Oregon Governor Tina Kotek has declared a state of emergency due to potential disruptions in fuel delivery as a result of the second major Olympic Pipeline shutdown in the past three

The pipeline supplies more than 90% of Oregon's transportation fuel, delivering to terminals in Portland, where fuel is distributed throughout the state.

Following ORS 401.165, the Governor determined a state of emergency exists across Oregon due to a disruption of Oregon's primary fuel supply system. Executive Order 25-30 enables a change in the delivery of fuel to maintain adequate fuel supply for the state of Oregon.

Executive Order 25-30 also directs the following actions:

• The Oregon Department of Emergency Management (OEM) will activate the state's Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan (CEMP) as needed and coordinate necessary access to the use of personnel, equipment, and subject matter expertise of state agencies required to assess, alleviate, respond to, mitigate, and recover from conditions caused by this emergency.

• The Oregon Department of Energy (ODOE), in accordance with ORS 176.809 and the Oregon Fuel Action Plan, will serve as lead for Emergency Support to Fuels and support coordination of state response, including information sharing and liaison between the fuel industry and state response agencies, and other actions identified in the Oregon Fuel Action Plan, and make recommendations to the Governor's Office and OEM for any further state response actions, if warranted.

• The Oregon Department of Transportation (ODOT) will provide regulatory relief for commercial motor vehicle operations while providing direct assistance supporting emergency relief efforts related to the pipeline shutdown to include temporary waivers for state-regulated hours-of-service requirements for commercial motor vehicle operations in accordance with ORS 823.012.

This order is issued to ensure a continued adequate supply of fuel in Oregon. Oregon is not experiencing supply constraints currently. Price gouging during an emergency is unlawful and violations can be reported to the Oregon Department of Justice Consumer Protection Services, which has the authority to investigate unlawful trade practices. This order shall remain in effect from November 24, 2025, and expires on December 24. 2025 unless extended or terminated earlier by the Governor.

Additionally, earlier today, the Environmental Quality Commission (EQC) issued variances to certain requirements in the Clean Fuels Program and Climate Protection Program as a proactive measure to support continual fuel delivery through alternative methods and reliable supplies in Oregon if the Olympic Pipeline closure continues.

Learn more about these variances on the Oregon Department of Environmental Quality's (DEQ) Fuel Variances web page.

CBPD Officer J. Sparks Receives Life Saving Award

FROM THE COOS BAY POLICE DEPARTMENT

On Friday, November 7, 2025, Officer Joseph Sparks was presented with a Life Saving Award (with valor) at the Oregon Peace Officers' Association annual banquet at the Spirit Mountain Casino in Grand Ronde, OR. Officer Sparks was nominated for the award by Captain Thomas Lindahl, the Operations Captain of the Coos Bay Police Department, for his heroic actions February 21, 2025.

Below is an excerpt from the nomination Cpt. Lindahl submitted to the OPOA:

"On February 21, 2025, while on dayshift patrol, Officer Joseph Sparks demonstrated extraordinary initiative and heroism that directly resulted in saving a man's life. At approximately 1312 hours, after clearing a previous call, Officer Sparks noticed a medical emergency in the dispatch queue. Although the Coos Bay Police Department does not typically respond to medical calls, Officer Sparks reviewed the call details and learned that an elderly male was choking on a sandwich.

Recognizing the urgency, Officer Sparks immediately responded to the scene. Upon arrival, he found the victim unconscious and not breathing. Without hesitation, Officer Sparks lifted the man from his chair and performed the Heimlich maneuver. His swift and decisive actions successfully dislodged the obstruction from the victim's airway. Within seconds, the man began breathing again and soon regained consciousness. Officer Sparks arrived and began administering life-saving aid within three minutes of the initial 911 call—well before paramedics. His quick thinking, composure under pressure, and willingness to act outside the typical scope of duty were instrumental in preventing what would have likely been a fatal outcome. Officer Sparks' selfless actions exemplify the highest standards of public service and reflect great credit upon himself and the Coos Bay Police Department. His courage and commitment to the preservation of life make him highly deserving of the Life Saving Award."

Please join us in congratulating Officer Joseph Sparks!

Ready or not, the holiday shopping season is upon us. Though online orders have taken a big bite out of the in-person retail experience, stores and shops will still be plenty crowded.

And few folks will even know a quiet, unassuming genius played a huge role in making shopping a little Sylvan Goldman was just like ambitious businessmen everywhere. He was always on the lookout for ways to take a good idea and make it better; then take better and make it

Born into a Jewish family in Indian Territory (modern Oklahoma) in 1898, he was raised in his immigrant father's dry goods store, where he learned the family business. Though he left school after the eighth grade, he still had a keen imagination and a clear head for business, eventually finding his life's calling in the grocery business.

HOLY COW! HISTORY:

Sylvan's Crazy Shopping Contraption

By the late 1930s, Sylvan was approaching age 40. He and his brother had spent time in California during the Roaring '20s. They returned to Oklahoma, eager to copy a new concept that had fascinated them in the Golden State: the "supermarket." They were convinced Sooner shoppers would embrace it, too.

In time, they opened one in Oklahoma City. It soon grew to five stores. By 1934, they acquired the Humpty-Dumpty grocery store chain.

That success didn't satisfy Sylvan. Good wasn't good enough; he wanted to create the best possible shopping experience for his customers, many of whom were women.

Shoppers back then usually went to the store with a basket, which they carried on one arm. If they put in too many items, it was unwieldy to lug around. Mothers with small children frequently had a hard time keeping the kids in line while also struggling with a bulky basket.

Inspiration came calling.

Tinkering in his spare time, Sylvan came up with something new. Drawing on the example of a folding chair, he devised a metal frame complete with wheels and a handle for pushing. Shoppers could fill it with products to their heart's content, and moms could even place unruly little ones in it so they could focus on their buying.

Giving his invention the cumbersome label, "Basket Carriage for Self-Service Stores," Sylvan proudly unveiled it to his customers on June

And they hated it.

Men thought using the contraption made them look effeminate. Women said the thing reminded them of something many had happily put behind them. "I am done pushing my last baby carriage!" one angry shopper snapped.

Sylvan's bright shopping idea was in danger of being shelved. The very innovation he originally thought would gain new business suddenly risked losing customers for good. He had to do something, and do it fast.

Once again, creativity came to the

Sylvan hired models, the prettiest ladies and the handsomest gentlemen he could find, paying them to simply push his new-fangled carts up and down store aisles like regular

And it worked. Then, as now, people love to associate themselves with the smart set. Seeing good-looking people using the new gizmo persuaded other shoppers to grab one, too. And in doing so, they saved the modern shopping cart.

Sylvan's imagination didn't stop there. He also invented the grocery stacker, a milk bottle rack, and even a baggage cart still used at airports today. All of which made him a multi-millionaire.

He was generous with his money, supporting the arts in his native Oklahoma, the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and dozens of other charities. He was even made an honorary chief of the Pawnee Indian Tribe and inducted into the Oklahoma Hall of Fame.

When he passed away in 1984 at age 86, his obituary said he was worth $200 million (nearly $750 million today). The Washington Post reported it was probably twice that. Not bad for a guy who didn't make it to the ninth grade.

So, the next time you're pushing a shopping cart (or buggy, depending on the part of the country where you live), be sure to remember Sylvan — plus all the handsome hunks and lovely ladies — who made shopping in comfort possible.

An Update on the PCIP: Funding, Engagement, and the Path Ahead

By Melissa Cribbins, Executive DIRECTOR, PACIFIC COAST INTER-MODAL PORT PROJECT

As the Executive Director of the Pacific Coast Intermodal Port (PCIP) project, I want to extend my appreciation to the many community members who continue to ask thoughtful questions, attend public meetings, and reach out to our team. The level of interest in this project is significant, and we welcome it. Major infrastructure planning requires careful consideration, and thoughtful feedback and questions are an important part of that

The PCIP project is still in the pre-planning stage. That means that while we have a strong sense of the project's goals, benefits, and challenges, much of the detailed engineering, design work, and environmental analysis is still yet to be completed. Those steps, supported by both state and federal funding, are designed specifically to answer the very questions we hear most often from the community. We do not have the answer to every one of those questions today, but we are committed to developing those answers and sharing them through a public process.

Over the past year, the Port has secured more than $150 million in state and federal funding for early design and permitting activities. This includes significant federal grants awarded through programs such as INFRA, CRISI, and the Railroad Crossing Elimination Program. These funds will support engineering, environmental studies, rail modernization, and pre-construction work. We also appreciate the Oregon Legislature's decision to invest $100 million in channel improvement bonds to widen and deepen the channel—funding that cannot be released until federal permitting and funding are secured and a series of rigorous documented milestones are met. These financial safeguards ensure that the project continues to be developed responsibly.

Like many projects across the country, the PCIP was affected by the recent federal government shutdown. One of our major awarded grantsthe $25 million INFRA grant—cannot be distributed until federal staff are back online to complete the necessary steps. Now that the government has reopened, we are working closely with the U.S. Department of Transportation to move that process forward. As soon as the INFRA funds are released, we will issue competitive Requests for Proposals for consultants to conduct design development, engineering, and environmental reviews. Those proposals will mark the transition from pre-planning into the next major phase of planning work.

In the meantime, our team has continued to meet with local governments. Tribes, civic groups, neighborhood organizations, business associations, and legislative stakeholders. This summer and fall, we provided project updates at the Oregon Infrastructure Summit, the City Club of Eugene, the Coastal Caucus Economic Summit, Florence Rotary and other regional forums. We coordinated a tour of the Coos Bay Rail Line for elected officials and agency partners, and we met recently with the Whiteaker Community Council, Active Bethel, and Trainsong neighborhoods in Eugene as another opportunity to share information and hear concerns directly from multiple Eugene area neighborhood associations.

We also launched a redesigned project website

(pcipproject.com), added a detailed frequently-asked questions and answers section, began distribution of quarterly newsletters and created a new three-minute project overview video. To increase access and transparency, the Port has also added an additional monthly Port Commission meeting—held the first Tuesday of each monthdedicated solely to PCIP

As this work advances, there will be many more opportunities for the public to learn about the project, ask questions, and offer input. The upcoming design and environmental studies will provide detailed information about operations, traffic, environmental and social impacts, and benefits

for our region. These analyses take time, but they are essential for the project to move forward, and they will be conducted openly with the community

There is still a great deal of work ahead, but we are encouraged by the progress made and the level of engagement from across the South Coast and beyond. We remain committed to listening, learning, and providing timely updates as more information becomes available.

Sincerely, Melissa Cribbins Executive Director Pacific Coast Intermodal Port Project

Endangered Species

This morning, we hear that Trump will dismantle protections for endangered species. These are animals (beavers, sea otters, wolves, spotted owls, etc.) that, as keystone species, play extra crucial roles in the ecosystems where they live. The announcer of the news said the people will be sad if they can no longer see these animals in the wild. Loving to see these animals is not the most important reason to save them. We have passed laws to save them because without the ecosystems they support, we cannot live. We are dependent on healthy natural systems for our very lives. The green world of plants and forests also contain keystone species. Take a deep breath. Know that this is possible only because plants and trees are consuming the

and producing the oxygen that you breathe in.

Trump appears to be totally ignorant about the importance of the natural world. He seems to think that the only value of the environment is the financial profit that can be make from exploiting natural resources. Of course we need to utilize natural resources in order to live, but we need to be careful do not destroy systems that make life possible. And this is exactly what Trump will to do to Earth's precious atmosphere. He is promoting and subsidizing fossil fuels, one of the major causes of the climate crisis, while stopping all forms of clean energy. Money will do no good on a frying planet.

North Bend twins Brynn and Haley Buskerud have become judo world champions, setting history in the process

The Buskeruds won the gold medal in the U21 Ju-no-kata division in the Kato World Championships November 8-9 in Paris, France. In the process, they became the first United States athletes to earn medals in the International Judo Federation event, which was first contested in 2009

"This is a tremendous historic first for the international USA Judo Kata team," said Diane Jackson, chair of the USA Judo Kata Committee and coach for Team USA. "With international skill levels and competition increasing every year, this makes their achievement even more impressive. I am so proud of their dedication and hard work that is needed to perform at this high level."

Brynn and Haley were the only juniors on the United States team that traveled to the event.

They bested 14 other teams from Asia, South America and Europe.

'They made the finals with an excellent score," said Rob Schab, their coach at Shipyard Judo in the Bay Area. "The Korean and Italian teams looked strong, but in the finals Brynn and Haley's performance was at the top of the leaderboard from the start.'

The Buskeruds finished with a score of 393. Ryomin Woo and Ryoah Woo of Korea finished with 387 points and Siria Quartieri and Anna Demola of Italy scored 386 points. Fourth place went to Minguk Kim and Dayeon Kim of Korea with a score of 379.

"Coming off the mat, we saw our score and our jaws dropped," Haley said. "That performance was exhilarating, no nerves in sight. I'll never forget that feeling."

It's a moment the sisters will treasure. "It was such an honor and privilege to be part of this experience," Brynn said. "Winning in Paris was a dream from the beginning of our journey. Having it come true is a moment I'll never forget.'

The Buskeruds have risen up in the United States judo rankings over the

They have won three national titles and had won two international titles before the world championships, most recently taking the gold medal in the Pan American Judo Kata championships in Cancun,

They qualified for the world and Pan American events with their performance in the national championships in Alabama in May, where they won the U23 division for the third straight year. They also took silver while competing in the Open division for the first time.

The Buskeruds graduated from North Bend High School. Haley is a sophomore at the University of Oregon and Brynn will be studying in Luneburg, Germany, during the 2026 winter and spring terms.

The top-ranked Cougars limited Henley's high-powered offense to just 164 yards and forced three turnovers as Cascade won its first state title since 2016. Henley was playing in its third straight championship game and had beaten Marshfield in the semifinals to reach the final.

Cade Coreson had touchdown passes of 38 yards to Josiah Hwakins and 57 yards to Matthew Hinkle as the Cougars built a 16-0 lead early in the second quarter. Hinkle and Coreson also had touchdown runs and Bryce Kuenzi had two scores on the ground for Cascade. Kuenzi, who had scored six touchdowns in a semifinal win over Scappoose, rushed for 127 yards and Coreson passed for 179 for the Cougars. Cascade finished the season unbeaten.

CLASS 2A: No. 2 Lost River stunned top-ranked Heppner 24-22, getting a 28-yard touchdown pass from Kyle Diaz to Kellen Dunlea for the winning score with just 25 seconds to go in the Lost River had eliminated Bandon in the semifinals a week earlier in Grants Pass and avenged its lone loss of the regular season, to Heppner 43-8 back in early September.

The Mustangs came into the game unbeaten and had dominated nearly all their foes, including outscoring their first three playoff opponents by a combined

But Lost River built a 12-0 lead in the first half on a touchdown pass from Diaz to Drew McDonald and a touchdown run by Connor Guthrie.

Alakae Rodriguez had the first of two touchdown runs for Heppner, but Lost River got a 1-yard run on a quarterback keeper by Diaz and led 18-12 at halftime.

Heppner stormed back in the second half, getting a safety, the second score by Rodriguez and a touchdown pass from Caylan Proudfoot to Tripp Stewart with 3:57 to go to take a 22-18 lead.

But Lost River responded with the final touchdown. Two plays before the score, Diaz rushed for 23 yards on fourth down to keep the drive alive.

CLASS 3A: Top-ranked Cascade Christian won its third title in four years, leaving Class 3A on top with a 35-28 win over Burns at Summit High School on Saturday.

The Challengers, who have opted to move up to Class 4A starting next fall, denied the Hilanders a second straight title.

Deryk Farmer had a pair of touchdown passes to Alex Fiannaca and also ran for a touchdown for Cascade Christian. His second touchdown pass to Fiannaca put Cascade Christian in front late in the fourth quarter.

Burns quarterback Jack Wright had a trio of long touchdown passes to Coltin Miller, covering 76, 69 and 80 yards. But another one of his passes was intercepted by Bryson Walker, who returned it 43 yards for the opening score of the game for Cascade Christian. Walker also had a 3-yard touchdown run with 1:25 to go to give the Challengers a 35-22

Burns followed with Wright's final TD pass to Miller, and the Hilanders recovered an onside kick, but the Challengers sacked Wright twice to effectively end the game.

Wright passed for 348 yards, 295 of it to Miller. Farmer passed for 205 yards and ran for 34 for the Challengers, who did not give up a point in their first three playoff games.

CLASS 5A: No. 2 Silverton beat top-ranked Summit 24-21, overcoming an early 7-0 deficit with three straight touchdowns at Hillsboro Stadium.

Chase Dominguez had touchdown passes to Gavin Aguero and Nash Moser in the second quarter to put the Foxes in front and Logan Uitto added a rushing touchdown early in the fourth quarter for a 21-7 lead.

Jude Anderson had a pair of rushing touchdowns for Summit, but Caden Druliner clinched the win for Silverton with a 26-yard field goal.

CLASS 6A: Lake Oswego dominated Central Catholic 35-6 for the title at Hillsboro Stadium on Friday.

Hudson Kurland had a touchdown pass to Jalen Bauman and a touchdown run for the Lakers. LaMarcus Bell ran for a teambest 126 yards and a touchdown and Justin Craigwell ran for two scores.

Central Catholic, which beat top-ranked West Linn in the semifinals, avoided the shutout with a touchdown run by Killian Sombe on the game's final play.

CLASS 1A (Six-player): Harper Charter dominated Crow 81-0 to easily win the title one vear after Powers was state champion. The Hornets limited Crow to nine total yards and two first downs in the game while amassing 623 yards of their own.

Maddoxx Martinez rushed for 160 yards and four touchdowns and passed for 207 yards and three more scores. Cope Christensen had four scores, including runs of 21 and 50 yards, a 50vard punt return and a 71-yard pass from Martinez.

Harper Charter finished the season unbeaten. Crow had been a Cinderella story in the playoffs, with road wins over Dayville and top-ranked Triangle Lake and a semifinal victory over Elkton CLASS 1A (Eight-player): Adrian topped Crosspoint Christian 44-8 to win its second straight state title and fourth in the past six seasons.

Kash Morford ran for three touchdowns and Mannie Mulrony two more for the Antelopes, who scored the first 44 points before Crosspoint Christian got a 62-yard touchdown run by Nate Gibson in the fourth quarter to avoid a shutout.

Morford ran for 128 yards in all and Mulrony had 80 rushing yards. The Antelopes held Crosspoint Christian to 126 total yards.

Crosspoint Christian eliminated top-ranked Dufur in the semifinals, but came up short against No. 2 Adrian.

Knutson first-team all-state pick for Marshfield

Marshfield's Caroline Knutson was a first-team all-state selection in volleyball after helping lead the Pirates to fourth place in the state tournament, hosted this year by Marshfield.

Knutson, a sophomore outside hitter, was joined in all-state honors by Mackenzie Fitzgerald-Thornton, a senior middle blocker who received thirdteam honors.

Lauren Rohman of Marist Catholic, a junior setter and outside hitter who led the Spartans to the state title, was the player of the year. Marist Catholic's Shari Pimental was coach of the year. Coquille libero Peyton Drake was an honorable mention selection in Class 3A. She was the only player from the Far West League to receive any recognition after helping the Red Devils win the league title with a perfect record. Myrtle Point had four players receive recognition in Class 2A after the Bobcats won the Sunset Conference title and advanced to the state tournament for the first time in more than a decade. Outside hitter Raylee Murray was on the third team while middle blocker Bailie Detzler, rightside hitter Taelyn Farmer and setter Lauryn Lively were honorable-mention picks.

Gold Beach setter Shreya Patel also was an honorable-mention selection.

Commercial crab season delayed

The Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife (ODFW) announced that Oregon's commercial Dungeness crab season is delayed coastwide until at least December 16th.

Oregon Dungeness crab met both meat and safe biotoxin level requirements; however, the season is delayed as Long Beach, WA crabs have not yet met the meat fill requirement. Most Dungeness crab advisory committee members support the delay as it is least disruptive to traditional fishing patterns and may improve market

Washington will test crab again and if meat fill in Long Beach crab meets the required twenty-three percent, the season will open December 16th. If meat fill is less than twenty-three percent, ODFW will consider a partial opening south of Cape Falcon with fleet input and the Tri-State decision process.

When the Oregon season does open, it will be under a fleet advisory that fishing vessels should be vigilant and move or avoid setting gear in areas where whales are foraging or transiting to minimize risk of entanglement.

Targeted to open December 1st, Oregon's ocean commercial Dungeness crab season can be delayed so consumers get a high-quality product, and crabs are not wasted. It can also be delayed to have an orderly opening in conjunction with California and Washington.

Weekly season opening updates are posted online until the decision to open the season is made.

Recreational Crab Fishery

The recreational ocean Dungeness crab season is slated to reopen December 1st. Recreational crab harvesting in bays, estuaries, and on beaches, docks, piers, and jetties is currently open coastwide.

Recreational crabbers should always call the Shellfish Hotline (800-448-2474) or visit the ODA Recreational Shellfish Biotoxin Closures webpage before crabbing. And remember to mark your gear if you're crabbing in the ocean and bays.

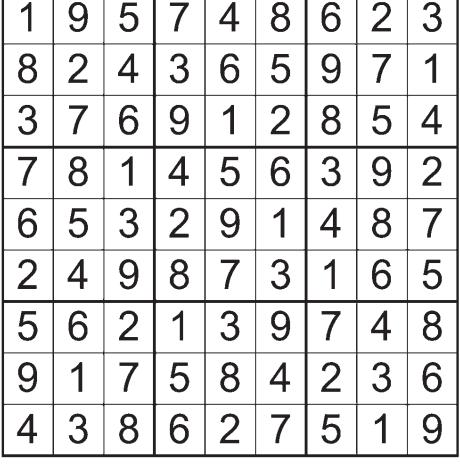

Crabs are actively walking around and foraging (and are more likely to find your crab bait) during slack tide. The slack tide occurs as the tide shifts from ingoing to outgoing, or vice versa. During slack tide there is very little current, making it easier for crabs to move around.

Some Reminders

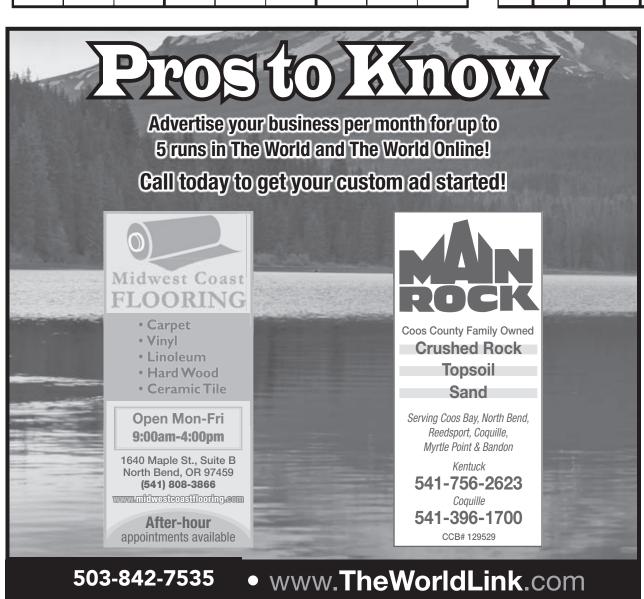

-Ocean closure: While crabbing in Oregon's bays and estuaries is open yearround, the ocean off the Oregon coast is closed to crabbing from October 16th to November 30th.

-Fresh water influence: Crabs like salty water. Rain can affect the number of crab in the bay, especially in smaller estuaries. As rain swells the rivers, the rivers dump more freshwater into the bays and estuaries. During these times, crab retreat to saltier waters farther off shore, until the fresh water is washed away.

-Red rock: You're most likely to see this native crab while you're throwing pots for Dungeness. Red rock crab can also be fine eating (if a little more difficult to clean). They are most common in Tillamook, Yaquina and Coos bays, because they prefer high salinity (saltier) water and rocky habitat like jetties.

Holiday Radio Plays by Coos Bay Shakes

Coos Bay Shakespeare in the Park is proud to announce their first holiday radio play production! We will be performing "How the Grinch Stole Christmas" and "Frosty the Snowman" live on stage. Shows will be at The Hales Center for the Performing Arts at Southwestern Oregon Community College to showcase local talent and raise money for our summer production of "The Comedy of Errors". Admission is FREE, but donations are gladly accepted! Come out to support your local artists on December 13th and 14th!

A radio play is a theatrical performance where actors enact a script in front of an audience, mimicking a 1940s radio broadcast with vintage microphones and live sound effects. This year we will be presenting two beloved holiday classics in "How the Grinch Stole Christmas" & "Frosty the Snowman". These shows will include your favorite songs from each show.

The Hales Center for the Performing Arts is located at 1988 Newmark Ave, Coos Bay, OR 97420. The shows will be December 13th at 7:00pm and December 14th at 2:00pm. All our welcome to come enjoy these shows.

Coos Bay Shakespeare in the Park is a 501(c)3 non-profit. In addition to individual donations, a number of area businesses and grants support their work. For additional information, please visit https:// www.facebook.com/coosbayshakes

Shore Acres Holiday Lights

Returned for 2025 On Thanksgiving

tradition, the Shore Acres Holiday Lights, will be returning again this year from Thanksgiving through New Years Eve. Every evening from 4:30 PM to 9 PM, November 27 – December 31, the botanical gardens at the park will glow with the power of over 325,000 LED lights in a display that has only grown since its inception

Thanks to over 1,500 volunteers and the efforts of Friends of Shore Acres, along with dozens of community partners and businesses, thousands of visitors make the trip down the Cape Arago Highway to the breathtaking scenery of the park. The cedar forests grow all along the cliffs overlooking the Pacific making it one of the most stunning spots in all of Oregon at any time of year.

During the show, the fully decorated garden house is the perfect place to take a quick break from the cold and snack on some cookies or enjoy a hot beverage. Back out in the garden are dozens of displays inspired by the majestic natural beauty of the park, with many displaying the flora and fauna one can hope to come across during a day-time visit. The light displays are impressive in size and some are animated for extra flair, with frogs jumping and whales splashing to dazzling effect.

Admission to the lights is always free, but plan ahead as parking is limited and you will need to reserve a time-specific parking pass for your visit ahead of time should you chose to park in the day-use area. Passes are $10 a vehicle and can be purchased through online reservation at the website provided below.

Those who aren't looking to make the drive past Sunset Bay are welcome to take the shuttle that runs every year. Santa's Shuttle runs every night of the event with pickup at the Charleston Marina. Cocoa Coffee, Cider and Cookies are available while you wait, along with crafts for kids thanks to Charleston Fishing Families.

A highlight of every holiday season, the Shore Acres Holiday Lights are only made possible through the passion of volunteers and local organizations. Since 2003, the Christmas trees used in the displays have been donated by Dave Hannah of Dave's Christmas Trees. All 26 of them are sponsored by local organizations who then decorate them in theme with their business or non-profit.

Shirley and David Bridgham have co-chaired the lights since the first show back in 1987, and are still there helping to spread holiday cheer to the South Coast every year. So please, remember to book your parking passes and come see the biggest and brightest light display the South Coast has to offer!

For more information and to reserve a parking pass, visit: shoreacres.net

As I See It

ву Mary Schamehorn

A thousand pounds of grass seed was used to seed the temporary holes at Bandon's first golf course, built on the old Ledgerwood property across Beach Loop from Windermere.

An article in the Oct. 27, 1927, Western World said that "remarkable progress has been made in the construction of the golf links on the Ledgerwood farm (first photo). In just three weeks Lee E. Smith and his crew, consisting of 18 men and three teams (of horses), have done the necessary clearing, the heavy grading and the seeding of the nine holes, together with banks and aprons. The unusual weather conditions prevailing are responsible for this good fortune. Climatic conditions, according to Mr. Smith, could not be better. "The seed for the greens was ordered by telegraph and came from the east by express.

"Extraordinarily large greens have been built, each averaging 7500 square feet. The links are laid out with No. 1 tee near the highway at the beach.

"The total membership subscription to date is about $3500 and the membership campaign will continue until the full $6,000 is contributed and paid in.

"The contract with Mr. Smith was signed by the golf committee of the chamber of commerce as appointed by President C.R. Wade and which committee had previously been elected by the golf enthusiasts. It consists of Geo. W. Moore Jr., chairman; O.C. Shindler, secretary; Archie H. Rosa, treasurer; H.S. Ellis, Otto Zentner, L.D. Felsheim, Dr. R.E. Donahey and Ed

"Mr. Smith plans to secure a room in the business section to be used evenings for golf practice and instruction. A large net will be put up to shoot the ball into from the tee, and if possible a putting green will be arranged."

It is ironic that my grandfather (L.D. Felsheim) was one of the original founders of the golf course ... and 35 years later (in 1962) he suffered a heart attack and died on the ninth green at the age of 75.

Although I am not sure, it appears that the golf course, known as Bandon Westmost, was closed for some time as an ad appeared in the Aug. 12, 1948, Western World explaining that the golf course would be open for play on Sunday, Aug. 15. It was probably closed during the War.

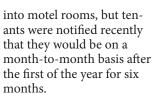

"We are opening ahead of schedule in response to the many requests we've had from anxious gofers who want to start playing NOW -- whether all the work's done or not. Seven of the nine holes will be open and we'll continue to work hard on the other two ... and the whole course," said the owners, Dave and Margaret Cox.

A complete set of five irons, three matched woods and a bag could be purchased at the caddy house (second picture) for as low as $46.85. Green fees were $1 for members and $1.50 for non-members.

Speaking of this area along Highway 101, there is a lot of development planned for that area, including a dental office along Highway 42s, where Takashi Haruna use to have his office; I understand Rogue Credit Union is building along the highway between 101 and Third, and Dr. Bobak Baharloo is building a new office at 101 and Grand, where the pink marketplace building stood before it was recently torn down.

I recently talked with a tenant of the office building along 101 just west of Harlem, which I believe is owned by Bandon Inn. I understood they had planned to turn the shops

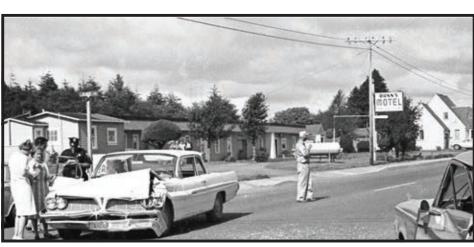

The former clinic building along 101 just east of the Bandon Veterinary Hospital was purchased some months ago by Southern Coos Hospital and has been turned into their business office complex. Because of a need for space, the hospital has also signed a lease to rent space in the Bandon Shopping Center, between Ray's Food Place and the Dollar Tree.

The three-plex along 101, just south of First Interstate Bank, has been purchased by John Guynup for roughly $650,000, and one tenant has already moved out and another posted on Facebook they will be moving because of an increase in their rent. Guynup recently purchased all the storage units of the late Leo Lewandowski and will be using the center space of the tri-plex as his office.

After a recent trial in municipal court concerning the continued feeding of seagulls at a shop on Fillmore Avenue, the owner, Eddie Sanders, was fined a total of $5,000, which included $2500 for each of two citations. In the past he has been fined thousands of dollars for the same offense. During a trial two weeks ago before Judge Gary Milliman, Mary Wilson, owner of the adjacent care center, and two of her employees testified about the damage done by the bird feces which is carried on wheelchair tires into the facility, and damages employee vehicles.

As Sanders was being fined, Judge Milliman said: 'You need to take action to stop feeding the gulls. You are causing a nuisance to your neighbors."

During the trial, which I attended, he said that the "Bandon mayor had come onto his private property and threatened him two years ago." I tried to speak, but since I was not signed in as a witness, I was not able to. He was correct that I did stop there during a feeding frenzy and suggested that since the seagulls seemed to follow his van (he has been seen feeding gulls at the jetty), he needed to go to an area outside the city limits where feeding would be legal. I definitely did not threaten him. I was actually trying to help him. He told the Judge: "the City has a gender secret society, and has it out for me." Hard to figure out what that meant? If he would just stop feeding the flock, which has grown to great numbers, they would eventually look for another food source instead of covering the public sidewalk in front of his building, which is apparently a machine shop, with feces.

A group calling themselves Bandon Schools Deserve Better has announced a community town hall meeting for Wednesday, Dec. 10, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at The Barn/Community Center in City Park.

They have a website with what is described as a wealth of new letters, documents and updates. "Please take some time to inform yourself," said a spokesperson. Their website is www. bsdbetter.org.

I learned this week that one of my classmates, Marilyn Pauly Scott, had died Nov. 8 at the age of 86. She and her late husband, Gene, moved to Coquille after many years in Bandon. Among her survivors are two children, Denise and Randy. A Celebration of Life was held at Greenacres Church on Nov. 22.

The Bandon Tigers very successful football season came to an end in the semi-final game Saturday in Grants Pass when they lost 33-13 to Lost River. Many local residents followed the team to Grants Pass where the game was played on the Cavemen's field.

The community is extremely proud of the Tigers, both for their play on the field and for being good citizens off the field.

The annual Nights of 10,000 Lights, sponsored by GBA, was Saturday, Nov. 29, with events taking place from 3 to 5 in the visitor center parking lot, with the nog and cider stroll throughout the community. Glasses were purchased in the glass picnic shelter on the port dock for $10. Santa and Mrs. Claus were at the visitor center for pictures with children, and the tree-lighting event tool place at 5:30 p.m. This was also Small Business Saturday and people were urged to shop at home to support our local businesses.

The annual Holiday Light Parade will be Saturday, Dec. 13, through Old Town, with people lining up at 5 near Bandon Fisheries Warehouse. The parade will start at 5:30. No registration or fee is required to enter.

A press release out of Portland said that Face Rock

Creamery in Bandon had issued a voluntary recall of its 6-ounce "Vampire Slayer" garlic cheddar with a use-by date of 11/4/2026 because it may have been contaminated with Listeria monocytogenes, according to the Food & Drug Administration. There were no reports of anyone getting sick from the potential contamination.

Word has been circulating through at letter sent to community members that the City Council had entered into an agreement with Portland State University for a rate study at a cost of $73,000. That is not true. The proposal came before the council at its Nov.

3 meeting, where it was turned down on a 4-2 vote. And had it ended in a 3-3 vote, I would have broken the tie with a no vote.

I've learned that Food and Faith (now known as Food and Flourish) was able to give out 100 boxes of food and frozen turkeys Friday, thanks to the generous donation from the Leadership Team at Bandon Dunes Golf Resort. "Food and Flourish is doing really nice work for the community," said Ken Nice, managing director of the Resort. "Through them our contribution was made easy and the team really wanted to help their efforts."

The Chamber of Commerce welcomes the public to attend their holiday party and Ugly Sweater Contest Wednesday, Dec. 10, from 5 to 8 p.m. at Face Rock Creamery. There will be hors d'oeuvres and a nohost bar.

Joanne E. Lyon

August 5, 1931 – November 15, 2025

Joanne E. Lyon died on the 15th of November 2025 in Florence, Oregon at the age of 94.

Joanne was born on August 5, 1931 to Theodore and Edith Nelson in Ottumwa, Iowa. She married Jerry David Lyon on October 16, 1948. Mrs. Lyon raised 6 children while having a very successful career as an elementary school teacher.

She taught at Glide, Drain and Reedsport schools and changed many children's lives for the better. An artist herself, Mrs. Lyon also taught painting to adults.

After they retired, Joanne and Jerry traveled all over the US in a motor home. Jerry died in 1996 and Joanne continued to travel to many countries around the world. She is survived by her six children, Bill Lyon, Kathy Andresen, Nancy Cartin, Ruth Dibala, Chris Marsh and David Lyon, their spouses, 17 grandchildren and many great grandchildren and great-great grandchildren.

We will miss her more than we can say. Donations to Smile Train in her name would be greatly appreciated. She donated to them for many, many years.

Marilyn Fleming

April 18, 1932 – November 2, 2025

Marilyn Fleming of Winchester Bay passed away Sunday November 2nd. Survived by daughter Cathy Johnson, son Greg Fleming, her Grandkids and Great Grandkids.

Preceded in death by her husband Jim, youngest son Mark and a lot of her family and friends. She was 93 and a half, not many could keep up.

She was born April 18, 1932 to Chancy Blanchard (Barney) Cable and Nancy Ann Towey in Portland Oregon. She had an older sister Susie and younger brother Bobby and sister Carol. She married James Young Fleming in November of 1953. They both worked with my Grandpa Barney at his restaurant in Eugene until 1965 when they bought the 7 Seas Café in Winchester Bay. The first seven years they worked 14 hours a day, 7 days a week without taking a day off. Not sure how they did it but they did. They always loved Winchester Bay and I think that love for it, gave them the will power they needed. They had great support from the locals which included the charter boats, the guys from the Coast Guard and the sportsmen that used to come over year after year, and most importantly the people that lived here year around. The 7 Seas used to be a great place to go in Winchester Bay. It was like a big family back then. Mom's favorite thing to do when you would come into the restaurant was to tell you what you wanted to eat before you could even sit down. She was amazingly good at it. Don't even think about skipping the homemade apple pie with vanilla ice cream on top for dessert. I had such a good life growing up. They retired in the 1990's and did a little traveling and got some well deserved rest. Dad passed in 2000 and after that she just wanted to stay close to her home surrounded by the people she cared about and she pulled it off. Sunday night she felt off so she sat at the table and had a cigarette, stood up, put on her coat and asked us to Reedsport to get checked out. We made it to the ER where she quietly passed away.

The people at the Reedsport Hospital were amazing, giving us all the time we needed, which really helped my wife and I. We didn't see it coming and we needed that time to say good bye. Another big "Thank You" to Dunes Memorial Chapel for all their help. We were lost and with their help we're getting through this. The saving grace to all this is she's reunited with her family and friends and she's at peace.

Thanks for being my Mom. You are the best ever.

Richard Gerard Devereux

March 7, 1933 - February 28, 2025

Richard "Dick" Devereux was born on March 7, 1933, in North Bend, Oregon, and passed away on February 28, 2025, in Coos Bay, surrounded by his loving family. He was 91 years old.

Dick spent most of his childhood in the Coos Bay, Kentuck, and Hauser areas, attending school at Kentuck, Sunny Hill, and North Bend High School. As a young boy he helped his father milk cows and log the property his father purchased in 1943. After a fire destroyed their home, Dick helped build the home as it stands today. This was during World War II, when two of his brothers left to serve; only one returned, making the Devereux family a proud Gold Star Family.

While still in high school, Dick met the love of his life, Dixie Davis. It was love at first sight, and they shared sixty-one wonderful years of marriage until her passing in 2012. Together, they raised three children and enjoyed countless adventures traveling across the United States—to Florida, Mexico, and the East Coast—in their cab-over camper.

As a young man, Dick worked as a logger in a variety of logging camps throughout Northern California and Oregon, including the Powers, Brookings, Myrtle Point, and Lane County areas. He also lived and worked for a time in San Diego. After the death of his father in 1964, Dick purchased the family property and continued logging and managing the tree farm. In the 1970s and 1980s, he worked for Bracelin & Yeager Construction as a heavy equipment operator and was a proud member of the Operating Engineers Union. Later, he operated his own earth-moving business.

After retiring at age 62, Dick devoted himself to the tree farm, where he enjoyed riding horses and working his team of draft horses for logging. He participated in parades with his draft horses and his restored 1946 Case tractor, and he gave buggy rides at weddings—never once having a runaway. Dick loved spending time at Hanging Rock, the Chetco River, and traveling the country. He also enjoyed racing cars, maintaining his network of horse trails, and hosting the many family members and friends who cherished time at the ranch. He adored his little dog, Buster.

Dick is survived by his son, Daniel Devereux (Janice), and daughter, Susan Anderson, both lifelong residents of Coos County; and daughter, Cindy Devereux (Brant Wolf) of Monmouth, Oregon. He is also survived by eight grandchildren, sixteen great-grandchildren, seven great-great-grandchildren, and two sisters, Mary Rose Dumboski of Missouri and Joanne Devereux of Portland, Oregon.

He was preceded in death by his beloved wife, Dixie; his parents, Thomas M. Devereux and Zara L. McGraw Devereux; brothers, Thomas Austin, Robert M., and Jack M.; sisters, Margaret Ellen and Eileen; and one great-grandchild, Johnny

Richard "Dick" Devereux will be deeply missed by his family, friends, and neighbors, and remembered always for his warmth, hard work, and love of the land he called home.

A family gathering will be held to celebrate Dick's life, and his ashes will be spread at a later date, when the weather turns and the season brings warmth and light once more.

Richard Douglas Robertson

November 22, 1944 - October 12, 2025

Richard Douglas Robertson (Dick), 80, of Denver, Colorado passed away on October 12, 2025. He is survived by his loving wife of 58 years, Deborah (Wight) Robertson, his daughter, Margot (Mike) LaBree, his son, Graham (Julie) Robertson and his four grandchildren, Rees and Helena LaBree and Ian and Stella Robertson. He is also survived by his three sisters, Barbara, Jane and Suzanne.

Born November 22, 1944, in Clatskanie, Oregon, to James Ward and Monica (Lorson) Robertson, Dick grew up from age 6 in the coastal city of Coos Bay, Oregon. He attended the University of Oregon and while there he met his wife Debbie, and they married in 1967. He graduated with a B.S. in Geology and a M.S. in Paleontology. Between his two degrees, Dick served in the U.S. Navy as a Communications Watch Officer from 1968 to 1971 and was stationed in London, England. After finishing his master's degree, he and Debbie settled in Denver, Colorado where they raised two children and he worked as a petroleum geologist.

drive her to the hospital in

Dick was a lifelong learner, always curious about the world. At age 13 he got his ham radio license and found a thrill in talking with people around the world. He and Debbie traveled extensively. He had visited all 7 continents. His favorite world city was Paris and the surrounding countryside, which was often the subject of his oil paintings and sketches. He took joy in hiking the foothills and mountains of Colorado, painting, exploring for fossils, a pint of Guinness, good wine and cheese and especially spending time in the company of his family. He will be missed.

Memorial service is scheduled for Friday, June 5, 2026, 11 am., St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Lakewood, CO. In lieu of flowers, the family requests that donations be made to Alzheimer's Association Colorado (https://alz.org/co).

Michelle Benoit of Southwestern Receives Dr. Arnold Mitchem Leadership and Advocacy Award

FROM SWOCC

COOS BAY, OR - The Northwest Association of Educational Opportunity Programs (NAEOP) awarded the Dr. Arnold Mitchem Leadership and Advocacy Award to Michelle Benoit, Director of TRIO Student Support Services (SSS) at Southwestern Oregon Community College at its annual conference in October. The award recognizes an individual who demonstrates exceptional leadership and unwavering commitment to serving low-income, first-generation students, and students with disabilities throughout the Northwest region.

The award is named for the founding president and president emeritus of the Council for Opportunity in Education. Dr. Mitchem is an internationally recognized pioneer in advancing equal educational opportunity and is credited with formulating the concept of "first-generation" students, which was adopted in the reauthorization of the Higher Education Act of 1980. His nearly six decades of advocacy have helped expand federally funded TRIO programs by nearly 400 percent, now serving nearly one million students annually at more than 1,200 colleges and universities nationwide.

Since 2013, Benoit has led the TRIO SSS program at Southwestern, where she has been a tireless advocate for students on her campus and throughout Oregon, the Northwest region, and nationally. Her leadership was particularly vital during her tenure as Oregon TRIO Association (OTA) president in 2020, when TRIO programs nationwide faced unprecedented challenges during the COVID-19 pandemic.

"Michelle is a confident and strong advocate and served her state and region at a time when programs had to quickly pivot and adjust to the changes at their institutions, with their students, and at the federal level," said Robin Williams, incoming President of NAEOP. Her leadership helped guide programs through one of the most challenging periods in higher education history.

Beyond her campus responsibilities and state leadership, Benoit consistently prioritizes advocacy at the national level and is a regular attendee at the Annual Policy Seminar in Washington, D.C., where she maintains strong connections with Oregon's congressional delegation, including U.S. Representative Val Hoyle, District 4's dedicated TRIO advocate.

Benoit's impact is deeply felt on campus as well. "We are proud to recognize the tremendous work that Michelle Benoit has contributed to Southwestern, where her dedication to supporting and advocating for students has made a lasting impact. With compassion and unwavering commitment, she has helped countless learners navigate the challenges of college. A respected leader on campus, Michelle consistently elevates the student experience through her guidance and example. We are thrilled to see her efforts honored and celebrated," shared DeAnne Varitek, Dean of Career Technical Education at Southwestern.

Benoit's influence extends beyond Southwestern. Her commitment to strengthening the TRIO community extends to mentoring other TRIO directors and serving as a NAEOP peer reviewer, helping to ensure program quality and supporting emerging leaders in the field.

"We are very grateful to have Michelle as such a strong leader and advocate in our region," said Williams. Her dedication to educational opportunity exemplifies the values that Dr. Mitchem championed throughout his career.

"I am deeply honored to receive the Dr. Arnold Mitchem Award. As a first-generation college graduate, I know firsthand the transformative power of education. I am grateful to the students whose resilience and determination inspire me every day and to the TRIO community that continues Dr. Mitchem's legacy of advocacy and opportunity," said Benoit. NAEOP represents professional educators who work with low-income, first-generation, and students with disabilities throughout Alaska, Idaho, Oregon, and Washington. NAEOP provides a venue in which all TRIO and similar programs may support the success these students to obtain a quality education. NAEOP provides support services and opportunities not normally accessible to these populations to help them reach their full potential and develop into professional individuals.

Southwestern's mission is to support student achievement by providing access to lifelong learning and community engagement in a sustainable manner. To learn more about our programs and resources visit: www.socc.edu.
