Oregon Authors Night features Kirkpatrick in Langlois

LANGLOIS - Jane Kirkpatrick, an award-winning author, will be the guest speaker at an Oregon Authors Night at 7 p.m. Saturday, April 28, at the Old Langlois Cheese Factory, 94179 Allen Boice Drive.

The topic of the evening with Kirkpatrick will be how memory and time shape stories of historical men and women. Besides being a noted inspirational and humorous speaker, Kirkpatrick specializes in historical fiction, often set in Oregon. Included in the topic will be a focus on "A Gathering of Finches," which tells the tale of the Simpson family whose estate is now Shore Acres State Park. This book has been a best seller among coastal readers and is often a choice for local book clubs. Some of her books have been selected nationally by the Book of the Month Club and the Literary Guild.

Other books of historical interest have featured "real life" pioneers such as the "Lilac Lady: Hilda Klager"; Tabitha Moffatt Brown, "Mother of Oregon"; and Letitia Carson, one of the few African-American women listed in an early federal census in Oregon. A history of the community of Aurora has proved to be especially well-received.

This evening promises to be thought-provoking and should be of interest to readers in general, the many fans of Kirkpatrick and to history buffs.

Those unfamiliar with Kirkpatrick's work will be in for a treat. Anyone wishing to write a memoir and others who have seen the Dolphin Players' staged reading of a play adapted from the book, "A Gathering of Finches," may find the talk extremely engaging. There will be an opportunity to meet the author in person as a reception, book signing and limited book sales follows the main presentation. Admission is free.

This event is sponsored by the Friends of the Langlois Library and the Langlois Library Book Club with a grant from the Curry County Cultural Coalition and the Oregon Cultural Trust. For more information, call 541-348-2507.

County to hold waste collection event

COOS COUNTY - Coos and Curry county residents can dispose of various household chemicals at a free household hazardous waste collection event this month.

The event is scheduled for 9 a.m.-1 p.m. Saturday, April 28, at the Beaver Hill Transfer Site on U.S. Highway 101 between Coos Bay and Bandon. Only household hazardous waste will be accepted.

The collection event allows Coos and Curry county residents to safely dispose of a wide range of materials including pesticides, solvents, fluorescent lights, pool chemicals, aerosol cans, caustic cleaners, mercury thermometers and flammable liquids. Ammunition, asbestos, explosives, fireworks, radioactive materials and medical wastes will not be accepted.

The county requests that all disposable materials be in their original containers or otherwise properly labeled. No large quantities of “unknowns” will be accepted.

Call 541-396-7624 to make an appointment to drop off any waste. Appointments should be made prior to the day of the event. Best time to call is 9 a.m.-2 p.m. Tuesday-Friday.

Tufted Puffin Party April 28 at Face Rock viewpoint

BANDON - Join Shoreline Education for Awareness volunteers for their annual Tufted Puffin Party which will be held from 10 a.m.-1 p.m. Saturday, April 28, at the Face Rock viewpoint in Bandon.

Over 6,000 common murre nest on the off-shore islands and rocks. Tufted puffins return to their burrow nesting sites.

Numerous seabirds such as oystercatchers, pigeon guillemot, and surf scoters can often be seen through SEA spotting scopes.

There will be activities for youth, a raffle drawing and a prize for the first visitor to spot a tufted puffin at the party. For information, visit www.sea-edu.org or phone 541-313-6751.
