

Arrest Made Following Fatal Injury to 9-Year-Old Victim

PRESS RELEASE

On September 28, 2025, at approximately 5:52 p.m., Coos County 911 Dispatch received a call reporting a 9-year-old male stabbing victim in Charleston at a residence on Cape Arago Highway. The incident was initially described as an accidental injury involving the victim and a younger sibling.

Responders from the Charleston Fire Department, Bay Cities Ambulance, and Coos Bay Police Department arrived promptly and provided comprehensive emergency care. Despite their heroic efforts, the child was pronounced deceased at Bay Area Hospital due to his injuries. Coos County Sheriff's Deputies secured the scene upon arrival, coinciding with the medical teams. A thorough investigation has been conducted over the past week by the Sheriff's Office. As a result of this investigation, on October 3, 2025, detectives executed a search warrant at the residence of Levi Higgins-Green, a 36-year-old male. Higgins-Green was arrested and booked into the Coos County Jail on one count of Second-Degree Murder. The Coos County Sheriff's Office extends its deepest gratitude to our partner agencies for their invaluable assistance in this matter, including the Charleston Fire Department, Bay Cities Ambulance, Coos Bay Police Department, Bay Area Hospital staff, and the Eugene Police Department.

We offer our heartfelt condolences to the family and loved ones of the victim during this profoundly difficult time. The investigation remains ongoing, and further updates will be provided as appropriate. "All persons are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law."

Local Coffee Shops are Here to Stay After Coos Bay Starbucks Closes in Nationwide Restructuring

By NATE SCHWARTZ
Editor

Corporate coffee colossus Starbucks have decided to close upwards of 200 of their locations across the United States over the coming weeks. As part of a large-scale restructuring plan, many underperforming stores along with 900 corporate employees have been cut loose. Despite the large number of closures, this only accounts for 1% of their total North American store count.

One of those closed locations is right in the heart of Coos Bay on Newmark Avenue. The location has already begun conversion into a T-Mobile location likely to be open in the coming months. The South Coast loves its coffee, and despite the closure there are no small number of local coffee houses that you can frequent for your caffeine fix.

Just around the corner from that Newmark location is Black Anchor Coffee House. Opened recently, this nautical themed spot had to overcome a small hiccup when a car misinterpreted the meaning of drive-thru, crashing into the façade. With their full lobby on Broadway now open again, they are a convenient spot for those used to visiting that Newmark Starbucks location.

Black Anchor recently launched a fall menu which includes pumpkin favorites and monthly specials like their Caramel Green Apple Smoothie and Haunted Fog Tea. This mom-and-pop shop has had to weather an early storm after opening just a few months ago, so please stop in and support local small business.

Sixty-eight years ago this month, Americans were introduced to an everyday kid. While TV viewers loved Lucy and trusted Father to know best, they also embraced the unassuming, impish Theodore “Beaver” Cleaver.

From the minute he first appeared in family rooms on fuzzy black-and-white TV screens at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 4, 1957, folks couldn’t get enough of the boy’s antics. (In Episode #1, “Beaver Gets Spelled,” he mistakenly thinks the note his teacher instructs him to take home to his parents is expelling him from school. Spoiler alert: he wasn’t.)

Over the next six seasons, Beaver’s voice deepens as he enters adolescence, getting in one hilarious mess after another along the way, with his patient parents wisely intoning important life lessons at the end of each episode. By the time the series wrapped up in June 1963,

HOLY COW! HISTORY:

Urban Myths Have Been Awfully Hard on ‘The Beaver’

Americans had a genuine fondness for Ward and June, Wally and the Beave, Larry Mondello, and even annoyingly obnoxious neighbor Eddie Haskell and not-too-bright Clarence “Lumpy” Rutherford.

(The original program never explained how Theodore Cleaver managed to acquire his eponymous nickname. Although a later version of the series lamely explained it was a result of young Wally’s inability to pronounce his brother’s Christian name, it strains credibility to think that anyone could have “Theodore” come out sounding like “Beaver.” But we digress.)

The show also had an odd distinction. For a program so widely beloved, a vast number of urban myths grew up about its cast.

The biggest and longest-lasting of all by far claimed that Jerry Mathers, who played the title character, was killed in the Vietnam War.

Not so. As of this writing, Mathers is still very much alive at age 77 (and also the show’s last surviving star). He did serve in the California Air National Guard during the Vietnam era, from 1966 to 1969, but his entire duty was spent stateside.

It’s thought the story might have originated from a mix-up with a soldier killed in combat who had a similar name. When actress Shelley Winters, who was an anti-war activist, “announced” Mather’s death to host Johnny Carson on the “Tonight Show,” it took wings and spread like wildfire. And it wasn’t true.

Speaking of showbiz enabling tall tales, there’s an alleged double entendre where, according to different versions of this urban myth, Ward is told by either wife June or son Wally that he was “awfully hard on the Beaver last night.” That potentially provocative line was never spoken on the sitcom. It originated in a “Saturday Night Live” sketch in the 1970s and took on a life of its own.

The origin of yet another widespread Beaver-related urban myth is easier to pinpoint. For years, word circulated that the delightfully two-faced Eddie Haskell had been played by a young Alice Cooper, the notoriously raucous rock star.

It started when Cooper said in an interview with a college newspaper that as a youth, “I was obnoxious, disgusting, a real Eddie Haskell.” And so the paper mistakenly reported that Cooper actually was Eddie Haskell. “It was the biggest rumor that ever came out about me,” he said years later. “Finally, I got a T-shirt that said, ‘No, I am not Eddie Haskell.’ But people still believed it.”

The Haskell character was played by Ken Osmond, who had to contend with an urban legend of his own. That one claimed that he went on to become the infamous porn movie star John Holmes. Matters weren’t helped when a local adult theater proclaimed on its marquee in big, bold letters, “Eddie Haskell of TV in ‘Behind the Green Door’ — X-Rated.” Osmond was a Los Angeles police officer at the time, and he demanded that the theater’s owner remove it.

Still, rumors persisted until, as Osmond revealed years later, in 1971, he was summoned to internal affairs and ordered to disrobe to disprove the wild story.

The most ironic part of all this is that while several of the urban myths were salacious in nature, “Leave It To Beaver” is still fondly recalled as one of the most wholesome hits from the Golden Age of Television.

Of course, those myths were popularized in a time long before social media platforms like Twitter/X. Today, a star would blast a tweet authoritatively denying a wild claim, and that would be that. Not so in the 1960s and ’70s.

A final note: Although the series was cancelled in 1963, the old sitcom warhorse is alive and doing well today in the Digital Age, streaming daily on platforms ranging from Peacock to Apple TV.

And that’s a fact you can take to the bank.

Powers also had a bye this week after winning its third straight league game a week earlier with a 44-6 win over McKenzie. The Cruisers are 4-2 overall heading into this week's home game against Elkton.

REEDSPORT 37, ALSEA 31: The Brave, playing an independent schedule, got their second straight win when they triumphed on the road Friday.

Reedsport, which beat C.S. Lewis Academy 76-44 a week earlier, is home against Mapleton this week.

Coquille builds lead in volleyball standings

The World

Coquille's volleyball team has seized control of the Far West League race after beating Douglas for the second time to stay perfect in league play. Coquille improved to 6-0 while Douglas fell to 4-2, still alone in second place.

The Red Devils swept South Umpqua to finish the first round of league play and then swept visiting Douglas 25-12, 25-17, 25-19.

Coquille is at Siuslaw on Tuesday and Glide on Thursday and competes in the Marshfield Invitational on Saturday.

SKY-EM LEAGUE: Marshfield shook off its first league loss to sweep host North Bend 25-13, 25-16, 25-17 to open the second round of league play.

The Pirates came up short against Marist Catholic in a five-set battle in Eugene 23-25, 25-16, 25-15, 23-25, 15-8. Marshfield and the Spartans have met in the past two Class 4A state title matches, each winning once. This year, Marist Catholic is first in the coaches poll and Marshfield is fourth. The rematch comes Thursday at Pirate Palace. Marshfield also hosted Cottage Grove on Monday (scores were not available) and will host the annual Marshfield Invitational on Saturday.

North Bend is still seeking a league win after also being swept by Marist Catholic and a week earlier by Cottage Grove. The Bulldogs host Junction City on Tuesday and compete in the Marshfield tournament on Saturday.

SUNSET CONFERENCE: Myrtle Point outlasted visiting Gold Beach on Tuesday and won at Illinois Valley on Thursday to keep its record perfect in league play.

The Bobcats beat the Panthers 28-26, 21-25, 25-13, 20-25, 15-5 and then topped the Cougars 25-13, 25-3, 25-21.

Myrtle Point was 7-0 entering the week, two games in front of Bandon. The Bobcats would clinch the league title with a home win over the Tigers on Tuesday and also visit Oakland on Thursday.

Bandon beat Illinois Valley 25-19, 25-8, 25-17 and swept Reedsport to improve to 5-2. The Tigers host Gold Beach on Thursday.

Pacific, still seeking a league win, lost to Camas Valley 25-23, 25-17, 25-8 and Glendale 25-7, 25-18, 25-11. The Pirates have one league match remaining, at Umpqua Valley on Tuesday.

GIRLS SOCCER SKY-EM LEAGUE: North Bend suffered its first league loss when the Bulldogs fell at Marist Catholic 9-1 last week.

The Bulldogs had beaten Cottage Grove earlier in the week 4-1 after an 8-0 win at Junction City a week earlier. North Bend was 3-1 in league play entering the second half of the season, which began with a home match against Marshfield on Monday (the score was not available). North Bend hosts Junction City on Wednesday and then has a nonleague match at home against Amity on Saturday.

Marshfield still is seeking its first league win after losing to Marist Catholic 8-0 and Junction City 3-0. The Pirates did win a nonleague match against South Umpqua 8-0.

In addition to the match with North Bend this week, the Pirates host Cottage Grove on Wednesday and Marist Catholic next Monday.

The team is perfectly in the middle of the 13-team league standings.

The DevilCats host Rogue River on Tuesday and travel to Medford to face St. Mary's on Thursday.

BOYS SOCCER SKY-EM LEAGUE: Marshfield improved to 2-2 at the midway point of the league season with an 8-0 win over visiting Junction City last week. The Pirates also won a nonleague match against Hidden Valley 4-1.

Boys volleyball sanctioned as high school sport in Oregon

NATE LOWERY
OSAAtoday

WILSONVILLE – The Delegate Assembly of the Oregon School Activities Association voted in boys volleyball as an OSAA-sanctioned activity at the assembly's Oct. 6 meeting, Monday.

Boys volleyball will begin its first season as a sanctioned activity in the Spring of 2026 following two years as an emerging activity. It is the first activity to join the association's offering since girls wrestling was voted in by the Delegate Assembly ahead of the 2023-24 association year.

Oregon is the 26th state to add boys volleyball as a sanctioned activity.

Boys volleyball is the first activity to be added through the OSAA's emerging activity process. The process allows the growth of meaningful interscholastic participation opportunities for students in athletics and activities that have the potential to meet the required number of schools participating to be considered for official sanctioning by the OSAA.

Sixty-eight varsity teams competed last spring – Central Catholic (6A), Summit (5A), Estacada (4A) and St. Mary's, Medford (3A/2A/1A) claimed culminating event titles in May. Over the last six years, the sport has seen a 51% growth — the highest among boys sports — nationally, according to the American Volleyball Coaches' Association (AVCA).

Marshfield and North Bend both fielded squads last spring, splitting their four matches. Marshfield advanced to the concluding tournament, placing eighth.

A plan book and dates for the 2026 season will be released at a later date.

Girls flag football is in the second year of a two-year emerging sport status and is eligible to be voted on at the October 2026 Delegate Assembly meeting.

OSAA committee narrowing focus on districts for next four years

The World

The shape of the high school sports landscape in Oregon for the next four years will come into sharper focus when the Oregon School Activities Association's Classification and Districting Committee holds its next meeting Oct. 27.

The committee charged with making a recommendation for leagues to the OSAA Executive Board recently held its third meeting and has been considering whether Oregon should keep its current six-classification structure or move to a structure with the state's schools split into five classifications.

Generally, the state's largest schools support having five classifications while the Class 5A schools are split and the Class 4A schools prefer the current format, according to the latest release from the committee.

The South Coast schools will be largely unaffected by either option in terms of how their leagues would look, but Marshfield and North Bend would likely have to face larger schools in the postseason if a five-class system is chosen.

Several trends are developing in the most recent proposals from the committee that will slightly shake up which schools are in which leagues involving the South Coast.

In Class 4A, Elmira would move back into the Sky-Em League with Marshfield and North Bend after being in Class 3A the past few years. The rest of the league will remain Cottage Grove, Junction City and Marist Catholic.

Two other changes to 4A involve a pair of Class 3A powers that are opting to move up a classification despite being smaller in size — Banks and Cascade Christian. Valley Catholic, another Class 3A power, would move back up to 4A because it is over the lower enrollment limit for the classification.

In Class 3A, Coquille would be in a larger Far West League because of other schools moving up or down classifications.

Along with Cascade Christian, North Valley is moving back up to Class 4A because of its size. Illinois Valley, meanwhile, is moving up to 3A based on its size and Lakeview is moving down to Class 2A, which means the Southern Oregon Conference is losing three members — Cascade Christian, Lakeview and Rogue River, which was approved to play down to Class 2A because of its recent lack of success across all sports. The new-look Far West League would include current members Coquille, Siuslaw, Sutherlin, Glide, Douglas and South Umpqua and add Brookings-Harbor, Illinois Valley and St. Mary's of Medford.

In Class 2A, the Sunset Conference would lose Illinois Valley but pick up North Douglas, which would move up from Class 1A, and Rogue River. The league would continue to include Bandon, Myrtle Point, Reedsport, Gold Beach and Oakland.

The only change for the Class 1A Skyline League is the loss of North Douglas. Powers and Pacific, the league's two South Coast members, will continue to be joined by Camas Valley, Days Creek, Elkton, Glendale, Milo Adventist Academy, New Hope, Riddle, Umpqua Valley Christian and Yoncalla.

For the local leagues, the only difference in the most recent proposal for a five-classification format is that Glide would be in the Sunset Conference instead of the Far West League.

As with recent years, football will be treated different from the rest of the sports, with the OSAA Ad-Hoc Football Committee recommending leagues for that sport.

Following the Oct. 27 meeting, the committee also will meet on Nov. 17 and will present its final proposal to the OSAA Executive Board on Dec. 15.

Octoberfish Charleston Seafood Festival Celebrates Local Marine Life

After a long hiatus, the Charleston Seafood Festival, Octoberfish, made its return to the lawn of the Oregon Institute of Marine Biology on October 4. This celebration of all things aquatic had been a staple of fall time in Charleston and highlights the beautiful ways in which our coastal culture meets the ocean that makes it possible.

A highlight of the event was the food served, impeccably prepared pacific tuna led to long lines of hungry patrons. It may have been the best piece of fish this reporter has ever had the pleasure of tasting. It went down all the better knowing that all the proceeds from the event would be benefitting the Charleston Food Bank. Just another way that the event celebrates and benefits the area.

Libations were provided by Seven Devils Brewery alongside tunes from a pair of local bands. The Acoustics started off the afternoon, with Mystic Motion following up. Fresh apple cider was being pressed thanks to the enthusiastic help of visiting kids.

Local organizations were also invited to table, with some local seafood businesses showing off their wares. Providing information on the conservation of our waterways were the Coos Watershed Association and Rogue Climate environmental organizations,

City Council Recieves Gifts from Coos Bay's Sister City of Choshi, Japan

FROM THE CITY OF COOS BAY

During the October 7, 2025, City Council meeting, Councilor Sara Stephens shared a thoughtful surprise from Coos Bay's sister city of Choshi, Japan. The gifts came from a group of fourth-grade students who recently participated in a language and cultural exchange project learning about Coos Bay.

Councilor Stephens explained that during her visit to Choshi two years ago, she met Mr. Okada, who serves as a liaison for sister city relationships. He recently led a workshop with students, introducing them to Coos Bay and English vocabulary. As part of the project, the students created and sent hand-decorated fans and other small gifts to share with the City of Coos Bay as a gesture of friendship.

As Councilor Stephens passed the gifts around the Council Chambers, councilors and staff admired the craftsmanship and detail of the students' work, noting the care and creativity that went into each item. Among the artwork was the city's mascot, a friendly green character known throughout Choshi.

Along with the fans, the students included copies of Choshi's Public Relations Magazine and a Spring Tourism Campaign publication, offering a glimpse into life in their coastal community. The City of Coos Bay was honored to receive these tokens of goodwill and looks forward to sharing photos of the gifts with the students in Choshi to express gratitude for their kindness and enthusiasm.

The gifts will be displayed in the City's sister city area at City Hall as a symbol of the long-standing friendship between Coos Bay and Choshi and as a reminder of the cultural connections that continue to grow between the two coastal communities.

NOTICE TO RESIDENTIAL TENANTS
The property in which you are living is in foreclosure. A foreclosure is scheduled for January 7, 2026. The date of this sale may be postponed. Unless the lender that is foreclosing on this property is paid before the sale date, the foreclosure will go through and someone new will own this property. After the sale, the new owner is required to provide you with some contact information and notice that the sale took place. The following information applies to you only if you are a bona fide tenant occupying and renting as a residential dwelling under a legitimate rental agreement. The information does not apply to you if you own this property or if you are not a bona fide residential tenant.
If the foreclosure sale goes through, the new owner will have the right to require you to move out. Before the new owner can require you to move, the new owner must provide you with written notice that specifies the date by which you must move out. If you do not leave before the move-out date, the new owner can have the sheriff remove you from the property after a court hearing. You will receive notice of the court hearing.
PROTECTION FROM EVICTION
IF YOU ARE A BONA FIDE TENANT OCCUPYING AND RENTING THIS PROPERTY AS A RESIDENTIAL DWELLING, YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO CONTINUE LIVING IN THE PROPERTY AFTER THE FORECLOSURE SALE FOR: 60 DAYS FROM THE DATE YOU ARE GIVEN A WRITTEN TERMINATION NOTICE, IF YOU HAVE A FIXED TERM LEASE; OR AT LEAST 30 DAYS FROM THE DATE YOU ARE GIVEN A WRITTEN TERMINATION NOTICE; IF YOU HAVE A MONTH-TO-MONTH OR WEEK-TO-WEEK RENTAL AGREEMENT.
If the new owner wants to move in and use this property as a primary residence, the new owner can give you written notice and require you to move out after 30 days, even though you have a fixed term lease with more than 30 days left. You must be provided with at least 30 days' written notice after the foreclosure sale before you can be required to move.
A bona fide tenant is a residential tenant who is not the borrower (property owner) or a child, spouse, or parent of the borrower, and whose rental agreement:
Is the result of an arm's-length transaction;
Requires the payment of rent that is not substantially less than fair market rent for the property, unless the rent is reduced or subsidized due to a federal, state or local subsidy; and

Was entered into prior to the date of the foreclosure sale.

To do this, you must notify your landlord in writing that you want to subtract the amount of your security deposit or prepaid rent from your rent payment. You may do this only for the rent you owe your current landlord. If you do this, you must do so before the foreclosure sale. The business or individual who pays this property at the foreclosure sale is not responsible to you for any deposit or prepaid rent you paid to your landlord.
ABOUT YOUR TENANCY AFTER THE FORECLOSURE SALE

After the sale, you should receive a written notice informing you that the sale took place and giving you the new owner's name and contact information. You should contact the new owner if you would like to stay. If the new owner accepts rent from you, signs a new residential rental agreement with you or does not notify you in writing within 30 days after the date of the foreclosure sale that you must move out, the new owner becomes your new landlord and must maintain the property. Otherwise:
You do not owe rent;
The new owner is not your landlord and is not responsible for maintaining the property on your behalf, and You must move out by the date the new owner specifies in a notice to you. The new owner must offer to pay your moving expenses and any other costs or amounts you and the new owner agree on in exchange for your agreement to leave the premises in less than 30 or 60 days. who hosted activities and handed out pamphlets. Rogue Climate has been on the forefront as watchdogs for the Port of Coos Bay's Intermodal Port expansion project. The proposed development on the North Spit recently received $100 million in federal grants for development, in response to which Rogue Climate asked visitors where they would invest that amount of money instead. Locals responded in all kinds of ways, with investment in housing stock and the hospital chief among the answers. When you saw all there was to see and enjoyed the company of your neighbors there was a perfect opportunity to visit the Charleston Marine Life Center just across the street from where the party was being held. Another wonderful resource for learning about our ocean, the center boasts live displays, touch tanks, and a wealth of information about local marine habitats and the fascinating creatures that live within them. It was lucky timing, as there are only a couple weeks left where the aquarium will have their giant pacific octopus before it outgrows its enclosure. I had never seen one of these mesmerizing creatures up close and could hardly pull myself away to see the rest of the displays, with many of them full of creatures caught right there in the Charleston Marina. On the whole, Octoberfish was a wonderful opportunity to learn about and celebrate the rich marine world that neighbors ours. It provides so much for us, both literally as in sustenance and economic opportunity, but also in the unique character and culture of the South Coast. Let us do all we can to preserve it for generations to come.

Earmark your calendars for the first weekend of October, as the event is back and here to stay moving forward. If you missed the chance this year, please still consider donating to the Charleston Food Bank.

If you're a North Bend resident, or frequent its main street, then look no further than The Tin Rooster. Another locally owned café that has had a big first year in business. They quickly garnered tons of plaudits for their popular baked goods, and have recently received a face-lift as they come under new ownership. Despite the ownership change, their bakery staff has stayed on. Maybe the most unique thing about the Tin Rooster is their gelato. There aren't many places on the South Coast where you can treat yourself to a scoop of spumoni, making this a must-stop spot for both coffee lovers and those with a sweet tooth. I wouldn't forget about those in the Downtown Coos Bay area, where So It Goes Coffeehouse will be celebrating their 10th anniversary of service this week. The Kurt Vonnegut themed café would not be out of place in the big city, making it a privilege to have here on the South Coast. In addition to a delicious menu of drinks and snacks, So It Goes carries an incredibly well curated selection of books, cd's, and records. This makes sense given the owners' commitment to the arts. There is always a local artist being showcased on the walls. So It Goes is often the venue for open mics, theatrical productions, and local bands. This Saturday, October 18, is the return of their Paint Your Partner event. For an all-in ticket price, you are given all the materials and instruction you need to paint portraits in a Tim Burton style, perfect for the spooky season. Sure, the area might be losing one corporate coffee location, but that is just a good reminder that it's the small businesses

North Bend and Reedsport Among Recipients of “Excellence on Main” Awards

Highwater Café in Reedsport is owned and operated by Jill Nelson, who had the vision to convert the former furniture store, opened in 1941, into the café and co-working offices it is today.

Oregon Main Street announced its 2025 “Excellence on Main” award winners on October 8 during the Opening Session of the Main Street conference in downtown Albany. Created in 2010, the annual Excellence on Main awards honor outstanding efforts to sustain and enhance historic downtowns across the state. This year’s edition saw the acknowledgment of 11 remarkable projects, activities, and individuals. North Bend was the recipient of two awards based on nominations by North Bend Main Street in addition to Standout Volunteer recognition received by Barb Dunham. Reedsport was the recipient of the Economic Vitality award based on nominations by Reedsport Main Street in addition to Standout Volunteer recognition received by Mayor Linda McCollum.

North Bend Recipients

2025 Outstanding Promotional Event:

North Bend Main Street Community Art Walk

The 2025 Outstanding Promotion Award goes to North Bend Main Street for the inaugural North Bend Community Art Walk. Preceded by the Roots program, which offered free youth art classes at the Coos Art Museum, the Art Walk showcased student work alongside local artists as downtown businesses hosted interactive activities and displays. The event drew more than 100 attendees, boosted business traffic, and built new partnerships, laying the groundwork for ongoing arts-based engagement in North Bend.

2025 Business of the Year Award: Wildflour

One of two 2025 Business of the Year Award recipients this year, Wildflour Public House in downtown North Bend is recognized for its innovation, community commitment, and economic impact. Owned by John and Tara Moore, a female veteran, Wildflour has transformed the historic Odd Fellows Building into a thriving restaurant and community hub, doubling its space in 2023 while preserving historic character. The business sources ingredients from more than ten local producers, and through a partnership with Travel Southern Oregon Coast, helped strengthen the connection between local fisheries and the restaurant’s menu. Wildflour also provides significant employment downtown. Beyond food, they donate to nonprofits, mentor entrepreneurs, and regularly host community events and fundraisers. Their resilience during the pandemic and ongoing “people over profit” approach demonstrate how small businesses can drive both economic vitality and community connection.

Standout Volunteer Certificate: Barb Dunham, North Bend Main Street

In addition to the Excellence on Main Awards, Barb Dunham was one of six recipients who received recognition as a Standout Volunteer for contributions to their local main street organization. In North Bend, Barb Dunham has been a cornerstone of community revitalization for more than 40 years. As a lifelong resident, Barb’s vision sparked signature events like the July Jubilee and the Sip ‘n Stroll. When the North Bend Main Street program revived after nearly a decade, Barb was first to step forward, now serving as Vice President and shaping the program’s brand, sponsorships, and strategic vision. Barb’s quiet dedication has built bridges, renewed traditions, and inspired new leaders—all without seeking the spotlight. “North Bend Main Street, through initiatives like the Community Art Walk, the leadership of volunteers like Barb Dunham, and the vision of businesses like Wildflour, shows how people and projects together can transform a downtown,” said Sheri Stuart, state coordinator of Oregon Main Street. “Their creativity, dedication, and community spirit make North Bend a vibrant, welcoming place for residents and visitors alike.”

Reedsport Recipients

2025 Economic Vitality Award: Highwater Café & Market and Highwater Offices

The 2025 Economic Vitality Award goes to Highwater Café & Market and Highwater Offices in downtown Reedsport for transforming a long-neglected 1941 building into a thriving hub of commerce and community. Led by owner Jill Nelson, the $2 million renovation preserved historic character while creating a popular café and fully leased office suites that attract residents, visitors, and small businesses. Supported in part by an Oregon Main Street Revitalization Grant, the project has boosted downtown activity, spurred additional investment, and set a strong foundation for Reedsport’s economic growth.

Tara Moore operates Wildflour restaurant and catering with her husband John Moore. She was raised in North Bend and is fulfilling a dream of owning a restaurant in her hometown.

Standout Volunteer Certificate: Mayor Linda McCollum, Reedsport Main Street

In addition to the Excellence on Main Awards, Mayor Linda McCollum was one of six recipients who received recognition as a Standout Volunteer for contributions to their local main street organization. Mayor Linda McCollum stands as a steadfast champion of the Reedsport Main Street program since its earliest days. As founding member and board president, Linda helped launch the beloved Holiday Tree Lighting, a cherished community tradition since 2016. Alongside Councilor Turner, her leadership has ensured steady funding and strong city support, helping the program thrive for over a decade. “Highwater Café & Market, Highwater Offices, and Mayor Linda McCollum exemplify the dedication and vision that drive Reedsport’s downtown vitality,” said Sheri Stuart, state coordinator of Oregon Main Street. “Through historic preservation, economic investment, and steadfast volunteer leadership, they’ve created a welcoming, thriving downtown that benefits the entire community.” The Excellence on Main awards underscore the diverse facets of the Main Street Approach™, a comprehensive strategy developed by the National Main Street Center, which is embraced by Oregon Main Street Network communities. Through this approach, communities thrive by leveraging innovative projects, community-focused programs, and historic preservation to improve their vitality and enrich residents’ lives. The Oregon Main Street program empowers local economies, fosters community connections, and enhances the overall appeal of the state. The network of local Main Streets working within the Oregon Main Street program is a testament to the transformative impact of collaborative efforts, nurturing vibrant environments for residents, visitors, and workers alike. Bandon WESTERN WORLD

As I See It

By Mary Schamehorn

It was in August of 1946 that Western World carried a story about Arthur Dobney being discharged from the Coast Guard. A former chief boatswain's mate and recently commander of the Coquille river station, he plans to complete his cranberry bog near Dew Valley, which he purchased from L.M. Kranick. He has accepted a position in the electrical department of the Golden Rule store.

"The Dobney family has moved into the former caddy house on the Beach Loop road, where they will reside until their new home is built."

The photo I am sharing was taken during an Eagle Scout ceremony in November of 1958. Dobney is at far right with his wife Grace and son, Mike, who moved back to Bandon some years ago. The other couple is Bud and Florence Anthony and their son, Mike. The Dobney's daughter, Claudia Dobney Powers, was recently elected to the Bandon School Board.

The second photo is the tug Klihyam, which is mentioned in an article about its crew rebuilding the port of Bandon shipyard at Prosper, in January of 1926.

"The suction dredge owned by the Port has completed the dredging work in the harbor whereby it filled the area that has been washing away back of the Hotel Gallier property.

"The crew of the tug Klihyam has since taken up the work of rebuilding the machinery house and dock at the port shipyard at Prosper. A new building is being erected and new decking is being put down. The new machinery was not damaged much by the recent fire which destroyed the buildings and will be re-installed."

Moy) was crowned queen. The Mystery King was unveiled to be Jim Hanna, who was manager of the Coquille Valley Dairy Co-op.

I learned this week that the Cottage Grove man who was struck while crossing the highway near Delaware Avenue the Saturday night of the Cranberry Festival, has died. Marvin Wayne Cross, 71, and his 66-year-old wife, were struck by a vehicle driven by Marion McDonald, 34, Langlois, according to the Bandon Police Department.

The couple were transported by ambulance to Bay Area Hospital, where Mr. Cross later died.

I was sorry to hear that Ann King died last week at the age of 85. She and her husband, Rick Toth, lived on Ocean Drive, where close friends will gather on Wednesday, Oct. 8, from 5 to 7, to share memories of Ann.

She was active over the years in the efforts to build a swimming pool for Bandon, along with her close friend, the late Myra Lawson.

I've also learned of the recent death of Fred Bussmann, of Lower Four Mile, who was a cranberry grower and member of the family who owned Bussmann's Mobile Ranch Butchering business for many years.

I saw a notice on Facebook this weekend that indicated there was to be a special meeting of the Bandon School Board in the BHS Library on Ninth Street at 3:45 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 6, to discuss a Level 4 Grievance filed by the Bandon Education Association. That meeting was open to the public.

A parent, Amber Burg, on Facebook, urged people to attend the meeting. "Bandon folks we've lost four tenured teachers Please come and show the school board you support our teachers and demand they take action."

The BEA asked to be on the agenda at the September school board meeting, but was denied by the chair.

Earlier the board met in executive session at 3 p.m. in the district office to consult with counsel concerning current or possible litigation.

The Bandon Tigers returned home Friday night from Glide with a 50-26 victory to maintain their unbeaten 5-0 record. A Tiger fan was told by a chain crew member at Glide that the boys were "the most respectful team they had every had. Congratulations to them, their parents and the community," said the post.

A victory is great, but it can't compare with the compliment about the character of the young men!

And that's a good reason to attend the Bandon Booster Club's Gold Rush dessert auction and fundraiser, Saturday, Oct. 18, at the Barn/Community Center at 5. Tickets are available from any varsity coach or Briana Hutchens at Beauty Unleashed on Highway 101. A table of 8 is $250.

Joe Smith, who works directly with the Coos County Sheriff's Office on concealed carry permits, presented the Tuesday, Oct. 7, Meet and Greet program, which started at noon at Bandon Fisheries Warehouse. He presented the NRA information people needed to decide if a concealed permit was right for them. It was considered an informational, not political, program.

The program for the Oct. 14 Meet and Greet will be presented by representatives of the Oregon Community Foundation. Hopefully I will know more next week.

The Oct. 21 M&G will be hosted by Jim Proehl of the Bandon History Museum with "Stories from the GAR Cemetery."

October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month and hospital officials remind you that it's time to get your yearly mammogram. Southern Coos Hospital & Health Center is offering free mammograms for those who can't afford them. If you schedule your appointment during October or November, you will be entered into a drawing for a 5-quart pink Kitchen Aid stand mixer.

You no longer need a provider's order to schedule the procedure, which can be scheduled at 541-347-2426. The hospital Foundation provides free mammograms for those unable to pay, including help with co-pays. Just mention this when you schedule your appointment and it will be taken care of, no questions asked.

Southern Coos Hospital & Heath Center will once again offer free flu shots at its annual drive-through Flu Shot Clinic in City Park on Wednesday, Oct. 15, beginning at 7 a.m. and continuing until 1 p.m. or while supplies last. This year the hospital will offer both the high-dose vaccine for those over 65 as well as the regular dose vaccine. COVID vaccine boosters will be available, and it is safe to have both shots on the same day, according to medical professionals.

Bandon-area veterans are reminded that the annual photo shoot for a group photo will take place Saturday, Oct. 25, in the Bandon High School gym at 10 a.m.

After the picture, veterans are invited to stay for a relaxing time of coffee and cookies, provided by the school district. The photo is sponsored by Southern Coos Hospital and Health Center, Bain Insurance and The World newspaper.

A letter has been sent by the school district to parents explaining that hand, foot and mouth disease is going through the school. (I am assuming this is the elementary school) "It is a contagious virus and we have seen it in every grade. We are doing our very best to keep areas, surfaces, and supplies clean. We are also increasing hand washing. Please check your child's hand, feet and throat regularly. You will notice a red rash on hands and feet and may notice blister-like rash on the throat, tongue or cheek. Children must stay home with this virus until they are symptom

Judy Black

January 19, 1947 - September 30, 2025

Rexburg — Judith “Judy” Ann Black was born on January 19, 1947, in Pueblo, Colorado, to Carl Edward and Miriam Alice Atchison. She passed away on September 30, 2025, in Rexburg, Idaho, with her husband, Wayne, and son, Troy, by her side.

Judy grew up in Rye, Colorado, alongside her two younger brothers, Danny Alan Atchison and Carl Edward Atchison. She loved riding her horse, Taffy, and competing in barrel racing at the Rye Rodeos. During high school, she was also a cheerleader. As a teenager, Judy often babysat for neighborhood families, and all the kids adored her for her kindness, warmth, and fun-loving spirit.

One day, after a trip to the grocery store, Judy’s mother, Miriam, came home and told her about a polite young cashier named Wayne that she should meet. On the next grocery trip, Judy made sure to dress to impress and accompanied her mom—and the rest is history! Judy married Wayne Albert Black in Rye, Colorado, on July 9, 1966. They were blessed with 59 years of marriage.

After their wedding, they moved to North Bend, Oregon, where they raised their three children: Todd Albert Black, Troy Edward Black, and Carolina Carmen Watson (Black). They made North Bend their home for 57 years. Judy worked briefly as a receptionist for Dr. McKeown’s office before choosing to dedicate herself full time to raising her family.

From a young age, Judy accepted Christ into her life. Her love for the Lord was evident in the way she lived and served. Being in church with her family each week was a priority, and she faithfully served wherever she was needed, most often behind the scenes. She helped clean the church, taught Missionettes to young girls, cooked at countless potlucks and funeral receptions, and volunteered for several years at Crusader’s Christian School office.

Judy loved spending time with her family and was endlessly proud of her children and grandchildren. She was best known for her kindness, gentleness, and the warm hospitality she extended to everyone who entered her home. Guests could always count on a plate of her famous lasagna, a helping of blackberry cobbler, and a tall glass of iced tea. She loved cooking, canning, spending time outdoors, and simply being with those she loved. Judy was also a member of the Dora Friendly Club and enjoyed helping with community events alongside her dear friends.

Judy is survived by her husband, Wayne; her children, Todd Black, Troy Black (wife Erica), and Carolina Watson (husband Sam); her grandchildren, Jantzen Black (wife Jayde), Janell Silong (husband Garrett), Hunter Black, Savannah Black, Tripp Black, Garrett Watson, Koda Watson, Sawyer Watson, and Isabel Watson; and her great-granddaughter, Poppy Black.

Judy will be deeply missed. She was a one-of-a-kind wife, mom, grandma, and friend whose love, faith, and generosity touched everyone she met.

A graveside memorial service was held in Tetonia on Friday, October 10th at 12pm.

The Chamber Minute

By ROSEY THOMAS

Last week at our Wednesday Business Connection, Sheriff Gabe Fabrizio shared both the wins and the challenges facing our Sheriff's Office. His team is working tirelessly to get fentanyl and other dangerous drugs off our streets. They're doing it with fewer resources than ever—14 officers were laid off due to budget cuts. Yet crime doesn't take a break just because funding falls short.

Here's the reality: over 70% of voters chose not to support the public safety levy. But that doesn't mean we don't care about our community. It just means it's on us, the people who love this place, to step up in another way.

One of the best ways to help is to consider becoming a Sheriff's Office Reserve Deputy. Right now, this year's program has just one person signed up. One. That means we're asking a whole lot of one neighbor to help carry the burden of protecting us all.

A simple way to explore whether it's for you is to go on a ride-along. You'll see firsthand the incredible work our deputies do, the challenges they face, and maybe discover that you, too, have what it takes to serve. Call the Sheriff's office today for more information.

Our community deserves more than stretched-thin law enforcement. We deserve a team of neighbors willing to help keep our families safe. If you've ever thought about stepping in, now's the time.

Because at the end of the day, somebody needs to protect this place we love. Why not you?

Merkley Leads Senators to Call for Removal of Political Propaganda from Federal Agency Websites and Communication Channels

Washington, D.C. – As the Trump Administration blatantly tries to weaponize federal funding and misuse official government communications channels for partisan propaganda purposes, Oregon's U.S. Senator Jeff Merkley and Rhode Island's U.S. Senator Jack Reed, both senior members of the Senate Appropriations Committee, led 22 Senate colleagues—including Oregon Senator Ron Wyden—in demanding the Trump Administration immediately remove unprecedented partisan political messages from official government websites and other official communication accounts that violate federal law.

While President Trump has the same free speech rights as every other citizen and may use the 'bully pulpit' of the presidency to express his political views, the rules and regulations of federal agencies and federal law itself clearly restrict the political activities of civil servants using official government resources. Federal agencies have an obligation to operate and serve the American people without regard to politics. Indeed, during the first Trump Administration, the government shut down twice for a length of 3 and 35 days, respectively, and agency websites followed past precedent in notifying Americans about the shutdown.

As early as September 30, 2025, in the lead-up to the ongoing government shutdown, federal agencies began a seemingly coordinated effort to blast partisan political messages from official government websites, accounts, and email correspondence. For example, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development's (HUD) official website is currently dominated by a misleading red banner that reads: "The Radical Left in Congress shut down the government," while some furloughed employees in the U.S. Department of Education report that their non-partisan out-of-office messages have been modified without their consent to try and make it seem like they blame Senate Democrats for voting against Republican funding proposals.

In their letter to Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Director Russ Vought, the Senators call for the immediate removal of the illegal, partisan messages to comply with the law. Merkley, who serves as the Ranking Member of the Senate Budget Committee and has direct oversight over OMB, is leading the charge to hold accountable those within the Trump Administration who have directed the behavior.

"These activities are in blatant violation of Section 715 of P.L. 118-47, which prohibits federal funds from being used for propaganda purposes 'designed to support or defeat legislation pending before the Congress,'" the Senators wrote. "These activities also appear to violate the Anti-Lobbying Act and the Hatch Act. We urge you to immediately remove these illegal, partisan messages to comply with the law and hold accountable those who have directed this behavior."

The letter notes a pattern of abuse and politicization of executive branch agencies that includes official sites for HUD, the Small Business Administration (SBA), the Department of Justice (DOJ), and the Department of Agriculture (USDA). Additionally, civil servants at the SBA, Department of Labor, Department of Education, and Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) were also reportedly instructed by Trump Administration officials to improperly set automatic reply email messages containing partisan political propaganda.

Blasting the administration's blatant attempts to mislead the American public and misuse American tax dollars, they also pointed out, "As you well know, these messages are misleading, given that Democrats have voted four times over the last week to fully fund the government only to be rebuffed by our Republican colleagues."

The Senators continued, "Spirited public debate has its place, but agency resources, including websites or emails, should not be used to send overtly political, and in this case, misleading messages, to the American people."

In addition to Merkley, Reed, and Wyden, the letter was signed by U.S. Senators Jeanne Shaheen (D-NH), Martin Heinrich (D-NM), Angela Alsobrooks (D-MD), Tammy Baldwin (D-WI), Mark Warner (D-VA), Richard Blumenthal (D-CT), Gary Peters (D-MI), Chris Van Hollen (D-MD), Andy Kim (D-NJ), Peter Welch (D-VT), Tammy Duckworth (D-IL), Sheldon Whitehouse (D-RI), Angus King (I-ME), Adam Schiff (D-CA), Jon Ossoff (D-GA), Ben Ray Lujan (D-NM), Tim Kaine (D-VA), Alex Padilla (D-CA), Michael Bennet (D-CO), Kirsten Gillibrand (D-NY), and Amy Klobuchar (D-MN).

Violating the Hatch Act can be cause for removal from federal service, and other penalties may include grade reduction, ban from government employment for up to five years, suspension, reprimand, or a civil penalty up to $1,000. Violating the Anti-Lobbying Act can result in civil penalties of $10,000 to $100,000 per occurrence.

I recently received a break-down of what 500 kilowatts of electricity would cost for the three different utilities that serve the city and the outlying areas.

The bill from the City of Bandon would be a base charge of $11.99 and a usage charge of $43.75 for a bill of $55.74. There is also a 10 percent utility tax, which would add another $5.57.

The bill from Coos-Curry Electric, which serves areas south of Bandon not served by the City, would be a base charge of $35.79, and a usage charge of $48.77 for a bill of $84.56.

The bill from Pacific Power, which serves rural areas north of Bandon, would be $14 for the base charge, and a usage charge of $58.50 for a total of $72.50.

What was first reported as an accidental stabbing in the Charleston area along Cape Arago Highway Sept. 28 involving a nine-year-old male ended with a 36-year-old man, Levi Higgins-Green of that location, being lodged in the Coos County Jail on a second-degree murder charge. The youth died in Bay Area Hospital.

Two people died over the weekend on Highway 42 within four miles of the Powers junction in two separate head-on collisions, one which occurred Saturday afternoon and the other on Sunday afternoon. No names have been released, but I believe others were life-flighted to a Eugene hospital in at least one of the accidents, with the REACH helicopter landing on the fairgrounds to meet the ambulance.
