ODOT closing Coquille office, consolidating staff in Coos Bay

By DEAN BRICKEY
For the World

COQUILLE — The Oregon Department of Transportation is closing its Coquille office and moving the staff to Coos Bay in December.

The building at 307 Highway 42E is for sale. The owner, VPC Inc. of Eugene, has listed the three-quarter-acre property and building for sale with Pacific Properties.

Julie Denney, public information officer in ODOT's Southwest Regional Office, said the agency decided not to renew its lease for the building, which it has occupied since the 1990s.

"Cutting the lease and utilities will create a savings of approximately $9,800 monthly, or $235,200 per biennium, from our regional budget," she said. "We do not yet have a hard move-in date for our workers in Coos Bay. We will be vacating the Coquille office sometime after Dec. 9 and our lease will expire at the end of the year."

Denney said the Coquille office has about 13 employees, but generates little walk-in business.

"It supports employees like construction inspectors and others who do not often work with the general public," she said. "Most of our services are provided in the field, by phone or online."

Chris Hunter, ODOT area manager in Roseburg, said maintaining its presence in Coquille just didn't pencil out.

"We looked at several options, including buying or subletting the existing facility, or seeking a smaller facility with reduced lease costs," he said. "Ultimately, we could not justify the expense when we already have an ODOT-owned facility just 17 miles away that can accommodate our changing needs."

Denney explained further, "The Coquille facility currently houses our coastal construction office and some district staff.

The Oregon Department of Transportation has canceled its longtime lease for an office building in Coquille, choosing to move about a dozen staff in December to the Department of Motor Vehicles building in Coos Bay.

However, with an increase in telework in recent years and the continual loss of positions (and unfilled vacancies), we no longer need as much space. It is not a maintenance facility; the closure will have no impact on incident response."

She said ODOT is remodeling part of an ODOT-owned facility at 1155 S. Fifth Street in Coos Bay, the Department of Motor Vehicles building, to accommodate construction and district staff from Coquille.

"Even with the costs to renovate the Coos Bay facility, estimated at $305,905 to $385,197, we will see a net savings in less than two biennia," Denney said. "We will also use existing and surplus office furniture and fixtures to help minimize costs in the move. This is just one example of ways we have been making cuts across the agency over the past several years to save money during a time of budget uncertainties. Since 2019, the agency has reduced spending by more than $500 million to stay within available funding."

ODOT has taken a number of steps to cut spending in recent years, according to an agency news release. It has consolidated offices and maintenance facilities, shifted DMV and its Commerce and Compliance Division services online, shrunk its equipment fleet, hired only the most critical jobs, held vacant positions open, and cut seasonal and temporary staff. These reductions have helped ODOT manage costs and prioritize critical services in the short term.

The efforts are saving roughly $6 million a budget cycle, the agency reported.

ODOT Interim Director Chris Warner in Salem said agency officials are looking everywhere they can to be more efficient and cut costs as transportation agencies across Oregon face flattening gas tax revenues and rising costs.

"Over the last six years, ODOT has consolidated space to reduce leases and the expenses that come with them. In 2020, ODOT had 16 office leases for facilities around the state," he said. "To date, ODOT has ended nine of those and will be ending another in December 2026, reducing its leased space by 222,000 square feet. In addition, since 2020, ODOT has leased out ODOT-owned space totaling over 19,000 square feet to five other state agencies. Between consolidating space and leasing out excess space, ODOT has reduced its office space by about 242,000 square feet, or roughly 20 percent."

ODOT plans to evaluate its larger office buildings, Warner said, looking for more opportunities to consolidate its workforce and free up space to lease to other state agencies.

Pacific Properties has the Coquille land and building listed for sale at $850,000. It's in an industrial zone. According to Coos County records, the assessed value is $662,900 while the real market value of the .73-acre parcel is $140,950 and the real market value of the improvements is $1,204,400. The real estate agency describes the building with about 5,000 square feet, including 10 private offices, a reception area with a built-in front desk, open work areas plus a conference/training room and other amenities.

Myrtle Creek fifth-graders learn stewardship at Oregon Dunes

Myrtle Crest fifth graders learned about native species and land stewardship while helping the Oregon Dunes Restoration Collaborative clear invasive scotch broom and the Sandtracks Picnic Area.

From ODRC

The Oregon Dunes Restoration Collaborative thanked the Myrtle Crest fifth graders for joining them on a stewardship field trip last week at the Sandtracks Picnic Area on Horsfall Road. Forty-five students, two teachers, and ten chaperones attended. ODRC also thanked the staff from the Siuslaw National Forest, Coos Watershed Association, and Siuslaw Watershed Council who helped with the field trip.

Myrtle Crest students removed both large and small invasive Scotch broom plants, clearing one third of an acre. The students have been learning about the history, geology, and native plants and wildlife of the Oregon dunes. They also learned about the invasive species that were planted there, and what can be done to protect and restore the open sand habitat of the dunes. The field trip gave the students an opportunity to personally experience the dunes and do hands-on restoration.

ODRC led stewardship field trips for 19 classes from Coos Bay, Reedsport, Siuslaw, and Mapleton School Districts during the last school year. Jim Grano and Laurie Green with ODRC said, "This fall we have had five classes, and we were glad to add Myrtle Crest to our list of schools who help remove the invasive plants. We really enjoy the students, and they are hard workers. We are looking forward to doing more stewardship field trips with the students this school year."

Removing invasive species is helping habitat-sensitive native plants to recover. At the Oregon Dunes Day Use Area, Laurie noticed native beach silvertop plants (related to carrots) are coming back in places where invasive plants have been removed. This year there were 12 plants in one location where there were only two plants the year before, and none previously.

ODRC would like to thank The Roundhouse Foundation for the generous grant they provided to ODRC. The funding helped ODRC to coordinate the field trips and to purchase tools, gloves, and safety glasses for the students.

CSD among recipients for $6.4 million state grant

For the World

Salem, OR – Fifty-one Oregon high schools, consortia, and education service districts (ESDs) serving more than 20,000 students received career readiness grants to create or expand Career and Technical Education (CTE) programs, Oregon Department of Education Director Dr. Charlene Williams and Labor Commissioner Christina Stephenson announced today.

The $6.4 million in state funding for CTE Revitalization Grants will support curriculum, equipment, and programming in communities across Oregon, with grants targeting high-wage, high-skill, and in-demand fields, including health care, advanced manufacturing, agriculture, construction, computer science, engineering, health sciences, hospitality, and natural resources.

These programs give students opportunities to gain hands-on experience, connect classroom learning to real-world applications, and prepare for careers and postsecondary education. They also strengthen connections among schools, employers, and communities to help meet Oregon's workforce needs.

The Coquille School District will be receiving $115,464.59 of the overall grant for a barn equipment project at the Junior and Senior High School.

"The CTE Revitalization Grant Program recognizes the power of bringing education, innovation, and initiative together," said ODE Director Dr. Charlene Williams. "These projects give students practical, real-world learning experiences that help them connect what they learn in the classroom to the careers and opportunities ahead. By bringing together education partners, business and industry, and community members, we are investing in our young people and Oregon's economic vitality."

CTE participation is associated with strong graduation outcomes. Students who complete at least two CTE credits graduated at a record rate of 97.8% in the 2024-25 school year – 15.8 percentage points higher than the statewide graduation rate. This demonstrates the value of providing students with relevant, engaging learning experiences that connect their education to future opportunities.

"We've witnessed a remarkable transformation through CTE that goes beyond statistics and changes lives," said Labor Commissioner Christina Stephenson. "These graduation outcomes show what happens when students are connected to real pathways towards skilled, family-wage careers with benefits. By ensuring equitable access

Chamber Minute

BY ROSEY THOMAS
Executive Director, Bay Area Chamber Of Commerce

In for another Chamber Minute is Rosey.

As we approach Election Day, I want to remind everyone just how important it is to get out and vote!

At the Bay Area Chamber of Commerce, our mission is to help businesses succeed, and part of that work is making sure the voice of our business community is heard. The people we elect make decisions that affect our workforce, regulations, taxes, infrastructure, and opportunities for economic growth.

Those decisions matter to every business, every employee, and every family in our community. And the decisions made in Salem can have a real impact right here on the South Coast.

That's why voting matters. It's one of the most important ways we can help shape the business environment and the future we want for our community.

So, take the time to learn about the candidates and issues, cast your ballot, and make your voice heard. If we want our elected leaders to listen to the needs of our businesses and communities, we have to do our part and participate in the process.

Your vote is your voice, and your voice is part of our business community's future.

At the Chamber, we'll keep advocating for the businesses that make our community strong, because Our Business Is Your Business

Editor's Note

From Nate Schwartz

It is with a tinge of mourning, but also a great deal of hope, that I write to our readers today and say thank you. This will be my last edition as editor of the Coos Bay World and it has been an invaluable experience. I started as a beat reporter 3 years ago, moving to the South Coast with no prior knowledge of the area or contacts here to lean on.

In those three years, folks from all facets of life in Coos County have welcomed me warmly. I've seen the character and constitution that define its people, seen the way that practical, common-sense solutions and accountability mean so much more than party lines and petty squabbles.

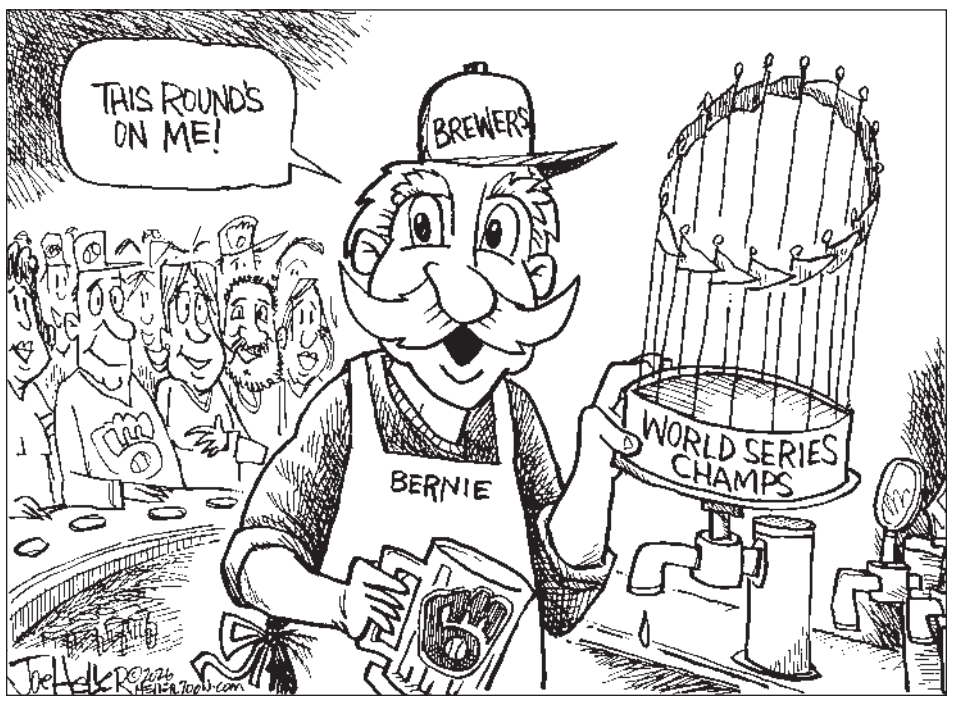

It has been my honor to watch the community rally around its objectives, which leaves me with nothing but confidence that the tide will turn for the South Coast. There are countless passionate people working their absolute tails off to make that happen. It has been an honor to have any small part in that march toward the horizon. To all the lawmakers, business owners, tribal representatives, volunteers, and everyday people that gave me access, opened doors and made me feel at home, I cannot thank you enough.

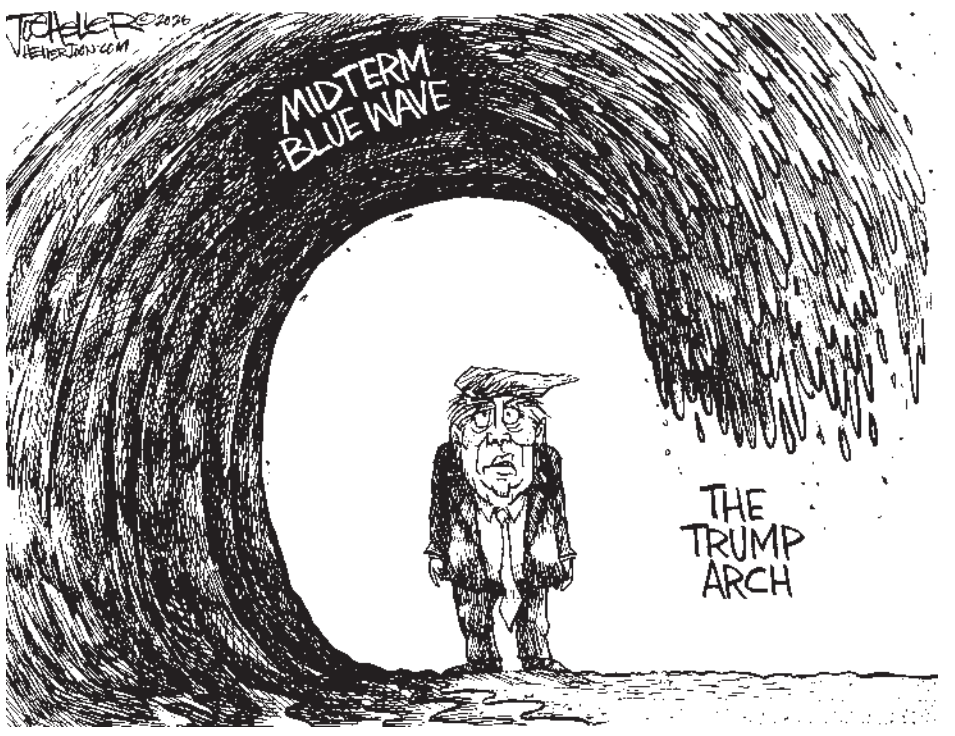

A special thanks goes to my dear friend Marlene Balogh, who more than anyone has made the bounties and benefits of the South Coast so beautifully evident. To the folks at Humboldt Club and Tiny's Tavern, thank you for keeping me social during what could have been an isolating time. There are too many thanks to give, and only so many pages in which to give them so I'll close with this:

I've seen this community save its hospital from the draining clutches of private equity. I've seen this community flip whole boards. Seen it fight like hell for the tangible changes they want to see in the most beautiful stretch of the continental United States, this wonderous place we all have called home.

Never. Stop. Showing. Up.

With dearest memories and damp cheeks,

Holy Cow! History

A 1947 cereal's radioactive surprise

By J. MARK POWELL
InsideSources.com

1947 began on a wildly exciting note for kids. That January, enthralling ads popped up in comic books, Sunday newspaper funny pages and on the radio. What they announced was breathtaking.

Children could have a tiny piece of the Atomic Age of their very own! That was heady stuff for youngsters just 18 months after two atomic bombs made two Japanese cities disappear beneath mushroom clouds.

The Atomic Age's abrupt arrival was as titillating as it was misunderstood. Scientists promised mankind was entering a new era of amazing advancements, all made possible by harnessing the atom's power.

Though Americans were in awe, they didn't yet fully understand what humanity was facing. Time magazine reported in October 1945 that an Arkansas farmer wrote to the nonexistent "Atomic Bomb Co." in Oak Ridge, Tennessee, "I have some stumps in my field that I should like to blow out. Have you got any atomic bombs the right size for the job? If you have, let me know by return mail and let me know how much they cost. I think I should like them better than dynamite."

Still, in that brief period before intercontinental missiles were created and the Soviet Union had yet to acquire a big, shiny one of its own, the world felt like it was on the threshold of an exciting new chapter, thanks to this remarkable discovery. For the time being, only the Good Guys held the secret to unlocking the atom, and it was widely believed it would be used for the greater good.

That's why those ads targeting children made such big news in the kiddie world in early 1947. Kix cereal was suddenly offering something almost too good to be true.

For a mere 15 cents (about $2.25 today) and a Kix box top, youngsters could send off for a Lone Ranger Atomic Bomb Ring!

It contained a tiny scientific device called a spinthariscope holding a teeny trace of radioactive polonium-210. That's right: just one nickel, dime and box top let kids squint into a tiny hole and gaze at tiny flashes sparked when alpha particles hit a zinc sulfide screen.

The promotion was a masterpiece of cobranding marketing. Just what the 19th-century Lone Ranger had to do with futuristic atomic energy was never explained. And it couldn't be, because the only thing the two had in common was they were both at the zenith of their popularity just then.

The ads that hawked the rings were high water marks in hype, too, proclaiming them a "seething scientific sensation," "super and stupendous" and even a way to see "genuine atoms split to smithereens." To reassure America's moms, it was branded "PERFECTLY SAFE!" (emphasis original).

For kids growing up at the dawn of the Atomic Age, it was literally tomorrow at their fingertips.

Many stories circulating online today allege that parents, outraged by their kids being exposed to radioactivity, caused an uproar that led to the campaign being swiftly dropped.

Nothing could be further from the truth. In fact, the exact opposite happened.

The promotion was a grand-slam success. A history of "The Lone Ranger" radio show (which heavily promoted the special) received 1.6 million responses, making it by far the program's most successful premium. Anecdotal evidence confirms that; one man recalled peering inside his ring for weeks after he got it.

As for claims that the campaign was swiftly dropped because of outraged protests, the Museum of Radiation and Radioactivity says the rings were available well into "the early 1950s." It wasn't done in

Coquille advances to state volleyball tournament

JOHN GUNTHER
For The World

COQUILLE — Coquille ran through the volleyball regular season rarely losing a set, especially in its matches at home.

When the Red Devils lost the third set in their Class 3A playoff match against visiting Trinity Lutheran on Saturday, they didn't let the Saints keep the momentum long.

"The third set, we weren't hitting the ball," Coquille coach Mindi Wilson said. "The fourth set, we came out and attacked."

The result was a runaway win in the final set as the Red Devils completed a 25-23, 25-21, 17-25, 25-10 victory that put them in the state tournament for the second time in three years.

Coquille meets top seed Burns at 9 a.m. Friday at Marshfield High School.

"This is amazing," Coquille senior Peyton Drake said. "I'm just happy I get to finish at the state tournament."

Drake was a big part in that, along with the Red Devils' other trio of power hitters — middle blocker Peyton Duey and outside hitters Vivian Westgaard and Bristol Layton.

"Petey is always consistent," Wilson said of Duey. "Bristol plays smart at the net. Vivian crushes the ball at them."

Duey started the final set with an ace and Westgaard and Layton followed with kills to set an early tone. Westgaard and Layton each had kills in the final run, when Duey served the last nine points, including two aces.

Then it was time to celebrate.

"I'm excited," said Wilson. "I think we've got a good group of kids. We've had a lot of injuries and illnesses. It's made us adjust our rotation again and again.

"Their adjusting has been amazing."

Trinity Lutheran, which moved up from Class 2A this fall and placed fourth in their state tournament last year, pushed the Red Devils to the limit the first two sets.

The Saints even led 23-22 in the first set after an ace by Natalie Chambers. But she followed with a service error and Westgaard gave Coquille set point with a kill and the Saints mishandled the ensuing serve.

In the second set, the teams traded points most of the way, with Drake providing a pair of kills to put Coquille up 16-15 and Kempton Rudolf and Charlotte Smith responding with big kills for Trinity Lutheran.

The final tie came at 21-all after a net error by the Red Devils. Trinity Lutheran had another service error and the Red Devils clinched the set with a kill by Westgaard and two by Layton, the latter off a bad pass by the Saints.

The third set was largely dominated by the Saints, but Coquille responded well in the final set.

Drake said one of Coquille's strengths this year has been how well the players encourage each other and staying positive.

"We lost a set and it made us realize we had to push harder," she said. "We executed well."

Coquille has just four losses, three coming during Saturday tournaments. They ran through the Far West League season unbeaten, including a big win at runner-up St. Mary's during the final week of the regular season after one of those tournaments.

Coquille's Peyton Drake smashes the ball against Trinity Lutheran on Saturday

Drake said that win helped give the Red Devils high energy for the playoff match, which paid off.

Coquille also was given extra motivation by comments around the state.

"We were doubted a lot," she said. "I think it helped us prove people wrong."

Wilson loves how the Red Devils have been playing.

"They're just a high-energy group of kids," she said. "I've got a lot of talent, a lot of smart players."

The Red Devils have a tough first match at the state tournament in Burns, which is 26-2 overall and swept Scio in its playoff match Saturday.

The other quarterfinal on Coquille's side of the bracket features Mountain Valley Conference rivals Creswell and Sisters, who swept St. Mary's and Corbett, respectively, on Saturday. Trinity Lutheran was third in the Mountain Valley Conference.

On the other side of the bracket, No. 3 seed Catlin Gabel will face Westside Christian. Catlin Gabel swept Pleasant Hill and Westside Christian, which lost the championship match last year to Valley Catholic, swept Amity.

The final quarterfinal match features Santiam Christian against No. 2 seed Dayton in another matchup of league rivals. Santiam Christian swept Portland Adventist on Friday and Dayton swept Vale on Saturday. Santiam Christian and Dayton split their matches during the West Valley League season while Dayton won their meeting in the league tournament.

Admission for the quarterfinals at Marshfield is $11 for adults and $7 for students.

Myrtle Point reaches state volleyball tournament

MYRTLE POINT — Myrtle Point is headed back to the Class 2A state volleyball tournament.

The Bobcats beat visiting Elgin 25-22, 15-25, 25-23, 25-16 on Saturday to advance to the quarterfinals at La Grande High School. Myrtle Point meets familiar foe Clatskanie at 1 p.m. Friday.

Myrtle Point improved to 19-2 on the season and is the No. 3 seed for the state tournament. Coach Tami Brown was not surprised they had such a fight from Elgin, which already had to beat North Clackamas Christian in the first round of the playoffs earlier in the week to reach Saturday's game.

Myrtle Point's players celebrate a big kill during Saturday's match against Elgin

"I knew that team was going to be tough," Brown said. "They were third in a very, very good league."

The Huskies are among a number of good teams that moved up from Class 1A this fall.

But after the Bobcats won the critical third set, they took control in the middle of the fourth and cruised to the victory.

Elgin led the last set when Lauryn Lively had a pair of aces to tie the set at 12 and the Bobcats pulled away from there, aided by a couple of big hits in the middle by Delaney La Franchi.

"These girls have worked so hard," Brown said. "The mental toughness they show when they get down — they just don't give up. They fight to the bitter end."

Brown touted the Bobcats' teamwork.

South Coast runners qualify for state meet

Coquille's Ella Henthorn was champion of her district and North Bend had two girls and a boy qualify for the upcoming state cross country meet with their high finishes in their district meet Thursday.

Henthorn, who won the Class 3A-2A-1A state title last fall, easily won the Class 3A District 3 meet at Lane Community College, covering the 5,000-meter course in 18 minutes and 16 seconds. She finished nearly a minute ahead of Glide's Halle Goodman (19:12).

This is the first year Class 3A has been separated out from Class 2A-1A in girls cross country. The top two teams and top four individuals in the girls race advanced to the state meet on Nov. 7, on a similar course at Lane Community College.

The other two individual spots went to Trinity Lutheran's Grace DeLay (19:18) and Pleasant Hill's Nellie Smith (19:32).

Glide took the team title with 37 points. Siuslaw didn't have any finishers in the top eight, but took second place with 45 points to also advance to the state meet.

Sweet Home finished third with 66 points and Coquille was fourth with 70.

Siuslaw was led by Claire McNeill, who was ninth (20:48).

Brookings-Harbor's Leila Newman finished seventh (20:30), which in past years would have qualified her for the state meet in the old Class 3A-2A-1A format.

In the boys race, Siuslaw had four of the top eight runners, led by winner Henry Stone (15:49) and runner-up Bentley Nelson (16:02) and easily won the team title.

Pleasant Hill's Gage Roper (16:02) and Kaden Seaton (16:35) were third and fourth, helping the Billies to second place behind Siuslaw. Trinity Lutheran, which finished third, also earned a spot since the district gets three teams into the state championships.

SKY-EM LEAGUE: North Bend's Addison Horning was second (19:22) and Lauren Wolfe third (19:30) in the girls race on the same Lane Community College course Thursday, each qualifying for the state meet.

Marist Catholic's Mary Jane Hill won the race in 19:08.

Cottage Grove edged Marist Catholic 48-54 for the team title, with Marshfield third (65) and North Bend fourth (74). This year in Class 4A each district gets one team to state, with six additional teams from among the six leagues chosen by a committee which will meet this weekend. Only teams that place second or third at their district meet will be considered, meaning the Pirates are still in consideration for a state berth.

Marshfield's Kindall Wyatt was eighth (21:10), one spot out of an individual berth at state. Teammate Scarlett Devins was ninth (21:37) with Kendall Qualman 13th (22:00) and Rook Watts 14th (22:04).

In the boys race, North Bend's Angelo Pedrini finished second in 16:22, trailing only champion Corbin Sage of Marist Catholic (15:41). North Bend's Raleigh Collier was one spot away from a berth at state, finishing eight (17:07) and Marshfield's Donald Brice was 10th (17:36).

Cottage Grove edged Marist Catholic for the guaranteed team spot at state 38-46. Marshfield was third (78) and North Bend fourth (97).

CLASS 2A-1A DISTRICT 3: Bandon's Beckett Pahls was individual champion leading the Tiger boys to the team title at Stuart Park in Roseburg.

Pahls finished in 16:01, followed by Oakland's Isaac Williamson (16:17), Culver's Wyatt Neff (16:24) and two more Bandon runners — Eli Nicholson (16:39) and Jonah Brown (16:40).

The Tigers finished with 28 points, easily ahead of Culver (73) and Lakeview (87). Reedsport was sixth with 142 points, led by ninth-place finisher Alex Martinez (17:19).

In the girls race, Bandon's Jael Legutki easily won, finishing in 18:35, but Lakeview edged the Tigers for the team title.

Days Creek's Jolee Woody was second (19:07) and Oakland's Katelyn Jimenez third (19:21) to earn individual spots at state. Lakeview had three of the next four runners and finished with 16 points, to 20 for Bandon, which could get an at-large bid to state. Three teams among the four districts earn at-large bids.

STATE MEET: With the new Class 3A girls division, the state meet on Nov. 7 now includes 10 races spread across several hours at Lane Community College.

The first race, the Class 2A-1A girls, starts at 9:25 a.m., followed in succession by the Class 2A-1A boys (10 a.m.), Class 3A girls (10:35), Class 3A boys (11:10), Class 4A girls (11:45) and Class 4A boys (12:20 p.m.).

After a break so the athletes in the largest schools can warm up on the course, the Class 5A girls race at 1:45 p.m., followed by the Class 5A boys (2:20), The Class 6A girls (2:55) and the Class 6A boys (3:20).

Admission, good for all the races, is $13 for adults and $7 for students. Tickets are available for purchase at hometownticketing.com, with a link on the OSAA web page.

THE WORLD

Myrtle Point will get a chance to avenge one of its regular-season losses when it hosts Toledo in the first round of the Class 2A playoffs this week.

The Bobcats locked up second place in their special district when they won at Oakland 34-30 on Friday.

The reward was the home game against Toledo, which beat the Bobcats 42-26 back on Sept. 18 on the Boomers' home field.

Toledo is 6-3 overall and finished third in District 3 behind Waldport and Lowell.

Myrtle Point also is 6-3, having lost a lone league game to regular-season champion Glide, which is unbeaten.

Glide is the No. 2 seed and hosts La Pine this week. Oakland is the No. 12 seed and will travel to Lowell.

If Myrtle Point wins, the Bobcats likely will be headed to face top-seed Heppner in the second round. Heppner hosts Clatskanie this week.

Bandon finished its season in style with a 50-20 win over Gold Beach on Friday, the lone league win for the Tigers.

CLASS 4A DISTRICT 3: North Bend beat Marshfield 48-7 on Friday and finished in a second-place tie with Marist Catholic and Junction City, all at 4-2 in league, after the Spartans edged the Tigers 10-7 on Friday.

The league breaks ties based on the power rankings, so Junction City is the No. 2 seed and North Bend the No. 3 seed. Marist Catholic also got into the playoffs based on the power rankings.

North Bend, the No. 10 seed, will be on the road this week against Banks, which moved back up to Class 4A this fall and finished second behind Scappoose in District 1. The Braves' lone loss of the season was to Scappoose.

North Bend finished 5-4 overall. Marshfield finished 3-6.

District 3 champion Sweet Home is the No. 2 seed and will host North Valley. The winner of the North Bend-Banks game faces the winner of the Sweet Home-North Valley contest.

Junction City is the No. 9 seed and travels to La Grande. Marist Catholic is seeded 16th and faces top-ranked Cascade Christian.

CLASS 3A DISTRICT 4: Coquille fell at home to Siuslaw on homecoming night 62-6 and finished the season without a win.

Siuslaw finished second in the league standings. The Vikings are the No. 9 seed for the playoffs and visit Warrenton in the first round, with the winner traveling to top-ranked Vale in the second round.

Brookings-Harbor won a high-scoring shootout with Douglas 62-44 and also advanced to the playoffs after finishing third in the league. The Bruins, seeded No. 11, visit Burns in the first round.

League champion Sutherlin is the No. 4 seed and hosts Salem Academy in the first round.

SIX-PLAYER DISTRICT 3: Powers finished its season with a road loss to Crow on Friday night. The Cruisers finished 2-4 in league and 4-5 overall. They are 10th in the power rankings, but will miss out on the postseason because No. 13 Eddyville Charter is guaranteed a spot because it finished second in its league. Powers beat Eddyville 31-7 in the season opener in August.

Marshfield, Pacific host boys soccer playoff games

THE WORLD

Marshfield's soccer team hosts Newport in the first round of the Class 4A boys playoffs on Wednesday.

The Pirates, champions of the Sky-Em League, are the No. 3 seed for the playoffs.

Marshfield, 12-0-2 overall, meets Newport at 6 p.m. The Cubs finished third in the Oregon West Conference and are 8-4-3 overall.

The Pirates beat North Bend 2-0 in the regular-season finale on Tuesday.

If the Pirates win Wednesday, they will host either The Dalles or Phoenix in the quarterfinals Saturday. Phoenix is one of the two teams that tied Marshfield during the regular season.

CLASS 2A-1A: Pacific has a first-round bye in the playoffs and will host the combined Faith Bible/Life Christian squad on Saturday.

The Pirates won their district and have just two losses, to Grand View Christian Academy and to Pleasant Hill in a tune-up match this week. If Pacific wins its first match, it likely would travel to face Grand View Christian in the semifinals. The Eagles host either Umpqua Valley Christian or Southwest Christian in the first round Tuesday.

CLASS 3A DISTRICT 3: The Coquille-Myrtle Point squad saw its season end in a 2-1 overtime loss at Illinois Valley on Wednesday in the district playoffs.

Illinois Valley is at Westside Christian in the first round of the playoffs Tuesday.

League champion St. Mary's has a first-round bye as the No. 2 seed and will host either Portland Adventist or Blanchet Catholic in the second round. Brookings-Harbor, which finished second in the league, is at Riverside.

GIRLS SOCCER

CLASS 4A: North Bend will be on the road in the first round of the playoffs Wednesday against La Grande.

The Bulldogs, who finished second in the Sky-Em League, enter the match with a 10-3-2 record. La Grande was a perfect 9-0 in the Greater Oregon league and is 11-3 on the season. North Bend beat Marshfield 4-2 in the regular-season finale on Tuesday, knocking the Pirates out of the race for the playoffs in the process.

The winner of the North Bend-La Grande match faces either Cottage Grove or No. 2 seed Scappoose on Saturday.

Sky-Em League champion Marist Catholic, the defending state champion, is the No. 4 seed despite a perfect record during the season. The Spartans host Molalla on Wednesday.

The Dalles is the No. 1 seed, with Scappoose seeded second and Henley seeded third.

Admission for all soccer playoff games through the semifinals is $11 for adults and $7 for students.

Marshfield falls in volleyball playoffs

Marshfield's volleyball team was knocked out of the playoffs on Saturday with a road loss to 2025 runner-up The Dalles.

The Riverhawks beat the Pirates 25-18, 25-19, 25-20 to advance to the state tournament, which starts Friday at North Bend High School.

Despite the loss, Marshfield coach Tammie Montiel was thrilled with her team's effort.

"We put up a good fight and made them earn every point," Montiel said. "It was probably the best match we have played start to finish. It is just The Dalles had too many weapons for us to overcome.

"They played their hearts out tonight and kept up the energy the whole time and I am proud of their efforts."

Caroline Knutson had eight kills and nine digs for the Pirates. Tia Reiber had 14 assists and Carlie Carona had 11 digs.

Marshfield finished third in the Sky-Em League, but had to go on the road for the playoffs after reaching the tournament with home wins in recent years.

The Dalles, the No. 4 seed, will face Class 4A newcomer Cascade Christian in the second quarterfinal Friday at 11 a.m..

The Challengers swept Banks in a matchup of teams that moved up from Class 3A this fall.

Top seed Valley Catholic, which won the 3A tournament last fall, swept Baker in its match Saturday and meets Pendleton at 9 a.m. Friday. The Buckaroos won a four-set match with Central.

The 1 p.m. match Friday features No. 3 seed Stayton and No. 11 seed Astoria. Stayton outlasted Estacada in a five-set match and Astoria won at Cascade in four sets.

The final quarterfinal match, at 3 p.m. features defending state champion Marist Catholic against Henley. The Spartans swept Madras and Henley won on the road against Junction City in three sets.

"They are so team-oriented," she said. "You never hear one of them talk about themselves."

That's why she rarely touts individual statistics for her players.

On Saturday, the Bobcats had 73 digs, 38 kills, 11 aces and four blocks as a team during the win.

Myrtle Point reached the state tournament last year with a squad that primarily included six players on the court all match. This year Brown has used eight players in the rotation.

The squad includes three seniors — Lively, Taelyn Farmer and Mary Beth Broer. Along with La Franchi, they form the returning core for the group that lost both its matches at the state tournament last fall.

This will be the third straight year they have faced Clatskanie in the postseason, including losing to the Tigers two years ago in the playoff round and in the quarterfinals last year.

They beat Clatskanie in a tournament earlier this year, but the Tigers were without one of their best players.

Still, Brown hopes the Bobcats play much better at state, "now that some of them have experienced it."

Clatskanie beat Irrigon 25-18, 25-23, 25-16 on Saturday.

The winner of the Myrtle Point-Clatskanie match plays either Regis or No. 2 seed Imbler in the semifinals. Regis beat Gold Beach 25-22, 23-25, 25-21, 25-15 and Imbler swept Culver 25-15, 25-20, 25-9.

On the other side of the bracket, top seed Heppner meets St. Paul. Heppner swept Union and St. Paul won a road match, edging Crosshill Christian in a five-set battle.

Weston-McEwen and Crane meet in the other quarterfinal after sweeping North Douglas and Portland Christian, respectively.

by parental disapproval; as is the case so many times in the toy industry, the fad simply ran its course, and new things came along to capture kids' interest.

So, were the rings dangerous? Not especially. Polonium-210 can cause serious problems if it's swallowed or inhaled, but there's no record of that happening. It also has a half-life of 138 days, meaning the little show it put on inside the device didn't last long.

About the worst that can be said is that promoters were guilty of not practicing truth in advertising. Remember that "see genuine atoms split to smithereens" boast? They didn't. What youngsters actually witnessed was scintillations caused by alpha decay, not nuclear fission. But who cared? At least they saw something!

The idea of a toy containing even a trace of radioactive material, however infinitesimal, is unimaginable today. But not so 80 years ago, when, for one brief, shining moment, kids played with little shiny things that made the future glow with possibilities. And all for just 15 cents, too.

Established by the Oregon Legislature in 2011, the CTE Revitalization Grant Program strengthens the connection between career and technical education, workforce development, and economic development. During the 2025 legislative session, lawmakers appropriated $7.9 million for the program.

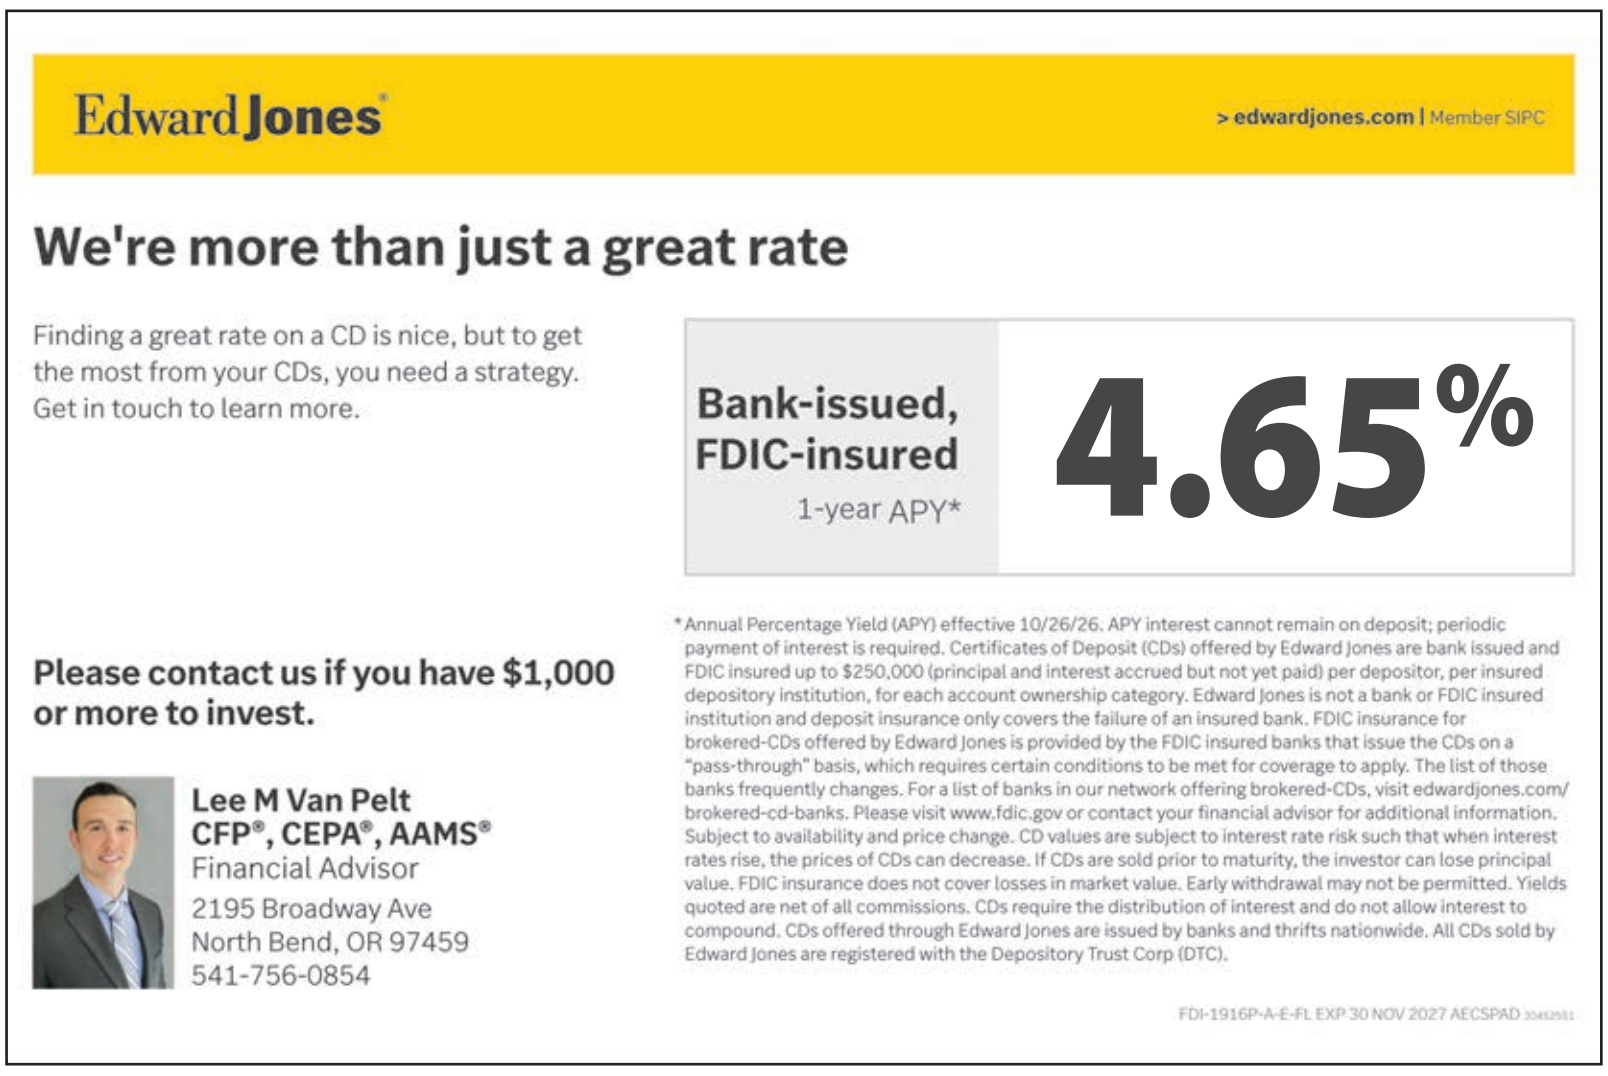

The CTE Revitalization Grant Advisory Committee reviewed 66 applications requesting a total of $16 million. The committee considered geographic diversity, community partnerships, and alignment with high-wage, in-demand occupations, with particular attention to opportunities for historically and currently marginalized students.

City File # 25-009
On November 19, 2026, the Bandon Planning Commission will consider Ord. No. 1686. Planning Commission will make a recommendation onto City Council.
On December 7, 2026, the Bandon City Council will consider enacting Ord. No. 1686.
Ord. No. 1686 captures all the work done as part of the Bandon Housing Code Update Project that has been ongoing for several years. The Bandon Housing Code Update Project looks to reduce barriers to building a variety of types of housing, particularly housing that is more likely to be affordable to middle-and lower-income households, such as middle housing and multi-family housing. Additionally, the Project will ensure Bandon's Development Code is in compliance with key housing-related state statutes and administrative rules. The Project also includes reorganization and simplification of the code to ensure that it is clear and user-friendly.
This Project involved several Advisory Committee meetings, Planning Commission and City Council work sessions, two community open-houses and two community surveys.
Once enacted, Ord. No. 1686 will amend the text of the Bandon Development Code consistent with the proposed amendments as set forth by the consultant and thoroughly reviewed and vetted by the Planning Commission and City Council through several work sessions.
This is a Type IV land use process. A minimum of two public hearings is required. The first public hearing will be held by the Bandon Planning Commission on November 19, 2026, at 7:00 p.m. in Council Chambers located at 555 Hwy 101, Bandon, Oregon. The second public hearing will be held by the Bandon City Council on December 7, 2026, at 7:00 p.m. at the same location as the Planning Commission hearing was held. Consideration and action will be in conformance with the Bandon City Charter.
A copy of the proposed amendments is available for public inspection at City Hall or may be emailed to anyone seeking a copy. Printed copies may be provided at cost of printing. A staff report will be available 7 days prior to the first public hearing. All are welcome and encouraged to attend the public hearings and submit written or oral testimony. Written testimony may be submitted prior to the first hearing and submitted to the point of contact listed below. Written testimony submitted by end of day on November 9 will be included in the staff report. All other written testimony may be provided at the hearing. A remote attendance option will be available. Coos Bay woman loses 88.4 pounds through local non-profit, named 2025 division winner

Losing weight can seem intimidating, especially when you consider that more than 1 in 3 American adults is obese, and Oregon has an obesity rate of 33.5%. Obesity can cause an array of medical conditions, including heart disease, stroke, type 2 diabetes, and certain types of cancer. People can achieve weight loss and overall wellness by committing to a healthier lifestyle.

For instance, Sheila Nesbit of Coos Bay lost 88.4 pounds in 2025 through the non-profit Take Off Pounds Sensibly (TOPS), a non-commercial weight-loss, education, and support organization. As a result of her weight loss, Nesbit was recognized by the organization as a Division-2 second-place winner. The Division-2 category is for an adult member whose starting weight was at least 250 pounds but less than 300 pounds.

"Over the years, I have been in and out of different TOPS chapters. When I first started with TOPS, I never thought becoming a KOPS was within my grasp. I had way too much weight to lose," wrote

Sheila Nesbit after weight loss.

Nesbit. "I reached my highest weight in 2019 of almost 400 pounds. My health was beginning to be affected due to my obesity. In 2024, I was in a wheelchair and using a walker. I had surgery and lost 100 pounds. I knew I needed support to continue losing and reach my goal weight."

In 2025, Oregon TOPS members lost a total of 7,297 pounds. Sheila attributes her weight loss success to the support she received from her fellow TOPS members.

"I joined my current chapter in December 2024. I became a KOPS in December 2025, losing 85 additional pounds to reach my goal. I went from a size 28 to a size 14," wrote Nesbit. "In 2025, I was able to return to horseback riding; it had been eight years since I had last ridden. It has been a long and difficult road, but with my family's support and the encouragement I receive from my TOPS pals, I will keep off pounds sensibly."

TOPS is not a diet. It is a lifestyle change for a lifetime. TOPS has been fighting obesity since its founding in 1948. TOPS has tens of thousands of members – male and female, age seven and older – in its network of thousands of weight-loss support chapters throughout the United States and Canada.

Registration open for OSU Coos County Master Gardner training

The Coos County Extension Service is offering a 6-week Master Gardener training course beginning January 14, 2027.

Master Gardeners are volunteer educators who share safe, effective gardening practices with the community through Plant Clinics, garden seminars and involvement in plant sales and community booths. Training for the program comes through OSU professionals and local experts who offer research-based information to help gardeners, or just starting out gardeners, increase their gardening enjoyment and knowledge.

On the agenda are classes on soils, pesticide safety, plant diseases, botany, entomology, bees, and much more. Training participants will receive a copy of Sustainable Gardening: the Oregon and Washington Master Gardener Handbook, plus detailed handouts.

To become an OSU Extension Master Gardener Volunteer, participants must attend all the training sessions, pass an open-book exam, and volunteer 40 hours of service to the community from mid-February through the end of October. Cost of the 6-week training is $150 if registering prior to December 1st, after the cost will go up to $175, $50 of which is refunded upon completion of the program requirements. All of the courses will be held at the Extension Service office in Myrtle Point. Classes are held every Thursday, from 9 am to 4 pm. There will also be a mandatory Saturday pruning field trip class on February 6, 2027 in Coquille.

Those interested in particular topics, but not in taking the full training, may attend classes on a drop-in basis. Cost for individual classes is $15 per half day, or $20 for both the morning and afternoon sessions.

Class size is limited, so early application is recommended. Request an application packet by calling the Extension Service at 541-572-5263, ext. 25240 or 25299, or visit the Coos County Master Gardener training registration site at https://beav.es/g4u to register online (must register online to pay by credit card). Applications must be received by Dec. 15, 2026.

New Eyes on the Cosmos: Lecture on Space Telescope at NBPL

For the World

On Tuesday, November 17 at 6:00 PM, Dr. Aaron Coyner will present "New Eyes on the Cosmos: How the Nancy Grace Roman Telescope Advances Modern Astronomy," a lecture about NASA's newest space telescope.

The Nancy Grace Roman telescope launched August 30, 2026. NASA says the following about the telescope and its mission:

"Named after NASA's first chief astronomer, the 'mother of the Hubble Space Telescope,' the Nancy Grace Roman Space Telescope will have a field of view at least 100 times larger than Hubble's, potentially measuring light from a billion galaxies in its lifetime. This observatory will also be able to block starlight to directly see exoplanets and planet-forming disks, complete a statistical census of planetary systems in our galaxy, and settle essential questions in the areas of dark energy, exoplanets, and infrared astrophysics. "

Dr. Aaron Coyner is a solar physicist and faculty member at Southwestern Oregon Community College. He has research experience having spent graduate school at Rice University, and a 3-year post-doctoral research term at NASA/Goddard Spaceflight Center. Since 2019, he has been a NASA Solar System Ambassador with a goal to make space accessible to everyone.

This program is geared toward adults, but open to everyone. For more information, please contact the North Bend library at (541) 756-0400 or at nbservices@northbendlibrary.org.

New Al-Anon group meeting locally, providing support

For the World

As Al-Anon Family Groups marks its 75th anniversary this year, the organization reaffirms its longstanding commitment to supporting families and friends of loved ones struggling with alcoholism or Alcohol Use Disorder (AUD). Since its founding in 1951, Al-Anon has grown into a global organization offering hope, healing and community to those impacted by someone else's drinking. Oregon Al-Anon Family Groups celebrated this milestone anniversary Sunday, October 11 at Roth's West Salem Event Center in Salem.

Al-Anon Family Groups, and Alateen for teenagers, is a mutual support program for people whose lives have been affected by someone else's drinking. By sharing common experiences and applying the Al-Anon principles, families and friends of alcoholics can bring positive changes to their individual situations. Today, more than 22,000 Al-Anon groups meet in over 140 countries, along with 1,100 Alateen groups. Al-Anon literature is available in over 40 languages.

Alcoholism is a family disease, affecting all those who have a relationship with a problem drinker. Data from Al-Anon's 2024 Membership Survey suggests that most Al-Anon members are affected by alcoholism spanning multiple generations. They reported meaningful improvements in their overall quality of life through participation in the program.

Al-Anon Family Groups meetings are free to attend—there are no dues or fees. The program is not affiliated with any outside organization or religion and participation does not require adherence to any belief system. Anonymity and confidentiality are fundamental principles, ensuring that every member can share openly in a safe and respectful environment.

Locally, meetings are held Wednesdays from 6 to 7 p.m., at Faith Lutheran Church (2741 Sherman Ave, North Bend). Parking is available in the lot off Ohio Ave.

For more information or to find local or online meetings, visit al-anon.org or call toll-free: 1-888-4AL-ANON (1-888-425-2666).

Bandon WESTERN WORLD

As I See It

By Mary Schamehorn

Who remembers the lawn mower races held in downtown Bandon over 20 years ago. It was a fundraiser for the Muscular Dystrophy Fund, and this race took place on a rainy day in March of 1993. Note the Bavarian Bakery Coffee cafe, now the home of Chris and Kim Powell's Bandon Baking Company. The building next door now houses Damon Weatherill and Archie Garrett's Bandon Sushi. The crowd was sparse that day, but the rain probably kept them away. If I remember correctly the races were sponsored by the Pastime Tavern, which was located where Bandon Sweets and Treats is today.

Before the voters gave the City the authority to pave all the open residential streets, property owners generally took it upon themselves to keep the lesser traveled streets passable. This photo was taken in January of 1993 as Francis Stadelman, left, Tom Stadelman on the equipment, and Bill Sweet, at right, repair pot holes on Delaware Avenue.

We all remember the Columbus Day Storm of October 1962, but there were others that did damage, including a wind storm in mid-December of 1992 that took the roof off the club house at Face Rock Golf Course (now the Johnson Creek Greenway). Co-owner Jerry Brown is behind the counter, while his partner, Margaret Miller, picks up valuables off the floor and friends, at right, stop by to see if they could lend a hand.

I've learned that Bill Keller, who moved here six years ago after losing his home in the Santa Cruz fires, died unexpectedly in his sleep Tuesday at the age of 67. Friends describe him as always "having a smile and a fish story." He owned a home on Jackson Avenue, and his boat, Malahat, was berthed in the local boat basin. Larry Keller is his uncle. His mother and brother live in Porterville, Ca., and another brother from Norway is coming to take care of his estate, said Larry's wife, Joni Keller.

The Bandon Playhouse continues to outdo themselves with their latest production of Frankenstein, which opened Friday night to a good crowd at the Sprague Community Theater. It is a fabulous show, directed by Bryce Longland. The story is a bit dark but the acting is superb, the lighting is great and the costumes are exquisite. Joshua Auguste plays Victor Frankenstein and Nameer El-Kadi is The Monster.

As I was writing my column Sunday night I learned of a medium sized Catahoula dog, who had been missing in the Donut Hole area for two days. When she ran from her owner, she was wearing a collar, a harness and Flexi lead. Her owner had only recently acquired the dog, so she is not familiar with the area. Her name is Jolee, and she is a merle color with a grey muzzle and white paws. If you see her, you are asked to call 435-213-5432 rather than approach her, which will spook her.

Just to give you an idea of the situations that police and fire personnel are faced with every day, here is an interesting item from the scanner last week. On Oct 23, sometime after midnight, Myrtle Point Fire was called to the 200 block of South Adams to assist law enforcement with a male subject on a roof who was refusing to come down. They needed rope assistance. Coquille advised Myrtle Point could "stand down" as they had the man down on the ground. He was transported by law enforcement, although it was not clear if he was taken to jail or the hospital.

On Oct. 19 at 11:46 a.m., Bandon Fire was called to investigate smoke on North Bank Lane past the RV Park near Highway 101. They located the source of the smoke, and worked their way into the brush to size it up. It was found to be a 10x10 foot smoldering parcel, with no flame. The firemen put a line around the area and extinguished the fire. Coos Forest Protective Association arrived on scene. There was no indication of what started the fire.

On Oct. 24 at 1:04 p.m., Bandon Fire was called to a residence at Ohio and Second Street for a burn in the front yard. All units can stand down, it was a warming fire.

If you haven't rece your property tax statement by the first week in November, you need to contact the Tax Office. Statements were mailed out Oct. 16. To avoid loss of discount, payment must be received by Nov. 16. Interest will start accruing after Dec. 15, 2026.

Payments may be made by mail or in person at the County Tax Office located at 250 North Baxter Street, Coquille, Oregon, 97423. Credit caerd payments are accepted in the tax office or online. Tax office hours are 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. For information about property values, call 541-396-7900. For tax payment information, 541-396-7725, and for appeal of property value information, call 541-396-7600. I have information on several property transactions involving commercial property in Bandon. Dan and Lynn Barnett learned that the investor who had planned to buy their Billy Smoothboars property has backed out of the transaction after nearly a year.

I also learned that local real estate agent Fred Gernandt has purchased The Minute Cafe building for $599,000 from the Taylor Estate. It has been on the market for nearly five years, with an original listing price of $1.2 million. Gernandt did not say what he intends to do with the property.

After ORCCA announced Oct. 9 that the CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocate) of Coos and Curry counties program, serving 70 children in foster care, would be suspended because of a lack of funding, it has been announced that the program has resumed operations with limited staffing under the temporary fiscal management of the Oregon CASA Network. I don't know what this means for the future of this important program, but hoping for positive results.

After the recent candidate forum, which I hope most of you had an opportunity to view at the League of Women Voters website (Google LWVOR - You Tube, Bandon Candidate Forum), a person asked what was meant by affordable housing.

Here is my response: "Affordable housing is generally subsidized housing, like Section 8 sometimes called low-income housing, and there is a government parameter for that, which can range from $850 for a studio, $890 for a one-bedroom, etc. The rents are often based on a percentage of a person's income. There are four or five low-income housing complexes in Bandon, including Harvard Street Apartments, Pacific Pines, Seacrest and Pine Village. I believe there are about 150 units in Bandon.

What most of us were talking about is workforce housing, which would be for working professionals like teachers, health care providers, police officers, etc., who simply cannot find a place to rent or buy as the supply is limited by the number of empty homes (second homes or VRDs) here owned by people from Medford, the Willamette valley and out of state. Those will be geared more toward market rates, but hopefully as the supply increases, the rents and the cost of housing will go down. For example, with the joint project by the school district and the city there will be 72 units, ranging from apartments to single family homes with first choice going to teachers and city employees."

Oregon state regulators have said that 11 Independent rural Oregon hospitals, including Southern Coos General Hospital and Health Center of Bandon, may form a clinically integrated network, an arrangement which would allow the institutions to share resources while remaining autonomous at a time when many smaller health care operations are being forced to join larger systems in order to survive.

The Cascades Rural High Value Network concept has been discussed for a few years, and will also include Coquille Valley Hospital in Coquille, Bay Area Hospital, Curry General in Gold Beach, Lower Umpqua in Reedsport, Lake Health in Lakeview, Harney District in Burns, Blue Mountain in John Day, Pioneer Memorial in Heppner, Grande Ronde in La Grande and Wallowa Memorial in Enterprise.

The Oregon Health Authority expects to assist the network with federal funds from the Rural Health Transformation Program.

A recent article in Willamette Week paints a bleak picture of Oregon's secondary education.

"Compared with other states across the U.S., Oregon's education spending per pupil places the state roughly in the middle of the pack. And yet the Urban Institute ranks Oregon students last in the nation in fourth grade reading and second to last in eighth grade math.

"The state spends roughly $1,000 more per student than the national average, a number boosted by investments in recent years," said the article.

One legislator is quoted as saying, "you have 197 school districts who all negotiate their own collective bargaining agreements, who all hire and fire their own superintendents, who all adopt their own curriculum, who all make their own determinations about the length of the school year, who make their own determinations about class offerings. I am not saying we should unwind all of that, but I do think we have gone so heavily toward this 'do whatever you want' at the local level,' he said. We haven't gone enough toward 'every kid deserves a baseline level of quality education'.... I think this weird obsession with local control is sort of the other side of the accountability coin."

Coming events: Shoreline Education Association's free fall seminar is set for Nov. 7 at 10 a.m. at Bandon Library Sprague Room featuring Dr Jackie Gai with "Tales from the Wild Side - Caring for Captive Wildlife with Compassion." Come in person or join by zoom link at www.sea-edu.org.

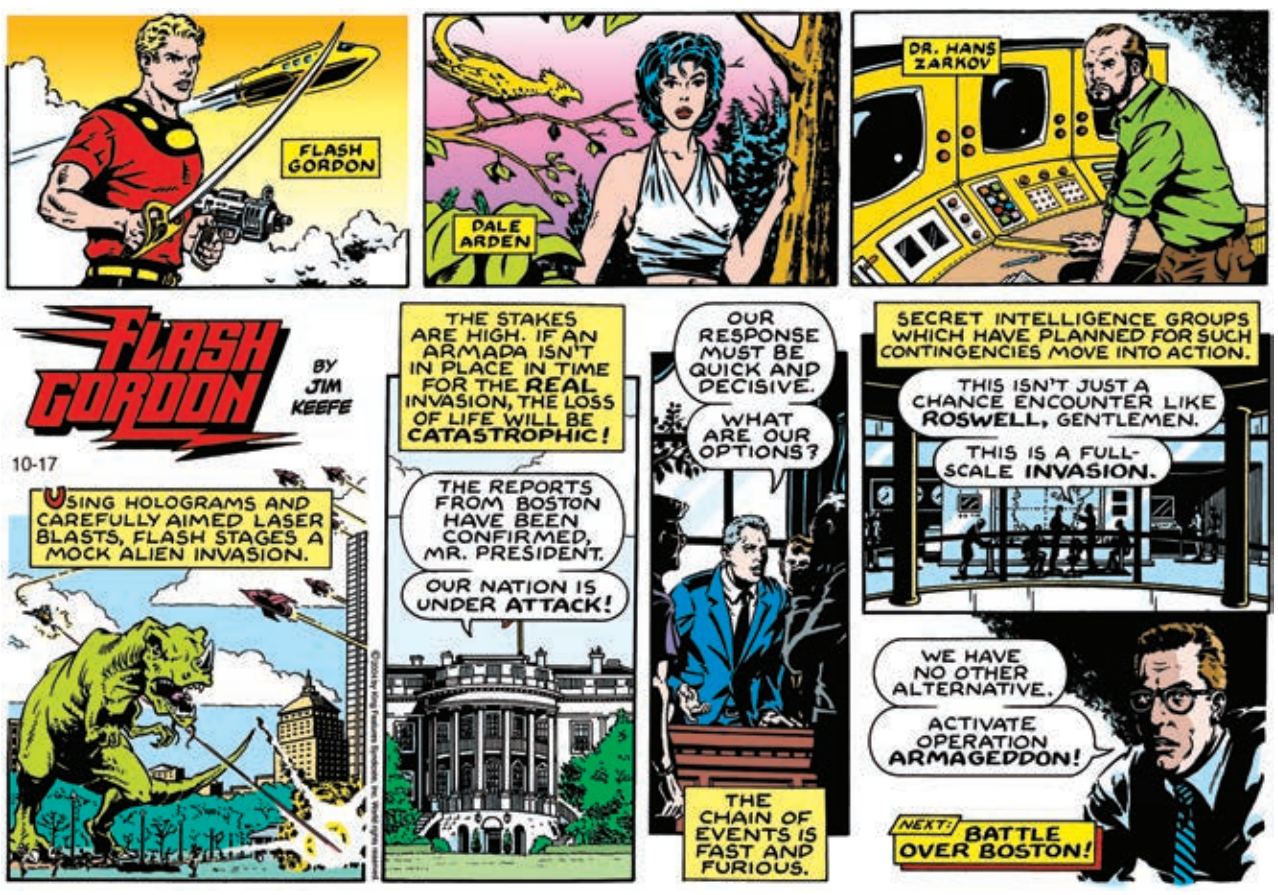

Bandon Open Stage, will present its upcoming production of another variety show on Nov. 14, 3 p.m., Sprague Community Theater. Information on online tickets sales is coming soon.

Florence celebrates 56 years of Whale-of-a-Tale history

A weekend of film, music, art, and a little explosive history

FLORENCE — It's that time of year again! The community of Florence and exploding-whale enthusiasts around the globe are gearing up to remember one of the most unforgettable moments in Oregon history: the infamous exploding whale incident of November 12, 1970.

Fifty-six years ago, the well-intentioned attempt to deal with a beached whale on the shores of Florence resulted in a spectacle that became legendary. What followed was a blast of blubber, flying whale parts, and a story that has lived on in the hearts, minds, and video collections of people around the world. If you haven't seen the historic news report, prepare to be amazed! This year, Florence is celebrating with an entire weekend of whale-sized fun, featuring the award-winning documentary, a special guest appearance, live music, marine-inspired art, and a heartfelt toast to the whale that made our little coastal town famous for something truly unforgettable.

It is charming, funny and features so much of Florence.

At the showing, you can meet special guest, Paul Linnman, the anchorman whose memorable report helped turn the exploding whale story into quite a sensation. Paul will be on hand to meet fans, sign autographs, and there for some Q&A.

Exact screening times are still being finalized, so keep an eye on the theater's website and the whale celebration website for updates at www.citylightscinemas.com

JEREMY C. RUARK
Country Media

The City of Newport has reached a settlement with the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) following nearly 10 months of litigation over the potential siting of an Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) detention facility in Newport.

Under the settlement, ICE has stipulated that it currently has no plans to expand existing detention facilities or open new long- or short-term detention facilities anywhere in Oregon, according to a release from Newport city officials.

The Department of Homeland Security (DHS) has also agreed to provide the City of Newport with at least 30 days notice before issuing an environmental assessment or environmental impact statement for a plan to construct or operate a detention facility in Newport.

The agreement provides the city with formal notice provisions and a statement of the federal government's current plans regarding detention facilities in Oregon.

"This has been a long and challenging process for our community, and we have remained committed to protecting Newport's interests every step of the way," Newport Mayor Jan Kaplan said. "Our responsibility is to stand up for our residents, protect our community's future and ensure that decisions affecting Newport are made with the transparency and accountability our community deserves. We are pleased to have reached this agreement, and we will continue to keep our community informed."

Newport City Council President Robert Emond emphasized the importance of the City's efforts throughout the litigation.

"From the beginning, our priority as a City Council has been to protect Newport and ensure that federal actions affecting our community respect the laws, agreements and safeguards in place," Emond said. "Our community has come together in remarkable ways throughout this process. We appreciate everyone who has supported these efforts and helped ensure Newport's concerns were heard."

Newport City Attorney Tiffany Johnson worked alongside outside counsel Stoll Berne throughout the litigation, representing the city in its efforts to address the proposed detention facility and protect the community's interests, according to the release.

Oregon U.S. Senator Ron Wyden released the following statement concerning the settlement.

"Huge praise to the city of Newport for working together to protect what makes their Oregon Coast city such a special place," Wyden stated in a social media post. "A great example for the rest of America about how to stand up to ICE bullying."

Background

In October 2025, the City became aware of federal efforts to potentially establish an ICE detention facility at the U.S. Coast Guard Air Facility at Newport Municipal Airport. The possibility raised significant concerns about the project's potential impacts on the community, coastal resources and local infrastructure.

The City of Newport retained Stoll Berne as outside counsel, and on December 22, 2025, the city filed a lawsuit in U.S. District Court challenging the federal government's actions and seeking to prevent the proposed facility from moving forward in Newport.

In December 2025, lawyers for the state sought an injunction from U.S. District Judge Ann Aiken in an amended complaint filed as part of an ongoing lawsuit challenging the U.S. Coast Guard's removal of a rescue helicopter from the Newport Municipal Airport facility in late October.

The lawyers argued that the federal government is skirting federal environmental and coastal land use regulations which would require more notice for Oregon leaders should an ICE facility be constructed in the area.

"Defendants have engaged in these efforts behind closed doors, with no transparency or public process, ignoring direct requests for information from local officials and members of Congress," the new filing reads. "As a result, the state has been forced to piece together defendants' plans for the ICE detention facility based on public reporting, inquiries to and information from federal contractors, the second-hand account of a U.S. Coast Guard witness, and related evidence."

"We will not allow federal agencies to sidestep the law or build detention facilities where they don't belong, including along our coast, "Oregon Attorney General Dan Rayfield said in a statement. "The federal government has to follow the same laws everyone else does when operating in our communities."

Newport's lawyers earlier filed a similar lawsuit in federal court asking a judge to require compliance with federal environmental regulations mandating impact assessments before any construction of an ICE detention facility in the city. The U.S. Coast Guard's deed from 1992 for its Newport Municipal Airport facility specifically mentions its purpose as an aviation site, a purpose the suit says should be honored.

In Loving Memory Of Russel Herman Tanner

August 17, 1938 – October 10, 2026

Russel Herman Tanner was born on August 17, 1938, in Sheridan, Wyoming, to Roma and Willard Tanner. He passed away on October 10, 2026, in North Bend, Oregon.

Russ grew up near Newcastle, Wyoming, where he attended high school, ran track, wrestled, and met the love of his life, Dixie. In 1955, at just 17 years old, he left high school during his sophomore year to join the United States Navy. He served in Japan and at Jim Creek, Washington, and earned his GED while in the service.

While stationed near Seattle, Russ crossed paths with Dixie again at a local bank. Their friendship soon blossomed into romance, and they married on February 14, 1959. Russ left the Navy later that year, and together they began a loving partnership that would span 67 years.

Russ and Dixie raised three daughters, Tammy, Terry, and Carroll. Their journey took them from Newcastle, Wyoming, to Albany, Oregon, then Lakeside, and eventually Reedsport, where they built their family home and many treasured memories.

In 1964, Russ moved his young family to Lakeside, where he built their home and began working at International Paper Mill as a Pulp Mill Digester Operator. He later returned to school to become an electrician, a trade he continued until the mill closed in 1999. Russ was hardworking, resourceful, and always willing to tackle a challenge.

In 1978, the family moved to their house on the hill in Reedsport. At the time, it was little more than a shell, with outside walls and a roof but no interior walls. While living in a camp trailer in the driveway, the family worked together to turn it into a warm and welcoming home. It became a gathering place filled with family, friends, laughter, and countless memories for years to come.

Russ had many interests, including hunting in Wyoming with family and friends, collecting coins and pocket watches, commercial fishing during the summers, and woodworking. He had a talent for building and fixing just about anything. When the mill went on strike, Russ and a friend even built a house to sell to help make ends meet. Whatever the challenge, Russ found a way to make things work.

Beyond his many talents, Russ will be remembered for his humor, playful teasing, and unforgettable dad jokes. No child was safe from his antics, whether he was asking someone to "hold up two fingers" or count the coins in his hand, followed by his familiar challenge, "Buy me a Coke if I'm wrong!" His mischievous spirit brought laughter to those around him and created memories his family will treasure forever.

Russ was preceded in death by his beloved wife, Dixie; his parents, Roma and Willard (Bill) Tanner; his brother and sister-in-law, Francis (Jack) and Barbara Tanner; his brother, Merrell (Pete) Tanner; his sister and brother-in-law, Sara (Jean) and Frank Tanner; his granddaughter, Nicole Reddick; and his son-in-law, William (Bill) MacKinnon.

He is survived by his three daughters, Tammy (David Buyok), Terry MacKinnon, and Carroll Armstrong; his grandchildren, Rus Buyok, Christina Moreno, Catherine Gombas, and Kelsie Dewater; and his great-grandchildren, Ashton Reddick, Quyn Reddick, Morgan Reddick, Liam Moreno, Kennalee Dewater, Lina Moreno, Rylee Dewater, Anna Gombas, and Dixie Gombas. He is also survived by his sister, Bonnie (Manuel) Sisneros, along with extended family and friends who will miss him dearly.

Russ leaves behind a legacy of love, perseverance, hard work, and laughter. He will be remembered not only for the things he built with his hands, but for the family he helped shape, the stories he shared, and the memories that will live on for generations.

An urnside service with military honors was held on Saturday, October 31, 2026 at 11:00 a.m. at Reedsport Masonic Cemetery in Reedsport. Friends and family are encouraged to sign the online guestbook at www.coosbayareafunerals.com and www.theworldlink.com. Arrangements are under the care of North Bend Chapel, 541-756-0440.
