Vaccines continue, drawing for lottery approaches June 28

Hilary Dorsey
Staff Writer

Tillamook County remains in Lower Risk, effective Friday, June 4, to Thursday, June 10, Tillamook County Health Department revealed Tuesday, June 1. The county had 10 new confirmed positive and presumptive cases from Sunday, May 16, through Saturday, May 29. Administrator Marlene Putman relayed during a community update June 1, one new recent death in the county, which brings the county to a total of four deaths. The individual was a 77-year-old man who tested positive April 24 and died April 28 at Providence St. Vincent Medical Center. “He did have underlying conditions,” Putman said. “COVID-19 was identified as contributing to his death.” Adventist Health Tillamook President Eric Swanson reported 249 hospitalizations of COVID-19 across Oregon, as of June 1. There were also 784 available ventilators in the state. The health department’s emergency preparedness coordinator, Ed Colson, mentioned the “Take Your Shot, Oregon” campaign Gov. Kate Brown announced May 21, encouraging Oregonians 12 years and older to get vaccinated for the chance to win money. Ages 12 to 17 have a chance to win one of five $100,000 Oregon College Savings Plan scholarships. There will also be one $1 million winner statewide and one $10,000 winner from each county in the state. “All Oregonians who have received at least one dose of COVID-19 vaccine by the date of June 27 are going to be entered to win,” Colson said. The drawing will take place June 28 and names will be announced the following week. As of Wednesday, June 2, 62.1 percent of the county population have received at least one dose of the vaccine with a 65 percent goal to stay in Lower Risk. The state is at 65.8 percent vaccinated with a 70 percent goal in order for most restrictions to be lifted. For the month of June, vaccines will be available at Tillamook County Community Health Centers, Colson said. Call 503-842-3914 to schedule. You can also talk with your health care provider to schedule a vaccine. Send comments to: headlightreporter@countrymedia.net

POMP AND CIRCUMSTANCE

Tillamook High School seniors celebrated during commencement ceremonies for the class of 2021 leading up to graduation. This year was much like last year’s ceremony, in that students were paraded around town to lined streets of people who showed their support. After the parade, seniors were taken to the Fairgrounds for an outdoor graduation ceremony. Catch more photos, features and the annual keepsake edition with grad photos of all three Tillamook County schools in next week’s Headlight Herald. Photos by Hilary Dorsey.

Oregon Senate Approves Juneteenth as Official State Holiday

Staff

Last week, the Oregon Senate passed House Bill 2168, a bill to make Juneteenth an official state holiday every June 19 beginning in 2022. This holiday will serve to honor the freedom of enslaved people in the United States, acknowledge Oregon’s racist roots and celebrate the contributions of Black Americans in the face of inequity and systemic oppression. “The Emancipation Proclamation news arrived in waves to the enslaved Black women and men of my family,” said Senator Lew Frederick (D-N/NE Portland) who carried House Bill 2168. “Family stories say, ‘joy was the first emotion, and next skepticism’.” “However, hope stood at the center of a possible future for my family and so many families,” added Senator Frederick. “That hope continues to this day. So does the skepticism. The two can dance together, and in that dance, we can progress, and we can amplify hope.” On June 19, 1865, Union General Gordon Granger rode into Galveston, Texas and issued General Order Number 3, which required the immediate freedom of more than 250,000 enslaved African Americans in Texas. Union troops marched throughout Galveston to spread the word that all slaves were free. Juneteenth is also known as Emancipation Day, Jubilee Day and Freedom Day. In Oregon, the Peoples family are well known for their efforts to ensure Juneteenth is observed. “Miss Clara Peoples is foundational to Oregon, her family is the reason we have unofficially observed this holiday and the Peoples have remained central in framing the expectation of a more equitable tomorrow,” said Senator Frederick. “Juneteenth is not the date all slaves were freed. Juneteenth is not the date that Black Americans, or Black Oregonians, were guaranteed comfort, relief or safety,” said Senator Frederick. “Also, Juneteenth was a step forward and a marker of hope, one we must continue to build upon. This official holiday will recognize that the people of Oregon, despite our past, can take the veil of ignorance away, and each year choose to have hope – on Juneteenth and every day thereafter.” “With House Bill 2168, we can learn from another time. We can change the future now, in real time. We can work towards equality – even without a declaration or official holiday. We must. Celebrating Juneteenth will help each of us remember all that we can and must do to ensure a more just future,” concluded Senator Frederick. House Bill 2168 passed the Oregon Senate unanimously, it now goes to the House or Representatives for concurrence.

Governor outlines plans to reopen Oregon

Jeremy C. Ruark
Country Media

Oregon could be fully reopened in two weeks if the state can maintain its current COVID-19 vaccination rate. That’s the assessment from Oregon Gov. Kate Brown who outlined the state’s plans to reopen during a Friday morning news briefing. As of June 1, 66.2% of Oregonians 18 years old and older have been vaccinated. Brown earlier had set a 70% vaccination goal state-wide to be met by the end of June. “Thanks to all of you we are getting close to fully reopening our economy and moving out of this chapter of the pandemic. We just need 127,000 Oregonians to take your shot for us to reopen in the next two weeks,” Brown said. Brown said the vaccinations have led to a sharp decline in COVID-19 case counts and hospitalizations. Reopening outline In Brown’s outline of fully reopening Oregon, she said there would be no more capacity limits for businesses. Masks would largely no longer be required by the state with the exception of places that the federal government has outlined that are still necessary, such as airports, public transit and health care settings, and no more requirements for physical distancing. “By in large we will be able to return to the activities and traditions we have missed for more than a year, (such as) 4th of July barbecues, eating popcorn in movie theaters, or getting a beer after work at the local brewery with your friends. Restaurants and bars will be able to have a full house,” Brown said. The governor also said she expected that K-12 schools will return to full time in-person instruction in the fall and that child care settings will be able to meet the needs of Oregon’s families. “Because children are not yet eligible for vaccinations, there may be some health and safety measures that need to stay in place for those types of educational settings,”

Brown said. “But again, Oregon’s primary school instruction will be in the classroom five days a week this fall.” State focus shifting Brown said the state is now shifting its focus on emergency response to pandemic recovery to move forward with the support of health care providers, and public health with the resources to manage outbreaks locally. “I want to be very clear,” Brown said. “We are able to reopen because of the advocacy of the vaccine. For those of you who are vaccinated you have helped us reach this point and you are protected from this virus.” Oregon Health Authority Director Pat Allen said Oregonians who have been vaccinated can now move forward. “The data clearly shows if you are fully vaccinated you can put the pandemic behind you and you’ll have peace of mind if you are exposed to someone who has COVID, you won’t have to be quarantined,” he said. While Allen said he believes that the state can make the June 30 target date of 70% vaccination, but it is going to take a lot of hard work to get there. “There are really two pandemics, not one,” he said. “One is dying out among people who are vaccinated, the other is one that still raging among those who are not vaccinated.”

Neah-Kah-Nie School District, Rinehart Clinic partner for student vaccinations

Hilary Dorsey
Staff Writer

Neah-Kah-Nie School District has been collaborating with Rinehart Clinic to get students 12 and older vaccinated with the COVID-19 vaccine Pfizer, the vaccine authorized for this age group.

Rinehart Clinic had worked with Neah-Kah-Nie High School, primarily superintendent Paul Erlebach and high school principal Heidi Buckmaster, when teachers were eligible to get vaccinated in early February. Two vaccine clinics were held for the teachers in the high school gym.

“When it became apparent that Rinehart Clinic needed to vaccinate more community members than our clinic could accommodate in one day, I reached out to both Paul and Heidi again to see if we could once again use an area of the high school on a weekly basis to hold mass vaccination clinics,” said Clinic Manager Delta Holderness, of Rinehart Clinic. “This started in early March. Typically, we were giving out 300 COVID-19 vaccines in one day.”

Holderness said the student vaccinations began when 16 and 17 year olds became eligible for the Pfizer vaccine. Adventist Health Tillamook had recently received their ultra-cold freezer in order to receive the Pfizer vaccine and distribute to clinics in the county.

“A letter was created by Rinehart for the school to email out to the parents and students with all information on how to schedule their appointment and where the students should come on the high school campus to get their vaccination,” Holderness said. “We needed to move quickly as some of these older students were seniors and would be graduating before the end of the school year. We just administered this group of students’ second Pfizer vaccine May 27.”

When ages 12-15 were eligible to start receiving the vaccine, another letter was emailed to parents and students, Holderness said. The State of Oregon states parent permission is required for children 14 and younger to receive a vaccine.

“Rinehart provided over 200 copies of this packet to be distributed by the school to the students to take home for their parents to read,” Holder-ness said. “We were under a tight time frame, due to the end of the school year fast approaching, and we were worried that parents might not see the email in time to get their child registered.”

Rinehart Clinic moved quickly to get the first shots scheduled so the second doses could be administered before the end of the school year.

Nehalem Elementary School Principal Kristi Woika and her children, Neah-Kah-Nie Middle School sixth grader Carter and Neah-Kah-Nie High School freshman Daisy, have been vaccinated. Kristi is fully vaccinated and Carter and Daisy received their first dose Thursday, May 20. Kristi said she decided to get the vaccine after a friend’s mother-in-law died from COVID-19 and hearing about long-haulers, those who have lingering symptoms of COVID-19 for weeks or months. Kristi said another reason she got vaccinated is because, as principal, she interacts with students, parents and staff regularly.

Kristi said she attended several meetings to learn more. She trusted medical experts, did research and decided to get the vaccine to keep her family safe.

“I had some one-on-one conversations with our school nurse,” Kristi said. “I just decided that I feel like I have to trust people who do this for a living.”

The day after they received their vaccines, Carter and Daisy reported sore arms. They both said it was an easy shot. They both received the shot at school and went back to class afterwards. Daisy was tired after receiving her first dose, sleeping 12 hours the previous night after receiving her shot.

“I barely felt anything,” Carter said. “It was a real easy shot.”

Carter said he wanted to get vaccinated because he hates wearing face masks, especially in his physical education class. He also read that once someone is fully vaccinated, they could now go inside some businesses without masks on.

“I haven’t been able to hang out with friends and family for like a whole year,” Daisy said.

Daisy looks forward to hanging out with friends outside of school once she is fully vaccinated and not worry about social distancing and wearing face masks.

People who are hesitant about getting the vaccine should talk their time and do their research, Carter said. He added the vaccine is better than getting the virus and having to go to the hospital.

“I think the district did a really good job of educating people,” Kristi said. “We have a pretty high rate of vaccinations within the school district. I think it’s because the school district did a really good job getting outside experts to talk about the vaccine.”

Lilly Cram, a freshman at Neah-Kah-Nie High School, said getting the shot makes her feel more comfortable around older family members and people in general, knowing she is vaccinated. The vaccine was quick and everyone was friendly, she added.

“They even passed out little toys and things like that to make the younger kids feel more comfortable,” Cram said.

The day after she got her shot at school, Cram said her arm was a little sore. She had been asked prior which arm she would like the shot so she could avoid moving her arm when possible. Her family will soon be fully vaccinated, as her parents and brother are also vaccinated.

“Rinehart Clinic is dedicated to ensuring our community is healthy and by providing vaccines where the students reside during the day can be a huge help to parents who work,” Holderness said. “Once our time is complete at the high school – June 10 is our last day – Rinehart Clinic will continue to vaccinate anyone who is eligible at the clinic.”

Currently, Rinehart Clinic is scheduling for first and second doses on Tuesdays and Thursdays and will hold mini-vaccine clinics for those ages 12-17 and for anyone else who might prefer the Pfizer vaccine to Moderna, which is authorized for those 18 and older.

"We do older rock, Elvis, Ricky Nelson, we'll mix it up with old rock, country and R&B," Donnie said in a phone interview.

While Larry Simmons was in Nashville, he played lead guitar for the Ray Stevens Band for eight years and performed at the Grand Ole Opry many times. Donnie had some success in Nashville as well playing bass guitar with the Hammond Brothers opening for the Oak Ridge Boys for four years.

Currently Larry plays with the Gary Bennett Band out of Washington and Donnie is with Southern Breakdown, a five piece country band playing venues and loges in the Portland area.

This Saturday they join Joel Baker, owner of Kitty's and leader in the Joel Baker Band, to bring their style of music to Tillamook.

Oregon again facing dangerous wildfire season

Jeremy C. Ruark
Country Media

Oregon is moving into a more dangerous and more intense wildfire season complicated by the state's continued and deepening drought.

That is the overall assessment presented during a media briefing Thursday afternoon, June 3, conducted by Gov. Kate Brown's office that included a number of state agency representatives.

"We are seeing longer duration and more complex fires," Oregon State Fire Marshal Mariana Ruiz-Temple said. "We are looking at fires in a different way this year and there is significant concern of the fires we are seeing and where these fires are."

Much of Oregon is facing abnormal drought conditions, according to Oregon Department of Forestry Fire Protection Chief Doug Grafe.

"Continued drought conditions persist and weather conditions are complicating the drought," Grafe said.

"Over the next three months temperatures are projected to be above normal and precipitation below normal through August and September."

The official May-June-July forecast from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) Climate Prediction Center shows higher chances of above-normal temperatures and below-normal precipitation for most of the region, which indicates that drought conditions are likely to get worse in the coming months.

The Significant Wildland Fire Potential Outlook shows higher chances of wildfire potential east of the Cascade crest throughout Oregon and in southwest Washington by June and July, according to NOAA.

According to the latest water outlook report issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Natural Resources Conservation Service, nearly all reservoirs in the Klamath Basin are storing less than 50% capacity, and basin streamflows are expected to run between 8% to 49% through the summer.

In addition to the worsening impacts already being felt across the region, there is also the potential for dry conditions to impact drinking water, endangered species and wetland ecosystems, and fire danger, the NOAA report states.

Grafe said Oregon has already experienced 300 fires this year which is well above normal.

Comparing the devastating wildfires that spread across the state last year, Grafe state the 2020 event was an alimnet of natural forces that was unprecedented.

"Any weather event that will be close to that, such as dry lightning, will put us at significant risk," he said.

Oregon Office of Emergency Management Director Andrew Phelps said the state is quickly ramping up its coordinated efforts for the wildfire season, which includes coordinated responses for transportation, mass care, health and medical, sheltering, law enforcement and military support.

The state has also worked with Oregon counties providing mass communication systems to alert the public of emergencies, such as wildfires, and to help coordinate survival efforts. But when questioned by a reporter about the apparent ineffectiveness of such a mass communication system in Jackson County, Phelps acknowledged that no system is perfect.

"These systems rely on humans and mechanical systems," he said. "Every county needs to take that responsibility seriously and make sure there staff are trained for such systems."

Phelps said every Oregonian can take steps now to reduce the wildfire risks.

Man dies after swimming in surf in Rockaway Beach

The Coast Guard was notified at approximately 11 a.m. Sunday, May 30, of a 37 year old man who was swimming in the surf off Rockaway Beach. His mother, who was on scene, informed emergency responders that she had lost sight of him.

The Coast Guard activated an emergency marine information broadcast and mobilized a Station Tillamook Bay crew aboard a 47-foot motor life boat and a Sector Columbia River air crew aboard an MH-60 Jayhawk helicopter to respond, Coast Guard District 13 reported.

The helicopter crew located the man and deployed a rescue swimmer who transported the man to shore manually. The man was transferred to awaiting EMS ashore who commenced CPR.

FENCEPOSTS

Beachgoers were out in droves to enjoy the minus tides over Memorial Day weekend. Children looked for sea anemones and starfish in the tide pools, adults pried mussels off the rocks or fished for surf perch, and everyone hunted for sand dollars and agates. The weather was perfect to spend hours out on the sand, and many did. Hope they remembered their sunscreen! Razor clamming was closed, but all other activities appeared to be in full swing. With many residents vaccinated and masking lifted for outdoor activities, it was great to see this near-normal gathering of family and friends here in Cape Meares.

Kate Merz was dismayed to find her five-speed, blue beach cruiser bike stolen in the early hours of May 26 after she had parked it at the south end of Cape Meares beach to check out the tide pools. She publicized the theft on our local social media site, Nextdoor. Lo and behold, neighbor Wendy Burroughs found the bike leaning against a signpost at the north entrance to the beach and returned it to Kate. As Kate says, “Goodness wins out yet again!” We love happy endings.

Volunteer firefighters from

Cape Meares responded to an emergency Saturday night of Memorial Day weekend. Two boats carrying 13 individuals had become stranded in the mud in Tillamook Bay. Shortly after 10 p.m., the page-out for a Mass Casualty

Incident (MCI) sounded. The Tillamook County Sheriff’s Office (TCSO), Tillamook Fire Department (TFD) and fire departments from Garibaldi, Bay City and Netarts-Oceanside responded. TCSO launched two vessels to rescue eight of the stranded individuals and bring them to the Mema-loose boat ramp. Bob “Olli” Ollikainen and Mike Smith of Cape Meares rushed to get the Chevrolet Suburban from Station 73, a vehicle new to our fire station that is designed for rescue work and medical response and can even drive on the beach, if necessary. When they first arrived on scene, they helped two exhausted and very hypothermic swimmers out of the bay and into a waiting ambulance. Three other swimmers made it to shore on their own. Dave Audet and Jonathon Hedden, fellow volunteer firefighters, also turned out. The foursome from Cape Meares continued to triage victims and warm them up with blankets and hot packs. Ultimately, three individuals were transferred to Adventist Health Tillamook Hospital with hypothermia. Fortunately, no lives were lost in this event. This was the first MCI page-out our Cape Meares firefighters had ever experienced. It is reassuring to see that major disaster preparedness plans are in place and well executed. Someday, the MCI will be the long-feared earthquake and tsunami; our community and county are doing their best to prepare.

A word of warning, folks: Check the tide table before you head out on an outdoor adventure. And regardless of the tides, be careful of the ocean. Yet another youngster lost his life, swept out to sea while swimming in the ocean near Long Beach, Wash., over Memorial Day weekend. Take care and be safe out there.

Did you know that our Nestucca Rural Fire Protection District (NRFPD) and South Tillamook County Emergency Volunteer Corps (STCEVC) Vaccine Team is delivering a dose of the Covid 19 vaccine at a time to people at work in South Tillamook County? Offered is the single dose shot by Johnson and Johnson to anyone working between Hemlock and Neskowin. Thanks to Marge Jozsa, STCEVC President, for getting word to us. If you are interested, please email margejozsa@gmail.com to make arrangements. If you don’t have email call NRFPD at 503-392-3313.

I visited Cloverdale’s trio of art galleries over the recent weekend to be sure they know about updates underway in the Haadlight Herald’s “Visit Tillamook” (see below). It was good to see Marilyn Burkhardt and Tom Goodwin and to meet Wendy Thompson and Jay Ylvisaker. Tom owns and operates the Tom Goodwin Gallery. Marilyn and Wendy both work out of Burkhardt Gallery and Jay owns and operates Shrine Gallery. All three are located within shouting distance of the Rusty Cow Antiques shop on U.S. Highway 101 in downtown Cloverdale.

I appreciated Tom introducing me to Jay and the Shrine Gallery which I toured while I was there. Inventory includes ceramics and jewelry among other treasures, but the stars of the show are numerous hand carved wood shrines. For the religious, spiritual, mindful or lovers of beauty among us, offerings range from an arched tabletop size “Fairy Shrine” to wall dominating jaw droppers of exquisite detail. They are just beautiful. For more information, go to Shrinegallery.com.

Don’t forget that Art Accelerated is partnering with “Visit Tillamook” (a visitor’s guide) to update their county art listings; recent versions have been very out of date. If you represent a south Tillamook County business that shows local art, now is the time to update Visit Tillamook. Go to tillamookcoast.com for inspiration, then contact Chelsea Yarnell by email to cyannel22@gmail.com to submit a listing.

Thanks to Doug Olson, President of the Pacific City Nestucca Valley Chamber of Commerce for writing with an update about the summer calendar. He reports that Clover’s Day (traditionally the first Saturday in July), 4th of July fireworks and Dory Days (traditionally the third weekend in July) are all going to happen, in some form, this summer.

He reminds readers that the Chamber has set a goal to raise $3,500 by July 1 to cover a July 4th fireworks display and to provide some cleanup and advertising. Our help is needed. Please send donations to PO Box 1078, Pacific City, Oregon 97135.

Three sections of the north coast trail system in Tillamook County will remain closed until at least spring 2023 while crews remove dangerous trees left from the September 2020 windstorm. A trail at Cape Lookout State Park and two sections of trails at Oswald West State Park are impassable due to downed trees and will require extensive work to reopen.

Remember that Neskowin Farmer’s Market is open for the season. Hours are 9:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. weekly on Saturdays, through October 2. They’re located on the east side of U.S. Highway 101 at the corner of Summit Lane (across from Neskowin Beach Wayside, a recent location). There is something for everyone there, including live music. For more information, go to neskowinfarmersmarket.com.

Happy birthday this week to: Jackson Fitch, Ayla Flinter, Debbie Hale, Violet Hale, Averie Hancock, Tony Hancock, Clyde Jones, Todd Peterson, Katarina Scott, Mary Ann Somdahl, Ardeth Wheeler and Derrell Wheeler.

Wishing a happy 90th birthday to Hal McMahon. His birthday is this week, so if you run into him, be sure to congratulate him! That is definitely a birthday to celebrate!

Yay! Fireworks in Rockaway Beach! Yes, it will truly be a star spangled 4th! Even without our parade and Weiner dog races, I know our streets will be lined with red, white and blue. I can almost smell the barbeques, taste the watermelon and see the apple pie. Let the festivities begin. Just be safe and smart with your celebrations. In our town, there will be entertainment from morning until fireworks, and beyond!

Oregon Coast Scenic Railroad is having their ‘Fireworks Spectacular Train’ on July 4th from 8:30-11:30pm. It will depart from Garibaldi. For information email info@oregoncoastscenic.org and to book your tickets. Don’t call their ticket office or ticket line. Remember, spaces are limited and reservations are required. Folks, what a perfect ending to a ‘Star Spangled 4th’.

The Lions Club will continue their patriotic tradition on July 4th. They will be selling their hot dogs at the wayside from July 1st- July 5th. Zandra told me their caramel corn is awesome too! Yummy, I will definitely give that a try, since I don’t eat red meat. The Lions tirelessly give to our community and this is their largest fundraiser for the Club and their International Sight and Hearing Foundation. What an awesome group of folks.

I have a reminder for all our residents of Rockaway Beach. We live here. We need to consider ourselves guardians of the shore. We need to educate and help protect visitors to our small town. Let’s try to protect tragedy from happening here and school ourselves about the riptides, wildlife such as seals, birds, land mammals and fires on the beach and in backyards. Tell visitors about the dangers. Sometimes you may get funny looks, but better to get funny looks than to have a tragedy happen in our town. Every tourist area has these problems. Visitors sometimes leave their better judgment at home. Think about it, then educate yourself and if you have a short-term rental, put signs up for them to read to keep them safe. You never know what disaster you could be stopping.

And a final birthday greeting to my big brother, Mike. As you know, he was diagnosed with pancreatic cancer when he was 61 years of age. The doctor gave him six weeks to live. Well, this year, my brother, my hero, is celebrating his 71st birthday on June 9th. Mike, you have been blessed and you are an inspiration and blessing. Your positive attitude is amazing. I love you and have a perfect day with your family!

“America is another name for opportunity!” That’s Rockaway Beach, “Sugar Coated!”

Greetings Bay City! June is bustin’ out all over (musical notes). Summer is back with the Dairy Parade, fireworks, farmers’ markets, and, best of all, the bay is filled with boats crabbing and fishing. Bay City in the summer is the best place to experience summer. Everything, and I mean Everything, is just out our front doors. I would say “It doesn’t get any better than that”, but you’re probably tired of hearing it.

The beautiful weather has many of us out enjoying nature, including watching the birds that are busy nesting. Kin and I enjoy watching the house finches diving in and out of our arborvitae. In reading the “Discover Bay City” webpage, we found that the Bay City sewage ponds is a good place to watch for nesting Purple Martins, so you birders might want to check that out.

As promised, our neighbor and fishing guru, Mike Brown gave me a fishing report for the column. Mike said that with nearshore halibut fishing being open every day now, in four trips he has gotten two halibut, and hopes to get one more to fill his freezer for the year. He hadn’t gone springer fishing this year because the last two years were so bad, so was surprised to hear from a local guide that the spring salmon fishing has been better than last year. He and his neighbor, Billie Schreiber decided to hit the high tide in the bay. At first they got no bites, but right at high tide Mike hooked what turned out to be the largest salmon he had caught in a long time. The photo mike sent attests to this. What a beautiful fish; and, as is typical of Mike, he was generous enough to give us a healthy chunk of it. Ummm, delicious!

The Bay City Arts Center is offering their popular “Discovery in Stone” workshop on Friday, June 11th and Saturday, June 12th from 9 AM to 4 PM. Tuition is by donation, instructors are on hand, and stone and tools are supplied. Bring your own lunch. For more information call Charlie at (503)377-7013. BCAC also continues to offer a variety of online classes in art and music, as well as live art classes via ZOOM. Printable art projects are also available. In addition, BCAC is continuing their jazz concert series with a performance by guitarist John Stowell and bassist Bob Bowman on July 9th at 7 PM. They are offering 30 tickets for $25 apiece. Also be sure to tune in this week to Bay City Radio Station KAYN 92.9 FM for a mix of great music, story telling with Dan (my favorite), and more entertainment throughout your day. For more information call Rob at (503)523-8387 or visit their website at <https://baycityartscenter.weebly.com>.

The Methodist Church is busy preparing for Grub Club and can use a few more volunteers. The dates will be Monday, June 21 through Friday, August 27. Sunday, June 20 will be the first day to meet at Camp Magruder to set up bags, and Monday, June 21 will be the first day of bus delivery. Volunteering your time to help with this valuable outreach program will be greatly appreciated.

The social hour, held every Tuesday on ZOOM, is on hiatus until further notice.

Like something from George Orwell

John Sullivan has been identified as the BLM activist who bragged about instigating Trump supporters to violence at the Jan.6 Capital rally. For his efforts, Sullivan, who brought a megaphone to the rally, was paid $35,000 each by CNN and NBC, though his overall take will be well over $100,000, plus probable movie rights. Meanwhile, three months later, our nation’s Capital building is still guarded by armed soldiers and barbed-wire fences, like something out of George Orwell. And how many innocent Trump supporters are still falsely imprisoned for their “crimes” that never happened?

Thank you, Joe Warren, for supporting free speech by allowing me to present information in my guest column of March 2nd that is censored in the media and letting people do their own fact-checking. The information I provided came from “credentialed” sources in various fields. I have medical doctors in my family-including a medical examiner and a few friends who are MD’s on the front-lines that have continued to share information. They have advised our family not to get these experimental COVID vaccinations because too little is known about the short-term or long-term effects of a cutting-edge mRNA technology and there are treatments being used that the media and public health officials continue to suppress so people believe a “vaccine” is their only option. Why is no one talking about the millions of us who already had this virus and have natural immunity and antibodies-superior to any “vaccine”? Where is the “science” supporting a 70% vaccination rate to lift restrictions? What happens when you vaccinate during a pandemic?

How many people have asked themselves why well-respected “credentialed” professionals who have had the courage to question our public health decisions are being fired, their reputations destroyed and their lives threatened? This undermines the democratic process and is medical tyranny.

CHAMBER CHATTER

Welcome Brooke Reibach to her Tillamook Chamber Internship

Justin Aufdermauer
Executive Director

The Chamber is trying something a little new with our staff this summer: a summer internship program for Tillamook’s very own Brooke Reibach. Join us in welcoming Brooke to our team!

Brooke’s internship will focus on nonprofit organization, management and event planning. She also will help us with a special project to formulate the Tillamook Chamber Community Foundation charitable organization. (More on that later.) Her official title will be our Operations Assistant Intern.

“This will be my initial experience working with a nonprofit, so I really want to see how that’s different from working for a for profit company, and what it looks like to be a mission-focused organization. I’m also excited to be involved in starting the Tillamook Chamber Community Foundation,” Brooke said.

Brooke was born and raised in Tillamook, and she graduated from Tillamook High School in 2019. In fact, she has spent all her life here, except for nine months she attended the University of Oregon at the Eugene campus before the pandemic opened up remote options for her.

At UO, Brooke is majoring in nonprofit management

with a minor in religious studies. She said she hopes her education will create career opportunities to make a positive difference in the world.

“I picked this major because it actually teaches you about the world and how you can improve communities,” she said. “It seems like a ‘doing’ major, where other majors felt frustrating because you are just being told what’s wrong but not being told how to fix it.”

Part of her degree requires Brooke to get an internship with a nonprofit. She reached out to the Chamber to see if we might be able to help her, and we found a way to add a summertime role to fit her needs.

“I think it’s really special to intern in my hometown. Tillamook is a really great place to grow up, and I feel like sometimes people take that for granted. So I think it’s important to now have my chance to give back to this community that has been there for me my whole life,” Brooke said.

The Chamber has hired an intern before, though that internship looked a little bit different than Brooke’s will. It was highly specific because it was funded through an outside grant and university program with detailed terms, while Brooke’s is more general and adaptable. Hers will also be the first single-semester internship we’ve ever offered, and the first filled by a Tillamook local.

We are fortunate Brooke decided to intern in Tillamook and share her talent locally, instead of choosing a different community where she could gain the same skills. We see Brooke’s internship with us as a chance to give her real-world taste of the nonprofit sector – and potentially get her to stay in Tillamook even after she graduates. There is a lot of value in keeping young professionals in the town they grew up in, because they already know and care about the community.

Brooke’s first day at the Chamber will be June 21. She will work with us until her fall classes start in early September. Please come by the Chamber office to introduce yourself to Brooke when you have time.

TALES FROM THE LIBRARY

Bill Landau
Tillamook County Library

Raise your hand if this has ever happened to you. The day has been crammed full of work, meetings, chores, gardening, laundry, dishes, and more. Exhausted, you finally plop into bed, turn on your reading light, and open the book you have been trying to finish for the last several weeks. After a minute or two, you are startled awake as the book PLOPS onto your chest or tumbles to the floor. This has happened to me more times than I care to admit. And the next day, I have no recollection of what happened in the two or three pages I managed to “sleep-read” the night before.

Welcome to the adult version of the “summer slide”! While the summer slide usually refers to how important it is to keep kids reading all summer long so they don’t lose their reading momentum and end up having a regression in academic proficiency, the slide can happen to adults, too. I’ve hit lulls in my reading that I refer to as my “literary dark ages”.

When the winter storms are raging and the rains are falling, it is so much easier to find time to cozy up with a good book. But nicer summer weather brings so many opportunities for hiking, biking, ball games, camping, vacationing, and more...and often the books get left behind. This week, we are going to give adults some pointers on how to reinvigorate your summer reading so literature finds a year-round place in your busy life.

One of the best things you can do for yourself is actually schedule some reading time.

One trick I utilize is to forfeit some internet browsing time to start a new book during the part of day when I am widest awake. Then I make a commitment to read at least the first three chapters of the book so I can get myself wrapped up in the story. If I get vested in the characters and the plot when I am fully alert, I find it much easier to stay engaged with the book even when the “drowsies” hit at bedtime.

Another idea that could work for you is to try reading in a new genre. If you normally read mysteries, check out a Young Adult novel or a true-crime thriller. Or if you gravitate to Sci-Fi, take home a Western or a biography instead. Sometimes, a little change of pace is all you need to reignite your love of reading.

Have you ever tried listening to a book instead of reading a printed copy? Summer vacations and driving trips are the perfect time to try out listening to a story by checking out an audio book. You can either check out one of our many books on CD, or download an e-audiobook to your smartphone or tablet. If you have never tried listening to a book in the car, you really should. A long road trip can fly by so much faster when you have someone reading you a story. Our librarians would even be happy to help you find one that would be appropriate for your entire family to enjoy together.

One reason books get left behind on summer excursions is they take up too much room when you are packing for a trip. That is when e-books are great. If you have a laptop, tablet or i-pad, you can load it up with e-books, audiobooks, music, movies, e-magazines, or whatever else you might enjoy, and it doesn’t take up any more room than a single magazine.

So, there you have it! No more summer slide for kids... or adults. By keeping an open mind, and making a deliberate effort to commit yourself to reading, you will never again experience a literary dark age of your own. Happy reading.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mulch vs Compost

Here we are in June already. I am at a loss as to figure out why the winter months of January and February seem to drag on and then comes May and June and boom! Just like that we are into summer. Allow me to quote my favorite garden author Gertrude Jekyll (1843 - 1932) when she says June is “... the time of perfect young summer, the fulfillment of the promise of earlier, and with as yet no sign to remind one that its fresh young beauty will ever fade....”

Gertrude hasn’t been the only one to appreciate the beauty that is June. The roses are at their peak, the days linger into long evenings, the birds are happily singing, and the butterflies and bees are flitting from blossom to blossom to gather the sweet nectar.

June seems to be the perfect month to enjoy the results of hard gardening work in March, April and May. Taking a few moments each day now to pluck a few weeds as they poke through or deadhead the spent blossoms of annual flowers is light work considering the heavy-lifting times of planting and transplanting perennials or putting in the vegetable patch. But there are a few chores left to be done this month and one of them is mulching. Once the flower and vegetable beds have been weeded and the ground has warmed, a thick layer of mulch can be spread around the plants to keep future weeds at bay as well as keeping moisture in the soil during the warming days and the summer sun. I like to use cedar shavings around the plants as that seems to keep a lot of the summer insect pests away as well. Perhaps a little clarification is in order. When I say mulch, I am not referring to compost, although over the years the terms have been used almost interchangeably. Compost is the organic decayed matter that is worked into the soil to improve nutrients. It can be purchased or made in the backyard in compost bins or piles. It can be made up of twigs and leaves, kitchen scraps like banana peels, egg shells, and even some paper products like unbleached paper coffee filters or paper towel rolls. Over time, it biodegrades into a soil-like matter that is used as a nutritional amendment. While compost does act much as a fertilizer would, it is not considered to be fertilizer. Chemical fertilizers feed the plants while compost feeds the soil. Mulch, on the other hand, is a top dressing and can be organic - like lawn clippings or shredded wood – or inorganic like shredded rubber or gravel. Mulches are used to keep weeds from growing, maintain moisture in the soil, and reduce erosion. Organic mulch will in time break down and add nutrients to the soil much in the way compost does. But while inorganic matter will limit weed growth, moderate soil temperatures and help with erosion, it will not break down to improve soil structure or add nutrients. Compost is mixed with the soil. Mulch is laid on top of it. If you rake those leaves in the fall and place them around the plants, they are mulch. If you mix the leaves in with other organic matter in a compost pile, let them decay, and then spread them around the plants, that is compost. Bark chips are a common mulch for flower beds. The larger chips have the benefit of not breaking down as quickly as the smaller chips, which can be an advantage as well as a disadvantage, depending on your needs and willingness to buy small chips more often. So, which should you use? The answer depends on what your goals are. If you are looking to enrich the soil for better production of flowers and vegetables, use compost.

GARDENING MATTERS

If your goal is fewer weeds and control of erosion, mulch is better. Ideally, a gardener wants both: higher production and fewer weeds. In which case, a combination is best. To do that, you will need to gently mix well-decayed compost into the soil around each plant, being careful not to harm tender feeder roots. (The best time to compost is actually before the beds are planted so the soil and compost can be well-blended. But by June, that opportunity has passed.) Then once the soil has warmed, and after a good rain, spread organic mulch around each plant as a top dressing. As mentioned before, organic mulches will eventually break down but that probably won’t happen until after the next winter’s rains. So, you will have a groomed look until then and retain moisture as well. But to prevent too much moisture being held in the soil during the winter, rake some of the mulch away from the drip line of the plants in late October or early November. This will allow some of the soil’s moisture to evaporate instead of being trapped by the mulch. And now it’s time to appreciate the flowers and fruits of our labor. To quote Gertrude once again, “June is here – June is here; thank God for lovely June.”

HAPPENINGS AT HANGAR ‘B’

Carolyn H. Decker
Friends of the Tillamook
Air Museum

I will try to give you a typical day at work for the Crew of the Airships. It is early, still dark, the weather could be cloudy, windy, rainy or all three at the same time. Remember, they are cruising below the clouds to view the open ocean below. The crew was 8 to 10 young men. Breakfast of course in the Mess Hall. The Aircrews would usually get their mission briefings and board well before dawn. The Airship was pulled from its mooring mast in preparation for flight. The mast allowed the airship to swing freely with the wind and was used to pull the Airships in and out of the hangar. The next part of this story is copied from the Book “The History of NAS Tillamook and its role in World War II” “They would preflight the engines, add fuel and prepare whatever provisions would be necessary. Helium would be added to the envelope to give the desired lift. The ship’s armaments, usually comprised of depth charges, machine gun and ammunition, was put on board as well as signal pistols, star shells, smoke floats, and dye slicks. The two big air cooled Pratt and Whitney Wasp radial engines, suspended outboard from the blimps, roared to life bringing warmth to the cabins. Soon the blimp was trimmed for undocking and the bow secured to the mobile mast. By this time, the crew (usually consisting of a pilot, copilot, navigator, and ten enlisted men would arrive, and after the preflight check, take their places in the control cabin (also called a control car or gondola was about the size of a bus and contained crew quarters, bomb bay and a control station. It had pull-down bunks where the men could rest when not on watch. The ground crew would take hold of the lines and control rails of the blimp and, as the tractor slowly began to pull the mast out of the hangar, would begin walking the blimp into the darkness of the early morning. Once free of the hangar doors, the crew men handling the lines on the aft portion of the blimp would let go and allow the blimp to swing freely into the wind as the mast moved to the takeoff area. When cleared for takeoff by the control tower, the pilot ordered the blimp disconnected from the mooring mast and the ground crew moved the blimp backward to clear it. At the that time they would unhook bags of sand ballast from the railing that ran around the cabin. The ground crew would let go once the engines accelerated. The blimp rolled down the runway balancing daintily on the single huge soft rubber tire under the cabin. As the huge aircraft raced down the runway, the pilot kept the nose down slightly to build up airspeed and keep the bow from raising too abruptly so the tail would not hit the ground. At the appropriate moment, the pilot eased back on the elevator and the majestic gray balloon nosed gently into the morning sky with a pleasant constant drone of the engines. When about 100 feet off the ground, the pilot would usually circle the field to ensure everything worked properly and then set course to begin the mission.” I would have had a problem putting all the detailed Information in my own words. I will tell you about the mission next month. Pat Patterson and I ate our lunch while he shared with me his stories of Hangar ‘B’ and the Railroad. I have known him for years and I know many of you have too. He is a railroad man and has many stories. Pat remembers seeing railcars loaded with Helium tubes. These tubes are very large, you will see one at the museum. When they arrived, the tubes were buried for safe keeping. As I reported earlier the rafters were brought in by train also. The railroad played an important role in getting the two hangars built quickly. I will share with you more of Pat’s story next month, it will fit right in. In August I will tell you how the Navy and Airships protected the West Coast from enemy warships and protected and guided our ships. I had hoped to do that this month, but this information was first. Last week I took my Great Granddaughter, Jolie Burdick, to see Hangar ‘B’ and the Museum. I wanted her to see and feel how huge the hangar is. I want to encourage you to go experience the hangar and take a leisurely walk through the museum. All of the things I have talked about is there, plus pictures and/or real objects on display. The cabin (gondola) shows how it is put together and how it works. I would love to hear your stories about Hangar ‘B’ or ‘A’, the fire. Carolyn Decker 503-842-8271 CALL ME! However, the Sunday worship service is still being live-streamed on Facebook every Sunday at 10 AM at <https://www.facebook.com/BayCityOregonUMC/live/>. If you do not have access to Facebook, you can find a viewer on their website at the following link: <http://www.baycityorumc.org/worship-service-live-stream.html>. I received the June newsletter from City Hall today and it was chuck full of information and news. They are working on a new phone system that will allow the caller to reach a specific department directly and leave a message. This will help facilitate better communication. I wonder if it will ever answer with “Sorry, the voice box is full!”. The city wants to remind you that all bill payments are to be placed in the secure lockbox at the front door. They also have new planning forms and applications, online bill paying, and new office hours of Monday-Friday, 10 AM TO 4:00 PM; all good things to improve their customer service. Hats off to the entire office staff for the excellent job under the strain of Covid restrictions. Mark your calendars for the City Council meeting on Tuesday, June 8th at 6 PM at City Hall. The Planning Commission will meet on Wednesday the 16th. The city has volunteer openings on the following committees: Planning Commission, Emergency Preparedness Committee, and Fire Department. For details call the city office at (503)377-2288. “Many hands make light work”. Volunteer. That’s all the news for today. Thank you for reading the Fencepost. I’m closing with a few lines from my favorite Broadway musical, Rodger’s and Hammerstein’s “Carousel”: But its comin, by gum. We can feel it come. You can feel it in your heart. You can feel it in the ground. You can see it in the trees. You can smell it in the breeze. Look around, look around, look around. June is bustin’ out all over.

OBITUARIES

Dennis Patrick Hennessy
Nov. 22, 1952 - Feb. 15, 2021

Dennis Patrick Hennessy passed peacefully into the arms of Our Lord on February 15, 2021 at his home in Neahkahnie, Oregon, with his wife Marie by his side. Denny had battled congestive heart failure for many years. He was 68 years old.

He is survived by his wife Marie, son Kevin Patrick and daughter Hollie Michelle from his previous marriage, daughter-in-law Katie, grandsons Ronan and Cameron, his brother Tim, the mother of his children Jerlia Waibel, along with sister-in-laws, brother-in-laws, nieces, nephews, and cousins.

Denny was born November 22, 1952 in Portland, Oregon to the late Frank Hennessy and Mildred Hennessy. He was preceded in death by his parents, and by siblings Jave (2003), Bob (2013), Mitch (2019), Mike (2020), and by Denny and Marie’s daughter, Aubrie. (2019)

Denny attended St. John’s elementary school in Milwaukie, Oregon. Denny was able to attend Jesuit High School by earning the needed tuition. As a teenager, Denny started his own business teaching swimming lessons, along with painting anything that needed it on the Jesuit campus during summers.

Denny was a natural athlete who excelled in track and football. He was in the Oregon Junior Olympics in track, and while at Jesuit High School was selected to the 1970 AAA All-State Football Team. Denny was a member of the 1968 A-1 Football State Champions, which was inducted into the Hall of Fame at Jesuit High School in 2009. His high school accomplishments were not limited to athletics. During his senior year he participated in the choral and drama departments in the production of “Hello Dolly.”

Denny’s athletic ability brought scholarship offers from University of Idaho, Linfield College, Montana State University, and Southern Oregon College. Denny decided on University of Idaho Vandals.

During his junior year at University of Idaho he became one of the last 500 men to be drafted for the Vietnam War. Denny honorably served in the Air Force from 1972 -1976 as a Staff Sergeant, where he earned a Radiologic Technologist Degree. Denny was stationed at Andrews Air Force Base in Washington, D.C., and worked at the Pentagon. His son Kevin Patrick was born in 1976, Daughter Hollie Michelle was born in 1978.

Denny’s Radiology career started in 1975, and spanned 41 years. He furthered his medical education with CT Registry and Cardiovascular Technologist training at Loma Linda University in 1978. He completed his BA in Human Resources at PSU in 1987. During his supervisory years at Providence Portland Medical Center, Denny was an intricate part of procuring equipment and designing the new space for the opening of the Cardiovascular Lab at Providence Portland Medical Center in 1997.

Denny met Marie while working at Providence Portland Medical Center. They were coworkers for three years before their friendship blossomed into love. Denny and Marie would have been married 30 years this September. Many of those married years were spent in Milwaukie, OR. There they spent time with the kids and family and enjoyed many family gatherings. They adopted and raised Aubrie, Marie’s granddaughter, while living in Milwaukie.

Denny was an avid gardener. He was an active member of the Metropolitan Garden Club of Portland and served on the board for many years. In 1990, he formed and ran on his own Hood to Coast team, the “Medical Misfits.” He participated in this for six years.

Denny loved Oregon. The coast was tops for him. Denny and Marie started the beginnings of “Hennessy Horizon” in 1994 with the purchase of their lot in Neahkahnie. Not until 2006 did they complete their coastal retirement home.

Denny retired in 2014 with Marie to their coastal retreat “Hennessy Horizon” in Neahkahnie, Oregon. Denny was a volunteer at the Manzanita Visitors Center since 2014, and member of the Cannon Beach Chorus as a base singer, board member, and fund raiser. Denny embraced his community with his smile and conversation, and always carried a rope tow to help anyone with a stuck vehicle in the sand.

Celebrating his grandsons’ birthdays and attending some of grandson Ronan’s basketball games along with time together with family were cherished by Denny. In 2016, his wife Marie retired. They shared some wonderful travel journeys together and greatly enjoyed their coastal home and the local community.

Denny was a special man in so many ways. A proud Catholic Irishman, husband, father, brother, and friend. He was a sensitive man with a big compassionate heart, always offering help to strangers and friends. He would strike up conversations with anyone, anywhere, anytime. He liked making people smile and laugh. He always seemed to know someone wherever he went.

Denny loved people. He will be remembered for his love, his smile, and his care and consideration for others.

Mary Virginia (Ginger) Allen
May 1, 1930 – May 9, 2021

Ginger Allen was a woman of Faith, Curiosity, Determination, and FAMILY.

“GINGER” Harlow Allen was born in Portland, OR to Samuel and Faye Parsons Harlow. She attended school in Troutdale until 1941, Highland Grade School (now M.L. King School), graduating from Jefferson HS in 1948. In 1943, Ginger was baptized and joined, First Presbyterian Church on SW 12th and Alder in downtown Portland. Paul Wright was the Pastor and John Stark Evans, the organist and choir master. She and sister Bonnie attended church conferences and camps. During high school, she spent summers working at Cannon Beach.

Ginger married “Chuck” Allen, September 1950. Son, Tom, born in 1955, daughter, Terri, in 1957, and in 1959, daughter, Tami. In 1960, the Allen’s moved to NE 28th and Mason Street.

Ginger was a homemaker, wife, and mother. She joined organizations: “Meals on Wheels” and “the Women’s Auxiliary of the Urban League”. Attended Bible Study classes for tradition and women’s groups, for consciousness-raising. She and Chuck were avid square dancers, sponsored dinner parties, and traveled Oregon. They were active members of First Church. Ginger played an active role with her children’s activities. Organized a backyard play for the neighborhood, local kids were actors, of the book “Ferdinand the Bull”, by Munro Leaf. She loved everything about Portland, “The Rose City!” She was adventurous; going whitewater rafting, followed the “Oregon Trail”, visited family and historic places across the country. If they weren’t on the road with their 15 ft. trailer, they spent many weekends at their family cabin, in Tierra Del Mar TDM). From 1975 on they traveled to England, France & Scotland, searching for her ancestors.

In 1979, they moved to Wilsonville, OR. There, she returned to college, earning an associate degree in Early Childhood Education through PCC. She took a strong interest in genealogy, attending classes and actively searching for (distant) families, across the county. Her passion for family history, past and present, led her to writing about individual family lines. In 2016, she was published by The Troutdale Historical Society, writing a book about her, Uncle Clarence: “Warts and All”.

Retiring in 1993, they moved to TDM full time – loving every day of it. They joined Nestucca Valley Presbyterian Church and remained active members. They were active in the community; the first to sign up for the Tillamook County Road Department’s “Adopt-a-Road” program cleaning a 3-mile stretch of Sandlake Road, close to home. Retirement brought opportunities to travel often, visiting families and friends, by camper, trailer, or air. Ginger joined writing and reading groups. She loved reading, writing, scrapbooking, genealogy, researching histories, mastering the internet, cooking, traveling, keeping in touch through Facebook, by phone and email. In her last 10 years, she went kayaking, zip-lining, road the Oregon Coast RR, cruised to SE Alaska, and attended “virtual” online parties. If there was an opportunity to try something, she would, without much hesitation. Sister Bonnie can attest to that from lifelong experiences.

A Memorial Service will be held July 24th, 2021 at Nestucca Valley Presbyterian Church in Pacific City beginning at 1 pm.

Ginger was proceeded in death, by Chuck. Ginger is survived by; Son, Tom (Karen); daughters, Terri, and Tami (Bob) Campbell; five grandchildren: Kendra and Karly Allen, Amanda McMellon (Aaron) Landvik and 3 great grandsons: Camdyn, Calvin and Crosby; Brooks and Sam Campbell; Sister Bonnie (Pete) Taylor; Brother-in-law’s, Ron and Gary (Pam) Allen and many nieces and nephews.

-French virologist and Nobel Prize winner Prof. Luc Montagnier said that "epidemiologists know but are "silent" about the phenomenon known as "Antibody-Dependent Enhancement". While it is understood that viruses mutate, causing variants, he contends that "it is the vaccination that is creating the variants There are antibodies created by the vaccine," forcing the virus to "find another solution" or die. This is where the variants are created. That the trend is happening in "each country" where "the curve of vaccination is followed by the curve of deaths." If we look at the curve from the WHO since the vaccinations started in January, the curve showing new infection has exploded, along with deaths. Notably among young people that were not affected by this virus."

-What should alarm every American is the push for vaccine passports in order to be able to be part of society. Our governor is forcing businesses to be vaccine enforcers now as she did for masks and social distancing creating a caste system similar to the social credit scores in China. This violates the ADA, the Civil Rights Act, our 4th amendment and the Oregon Constitution. It is discrimination.

This is how Nazi Germany was created through fear, authoritarian rule and people who let it happen.

Child Care: Oregon’s ‘deserts’

Molly Rosbach

A new report from Oregon State University shows that as of March 2020, all 36 counties in Oregon qualify as child care “deserts” for infants and toddlers — meaning that there are at least three children under the age of 2 for every available child care slot in the county.

Baseline report

Researchers say the report, based on data collected prior to COVID-19, will serve as a useful baseline to highlight how the pandemic has exacerbated the challenges facing Oregon families with small children.

“This report confirmed what families understand: There’s not enough child care, period, but there’s really a crisis when it comes to infant and toddler slots,” said Megan Pratt, an assistant professor of practice in OSU’s College of Public Health and Human Sciences and lead author of the report, published this week. Michaela Sektman at OSU was her co-author.

The report builds on Pratt’s 2019 comprehensive look at Oregon child care, which showed a similar landscape: All 36 counties were child care deserts for the 0-2 age group, while 25 counties were deserts for kids ages 3-5.

The biennial reports are funded via the state’s Early Learning Division as part of the Oregon Child Care Research Partnership with the purpose of informing state policymakers on the current status of Oregon’s child care supply, particularly the dearth of options for infants and toddlers and the role played by publicly funded programs in filling those gaps, especially in rural areas.

declined by about 13,000 statewide, Oregon’s child care supply remains limited. Twenty-five of Oregon’s 36 counties are also deserts for preschool kids ages 3-5, and for infants and toddlers ages 0-2, half of Oregon’s counties qualify as “extreme” deserts, with, at most, one child care slot for every 10 children in that age group.

The numbers show public investment plays a key role in expanding the child care supply in Oregon. Between 2018 and 2020, increased state funding led to an additional 817 publicly funded child care slots across the state, part of the overall growth. Publicly funded slots now account for 19% of Oregon’s total child care supply.

“This report highlights why Oregon needs to continue to invest in child care and focus on strategies that build our supply of affordable, high-quality child care and ensure our existing programs are supported,” Oregon’s Early Learning Division Systems Acting Director Alyssa Chatterjee said. “Many families are struggling to access high-quality child care, and we can’t wait to address the issue.”

The report culled data from various sources, including regulatory databases for licensing information on child care providers throughout the state, and Oregon’s Early Learning Division, which administers public programs such as Head Start, Preschool Promise and Baby Promise.

Researchers looked at data from March 2020, right before the pandemic hit, and found a continued decline in the number of small, home-based child care provider slots. This decline has largely driven the overall loss of child care slots, as large child care centers cannot fully make up for the lack of home-based slots.

Critical role

Home-based providers play a critical role in Oregon’s child care supply, Pratt said, with many families seeking out home settings for more culturally responsive care for their children. But providers often struggle financially.

“It’s really hard to make it work business-wise, because providers do not make very much money for what they’re doing,” Pratt said. “It’s hard to get new people to come into the field and say ‘I want to be a small, home-based provider.’”

Pratt said the new report is a good jumping-off point for bigger questions and deeper analysis, as the existence of child care slots is only one hurdle many families face.

“Child care slots can exist, but not be accessible for a whole host of reasons. When other research asks what those barriers are, the primary one is affordability,” she said.

Other barriers to access include a child care center’s hours of operation, which might not align with parents working night or weekend shifts; language and cultural compatibility; and finding care that meets the needs of children with delays or disabilities.

What’s next

Oregon is working to expand access and availability of child care, with legislation like the Student Success Act directing more funding to early learning, and programs like Preschool

Promise, which provide child care and education for kids at or below 200% of the federal poverty level.

“While this report shows we still have a long way to go, I am encouraged that the critical role of child care is receiving more attention than before,” Chatterjee said. “There’s wide recognition that child care is something we all need to address together.”

“I am asking every Oregonian to plan being a disaster survivor,” he said. “Disasters are inevitable but there are things that we can do to reduce our individual risks, our families risks and the risks to our communities.”

- Both Grafe and Ruiz-Temple agreed that the Oregon Public Utility Commission’s (PUC) new temporary rules allowing utilities to switch off power during wildfires to protect the public and property are important.

“The power companies are engaging more with the state’s coordination system and the decision to turn off power is the responsibility of the power companies,” Grafe said.

“I see that (the PUC rules) as a good movement,” Ruiz-Temple said. “Senate Bill 762 speaks specially to the PUC response and how they engage. There needs to be a process.”

Ruiz-Temple said the state has made investments in responses, risk reductions and resilience, including implementing the governor’s wildfire council’s recommendations and 2021 legislation.

Women’s Association awards 2021 scholarship

Emily Stanfield, senior from Neah-Kah-Nie High School, has received the North Tillamook County Women’s Association 2021 scholarship. She plans to attend Western Oregon University to study education and become an elementary school teacher.

Stanfield is an outstanding student at Neah-Kah-Nie High School. She is a member of the Speech and Debate team, Leo’s Club, a MS Web leader, and an alumni of the 2019 Hobby Leadership Conference. Stanfield’s community activities include volunteering with Rockaway Beach Park and work as a counselor at Twin Rocks Friends Camp.

Dedication, tenacity, and optimism were highlighted in the reference letters that supported Emily’s application. One noted that she “is inclusive to students and staff... and brings a smile and positive energy wherever she goes.” Another, a youth camp director, described that Emily has “a natural gift for working with young children.”

The North Tillamook

County Women’s Association Scholarship was originated in 2007 by Jan Markle to support the educational plans of a woman graduating from Neah-Kah-Nie High School. Although traditional fundraising events have been curtailed, this year’s scholarship fund was sustained with donations from organizational and community members. To contribute to the 2022 Scholarship Fund, please contact the North Tillamook County Women’s Association at PO Box 73, Manzanita, OR 97130.
