◆ HUMP DAY...

Pacific City man offers picture perfect camel rides

Amber Deyo
Country Media

Before finding himself the owner of two camels, John Bonander had a 10-year career of selling computers to small and medium businesses in Arizona. He took a sabbatical and came up to Oregon to help a friend who had a private exotic animal farm. He ended up going back to his job.

"I sat down in my cube. It's big, big room full of a bunch of cubes where you know people are getting their life sucked out of them, no windows, and maybe some making good money. But I sat there maybe an hour before I wrote my notice," he said. "That was 14 years ago now. Never in my wildest dreams did I think I'd ever be doing this. Never, ever, ever. I love it."

From there, 13 years ago, he decided to get two camels of his own.

"It's just what I fell into ... dumb luck," he said. "I've always liked animals, but I grew up in the South Side of Chicago. But I like it and I like learning."

He acquired Frank and Calvin from Knoxville, Tennessee. They are both geldings and have always been together.

He said the climate here is great because it doesn't get too cold. But even in the desert it gets cold at night, so they need a good shelter and windbreak. He said they also grow a thick winter coat. He said he doesn't shave them with clippers, he just brushes them.

"They eat alfalfa, but they'll browse anything. I mean, they'll go eat blackberries, ferns, you name it," he said. "They're like a giant goat."

He usually has a pocket full of alfalfa cubes for treats, but they also like carrots and watermelon. Right now, he just gives rides in the round pen, but for every ride he gives there, he has someone ask him about riding them on the beach.

He found a spot with a great view and he has a vision. That vision has amounted to hard labor and long days. But once he has the trails in place, he can lead folks up the trail on the camels, to the perfect spot at sunset.

"They can bring wine or whatever they want to do, and I can lead them back down when they're ready," he said.

The trail he's making will get people out on a camel long enough, but not too long, he said.

"I think it's gonna be perfect," he said.

One barrier to this at this time is that there's only one of him and he has two camels to be led. He said a person has to respect that they are handling a large animal that could hurt you. He said they get smarter every year and a person can't be sheepish in taking care of them. For the outside observer, when they aren't being ridden, they sit quietly and chew on their cud. And when they are being ridden, they follow Bonander's lead.

He said even after he gets his trail set, he will still do the rides in the corral. He said he only charges $15 for the short ride because he wants the camels to be accessible.

"If you've got something cool like these guys, you should just share," he said.

He said he thinks there are camels in every state except Hawaii, and he was required to get a United States Department of Agriculture Exhibitors license for the camels.

"If you had a camel in your backyard and that's all it ever did and you didn't - not even once - take it to a school, a church, a parade, or anything like that, you wouldn't need a license," he said. "But the minute you exhibit it out in the public. You have to have a USDA license."

He said he's inspected a couple times a year to prove his facilities are up to snuff and his equipment is OK, and he's following his animal care plan and more.

He went to a camel bootcamp where he learned about camels and how to care for them. He said that in fact, camel's humps are not filled with water as most people seem to think.

"I'm pretty sure when we were all young, we all saw this Mickey Mouse cartoon or something like that with Mickey or Goofy filling up the camel's hump with water," he said. "I think that's where it's from. Could be wrong, but that got in everyone's head."

In reality, it's fat storage and the spot on their body where they store fat. But it's firm with fat and gristle and connective tissue. A camel's backbone is straight, he said.

This is only his second season in Pacific City, working alongside Green Acres Beach & Trail Rides: Horseback Rides, and he's working on getting his new vision dialed in for next year, as the weather will be prohibitive to trail building and camel riding before long.

West Coast Camels LLC is located at 5985 Pacific Ave, Pacific City, OR 97135. Bonander can be reached at (602) 703-2663 or you can find them on Facebook and Instagram.

COVID-19 update

Death toll at 17, testing and vaccines available at fairgrounds

Hilary Dorsey
Staff Writer

Tillamook County Community Health Centers reported during a Tillamook County Board of Commissioners meeting Wednesday, Sept. 1, 81 COVID-19 cases from Friday, Aug. 27, through Sunday, Aug. 29. There were 356 cases in the 14-day case count from Aug. 15 through Aug. 28.

Emergency Preparedness Coordinator Ed Colson reported 666 COVID-19 cases from Aug. 1 through Aug. 29. Since the beginning of the pandemic, the county has had 1,441 cases.

"We are at 13 confirmed deaths as of this report, 11 being confirmed not vaccinated and two with no vaccine record," Colson said. "The death toll was five deaths up until July. Since August, that death toll has gone up to 13. Eight deaths in nine days."

The health department reported Thursday, Sept. 2, four new COVID-19 associated deaths, raising the death toll to 17.

There are eight confirmed outbreaks in the county and eight pending investigation, Colson added. The public health team is behind on case investigation but is working to catch up. Oregon Health Authority confirmed outbreaks as of Sept. 1 at Tillamook Youth Correctional Facility with 29 cases, Fred Meyer with 25 cases, Stimson Lumber with 18 cases, Tillamook County Creamery Association with 11 cases, Tillamook County Smoker with eight cases and Tillamook County Transportation District with five cases.

"OHA reports that the Delta variant is three times more transmissible than the earlier strains of the virus, causing at least two times more infections," Colson said.

Colson said one of the best ways to prevent the spread of COVID-19 is the use of masks. Gov. Kate Brown has issued mask mandates for indoor public spaces and most outdoor public settings.

"Tillamook County Public Health recommends that individuals take the following precautions to reduce and limit the spread of COVID-19: To follow current mask requirement - wear a mask properly over your nose and mouth - keep six feet of distance from those not in your immediate household, wash your hands frequently, and make a plan to get the COVID-19 vaccine as soon as possible if eligible and not yet vaccinated," Colson said.

The health department has opened a drive-thru testing site from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at the Tillamook County Fairgrounds for those who have symptoms or known exposure.

All Adventist Health clinics are available for non-symptomatic COVID-19 testing, typically used for travel requirements, pre-op surgery and more. Rapid testing is available by walk-in appointments for existing patients. For non-existing patients, visit the Adventist Health Tillamook location.

Colson said the vaccine is the best tool for protection against the virus. COVID-19 vaccines are available from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays at the Tillamook County Fairgrounds inside the convention center.

Nestucca, NKN school districts start school year with distance learning, TSD9 to start with in person learning

Hilary Dorsey
Staff Writer

Due to the increase in COVID-19 cases in Tillamook County, as well as increased COVID-19 related deaths, two school districts have planned to delay the start of the school year. Neah-Kah-Nie School District and Nestucca Valley School District plan to begin a comprehensive distance learning model Monday, Sept. 13. Tillamook School District will begin in-person learning Tuesday, Sept. 7.

Neah-Kah-Nie School District announced Monday, Aug. 30, plans to delay the beginning of the school year to Sept. 13, and will begin with comprehensive distance learning. The district had previously planned for a start of in-person learning to begin Tuesday, Sept. 7.

According to a letter to the community from Superintendent Paul Erlebach, the school district's goal is to transition from comprehensive distance learning to in-person instruction as soon as possible once the data indicates in-person instruction is safe.

Extra-curricular activities at the middle and high school are temporarily suspended, as of Aug. 30. On Thursday, Sept. 2, middle school athletes were cleared to begin football practice Sept. 7 and volleyball and cross country on Sept. 13. There were no updates on high school sports as of press time.

The school district held a meeting

Wednesday, Sept. 1, via Zoom to discuss the upcoming school year and answer questions from parents, staff and students. Erlebach said he and the principals discussed a return date of Oct. 18, but if the district can transition before that date, they will.

Gov. Kate Brown announced a vaccine mandate in August, requiring all K-12 school employees to be fully vaccinated by Oct. 18.

"We're in a pandemic, and with the numbers where they are, that's why I made the decision," Erlebach said.

A parent asked about testing athletes. Neah-Kah-Nie High School Principal Heidi Buckmaster said OHSU is going to be rolling out a screening program using the PCR test, mostly used for asymptomatic people. Before the roll out, OHSU has to complete a pilot program. Buckmaster offered to volunteer the school for the program.

"Any screening/testing that's going to happen is still a little bit out," Buckmaster said. "We have already completed all the registration paperwork required for us to participate in that. All we need is for parents to opt in."

Nestucca Valley School District

Nestucca Valley School District announced Thursday, Sept. 2, that the school year will also begin in comprehensive distance learning, due to the COVID-19 spread in the county. The school district had previously delayed the start of the school year to Monday, Sept. 13.

Superintendent Misty Wharton stated in a letter to the community that the district would look at data points and consult the Tillamook County Health Department to make a decision about the model of instruction every two weeks.

Two new Port of Tillamook Bay commissioners join governing board

The Port of Tillamook Bay Board of Commissioners welcomed two new faces this summer, including one commissioner who has served on the board before. Bill Baertlein and Kevin Stoecker started their four-year terms on July 1. The men replace Chris Sween and Jim Young. "I want to thank Chris and Jim for their service. Chris joined the board in 2020 to fill a vacancy, and his ability to learn quickly and think critically served the port well in the last year. Jim leaves the commission after 12 years, and his institutional knowledge proved invaluable," said Michele Bradley, port general manager. "Though we will miss Chris and Jim both, I am confident our new commissioners can pick up where they left off."

Baertlein, 70, was elected to a four-year term on the port commission. He previously served as a port commissioner from 2010 through 2013. He returns to the port commission after a short hiatus, during which he served as a Tillamook County Commissioner. Baertlein said he sought another term on the port commission because he enjoys envisioning economic development projects that can benefit the community.

"The port is an exciting place. A lot of really cool things have been happening out there with the Near Space Center, timber industry and all of the rental units," Baertlein said. "That's why it's so much fun: You're juggling so many different things out there."

Stoecker, 63, won a partial, two-year term on the port commission to complete an open Position 3 term that expires in 2023. Stoecker brings more than two decades of experience with governmental budgeting gained during his long career with the City of Portland parks division. He said he wanted to join the port commission to keep his mind sharp in retirement and to put his budgeting and other management skills to good use for benefit of the local community.

"I really like that as port commissioner, I have the ability to make changes where it can make a real impact for the public and for taxpayers. It's important for me to be able to do that," Stoecker said. "My goal is to have transparency. I'd also like to see the port open up more recreation opportunities."

Port commissioners are elected to the board by the vote of the people. The five-member board of commissioners is responsible for setting port policy and budgets at the port, which serves as the core of the region's industrial economy.

The Port of Tillamook Bay covers approximately 1,600 acres, including a 200-acre industrial park, the Tillamook Municipal Airport, the Tillamook Air Museum and the 85-plus miles of railroad right of way ending in Banks.

Man dies in hit and run crash at Fred Meyers

Tillamook Police Department responded at 10:59 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 1, to the area of Hwy 101 in front of Fred Meyers to a report of a pedestrian who had been hit by a vehicle that had fled the scene. Upon arrival at 11 p.m., police found a 75-year-old man dead in the roadway.

According to the police department, the crime scene was processed with the assistance of the Oregon State Police Reconstruction Team, Tillamook County Sheriff's Office, Tillamook Fire Department, ODOT, Adventist Health Ambulance, Tillamook County District Attorney, and the Tillamook County Medical Examiner. Law enforcement was able to locate the male 26-year-old driver of the suspect vehicle who had a friend drive him back down to the crime scene to turn himself in after hearing reports of the incident on his scanner. He has been lodged at the Tillamook County Jail on recommended charges of manslaughter and felony hit and Run. The name of the deceased is being withheld pending notification of the next of kin.

Adventist Health Tillamook and Rural Oregon Clinics provide online scheduling

Citing high demand for scheduling appointments as well as meeting expectations for convenience and care,

Adventist Health Tillamook offers several updates that increase options for scheduling appointments and decrease the time to see a provider. Primary care appointments can now be scheduled online at any coastal clinic in Tillamook, Pacific City, Lincoln City and Manzanita as well as inland clinics in Sheridan, Vernonia, Hoodland and Estacada.

When patients visit the Adventist Health Tillamook website, AdventistHealthTillamook.org, scheduling a primary care appointment online simply requires clicking "Book online" immediately below the photo on the primary care provider of their choice. Online appointment scheduling is also available via the recently updated MyAdventistHealth app, a healthcare portal for managing care and messaging providers.

"Online scheduling allows fast access to getting routine care patients need," said Eric Swanson, Tillamook President. "The spring and summer brought very high demand for care at our clinics and providing online scheduling has the potential to meet this demand while at the same time lowering wait times for patients who prefer to schedule their appointment by phone."

Additionally, calling for an appointment has been upgraded with a new queueing system with callback ability. This feature allows for a patient to leave their number, and an Adventist Health associate will return their call in the same order in which it was received.

Also, several providers are joining Adventist Health Tillamook and Rural Oregon Clinics from August through October. Amy Echelberger, MD, will be joining the Medical Office - Manzanita, and Nina Mattarella, MD, Angelo Williams, DO, and Niels Mitchell, PA-C, will be joining the Adventist Health Tillamook Medical Office - Plaza. These additions will greatly reduce the time to see a provider for care. For a complete list of Adventist Health Tillamook primary care providers, and schedule an appointment, visit AdventistHealthTillamook.org/ onlinescheduling or call 503-842-4444.

We held a belated birthday dinner for Steve and Karen Walz the other day. We learned of another birthday baby and added him to the mix: Steve's younger brother Tim. Tim Walz lives in Northern Calif.; he was up in Oregon for a week or so to help their sister Sherry with estate administration. Work included a lot of yard maintenance, cleaning and sorting items. Tim took some time off to visit Steve and Karen here in Cape Meares. While he prefers the warmer California weather, Tim loved the ocean views and sparsely populated beach, and also had a good time out salmon fishing with his brother. He also liked the lingcod, couscous spinach salad and yellow corn on the birthday menu, as well as the Elvis Presley brownies and ice cream for dessert. Nice to meet more of your relatives, Steve and Karen!

Man, did we have a great day on the bay in late August. The fisherfolk reading this column know that Captain Pete and I have a wooden drift boat. This boat doesn't draw much water, so we were able to launch at Memaloose despite some low tides. On our first pass, Pete said, "Reel in, we'll turn around and hook a fish"—and he was right! He hooked one right after our turn at the head of the pool, and soon the 15-lb. Chinook salmon was in our boat. We were extremely delighted, having missed out on most of the spring run due to surgery/illness. Pete tagged the fish and we got our lines back in the water. When we reached that same spot about a half hour later, I hooked a fish! Mine was 26 pounds, perhaps bigger to make up for all the fish I didn't catch last year. We were both fishing Pro-Trolls with little Mexican hat spinners. But we know what really gave us good luck that day: It would have been the 108th birthday for Harvey Steen, Pete's dad. Considering Harvey is the one who got Pete hooked on fishing, we know he would have been pleased that we were out catching, not just fishing, that day.

We have not been as fortunate with another hunting and gathering activity, and that is razor clamming. Razors have been closed from the Wash.

border to Cape Lookout all year. Fortunately, musseling has been open. If you are interested in any of these activities, please call the Shellfish Hotline at 800-448-2474 for current information.

The Cape Meares Community Association (CMCA) is planning a Sept. 18 gathering to nominate new officers and take up general business. Anyone is welcome to step up and self-nominate. The meeting will be held from 3-5 p.m. that Saturday in the front courtyard of the Barbara Bennett Community Center.

The meeting will end with an ice cream social at 5 p.m.; yum! Please get vaccinated if you are able, and bring a mask even if you are already completely immunized. We want to keep our community safe. See you there!

BAY CITY FENCEPOST

Jody had something come up, and asked me to step in this week. That means no birthdays, anniversaries, or the other things that she is good at noting, and I am good at forgetting.

Labor Day has now past, which means that students will soon be back in schools, and the long summer days will soon make way for fall rains.

Did you know that Oregon was the first state to recognize Labor Day as a holiday? Bay City always strikes me as a perfect example of why we celebrate Labor Day. Labor Day recognizes the contributions of laborers to the achievements of the United States, just like the hard-working people who inhabit our little town. Those people keep our economy running, and provide for their families.

It is important that we support these families, and provide them with opportunities to spend quality family time nearby. In addition to events at the Bay City Arts Center, we have great outdoors facilities like Kilchis Point Reserve and Watt Family Park. Al Griffin Memorial Park also has some good activities, and the public is welcome to provide input on what we should do to improve it, and make it even better. There will be a meeting on Thursday, September 16th at 10:00 am at the gazebo. Please join in the conversation, so that we can make sure the park reflects the interests of our community members.

Due to the increase in COVID cases, the City has decided to conduct our regular meetings online. You can find the link for the meetings on the City's website.

Stay safe, and have a great week!

Mayor, City of Bay City

Schools

School sports are still on. The school district will continue to offer sports as long as there is not an outbreak.

"We are not allowing spectators indoors and only allowing two spectators per athlete outdoors as a mitigation strategy," Wharton stated. "We will offer live streaming of the competitions."

Wharton stated once the district begins to see a decline in case counts, and an increase in the vaccinated population, they would begin to bring students back into the schools.

Students will begin distance learning as an entire day schedule. From Sept. 7 through Sept. 10, the district will communicate with students about new routines, how to pick up a laptop and student teacher assignments.

"The number one charge as the chief executive of the school district is to keep students and staff safe," Wharton stated. "With the current level of spread, and positive test percentage, we cannot keep students safe with in-person instruction."

Tillamook School District
Tillamook School District is scheduled to start school in person Tuesday, Sept. 7. Superintendent Curt Shelley said the district believes it can mitigate the virus and control the variables at school. Schools will be implementing mitigation strategies including regular sanitization of high touch surfaces, social distancing of a minimum of three feet, proper mask usage, proper ventilation strategies and the use of saltwater biocide nebulizers.

Masks are required indoors and on the bus. Students will be visually screened and will sanitize upon entry to the building daily. If a student becomes sick, they will be sent home.

"The staff being vaccinated is also comforting," Shelley said.

Like many school districts in Oregon, Tillamook School District is struggling to fill vacant positions and retain staff. Shelley announced that effective Sept. 1, classified staff members will receive a 10 percent incentive and retention allocation.

"This is a one year incentive to assist in filling the number of vacant positions currently being advertised by offering a wage that is competitive given the current economic environment (COVID) and an effort to retain quality staff," Shelley stated in a letter to staff.

The offer will be brought before the board of directors for approval at the Sept. 13 board meeting.

Shelley said the school district is scheduled to continue offering extra curricular activities but will be extra cautious for safety.

Hebo Women's Book Club met last week via Zoom. Besides myself, participants included Melanie Merryman, Rachel Pettit, Nancy Whitehead and Joan Wilke. We discussed "The Snow Child," a first book by Eowyn Ivey, which was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize for fiction in 2013. Joan checked out Tillamook County Library's book club kit and led our discussion, Melanie distributed the books and hosted the Zoom meeting. We all enjoyed this page turner which centers on an older couple who've settled on the Alaska frontier. They build a snow-child one winter evening, and they discover, the next morning, that she may have come to life. This sweet story makes a great antidote in these troubled times. We plan a book selection evening when the group meets for September.

second, we were home with a week to spare before the hurricane hit. Thanks for your concern.

Our ongoing warm dry summer, for the third year in a row, is stressing large trees in these parts. I appreciate KTIL airing a piece some weeks ago alerting listeners to the plight of our trees in drought conditions. Since then I have run a hose (at more than a trickle but far less than full force) on each of three large trees in my yard for an hour at a time once a week. Our trees provide oxygen through their leaves, shade, habitat for wild creatures and their roots prevent erosion of our top soil. I've lost one large Hemlock to dry summers already. Are there trees on your land that are thirsty?

Remember that Nesko Women's Club will kick off their year with a lunch meeting at 11:30 on Friday, September 17 at Kiawanda Community Center. Lunch will be catered by Grateful Bread for $12 or you can bring your own. Everyone pays $3 for the use of the space. The program will feature Peter Starkey, Executive Director (E.D.) of Community Action Resource Enterprise, or C.A.R.E. He was recently hired to fill the post vacated by former E.D. Erin Skarr when Erin was elected a County Commissioner. Don't forget that Neskowin Farmer's Market happens from 9:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. weekly on Saturdays. They're located on the east side of U.S. Highway 101 at the corner of Summit Lane across from Neskowin Beach Wayside. For more information, go to neskowinfarmersmarket.com. Pacific City Farmer's Market runs from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. on Sundays. It's located in the parking lot of South Tillamook County Library on Camp Street (off of Brooten Road) in Pacific City. While some vendors participate in both markets, many do not, so it's worth attending both--or alternating between the two, if that suits your schedule and location.

Deciding the next 10 years

Suzanne Weber
Rep. House Dist 32

starting at 8:00am and Thursday, September 9 starting at 5:30pm.

For residents of Congressional District 5, the virtual public hearings will take place Thursday, September 9 starting at 1:00pm and Monday, September 13 starting at 8:00am.

If you miss these times, anyone can sign up to testify on Monday, September 13 between 1:00pm – 4:00pm and 5:30pm – 8:30pm.

As you consider what is important to you regarding redistricting, a collection of different criteria used across the country can be found at this link.

The U.S. Census Bureau recently announced that Oregon is getting a sixth congressional district which makes this process of redistricting even more important. This will increase Oregon's representation in Washington D.C. from five congressmembers to six. Your voice will influence where this sixth congressional district will be located.

Oregon's current political boundaries are based off maps drawn 20 years ago for partisan gain by a single person, and that advantage has swayed heavily towards the party in power.

This is your opportunity to rebalance Oregon and ensure new district lines aren't gerrymandered. Your actions can affect the next 10 years of elections in Oregon.

To learn more about the redistricting process and sign up to testify, visit oregon-legislature.gov/redistricting. To find out which Congressional District you live in, visit <https://www.house.gov/representatives/find-your-representative>.

Representative Suzanne Weber represents House District 32 in the Oregon Legislature.

CHAMBER CHATTER

Welcome new employees with the Tillamook Toolkit

Justin Aufdermauer
Executive Director

This week as Food Roots, one of our Chamber members, announced the addition of two new employees to its staff, our team at the Chamber packaged up two Tillamook Toolkits to send off to their storefront. Chock full of locally sourced goodies, the toolkit serves as our way of welcoming individuals to their new jobs and to our community.

The Chamber started sending out the toolkits a few years ago. I find it to be a simple but important tool – no pun intended – helping local businesses retain the talented staff they hire, especially when those employees move to Tillamook from outside our community.

Each toolkit includes an assortment of gifts a new employee needs to start off their job on the right foot. As an added bonus, every item in the box comes from one of our Chamber members, so we are able to highlight some of the amazing resources we have right here in our community. All in all, we consider it a small taste of what makes Tillamook a great place to live, work and play! And we hope it encourages everyone who gets a box to stay in our community a while, so their talent stays local.

I don't want to divulge all of the items, for the sake of maintaining some element of surprise for the recipients. But I can tell you this isn't a box of cheap and useless trinkets - products from Five Rivers Coffee Roasters, Werner Beef and Brew and Jacobsen Salt all make an appearance.

The toolkit also includes contact information for the Chamber, because we want everyone in Tillamook to know that we've got their back. Whether you're a new manager at a well-known nonprofit or an entrepreneur upstarting your first business, our staff is here to help with any questions, advice or networking opportunities you need. Don't hesitate to reach out.

Typically, the toolkit goes to new business owners, managers, leaders and supervisors. The packages are shipped from our office, most often upon the request of an employer. (It's hard for us to keep up with the news of every new hire or special promotion in town, so help us help you by alerting our office directly).

To order a Tillamook Toolkit, simply email info@tillamookchamber.org with the name, position and mailing address of the person you'd like to receive it. If the phone is easier for you, call Tammy at 503-842-7525.

And don't worry about delivery: We'll send it out for you.

TALES FROM THE LIBRARY

Bill Landau
Tillamook County Library

Have you ever tried writing a book? How about a poem? Or maybe even a short story? If you haven't tried, maybe you should give it a whirl.

A long time ago, when I was in second grade, my teacher had us each write an original poem. "Think of your favorite thing, and write a poem about it," she said. Anyone who knows me will not be surprised that I wrote a little poem about my favorite cartoon character, Snoopy. I thought for a few minutes, then carefully handprinted my eight-line poem on lined paper, and handed it in. The next day, I was surprised to see my poem on the classroom bulletin board, with a big blue ribbon on it! I had won first place on the very first poem I ever wrote! I proudly took my poem and ribbon home and showed my mom, who promptly stuck in on the front of the refrigerator, where all great works of art are posted.

This is where my story takes a dark turn. I grew up with five feisty brothers (and no sisters...my poor mother!) and we were always up to some mischief. The next morning when I came down for breakfast, I found my award-winning poem on the floor...ripped in two! After much household drama that resulted in no one admitting they did it, and EVERYONE getting grounded, we taped the poem back together, and I still have it to this day. But the biggest thing I learned from this turn-of-events is this...I must be really good at writing poems if one of my brothers was jealous enough to tear it apart! As a result, I have been writing poetry ever since.

But I can hear some of you now saying you are too old to start writing books. Nonsense! Some of the world's greatest authors got a very late start in their writing career. Take James A. Michener, for example. You might know his Tales of the South Pacific, which won a Pulitzer Prize and went on to be adapted into a highly successful Broadway musical. He did not start writing until age 40, but then wrote a book a year for the next 40 years.

Laura Ingalls Wilder did not have any writing success until she was 65 years old when Little House in the Big Woods was published. Many of her stories were based on her real-life experiences, so perhaps she needed to live much of her life first before trying to write it down.

Toni Morrison was 40 years old when she wrote The Bluest Eye. She continued to write for the rest of her life, eventually winning a Pulitzer Prize and a Nobel Prize in Literature. Mark Twain was 48 when The Adventures of Tom Sawyer and The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn were published. Let's not forget the J. R. R. Tolkien was 45 before he had any success in writing. Then he went on to become the "father" of modern fantasy literature with books like The Hobbit and The Lord of the Rings trilogy.

That should be enough proof that it's never too late to try your hand at writing what could become the next great novel. If you do get your book published, we would love to have it available for checkout from the Tillamook County Library. And if you are still looking for a topic to write about, I have first-hand experience (and a faded blue ribbon) that proves Snoopy makes an excellent subject.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

We want to hear from you and encourage you to write letters to the editor.

Because of space limitations, shorter letters have a better chance of being printed. We may edit your letter for style, grammar and clarity, although we do as little editing as possible. Letters longer than 300 words will not be printed. Letters can be on any topic, but letters on local issues will be given preference.

Letters to the Editor that attack or challenge private individuals or private businesses will be refused. Challenges to public officials may be permitted. Only one letter per writer will be published on a single topic each month.

Thank you letters are limited to mentioning individuals and non-commercial organizations and cannot exceed 200 words. Letters need to be submitted by Thursday at noon the week prior to publication.

We also welcome longer guest editorials. These might be columns written by newsmakers, public officials or representatives of local organizations. These can run a little longer in length.

To verify authenticity, all letters and guest editorials must be signed and include your address and daytime phone number. We won't print your street address of phone number. Any guest opinion may appear on the Headlight Herald website.

While we strive to publish all viewpoints, Headlight Herald and Country Media reserve the right to refuse to publish any letter or guest editorial.

ROCKAWAY FENCEPOST

My neighbor called us and warned us to look around when we pull into our driveway. She was sitting by her window that faces our house and watched a bear walk down our driveway. Darn, I wish I could have seen that! I guess some of the folks in Lake Lytle Estates have reported bear sightings too. Well, I guess we do live up against the woods.

August 28th was 'Play Music on the Porch Day.' Well, I played ukulele on my porch, I hope you heard a neighbor or two play a song or two. Listening to music simply puts joy into our lives! "Good music makes a happy life."

ROCKAWAY BEACH
SUGAR BROSIOUS
503-653-1449

We had a bit of smoke in Rockaway Beach last Sunday, August 29th. The fire was in the Nedonna Beach area. I haven't heard the cause yet, but things are really dry out there. We need to kindly remind our visitors to put their fires out with water. And fireworks, we need to discourage people from setting them off. All it takes is one spark. (I know, but someone has to say it... giggle.)

Happy birthday to Nancy Roberts, Lucia Davis, Victor Troxel, Judy Mammano, John Garcia, Beth Vice, Joanne Love, Joanne Aagaard and my neighbor, Darlene Mawdsley. Wow! September has lots of birthdays! And happy birthday to all of you I have missed.

The Get Fit with Rhonda & Friends" folks are walking around the downtown area on Wednesday, August 8th. Somewhere along the way you will have lunch together. Contact Rhonda at Rhonda.Mulholland@gmail.com or 503 332 5861 for more information!

The Lions Club is at it again! Those wonderful folks are hosting their "Build-It" With a Lion event again. It will be Saturday, September 18th at 10 am with the Rockaway Beach Lions Club on Zoom. This event is open to kids 4 years and older. If your children want to participate by Zoom, they can pick up their Zoom kits September 17th from 5-7pm at the Lions Clubhouse. There they will get the Zoom link. They will need to have their own hammer, safety glasses, small phillip's head screw driver and parental supervision. The kits are donated in part by both The Home Depot and the Rockaway Beach Knights Lions.

When I was a child, my mom and I watched a train hit a car in Milwaukie. Unfortunately the lady that was in the car did not make it. She had been in a hurry and thought she could beat the train. The train was really moving, she didn't have a chance. Well, the train in Rockaway Beach hit a car, but fortunately it was traveling slowly. I believe the folks were okay. Folks that watched it happen said they saw them talking to the police. Whew, they were lucky.

So, I wanted to address a few questions that were emailed to me. With Covid, many events in town have been cancelled. The city will be working hard trying to bring as many events as is feasible, as the pandemic recedes. Who knows what next year will bring.

I say that life has changed and will continue to change. Change is good. New folks may step forward with new ideas to make new traditions as well as retaining many of the old, and our town will continue to be the best and most fun town to visit or live. We know how to shine! Our town is so much fun. We will all have to be patient, and when things get back to normal, hopefully folks will be ready to step in and help our town 'ROCK!'

The other question I was asked has to do with the traffic issue on 3rd Avenue by the Lions Club. Well, here goes. It's a supply matter. They are waiting for the "vault" to be manufactured and delivered. The vault contains the pump, itself and is a specialized item. The city has been told it is a supply matter at the manufacturers end. So, we need to cross our fingers and hope everything falls into place so the road will be back to normal. Boy, Covid has sure messed everybody's schedules up.

Our neighbor's guests went clamming and we cleaned and froze a bunch of them. Today I am smelling the yummy aroma of clam chowder in my Instant Pot. Yum!

"Because when you stop and look around, this life is pretty amazing!" Stay safe my friends. That's Rockaway Beach, "Sugar Coated!"

"WE BELIEVE IN PACIFIC CITY AND WE BELIEVE IN THIS MALL."

It's an understatement to say that Don Sheeley and his wife Debbie Boone are willing to accept risk. Since making the difficult decision to become entrepreneurs 21 years ago, Don and Debbie have continually risked their own savings to purchase, renovate and develop five grocery stores, two restaurants and dozens of homes in ten small Oregon towns, creating well over a hundred permanent jobs. Simply put, when Don and Debbie have believed in a small town, the community has benefited.

We'll start with the backstory and it's a wild one. Both native Oregonians, Don and Debbie had achieved relative financial stability by working hard for others. Don had been a butcher who had worked his way up the ladder to become an executive at Unified Grocers. But at the age of 38 he was required to relocate to California. That was the moment that Don and Debbie decided that living in Oregon was more important to them than a steady paycheck.

Borrowing from Debbie's parents and mortgaging their own beach house, they began purchasing a variety of commercial and residential properties, upgrading businesses, creating jobs and brightening communities in the process. Don and Debbie didn't just provide the vision and funding, they participated in the renovations and often worked for years in the businesses they were developing. In some cases, they mentored employees and eventually sold them the businesses. To this day, each of those businesses continue to thrive.

Don and Debbie have a special relationship with Pacific City. It's where they purchased and remodeled their first grocery store, second restaurant and multiple homes, including several that they've lived in themselves. In fact, they recently acquired and began renovating a family compound so that their daughters and their families can enjoy Pacific City with them.

It was January 28th 2020, that Don and Debbie purchased their latest Pacific City investment, Shops at the Village, an 8,000 square foot mall on Brooten Road. That date is important because it wasn't too many days later that the pandemic changed everything. Probably not the best time to be redeveloping a retail mall. It did give Debbie an opportunity to kid Don - "you just had to buy that shopping center, didn't you," she'd remind him with a smile.

With state mandates severely affecting the ways that businesses could operate, tourism shuttered, and people avoiding shopping trips as much as possible, Don realized that the mall's businesses would all be facing difficult times. "I told them, we get it, and stopped collecting rent for months", he recalls. "Then, as our remodeling caused additional disruption for the shop owners, we offered more free rent, which enabled them to survive very challenging circumstances."

Every square foot of Shops at the Village was eventually remodeled. Bathrooms were added to every establishment. When Don and Debbie first acquired the property, there were just five tenants, who operated their businesses a limited number of hours. Today there are ten with additional shops soon to come. "As we signed lease renewals and brought in new businesses, we asked each of them to raise the bar so that the mall could be open seven days a week with consistent hours," explained Don.

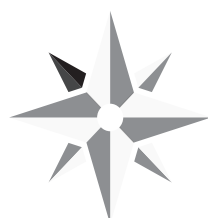

Perhaps the best-known shop in the mall, Lucky Beach Boutique, now occupies more than triple its prior space. Lines often form to get into Cold Water Coffee and Pacific Coast Candy. A popular new shop, Ritual, offers luxury self-care products. Business is also booming at the Blue Nickel, the mall's antiques and collectibles shop. Shops at the Village also houses thriving offices for Rob Trost Real Estate, Ticor Title and Guaranteed Rate, a mortgage broker. "The three real estate related businesses all coordinate well together, which makes it sort of one-stop-shopping for families buying Pacific City area homes," comments Don.

A new day spa is coming soon and two additional offices are being developed upstairs. Don and Debbie hope to attract a restaurant to Shops at the Village and future expansion may include food carts and outdoor dining on the adjacent lot, which they also purchased.

"Our goal is to be a catalyst for community development. I guess the best way to put it is that we believe in Pacific City and we believe in this mall," explains Don. "Our tenants are all locally-owned family businesses and it's exciting to see the mall become a vibrant place again."

Don gives much of the credit to Wing Ridge Construction, a longtime Oregon Coast contractor that assigned a five-person crew to renovate the mall. "They bought into the vision right from the start and are still working tirelessly on the project."

Don and Debbie also have very kind words to say about their bankers at Oregon Coast Bank, who have financed many of their projects over the years. "They're as committed to the community as we are," points out Don. "Oregon Coast Bank continues to loan hundreds of millions of dollars to families and businesses on the coast. Despite the pandemic, it took just one phone call and they were here on site with us in Pacific City asking how they could help. Not every entrepreneur has a true partner, we do with Oregon Coast Bank and we really appreciate that fact."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

In response to:

I have requested in the past for any and all Republicans in Tillamook County to write back to this newspaper and tell all of us how Donald Trump and the Republican Party has made your lives better. I am still waiting for a reply, by Richard Teerman of Rockaway Beach, following is your reply.

Richard Teerman's challenge to tell him how Donald Trump and the Republican Party has made our lives better reveals clearly that he doesn't understand the conservative perspective of government.

We don't want the government to make our lives better. We don't elect Presidents to improve our lives. We want the Government to leave us alone and let us govern our own lives.

We want the Government to protect us from our enemies, defend our borders, and get out of the way of us exercising our God given freedoms, rights, privileges, and natural born liberties.

The great Ronald Regan said it best "Government is not a solution to our problem; government is the problem. Government does not solve problems; it subsidizes them".

President Regan also said, "if more government is the answer, then it was a really stupid question".

OBITUARIES

Dorothy Godett

Sept. 27, 1928 - Aug. 26, 2021

before divorcing in 1959.

In 1965, Dorothy married Harold Godett. In 1969, the family moved to Overland Park, Kan., where Dorothy sold jewelry in a department store and later sold advertising specialties. Dorothy moved to Pacific City in 1990, where she ran the Library Thrift Store for six years and served on the library board.

Dorothy was a whiz with words. She loved solving crossword puzzles, mastering games of all kinds, spinning puns, and beating everyone at "Wheel of Fortune" into her 90s.

Since 2014 Dorothy lived in Chattanooga with her younger daughter, Rachel Schulson (Henry). Her older daughter, Amy Thurman, lives in Kansas City, Mo. In addition to her daughters, Dorothy is survived by five grandchildren, Niccole Thurman, Adrienne Cuff (Dalen), Michael Schulson (Emma Green), and Leah Schulson; and four great-grandchildren, EJ, Levin, Lyra, and Jethro.

Donations can be made in Dorothy's honor to support the Pacific City library.

Dorothy Shaffer Godett, daughter of Josephine Feiner Shaffer and Louis Shaffer, died on August 26 in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Born in Chicago on September 27, 1928, Dorothy moved to Kew Gardens, N.Y. when she was in eighth grade. She attended Queens College, where she majored in sociology. She earned a master's degree in education from New York University. While earning her master's, she taught elementary school in Greenwich Village.

When she married Norman Ellenberg in 1952, she moved to Long Island, N.Y. and taught kindergarten and first grade. The couple had two daughters, Amy and Rachel,

Bertha Victoria Kent-Crivella

March 7, 1923 - 2021

Bertha Victoria Kent-Crivella born March 7, 1923. On August 30, 2021 she passed in her hometown of Tillamook, Oregon at the age of 98 years old.

Bertha was so many things to so many people in her long life. Daughter, sister, wife, mother, grandmother, great grandmother, great-great grandmother, aunt, supporter and such a good friend. She held a special place in all our hearts as she simply was easy to love with a huge heart for those lucky enough to be a part of her life.

Bertha was born at home to Albert S. Kent and Ina Kent. She was raised on the family berry farm in Monitor, Oregon with her 7 siblings and attended school at Elliott Prairie.

As a young woman, Bertha joined her sisters Wilma and Mae in Portland to work in the shipyards. On a visit to Rockaway she met her husband, Paul Crivella. Paul and Bertha were married in Rockaway on February 22, 1948 and lived in Brighton. In 1962 they moved to Tillamook, Oregon and lived for 56 years before Paul's passing in 2003. The couple had three children together, Sheryl, Jeanne and Philip (deceased at birth).

In Bertha's life she worked hard as a dairy farmer, ran a successful Oregon Journal dealership, worked at Exact Electronics, and had an Oregonian paper route as well as assisted at Jeanne's pet boutique in Tillamook. In her free time, Bertha loved to be with and enjoy her family the most. She had a much-adored poodle named Prince who could be found beside her at any moment, a loyal sidekick. If she wasn't home, you could often find her on the road to her next Red Hat event with the Tilly's Scarlett Divas or going for a drive and traveling with her loved ones.

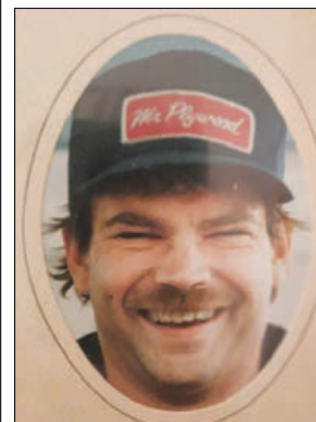

Bertha was preceded in death by her son Philip, husband Paul, siblings Ethel Hackett, Roscoe Kent, Viona Darby, Donald Kent, Wilma Ruhl and Mae Brewer.

She is survived by her brother Ray Kent (Marcy), her two daughters Sheryl Johnson (Ed), Jeanne Komlofske (Lloyd), her grandchildren, Grady Johnson (Tami), Torey Johnson, Heidi Emch (David) her 9 great grandchildren and 5 great great grandchildren and many nieces and nephews and extended family members.

A celebration of life will be held in her honor Saturday, September 18, 2021 at 1pm at the Eagles Lodge - 209 Stillwell Avenue, Tillamook, OR.

Beverly JoAnn Pazar

July 31, 1936 - Aug. 27, 2021

was just a trip to the store and back. She was also a member of TOPS for over 50 years and enjoyed socializing at the weekly weigh-ins.

Most of all, Beverly loved her four children (three of whom she adopted) and her seven grandchildren and one great grandchild. She raised the oldest three children with her husband in Tacoma, Washington until he passed in 1988. Shortly after his death she moved to Tillamook, Oregon where she had many cousins, aunts and uncles nearby and raised her youngest son on her own. She returned to the Tacoma area to be near her children in 2014 after her companion of over 20 years, Jim Johansen, passed.

She is preceded in death by her mother, father and brother, Kenneth Yoder. She is survived by her four children, Mona Glant, Belfair, WA, Monica Alexander, Yelm, WA, John Pazar, Olympia, WA and Christopher Pazar, Tacoma, WA. She also leaves behind seven grandchildren & one great grandchild.

Beverly JoAnn Pazar, age 85, passed away peacefully on August 27, 2021 at Life Care Center in Port Orchard, Washington with family by her side. Beverly was born on July 31, 1936 in Willamina, Oregon, daughter of Paul and Melba Yoder.

Beverly was a life-long member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, where she never missed a Friday night dance, a monthly auxiliary meeting or any other random event. She loved bowling, potlucks, and driving around in her motorhome even if it

Stephen D. Marshall

June 29, 1959 - July 28, 2021

The family would like to thank the Athens Medical Group for their tender care of Steve in his final days.

A Celebration of Life will be held over the Labor Day weekend at his family's Oregon coast home. Please direct cards and condolences to PO BOX 571, Pacific City, OR 97135.

Steve Marshall passed away from pancreatic cancer on a "bucket list" trip to Greece, with his beloved daughter by his side. Born in Denver, CO and raised in Concord, CA, Steve was predeceased by his father, Howard Marshall, and is lovingly survived by his mother Jeanne Marshall, his daughter Julia Marshall and his siblings Greg, Kent, and Matt Marshall. He will also be deeply missed by his nine nieces and nephews, his close friends, and his former wife, Danielle.

Steve was struck with wanderlust at an early age and had traveled the world as a travel professional. He was devoted father, a lover of food and wine, a colorful raconteur, an epic party thrower, and a frequent handy-man helper to anyone in need. Steve never knew a stranger. Once you met him, you knew him forever as a zealous and interesting man.

William Donald "Don" Cassady, a beloved husband, father and grandfather, passed away peacefully in Vancouver, Washington on August 21, 2021. He was determined to reach his ninety-fourth birthday and did so by one day. Family was by his side as he relaxed to depart on his final adventure. Don had survived cancer twice (prostate and melanoma), and had a TAVR in 2014 which gave him an extra seven years of life, but by the end of 2020 his heart had weakened, even while his zest for life urged him to keep going. He declared he had always been a fighter and never gave up on anything.

Don was born in the Albertina Kerr Nursery in Portland, Oregon on August 20, 1927 to Amelia Puustinen. His birth father was Ray Eld. He was adopted by William and Nellie Cassady of Vancouver, Washington. He would recall that he could not imagine having better parents and had no idea that he had been adopted. Ironically, Don grew up very proud of his Irish heritage not knowing that he was, in fact, of Finnish descent. In 2001 he learned, from an older cousin, that he had been adopted, and obtained his original birth certificate which allowed him to identify his birth parents and find their relatives. He was astounded to learn that he was not Irish, but a "full Finn." He often said, "I have the luck of the Irish in the skin of a Finn." He learned of his true origins just 18 months after his birth mother's passing, and felt a strong kinship with her upon learning about her life.

Fortunately, her family graciously shared many stories of Amelia including a KOIN TV "Ray Summers at Large" story in which she was featured. His birth father's family also had photos and stories to share with him.

He enjoyed several large gatherings with this expanded family.

Don graduated from Vancouver High School in 1945 and attended Clark College before serving in the Merchant Marines. In 1952 he earned his BS in Architectural Engineering from Washington State College, after which he had a short stint as a 2nd Lieutenant in the Air Force. He returned to Vancouver in 1953 and worked as a draftsman with Annand, Boone & Lei in Portland. Around this time he recalled a summer date he had enjoyed a few years before with Patty Cook. He assumed she was already married, having been, in his words "one of the most beautiful girls in school." Driving on Main Street one day, he saw her walking, in her uniform and red coat, to her nursing shift at Vancouver Memorial Hospital. After a brief conversation he quickly followed up with a call to her at work. He was smitten and so was she! They married in 1954 and by 1964 had six children. Don took a leap and "hung out his shingle" in 1959, as Don Cassady Architect, and later Cassady and Associates. His architectural career had many highlights. The Fort Vancouver Regional Library, at Mill Plain and Fort Vancouver Way, was one that really launched his career. It was dedicated in 1963. He was pleased and proud that the building was given historic status in November 2019. He designed many other buildings during his career, several of them won awards.

Don and Pat were an active couple. Along with his dad, they built a small beach cabin on the Oregon coast, where the family was found on most weekends and during summers. He enjoyed golfing, fishing, crabbing, hiking, beachcombing among many other hobbies and interests. They retired to Tillamook, Oregon where he enjoyed right turns all the way to the golf course and he golfed daily. Pat and Don celebrated his 70th birthday with an unforgettable three month cruise around the Pacific. In 2008 they moved back to Vancouver and settled into new routines. Don continued his active lifestyle making new friends along the way. He joined Heron Lakes Men's club and golfed weekly, improved his watercolor skills with classes at Clark College and kept fit attending Silver Sneakers at Marshall Center and exercising at Boomerang.

Don traveled to Finland in 2013, to visit family and admire the architecture. Cousins on his dad's side had contacts for family that lived near Helsinki. They were very welcoming, hosted a family gathering in their home and took him to many architectural sites in the area. He traveled north to his paternal home place, then east to Karelia where his mother's family originated. Serendipity took a hand and not only managed to have him find relatives in the area, but brought him here just a few days prior to a family reunion. Even this lucky Irish-Finn was in disbelief at his good fortune in finding his mom's family, meeting so many of them and obtaining a book that traced the family lineage back to the 1680's. It felt surreal. He was thrilled to be asked to speak to the group.

Don told them of his early admiration for the Finns and their display of "sisu" when he followed the WWII news of their underdog victory over the Soviets during the Winter War. He spoke of his career-long regard for Finnish architects Aalto and Saarinen. He shared how proud he was to learn that he was Finnish, and of how this better knowledge of himself came about. As he spoke, and his new found cousin Paula translated, the room was enraptured and there were many joyful tears.

Pat wants everyone to know that he was a great architect, great husband and a life long friend. He is survived by his wife Patricia of 67 years and his six children: Carolyn (Mike), Cathy (Jim), Colleen, Chris (Jim), Dan (Janet), Susan (Neal) and granddaughters Keelin and Olivia.

Don became ill in November and the family cared for him at home for all but the last ten days when he moved to Ray Hickey Hospice House. The family is very grateful for the months of home hospice support provided by the Peace-health team and the nurses who cared for him at Ray Hickey.

Philip Martin McMahon 1941 - Aug. 11, 2021

Philip Martin McMahon, 80, of Tillamook, peacefully passed away on August 11th, from congestive heart failure.

Phil graduated from THS in 1961 and proudly served in the Air Force National Guard from 1961-1967. He went to trade school for sheet metal and HVAC, commuting while working full time for two years. On November 21, 1969 he married Linda. He and Linda moved back to Tillamook in 1973, and started McMahon Heating and Sheet Metal in 1974. They both retired in 2000 from P & L Heating, Sheet Metal & Roofing.

Phil had a great love of meeting new people and incorporating them into his life. He never met a stranger, and spent his life befriending and helping people. Phil and Linda had 3 children, but fostered and adopted many more over the years.

To say he enjoyed watching Notre Dame football would be an understatement, he really loved all things Notre Dame, and wasn't afraid to share his enthusiasm for his favorite team. In 2016 he was able to fulfill his lifelong dream of visiting ND, and attending a football game.

He also enjoyed cruising in his 1941 Cadillac Convertible, and attending car shows and parades. He loved traveling the country and camping with Linda in their 5th wheel. He loved fishing, hunting and smoking fish in his spare time. His true passion was the sheet metal industry, building houses, sharing his construction skills with friends and family, and remodeling and doing home projects. He spent years fund raising and working, and then spearheaded the building of the Tillamook Elks RV park, which was one of his proudest accomplishments. He and Linda designed and built two homes, and remodeled one home.

Phil is survived by his wife Linda, of 51 years, children Crystal McMahon and Dave Noble, James McMahon, Shiela and Matthew Zerngast, bonus children, Michael and Janet Becker, Claire Jackson and Virgil Curtis, and Nichole Crossley, God daughter Amy Ranes, grandchildren Adrienne Hunter and Avian Wong, Vance Hunter, Marissa Zerngast, Ryley and Dakota Hartzell, Destiny Mendoza, Luke Bindreiff, Dustin Bindreiff, Whitney and Manuel Perez, great-grandchildren Emi Wong, Aubrianna Hartzell and Roxie Perez, and many nieces and nephews.

A celebration of life for Phil will be held at Tillamook First Christian Church (2203 4th St, Tillamook) on Saturday, September 25th at 1:00 pm. The service will also be streamed, for those wishing to attend remotely. A light meal will follow the service.

Gordon Thompson Poole

March 20, 1926 - May 21, 2021

Gordon Thompson Poole of Lake Oswego, son of Nellie [Thompson] and Kenneth Poole, was born on March 20, 1926 in Portland and passed away on May 21, 2021 having already celebrated his 95th birthday.

Gord attended Duniway grade school in Eastmoreland and in 1942 moved to Tillamook where his father Ken Clifford Poole owned and operated a dairy. Gord attended Wilson Junior High School and graduated from Tillamook High School. During these years he worked at Pooles Dairy bottling milk and delivering glass milk bottles door-to-door. Pooles Dairy was the only dairy in the area that made ice cream so on occasion Gord would deliver ice cream to the merchants as far south as Taft in Lincoln City. Pooles Dairy sold in 1949 to the Tillamook County Creamery and the co-op has continued to make some of the best ice cream on the market.

Gord was active in Troop 236 Boy Scouts of America where he earned the highest honor that of Eagle Scout. He attended summer camp at Camp Buchanan as well as Meriwether.

Shortly after graduating from high school in 1944 Gord enlisted in the Navy following in his father's footsteps who, had served in the Navy during World War I.

Ultimately Gord was assigned as Ship's Company on the USS Jerauld (APA-174) where he saw action in a battle by the Island of Ulithi — the last major battle prior to the bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki that ended the war.

Gord's Battle Station was on one of the Big Guns and although many of the U.S. fleet were hit and sunk, several by Jap Kamikazes, his ship came through undamaged. Shortly there after his crew went ashore in Guam where Gord surprisingly met Rudy Fenk — an old friend from Tillamook.

After the war in the fall of 1946, Gord and his younger brother Norm registered at Oregon State College following a course set by their parents after World War I. Gord received a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration and Dairy Manufacturing with the sage on the Grace Line luxury passenger ship "Santa Rosa" to South America and after several ports of call in South American Pan America Airways, world famous clipper ship.

Besides the Dairy Manufacturing Conventions Gord was a regular at the Tillamook County Fair. He knew all of the drivers in the Pig and Ford Race so he knew who to bet on — not so on the horse races. He was also a lifetime member of the Tillamook Pioneers Society.

Gord was also a lifetime (over 60 years) member of Southgate (now Cornerstone) Masonic Lodge, a lifetime member of the Portland Scottish Rite where he participated in many of the degrees, and of Al Kader Shrine where he spent many hours as a Welcoming Guide at the Shriner's Hospital for Children.

In 1961 Gord married Jean Henrickson, an identical twin sister of Joyce. The twins were both beautiful ballroom dancers and were fixtures at McElroy's of Downtown Portland although their partners never knew for sure which one they were dancing with.

Gord and Jean had two boys, Ron (wife Samera) of Portland and a granddaughter Natasha, and Dan (wife Gina) and a grandson Travis. Dan has now retired from Boeing Aircraft and with his family is now living in Rockaway.

Gord and Jean also had one girl Connie who is unmarried and after many years in Hawaii is now in the Los Angeles area.

Jean's twin sister Joyce married Dick Dickinson. Joyce has been deceased for many years now but Dick is still living in the Portland area. Their son Jeffrey is living in the Los Angeles area.

Jean died in 1971 and after several months as a Bachelor raising three young children, Gord rediscovered a girl, Marilyn Miiller from Chicago that he had met in Sun Valley many years before and in November 1972 they were married in Oak Park, Illinois. Gord and Marilyn donated much of their time hosting functions and helping with maintenance of the Lake Oswego United Methodist Church. Gord sold their home in Lake Oswego in 2017 and he and Marilyn moved to Farmington Square in Tualatin.

Marilyn died June 22, 2018 but Gord stayed on at Farmington Square until the END.

Gord's brother Norm with his wife Marilyn [Rigby] Poole live in Ontario, Oregon where Norm spent years building up an oil business that their two sons continued to operate. Ralph and Ken recently sold Poole Oil to Carson Oil and are themselves now retired. Norm and Marilyn's daughter Kathy (although an Oregon State University graduate) is head of the Foreign Student Program at the University of Oregon and is nearing retirement.

Gord outlived most of his close friends and associates but is dearly missed by those that remain as well as many of the next generation for which he provided guidance and inspiration.

A military funeral was held on June 3, 2021 at Willamette National Cemetery for Gord where his body is interred next to his parents.

Edwin Ramie Wallmark Jan. 10, 1952 - July 27, 2021

Edwin Ramie Wallmark (aka "Ed", "Eddie") passed away July 27th, 2021, at his residence in Portland with family and friends by his side. He fought a courageous battle with prostate cancer for over 11 years and always kept a positive attitude and uncanny sense of humor until the end.

Ed was born on January 10, 1952, to Edwin and Dianne (Petersen) Wallmark of Tillamook. He graduated from Tillamook High School in 1970 and then went on to Portland State University where he earned his B.S. in Business Administration in 1975. Right after college he was hired by Tillamook County as a probation officer then switched careers a few years later. For over 30 years Ed ran a successful house painting and interior design business called Wallmark and Son Painting. Interesting enough Ed named his business when his son Eddy was born so it would appear a younger person had lots of painting experience! This advertising muse worked as Ed became well known around the area and would still paint friend's homes until months before his passing.

A special time was shared last summer when Ed and Eddy painted his son's house together. Some of Ed's other talents included gardening and an obsession with ponds and water features. His garden and surrounding backyard was the perfect final resting place just as he wanted. For over a month family and friends were able to visit and see Ed just as he always was, a great friend to so many that would help anyone in need. His tell it like it attitude, lack of political correctness, sense of humor, and compassion for all walks of life will be greatly missed.

Ed was preceded in death by his brother Stephen Wallmark and his life partner Jacob Pelta. He is lovingly survived by his parents Ed and Dianne Wallmark, his sisters Vicki Mount (Tenny), and Brenda Merry (Mark), his son Eddy Wallmark (Jennifer), step-grandchildren Taylor and Austin Larson, and step-great grandson Bentley. He will also be deeply missed by his beloved dog Willy, and many aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces and nephews.

A Celebration of Life will be held at a later date.

HH21-421 NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City of Bay City, Oregon, will hold a joint public hearing of its City Council and its Public Contract Review Board regarding adoption of Public Contracting Rules on the 14th day of September 2021, at 6:00 p.m. The meeting will be held at Bay City, City Hall Community Center 5525 B Street, Bay City, Oregon. The proposed resolution opts the City out of the Attorney General Model Rules of Public Contracting and adopts alternative public contracting rules and exemptions. The public hearing will be held for the purpose of taking comments on the City's draft findings supporting the exemption of certain classes of special procurements and public improvement contracts from competitive bidding requirements.

Hi, my name is Abby.

Are you looking to add a sweetheart to your family? Look no further than me. I'm outgoing and once I start purring I just can't seem to stop. Feather toys provide me endless entertainment and once I tire myself out, your lap is where I want to be. Looking for more fun than one? Consider adopting one of my equally sweet sisters too. Ooh Ooh adopt me! I'm ready to go home right meow!
