

Two arrested on felony warrants in connection with West Coast Game Park Safari raids

By NATE SCHWARTZ

As a result of four days of raids and relocations that took place back in May of this year, the two proprietors of the West Coast Game Park Safari roadside zoo were arrested by Bandon Police (BPD). Official BPD communications stated that Brian Tenney, 53, and Edith Beckner, 30, were apprehended on a deluge of charges.

Both Tenney and Beckner had felony warrants issued after over 350 charges were brought down on each of them. The bulk of the pair's charges are made up of 315 counts of second-degree animal neglect, with five counts in the first-degree. This will come as no surprise to those who

ODOT to fully close Highway 101, south of Bandon, for a weekend in September

By LINDA LEE
Country Media, Inc.

Highway 101, about six miles south of Bandon at Bearhead Mountain Lane, will be closed to all traffic from September 19, at 9 p.m., until late in the evening on September 21, in order to replace a deep and failing culvert. To help reduce costs and overall traffic impacts, construction will require full closure.

"The whole closure should only be through the weekend," said Julie Denney, Oregon Department of Transportation's (ODOT) Public Information Officer. "We've got a really tight schedule on that project and we'll be doing a lot of prep work in the weeks ahead."

In most situations, ODOT attempts to keep highways open to all traffic at all times; however, a single-lane bypass would need to be constructed either through a hillside or over wetlands, relocating the stream while adding more cost to the project and disrupting highway traffic for about six months.

According to ODOT, the rapid replacement approach is beneficial because shrinking the total construction window from six months to six weeks will reduce overall traffic impacts of the project. Also, eliminating the need for a temporary bypass and shortening the construction timeline could save more than $1 million from the total cost of the project.

"Additional storms through the spring just continued to erode it, so right now it's safe to drive over, but if we have more storms this winter it could make the entire roadway impassable, so we've got to get in there to get it fixed before the winter," said Denney.

The terrain adds a level of difficulty to this project. The highway is nestled between a mountain and a creek, which makes staging difficult. The stream running through the culvert is about twenty feet below the road surface. The depth of the culvert is beyond what traditional construction methods can accommodate and extensive excavation will be necessary.

ODOT will replace the 2-foot culvert with an 11-foot wide pipe that would meet federal fish passage requirements. The wider culvert will improve the crossing's capacity to carry drainage from large storm events.

The culvert, under U.S. 101 at Bearhead Mountain Lane, failed as a result of a high-water event in December 2024. The storm washed away the ground under the highway's southbound travel lane and required emergency repairs. The culvert is still at risk of failure, which could compromise the roadway above.

Prior to full closure, travelers can expect delays as only one lane of traffic will be open for a few weeks prior to and a few weeks after the major closure weekend as ODOT will begin construction preparation and roadway rebuilding.

"We know how disruptive highway closures can be for communities on the south coast, but we believe this is the best approach and the least impactful option in the long run," said Glen Pederson, ODOT's District Manager. "We're announcing the closure now because we want to give everybody as much time as possible to plan ahead."

As there is no local detour available, travelers between Crescent City and Coos Bay must use the detour through Grants Pass and Winston. Travelers must use U.S. 199 (Redwood Highway), Interstate 5 and Oregon 42 (Coos Bay-Roseburg Highway) to navigate around the closure.

"We'll send out more information as we get a tighter schedule," said Denney.

Coos Bay World moving office to remote model

STAFF REPORT

The Coos Bay World is moving out of the office it currently leases allowing its employees to work remotely beginning Sept 8.

The newspaper will continue to be published each Wednesday, although beginning Sept. 8, its employees will be working remotely from home offices or from other Country Media locations.

Country Media is the parent company of the Coos Bay World and based in downtown Salem.

"Far fewer of our customers are coming into our local offices to do business," said Country Media's chief executive, Joe Warren. "Classified advertising and legal notices, obituaries and subscriptions increasingly are being placed online."

Country Media owns nine community newspapers in Oregon and one in Northern California.

"Within our group of newspapers, we're beginning to create a small number of hub locations where we can produce multiple publications," Warren said. "In Tillamook, for example, we oversee news reporting and ad sales not only for the Headlight Herald, but also for our newspapers in Cannon Beach and Manzanita."

Meantime, allowing certain of its employees to work remotely "will make it easier for Country Media to recruit new workers and also to share resources within the company," said Warren.

"It's increasingly hard to recruit new employees and independent contractors to the small towns where we're located," Warren said. "Many of them now want to work remotely from home."

"As it is, all of the company's accounting, circulation and human resources functions already are going through our central office in Salem, so this move will be of little disruption to our readers and advertising customers."

As we celebrate America’s working men and women this Labor Day, we’re also aware that artificial intelligence and other new technologies are transforming the economy in which they work. Some commonplace jobs of today (remember TV repairmen?) will become obsolete tomorrow.

Below is a list of job titles that were once fairly common. See if you can guess what these folks did for a living.

1: Knocker-uppers

- A. Member of the military who prepared artillery shells by “knocking” them securely into place.
- B. People hired to go to workers’ doors and wake them up in time for work.
- C. Farmers who specialized in animal husbandry.

Answer: B: From the Industrial Revolution into the 1920s, knocker-uppers worked as human alarm clocks, using sticks, clubs or stones to knock on clients’ windows. Sometimes, the employers would hire them to encourage timeliness from their factory workers.

HOLY GOW! QUIZ:

I’m Here to Hire a Badger

- A. People hired to read books and news articles to factory workers as they toiled.
- B. Doctors who treated people afflicted with cannibalism.
- C. Members of the clergy who taught Christian tenets to new converts.

Answer: A. In Cuban cigar factories, it was common for lectors to read aloud to the workers — who were often illiterate — as they rolled cigars. Radio made the profession obsolete.

3: Rat-catchers

- A. Union slang for members of organized labor who punished workers believed to be cooperating with management.
- B. A Navy term for submarine spotters on destroyers.
- C. People paid to catch rats.

Answer: C: Well into the 20th century, rats were such a pervasive problem, cities would hire professionals to catch and kill them and slow their spread. The Pied Piper story was inspired by reality after all. But when you make rat-catching profitable, that creates a market problem. It is thought the domesticated rat is the result of years of rat catchers breeding rodents to keep clients on the hook.

4: Pinspotters

- A. Textile workers charged with keeping the “pin” on the looms cleared and sharp during fabric production.
- B. Political operatives at large conventions tasked with spotting which attendees were wearing the campaign pins of their candidate’s misdirect them from the event.

- C. People, usually young boys, hired to set up the pins for ten-pin bowling.

Answer: C. What goes down must come back up. At least in bowling. Before Gottfried Schmidt invented the mechanical pinsetter in 1936, the pinspotter or pinsetter manually put the pins back in place. Professional bowler Don Carter began his career as a pinsetter before becoming a six-time Bowler of the Year.

5: Badgers

- A. People who bought produce from farms and brought it to the local open-air market to sell directly to shoppers.
- B. Attorneys hired to recruit clients at delicate events like funerals or hospitals.
- C. A nickname given to security guards in the post-WWII era, when the badge-wearing employees were suddenly becoming more common.

Answer: A. While people still sell goods in open-air markets, the term “badger” faded out in the United States around the Civil War. Some linguists think the term “badgering” may have come from their aggressive sales tactics.

Letters to the Editor

Beef

Dear Editor,
Beef! It ain’t what’s for dinner anymore. That’s the popular response to the tripling of beef prices in the past 15 years. The underlying reasons have been severe droughts in the cattle producing states of Nebraska, Oklahoma, and Texas, aggravated by the 50% tariff imposed by Trump on imports of Brazilian beef. Ironically, the droughts are connected to global warming caused in part by methane emissions from cattle. The rising price is expected to reduce consumption of beef, as well as the associated disastrous impacts on our personal health and the health of our planet.

But there is still hope for folks who just “have to have” their steak. A number of start-up companies are developing healthy, eco-friendly, convenient, tasty, and reasonably priced steaks from animal cells and plants. They should appear on our supermarket shelves within a couple of years. And here is the best part for those of us who care where our food comes from: these steaks will be processed through sanitary health-inspected vats, rather than through the digestive tracts of cows.

Sincerely,

Carson Barnes

DC

The liar-in-chief has claimed that, “Until 4 days ago, Washington, D.C., was the most unsafe ‘city’ in the United States, and perhaps the World. Now, in just a short period of time, it is perhaps the safest and getting better every single hour!”

Nope, just another lie

from Trump to divert attention away from his other failings, like being an actual pedophile (Epstein files). What has happened in the last week in D. C. is arrest of non-violent people of color by ICE, the deployment of National Guard (who are not trained in civilian law enforcement), and a show of force without collaboration with the communities involved.

Who would like to visit D.C. now? Trump claims (another lie), “people are flocking to D.C. again.” In fact, restaurant reservations have dropped 25% in this police state effort.

Trump cares nothing of laws, just power. We are seeing the true enemy to democracy, and it is DJT and the GOP, who do nothing to stop his tyranny.

remember that over 300 animals were seized and relocated following said raids in May.

Oregon State Police conducted the multi-organization effort alongside the Coos County Sheriff's Office, Coos County District Attorney's Office, Oregon Department of Justice, and the IRS Criminal Investigation unit. Experts were brought in to search the park which included veterinary staff from the Oregon Humane Society, Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife, and Oregon Department of Agriculture working to evaluate and eventually rehouse the animals. Many were kept in dangerous enclosures with excessive trash and animal waste, with malnourishment common among the entire park's population. Three of the animals were in such poor condition that they had to be euthanized.

The situation turned out to be much larger than the sweeping animal neglect, as large quantities of meth were also found during the search by the South Coast Interagency Narcotics Team. This was alongside 44 guns (one of which was illegally modified) and roughly $1.6 million in cash, cashier's checks, and bonds.

Tenney had already been arrested by Bandon Police on possession, production, and attempted distribution charges back in May. Now those charges will be added to the pile.

Tenney's 370+ charges were as follows:

- 5 counts of Animal Neglect in the First Degree
- 315 counts of Animal

Neglect in the Second Degree

- Additional animal-related charges
- Unlawful Delivery of Methamphetamine
- Unlawful Possession of Methamphetamine and Cocaine
- Unlawful Possession of a Machine Gun
- Reckless Endangering Another Person
- Racketeering

Beckner's 350+ were as follows:

- 5 counts of Animal Neglect in the First Degree
- 315 counts of Animal Neglect in the Second Degree
- Additional animal-related charges
- Racketeering
- Reckless Endangering Another Person

As of writing, both Tenney and Beckner are in custody at the Coos County Jail and will await what will likely be a lengthy trial period in the Coos County Circuit Court, who issued the initial warrants with full extradition clauses attached.

The World will continue to follow this story as it enters its next phase.

Marshfield hosts football stadium open house

Marshfield will have stadium open house prior to Sept. 5 game

The Pete Susick Stadium Committee will hold an open house before Marshfield's home football game against Siuslaw on Friday, Sept. 5, to show off the progress on the south grandstands.

The open house begins at 5 p.m. and will include tours of the facility.

To date, the Raise the Roof project has included making the south grandstands of the stadium complete ADA compliant, including wheelchair access for 12 spectators. The roof and seating are complete, as are five viewing boxes.

The ticket booth and concession stand also are complete, built by the Marshfield advanced construction class, and include generators to be used in the event of disaster.

"We could not be prouder," said Bill McNutt, the chairman of the committee.

The group is making one final push for the last steps of the project.

Those include a paved road from the Waterfall Clinic to the back side of the stadium, a concrete stairway connecting the ticket booth to the Marshfield campus, restrooms, electrical and plumbing for the concession stand and finishing the Quarterdeck Recognition Wall.

The committee's goal is to raise $40,000 for the last part of the project, and the group has a donor who will match dollar-for-dollar up to $28,000, McNutt said.

"We hope you will consider one last donation," McNutt said. "We appreciate each and every one of you."

The project to build the south grandstands started in 1990 and McNutt said completion will give Marshfield the best football stadium in the state.

"We are looking forward to seeing you at our open house to celebrate the stadium and celebrate you," McNutt said to supporters.

Pirates second in first volleyball coaches poll

JOHN GUNTHER
For the World

Marshfield's volleyball team, the defending Class 4A state champion, was ranked second behind familiar foe Marist Catholic in the first coaches poll of the new season. Marist Catholic, Marshfield's Sky-Em League rival and the team the Pirates faced in the past two state championship games, got four of the 10 first-place votes and had 75 points in the poll. Marshfield got two first-place votes and was second with 70 points.

North Bend also was in the top 10 at No. 9 and Cottage Grove was 10th, also receiving a vote, meaning four of the five Sky-Em League squads were ranked.

Coquille, which reached the state tournament last year, was just outside the top 10 at No. 12 in the Class 3A poll. Defending champion Valley Catholic led the voting.

Powers, which won the Class 1A six-player state title in football last fall, started the year at No. 4. Harper Charter was a near-unanimous No. 1 with 11 of the 13 first-place votes (Powers got one).

Myrtle Point was fifth and Bandon 11th in the Class 2A poll, which was led by St. Paul.

Siuslaw was fifth in the Class 3A poll. Marist Catholic led the Class 4A poll, with North Bend and Marshfield not listed. Unlike the other team sports, the Bay Area schools are not in the same league with Marist Catholic for football. No. 3 Henley was tops among the league foes for the Pirates and Bulldogs.

Siuslaw was first in the Class 3A boys cross country poll, edging out Banks for the top spot in the first poll.

Bandon was third in the Class 2A-1A poll, trailing Knappa and defending champion Union/Cove.

Marshfield was 10th in the 4A poll, which was led by Philomath.

Coquille was fifth in the 3A-2A-1A girls' cross country poll, receiving one first-place vote. The combined Enterprise/Joseph/Wallowa team was No. 1 and Oregon Episcopal No. 2. Siuslaw was seventh.

North Bend was seventh in the 4A poll, which was led by Klamath Union.

None of the South Coast's soccer programs made the top-10 lists.

The coaches polls are compiled by the Oregon School Activities Association and the full lists are available on OSAA's OSAAtoday platform at www.osaa.org.

Prefontaine Memorial Run is Sept. 20

JOHN GUNTHER
For the World

The 44th annual Prefontaine Memorial Run is fast approaching and will offer prize money for the first time and a visiting group from New Zealand.

The race honoring the late Steve Prefontaine will be held on Saturday, Sept. 20, starting in downtown Coos Bay at the corner of Fourth and Anderson.

A high school race will start at 9:45 a.m., featuring most of the teams from the South Coast and others from southern Oregon and northern California, as well as the squad from New Zealand.

The 10-kilometer run and 2-mile fun walk begin at 10:05 a.m.

Runners can register online at www.prefointainerun.net until midnight on Tuesday, Sept. 16. The entry fee is $45 for participants 19 and older who sign up for the 10K or fun walk by Sept. 16 and increases to $55 after that. The fee for participants 18 and under is $25.

The runners in the high school race will be signed up through their schools.

On-site registration and packet pickup for runners and walkers will be at the St. Monica Catholic Church parish hall, 357 South Sixth St., in Coos Bay, from 4 to 6 p.m. Friday, Sept. 19, and 8 to 9:30 a.m. on race day.

This year's race also will commemorate the 50th anniversary of Prefontaine's death. Every entrant who completes the race will receive a commemorative medal. Participants also receive a race shirt.

For runners who wish to participate in the Prefontaine Memorial Run, but who are unable to travel to Coos Bay, a virtual run has been added this year. The entry fee is $50 and includes a race shirt, race bib and commemorative participation medal. The virtual registration deadline is Sept. 5. There has been strong interest in the virtual option.

Prize money will be awarded to the top three male and female finishers in the 10K race, $500 for first place, $300 for second place and $200 for third place.

The high school race will feature a boys team from Tauranga on the north island of New Zealand, a country well-known for its distance running prodigies and strong running culture.

Awards presentations will follow the races, with the top three finishers in five-year age groups also receiving awards.

Marshfield High School Principal Eli Ashton will offer runner a tour of the campus starting at 1 p.m. on race day, beginning in front of the main entrance to the school.

Area residents should be aware that the entire race route will be closed to traffic from 9:30 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. on race day. That includes Anderson Street from Broadway to Seventh Street, Central Avenue from Dairy Queen to Ocean Boulevard, Ocean Boulevard to Shore

Pines Mobile Home Park, 10th Street from Central Avenue to Elrod Avenue and Ninth Street from Elrod to Marshfield's stadium.

Residents are encouraged to support runners along the course during the race.

Little Theatre on the Bay Presents Witch

By Jen Silverman, directed by Bex Truka

Opening September 19 at the Liberty Theatre.

North Bend, OR — Little Theatre on the Bay is proud to announce its upcoming production of Witch by Jen Silverman, directed by Bex Truka. This bold and darkly comic play will run from September 19 through September 28 at the historic Liberty Theatre, home of Little Theatre on the Bay, located at 2100 Sherman Ave. in North Bend.

Inspired by a 17th-century Jacobean drama, Witch puts a modern twist on timeless themes of temptation, power, and human desire. When the Devil comes to a small village offering to fulfill everyone’s deepest wishes, only the local outcast—accused of witchcraft—seems immune to his bargain. Clever, wickedly funny, and full of sharp insights, Witch asks: what do we truly value, and what are we willing to trade to get it?

Performance Schedule:

- September 19, 20, 26, and 27 at 7:00 p.m.
 - September 21 and 28 at 2:00 p.m.
- Tickets are available now at www.

thelibertytheatre.org, at the door, or in person at the Liberty Theatre box office on Tuesdays from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. For more information, please call 541-756-4336.

Join us this September for a daring, thought-provoking evening of theatre as Little Theatre on the Bay brings Witch to life on the Liberty Theatre stage.
