Shop With Heroes returns for 2024 holiday season

Members of the Coquille Police and Fire Department are excited to announce the 12th annual Shop with Heroes.

This program helps impoverished children within the Coquille School District have a memorable and special Christmas. Thanks to community donations, we are able to bus the children and chaperones to Walmart to purchase Christmas presents. When they return to Coquille, the children will have lunch provided and the opportunity to meet Santa.

This event will take place on Dec. 14.

We are extremely grateful for the contributions we received in the past from local citizens, businesses, and community service organizations and we are looking forward to your contributions again this year. If you have questions or are interested in donating to this program, contact Tobia Cochran at 541-396-2114 or by email at tcocoran@cityofcoquille.org.

We are also very grateful to our community partners and the local agencies who volunteer their time to be a chaperone for this event.

These Heroes make the event extra special for the children. Our Heroes are made up of Firefighters, Law Enforcement, Dispatchers, Coast Guard, Nurses, School Teachers, Paramedics/EMTs, and many more.

If you're interested in volunteering or being a chaperone, please get in touch with our office.

Florence CROW Theatre opens Haunted Maze on October 25

Rhody Days Gone Wrong! When most people think of a small-town carnival, they imagine laughter, delicious junk food, games, rides, and family fun. But this year, something is different. Florence's annual carnival has been taken over by an extreme evil that turns happy days into a total nightmare!

Voted "Best Haunt in Oregon 2018" by Oregon Haunted Houses, C.R.O.W.'s seventh Scare-CROW Haunted Maze, entitled "Carn-EVIL of Terror," will be held on five nights: Oct. 25-26 and Oct. 29-31, from 6 to 9 p.m.

A less scary "Family Hour" geared toward younger kids will be held on Saturday, Oct. 26, from 5 to 6 p.m., with the maze transitioning back to very scary at 6 p.m.

Suggested minimum age for the regular maze is 8+, and entry is always at parents' discretion (and at your own risk). The maze is held indoors at the Florence Events Center, 715 Quince St., providing indoor restroom facilities, concessions, lobby games, and photo opportunities.

"Imagine Rhody Days but absolutely horrifying!" said CROW Artistic Director Melanie Heard. "Pretty much everyone has been to a carnival at least once in their lives. This year's theme will take something normally fun and happy and completely distort it, twisting many of your favorite things into the stuff of nightmares. We have some awesome scares planned, and one of my favorite things is hearing people scream!"

C.R.O.W.'s "Twisted" (2023), "Freak Show" (2019), and "Quarantine" (2018) mazes showed so much deadly appeal that over 1,000 guests passed through, traveling from as far away as Astoria, Bandon, Eugene/Springfield, Brookings, Washington and California, and beyond.

C.R.O.W. is known for exceptionally high-quality production values for their annual performance-based projects, including costumes, make-up, scenic design elements, props, lighting, sound, and acting. The Scare-CROW Haunted Maze is an annual fundraiser for the entire non-profit arts program, and all funds directly impact local youth.

"Money raised will provide scholarships for dance classes, workshops, and summer camps, as well as help to fund future mainstage musicals, educational materials, and so much more," said Heard.

C.R.O.W. is currently accepting Haunted Maze sponsorships, and information and perks can be found on their website.

Maze admission is $12 per person, per entry or $44 for a party of four (must be used same night). Tickets are sold at the door by cash or credit card. The maze is ADA accessible. There will be onsite food and drinks provided by The Florence Events Center. For more information about the maze, including photos, videos, and FAQ's, visit www.crowkids.com.

Oregon Community Foundation names former sports executive as Chief People Officer

PORTLAND — Oregon Community Foundation has named Traci Reandeau as its new Chief People Officer, responsible for leading organizational culture across five offices and eight regions of the state. Reandeau is a seasoned human resource professional with more than 35 years of experience in creating great places to work with exceptional brands, including the Portland Trail Blazers and KEEN.

The CPO is a new position on the Executive Team at Oregon Community Foundation, a reflection of the organization's increased capacity and impact in recent years. Last year, OCF and its donors distributed $225 million in grants and scholarships to communities, nonprofits and Tribes working in all 36 counties of Oregon. It was OCF's broadest effort yet to improve the lives of all Oregonians through the power of philanthropy. That impact is expected to grow in the coming years.

"Traci's blend of wisdom and practicality, enthusiasm for both boldness and the gritty work of change, and her obvious spirit of kindness and respect are traits that will move our organization forward," said OCF President and CEO Lisa Mensah. "This search process has allowed me to think deeply about the operational needs of our foundation and the team that will best help us achieve the success we all desire in the years to come."

Most recently, Reandeau served as the VP of Global People and Culture for KEEN/Fuerst Group, where she helped successfully grow the brand to more than 350 employees. The Fuerst Group, including KEEN, Chrome, and fully owned factories and a distribution center, grew to more than 2,300 total employees during her 11-year tenure. Prior to KEEN, she was the Senior Vice President of Human Resources at the Portland Trail Blazers, where she spent 18 years building and professionalizing the core functions of HR as the workforce grew.

"I am thrilled to join the Oregon Community Foundation as the Chief People Officer," Reandeau said. "Together, we will foster an inclusive and vibrant culture that empowers our team and strengthens our communities. I look forward to collaborating with such passionate individuals dedicated to making a difference and being a part of the continued growth of OCF internally and externally."

Reandeau was born and raised in Clatskanie, and is a proud graduate of the University of Portland. A lifelong advocate of volunteerism, Reandeau was awarded the Woman of Spirit award for her work in the community in 2007. She is a current member of the board of directors for Albina Head Start, where she has served for more than 20 years. Past community service includes volunteering as a reader for SMART and board member for both Camber Outdoors and Open Meadow Alternative Schools.

Southeast Striders "To the Bogs and Back" starts Oct. 19

Hiking Good Sense

Only cross Highways 101 and 42 at stoplights. Wait for the "Walk" signal.

Walk on the sidewalk or pathway.

When you must walk on the road, stay on the shoulder. Walk on the left side of the roadway so you are facing the oncoming traffic.

If you walk after dark, carry a light and keep it on when cars are present.

Be prepared for the weather to change. Carry another layer for warmth.

Respect property. The hike route will not take you onto private spaces.

For More Hiking and More History

Healthy History Hikes

To the Bogs And Back

Walk a route along quiet streets to see the cranberry bogs along Ohio Avenue and consider several inviting side trips.

Length: 2.5 Miles

Allow 1 1/2 hours

The Challenge: To behold the bogs.

The Prize: Claim a "History Hiker" award at the museum.

Sponsored by the Coos County Cultural Coalition

A historic look at some stops along the route.

This feed store "fell in" when its owners were moving it across Ferry Creek. The building is to the east of Grand Avenue today.

This intersection used to be flat. Local lore suggests roadbuilders misread a six inch rise as six feet.

The Snack Shack was where the teens hung out in the 1960s and 70s.

Cranberry princesses pose in a cranberry bog in 1957.

A flag ceremony outside the Bandon Heights School in 1975. The school was closed later that year.

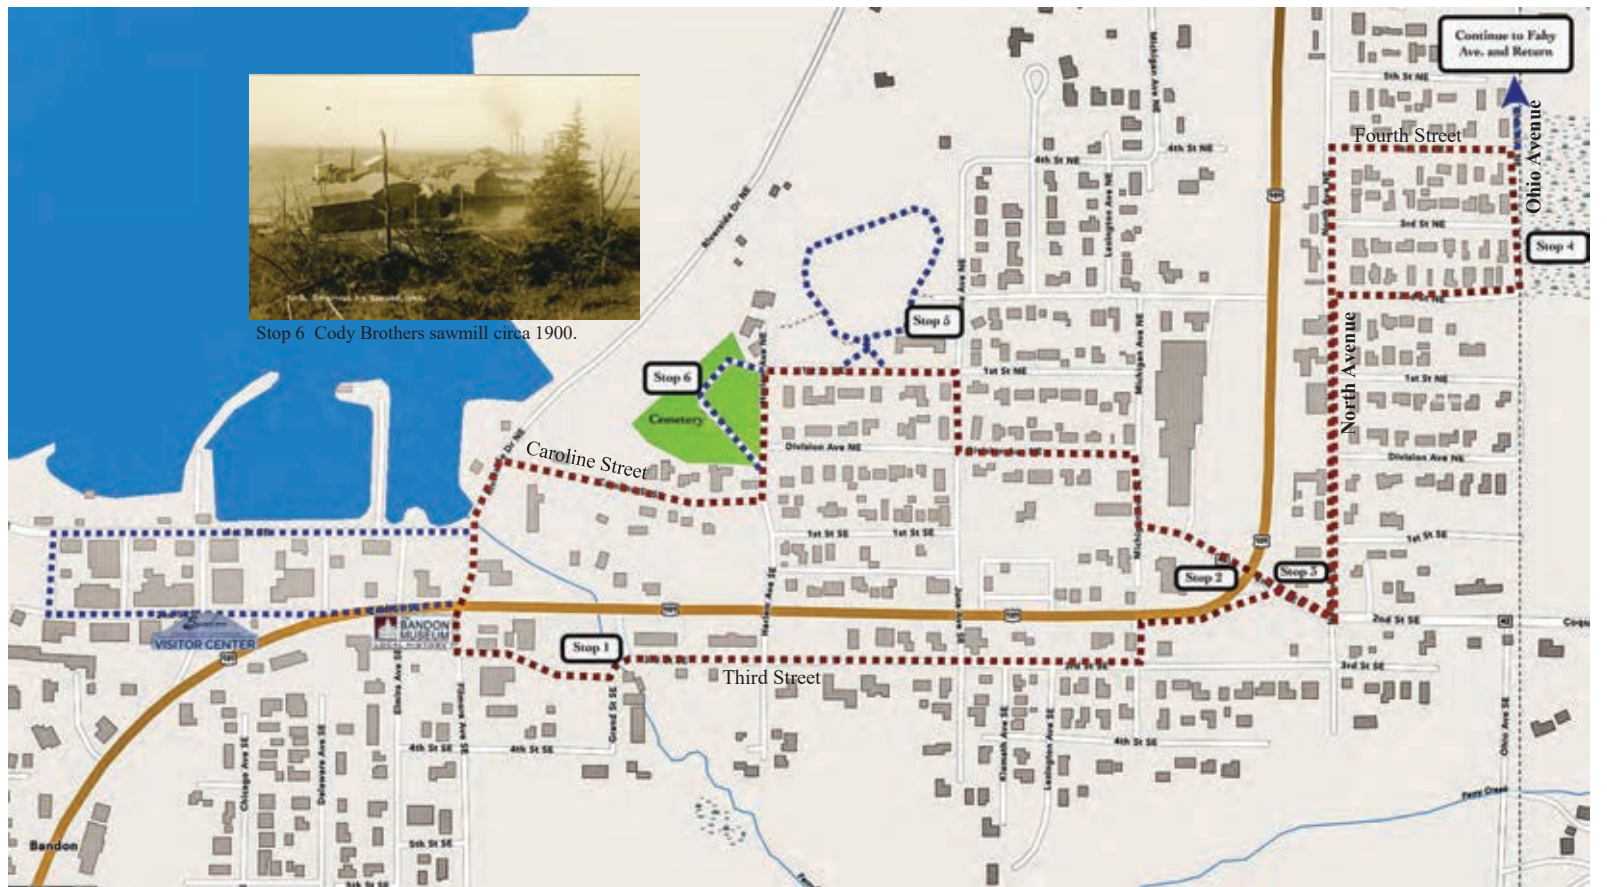

Southeast Striders is hosting "To the Bogs and Back," a unique hiking experience in Bandon, on Oct. 19.

Follow sidewalks, quiet streets and pathways on a 2.5-mile loop that leads from the Bandon History Museum to a good vantage point to see some cranberry bogs during harvest season. Museum volunteer Jim Proehl will share some "History Minutes" along the way. Expect a sojourn in a cemetery as part of this October hike. Extend the walk by picking up one of several "Healthy, Historic Hike" maps at the museum and following another route through historic Bandon.

Park in the museum parking lot and if that fills up, park in the public lot at Face Rock Creamery or on adjacent streets.

We will meet at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 19 in the public parking lot of the Bandon Historical Society Museum. If the lot is full you can find additional parking behind the Face Rock Creamery.

The museum is on the corner of Highway 101 and Fillmore Ave.

James Irvin Pearce

July 10, 1947- September 27, 2024

On September 27, 2024 James Irvin Pearce passed away in his sleep at the Veteran's hospital in Roseburg, Oregon. He was 77 years old.

James, or Jim as he preferred to be called, is survived by his children, David Pearce (Shawna); Brad Pearce; Missy Wormuth (George); his grandchildren, Ethan; Devin; Calista; George and Alex (Gail); sister, Sandy Cooley; nieces, nephews and numerous extended family members. He was preceded in death by father, Irvin Leroy Pearce; mother, Doris Fern Pearce (McCauley); sister, Paula Biles and brother, Duane Pearce.

Jim was born at Mast Hospital in Myrtle Point on July 10, 1947. He was raised on the Pearce family dairy farm in Arago and graduated from Myrtle Point High School. Jim started his service in the U.S. Army in 1966 during the Vietnam War.

Jim married one of his childhood friends, Charlotte Pearce (Northup) in 1970. They were married for 52 years until Charlotte died in 2022.

After running a logging company with his father and brother, Jim decided to go to college on the GI bill and study Forestry. After receiving his degree he went to work for BLM Bureau of Land Management (BLM) in 1972. Jim became a Journeyman Cruiser/Appraiser, certified scaler, Lead Cruiser and District Scaler. Over the course of his service, he cruised over 200 million board feet of timber.

While serving with BLM, Jim was a wildland firefighter, working on fires throughout the western half of the continental U.S. He received an award from the Governor of Oregon for outstanding performance in the line of duty fighting wildland fires. After retiring from the Bureau, he continued wildland firefighting with the Coos County Fire Patrol sharing his decades of expertise with a new generation of firefighters.

Jim was an avid fisherman and outdoorsman. He regularly took his drift boat on the Coquille River fishing for salmon and sturgeon. He also floated large sections of the Rogue River, Snake River and Salmon River, among many others. He enjoyed the challenge of negotiating large class whitewater rapids. Jim was a little league baseball coach and 4H group leader. He also served as a member and eventually an elder of the Broadbent Community Church. Jim served as a Deacon and worked with youth groups in an after school program with his wife Charlotte teaching music to young members of the community. Jim and Charlotte also performed music in the church over the decades.

Jim will be remembered by friends and family for his positive outlook on life, love of the outdoors and great sense of humor. He was always ready with a joke or humorous story to lighten any occasion.

North Bend Liberty Theatre to host OPEN HOUSE on October 24

The Liberty Theatre in North Bend is a cherished landmark with a storied history dating back nearly a century. Over the years, the theater has faced challenges, including the threat of demolition. However, thanks to the dedicated efforts of the Little Theatre on the Bay and the community, the theatre has undergone a series of restoration projects to preserve its historic charm and ensure its continued use.

LTOB invites the community to an open house Oct. 25, from 5 to 7 p.m., to see the newest addition, Phase VII, now open for occupancy. This event will be during Business After Hours, with the Bay Area Chamber of Commerce. With over 3,000 sq. ft. of space, this second story contains rehearsal space, dressing rooms, restrooms, and a sewing center. A lift has been installed for the cast and crew as needed to access this space. Some finishing details are still needed: mirrors, countertops and janitorial equipment. Thanks to a very generous donation, the main space will be named the "Molly & David Ford and Theresa & Ken Erskine" LTOB Youth Theatre.

Constructed by Scott Partney Construction, Inc, Phase VII is part of a multi-million-dollar restoration effort that began in 2015 as part of a broad capital campaign to enhance the theatre's functionality and provide more opportunities for artistic expression in the community.

As evidenced by the robust support that the Century of Celebration campaign has enjoyed from the community, LTOB is not only helping revitalize the downtown core but also has a demonstrable economic benefit to the area. The Americans for the Arts estimates with their Arts and Economic Prosperity 5 Calculator that the economic impact of LTOB is responsible for 11 FTE jobs and nearly $500,000 of economic activity in the community each year.

Many organizations supported this $1.2 million Youth Theatre/Program center phase:

thanks to North Bend Urban Renewal, state of Oregon CREF funds, Judith Ann Mogan Foundation, Coquille Tribal Development Fund, Oregon Community Fund, Ford Family Foundation, Oregon Cultural Trust, Steve Beetham, Coos Bay Ship Pilots, Barbara and Greg Rueger, Molly and David Ford, Dan and Peggy Neal. A complete list of donors is in the theater lobby.

For over 77 years LTOB has operated as an all-volunteer organization.

The performers on the stage, the concessions people behind the counter, the seamstresses or set crew are all individuals who are committed and passionate enough about the theatre to donate their time. LTOB is a community that welcomes and involves anyone and everyone who wishes to be a part of it. The completion of Phase VII is a testament to the power of community collaboration and the enduring legacy of this historic venue.

Coos Art Museum celebrating Biennial in 2024

Every other year Coos Art Museum celebrates Oregon's emerging artistic talent with a focus on providing an art space for the community to showcase their work without the traditional jurying process.

CAM is pleased to have so many distinct submissions this year, and hope that you will share your support for the arts and join us for our opening reception on Friday, Oct. 11 from 5 to 7 p.m.

The CAM Biennial 2024 will be on view from Oct. 11 to Dec. 29.

The Coos Art Museum has been a cultural focal point of Oregon's scenic Southern Coast since 1966. It occupies an historic 1936 Art Deco U.S. Federal Building in downtown Coos Bay. The museum offers a wide range of arts activities including exhibitions, art classes, and lectures. Our hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., Wednesday through Sunday. Closed Mondays and Tuesdays.

Museum admission: $5 general, $2 students, veterans, and seniors. Free to museum members.

CAM to host Willie Baronet "We Are All Homeless" Exhibit

The "We Are All Homeless" project began in 1993 when Willie Baronet bought a sign from a person experiencing homelessness, and since 2009 his ever-growing collection of signs has been used in dozens of art installations across the U.S. and the U.K.

Coos Art Museum is honored to have Baronet share his signs with us for this special exhibit, as well as give an artist talk about this project.

"We Are All Homeless" hopes to challenge stereotypes, inspire empathy, and drive social change. This exhibit will be on view from Oct. 8 to Dec. 29.

A Word, Please:

By JUNE CASAGRANDE

If you're the kind of person who chooses words carefully, that's a good thing. Precise language begets precise communication, which improves the odds you'll get your point across. But there's a price to pay for that caution: insecurity, like the self-doubt I'm racked with every time I have to choose between "rack" and "wrack."

Do you wrack your brain or rack it? Are you racked with guilt or wracked? Are these questions nerve-wracking or nerve-racking?

Faced with these questions, I forget what I once learned. Rather than get it wrong or (heaven forbid) take the time to look it up, I just avoid these phrases altogether.

Turns out, that's not a bad strategy. Though their origins point to different meanings, "wrack" and "rack" are often interchangeable today. But folks who choose their words carefully might want to keep the original meanings in mind.

"Rack" originates from a noun referring to a Medieval torture device, with the verb evolving to mean torture, strain or wreck. "Wrack" was born as a nautical term meaning, essentially, "wreck."

"This etymology explains why the word is 'nerve-racking' rather than 'nerve-wracking,'" insists Theodore Bernstein's 1965 guide "The Careful Writer." "Something that is nerve-racking does not wreck the nerves, it merely strains or tortures them."

"Wrack," by this reasoning, isn't very useful — limited mainly to talk of ships and things that can be similarly wrecked: like a "storm-wracked vessel" or, from that, "wrack and ruin."

Beware any usage guide that, like Bernstein, speaks in absolutes. Sometimes, their prohibitions are correct. But more often, the writer is a little drunk with power, demanding that good advice be treated as a hard rule.

In the real world, "rack" and "wrack" aren't so simple. For more than a century, leading language experts have been doling out contradictory advice. Some, like Bernstein, say to keep these words separate and true to their origins.

Others say "wrack" is dead and to just use "rack" no matter your meaning. Though "wrack" is most certainly not dead (in fact, it has gotten a little more popular in the last 30 to 40 years), it wouldn't be so bad to follow this advice. After all, how often do you talk about ships destroyed by storms?

Still other authorities, notably the official style guide of the New York Times, say to avoid both words and instead just find a more modern synonym.

So if you like taking orders from bossy types, you'll have to choose: Keep the words separate, strike "wrack" completely from your vocabulary, or strike both "wrack" and "rack" (as verbs) from your vocabulary.

Luckily, you don't have to let any of these self-appointed rule-makers push you around. If you want to hew closely to the original definitions, you can rest assured that your choice won't offend any readers. That's what I try to remember to do. But if you don't want to worry about it, you don't have to.

"'Rack' and 'wrack' in '(w)rack one's brain' and 'nerve-(w)racking' have been used interchangeably since the late 19th century, and both spellings are commonly encountered today in edited prose," write the editors of Merriam-Webster's online dictionary. As a result, both spellings are now acceptable: "'wrack' has so often been used as a variant spelling of 'rack,' especially when used in the phrases '(w)rack one's brain' and '(w)racked with pain,' that many dictionaries now list it as a variant."

So while "rack your brain," "racked with guilt" and "nerve-racking" are the safest choices, you still get to choose.

In lieu of flowers, Ann would have loved for family and friends to make a donation to an animal aid organization of their choice (such as the ASPCA or a local animal shelter), being the notorious animal lover that she was.

Friends and family are encouraged to sign the online guestbook at www.coosbayareafunerals.com and www.theworldlink.com.

Marilyn Gay (Morton) George

August 27, 1936 - October 6, 2024

Marilyn Gay (Morton) George was a beloved Mother, grandmother and friend. Marilyn George, 88, of Coquille died on October 6, 2024 at Riverbend Hospital in Eugene. She was born on April 27, 1936 to Arthur and Jeanne (Roschkow) Morton in Miles City, Montana. She moved to Coquille when she was only five years old. After that, it was the only town she called home.

She graduated from Coquille High School, class of 1954. Shortly after graduating in June of 1954, she married Richard N. George. They took up life on their own gifted piece of the George family ranch on Rink Creek Road to raise their family of six kids. She lived there for the rest of her life.

Richard and Marilyn were married 57 years until his passing. She always kept busy with raising six kids, keeping flowerbeds at home flourishing, busy in her faith and working outside the home when it was needed. Starting in the 1950's, she worked on and off at the Coquille Farr's store. Later, she drove a school bus, a job she always missed. She loved driving and had the Glenn Aiken and Rink Creek route for some time.

She loved time with her family, entertaining, traveling, camping, making her own jewelry and collecting clothes! More than anything, she loved Jehovah God. She became one of Jehovah's Witnesses in 1958 and served Him faithfully until her passing. Telling others about God at any opportunity was a priority in her life that she never lost;

'witnessing' to caregivers and doctors any chance she got.

She is survived by her children: Judy Gray of Coquille, Rick George of Coquille, Cindy Tomlinson of Bridge, Scott George of Myrtle Creek, Lyn Van Dusen of Coquille and Jon George of Myrtle Point; brother, Wes Morton of Utah; sister, Dianne Glazebrook of California; a large extended family; numerous grandchildren and great grandchildren; even one great-great grandson! She was preceded in death by her husband, Richard George; parents, Arthur and Jeanne Morton; and brother, David Morton.

A memorial will be held on Sunday, October 20, 2024, at 3 p.m. at the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses, 94138 McNeely Ln, Coquille, Oregon.

As I See It

By MARY SCHAMEHORN

"Some Things That Bandon Has" is the subhead for an article in the Dec. 15, 1915, Western World.

"At the present time Bandon and community has a population of approximately 4,000; and it is trading point for many more who reside in the various logging camps, on the farms and dairies and in the distant hills. It has a Coast Guard station and a government light house (first photo), two hotels, several boarding houses, the various lines of business establishments, public library, municipal water works, electric light plant, paved streets, eight churches, two banks, an active commercial club, and two weekly newspapers, both of which conduct job shops.

"Educational facilities are unexcelled. The central (High) school building (second photo), costing $35,000 is new and modern and thoroughly equipped while the Eastside school is of still later construction, has nine rooms and cost approximately $20,000. For several years Bandon has had a larger school population than any other city in Coos County, the total as per the recent census being 865 of school age. The students of the high school are admitted without examination to any state institution. It offers courses in domestic science and commercial training in addition to the regular works, and is now preparing to add manual training.

"It has a deep sea harbor, supported by the government, and by the taxpayers through the Port of Bandon. At the present time $300,000 has been spent in improving the harbor and river. Coastwise steamers ply regularly between this city and San Francisco (third photo) and between this city and Portland carrying lumber, coal and other manufactured products. The Coquille river is navigable for 30 miles, all the country tributary having a natural outlet via Bandon.

"It has the most picturesque beach on the Pacific coast, offering opportunities for a great summer resort. The beach is lined for six miles with beautiful rocks and reefs, forming a vast playground with fine cottage sites. The cool summer climate and ocean breezes are already attracting many from the heated interior, who spend the summer camping on or near the beach.

"Numerous lakes and small streams adjacent to the city offer pleasure in plenty to the fisherman, and further out the woods and mountains abound with both large and small game."

I often hear sirens going through town, but really have no way of trying to figure out where they are headed or why. But usually there will be a mention or two on Facebook, even though reports are often short of detail.

The Coos Forest Protective Association, whose local station is at Four Mile, posted the afternoon of Oct. 3, about the Leward Fire, which started in the area east of Bandon near Parkersburg Road. The post said the forward progress of the fire was stopped at approximately one-quarter of an acre by CFPA and the Bandon Rural Fire Protection District crew, with CFPA constructing a handline around the fire.

We are fortunate to be served by the two fire agencies, who are some of the best in the business.

I heard from Sam Stevens, an administrator with the Powers School District, that his 102-year-old dad Kenneth Stevens, a survivor of the attack on Pearl Harbor, will be traveling back to Hawaii to take part in the memorial celebration in December.

Kenneth graduated from Bandon High School midyear of 1941, and immediately enlisted in the service.

He was married to the late Phyllis Pullen Stevens (aunt of Reg Pullen), who died several years ago.

Kenneth's daughters, Kayleen Hofsess (Mrs. Ron) and Kathy Rector (Mrs. Mark), also live in Powers.

Coos County is making one more attempt to pass a levy dedicated to funding two pods (98 beds) at the jail versus one pod(48 beds).

Commissioner John Sweet said the five-year option levy would cost taxpayers 69 cents a thousand, would go into effect July 1 2025, and automatically expire after five years unless renewed by the voters.

Sweet said he was so discouraged after the loss of the last levy that he felt they just needed to go back to one pod, even though they had worked for years to hire the people that were required to open the second pod. "Better minds prevailed and said let's give it one more shot," said Sweet.

"All we're trying to do is maintain what we have," said Sweet, referring to the recent opening of the second pod, which has seen a far greater number of people jailed than had been occurring when only one pod was open.

I personally urge people to support this levy, with all funds raised to be dedicated to the operation of the jail.

A press release from the Coos County Sheriff's Office reported that on Sept. 26 shortly before 8 p.m. a deputy was patrolling the area of milepost 13 on Seven Devils Road when she observed a vehicle failing to maintain its lane.

The driver, identified as Dawn Boyce, 46, was confirmed to have her driving privileges suspended/revoked at the criminal level. She contacted a licensed driver to take possession of her vehicle. She was arrested and transported to the county jail on the charge of Criminal Driving While Suspended or Revoked.

A search indicated Boyce has a Roseburg address.

A Bandon man (although I am not sure of the address) posted on NextDoor recently that he had found a masturbation device at the end of his driveway by his car. Then a few days later there was a man in his front yard, caught on video. The latest thing to happen is that he found a wad of cash wrapped in tin foil in his mailbox. A photo of the wad of cash accompanied his post. He said he had contacted the police about the series of troubling incidents.

The League of Women Voters is hosting a forum for City of Bandon mayor and council candidates Thursday night, Oct. 10, from 6 to 8 at the Bandon Community Center/Barn in City Park. The candidates for mayor Mary Schamehorn and Angela Cardas will speak from 6 to 7, and the council candidates, Geri Procetto, Bear Slothower, Archie Garrett and Claudine Hundhausen will speak from 7 to 8. Candidate Shauna Schmerer, the Bandon school superintendent, had another engagement and will not attend.

"The Return of the Night at the Museum" will take place at Bandon's History Museum Thursday, Oct. 17, from 6 to 8 p.m. Tickets are $10, with hors d'oeuvres by Sharon Haga, wine and beer provided by Lori Osborne, and a chance to take a special "History Detective's Challenge" as part of the evening. Contact Gayle at the museum to purchase advance tickets, although limited tickets will be available at the door. More info at 541-347-2164.

People are reminded of the free Drive-Through Flu and Covid shot clinic, sponsored by Southern Coos Hospital, to be held Wednesday, Oct. 23, in City Park, beginning at 8 a.m. and continuing until 2 or until vaccines run out.

Don't forget the Red Fish Concert at Holy Trinity Catholic Church at 3 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 20. Tickets are $20.

The presenter for the Tuesday, Oct. 8, Meet and Greet at noon at Bandon Fisheries Warehouse, is Lisa Amaral, vice president and senior trust officer of Oregon Pacific Bank who will present a Primer on Estate Planning. This is part of the 25th anniversary lecture series of Southern Coos Hospital and Health Center. The talk is free and begins at noon.

The speaker for the Oct. 15 Meet and Greet will be Coquille Indian Tribe chairwoman Brenda Meade.

I will be the speaker for the Oct. 22 Meet and Greet, and will talk about the history of hospitals
