

Juneteenth a success on the South Coast

By NATE SCHWARTZ
Editor

The week of Juneteenth saw multiple celebratory events on the South Coast this year thanks to the South Coast Equity Coalition (SCEC) and Soulfood Sunday. Though only recognized as a federal holiday in 2021, June 19 or Juneteenth is a long-standing tradition that seeks to acknowledge history's painful truths, while celebrating Black culture, emancipation, and solidarity.

This year's theme was 'Rooted in Resilience', which was reflected in five community events which ranged from sobering reflections, to liberation education, and finally a communal celebration which was a downright party for all those who attended.

Happy Fourth of July from The World! Here's the how, when, and where to celebrate!

Fourth of July is this weekend and with it comes fireworks displays, community events, and loads of patriotic cheer. Here's a full list of all the ways you can join in the celebrations around Coos County! Please remember to celebrate responsibly.

North Bend & Coos Bay

Thursday, July 3rd
6:00pm – 10:00pm
The Blast by the Bay
(Fireworks begin at 10 PM)

Ko-Kwel Casino Resort
3201 Tremont Ave, North Bend

Don't miss The Blast by the Bay, the Oregon Coast's largest fireworks display on July 3rd. Ko-Kwel Casino Resort Coos Bay (formerly The Mill Casino) will light up the skies over the Bay with this year's waterfront fireworks display.

The fireworks display will be located in front of Ko-Kwel Casino Resort, but can be seen from just about anywhere along the Bay!

Friday, July 4th
10:00am
Firecracker Run,
½ Mile Kid's Run and 4K
Mingus Park

Join fellow runners and walkers for the 1/2-mile kid's run and the 4K for grown-ups. Kid's run is 1.5 times around the lake. 4K is 3 times around the lake followed by a HUGE hill in beautiful Mingus Park. You will then run on city streets, down another Mingus Park dirt trail, and finish on the paved path by the lake.

Oregon's outdoors brace for Fourth: fireworks banned amidst fire danger, wildlife concerns

By LINDA LEE
Country Media, Inc.

As the Fourth of July approaches and fireworks sales have begun across Oregon, state park officials and fire authorities are issuing a stern reminder: fireworks and explosives are strictly prohibited within Oregon State Parks and along the entire 362-mile ocean shore.

The message is clear: celebrate responsibly but leave the pyrotechnics at home.

North Bend okays $51.5 million budget but warns of mounting shortfalls

The North Bend City Council on Tuesday, June 24 adopted a $51,525,326 budget for fiscal year 2025-26, balancing next year's books but forecasting a steady slide into deficit spending within 24 months.

The plan keeps the general-fund tax rate at $6.1831 per $1,000 of assessed value and renews a 56-cent local-option levy for pool operations. The measure maintains a $2 million emergency reserve and fully funds current staffing levels.

Yet a five-year forecast included in the budget paints a starker picture. Finance Director Jeff Bridgens projects the general fund will fall short by $232,540 in fiscal 2027, $478,165 in 2028, $749,909 in 2029, $981,192 in 2030 and $1,224,684 in 2031. By 2030, reserves used to smooth cash flow between July and November property-tax collections will be nearly exhausted.

"The proposed budget reflects a city at a crossroads," City Administrator David Milliron wrote in his budget message. "Inflation has risen more than 23 percent over the past five years while our primary revenue sources—property taxes and fees—have not kept pace."

The squeeze is driven by multiple factors:

- Personnel costs. Collective bargaining agreements, higher employer pension rates and guaranteed overtime for fire personnel will push wage and benefit expenses up 3.5 percent to 4 percent each year.
- Material inflation. Staff

For the 249th time, Americans are getting ready to haul out the hot dogs and fire up the fireworks for the nation’s big birthday bash. It’s a star-spangled party, the highlight of summer for millions. There will be parades and picnics and politicking. And of course fireworks. Lots and lots of fireworks, in fact. It’s estimated Americans shell out $1 billion every July 4 on things that go boom. Have you ever wondered why we observe America’s birthday on this particular day? Sure, the Declaration of Independence was famously approved then. But we just as easily could have picked July 2. Or July 15. Or even August 2. They all have a claim on the honor. Although we had been engaged in an armed conflict with British redcoats for nearly 15 months by 1776, some delegates to the Second Continental Congress still hoped to patch things up with the Mother Country. But by early summer, they reached the conclusion that England had to go. Richard Henry Lee of Virginia proposed a resolution in June declaring America to be an independent nation. It was passed by unanimous vote on July 2. Many of our Founding Fathers thought that would be the day we commemorate our national independence. John Adams famously wrote his wife, Abigail, on July 3, “The second day of July, 1776, will be the most memorable epoch in the history of America. I am apt to believe that it will be celebrated by succeeding generations as the great anniversary festival. It ought to be commemorated as the day of deliverance, by solemn acts of devotion to God Almighty. It ought to be solemnized with pomp and parade, with shows, games, sports, guns, bells, bonfires, and illuminations, from one end of this continent to the other, from this time forward forever more.” While Adams was penning those words, his colleague Thomas Jefferson was busy scratching out a formal Declaration of Independence. The task was assigned to the Committee of Five, but Jefferson did the editorial heavy lifting. True, he borrowed heavily from Montesquieu’s “The Spirit of the Laws” and from John Locke. But he had less than 48 hours to craft a document that he knew would unleash shock waves on both sides of the Atlantic. So he did what college students under a tight deadline have done with their writing for generations: he cribbed a little. On July 4, delegates approved the final version. Which is why that date appears on the famous parchment copy now preserved in the National Archives. On July 15, New York’s delegates received permission from state authorities back home to support the Declaration. Which, one might argue, finalized the earlier vote. The July 19 entry in the Secret Journals of Congress (published in 1821) states, “Resolved That the Declaration passed on the 4th be fairly engrossed on parchment with the title and stile of “The unanimous declaration of the thirteen united states of America” & that the same when engrossed be signed by every member of Congress.” Many modern researchers now conclude that the Declaration was formally signed on August 2, which made it officially official. It seems nobody put their name on the Declaration on July 4. Signer Thomas McKean wrote in 1796, “No person signed it on that day nor for many days after.” Does it matter which date actually marks America’s actual birthday? Not really. The remarkable significance of what the Founding Fathers did far outweighs the specific day on which they did it. Because each one literally laid it on the line by picking up the quill and putting their name to the Declaration. They weren’t joking when they agreed to “mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our Sacred Honor ...” Had things turned out differently, they might very well have wound up swinging at the end of a rope. So, happy July 2. Or 4. Or 15. Or August 2. Oh well; long live the Spirit of ’76!

HOLY GOW! HISTORY: Happy July ... Whatever!

Water Bill
I hope the city council in Coquille are happy now that they taxed another 25 dollars a month on the water bill. I already have to go to food banks in Coquille to get by for the month. I don’t think I’m going to be able to pay for my water now with this new tax on it. I buy ambulance insurance every year for 60 dollars at the fire hall. Now I’m paying an extra tax to the city because they don’t care about the senior citizen and if they can survive.

Vegan 4th
As we celebrate the Fourth of July with friends, festivities and flags, basking in life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, let’s pause to consider those denied even the most basic freedoms—not just people, but animals. Whether hunted in the wild, confined in laboratories, imprisoned in zoos or circuses, caught in traps or caged, raised and killed for their fur, skin, feathers, flesh, or by-products, animals have no freedom! Consider farmed animals: billions live in confinement, deprived of autonomy, dignity, and joy. Chickens never spread their wings, pigs never root in the soil, and cows never feel the sun on their bodies. They’re bred solely for exploitation—caged, mutilated, and killed, with no say in their fate. If freedom is a value we truly cherish, shouldn’t it extend beyond our own species? Choosing a plant-based lifestyle is one powerful way to put our values into action. On this Independence Day, let’s widen our circle of compassion. Liberation shouldn’t stop with humans—it should include every living being who longs to live freely. If the roles were reversed, wouldn’t we want the same? Think about it. Clyde Bustamante session to the final joyful performance, this year’s Regional Juneteenth Celebration was a reflection of collective vision, community strength, and deep ancestral love,” said SCEC on socials following the week’s events.

Juneteenth

“To every organizer, volunteer, vendor, artist, speaker, and supporter—thank you for helping us create a space that honored history, celebrated Black joy, and uplifted the stories that too often go untold. Your energy made this not just an event—but a movement rooted in care, truth, and cultural pride.” The Coos History Museum held a documentary screening on June 12 to kick off proceedings. They showed ‘Juneteenth: Faith and Freedom’ which chronicled one man’s travels through Texas where he grapples with the ways religion was used to underprop the practice of slavery.

Monday and Wednesday the week of saw events at Southwestern Oregon Community College. First was a Juneteenth Flag Raising Ceremony where all were invited to witness the raising of the Juneteenth Flag. Taylor Stewart, Executive Director of the Oregon Remembrance

Project, held a lecture titled ‘Juneteenth: Americanism Reclaimed.’ Finally, the weekend saw a Community BBQ at Azalea Park down in Brookings, using food to facilitate important conversations around the holiday and the work it continues to inspire. June 22 saw the Soulfood Sunday Parking Lot Party at Black Market Gourmet in Coos Bay which was a blast. There was music throughout from local group The Beeting Hearts, who’s funky guitars and powerful vocals brought life and dancing to the celebration. I particularly enjoyed their cover of the Leon Bridges tune ‘River’. The food was delicious, from hibiscus tea, to the red beans and rice, and both entries to the pound cake competition. Multiple local organizations like Coos County Democrats and the Coos Watershed Association tabled the event alongside informational booths from SCEC. Along with selling custom candles as a fundraiser, the president of Marshfield’s Black Student Union read moving poetry alongside other guests. The event ended with community members of all walks of life dancing together in a wonderful display of what SCEC Director Jayden Ruff calls ‘joyful resistance’. “This is more than a celebration-it’s a call to remember where we’ve been, honor who we are, and move forward together,” wrote Ruff. “With the support of our partners and community, these events create space for healing, connection, and joyful resistance.” What is Juneteenth? For the uninitiated, Juneteenth is a celebration of the last folks living under slavery finally receiving their liberation. Despite the emancipation proclamation and its subsequent amendments being officially ratified in January of 1863, the last holdouts in the western parts of the now-defunct confederacy did not comply for two and a half more years.

It wasn’t until June 19, 1865 when Union troops led by General Gordon Granger would finally bring news of emancipation to the roughly 250,000 slaves in Galveston Bay, Texas and beyond. Thus, Juneteenth (or Freedom Day) was born and has been celebrated in Black communities ever since. In 2021, the Biden administration recognized Juneteenth as a federal holiday. Music and food have always been the cornerstone of any Juneteenth celebration, with June also representing African American Music Appreciation Month (est. by President Jimmy Carter in 1979).

Local band The Beeting Hearts rocked their set on Sunday, inspiring dancing throughout the whole event.

Lutes just misses state record for 800 at national meet

JOHN GUNTHER
For the World

Marshfield's Bodey Lutes finished his high school career in style, running the second fastest time in state history in the 800 meters in the Nike Outdoor Nationals championships in Eugene.

Lutes, who set a Class 4A state record while winning the state title in May at Hayward Field, improved that time by more than 2 seconds in the championship race for the event. His time was 1 minute, 47.74 seconds.

The state record for the 800 is 1:47.68, set by Elijah Greer of Lake Oswego in 2008.

Lutes finished second in the race, behind sophomore Cooper Lutkenhaus of Texas, who set a national high school record with his winning time of 1:45.45. His winning time was better than the NCAA champion in the event at Hayward Field this spring.

Lutes also joined his Marshfield teammates in a pair of relays at the national meet.

Marshfield's 4x100 relay team competed in the championship division, finishing 14th. The Pirates, who set a Class 4A record for the event this spring, finished in 42.94 seconds with a team of Chandler Wyatt, Lutes, Jake Day and Carter McGriff.

The winning team in the finals the next day, Arrowhead Track Club of Wisconsin, won in 41.55.

Marshfield's 4x400 relay, the state champion and Class 4A record setter, finished ninth in 3:19.76, with McGriff on the lead leg followed by Wyatt, Day and Lutes. The time improved the team's school record of 1:19.94 set at the state meet. The winning team, Cedar Falls of Iowa, ran 3:15.15.

Marley Petrey of Bandon competed in the 400 hurdles, finishing 19th in the championship division with a time of 1:01.66. Petrey was state champion at the 300 hurdles for the Tigers. Jasmine Robinson of Georgia won in 57.63.

Bandon's Caitlyn Michalek, who won her second state title in the javelin this spring while helping the Tigers to their third straight team title, finished 10th in the event. Michalek's best throw during the competition was 136-6. The winner, Najah Harris of California, threw 153-10.

North Bend's Drew Hood, who won her second state title this spring, competed in the emerging elite division for the javelin, placing third with a throw of 128-9.

North Bend's Miles Baxter finished 24th in the high jump, clearing 6-4 1/4. Baxter was state champion in the event for the Bulldogs this year. Three different jumpers cleared 7 feet. The winner was Etoro Bassey of Texas, who got over the bar at 7-4 1/4.

Coquille's Holli Vigue, the three-time state discus champion, placed 26th in her specialty with a throw of 134-3. Taylor Wiseman of Oklahoma threw 168-10 to win the event.

Coquille's Ella Henthorn was 23rd in the freshman mile, finishing in 5:21.83. Sloane Clines of Washington ran 5:00.91 to win the event.

Marshfield's Quinton Kloster competed in the pole vault in the emerging elite division but did not clear a height. The winner, Evan Jitjaeng of Texas, cleared 15-6 1/4. In the championship division for the event, Chase McGee of Washington won by clearing 16-10.

North Bend eighth-grader Angelo Pedrini competed in the middle school mile, finishing 42nd in 4:48.44. The winner, Desmond Marino of Texas ran 4:29.79.

Firework safety tips for the holiday

Summer fun is officially here, and the Fourth of July is just around the corner.

For many, fireworks are a sign of celebration, however, there are some important safety measures to consider.

Fireworks, loud sounds, and bright, sudden flashes can trigger vets, pets, and people with PTSD. If you choose to use fireworks, remember to check for local ordinances and regulations, be considerate of others, consider the time of day and the location, and prioritize safety.

Know the Difference and Consequences

It is important to know the difference between a legal consumer firework and a dangerous explosive device. Illegal items in Oregon include any firework that flies into the air, explodes or behaves in an uncontrolled or unpredicted manner. Some examples include firecrackers, torpedoes, skyrockets, Roman candles, bottle rockets, or other items of similar construction and any item containing explosive or flammable compounds.

Tablets or other devices containing explosive substances or flammable compounds are not legal in Oregon without a permit. Items such as M-80s, M-100s and blockbusters are not fireworks, they are federally banned explosives. They can cause serious injury or even death. Stay away from anything that isn't clearly labeled with the name of the item, the manufacturer's name, and instructions for proper use.

Possession of illegal fireworks in Oregon is a Class B Misdemeanor punishable by a fine up to $10,000 and/or six months in jail. If you are aware of anyone selling such devices, contact your local law enforcement agency.

All fireworks are prohibited in all state parks and on ocean beaches. Violations may be punishable by fine.

General Firework Safety

Read and follow all warnings and instructions on fireworks. Be sure that people maintain a safe distance from where fireworks are lit. Only light fireworks on a smooth, flat surface away from buildings, dry leaves, and flammable materials -never light and throw any fireworks. Never try to relight fireworks that have not fully functioned.

Fireworks are not toys. NEVER give fireworks to children. Close adult supervision of all fireworks activities is mandatory, this includes sparklers.

Pets are more sensitive to loud noises, flashing lights, and strong smells. It is best to leave your pets safely indoors, preferably with a radio or TV turned on to soften sudden noises. If you cannot leave your pet indoors, keep them leashed and under your direct control at all times. Keep your pet's collar and ID tag on at all times and update your pet's license with your current contact information in case they get separated from you.

If you are traveling and plan to use fireworks, look up local ordinances that may be in place. Remember to save the address of where you are staying or using the

Holiday races this week

A pair of fun runs are included on the holiday weekend calendar this week.

The annual Firecracker Run will be held on Friday, July 4, in Mingus Park in Coos Bay. The event includes a half-mile kids run and a 1.6-mile run/walk. The longer distance includes a few of the park's trails with steep hills.

The kids run will start at 10 a.m., followed by the longer run.

The kids run is free and includes a lap and a half on the paved path that goes around the pond in the park.

The longer run is free for members of the South Coast Running Club and costs $10 for non-members. It encompasses both the path around the pond and trails and roads in the neighborhood, including one particularly steep hill.

People can sign up for the club or learn about other upcoming club races at www.southcoastrunningclub.org.

The second holiday run is the annual White Cedar Days Run in Powers as part of that city's holiday celebration.

It will be held on Saturday, July 5, and includes both 5-kilometer and 10-kilometer races. Both start at 9 a.m., but start outside of town and the bus to the starting line will leave Powers about 30 minutes before the races start.

Registration will be held in the area of the finish line, near the corner of Second Avenue and Fir Street.

Enhanced patrols looking for impaired boaters

OREGON MARINE BOARD

The Oregon Marine Board, sheriff's offices across the state, and the Oregon State Police will be participating in Operation Dry Water, July 4-6.

The enforcement partnership is part of a nationally coordinated effort to reduce the number of accidents and fatalities related to boating under the influence of intoxicants (BUII).

Boating under the influence of intoxicants means prescription drugs, alcohol, inhalants, marijuana, or any other substance that impairs a person's ability to operate a boat safely. The effects of drugs and alcohol are amplified on the water, due to the combined impacts of environmental stressors like sun glare, wind, wave motion and other factors. Alcohol also dehydrates the body, making sudden immersion into cold water an even greater risk of drowning.

Impaired boaters face serious penalties. The consequences of a BUII conviction include possible jail time, a $6,250 fine and loss of boating privileges. Marine officers can legally obtain blood, breath or urine if a boater fails field sobriety tests.

"Recreational boating is a relatively safe activity when boating sober, wearing life jackets, and staying aware of the surroundings," Oregon Marine Board Boating Safety Program Manager Brian Paulsen said. So far this year, the common denominators for boating fatalities are not wearing a life jacket and hazardous water."

Paulsen added that if you see an impaired operator or someone who is operating in a way that threatens others' safety, call 911 to report it.

Fireworks

as Oregon grapples with an already active wildfire season. Three state parks have faced closures or evacuations due to nearby blazes in recent weeks, highlighting the extreme fire risk.

“Parks are often in remote locations that are challenging to evacuate and might take emergency responders time to reach,” park staff emphasized, underscoring the potential for rapid and devastating fires ignited by celebratory explosives, especially in areas with high winds and flammable vegetation.

Beyond the immediate fire danger, fireworks pose a significant threat to Oregon’s delicate coastal ecosystems and wildlife. Federally protected Western Snowy Plover nesting grounds as well as other coastal birds and marine animals are particularly vulnerable.

“The lights and noise from fireworks can cause birds and other wildlife to startle and flee in panic,” explained Dawn Harris, visitor services manager with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. “On the coast, this can result in the abandonment of nests, leaving eggs or young vulnerable to predators like crows, ravens or gulls.”

The environmental impact extends to the debris left behind. The staggering amount of trash left on our shores and parks is something to think about and the careless disregard for wildlife and the environment, is befuddling.

“Litter from firecrackers, bottle rockets and other explosives spread debris on beaches, which can be choking hazards for wildlife and may be toxic if ingested,” Harris added.

This isn’t a theoretical concern; after last year’s Fourth of July, volunteers collected nearly 1,000 pounds of trash from the Lincoln City beaches alone, with fireworks debris ranking as the third most collected item. Another 640 pounds of trash were collected in barrels.

“That debris directly impacts the ecological resilience of our beaches, oceans and wildlife,” stated Laurel Hillman, Ocean Shore Resource Coordinator at the Oregon Parks and Recreation Department.

“We ask that visitors respect the restrictions on fireworks and explosives to protect Oregon State Parks and the ocean shore.”

It’s crucial for individuals to check local rules and restrictions, as local governments may impose additional bans on the sale or use of fireworks, especially in areas with elevated wildfire risk.

Consumer-legal fireworks, which can only be purchased from permitted retailers, are still prohibited on: Public lands and parks; National parks and forests; Bureau of Land Management lands; U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service properties; Oregon state beaches, parks and campgrounds; Private lands protected by the Oregon Department of Forestry.

Fire officials recommend following the “Four Bs” for safe fireworks use:

- Be prepared: Always have a bucket of water or a hose nearby.
- Be safe: Keep children and pets at a safe distance and never use fireworks near dry grass or other flammable materials.
- Be responsible: Do not re-light duds and soak all used fireworks in water before disposal.
- Be aware: Use only legal fireworks and only where they are allowed.

“Before lighting any fireworks, make sure you know what’s allowed where you are,” said Oregon State Fire Marshal Mariana Ruiz-Temple. “We want everyone to enjoy the holiday, but it’s critical to follow the law and avoid actions that could cause a fire or injury.”

While education remains the primary focus, Oregon State Parks Enforcement Rangers have the authority to issue Class A violations for significant or repeated infractions, carrying a presumptive fine of up to $400.

Oregon law strictly prohibits any fireworks that fly into the air, explode, or travel more than 12 feet horizontally on the ground without a state fire marshal permit. This includes common items like bottle rockets, Roman candles and firecrackers. Violations are classified as a Class B misdemeanor, carrying a maximum fine of $2,500.

Furthermore, individuals who misuse fireworks or cause damage can be held financially responsible for fire suppression and other related costs. Parents can also be held liable for damage caused by their children.

As Oregonians finalize their Fourth of July plans, authorities reiterate: enjoy the holiday, but prioritize safety and adhere to the regulations to protect Oregon’s natural beauty and its inhabitants.

For more information on fireworks laws, retail sales permits, and safety tips, the Oregon State Fire Marshal offers resources on their fireworks webpage at: www.oregon.gov/osfm.

“Oregon Coast Bank supported us every step of the way.”

Tucked away in the hills above Cloverdale, Two Capes Lookout has been quietly taking shape for the past four years. Spread across 58 acres of forested land, the site now features a unique mix of mirrored cabins and geodesic domes — an immersive getaway where families, couples, and adventurers can relax, recharge, and take in the beauty of the Oregon coast. This spring, the resort opened its doors to the public for the first time.

“I’m most proud that we got to the finish line and opened this resort that people are having an incredible time at,” says Kevin Gindlesperger, who has been in the Pacific City area for over a decade. A lifelong lover of the coast and outdoor adventures, Gindlesperger saw an opportunity to offer visitors something better than soggy tents and crowded campgrounds.

Two Capes Lookout is also a story of community-powered perseverance. “No outside interest. No corporate money. No crowdfunding. No viral pre-open marketing campaign,” Gindlesperger explained. “We basically financed this whole thing through family contributions and Oregon Coast Bank. That’s something that I’m proud of.”

From the beginning, Oregon Coast Bank has played a key role in bringing the project to life. “One of the things I really liked about Oregon Coast Bank is that they really felt like a bank that was there to support the community,” Gindlesperger says. “It was, ‘what do you need, and then how can we support you?’ kind of thing.”

For Oregon Coast Bank, supporting local businesses and the people behind them is what it’s all about. “From beginning to where we are today, Oregon Coast Bank has been very open to listening to our ideas and what our finances were.”

Two Capes Lookout is now welcoming its first guests, and its founders are excited to share the results of their hard work — and the magic of the coast — with everyone who visits.

The default for which the foreclosure is made is the Grantor's failure to pay: Failed to pay payments which became due Total Payment(s): Total Payment(s) from 05/01/2021 to 05/08/2025 at $27,443.13 Total Late Charge(s): Total Late Charge(s) at $189.22 By this reason of said default the Beneficiary has declared all obligations secured by said Trust Deed immediately due and payable, said sums being the following, to-wit: The sum of $71,643.59 together with interest thereon at the rate of 4.37500% per annum from April 1, 2021 until paid; plus all accrued late charges thereon; and all Trustee's fees, foreclosure costs and any sums advanced by the Beneficiary pursuant to the terms of said Trust Deed. Wherefore, notice is hereby given that, the undersigned Trustee will on September 17, 2025 at the hour of 01:00 PM, Standard of Time, as established by Section 187.110, Oregon Revised Statutes, Main Entrance, Coos County Courthouse, 250 North Baxter Street, Coquille, OR 97423 County of Coos, sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash the interest in the said described real property which the Grantor had or had power to convey at the time of the execution by him of the said Trust Deed, together with any interest which the Grantor or his successors in interest acquired after the execution of said Trust Deed, to satisfy the foregoing obligations thereby secured and the costs and expenses of sale, including a reasonable charge by the Trustee. Notice is further given that any person named in Section 86.778 of Oregon Revised Statutes has the right to have the foreclosure proceeding dismissed and the Trust Deed reinstated by payment to the Beneficiary of the entire amount then due (other than such portion of said principal as would not then be due had no default occurred), together with the costs, Trustee's or attorney's fees and curing any other default complained of in the Notice of Default by tendering the performance required under the obligation or Trust Deed, at any time prior to five days before the date last set for sale. Without limiting the Trustee's disclaimer of representations or warranties, Oregon law requires the Trustee to state in this notice that some residential property sold at a Trustee's sale may have been used in manufacturing methamphetamines, the chemical components of which are known to be toxic. Prospective purchasers of residential property should be aware of this potential danger before deciding to place a bid for this property at the Trustee's sale. In construing this notice, the masculine gender includes the feminine and the neuter, the singular includes plural, the word "Grantor" includes any successor in interest to the Grantor as well as any other persons owing an obligation, the performance of which is secured by said Trust Deed, the words "Trustee" and "Beneficiary" includes their respective successors in interest, if any. applied a 15 percent increase to supplies in fiscal 2027, citing tariff uncertainty and the risk of recession, with 10 percent to 20 percent increases expected that year alone.

- State limits. Measures 5 and 50 cap annual growth in property-tax revenue, limiting the city’s ability to recapture rising costs even when new housing is built.

To mitigate the gaps, North Bend has leaned aggressively on outside dollars. Since 2021 the city has secured $16.94 million in federal, state and private grants—equal to 95.5

percent of the $17.74 million paid by local taxpayers over the same period. Recent awards include more than $5 million each of the past two years for street, safety and downtown revitalization projects.

Councilors praised the grant performance but acknowledged that most awards fund one-time capital projects rather than ongoing operations. “The grants have helped, but they’re inconsistent and can’t be relied on to fund day-to-day services,” Milliron told the council. Staff are exploring long-range options that could include a higher public safety fee, new service districts or legislative relief from state tax caps. In the meantime, departments have been asked to model potential cuts should revenue lag behind projections. Despite the warnings, Milliron emphasized that North Bend remains in a relatively strong position compared with peer cities. Debt is low, and the city recently began leasing vehicles instead of purchasing them outright to flatten capital spikes and reduce maintenance costs.

“We owe it to the people of North Bend to face these challenges head-on,” Milliron said. “By being proactive and transparent, we can make smart decisions today that protect our city’s tomorrow.” More Information: <http://northbendoregon.us/finance> Got Questions? Sawdust Theatre Melodrama opens 57th season

COQUILLE — The Sawdust Theatre opened its 57th season Friday evening, June 6, with “Recipe for Disaster” or “Camilla’s Culinary Quandary,” a melodrama about lost gold and merry matchmaking decades ago in Coquella City.

Enthusiastic crowds hooted and hollered throughout the Coquille Rotary’s Champagne Benefit Friday evening. Another raucous crowd filled the theatre on Saturday evening.

“They all enjoyed the show very much,” said Michael Thurman, theatre manager.

This year’s melodrama was written for the Sawdust Theatre by Cindy Robnett and Edna Cotner. The two-act play is loosely based on the life of local philanthropist Camilla Reitman and her family. Mrs. Reitman is remembered fondly in Coquille for her generosity in providing scholarships at Coquille High School and assisting in rebuilding the Sawdust Theatre at 120 N. Adams St. after a fire destroyed it in 1994.

Director Nancy Wilson and assistant Kendall Roberts were pleased with the first two shows.

“I could not be happier with our opening weekend,” Wilson said. “The work it takes from every part of the theatre to get the show to come together is mind boggling, but it’s always so worth it to see and hear the audience reaction. We are set for a terrific season.”

Roberts added, “It always feels like we will never be ready to open, but opening weekend never ceases to amaze me. I am so proud of the cast and all the hurdles we managed to jump through to make this an incredible show. Many audience members said this is one of the best shows they have seen us perform.”

The play is double cast. Camilla Lorenz, the heroine, is played by Michelle Baggs and Cassie White. The role of her mother, Eugenia Lorenz, is shared by Jean Esquivel and Nancy Wilson. Cousin Mary Edna is portrayed by Elizabeth Gunther and Darrica Kelly.

Villainess Vivien Van Vixen is played by Deb Keeler and Melanie Spivey while her sidekick Fifi LaFleur is portrayed by Maggie Thorne and Calleigh-Jane Kissell. Meanwhile villain Leopold Lecher is played by Dan Barnett and Jesse Knudsen. Leopold’s sidekick OR-Vile Krunk is portrayed by Jeff Ramey and Johnny Crawford.

Dean Hallmark and Robin Lambert are cast as the hero, Dr. Carl Rightman (Reitman), the handsome young dentist who arrives in Coquella City just before the Coquella City Cotillion Ball, the premier social event of the season. He catches the eye of several young ladies in the community. Camilla looks forward to preparing the supper to be served after the ball, but many question her culinary skills.

Rounding out the cast are Henry Lorenz, the heroine’s father and proprietor of the dry goods store, played by Dean Brickey and Joe Latimer. And there’s Frederick, Camilla’s mischievous and musical brother, portrayed by Ed Tyner and Max Horn.

The olios, the song and dance routines between scenes, are directed by Stephanie Kreutzer and assistant Chloe Stevenson. The acts will be lavish, said Thurman. “The dancers will be dressed in cancan costumes, various other costumes for each of the presentations.”

The melodrama will be presented every Saturday through Aug. 30. Friday performances are scheduled Aug. 1 and Aug. 29. All shows will begin at 7 p.m. Sunday matinees are scheduled June 22, July 13, July 20 and Aug. 10. All matinees begin at 2 p.m.

Tickets are $10 per person and are available at River Cities Realty, Inc., 135 E. Second St., Coquille, and online at www.sawdusttheatre.com. or at the theatre box office before each performance, if seats remain unsold.

More information is available by calling the Sawdust Theatre at 541-396-4563.

Villain Leopold Lecher (Dan Barnett) and Villainess Vivian Van Vixen (Deb Keeler) conspire to find hidden gold beneath the Lorenz Dry Goods Store while Vivian’s handmaiden, Fifi LaFleur (Maggie Thorn) listens in to their scheming, hoping she, too, might benefit from the treasure.

Dr. Carl Rightman (Robin Lambert) prepares to propose to Miss Camilla Lorenz (Michelle Baggs) at the Chenango Hotel Ballroom while her mischievous brother Frederick (Ed Tyner) interrupts the proceedings. Amazed at the intrusion are Eugenia Lorenz (Jean Esquivel), Henry Lorenz (Joe Latimer), Camilla and Frederick’s parents, and Fifi LaFleur (Callie-Jane Kissell), handmaiden to the villainess.

The Can-Can is a crowd favorite at every performance of the summer melodrama at the Sawdust Theatre in Coquille. Each show opens with this lively dance routine. Other olios, or song-and-dance routines, punctuate the evening between the scenes of the two-act play while the stage crew changes the scenery and the cast changes costumes.

Explore the Science of Sight with SWOCC’s Portable Planetarium.

Ever wonder how your eyes turn light into the images you see? Join us to find out how. Professor Derek Morrelli will present a brief lecture on the science of sight, followed by the film Seeing inside SWOCC’s portable planetarium.

This eye-opening program dives deep into the incredible journey of a single photon of light—from the moment it enters your eye to the moment your brain interprets it as vision. It’s a story of biology, chemistry, and physics, all working together through a process called phototransduction.

This program is free to attend. However, seating is limited. Entrance to the lecture and planetarium is on a first-come, first-served basis, with multiple opportunities to attend.

TheWorldLink.com/community/bandon

As I See It

By Mary Schamehorn

An item in the June 6, 1957, Western World told of a new building in town. “A concrete block building 18x24 in size is a recent addition to trailer court facilities at Dunn’s Auto Court and Trailer Park, according to an announcement by O.A. Dunn ((first photo), manager.

“The structure, which houses laundry and restrooms, was built by Dow-Con-Struction and has been in use for a week, Dunn said.”

Dunn’s Auto Court was on the corner of June Avenue and Highway 101, just south of Wilson’s Market, now the site of a mobile home park.

Another article in the same issue of the paper explained that Bandon’s new airport was pushed ahead by three developments, including the completion of the access road (second photo) from highway 101.

“The State Board of Aeronautics has awarded a contract for 3000 yards of rock for surfacing the runway. The contract went to Bandon Rock. Hangars and a club house were ‘staked out’ Sunday by a work party of Bandon Aero Club members Howard Kehl, Warren Albertson and Bob Schultz who also cleaned up some debris from the runway.”

A front page article in the July 3, 1965, Western World told of the death of August Herman, who had died the previous week. Herman was prominent in the Bandon’s area past ship-building era, when the industry was a thriving activity in the first three decades of the 1900s, when water transportation was key to most commerce and much personal travel.

Herman Brothers boats have spanned more than 50 years of local history, dating back to 1915.

Now, 50 years later, the article 1965 pointed out, the Billy Moore (third photo) is in daily service for Moore Mill & Lumber Co., whose crewmen use the craft to handle logs in the river.

I was so sorry to learn that Art Roberson, one of the truly good guys, died last week at the age of 80. Art was life-flighted to Eugene on June 10 after a fall. He had emergency brain surgery and never really recovered, according to a family member. He passed away Thursday.

His local survivors include his wife, Mary Carol Roberson; Julie and David Miller and their daughter, MaddyK.

Once again, Bandon Dunes Golf Resort puts Bandon on the proverbial map. Five of the Dunes’ courses were listed on Golf Digest’s latest list of America’s 100 greatest public courses. Pacific Dunes was No. 2; Bandon Dunes, No. 9; Bandon Trails, No. 11; Old Macdonald, No. 14, and the Sheep Ranch, No. 27.

City of Bandon electric utility customers received a text message June 19 shortly before 5:30 p.m. advising of a power outage from Two Mile south to Langlois, as a result of a car hitting a power pole.

It required an emergency pole change over, and the text said the outage was expected to last no longer than two hours. I did not see a police report of who was driving the vehicle that hit the pole.

I saw photos posted on Facebook of a vehicle in the water just below the Port of Bandon boat launch Monday, June 16. The vehicle was launching a boat, which was also pictured, undamaged, but because of the heavy concentration of green algae on the ramp, the brakes did not hold and the vehicle ended up submerged nearly to its roof in the river. No identification as to whose day was ruined!

KATU-TV, Portland, posted Sunday that Face Rock Creamery, based in Bandon, was recalling two specific batches of its Vampire Slayer Garlic Cheddar curds over a possible contamination with Listeria Monocytogenes.

The recall was for 6 ounce cups with use-by dates of 08292025 which were sold at Trader Joe’s locations in Northern California and Northern Nevada.

As of Sunday, these have been no reports of illness linked to the recall, said the article.

As a result of the resignation of the City’s planning director Dana Nichols, who left her employment this week, the City has hired a new planner, in a position to be known as the Community Development Director.

Jeff C. Mitchem will begin his duties with the City on Aug. 11. In the meantime, the City may retain the services of the Lane Council of Governments.

Mitchem brings a strong background in public sector planning and land use management. He holds a bachelor’s degree in Urban Studies from the University of Oregon, where he also completed graduate-level coursework in the School of Architecture.

Shannon Smith has been hired as the planning assistant, and is already on the job. She previously served in the City’s electric department where she has successfully managed GIS data, supported planning initiatives, created custom maps and reports, and maintained accurate data records. She holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Interdisciplinary Studies with a minor in Geographic Information Science from Western Oregon University.

For the third straight year, the Greater Bandon Association (GBA) has been designated as an Accredited Main Street America program, the highest recognition awarded by Main Street America. This designation acknowledges the organization’s excellence in preservation-based economic development and community revitalization using the Main Street Approach, according to board member Tom Orsi.

Bandon is one of only eight cities in Oregon to qualify for Accredited status in 2025.

Beach Loop Realty partnered with FOCCAS and Northwest Spay & Neuter to bring affordable cat neuter services to the Bandon community. The event took place Saturday, June 28, in the Beach Loop Realty parking lot at 535 2nd St. SE.

The goal was to neuter 80 to 100 male cats, which includes rabies vaccine, and available microchips.

People are reminded that the guest speaker for the Tuesday, June 24, Meet and Greet, which starts at noon at Bandon Fisheries Warehouse was Bandon’s police chief Cory Dhillon, who may bring several of his officers with him.

Although I am not sure of the program, I know that Southern Coos Hospital and Health Center will sponsor the July 8 program, and Jim Proehl of the Bandon History Museum will probably talk about the old Coast Guard building on July 15.

People are reminded that the Fourth of July fireworks display will be shot off from the northwest corner of the Moore Mill property, which fronts on Riverside Drive. This is a change from past years.

In an effort to stem the use of illegal fireworks, Police Chief Cory Dhillon announced earlier that there will be an added presence on the Fourth, with increased manpower and patrols to police illegal fireworks. The city of Newport announced this week that it is again banning the use of personal fireworks as concerns about wildfire continue to increase in the state. They will continue to have their sanctioned fireworks show, and the purchase of fireworks is still permitted inside city limits.

Bandon’s events for Friday, July 4, include the parade, which starts at 10 a.m. and winds its way down the highway from Ninth Street and along First Street to Bandon Fisheries Warehouse.

At noon, the Cardboard Boat Regatta Race will begin at the Port of Bandon

Carol Brock-Noorlander

February 21, 1942 – May 19, 2025

Carol Brock-Noorlander passed peacefully on Monday, May 19th at Bay Area Hospital, surrounded by her loved ones as they shared stories of her character and their most cherished memories. She was 83 years old.

Born in Utah, Carol made North Bend her home in 1974, where she lived for 51 years. It was here that she raised five strong children and built a life filled with love, faith, and community.

Carol was the heart of her family—a devoted matriarch whose presence anchored generations. She took great joy in attending her grandchildren’s and great-grandchildren’s events, traveling to annual family trips in Ashland, enjoying movie outings (especially the popcorn), caring for the deer, birds, and wild turkeys that regularly visited her yard, and meticulously compiling detailed genealogy books to honor and preserve her family’s history. A devoted member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, Carol’s life was a quiet but powerful testament to faith, service, and humility.

Carol’s influence was profound. She dedicated her life to her family, her church, and her community. Her compassion guided everything she did—she was known for putting others before herself and offering steadfast support with grace and kindness. She became a second mother and source of guidance to countless family friends, neighbors, and members of the community—always ready to lend a hand, offer counsel, or open her door to those in need.

Carol showed those around her how to persevere through life’s toughest challenges with strength, grace, and unwavering compassion. She met adversity with a selfless spirit and inspired others not only by what she endured, but by the dignity and care with which she carried herself through it all.

Carol is survived by her brother Roger; her children: Jamie Brock, Susan Brock, Alesa Terry, Karin Davenport, and Greg Brock; her stepchildren from the Noorlander family; as well as over 10 grandchildren and 9 great-grandchildren. Her legacy continues through each of them, carried forward in their memories, characters, and love.

A celebration of Carol’s life will be held on August 16, 12:30 - 3:00 PM at the Back Alley Pub & Grill in North Bend, OR.

In honor of Carol, the family warmly invites those who knew her to share their memories and stories. If Carol touched your life, please scan the QR code or Carol Brock-Noorlander exemplified strength, independence, and love throughout her life. Her enduring spirit lives on in the hearts of those she touched and in the legacy she leaves behind. She will be deeply missed and fondly remembered by all who had the privilege of knowing her.

William “Dennis” Daugherty

March 23, 1955 – June 6, 2025

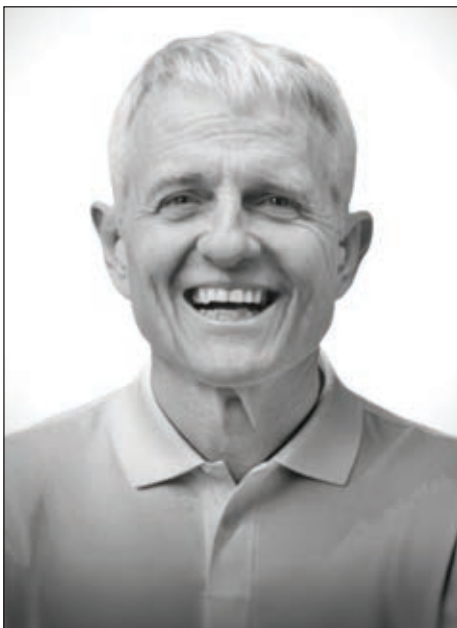

William “Dennis” Daugherty, a man so full of life, reluctantly left this one listening to the sweet sounds of John Coltrane at his home in North Bend, Oregon. Dennis will be remembered for his magnetic smile, easygoing nature, mischievous quick wit, and heart of gold. His tireless work ethic was matched only by his generosity and humility.

He grew up in Culver City, California. As a child, Dennis truly was a menace—getting into all kinds of misadventures with his roguish friends. He enjoyed surfing, going to rock & roll concerts, and driving hot rods like a bat out of hell. He discovered his lifelong passion for road cycling as a young adult, and nobody’s been able to catch up to him since.

Dennis showed his love through acts of service- he would do just about anything for the ones he loved. He doted on Vicki, his wife of 39 years and was the world’s greatest Dad and Pop Pop. He and Vicki moved to Oregon in 1990 and opened their own appliance business, which they successfully operated for 28 years. It started small with Dennis repairing used appliances from their home, and business grew thanks to the loyalty and kindness of the community and their dedicated employees. Dennis cared deeply for his customers, many of whom became close friends.

Dennis leaves behind his wife Vicki, daughters Moriah and Corina, and grandchildren Oscar, Violet, Walter, Matilda and William Grey. He is also survived by his stepmother Sandra and brother Danny. He is preceded in death by his father Gilbert, mother Barbara, and brother David.

Our hearts will always ache in his absence, but we are forever grateful that he was ours. He had a way of lifting the mood just by walking into a room, with that happy-go-lucky spirit, a joke for every occasion, and a laugh that made everything feel a little lighter. We’ll nurture the light he brought into the world by serving others with quiet integrity, choosing what’s right over what’s easy, and finding humor even in life’s harder moments. Thanks a million, Dennis.

Dennis was a master storyteller, and many who knew him have tales of their adventures together. If you have stories or memories to share, we would love to hear them. Please share them directly with family or on his memorial Facebook account under the name “Dennis Daugherty”.

Jacqueline (Jackie) Ford

February 3, 1937 – June 8, 2025

Boise — Jacqueline (Jackie) Louise Ford, 88, passed into heaven on June 8, 2025 in Boise, ID. She was born February 3, 1937 in Bozeman, Montana to Floyd and Edythe (Martel) Ford. The family including her older sister, Carole, moved to Coos Bay, Oregon before she started school, where she lived until graduating from Marshfield High School in 1955. She was the only girl that played on the boy’s tennis team and in 2016 was inducted into their hall of fame!

Jackie attended Oregon State University and earned a BS in Education (PE). After graduation she moved to California to teach high school Health and PE in Rio Vista and Oceanside and later taught at TVCC in Ontario, Oregon. She left teaching to run her own businesses, Ford-McNeil Christian Art and Book store in Caldwell, Idaho and also to work her 20 acre seed farm. She retired in Boise and enjoyed many years of traveling all over the world with her best friend, Lydia. They loved to fish and camp and would travel to where her sister lived in Eastern Oregon for many camping trips with her nieces, great nieces, and great nephew. When her sister retired in Arizona there were many fun trips there also with the extended family.

Jackie loved animals especially her pups, Koko and Jazzy. She worked tirelessly planting beautiful flowers in their yard. Jackie was a strong Christian woman and was very involved in many churches in Boise.

Jackie is survived by her two nieces,

Vicki (Walt) Donovan, Chandler, AZ and Jimi Vickers, Eugene, OR, two great nieces, Trinity Donovan (Chandler) and Tara Donovan (LA), great nephew, Travis Donovan (Chandler), two great great nieces and many good friends.

She always kept us laughing right up until the end. Jackie never met a stranger and was so friendly and generous to everyone. She will be greatly missed but we can rejoice in the fact that she went to heaven on her mother’s birthday and they are all together once again! At her request there will not be a service.

Cards may be sent to Vicki Donovan, PO Box 7078, Chandler, AZ 85246.

Two locals graduate from Oregon Charter Academy

BANDON, Ore. — On June 7, Oregon Charter Academy (ORCA) celebrated its 2025 class of graduating students at the Oregon State Fairgrounds in Salem. Of the nearly 305 graduating students, two are from Bandon and Coos Bay. This milestone comes as ORCA marks 20 years as the state's first and longest-running virtual public charter school. The school continues to deliver high-quality K-12 education statewide and is consistently ranked among the top performers in test scores and graduation rates, offering an award-winning curriculum that blends virtual learning with in-person experiences. “When I think about the class of 2025, three words come to mind: “Keep Moving Forward,” a quote by the innovative visionary

Walt Disney. We have all pushed, persevered, and put everything we have into making this moment happen, and truthfully, we all more than exemplify this quote, we embody it,” said Emily Pennington, student government president, ORCA. “The class of 2025 is going to take this skill to “Keep Moving Forward” and go as far as their dreams can take them.”

Bandon and Coos Bay graduates include: Alex Forrester (Alex received cumulative honor roll recognition) of Bandon and Theo Flackus of Coos Bay. “We are confident that wherever these students go next, they are prepared to thrive,” said Joe Mogford, high school principal, ORCA. “It’s a privilege to be part of their educational journey. Congratulations, graduates — you all will do great things!”

ORCA’s graduating students have benefited from a tailored, dynamic curriculum designed to prepare them for the challenges of higher education and the workforce. Unique opportunities at ORCA, such as the career and technical education program (ASCEND), the college and career readiness program (AVID), and various safe social events have empowered students to excel and pursue their aspirations.
