompson-Robinson threw an interception before he directed touchdown drives on four of the Bruins' last five possessions in the first half. UCLA led 27-10 at halftime Thompson-Robinson's 2-yard run around right end on fourth-and-goal with 58 seconds remaining in the first quarter gave the Bruins a 7-3 advantage. Arizona State's game against Colorado next Saturday has been canceled, the second straight game the Sun Devils will miss due to positive quarter went to Charles Njoku, Chase Cota and Kyle Phillips.

Thompson-Robinson has thrown three or more TD passes in consecutive games for the first time in his career.

The Bruins also had a solid day on the ground, rushing for 244 yards and averaging 4.5 yards per carry. Demetric Felton had 107 yards on 25 carries for the second 100-yard game of his career. Brittain Brown added 12 carries for 71 yards, including a 31-yard touchdown in urday was canceled after numerous Sun Devils players and coaches, including head coach Herm Edwards, tested positive for COVID-19.

"The cancellation of another game is very difficult to accept for all of us, but it continues to be the right decision under the circumstances," Arizona State athletic director Ray Anderson said in a statement. "The health, safety and welfare of our student-athletes is our number one priority and will continue to be at the forefront of every decision."

The Mid-American Conference also had its first cancellation Sunday. Ohio's game at Miami on Tuesday night was called off because of roster issues related to COVID-19 with the Bobcats.

The MAC started its season the day after Election Day and has no room in its six-week regular-season for makeup dates.

Last week 15 major college football games were postponed, the most of any week during the season.

75 yards in 12 plays, culminating in Garbers' 8-yard run to bring them within 14-10.

USC 34, ARIZONA 30: Vavae Malepeai bulled his way through multiple tacklers for an 8-yard touchdown run with 25 seconds left, and No. 20 Southern California beat Arizona 34-30 on Saturday with another late rally.

USC (2-0, 2-0 Pac-12) was outplayed by Arizona State last week before scoring two touchdowns in the final three minutes its first game in nearly a year after last week's opener against Utah was canceled due to the coronavirus.

The sophomore entered the 2020 season as the starter after sharing time with Khalil Tate last year and had a streak of 92 straight passes without an interception. The streak nearly ended on his first pass against USC and then did on the second, when he overthrew a receiver into Talano Hufanga's arms.

COLORADO 35, STANFORD 32: Sam Noyer passed for two touchdowns and ran for two more, Jarek Broussard had another strong day rushing, and Colorado held on to beat Stanford 35-32 on Saturday.

Dimitri Stanley caught six passes for 126 yards and a score as Colorado remained unbeaten under first-year coach Karl Dorrell.

Noyer, a fifth-year senior who nearly transferred out of Colorado after playing safety last season, threw an interception on his fourth pass of the afternoon then settled in to complete 15 of 24 attempts for 255 yards. Nover scored on a 7-yard option keeper midway through the second quarter then led the Buffaloes on three scoring drives coming out of halftime.

Brenden Rice had a 34-yard touchdown catch and Jaren Mangham added a oneyard touchdown run for Colorado (2-0, 2-0 Pac-12).

Davis Mills passed for 327 yards and a touchdown in his first game of the season for Stanford (0-2, 0-2). Mills was one of the fourth quarter.

Cal (0-1) had a seven-game winning streak snapped where Chase Garbers has played more than half the game. The junior was 18 of 33 for 122 yards and was under pressure for most of the day as he was sacked five times.

"I'm sure Chase would like to have some plays back and so would the left guard and the right defensive end, the fullbacks and the L4 on kickoff," Wilcox said. "There's going to be a lot of those, certainly the quarterback gets a lot of attention. Chase has done some really good things for us in the past and I think he'll learn from this game and play even better in the future."

The Golden Bears' best drive was in the second quarter when they went to win 28-27.

The Trojans again had two late scoring drives to win a game they were outplayed in for most of the afternoon.

Kevon Slovis hit Erik Krommenhoek on a 6-yard touchdown, but Arizona (0-1, 0-1) marched quickly down the field for a 6-yard touchdown pass from Grant Gunnell from Stanley Berryhill III with 1:20 left.

Slovis, off target early, completed four straight passes for 68 yards and Malepeai capped the 75-yard drive by carrying several Arizona defenders with him into the end zone.

Slovis threw for 325 yards and a touchdown on 30-of-43 passing.

Gunnell threw for 286 yards and three touchdowns for Arizona, which played four players forced to sit out last week's game against Oregon because of coronavirus concerns. The Pac-12 later admitted errors in the testing protocol that kept the four Stanford players out.

Jet Toner added three field goals for the Cardinal. Stanford lost its home opener for the first time since 2007.

Colorado outgained Stanford 432-403 to win on the road for just the seventh time over the past three seasons.

Broussard followed up his stellar performance against UCLA (187 yards, three touchdowns) with 121 yards on 27 carries Nover had touchdown throws of 54 and 34 yards in the second half. He also scored on a 10-yard run after a perfectly executed fake to Broussard.

only one ranked team lost this weekend.

Alabama is No. 1 for the second straight week, with 60 first-place votes. No. 2 Notre Dame received one first-place vote and No. 3 Ohio State got the other. The rest of the top eight was unchanged: Clemson is No. 4, followed by Texas A&M, Florida, Cincinnati and BYU.

Indiana moved up one spot to ninth — the Hoosiers' best ranking since they were fourth in the 1967 poll — heading into a matchup with Ohio State on Saturday. Indiana played in its only top-10 matchup in school history after that 1967 season, facing No. 1 Southern California as the fourth-ranked team in the country in the Rose Bowl.

Tulsa moved into the rankings after beating American Athletic Conference rival SMU, knocking the Mustangs from the Top 25

The Golden Hurricane were last ranked in the final poll of the 2010 season at No. 24. The last time Tulsa was ranked during the regular season was two years before that, when coach Todd Graham had the Golden Hurricane as high at No. 19.

POLL POINTS

Clemson has now been ranked in the top five for 50 consecutive weeks, the longest active streak in college football and the third-longest streak in the history of the AP poll. The Tigers reached No.

4 on Nov. 5, 2017, and have been in the top five ever since. The longest streak of top-five rankings belongs, of course, to Alabama. The Crimson Tide's record streak was snapped last year at 68 consecutive polls.

The second-longest run of top-five appearances is Miami's streak of 55 from 2000-03.

GLENDALE, Ariz. (AP) - Hail Murray!

Kyler Murray completed a stunning 43-yard desperation pass to DeAndre Hopkins with 2 seconds left to lift the Arizona Cardinals to a 32-30 victory over the Buffalo Bills on Sunday.

The catch was as sensational as the throw.

The game appeared lost for the Cardinals until Murray rolled out to his left as the seconds ticked off the clock. He flung the ball toward the end zone, where Hopkins was waiting with three Buffalo defenders draped all over him. Somehow, the three-time All-Pro came down with the ball, and the Cardinals started a wild celebration in the end zone.

Josh Allen threw a 21-yard touchdown pass to Stefon Diggs with 34 seconds left that looked like it would win it for the Bills (7-3). But Murray and the Cardinals (6-3, tied for the NFC West lead) ended the Bills' winning streak at three games with the improbable throw and catch.

STEELERS 36, BEN-GALS 10: Ben Roethlisberger threw for a season-high 333 yards and four touchdowns despite being forced to stay away from the team facility all week due to COVID-19 protocols.

Roethlisberger, one of four Steelers put on the COVID-19 list last Monday following contact tracing after tight end Vance McDonald tested positive for the novel coronavirus, completed 27 of 46 passes on a blustery afternoon at Heinz Field. Roethlisberger connected with Diontae Johnson and JuJu Smith-Schuster for touchdowns in the first half and found rookie Chase Claypool twice in the second half as Pittsburgh improved to 9-0.

Cincinnati rookie quarterback Joe Burrow struggled to generate any momentum behind a patchwork offensive line. Two weeks after a promising victory over Tennessee, the Bengals (2-6-1) were reminded how much work remains under second-year head coach Zac Taylor. Cincinnati went 0 for 13 on third down and Burrow spent much of the second half under duress. T.J. Watt collected two of Pittsburgh's four sacks as the Steelers won their 11th straight meeting with their division rival. RAMS 23, SEA-HAWKS 16: Jared Goff passed for 302 yards, Darious Williams made two interceptions and the Rams took a share of the NFC West lead with Arizona and Seattle. Malcolm Brown rushed for two touchdowns and Darrell Henderson had another score as the Rams (6-3) returned from their bye and held Seattle to three points after halftime to win for the fifth time in the rivals' past six meetings.

Russell Wilson passed for 248 yards and rushed for 60 more for the Seahawks (6-3), who have lost three of four after a 5-0 start. Wilson threw two interceptions and lost a fumble, giving him 10 combined turnovers in Seattle's three losses

Los Angeles' solid performance was dampened by the loss of stalwart left tackle Andrew Whitworth to a knee injury late in the first half. Whitworth, a 15-year NFL veteran, was taken off the field on a cart.

SAINTS 27, 49ERS 13: Drew Brees was pulled at halftime with a rib injury after passing for just 76 yards and one touchdown, but Alvin Kamara scored three times and New Orleans' defense largely stifled San Francisco (4-6)

Brees' injury appeared to occur when defensive tackle Kentavius Street was called for a personal foul on a sack in which he got a clean shot at the 41-year-old quarterback and landed directly on top of him. Officials ruled Street violated the NFL's "bodyweight rule," which bans defenders from landing on a defenseless passer with all or most of their weight.

Brees missed just two plays after the hit and returned for a third-down pitchback to Kamara that resulted in a 2-yard touchdown that tied it at 10.

Brees continued to play for the rest of the second quarter, going 5 for 6 on a two-minute drive that he completed with a 3-yard toss to Kamara that made it 17-10 just before halftime. But when the second half began, Jameis Winston took the field while Brees stood with his helmet on and his hands on his hips in front of New Orleans' bench, where he watched the rest of a sixth straight victory for the Saints (7-2).

PATRIOTS 23, RA-VENS 17: Cam Newton threw a touchdown pass and ran for another score and New England fought through rain and wind to hold off Baltimore had help from a less-heralded rookie while Justin Herbert struggled against a blitz-happy defense as the surprising Dolphins earned their fifth consecutive victory.

Salvon Ahmed, making his first career start, ran for 85 yards on 21 carries and scored a 1-yard touchdown on Miami's first play. The undrafted Ahmed filled in with two other running backs injured and sparked a ground game ranked fourth worst in the league.

Herbert threw a costly interception and was outplayed in the matchup of high draft picks by Tagovailoa, who passed for 169 yards with two scores and improved to 3-0 since taking over for Ryan Fitzpatrick. Herbert struggled against Miami's blitzing defense and threw for a season-low 187 yards.

The Dolphins (6-3) have their best nine-game record since 2001, and under second-year coach Brian Flores they've won more games than in all of 2019. The Chargers (2-7) dropped their third game in a row and have their worst record at this point in a season since 2015.

RAIDERS 37, BRON-COS 12: Josh Jacobs ran for 112 yards and two TDs and Jeff Heath had two of Las Vegas' five takeaways.

Derek Carr didn't have to do much for the Raiders (6-3) offensively for a change as the running game and an opportunistic defense that came into the game last in the league with five takeaways carried the load.

Heath intercepted Drew Lock twice in the first half, Carl Nassib and Nick Kwiatkoski got picks in the fourth quarter and Nevin Lawson forced and recovered a fumble by DaeSean Hamilton to send the Broncos (3-6) to their third loss in four games.

The game changed late in the first half after Lock appeared to run in for a TD in the closing seconds that would have given the Broncos a 13-10 lead. Tight end Noah Fant was called for holding in the end zone on the play and Lock threw his second interception to Heath on the next play. The Raiders then put the game away with two long scoring drive in the third quarter. BUCCANEERS 46, PANTHERS 23: Tom Brady threw for 341 yards and was involved in four touchdowns, Ronald Jones had a franchise-record 98yard touchdown run, and the Buccaneers bounced back from a dreadful defeat. Coming off the most lopsided loss of his illustrious career — a 38-3 defeat to the Saints - Brady threw touchdown passes to Cameron Brate, Mike Evans and Rob Gronkowski, then ran for another score in the fourth quarter to seal the win.

Jones' run in the third quarter broke open a tight game. He raced up the middle behind left guard, shook off safety Tre Boston and was gone. Jones finished with a career-high 192 yards and became the fourth NFL player with a TD run of 98 yards or longer, joining Tony Dorsett, Derrick Henry and Ahman Green.

Chris Godwin had 92 yards receiving for the Buccaneers (7-3), who swept the season series and handed the Panthers (3-7) their fifth straight loss.

PACKERS 24, JAG-UARS 20: Aaron Rodgers threw two touchdown passes and ran for a third score as the Packers overcame numerous mistakes to rally.

Rodgers put the Packers (7-2) ahead for good with 9:11 left by throwing a 6-yard TD pass to Davante Adams, who had left with an ankle injury earlier in the second half. Rodgers also had a 5-yard touchdown run and a 78-yard scoring strike to Marquez Valdes-Scantling, who caught four passes for a career-high 149 yards.

Keelan Cole scored on a franchise-record 91-yard punt return and a 12-yard reception for Jacksonville (1-8), which lost its eighth straight. Jacksonville's James Robinson rushed for 109 yards on 23 carries. Cole became the first Jaguar ever to score on a punt return and a reception in the same game, as well as the first player from any team ever to accomplish that feat against the Packers.

Green Bay entered the game as a two-touchdown favorite but had enough breakdowns to give Jacksonville hope. The Jaguars rallied from a 17-10 halftime deficit by scoring 10 points off turnovers in the second half.

LIONS 30, WASH-INGTON 27: Matt Prater made a 59-yard field goal as time expired. Matthew Stafford threw two of his three touchdown passes in the first half and directed the winning drive with just 16 seconds left. Rookie defensive end Chase Young was called for roughing the passer, giving Detroit the ball at midfield. Stafford threw a 9-yard pass to Marvin Jones to set up the kick. The Lions (4-5) won at home for the first time in more than a year after building a 14-point lead at halftime and going ahead 24-3 midway through the third quarter. Washington (2-7) pulled into a tie by scoring touchdowns on three straight series in the second half in Alex Smith's first start in nearly two years. But its defense could not stop Stafford when it mattered most. GIANTS 27, EAGLES 17: Daniel Jones threw for 244 yards and ran for a touchdown, and Wayne Gallman Jr. had two TD runs.

The Giants improved to 3-7 under first-year coach Joe Judge with their second straight win, snapping an eight-game losing streak against Philly. The Eagles (3-5-1) still lead the NFL's worst division, the NFC East. Dallas and Washington are each 2-7.

down early in the fourth quarter — topping 100 yards rushing along with teammate Kareem Hunt.

Chubb reeled off a 59-yard run with 1:07 left and then smartly ran out of bounds at the 2-yard line instead of scoring so the Texans, who were out of timeouts, wouldn't get the ball back. Chubb finished with 126 yards on 19 carries in nasty weather. Hunt finished with 104 yards, including 37 yards - and three first downs — on Cleveland's final drive as the Browns (6-3) ran out the clock. With the Browns up 3-0 on a day when passing was almost impossible, Chubb, playing for the first time since Oct. 4, took a handoff on the right, cut left and ran past Texans defensive end J.J. Watt as Cleveland finally found the end zone to go up 10-0. Deshaun Watson's 16yard TD pass to Pharaoh Brown with 4:59 left pulled the Texans (2-7) within three, but Hunt pounded away after the Browns were backed up at their 3 after a muffed kickoff.

Damien Harris ran for a career-high 121 yards to help the Patriots (4-5) win consecutive games for the first time this season. Newton was 13 of 17 for 118 yards. His touchdown pass, on a short sprint-out to Rex Burkhead in the first quarter, was his since first since Week 3 — a span of four games.

The Ravens' road winning streak ended at 10. Baltimore (6-3) is 0-6 in the regular season in New England.

Lamar Jackson was 24 of 34 for 249 yards and two touchdowns for the Ravens. New England bottled him up on the ground for most of the game, limiting him to just 11 rushes for 55 yards.

DOLPHINS 29, CHAR-

Carson Wentz and the rest of Philadelphia's offense were out of sync following a bye. They were 0 for 9 on third downs. Boston Scott had a 56-yard TD run early in the third quarter but the Eagles couldn't get closer.

Jones ran untouched 34 yards for a score to cap a well-executed 85-yard drive to start the game, and the Giants led the entire game. It was similar to Jones' 80-yard run against Philadelphia in a 22-21 loss on Oct. 22 except he didn't stumble at the 8 this time.

Jones finished with 64 yards rushing and the Giants had 151 on the ground.

NFL coaches relying more on kickers and long field goals

Record-holder Prater boots 59-yarder to win at buzzer for the Lions on Sunday

BARRY WILNER

Associated Press

There was a time when NFL coaches only trusted their placekickers if all other options were exhausted.

From there, things progressed to relying on the soccer-style booters from, say, 50 yards in.

Now? After what we witnessed Sunday, Matt Prater's record 64-yard field goal is endangered. And Prater is one of those threatening it.

Week 10 has seen 11 field goals of at least 50 yards, tied with Week 13 of the 2012 season for the most in a single week in an NFL history. That includes Seattle's Jason Myers knocking through a 61-yarder to end the half at the Los Angeles Rams.

There have been 71 field goals of at least 50 yards this season, surpassing the 2017 season (67) for the most through Week 10. In all, there have been 102 attempts, also a record, from 50 or beyond, and the 69.6% success rate is third best to 71.3 in 2017 and 70.2 in 2011.

And get this: There were four weeks with 10 50-yard or longer field goals in the past, including last week, meaning it has happened in consecutive weeks in 2020 when it occurred only three other times in league history.

Prater's was the most dramatic on Sunday.

"The same as any other kick," said Prater, who made the 64-yarder as the first half expired for the Broncos in Denver in 2013. "Just go out and swing hard and hope it goes straight type thing. I don't need any more pressure on myself or think that it's anything more than it is. It's just a field goal."

A LONG field goal, though it could have been an even longer attempt. Detroit completed a short pass to set up the 59-yarder.

"Absolutely," Prater said of going even longer. "In that situation, I would go out and attempt anything."

He was outdone in length by Myers, whose boomer was needed because Russell Wilson and Seattle's normally prolific offense was mistake prone against the Rams.

"It was a fantastic kick," coach Pete Carroll said. "He's off to a great season. He's doing everything we ask of him."

What coaches are asking of their placekickers is to have no limit on their field goal range. And the kickers are answering in style.

While Sunday's best performances came in pristine conditions at Detroit, Los Angeles and Arizona — we'll get to Buffalo's Tyler Bass in a moment - don't surmise that the prolific and productive kickers only work in such conditions. Justin Tucker, the NFL's most accurate kicker ever, plays for Baltimore. Graham Gano works in the New Jersey Meadowlands with the Giants. Harrison Butker is with Kansas City. All of those are notoriously challenging because of weather, mainly swirling winds.

Rookie Bass might be the poster child for developing placekickers and turning them loose.

The Bills drafted him in the sixth round out of Georgia Southern on the recommendation of special teams coordinator Heath Farwell, who went to the school's pro day to see Bass after working with him at the Senior Bowl.

Bass supplanted veteran Stephen Hauschka in training camp mostly because he had the stronger leg and was capable of hitting field goals from longer distances than Hauschka. Proof? At Arizona, Bass nailed field goals from 54, then 55 and finally 58 yards in a 32-30 loss to the Cardinals.

He also matched a franchise mark by hitting six field goal attempts in an 18-10 win at Jets on Oct. 25, including one from 53 yards.

The contributions of placekickers have been underestimated for decades - in part because until, say, the 1990s, they weren't as reliable as coaches wanted. There are just two of them in the Pro Football Hall of Fame: Jan Stenerud and Morten Andersen. Although Andersen was the NFL's career scoring leader until Adam Vinatieri passed him, it took him five tries to get into the Canton shrine.

Consider that he was the kicker on the NFL's All-Decade Team for both the 1980s and 1990s, a seven-time Pro Bowler, and the career leading scorer for both the Saints and Falcons.

With the importance of kickers, uh, skyrocketing --- Vinatieri and Tucker seem headed for Canton, and such veterans as Gano, Prater, Mason Crosby, Brandon McManus, and Greg Zuerlein ply their trade superbly — the foot in pro football is in good hands.

Well, you know what we mean.

Bridge

In "Macbeth," William Shakespeare wrote, "If it were done, when 'tis done, then 'twere well it were done quickly." That is appropriate for today's deal.

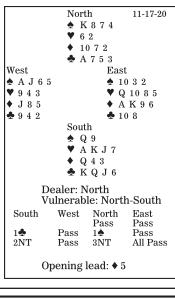

What happens in three no-trump after West leads what is purported to be a fourth-highest diamond five?

The auction was straightforward, South showing a balanced 18 or 19 points, and North raising to game.

This deal was played in an online match between two tough American teams.

At the table shown, sitting East was Eric Greco, a Rosenblum Cup world team champion in 2010.

Apparently without thought, Greco took the first trick with his diamond ace (not the textbook king, bottom of touching honors when playing third hand high) and returned the diamond six. South, a seven-time national champion, played low. So, Geoff Hampson (West) won with his jack and led his remaining diamond. In this way, Greco and Hampson took four diamonds and one spade to defeat the contract.

Was East nervous that South had started with queen-doubleton of diamonds?

No, because West, if he had the J-8-5-3 of diamonds, would have led the three, not the five.

At the other table, the auction was identical, except that East doubled over one spade. Then, East won the first trick with the dia> mond king before returning the diamond six. The declarer, Bobby Levin, worked out what was happening: He played his queen to win the trick. Levin drove out the spade ace and took the heart finesse to collect one spade, three hearts, one diamond and four clubs.

The City Council will consider the proposal at a public hearing which will occur on December 1, 2020 at 7:00 p.m. in the City Council Chambers at 500 Central Avenue, Coos Bay.

This week in Coos County history: November 15-17

100 YEARS - 1920

Big gathering at Reedsport

Mooseheart Legion holds quarterly frolic

Over one hundred from Coos Bay attend — splendidly entertained — drill and dancing

The Southwestern Oregon legion at Moosheart No. 148 held the "quarterly frolic" at Reedsport Sunday. It was a great day for the Moose and the visitors were royally entertained by the Reedsport people. Over one hundred men of the Moose lodge and ladies of the Legion went from North Bend and Marshfield and with those in attendance from Reedsport and vicinity made a gathering of about 250 people.

In the afternoon there was a business session and another meeting at night and at 12:30 dancing began and continued until 5:30 a.m., the dance closing just in time for the visitors to catch the morning train to Coos Bay. They all said they had such a good time they forgot to get tired or sleepy.

Three Coos men on Eugene team

Aided Oregon University in victory Saturday

Ignatus Chapman, Brick Leslie and Spike Leslie — outclassed visitors

J.E. Montgomery, B.R. Chandler and a number of the Coos Bay contingent who took in the Oregon-Washington football game at Eugene Saturday arrived home yesterday. They say it was a most interesting game from the crowd's standpoint but that Oregon clearly outclassed the visitors, even more than the final score of 17 to nothing indicated.

Coos county had three men on the Oregon team. Ignatius Chapman at right half, Brick Leslie at center and Spike Leslie in the line. Chapman was formerly a star on the Marshfield high school team. He has been a substitute on the Oregon team. He made an extra fine showing Saturday, only Steers excelling him. He made a brilliant interception and return of a forward pass in the last period. The two Leslie boys, sons of Frank Leslie of Coquille, also made a fine showing.

Oregon did not play all of her best men all through the game, evidently saving up some of her best talent for the Oregon-O.A.C. game next Saturday in which there is more rivalry than in the other games.

Steam schooner Joan of Arc abandoned at sea

Crew of 28 men and two women rescued

Strikes Rogue River reef last night and leaks so all are taken off and picked up by the city of Topeka

Boat is carried north and this morning is aground at Port Orford, south of

With the two vessels this will give a six day service each way for both passengers and freight and will give just twice the shipping and traveling facilities which the company now affords. The Curacao like the City of Topeka, will touch at Coos Bay and Eureka both on the south and north trips. She was formerly on this run for a time and is a large boat with good accommodations.

Corn show a big success

Event at Coquille attracts large crowds Fine display of corn, roots, apples and potatoes shown by the farmers The corn show at Coquille last week was a big success in every way. There was a large attendance and plenty of entertainment and everything was free. There was a parade every day and plenty of fun and on the last day there was a husking bee at which many attended in costume.

One of the features was the presentation of a full blood Jersey bull calf to the person who guessed nearest its weight. It was given by the Farmers' and Merchants' bank of Coquille. Mrs. John Hurley won the bull, guessing the exact weight 351 1-2 pounds. The animal was a fine one and was raised by H.B. Sander of Catching Inlet.

There were very fine exhibits of corn, potatoes, root crops and apples. In the exhibits of yellow dent corn, for the best 10 ears. Ed Laswell of Remote won the first prize and Hardy Mast of Lee the second and third prize.

In the contest for the best 100 ears Hardy Mast got first prize and Ed Laswell second.

In the exhibits of the best white dent corn for 10 ears Gant Brothers of Gravel Ford got first prize. L.M. Aasen of Arago second and Tom Summerlin of Gravel Ford third. In the best 100 ears Tom Summerlin got first and Dell brothers second.

For the best production of roots Martin Lassen of Norway got first prize. He had an acre of ground which produced 92.5 tons of stock beets.

Steam schooner G.C. Lindauer is a total wreck

Goes ashore at Albion, Cal., last night during heavy storm

All of the crew has been rescued

Vessel has been making Coos Bay carrying lumber for number of years In trouble recently

Capt. Michelson who yesterday lost the Joan of Arc was formerly master of the vessel

SAN FRANCISCO — The steam schooner G.C. Lindauer went ashore at Albion, Mendocino county, in a storm last night and will be a total loss.

The members of the crew were all saved.

Ran to Coos Bay

The G.C. Lindauer has operated out of Coos Bay at frequent intervals for a number of years. She was owned by a stock company and some time ago, it was announced that Andy Mahoney of San Francisco had bought the controlling interest in her. hall at Norway. The school will be rebuilt as soon as arrangements can be made. It was one of the best of the country schools in the county and was well equipped.

Farmers want Allegany road

Are brushing out on the old survey Would give direct route to North Bend and merchants of the city are helping

The farmers of Kentuck Inlet have taken active steps to further the opening of the road to Allegany. The road was surveyed about 12 years ago. The farmers have already brushed out the proposed road along the old survey to the top of the mountain and will continue the work on to connect with the road at Allegany.

Ira Padrick, North Bend contractor, is taking up subscriptions hoping to secure $400 to help defray the work being done by the farmers.

It is hoped that with the road brushed out the county will do the rest of the work necessary to make a good road. North Bend merchants are helping the cause as it would give the Allegany people a direct route into North Bend when the ferry is established to Glasgow.

50 YEARS - 1970

Relay team sets record

Marshfield mermaids claim third in state swimming championships

EUGENE — A record-breaking effort by the 200 freestyle relay quartet of Julie Stamper, Janet Farr, Marilyn Wilson and Lulu Fagan put the finishing touches on Marshfield's finest swimming hour Saturday as the Pirate girls laid claim to the third-place trophy in the state swim championships at the University of Oregon.

Marshfield compiles 98 points while David Douglas took team honors with 215 and Gresham was second with 115.

In boys' competition, David Douglas dominated the action with 173, and was followed by Cottage Grove with 166 and South Eugene with 72.

The Marshfield girls' quartet sizzled in a 1:48.94 clocking in the relay event, eclipsing the old mark of 1:49.3 set by Sheldon in 1968.

In addition, Miss Stamper splashed to a close second in the 50 freestyle with a 26.90 clocking — Miss Wilson was fourth in 27.28.

Also gaining places in the top six of individual events were Marshfield's 200 medley relay team of Vicki Matson, Linnea Wright, Sally McInturff and Sue Glabau with a fifth. Miss McInturff had a sixth in the 100 butterfly and Miss Matson a fifth in the 400 freestyle.

Bonnie Lyons of North Bend posted a fourth in the 100 freestyle and Kathy Bryant of Reedsport was sixth in the same event.

In boys' competition, Brian Haliski had a fifth in the 400 freestyle and a sixth in the 200 individual medley. Reedsport's Craig Bowman grabbed a fifth in the 100 butterfly. Major offenses committed and reported to police number 59 for October, bringing the year-to-date total to 683, up from 676 last year.

Auto theft is way down, from 100 through October in 1969, to 41 so far this year. Theft took a big jump, from 372 to 459. Assault and robbery also increased over last year.

Lesser offenses also continued to increase, from 1,464 to 1,517. Vandalism went up from 131 to 135 cases, with the percentage cleared rising from 3.8 to 8.1.

20 YEARS - 2000

Port trudges through runway repair project

Trading wetland for wetland: Agency wants to buy an Eastside pasture that could become a marsh

It's a barren piece of diked pastureland near a Coos Bay sludge lagoon in Eastside but for the Oregon International of Coos Bay, it could be the piece of the puzzle that will allow the agency to improve the municipal airport.

So how do the pieces fit together?

The port has asked the Coos Bay City Council to consider selling approximately 10 acres near the Millicoma Marsh to complete a wetlands restoration. The project is mandated because the port plans to fill an area of Pony Slough near the airport to make improvements on a runway.

A 2.5-acre area where storm water drains near the South side of runway 1331, needs to be flattened and surfaced to make room for emergency personnel. The Federal Aviation Administration requires the enlargements to allow larger aircraft safe landing.

Port General Manager Allan Rumbaugh said what's at stake is the airport's competitiveness is going out for grants.

"This is the FAA's top priority for us," Rumbaugh said. "Everything else is far less important. We don't really get much of their attention on any other funding until we complete this project."

DA turns away animal abuse case

Raccoon death: College officials discipline trio

The Coos County District Attorney's Office has decided animal abuse charges are not warranted against three Southwestern Oregon Community College students suspected of killing and torturing a raccoon last month.

Assistant District Attorney Chris Bagley said the case presented to his office by Southwestern investigators didn't meet the standards of evidence sufficient to warrant charges.

"What we did is 'no actioned' it," Bagley said. "There wasn't enough to prove beyond a reasonable doubt who did it."

Bagley said the college administration has the option of continuing the investigation, but the District Attorney's Office

Battle Rock, and may yet be saved Vessel is carried six miles out of her course

The steam schooner Joan of Arc, a big lumber vessel, struck Rogue river reef last night and was damaged so that she was abandoned in a leaking condition.

The crew of 28 men and two women were taken aboard the steamer City of Topeka and arrived in Marshfield this afternoon. All were saved and no one was hurt. Those people were transferred from the leaking vessel in small boats to the passenger steamer.

The Joan of Arc was discovered this morning in shallow water at Port Orford. She was about 500 yards off shore at Battle Rock.

The extent of the damage is not known. Capt. Michaelson, who is well known here, said the damage was to the engine room.

New vessel for Coos Bay run

Admiral Line will add to the service Steamer Curacao to be operated in connection with the City of Topeka

The Admiral Line will add to the boat service out of Coos Bay. The steamer Curacao will be put into service in addition to the steamer City of Topeka. The Curacao will leave San Francisco on the first trip Nov. 20 and the City of Topeka will leave on Nov. 26. On her last trip, she loaded ties at the Columbia River for San Pedro.

Was Michelson's ship For a number of years, Capt. M. Michelson, master of the Joan of Arc, which was lost night before last below Port Orford, was master of her.

Capt. Michaelson gained quite a reputation here as a bar pilot through his operations with the Lindauer and the Hardy.

Norway school is burned down

The loss is estimated at about $3,500

Books, desks and other equipment are removed — classes will be continued in the hall

MYRTLE POINT — The school house at Norway was destroyed by fire Monday afternoon. The fire was started by a defective flue and occurred shortly before time for school to be dismissed in the afternoon.

The desks, books and blackboards were removed and everything portable saved but the building was burned to the ground. It was valued at about $3,500. Miss Nellie Barton was the teacher.

Arrangements have been made to continue the classes by holding school in the

Prefontaine takes PAC-8

PULLMAN (UPI) — Steve Prefontaine led Oregon to the Pacific-8 cross country title Saturday with a slow time of 30:11.7 over the hilly six-mile course.

Oregon scored 45 points to 58 for second place Washington State. Prefontaine was 15 seconds ahead of his nearest competition. Keith Munson of Oregon State.

Stanford had 66 points, Oregon State 79, Washington 120, UCLA 138, Southern California 154 and California 207.
