

Bay Area Hospital Board Announces New CEO
Among Other Executive Positions

By NATE SCHWARTZ

The Bay Area Hospital (BAH) Board of Directors meeting on October 14 was another standing room only affair as multiple announcements for the executive team were made. Amid the hospital's well documented financial struggles, the new board had sought fresh leadership shortly after their swearing in, leading to the resignation of the prior CEO Brian Moore back in July.

A motion passed to begin execution of a contract for the CEO position with the now-previous Chief Operating Officer Gretchen Nichols. Nichols received glowing praise from the board, staff, and wider hospital community alike in an interview process that involved as many of those parties as possible.

"We looked for a CEO candidate, and we had the CEO here already," said Board Chair Simon Alonzo. "Gretchen has immense experience in the healthcare industry. She's led very successful hospitals. She knows what we need, and she's also here to stay."

The choice for continuity makes sense, as Nichols has been an instrumental part of the turnaround that has begun under the watch of Interim CEO Kelly Morgan. The challenges that BAH faces are myriad and unique, so selecting someone that can not only hit the ground running, but has already been a part of the marathon, is a boon for the leadership team and saves a bedding in period.

"I think [Nichols] has a really good vision for where she wants BAH to be. Her background being a nurse but also being the CEO of bigger and equivalent institutions gives her the experience she needs to lead us, and get us back on stable ground," said Board Secretary Patrice Parrott. "She understands where we were and now how far we've come."

Many board members made the point that Nichols began working at BAH after coming out of retirement, having chosen the Coos Bay area to be her permanent home. They believe this shows her commitment to bettering our community and proves she's here for the long haul. She boasts a Bachelor of Science in Nursing and a Master of Business Administration. Prior to joining Bay Area Hospital, Gretchen served as a Hospital President for a health system in Portland, having worked her way up the entire chain of command.

"In my career, I started at the very bottom. My first job in healthcare was a CNA, then I became a nurse, then a charge nurse, then assistant nurse manager. I did every single role all the way up to the top of the organization, so I come with a lot of unique perspective about organizations and operations. But it really starts with the people, that's why I stay and why I keep coming back," said Nichols just after the vote passed.

"The heart of this organization is really important. It's important for this community, and all of the employees here, and our partners and physicians in the community who are counting on us. So, I want to be here to help this community and the hospital carry forward. We spend a lot of time talking about our finances, and we have to get them in order and save the hospital, to build that strength back. But we also have to invest in our people."

Nichols and the board thanked Morgan for his guidance during this period. According to his report to the board, BAH's operating costs for the month of September was a roughly $930,000 loss. Still a huge number, but put in perspective it is the first time the hospital has operated at a sub-seven figure loss in the 15 months of data shown, indicating that the restructuring seems to be working to help stabilize finances. Though, it seems that help from the state legislature will still be a crucial component of achieving normalcy.

That restructuring comes at a real cost as well. While many of them have been attributed to reductions in contract labor and natural attrition, jobs are being lost. The public comment section of the meeting consisted of two speakers upset with the loss of the Case Management Department leader Candy Johnson, who was clearly a well-appreciated figure among medical staff.

Also during Morgan's presentation, it was announced that a permanent CFO had been found in Patrick Banks, who is currently a Regional Finance Officer and Hospital CFO with HealthTech in Washington. Banks earned his MBA from University of Michigan's Ross School of Business. In November he will be taking over from interim CFO Doug Dickson, who joined alongside Morgan.

Later on in the meeting it was announced that Dr. Derrick Oaxaca would be appointed the new Chief Medical Officer. Oaxaca is a well-known member of the local medical community and has worked as an emergency medicine specialist in Coos Bay since earning his MD from Texas Tech's Paul L. Forster School of Medicine in 2019.

You’ve heard about the Unsinkable Molly Brown, the brassy, nouveau riche millionaire mine owner’s wife who made it safely off the sinking Titanic. As incredible as that was, she had nothing on a remarkably feisty feline. Because he survived not one, but three ship sinkings ... and in wartime, too, no less.

At least, that’s the story. Listen to it and decide for yourself.

Meet Unsinkable Sam, the luckiest cat in the world. It would be all too easy to make a lame reference to a cat having nine lives. Sam must have had at least twice that many.

Very little is known about his early life. He was likely born in Germany because he wound up on a German battleship in World War II. For centuries, sailors kept cats with them on the high seas, partly for the companionship, partly to go after rodent stowaways.

HOLY COW! HISTORY:

Unsinkable Sam, the World’s Luckiest Cat?

And he wasn’t on just any old battleship, either. It was one of the biggest, most ferocious, and potentially deadliest of all: the mighty Bismarck. It was such a grave threat that even the dauntless and determined Winston Churchill was worried about it.

So, when the Bismarck steamed out of port in May 1941, the British made destroying it Priority 1, 2 and 3.

Bismarck quickly sank the battleship HMS Hood, causing the Brits to dispatch dozens of warships to hunt for the German ship. When it finally went to the bottom of the Atlantic on May 26, almost 2,100 crewmen went with it. British and German vessels picked up 115 survivors.

Sailors on one of them, the destroyer HMS Cossack, spotted something clinging to a piece of debris floating in the water. Upon closer examination, they found it to be a “tuxedo cat,” black with white markings on its mouth and chest. (Think of Sylvester in the old Looney Tunes cartoons.) He was the only survivor the Cossack found.

The cat switched sides that day, going over from the Axis to the Allies. Since the Cossack’s crew didn’t know his name, they called him Oscar. It’s theorized that they called him that because in the International Code of Signals, “O” means “man overboard.”

Although his allegiance had changed, his luck hadn’t.

That fall, the Cossack was torpedoed by a Nazi U-boat west of Gibraltar. The Cossack sank on October 27, almost five months after the Bismarck went down.

Once again, a drenched cat was seen clinging to a piece of debris and was once more hauled aboard a British warship, the HMS Ark Royal. In a neat twist of fate, that aircraft carrier had played a key role in disabling the Bismarck the previous spring.

As word of the cat’s repeated ability to cheat death on the high seas spread, folks stopped calling him Oscar and gave him a new name: Unsinkable Sam.

The plucky feline had yet another rendezvous with Fate waiting right around the corner. This time, it was the Ark Royal that was dispatched to Davy Jones’ Locker. Barely two weeks after the Cossack’s loss, another U-boat torpedoed the mighty carrier, also off Gibraltar.

A motor launch plucked a “quite angry but otherwise unharmed” Sam from the sea. He must have been thinking, “This is really getting old!”

That was the end of Sam’s adventures. He spent the rest of his wartime service as a mouser in the Governor General’s building on Gibraltar. He eventually wound up a “Home for Sailors” in Belfast, Northern Ireland, peacefully passing away at a ripe old age in 1955.

Historians are quick to poohpoo the story. They claim it’s riddled with more factual holes than the hull of the Bismarck. Serious students of World War II lump it in the “tall tales” category.

Yet, it was so widely circulated around the British Isles during the war years that it seems something involving a cat at sea must have happened.

Perhaps we’ll never know.

Column: Troy Cribbins Announces Formation of Exploratory Committee for House District 9

Republican Troy Cribbins, Coos Bay City Councilor and local healthcare Administrator, announced the formation of an exploratory committee for Oregon State House of Representatives in Oregon’s House District 9. The seat is currently held by Representative Boomer Wright who is currently considering (R-Florence) whether to seek re-election at the end of his term.

“When I learned that Representative Wright was considering not seeking re-election for House District 9, I was deeply concerned that we would be losing a champion for the area. I want to continue his legacy of serving as a strong voice for House District 9. The Oregon Coast has a lot to be thankful for with Boomer. I have nothing but admiration for his accomplishments and the work he has done for the citizens of Oregon including his focus on education, and if he chooses not to seek re-election, I will carry on his work” stated Cribbins.

Cribbins’ family has deep roots in rural Oregon, with his family Homesteading in Bridge, he attended both Southwestern Oregon Community College and Umpqua Community College before getting his doctorate in Physical Therapy and returning with his family back to Coos Bay in 2006. All three of his children have graduated from Coos County schools. “I can’t think of a place that I would rather live,” said Cribbins. “Rural Oregon is a great place to put down roots and raise a family, and I feel truly fortunate to be able to make this area my home.”

“If Boomer decides not to run for re-election, then I believe Troy is the best person in line to fill that role. Troy loves this community and will do a great job representing this district, working hard every day for us” said John Sweet.

Cribbins was appointed to the Coos Bay City Council in 2023 and re-elected in 2024. His priority is a focus on access to healthcare, education, and improving economic opportunities for citizens in House District 9, as well as the rest of rural Oregon. Cribbins previously served as the Board Chair of Bay Area Hospital District, as well as on the board of Boys and Girls Club of Southwestern Oregon.

Pirates keep rolling in football

Marshfield's football team dominated host Hidden Valley to stay perfect on the season.

The Pirates beat the Mustangs 37-8 to improve to 3-0 in Class 4A District 3 and 7-0 on the season. Enoch Niblett had touchdown passes to Hadyn Widdicombe and Brody Ramey and also ran for two scores for Marshfield in the win. Kaleb Fox also had a rushing touchdown. This week, the Pirates have a big game in the Klamath Basin against Henley. The Hornets also are unbeaten in league play, though they have nonleague losses to Thurston (35-27) and Cascade Christian (43-16). Henley also has a big nonleague win over Marist Catholic in a rematch of last year's state title game won by the Spartans. NORTH BEND 40, MAZAMA 14: The Bulldogs won in Klamath Falls to improve to 2-1 in league play. This week, North Bend celebrates homecoming with a visit from Hidden Valley. DOUGLAS 35, COQUILLE 8: The Trojans beat the host Red Devils to spoil Coquille's homecoming. It was also Coquille's first loss in league play after it won the first two contests. Coquille is home against Sutherlin this week. BANDON 50, MYRTLE POINT 38: The Tigers got a huge home win to stay perfect in the Class 2A District 4 standings and on the season and hand the Bobcats their first league loss.

Bandon is home again this week against Gold Beach. Myrtle Point has another big game, hosting Oakland, which also is unbeaten in league play after a 28-6 win over Glide. The Oakers, like Myrtle Point, have two losses on the season. ELKTON 53, POWERS 7: The Elks beat the host Cruisers, handing Powers its first league loss.

Powers had won its first three league games and will look to get back on track this week, with a road trip Saturday to face Gilchrist. REEDSPORT 66, MAPLETON 12: The Brave won for the third straight week in their independent schedule. Reedsport, now 3-2 overall, hosts Falls City this week.

Myrtle Point captures Sunset Conference volleyball title

Myrtle Point secured the Sunset Conference volleyball crown with two more wins last week, keeping its record perfect heading into the final week of the league season. The Bobcats clinched the title with a win over Bandon on Tuesday, beating the Tigers at home 25-19, 19-25, 25-15, 25-21. They then topped host Oakland 25-19, 25-18, 25-19 to improve to 9-0 with one match to go — at Reedsport on Tuesday. As league champs, the Bobcats will host the league tournament on Saturday. Bandon lost its second match of the week to visiting Gold Beach, 22-25, 25-20, 25-21, 25-20. The Panthers also beat Reedsport on Tuesday 25-21,

13-25, 25-16, 17-25, 15-10 and are 6-3, a game in front of the Tigers. Bandon's final league match is at home Tuesday against Oakland. Reedsport lost its other match, falling to host Illinois Valley 14-25, 25-23, 26-24, 25-18. The Brave are 3-6. Illinois Valley got its first league win. SKY-EM LEAGUE: Marshfield dropped a pair of home matches and saw its chances at a league title come to an end. The Pirates fell to Cottage Grove 25-22, 22-25, 25-14, 22-25, 15-13 and then lost at home to top-ranked Marist Catholic 25-18, 25-22, 25-23. Marshfield took the Spartans to five sets before losing in Eugene earlier in the season. The two results left Marshfield and Cottage Grove tied for second at 4-3 entering the final week. The Pirates finish with a match against Junction City at home on Thursday. North Bend lost to visiting Junction City 25-12, 25-13, 19-25, 25-15 in its lone match last week. The Bulldogs finish league play with matches at Cottage Grove on Tuesday and at home against Marist Catholic on Thursday, hoping to avoid a winless league season. FAR WEST LEAGUE: Coquille secured its own league title with a pair of wins last week, staying perfect. The Red Devils swept host

Siuslaw 25-17, 25-15, 25-13 and won a second road match against Glide 25-10, 25-13, 25-21. Coquille has a two-game lead over Douglas in the standings and swept the two league matches with the Trojans. The Red Devils finish the regular season with home matches against Sutherlin on Tuesday and South Umpqua on Thursday. SKYLINE LEAGUE: Powers nearly toppled North Douglas, one of the league's two unbeaten teams, taking the Warriors to five sets before ultimately losing 26-24, 24-26, 25-18, 19-25, 15-9. North Douglas lost its final league match to Umpqua Valley Christian leaving the Monarchs as the league's regular-season champions at 10-0 and the Warriors at 9-1. The Cruisers finished league play with a win against Camas Valley, 25-13, 25-15, 25-16. Powers finished fourth at 7-3 (Elkton was 8-2). Powers will host fifth-place Glendale on Wednesday in the first round of the league playoffs, with the winner advancing to the league tournament. Pacific fell to Umpqua Valley Christian 25-2, 25-4, 25-8 and went winless in league play.

North Bend girls improve to 5-1 in soccer standings

North Bend won a pair of matches last week to improve to 5-1 in Sky-Em League Play. The Bulldogs shut out Marshfield 7-0 and Junction City 5-0. They also hosted Amity in a nonleague match on Saturday, playing to a 1-1 draw with the Warriors. Their lone match this week is at Cottage Grove on Wednesday and they finish the league season at home against unbeaten Marist Catholic on Monday. The Spartans won the first match between the teams 9-1 (North Bend is the only league team to score a goal against Marist Catholic this season). After losing to North Bend, Marshfield got its first league win, beating Cottage Grove 1-0.

The Pirates were home against Marist Catholic on Monday (the score was not available) for their only match this week and finish the season at home against Junction City next Monday. CLASS 3A-2A-1A DISTRICT 4: The combined Coquille-Myrtle Point squad lost both its matches last week, falling at home to Rogue River 2-1 and losing at St. Mary's 8-0. The DevilCats finish the season at home against South Umpqua on Tuesday. They are 4-6-1 in league play. BOYS SOCCER SKY-EM LEAGUE: Marshfield has won four straight matches, moving up in the league standings. Last week, the Pirates beat North Bend 5-3 and Cottage Grove 2-1 to improve to 4-2 in league play. Marshfield was home against Marist Catholic on Monday for its only match this week (the score was not available) and is at Junction City next Monday to finish the league season. At 4-2, the Pirates trail Marist Catholic (4-0-1) and are just in front of Cottage Grove (3-2-1) in the standings. The Lions and Marist Catholic tied in one of their matches. In addition to losing to the Pirates, North Bend lost to Junction City 2-1 last week. The Bulldogs hosted the com-

The Pirates beat the combined Coquille-Myrtle Point squad 2-1 on the road and blanked Douglas 6-0. In addition to their match in North Bend on Monday, they travel to Gold Beach on Thursday this week. Coquille lost its other match last week to Sutherlin 1-0. The DevilCats, 3-6-1, are at Gold Beach on Tuesday and finish the season at home against Umpqua Valley Christian on Thursday.

Marshfield wins own invitational

Marshfield's volleyball team won its home invitational Saturday, beating Churchill in the championship match. The Pirates swept their six sets in pool play, beating Newport, Hidden Valley and Douglas. Then in the bracket portion of the tournament, the Pirates avenged a Sky-Em League loss to Cottage Grove during the week with a 25-21, 25-17 win over the Lions. In the semifinals, the Pirates beat The Dalles 24-26, 25-15, 15-10. And in the championship match, Marshfield topped the Lancers 25-15, 25-20. Churchill had beaten Douglas 25-23, 25-23 and Philomath 25-22, 25-19 to reach the championship game. Coquille also advanced to the championship bracket, but suffered a tough three-set loss to The Dalles in the quarterfinals, 19-25, 25-23, 15-9.

Bassett second in Portland Marathon

Former Marshfield standout Jared Bassett finished second in the recent Portland Marathon. Bassett, who became the first five-time winner of the Prefontaine Memorial Run in September, finished the marathon in 2 hours, 28 minutes and 53 seconds. Though he specializes in long trail races, Bassett ran the marathon to secure a qualifying time to get into the famed Boston and New York marathons. He easily met the standards for both races (2:55:00 for New York and 3:00:00 for Boston). Bassett finished behind winner Nic Maszk, who finished in 2:26:52.

Oregon’s earthquake preparedness

CIIM Intensity	People’s Reaction	Furnishings	Built Environment	Natural Environment
I	Not felt			Changes in level and clarity of well water are occasionally associated with great earthquakes at distances beyond which the earthquakes felt by people.
II	Felt by a few.	Delicately suspended objects may swing.
III	Felt by several; vibration like passing of truck.	Hanging objects may swing appreciably.
IV	Felt by many; sensation like heavy body striking building.	Dishes rattle.	Walls creak; window rattle.
V	Felt by nearly all; frightens a few.	Pictures swing out of place; small objects move; a few objects fall from shelves within the community.	A few instances of cracked plaster and cracked windows with the community.	Trees and bushes shaken noticeably.
VI	Frightens many; people move unsteadily.	Many objects fall from shelves.	A few instances of fallen plaster, broken windows, and damaged chimneys within the community.	Some fall of tree limbs and tops, isolated rockfalls and landslides, and isolated liquefaction.
VII	Frightens most; some lose balance.	Heavy furniture overturned.	Damage negligible in buildings of good design and construction, but considerable in some poorly built or badly designed structures; weak chimneys broken at roof line, fall of unbraced parapets.	Tree damage, rockfalls, landslides, and liquefaction are more severe and widespread with increasing intensity.
VIII	Many find it difficult to stand.	Very heavy furniture moves conspicuously.	Damage slight in buildings designed to be earthquake resistant, but severe in some poorly built structures. Widespread fall of chimneys and monuments.
IX	Some forcibly thrown to the ground.		Damage considerable in some buildings designed to be earthquake resistant; buildings shift off foundations if not bolted to them.
X			Most ordinary masonry structures collapse; damage moderate to severe in many buildings designed to be earthquake resistant.

Governor Tina Kotek has officially declared October 16th through the 19th as a critical time for statewide earthquake preparedness, urging all Oregonians to join a massive effort backed by two key initiatives: the Great Oregon ShakeOut and the Great Oregon Camp-In.

The proclamation emphasizes that “the safety and resilience of Oregonians depend on our collective understanding of how to prepare for earthquakes and other natural disasters,” calling practice drills essential for saving lives.

The efforts, led by the Oregon Department of Emergency Management (OEM), aim to cultivate a culture of preparedness.

The core of the preparedness push centers on International ShakeOut Day. Oregonians should know and practice the lifesaving action: “Drop, Cover and Hold On.”

“The ShakeOut is more than a drill, it’s a reminder that preparedness saves lives,” said Erin McMahon, director of the Oregon Department of Emergency Management. “By practicing together, we are less likely to panic in the moment; activities like the ShakeOut and Camp-in create a culture of resilience that strengthens our communities.”

Decades of research and expert consensus confirm that this action remains the safest immediate response during an earthquake, particularly in older structures.

It’s noted that during earthquakes, the greatest risk comes from falling debris, collapsing ceilings and shattering glass. Being inside the building and attempting to evacuate during shaking exposes individuals to serious injury.

The best practice is to stay low and take cover under sturdy furniture, which offers the best protection until the shaking stops and safe evacuation can begin.

“Whether it’s cooking without power or talking through your emergency plan with loved ones, these activities help build confidence and readiness,” said Kayla Thompson, OEM’s Community Preparedness Coordinator.

Thompson encourages families to make the activities fun, suggesting a “supplies scavenger hunt” using the “Be 2 Weeks Ready” toolkit or building a living room fort for non-powered activities.

Use the Be 2 Weeks Ready toolkit to guide your activities and have a Camp-In checklist, which should include a complete your emergency plan. Taking stock of your emergency supplies is important as well as knowing how to prepare meals using alternative cooking methods, like a camp stove.

While earthquakes are often associated with well-publicized areas like California, the risk covers a much larger area of the United States. Oregon sits at the nexus of the Cascadia Subduction Zone, making robust preparedness efforts vital.

Before an earthquake strikes, experts advise taking these essential steps:

- Mitigation: Bolt furniture to walls and use safety latches on cabinet doors to prevent objects from falling.
- Insurance: Discuss coverage with your provider, specifically reviewing extra expense and business interruption policies.
- Supplies: Assemble and store an emergency supply kit for a minimum of three days.
- Communication: Develop a communication plan that considers two-way radios or text messages as phone and cell towers may be down.

Even though the Great Oregon ShakeOut and the Great Oregon Camp-In have passed this year, they’re good reminders that Oregonians should prepare for earthquakes in the eventuality that one should occur in the region.

NOTICE TO RESIDENTIAL TENANTS

The property in which you are living is in foreclosure. A foreclosure is scheduled for January 7, 2026. The date of this sale may be postponed. Unless the lender that is foreclosing on this property is paid before the sale date, the foreclosure will go through and someone new will own this property. After the sale, the new owner is required to provide you with some contact information and notice that the sale took place.

The following information applies to you only if you are a bona fide tenant occupying and renting as a residential dwelling under a legitimate rental agreement. The information does not apply to you if you own this property or if you are not a bona fide residential tenant. If the foreclosure sale goes through, the new owner will have the right to require you to move out. Before the new owner can require you to move, the new owner must provide you with written notice that specifies the date by which you must move out. If you do not leave before the move-out date, the new owner can have the sheriff remove you from the property after a court hearing. You will receive notice of the court hearing.

PROTECTION FROM EVICTION

IF YOU ARE A BONA FIDE TENANT OCCUPYING AND RENTING THIS PROPERTY AS A RESIDENTIAL DWELLING, YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO CONTINUE LIVING IN THE PROPERTY AFTER THE FORECLOSURE SALE FOR: 60 DAYS FROM THE DATE YOU ARE GIVEN A WRITTEN TERMINATION NOTICE, IF YOU HAVE A FIXED TERM LEASE; OR AT LEAST 30 DAYS FROM THE DATE YOU ARE GIVEN A WRITTEN TERMINATION NOTICE; IF YOU HAVE A MONTH-TO-MONTH OR WEEK-TO-WEEK RENTAL AGREEMENT.

If the new owner wants to move in and use this property as a primary residence, the new owner can give you written notice and require you to move out after 30 days, even though you have a fixed term lease with more than 30 days left. You must be provided with at least 30 days' written notice after the foreclosure sale before you can be required to move.

A bona fide tenant is a residential tenant who is not the borrower (property owner) or a child, spouse, or parent of the borrower, and whose rental agreement:

- Is the result of an arm's-length transaction;
- Requires the payment of rent that is not substantially less than fair market rent for the property, unless the rent is reduced or subsidized due to a federal, state or local subsidy; and
- Was entered into prior to the date of the foreclosure sale.

ABOUT YOUR TENANCY AFTER THE FORECLOSURE SALE: RENT

YOU SHOULD CONTINUE TO PAY RENT TO YOUR LANDLORD UNTIL THE PROPERTY IS SOLD OR UNTIL A COURT TELLS YOU OTHERWISE, IF YOU DO NOT PAY RENT, YOU CAN BE EVICTED, BE SURE TO KEEP PROOF OF ANY PAYMENTS YOU MAKE.

SECURITY DEPOSIT

You may apply your social security deposit and any rent you paid in advance against the current rent you owe your landlord as provided in ORS

Legal Notices

90.367. To do this, you must notify your landlord in writing that you want to subtract the amount of your security deposit or prepaid rent from your rent payment. You may do this only for the rent you owe your current landlord. If you do this, you must do so before the foreclosure sale. The business or individual who pays this property at the foreclosure sale is not responsible to you for any deposit or prepaid rent you paid to your landlord.

ABOUT YOUR TENANCY AFTER THE FORECLOSURE SALE

The new owner that buys this property at the foreclosure sale may be willing to allow you to stay as a tenant instead of requiring you to move out after 30 or 60 days. After the sale, you should receive a written notice informing you that the sale took place and giving you the new owner's name and contact information. You should contact the new owner if you would like to stay. If the new owner accepts rent from you, signs a new residential rental agreement with you or does not notify you in writing within 30 days after the date of the foreclosure sale that you must move out, the new owner becomes your new landlord and must maintain the property. Otherwise:

- You do not owe rent; The new owner is not your landlord and is not responsible for maintaining the property on your behalf, and
- You must move out by the date the new owner specifies in a notice to you. The new owner must offer to pay your moving expenses and any other costs or amounts you and the new owner agree on in exchange for your agreement to leave the premises in less than 30 or 60 days. You should speak with a lawyer to fully understand your rights before making any decisions regarding your tenancy.

IT IS UNLAWFUL FOR ANY PERSON TO TRY TO FORCE YOU TO LEAVE YOUR DWELLING UNIT WITHOUT FIRST GIVING YOU WRITTEN NOTICE AND GONG TO COURT TO EVICT YOU. FOR MORE INFORMATION ON YOUR RIGHTS, YOU SHOULD CONSULT A LAWYER. If you believe you need legal assistance, contact the Oregon State Bar and ask for lawyer referral service. If you do not have enough money to pay a lawyer and are otherwise eligible, you may be able to receive legal assistance for free. Halloween Hootenanny

at Sawdust Theatre

COQUILLE — The Sawdust Theatre has scheduled an evening of music and merrymaking featuring three regional bands and a Halloween Costume Contest on Saturday, Nov. 1.

The Halloween Hootenanny will begin at 6 p.m. featuring Micha or Whatever, Tiller of the Moon and Tbird and the Way It Is. Tickets are $20 for adults and $10 for children age 8 and under.

Dan Pennington of Myrtle Glen Farm, Myrtle Point, organizer of the event, said a costume contest with a prize for the best outfit, will add an element of mystery to the evening.

Micha or Whatever is a singer-songwriter who lives near Coquille. She draws inspiration from various genres of music, Pennington said.

“Her sound is eclectic, ranging from Randy Newman-esque piano ballads dressed in irony to melodies fit for movie scores,” he said. “Her music exudes emotional undertones, often in juxtaposition to the lyrical content. She is busy recording her first album, Things are Getting Weird.”

Her music is available at youtube.com/@MichaOrWhatever.

Pennington said Tiller of the Moon is a group of musicians hailing from Coos Bay to Myrtle Point.

“They blend Midwestern roots with classic West-coast folk to create a catchy, modern sound that is equal parts folk, country, and indie rock,” he said. “They have three albums available everywhere you find music: Waiting Game, Congratulations, and Wasson.”

More information is available at tilleroftthemoon.com.

Tbird and the Way it is, Pennington said, is a group of Oregon coast musicians from Port Orford to Coos Bay, who have been defying genres and rural small town norms together for more than a decade.

“Led by singer and songwriter, Tbird, the group released its debut album, Feel This Way, this past August.”

The group’s music is available at tbirdandthewayitis.bandcamp.com.

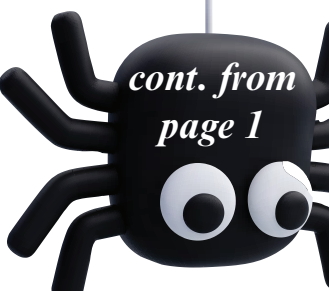

“And don’t discard those Halloween costumes from the previous night’s festivities,” Pennington said. “There will be a costume contest, and the winner will take home a basketful of locally made treats from Farmstead Bread, Wild Coast Brew, and more.”

Tickets are available online at $20 per person (kids 8 and under $10) at www.tix.com, search for “Halloween Hootenanny.”

Tickets also will be available at door of the Sawdust Theatre, 120 N. Adams St., for $25 per person and kids at $10. Doors open at 5:30 p.m. and the show begins at 6 p.m.

On the 24th, the Coos History Museum will be hosting their first ever Night at the Museum fundraiser from 6 to 9 PM. Bring a costume and a flashlight for a spooky night of solving mysteries and find out what the museum’s displays do when the lights are off. All ages are welcome with tickets available at: cooshistory.org

For those looking for something a little scarier, Coos Bay Speedway is hosting their haunt on October 25, 26, and 31 from 6:30 PM to 10:30 PM. Not for the faint of heart, visitors will try their best to make it through the Woods of Terror in one piece. Refreshments are available while you wait, with general admission tickets going for $12 (though you can save $2 with a coupon from O’Reilly Auto Parts). You can find more info at: coosbayspeedway.com

North Bend

North Bend Main Street will be hosting their Halloween Extravaganza on Saturday, October 25. Kids 18 and under can participate in a whole slate of activities throughout the day! Food trucks will be on hand for this rain-or-shine event.

- Trunk-Or-Treat Candy Crawl @ Grant Circle Roundabout from 11 AM to 1 PM
- Halloween Games @ North Bend Fire Department from 11 AM to 1 PM

Bandon

The Greater Bandon Association is putting on the annual Old Town Bandon Trick-or-Treat on the 31st, from 4 to 6 PM. All about providing a safe environment for kids to collect candy, participating businesses down in Old Town will have signs posted to let you know to stop on by.

The Bandon Playhouse will have their production of “Charlotte’s Web” at the Sprague Community Theater with performances on October 24, 25, and 26.

Showtimes are at 7 PM with a Sunday matinee at 2 PM. An adaptation of E.B. White’s beloved children’s book, the show promises to be a good time for all (except maybe arachnophobes).

Reedsport

A Trunk ‘N’ Treat will be held at the Reedsport Church of God on the 31st, from 6 to 7:30. The Chamber Minute

By ROSEY THOMAS

Team ROJO is back from the Oregon State Chamber Conference at Seven Feathers — a little stronger, a little wiser, and full of new ideas for our community. We learned about the power of connection, how to handle conflict with empathy, and that leadership isn’t about fixing everything — it’s about helping others grow. One Chamber shared their “Lemonade Day,” where middle school students run their own small business stands. It aligned with my thoughts...

what if we brought something like that to our Home Show? A chance to inspire young entrepreneurs right here at home. ! In our Education committee, we have been working on identifying who needs help, what programs are already in place for us to assist with, or what our mission should be, so gathering ideas from other Chambers around the state was very beneficial, we rip off and duplicate each other in Chamber worlds for the betterment of the whole state. We realized we need help as a nation with division, and civility. Maybe we can help students with that. At your Bay Area Chamber, we believe our differences can make us stronger — because together, we’re creating a stronger tomorrow. October 31st Trick or Treat with the Bay Area Chamber in the Coos Bay Downtown Associations annual event 3-5pm. We will have our walk through offices open with a few businesses such as the South Coast Shopper, Black Anchor Coffee house and more...

The fall bear eat-a-thon is on, ODFW warns of danger

Now that autumn weather has replaced hot summer days, bears have begun their annual fall eat-a-thon, known as hyperphagia, to prepare for winter. This intense feeding period begins in late summer when berries and fruits ripen and peaks when fruits like pears and apples are available. During this time, bears spend up to 20 hours a day foraging for food, according to a release from the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife (ODFW).

Driven by the need to eat, bears will take advantage of free food – garbage, pet food, bird seed, livestock and poultry feed. State wildlife biologists urge Oregon residents, vacation rental managers, and visitors to remove or secure those food sources. Bears that become used to “people food” can pose a serious safety risk to people and pets.

Oregon’s black bears are highly concentrated along the coast, in the Cascades, and in the Blue Mountains. Coastal residents and visitors need to be especially vigilant as bears are common even in more populated and highly visited seaside towns. However, the obligation also falls on vacation rental managers and guests to contribute to responsible coexistence with bears, according to the ODFW, which strongly encourages property managers to provide bear-resistant trash cans and educate guests how to use those cans and give them BearWise tips to minimize the risk of bear encounters or issues. Skyler Gerrity, an ODFW Assistant Wildlife Biologist with years of experience working in coastal areas, says unsecured trash is one of the primary reasons bears are attracted to neighborhoods. “Bears can smell food from miles away and home in on that source,” Gerrity said. “Leaving trash cans unsecured or accessible gives bears the opportunity to rummage through garbage, which can create a dangerous situation for people - and the bears too.” Bears also have an incredible memory of where they have found food before – female bears pass this knowledge down to their young. Feeding bears, whether intentional or accidental, can have long-lasting negative effects on multiple generations of bears. Most conflict between humans and bears is preventable, according to the ODFW. “Bears don’t want to be around humans, but the prospect of an easy meal is often too good to resist,” the release states. The ODFW urges residents and property managers to remove items that attract bears to the area as the most important step to protect people and ensure bears stay healthy and wild. Follow these tips to be BearWise: • Never feed or approach bears. Feeding bears, whether you mean to or not, will cause them to associate humans with food. It is also against the law in Oregon (ORS 496.730). • Secure food, garbage and recycling. Ensure trash, compost bins and dumpsters are secure by using locking or screw-on lids, metal bars over dumpsters, or fully enclosed trash storage. Take trash out immediately before pick-up, not the night before pickup. • Remove bird feeders. Birds have plenty of naturally available food sources. • Feed pets inside and store food indoors. Pet food attracts bears and other wildlife, putting your pets and wildlife at risk. • Clean and store grills after each use. • Alert neighbors to unusual bear activity (continued sightings during daylight hours, lack of wariness around humans or pets, etc.). Share these tips with your neighbors. These simple yet effective steps will go a long way to avoid conflict and

In their on-going search for food, bears will sometimes come into yards, campsites and even rural or more urban communities looking for easy pickings – food scraps, garbage, pet food or bird feeders.

A black bear tried its best to get into a Neskowin homeowner’s bear resistant trash can. The homeowner then built a small shed to enclose the trash can. The persistent bear left its prints and claw marks on the shed but did not succeed in breaking into it. This resident understands the need to be BearWise and keep black bears wild.

keep bears and people safe, the ODFW release states. Contact your local district ODFW office if you need assistance with a bear-human conflict or observe unusual or aggressive behavior from a bear. As I See It

“Yes, I am friends with Shauna Schmerer. That’s not new. In the 10 years I’ve been Booster Club President, Ms. Schmerer is the only superintendent to continuously attend meetings, volunteer and help with fundraisers. “I believe the time has come for the board to publicly support our administration. This ‘he said, she said’ has got to stop. We are a small community and nothing good will come from continuing to let the teachers and the public shame our administration,” said Hutchens.

Jen Ells, president of the BEA, asked to address Hutchens’ letter. “While we respect every board member’s right to express their opinion, we are deeply concerned that this letter publicly criticized educators and misrepresented the intent of our recent grievance hearing. The educators of Bandon, the teachers, counselors and specialists who show up every day for our students have acted in good faith throughout this process. Our grievance was not about personalities. It was about ensuring the District follows the contract, the same agreement both parties signed, and that exists to protect fairness, consistency, and the integrity of our schools. Educators have a right to raise concerns through the proper channels without the fear of retaliation or public shaming. Suggesting that teachers are harming students by exercising that right is both untrue and harmful to the fabric of our school community. “Our members care deeply for their students. That’s why we stayed, why we speak up, and why we continue teaching in Bandon even when doing so is becoming incredibly difficult. We believe strong schools depend on strong relationships built on mutual respect and accountability, not division or blame. “We call on the Board to reaffirm its role as an impartial body, committed to upholding the collective bargaining agreement and ensuring every employee and every student is treated with dignity and fairness. We will continue to advocate for what’s right, to follow the process, and to focus on what unites us: safe, stable and thriving schools for the children of this community,” said Ells. I also received other letters, including one from parent Catherine Scobby supporting the teachers and another from Amanda Looney, former district business manager, who was critical of the superintendent. Both letters were addressed to the school board and, as such, they are public records. Looney’s letter was also addressed to the Bandon City Council. I regret that we have no newspaper in which to share the letters in their entirety.
