After a tsunami alert, an unprecedented fire season, and the current wildfires ravaging Los Angeles, Coos County will be more concerned than ever over questions regarding emergency preparedness. To help alleviate some of those concerns the Coos County Sheriff's Office Emergency Management team is holding a meeting and presentation titled 'Tsunami & Wildfire Evacuation or Sheltering in Place' at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day, at 6:30 PM on Saturday January 25th.

The meeting will contain information on how to prepare for an environmental emergency like a tsunami or wildfire, and experts will be providing answers to the community's questions. Emergency Coordinators Debbie Mueller and Chip Delrea will be hosting the free training and information session with input from several local organizations. A Spanish interpreter will also be present.

"Because of the chaos that occurred with the tsunami warning that we had on December 5th, we wanted to have an opportunity to speak with the public about what happened and how we can do better," said Debbie Mueller, "There was a lot of chaos in terms

Oregon is sending another wave of firefighters and water tenders to assist in battling the devastating fires raging across Southern California.

The Oregon State Fire Marshal (OSFM) announced Saturday, January 11th that six additional strike teams, comprising thirty water tenders and seventy firefighters, will be deployed to aid in the firefighting efforts in California.

The teams, hailing from Clackamas, Columbia, Coos, Curry, Douglas, Lane, Lincoln, Linn, Morrow, Multnomah and Umatilla counties, will join the fifteen strike teams that arrived earlier in the week. Southern California is bracing for continued extreme fire weather provoking dangerous conditions in the coming days.

Homelessness solutions one of LOC legislative priorities

By JEREMY C. RUARK
Country Media, Inc.

Homelessness and housing challenges continue to be issues throughout cities across Oregon.

Homelessness and housing are part of the nine priorities adopted by the League of Oregon Cities' (LOC) Board of Directors for the 2025 and 2026 Oregon legislative sessions. The priorities have been identified through a committee process during the spring of this year, and a vote by the LOC's 241 member cities this summer.

The following nine issues received the most votes and were adopted by the LOC Board:

1) Community Infrastructure and Housing Development Funding - The LOC will advocate for a comprehensive infrastructure package that supports increased water, sewer, stormwater, and road investments from that state. Without continual infrastructure investments, communities cannot build needed housing; these two priorities are inherently linked. To this end, the LOC will advocate for continued state investments to support the development and preservation of a range of needed housing types and affordability.

2) 2025 Transportation Package - The LOC will support a robust, long-term, multimodal transportation package focused on: stabilizing funding for operations and maintenance for local governments and ODOT; continued investment in transit and bike/ped programs, safety, and congestion management; and completion of projects from HB 2017. This objective includes support for a transition from a gas tax to a road user fee and improved community safety and livability.

3) Recreational Immunity - The LOC will introduce legislation to protect cities and other landowners who open their property for recreational purposes from tort liability claims.

4) Behavioral Health Enhancements - The LOC will support legislation to expand access to behavioral health treatment beds and allow courts greater ability to direct persons unable to care for themselves into treatment through the civil commitment process.

5) Lodging Tax Flexibility - The LOC will advocate for legislation that increases the flexibility to use locally administered and collected lodging tax revenue to support tourism-impacted services. These services include public safety, community infrastructure, and housing-related investments.

6) Shelter Funding and Homeless Response - The LOC will support a comprehensive homeless response package to fund the needs of homeless shelters, homeless response efforts statewide, and capital projects. Funding will include baseline operational support to continue and strengthen coordinated regional homeless response and include a range of shelter types and services and other related services.

7) Address Energy Affordability Challenges from Rising Utility Costs - The LOC will support actions to maintain affordable, reliable, and resilient energy resources and invest in programs and new technology that support energy efficiency, renewable energy, battery storage, and resilient communities. These efforts will help address members' concerns about increased costs associated with energy usage.

8) Operator-In-Training Apprenticeships - The LOC will advocate for funding apprenticeship training programs and expanding bilingual training opportunities to promote the workforce development of qualified wastewater and drinking water operators.

9) ORS 195.530 Johnson v. Grants Pass - The LOC will advocate public policy that allows cities to respond to the unique needs of their community's housed and unhoused members. This advocacy will include adjustments to ORS 195.530 to provide cities with the necessary tools to address unsafe camping conditions, safeguard public spaces, and protect the health, safety, and wellness of all community members.

How many people have been president of the United States? History surrenders this secret grudgingly. Several people technically were president, but aren’t considered presidents of the United States. You have to look hard to find them, but they’re there.

For example, George H.W. Bush was acting president for almost eight hours in 1985 while Ronald Reagan had colon surgery. Dick Cheney did likewise in 2002 and 2007 when his boss, George W. Bush, was anesthetized for colonoscopies. The 25th Amendment was also invoked for Kamala Harris for 85 minutes on Nov. 19, 2021, when Joe Biden was under anesthesia.

Then there was David Rice Atchison, who may — or

HOLY COW! HISTORY: Meet America’s six-minute president may not — have been president for one day in 1849.

With another Inauguration Day upon us, it’s the perfect time to revisit the most obscure “Substitute-in-Chief” story of all.

Harry Truman never wanted to be president. He got the job anyway when Franklin Roosevelt died in April 1945. FDR was a hard act to follow, and Truman was largely unknown outside his home state. Would he be up to it?

He jumped in with determination and made one major decision after another: approving the Marshall Plan, the Berlin Airlift, and the use of an atomic bomb — twice.

Harry clearly could handle the job.

Yet, when election time rolled around in 1948, the odds were overwhelmingly against him. Democrats had held the White House for 16 years, and many folks wanted a change. Republican Tom Dewey was a tough challenger. Virtually nobody gave Truman any chance of winning. Public opinion polls, national columnists and political insiders unanimously said Truman would be buried in a landslide. Everyone agreed.

Except for Harry Truman. He shrugged them off, hopped aboard his campaign rail car, the Ferdinand Magellan, and logged 20,000 miles over several grueling weeks. (By comparison, that’s almost one trip around the Earth.) He stopped to speak in any town, big or small, where people wanted to hear him.

And that down-to-earth strategy worked. On Election Day, he pulled off one of the greatest upsets in American political history. The Man from Missouri had done what literally everyone said was impossible.

So naturally, Truman was more than ready to savor his triumph on Inauguration Day.

A huge crowd turned out on Jan. 20, 1949. An additional 10 million watched in 14 cities on the brand-new invention of television. More people saw Harry Truman being sworn in that day than had witnessed all previous presidential inaugurations combined.

However, there was a bad mistake. And not surprisingly, it was Congress’ fault.

The Constitution specifies the president’s term begins at noon on January 20. Exactly four years later, it expires. At 12:01 p.m., he’s no longer president. Which is why the inauguration ceremony is timed to the minute so the oath can be administered precisely at noon.

That didn’t happen in 1949. Members of Congress were 10 minutes late arriving at the Capitol’s East Front.

(The ceremony wouldn’t be moved to the more spacious West Front until 1981.) They took an additional 10 minutes to find their seats. When the program finally began, it was 20 minutes behind schedule.

Incoming Vice President Alben Barkley took his oath first, as tradition dictated. He wasn’t sworn in until 12:23. Since Truman’s term had officially expired 23 minutes earlier, the office of president was vacant during that time. As the constitutionally designated presidential successor, Barkley was the acting president of the United States.

A long prayer and much hot air followed. Harry finally put his hand on the Bible at 12:29.

Technically, Truman was a private citizen during that six-minute gap.

In a practical sense, it didn’t matter much back in 1949. The Age of Terrorism was decades in the future, and while the Atomic Age had begun, there were no intercontinental missiles or long-range bombers to allow the Soviet Union to take advantage of the situation.

J. Mark Powell

All this is a technicality, of course. However, lawyers wouldn’t exist without technicalities, and many presidential legal scholars (yes, there are such critters) agree that for those six minutes on Jan. 20, 1949, Alben Barkley technically had the authority, if not the office, of the presidency.

You can stump your friends with this bit of arcane trivia at your next neighborhood barbecue. And if you ever happen to be elected president yourself one day, make sure Congress shows up on time.

Letter to the Editor

Open Statement to the BAH Board

Since June 2024, I have urged you not to pursue a partnership with an outside health services company, as it poses significant risks to our hospital and community. While the Board believes remaining independent is riskier, I urge you to reconsider this view.

The Board holds two key powers: voting on major decisions, such as partnerships, and hiring or dismissing the CEO. It is the second power that I believe needs addressing.

Since Mr. Moore became CEO in 2019, his leadership has been marked by troubling decisions. His time at St. Mary’s-Corwin Hospital in Pueblo, Colorado, is a striking parallel to our current challenges. Under his leadership, critical services were cut, leaving the hospital in turmoil. The facility’s struggles persisted even after his abrupt resignation. At Bay Area, Mr. Moore inherited financial challenges, but his decisions have only worsened the situation, such as the disastrous rollout of the EPIC system and neglecting insurer contracts for nearly a decade.

Further, alarming decisions include hiring a COO with a criminal conviction for embezzlement in 2022 and outsourcing billing to Savista, which led to delayed payments at a crucial time.

Bay Area is now on the brink of defaulting on the very loan Mr. Moore inherited. Yet, he repeatedly deflects responsibility, blaming COVID, external vendors, and investment restrictions, while cutting departments, cutting employee benefits, laying off employees and leaving his own compensation untouched.

After the June 2024 Finance Committee meeting, I asked Mr. Moore what would happen if the hospital declared bankruptcy. He responded, “I don’t know! I don’t even want to know!” This reflects both fear and a lack of due diligence, undermining confidence in his leadership.

My ask is simple: Do not accept Mr. Moore’s recommendations. Hire a healthcare turnaround consultant who specializes in managing challenges like ours. Prioritize the hospital’s future over protecting any one individual’s reputation.

To concerned residents: Talk to your hospital Board members. Come to Board meetings. Email the Board at denise.bowers@bayareahospital.org. Check social media for updates.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Briggs,
Coos Bay

our neighbors with crucial support in combating the wildfires and safeguarding lives and property,” said State Fire Marshal Mariana Ruiz-Temple.

The significant deployment includes some of Oregon’s newest tactical tenders, recently acquired by local fire agencies through the OSFM Engine Program.

In total, Oregon has mobilized a substantial force to aid California, to include: twenty-one strike teams; seventy-five fire engines; thirty water tenders and three-hundred seventy firefighters.

The deployment was authorized under the Emergency Management Assistance Compact, which allows states to provide mutual aid during emergencies. The costs associated with the Oregon crews will be reimbursed by the State of California.

According to the National Interagency Fire Center website, the United States Forest Service has activated eight Department of Defense C-130 aircraft equipped with modular airborne firefighting systems (MAFFS) to assist with fire response. The eight aircraft join other municipal, county, state and federal agencies fighting wildfires in the greater Los Angeles area.

As of this printing, three major fires are consuming the Los Angeles area: The Palisade fire, which is near the city Malibu and Highway 101; the Eaton fire, which is near the southern basin of the Angeles National Forest and the Hurst fire, which is located north of the city of Los Angeles along the I-5 corridor.

As of January 12th, the Palisades Fire is eleven percent contained with 23,713 acres burned. The Eaton fire is twenty-seven percent contained with 14,117 acres burned and the Hurst fire is eighty-nine percent contained with 799 acres burned.

The fires are still under investigation and no current official cause has been released to the public.

It should be noted not to rely on social media posts for accurate information regarding the fires and the general public should seek information at official government websites to get complete information.

Marshfield wrestling squad reaches championship bracket at Oregon Classic

JOHN GUNTHER
For the World

Marshfield's wrestling team finished second in its pool to reach the championship bracket for Class 4A at the Oregon Wrestling Classic in Redmond.
The Pirates went on to place eighth in the tournament that features 16 teams from each of the five wrestling classifications in the state.
On the opening day, Marshfield topped Molalla 48-35, beat Madras 48-27 and lost to Sweet Home 73-6.
In the Championship bracket, the Pirates fell to Crook County 72-12, Pendleton 40-36 and Scappoose 43-30.
Gage Saxton was the only Marshfield wrestler with a win against Sweet Home and had pins in all three of his matches on Friday, though he did not record a win Saturday.
Aryan Wright (175) had four pins and a win by decision over the weekend and was one of just two Pirates to win his match against Crook County, the other Skylar Folau at 285. Folau had three pins during the weekend and won another match by forfeit.
Garron Castro (106), Hadyn Widdicombe (120) and Reese Hite (132) all had three pins and won another match by decision.
Leonardo Roman (113) and Trayton Forbes (126) both had two pins and won another match by decision. Gage Saxton (165) and Wyatt Petley (215) each also had two pins.
Sweet Home beat Crook County 48-26 in the Class 4A championship dual.
CLASS 3A:
Coquille just missed the championship bracket in the Class 3A tournament and went on to win the Classic Cup for the teams that did not reach the championship bracket at the Oregon Classic.
The Red Devils fell to Banks 68-12, beat Yamhill-Carlton 54-30 and lost to Scio 42-41 when a win would have put Coquille in the championship bracket.

In the Classic Cup, the Red Devils beat La Pine 42-36, topped the combined Riverside/Boardman team 54-30 and then avenged the loss to Scio with a 48-36 win in the championship bout.
Paisley Morrison went unbeaten in the tournament, the standout freshman girl getting pins in the duals against Banks, Yamhill-Carlton, La Pine and Riverside/Boardman and winning the other two matches by forfeit.
Cameron Houston pinned all his foes at 165 pounds after losing in his match against Banks.
Tristin Henry, who got the only other win against Banks with a pin at 106 pounds, had three total pins in the tournament.
Brody Sherritt (120 pounds) and Clyde Davis (190) had four pins. Harley Pearce had three pins wrestling at 285 pounds.
Ember Quigley (113), Mason Fisher (138), Kadin Silva (150), Dennis Williams (215), Dennis Williams (215) and Jordan Florez (215 and 285) all had two pins each. Jacob Kingery (144) had one pin.
The Red Devils benefited from being able to fill all but one spot in the 14-wrestler lineup, which limited the forfeits they gave up during the weekend.
Harrisburg beat Burns 39-26 in the Class 3A championship dual.
Marshfield, Coquille and North Bend will be among several schools competing in the Bay Cities Duals at Marshfield this coming Saturday.
NICK LUTZ INVITATIONAL:
North Bend's Jackson Swanson won his weight class in the big tournament at Florence over the weekend.
Swanson beat Santiam Christian's River Nygren in the championship match at 150 pounds.

In the Matter of a Spray Program for Coos County Road Department
NOTICE OF SPRAY PROGRAM TO: ALL INTERESTED PERSONS
1. In order to maintain County roads, the Coos County Road Department intends to institute a brush control program on March 1st, which may include the use of herbicides on the rights-of-way of certain Coos County roads.
2. Property owners may request the Coos County Road Department not spray the right-of-way abutting their property. Property owners who do not wish the County to spray must contact the Road Department. The Road Department will provide the property owner with a "NO SPRAY" Agreement to complete and return by February 15th. These agreements are free of charge and must be renewed annually.
3. The property owner must post the right-of-way to indicate the "NO SPRAY" area with signs provided by the Road Department. The County will no longer recognize homemade no-spray signs. If you do not want us to spray the right of way adjacent to your property, you must come in to the Road Department and fill out a no-spray agreement.
4. Failure to contact the Road Department, enter into the agreement or failure to post the required signs will result in the Road Department spraying the right-of-way as planned.

If the property owner fails to clear the right-of-way, the County may do so, with the cost charged to the property owner. Failure to pay this cost will result in a lien being assessed against the property.
6. Contact the Coos County Road Department at 1281 West Central, Coquille, Oregon 97423; or call 541/396-7660 for further information.

Upcoming traffic enforcement: seat belt safety campaign

The Coos Bay Police Department (CBPD) will be participating in a statewide seat belt safety campaign from January 27th to February 9th, 2025. CBPD officers will be doing enhanced patrols with a focus on seat belt safety, education, and enforcement.

During the seat belt safety campaign, CBPD officers will use federally funded overtime to enforce and educate the public on safety belt laws.

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), over 25,000 vehicle occupants were killed in 2022, and half of them were not wearing safety belts. Using a safety belt is the single most effective way to protect yourself during a crash, and the CBPD wants to see all residents buckled up.

Motor vehicle crashes are the leading nationwide cause of death for children ages one through twelve years old. In 2022, 1,697 children under twelve were injured in Oregon traffic crashes, and 16 percent were reported not using a child restraint system. It is estimated that car seats may increase crash survival by 71% for infants under one year old and by up to 59% for toddlers aged one to four.

Booster seats may reduce the chance of nonfatal injury among four- to eight-year-olds by 45% compared to safety belts used alone.

In 2017 an Oregon law was passed requiring children to ride in a rear-facing safety seat until they are at least two years old. A child over age two must continue to ride in a car seat with harness or in a booster until they reach age eight or 4’9” in height and the adult belt fits them correctly.

Judith (Judy) Ellen Stebbins

November 4, 1946 – December 25, 2024

Judith (Judy) Ellen Stebbins of Albany, Oregon, passed away peacefully on December 25, 2024, after a courageous battle with cancer.

Judy was born on November 4, 1946, in Coos Bay, Oregon, to Jeanette Daisy Brannian and Hubert Holly Brannian.

After graduating from Reedsport High School in 1964, she pursued her passion for teaching at Southern Oregon University, earning her degree in education in 1968.

Judy began her teaching career at Klamath Union High School in Klamath Falls, where she spent three years before moving to Crater High School in Central Point. There, she met the love of her life, Ronald David Stebbins.

Judy and Ron were married in Reedsport, Oregon, on July 24, 1971, and shared a beautiful life for 53 years. They raised two children, Andrew Mac Stebbins (Beaverton, Oregon) and Megan Michelle Stebbins (Albany, Oregon), filling their home with love, laughter, and countless cherished memories.

For more than 25 years, Judy and Ron lived in Newberg, where she worked at A-dec and Ron taught at Newberg High School. Judy wore many hats at A-dec and was always eager to learn and grow. Her dedication and love for learning led her to supervisory roles in the marketing department, where she helped introduce desktop publishing and brought the first digital camera to the photo studio. Her attention to detail and commitment to quality were unmatched.

After retiring from A-dec, Judy and Ron embraced a slower pace of life in Sisters, Oregon for 17 years, eventually moving to Albany in 2015 to be closer to family.

Judy had a zest for life and found joy in the little things. She loved books, puzzles, and spending time outdoors—whether it was gardening, kayaking, riding her electric bike, or going on RV adventures with her sister, Cathy. She adored her grandchildren and was their biggest cheerleader, attending school events, games and sharing in their interests. Her happiest moments were family trips and camping outings with the grandkids.

Judy was preceded in death by her brother, Thomas Holly Brannian. She is survived by her sister, Catherine Jean Holmgreen; her husband, Ron; her children, Andrew and Megan; her daughter-in-law, Maryanne; and her beloved grandchildren, Scarlett and Liam.

In lieu of flowers, please consider donating to the American Cancer Society.

Judy's legacy of love, strength, and kindness will live on in all who knew her.

Standup comedy returns to the Sawdust

By DEAN BRICKEY
For The World

COQUILLE — Comedians Jess Everett, the headliner, and guest Will Lampe will again take the stage at the Sawdust Theatre on Friday, Jan. 31, for an evening of adult comedy produced by Soul of Wit Productions, Salem. Their routines will begin at 7:30 p.m. Jess Everett of Tacoma Wash., has performed in clubs and theaters all over the country. He is the winner of Tacoma Comedy Club's Comedy Voice competition, five Roastmania competitions, and the Olympia Comedy Competition. He also recently recorded a half-hour special with BARK entertainment, said April Birkholz of Soul of Wit Productions, adding, "Jess took third place in the renown Seattle International Comedy Competition in 2024." Will Lampe is a Portland-based comic originally from Kentucky. He and Everett appeared on the Sawdust Theatre stage last March. Birkholz said Lampe's "comedy stylings are like a Swiss Army knife, because you'll leave thinking 'that little tool can do it all.' Come to the show, let him know what you think, and he will adjust his selfesteem as needed." Soul of Wit Productions began bringing comedy shows to Coos County in the summer of 2023.

The shows have been a hit with audiences every month since, said Michael Thurman of the Sawdust Theatre. The theatre does not offer reserved seating, Thurman said. Tickets are $12 online at eventbrite.com or $15 at the door of the Sawdust Theatre, 120 N. Adams St., before show time.

As I See It

By Mary Schamehorn

I’ve chosen to share three articles from the front page of the March 9, 1933, Western World for this week’s history stories.

“Woman’s Club has Program” is the headline of a story about the constructive work carried on by the important women’s organization.

“A report on the magazine drive for relief netted the club $28, of which $10 has been used to purchase shoes for needy. Mrs. H.M. (Norma) Howe as school nurse, under the supervision of the American Legion Auxiliary, reported visiting the grades one day each week. She stated that the undernourished children receiving milk under the club’s arrangement have gained from three to six pounds since the previous examination. She also reported that a pre-school clinic will be held in Bandon during the latter part of April. In connection with the school health work the Legion Auxiliary is also supplying the first aid kits and ointments for skin disease.

“The report on the salvage shop stated that one dozen pairs of shoes can be put into good condition by repair and that Mr. Breuer (Mike) (first photo) will do this work at little or no cost.” His shop was located in the west end of what was known as the Breuer Building, at the end of First Street between the Coast Guard building and the former Edgewater’s Restaurant. It survived the Fire of 1936 and today serves as a vacation rental.

The second article is headlined “School Year Is Shortened,” as the Bandon School District decided to cut school from nine to eight months. Pictured is the Bandon High School in east Bandon, which survived the Fire of 1936 and continued to serve the local school district until the new school opened across town in 1950. It was the “new” school that was destroyed in an arson fire in January of 1974.

“Owing to the reduction of the per capita tax by the county and the lowness of incoming tax money, under the nine-months school year the local district would incur a deficit of approximately $4,800, meaning that the district would be that much more in the hole. By cutting off one month of school it is estimated that about $2,000 of the deficit will be avoided. According to Supt. John Fasnacht, shortening the year will not affect grades for college entrance as colleges are taking the present situation into consideration. Mr. Fasnacht says the work in the schools for the rest of the year is being intensified.”

The third story concerns the fact that lighthouse property had officially been stamped, and “anyone who steals property from Uncle Sam, even down to the oars or oar locks from the lighthouse keeper’s skiff (third photo) might as well rob a post office because he was in ‘for a stretch,’ if the warning by L.H. Mauer of the U.S. Custom Service means what he says. He has been here for several days marking every piece of lighthouse equipment. He carries an electric needle that puts the initials of the Service on the smallest steel part of an outboard motor or an instrument of any kind. He said this warning might well be taken by those who in the past have molested the skiff used by O.R. Langlois, the lighthouse keeper, in crossing the river. The maximum penalty for such a little trick is now a $5,000 fine and five years in a federal penitentiary.”

A young Bandon man, Benjamin Bean, 25, who has been the subject of a number of recent Facebook posts, has been arrested for first degree criminal mischief, attempted criminal trespass in the first degree and menacing involving a disturbance on Lampa Lane. He was booked into the Coos County Jail on Jan. 10.

On Jan. 5, dispatch received a report of a disturbance on Lampa Lane. The homeowner reported at 3:54 a.m. that an individual had aggressively banged on their door, causing items to fall off the walls. The banging ceased after the homeowner confronted the subject, who then left the area.

At around 5:04 a.m., the homeowner reported the suspect had returned but fled again before deputies arrived. Deputy M.R. Smith responded to the scene and initiated an investigation, noting significant damage to the front of the residence caused by the suspect using a sledgehammer. The man was ultimately identified as Benjamin Bean, and on Jan. 10 he was located and arrested.

By now, we have all watched the firestorm horror that is unfolding in Los Angeles county, virtually wiping out communities, killing at least 16 people and burning thousands of homes and businesses.. I have been glued to News Nation, which is by far the best news station I have ever watched, with the most balanced reporting somewhere between Fox News and CNN.

In total, the Oregon State Fire Marshal has sent 15 strike teams, 300 firefighters and 75 engines to the LA area. In our area, the Coos Forest Protective Association deployed four staffed type 6 engines.

These specially equipped engines are assisting local fire crews in their effort to contain and manage the devastating fires. These engines are staffed with trained firefighters from CFPA, ready to lend critical support as part of a larger collaborative effort to protect communities, natural resources and infrastructure, according to a press release from CFPA.

“Significant rainfall allowed for deployment of these resources which will strengthen firefighters’ abilities for future fire seasons,” said the release.

In other posts on Facebook, people have said that a number of Oregon fire trucks were turned back in Sacramento because they could not meet the emission standards. The Oregon Fire Marshal said that information is patently untrue and urged people to stop spreading it.

Bandon Police Officer Zack Carpenter has been named Officer of the Year for his outstanding dedication and service to the community. “We are incredibly proud to have him on our team,” said a spokesman for the police department.

“We also welcome back officer Ian Mastrangelo who has officially graduated from the DPSST Academy and is back on

The Coquille Indian

Tribe has been given the green light by the Department of Interior to locate a casino in the former Roxy Ann Lanes bowling alley building in Medford. The Class II gaming facility will include a 16,000 square foot gaming floor with 650 Class II gaming machines, a bar and other services.

The Cow Creek Tribe has attempted to stop the casino for years, and said the decision would reverse the one-casino policy by allowing the first urban and off-reservation casino. Brenda Meade, Coquille tribal chairwoman, is quoted as saying: “The Biden Administration sent a clear message: it stands with Indian country and intends to honor its commitment to tribal sovereignty.”

U.S. Senator Ron Wyden blasted the decision, and is quoted as saying “this reckless choice by D.C. bureaucrats catapults Oregon into an uncontrolled escalation of gambling with no end in sight.”

Meade said the Coquille Tribe has been trying to gain this approval for almost 13 years.

Business at the Bandon Fisheries Warehouse could be impacted this week by the long-awaited paving of the Port of Bandon’s parking lot adjacent to the building, but they are still open for business, with people to enter through the glass doors on the south side of the building.

Bandon Fisheries Warehouse will be the scene of Bandon’s Second Annual Wine and Seafood Festival Feb. 15-16, featuring wine, beers, cocktails, live music, seafood, cheese, chocolate and more.

January is normally a slow time for Bandon businesses, and people are urged to shop locally as much as possible, particularly this time of year. Several restaurants, including Lord Bennett’s and The Wheelhouse/ Crow’s Nest are closed for January, and Alloro will close from Jan. 29 to Feb. 13, reopening for Valentine’s Day. Bandon Baking Co. is also closed for the month of January, and Coastal Mist has announced they will close on Wednesdays as well as Tuesdays through January. Billy Smoothboars just announced that they will close only on Wednesdays instead of two days a week, which is good news. Others may have limited hours or days, so it’s best to check their websites when planning dinner out.

Unclaimed Capital Credits

Find out if you have an unclaimed capital credit check from 2020

Coos-Curry Electric Cooperative Inc. is searching for members who have unclaimed capital credit checks issued in 2020. If you were a member who received electric service from CCEC between 1991 and 1993, there may be a check from 2020 with your name on it for your capital credits.

The names of members who have unclaimed capital credits paid in 2020 will appear in a special insert within the Curry Coastal Pilot newspaper. The insert will be published at least one time in January, February, March and April 2025. You can also visit www.ccec.coop/capital-credits to view the list.

What are capital credits? Capital credits reflect each member's ownership in the cooperative. You, as a member, are an owner of CCEC, and the allocated margins, or capital credits, are just one of the many advantages of membership. Unlike investor-owned utilities, CCEC provides electric service to our members at cost and any profits from providing electric service are paid back to the members, and not paid to out of the area shareholders. Members invest in CCEC when they buy power. Each year, after all expenses have been paid, any remaining margin from providing electric service are allocated to members as capital credits in proportion to their electric use.

Contact Us Go to www.ccec.coop/capital-credits to see if your name appears on the list, or if you know the address or phone number of a person or business on the list.

If you are not the member listed, you must be legally authorized to claim one of these checks, including checks for members who are deceased.

A form is available to fill out on the CCEC website. Please provide your name, the listed member's name and telephone number. A member of our team will contact you as soon as possible. For additional questions, contact us at 541-332-3931 or by email at capitalcredits@cooscurryelectric.com.

Unclaimed capital credits will be forfeited and reclaimed by CCEC as permanent equity six months after the last published notice. A portion of the reclaimed capital credits are distributed to community organizations as charitable donations for the benefit of the communities we serve.

Visit www.ccec.coop/capital-credits to view the unclaimed capital credit list.

of traffic and people not understanding that if you were in high-ground, just stay there. The other piece is trying to educate people where to be and what shelter-in-place actually means.”

Prior to the most recent tsunami warning on December 5th, 2024, it had been over two years since the previous warning on January 15th, 2022. Thankfully, they aren’t a common occurrence. However, that makes preparedness and readiness all the more important so as to not instill panic when a warning does come through.

“It was a distant tsunami following the Tonga underwater volcano explosion,” explained Mueller about the 2022 tsunami warning. “At that time, we did evacuations for the harbor in Charleston. The fire department went boat to boat to be sure they were moved out to sea, which is the safest place for them to be... It was measured to be between 18-24 inches. On one hand, that’s nothing, but for a boat sitting in a dock that could cause some pretty major damage.”

Representatives from other organizations will also be present to talk fire safety. Chief Jim Brown of North Bend Fire Department (who is also the Emergency Manager for North Bend) will speak, along with Kelsey Hunter from the Oregon State Fire Marshal’s Office. They will be giving rundowns on fire preparedness, defensible spaces, and home hardening measures we can all take.

Community Emergency Response Teams (CERT), and Amateur Radio Emergency Service (ARES), a ham radio group, will have tables there with relevant materials.

2024 was a record wildfire season in Oregon, with nearly 2 million acres being burned across almost 2,000 individual fires according to the Oregon Department of Forestry (ODF). Coos County has been fortunate to avoid large wildfires. The last in Coos County was the North Bank fire in 2020, which claimed 400 acres and one structure.

“It’s still something we want to think about, and really want to know how we can be safe around that... The State likes to talk about being 2-weeks-ready, but we really encourage people to be 4-weeks-ready. For us we could so easily be cut off. A bridge going down on either HWY 101 or 42, those are our mainstays for getting out of dodge. It could take a bit for somebody to get to us,” said Mueller.

To that end, the county has ‘Are You Ready?’ books covering a number of emergencies and how to be prepared. They explain how, even on a budget, you can build up preparedness one item at a time, as well as outlining how to make sure the whole family knows what to do in any situation.

For those not familiar with the Northwest Association of Networked Ocean Observing Systems, Mueller recommended everyone check out the NANOOS tsunami evacuation services. With a mobile app and live online maps, you can check your home, work, school, or any other frequented location and know whether it is in the evacuation zone and safe for sheltering in place.

All are encouraged to attend the presentation at 3355 Virginia Avenue in North Bend, on January 25th, at 6:30 PM for more information on how to be prepared.
