Did you know?

Did you know that dental hygiene principles were recorded a thousand years ago by a Middle Eastern doctor?

It's true! About 1100 AD the Persian physician Abulcasis wrote about plaque and tartar on teeth, how infection was transferred to the gum tissue, and recommended scraping the teeth with small tools, much like we do today.

We've come a long way! With excellent dental care from Dr. Strong, you will protect your teeth, look great, and feel even better. We're here to help!

Kids can learn to grow grub

MYRTLE POINT - Growin' Yer Grub Day Camp will be held Aug. 2-3 in Coquille for grades 2-3 or Aug. 9-10 in Myrtle Point for grades K-1.

The Growin' Yer Grub summer day camp program is a fun adventure for kids who have just completed the grades listed above. Campers will learn about growing their own food and how to use it to create nutritious and tasty meals and snacks. It is a great way to learn connections between gardening and nutrition while having fun and making new friends. Camp fee is $35.

To register, complete the PDF registration form found at <http://extension.oregon-state.edu/coos/camps> and return with payment to the

4-H Office.

Killer whales topic of OIMB talk

CHARLESTON - The public is invited to hear Robert Pitman speak about his research on the ecology and systematics of orcas in Antarctic waters at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 2, at the Oregon Institute of Marine Biology, 63466 Boat Basin Road, Charleston.

His free talk, titled "The family that preys together: Killer whale studies in Antarctic waters" will be held at the OIMB boat-house. Those attending are asked to park at OIMB or along Boat Basin Road and walk past the Coast Guard housing to the OIMB boat-house auditorium.

Robert Pitman is a marine ecologist at the NOAA Southwest Fisheries Science Center in La Jolla, Calif. His research interests include biogeography, foraging ecology, evolutionary biology and general ecology of marine birds, turtles and mammals. Pitman's current research addresses Antarctic killer whale ecology and systematics.

Roaring Sea open house set for July 30

PORT ORFORD – The Roaring Sea Arts July open house will be held from 1-4 p.m. Sunday, July 30, at the Roaring Sea Studio in Port Orford.

Everyone is welcome to get together to share or enjoy musical, artistic and poetic entertainment, as well as potluck snacks and refreshments.

The Kammeroque Trio, plus flutist Heidi Connolly, bassoonist Cathleen Williams, as well as Strider Kachelein, will provide musical entertainment. Other musicians are welcome and invited. Some literary favorites, including Joyce Mueller, Weld Champneys, Cairehn McGowan and Joseph Byrne, are also expected.

All musical, poetic and artistic participants and audience members are welcome. Impromptu creations and presented artworks are encouraged for anyone who wants to add art to the “gallery.”

The entrance to the Roselius home, where Roaring Sea Studio is located, is the driveway shared with the Sea Crest Motel just south of Port Orford on U.S. Highway 101. Turn left from the driveway’s end and park along the main driveway, or in neighboring driveways. The neighbor at the cul-de-sac allows parking on the right hand side of his driveway.

For further information about treats of all kinds (edible, musical, artistic) call Donna Roselius at 541-332-4444 or Suzanne Monks at 541-332-0540.

Shipwrecks of Curry County talk on July 29

NORTH BEND - North Bend author Hannah Contino will give a free talk about her new book “Shipwrecks of Curry County,” which was published in July by Arcadia Press. Contino’s presentation takes place at 1 p.m. Saturday, July 29, at the North Bend Public Library.

Historically, mariners considered the Oregon coast one of the most dangerous in the world. In 1852, explorers discovered gold in the rivers and along the beaches in Curry County. The area contained many potential dangers to ships, including unpredictable weather, frequent fog, and submerged rocks and reefs. There have been many shipwrecks in this coastal region.

During the talk, the audience will learn about the dangers that early mariners had to overcome, and the author will give insight into some of the major shipwrecks in the Curry County. Program highlights include information about the tanker Larry Doheny (torpedoed by a Japanese submarine during WWII, the Cottoneva (whose propeller remains on display outside the Port Orford Visitor Center, and the Mary D. Hume (the would-be museum ship that sank at a dock).

Contino has been a researcher at the Coos Historical Museum, and is the author of Shipwrecks of Coos County.

This program is free and open to the public.

Reflections of Love at Victory Tabernacle

COQUILLE – Everyone is invited to see a free performance by the musical group Reflections of Love at 6 p.m. Sunday, July 30, at Victory Tabernacle Church, 360 E. Third St., in Coquille.

Reflections of Love ministers hope and encouragement to all ages through their music. For more information, call 541-396-4500.

Meet & Greet the Artist features Heather Bouher

BANDON – This week’s Meet & Greet the Artist features Heather Bouher, who continues to bring new life to old glass. Bouher will be at the Second Street Gallery from 11 a.m.-3 p.m. Saturday, July 29 and Sunday, July 30.

Bouher will be presenting her Bandon Fire Glass “Ocean” collection, created from a found cache of mason jars that were melted during Bandon’s 1936 fire. Once the pieces are cleaned through tumbling, she begins an extensive sorting process that can take anywhere from a few weeks to several months. A self-proclaimed “glass whisperer,” Bouher has been letting the glass speak for itself since falling in love with it’s reflective properties nearly 10 years ago.

From dainty earrings and pendants to chunky statement pieces, the collection will feature either copper or sterling silver elements, with handcrafted clasps and ear wires and her distinctive, self-taught wire wrapping style. Colors vary from clear to light green and light blue, with shapes that are reminiscent of waves, sea foam, various elements of sea life and “mermaid tears.”

Bouher also creates suncatchers for Dragonfly Farm and Nursery, works as a server at the Wheelhouse Restaurant in Old Town Bandon and enjoys trying to capture the essence of her recycled glass work through photography. She is excited to be returning to the stage for the first time in several years, as well. Having studied theater arts in college, she is currently rehearsing for the upcoming Bandon Playhouse production “The Wizard of Oz,” which opens Aug. 10 at the Sprague Theater.

Join Bouher this weekend for the best selection of the Bandon Fire Glass “Ocean” collection. Perhaps you may discover that the glass speaks to you, too.
