Tillamook School District held a ceremony to recognize teachers' academic achievements and hand out the inaugural North Star Awards on October 13, at the high school auditorium. Six teachers and one staff member received the award, which was conceived by new Superintendent Matt Ellis to recognize the positive impacts that teachers and staff have on students' lives. "It is often the case that we wait until the end of the school year to recognize our employees," Petty said. "By celebrating our educators more consistently, we hope to acknowledge more employees, more frequently." Samantha Atchison, Marcelo Carocci, Adriana Cepeda Oliveras, Courtney King, Skylar Clowers, and Brooklyn and Hayden Bush received the student-selected North Star Awards from members of the Tillamook High School student government. Atchison, who teaches language arts at the high school, was credited with helping the student body's vice president, Sammy Schmader, overcome a fear of public speaking and making her feel seen and heard. Student body secretary Audrey Miller said that Carocci had made history entertaining and engaging, which had not been her prior experience with the subject. Communications Officer Bridget Allen thanked the Bushes, who both teach agricultural sciences and run the high school's 4H program, for their mentorship in that program and for always helping to put a smile on her face.

Treasurer Lorena Nieves also credited Cepeda Oliveras, who teaches Spanish, for helping to keep her smiling through the ups and downs of high school and thanked her for always listening. Student Body President Austin Berry Killian wrote in a letter read by Schmader that Clowers, who works in custodial services, always brings a positive attitude to his work that helped to put him in a good mood. Community Action Resource Enterprises Inc. in Tillamook has hired Jeff Blackford, who brings an extensive and successful history in charitable organization management, as its new executive director. Blackford recently sat down with the Herald to discuss his history, passion for not-for-profit work, philosophy and plans at Community Action Resource Enterprises Inc. (CARE). "With programs and partnerships and relationships we can develop and create these programs," Blackford said. "That's going to save the taxpayer a lot of money, it's going to save lives, it's going to keep people out of jail, it's going to keep people out of the ER and at the end of the day we hope to make a huge difference in the population of people that are homeless." Born in Seattle, Blackford grew up in Alaska before attending college at the University of the Virgin Islands, in St. Thomas, U.S. Virgin Islands. After college, Blackford briefly returned to Alaska before moving to Seattle and meeting his partner, Jim. Together, the couple bought Timberline Spirits, a successful bar and music venue in Seattle that they ran for seven years. Blackford still keeps headshots from performers who graced the Timberline's stage in his office and looks back fondly

Commissioners interview applicants for temporary opening

WILL CHAPPELL
Headlight Editor

The Tillamook Board of County Commissioners held an extended interview on October 16, with the six candidates vying to finish Commissioner David Yamamoto’s term after his retirement at the end of the year.

After the candidates had introduced themselves to the county and commissioners at a forum the previous week, the commissioners focused on how applicants would lead the county government and asked for more policy details.

The commissioners discussed the candidates, Paul Levesque Jerry Keene, Ken Henson, Paul Fournier, Mike Wilson and Doug Olson, at their weekly meeting on October 18, and selected Doug Olson to fill the position.

The decision will be finalized with a board order at their October 25 board meeting. See the front-page story for more details on those discussions.

Other than Henson, each of the candidates is a registered Republican and, all said that they support reinstating criminal penalties for hard drug possession. They also broadly supported making the treatment offered by Measure 110 mandatory rather than voluntary.

Each of the candidates also said that, if selected, they would rely on county department heads and staff for expert advice on the issues and use that to inform their decisions as commissioner.

There was also broad support for considering the rezoning of lands across the county to allow for more housing development, and Fournier mentioned working with employers on private-public partnerships for housing or considering county owned developments.

The question of how to supplement the county’s revenues also drew a broad consensus, with Olson, Levesque, Henson and Keene voicing their support for instituting a serial levy to support the sheriff’s department.

Levesque also mentioned the possibility of selling carbon credits against the storage capability of the Tillamook State Forest to supplement or replace declining timber harvest revenues.

Fournier objected to the idea of conditioning public safety funding on voter approval and said that he favored increasing the county’s transient lodging tax (TLT) or instituting a seasonal prepared food tax.

Keene also favored possibly raising the TLT and updating zoning to attract more businesses to the county., Henson called for a strategic plan and Williams said that the county should find ways to target digital nomad workers, who could generate additional TLT revenues.

Levesque and Olson touted their experience testifying in both Washington D.C. and Salem to legislators and working with regional and statewide groups as assets that would serve them well if selected. Fournier and Keene each pointed to their extensive history in courtroom proceedings as invaluable experience for offering testimony and Williams and Henson said they had testified before lawmakers on previous occasions.

After more than two hours of answering questions, Commissioners Mary Faith Bell and Erin Skaar agreed that they would discuss their thoughts and make a selection at their meeting on October 18.

Commissioners move forward on DA office renovation

WILL CHAPPELL
Headlight Editor

Tillamook’s Board of County Commissioners announced their intent to award a $337,000 contract to Columbia Cascade Construction for the renovation of the District Attorney’s office at the county courthouse at their meeting on October 18.

The commissioners also accepted three grant awards from various agencies that will bring almost $4 million to Tillamook County over the next three years to address substance abuse disorders, purchase equipment for the $27 million radio system replacement and supplement funding for the Kiwanda Corridor project in Pacific City.

Tillamook District Attorney Aubrey Olson appeared at the meeting to discuss the current condition of her office and the planned upgrades.

According to Olson, as well as the commissioners and other county staff who spoke at the meeting, the office is woefully out of date and in desperate need of an update to continue serving the DA’s needs.

The office’s current layout was achieved through piecemeal upgrades and renovations that have taken place since the courthouse’s 1933 construction. The office is spread across two floors at the courthouse and makes use of the disused jury dormitory and other repurposed spaces.

Olson said that the current configuration is cramped and loud, with narrow walkways forcing staff to dance past each other on the way to court and bad noise flow leading some to come in on Saturdays to work in peace. There are also a host of safety and cosmetic issues that will be addressed, including asbestos remediation and the replacement of worn-out flooring.

In addition to refreshing the space, the renovation will also remove a disused bathroom and with the demolition of a wall, incorporate it into a new, larger workspace for staff. Fans will also be added to increase air circulation and walkways will be widened to increase access and safety.

The renovation will improve 1,500 square feet of the office, and Olson said her staff of five attorneys and five support staff, plan to make use of other spaces in the courthouse and work from home as possible during construction.

A $2-million grant for radio equipment that will be used as part of the ongoing replacement of the county’s emergency services radio system comes courtesy of the Department of Justice. Chief of Staff Rachel Hagerty said that she would continue to work on finding other grants to help defray the project’s $27 million price tag.

Commissioners accepted another Department of Justice grant, this one for $1 million over three years, to support the county’s substance abuse disorder programs.

The funds will allow the county to hire two recovery peers dedicated to working with law enforcement officers interacting with citizens suffering substance abuse disorders. A portion of the funds will also be used to create a program to track overdoses in Tillamook County in partnership with Oregon State University, allowing the county to better understand the crisis locally.

The grant will also allow for the continuance of a partnership between the county’s three school districts and the Hazelden Betty Ford Foundation to educate county youth on substance abuse disorders and sustain the county’s free Narcan program.

The final grant accepted by the commissioners will bring $750,000 of Oregon Parks and Recreation funding to the Kiwanda Corridor project currently underway in Pacific City. The funds will supplement previous funding to allow the completion of a new restroom in the Cape Kiwanda State Park parking area, a scenic overlook, paths and other amenities.

Commissioners also granted Verizon permission to enter and inspect two sites along Highway 6 in preparation for siting cell towers. The sites are near Ming Creek and Fall Creek and will encompass a ten-by-ten-foot plot leased by Verizon.

The move continues the forward progress on adding cellular service to a 40-mile stretch of the vital road link between Banks and Tillamook. The new towers are being made possible by the new transpacific, submarine cable that is set to land on the beach near Wi-Ne-Ma Christian Camp in south Tillamook County before continuing to Hillsboro along the Wilson River route.

Commissioner David Yamamoto thanked Amazon Web Services, the cable’s main client, for their partnership with Tillamook County in allowing data connections to facilitate the towers and expanded broadband services to communities along the cable’s route.

Yamamoto said that the most recent discussions about the added cell coverage projected that it would take nine towers in Tillamook County and two or three in Washington County to cover the entire stretch.

Commissioners Mary Faith Bell and Erin Skaar also selected Doug Olson to fill the impending vacancy on the board following Yamamoto’s retirement at the meeting. Read more about that decision in this week’s front-page story.

Garibaldi council tables fire district decision, schedules special meeting

WILL CHAPPELL
Headlight Editor

Garibaldi’s City Council decided to wait to make a decision on submitting paperwork to the county to ask for voter approval for the North Coast Fire District at their October 17 meeting following Bay City’s withdrawal from the plan.

Councilors scheduled a special meeting for October 23, to allow themselves more time to review the updated documents before making a decision.

Garibaldi councilors and residents had been working with counterparts from Bay City on the proposed merger since May of this year. They unveiled a plan to combine the Bay City Fire Department, Garibaldi Fire Department and Garibaldi Rural Fire Protection District at a meeting in late September.

However, at their October council meeting, Bay City’s mayor and councilors said that they had lost faith in the proposal, citing Garibaldi’s tenuous audit situation and their doubts about voter approval, and withdrew from the process.

Following the withdrawal, Mayor Katie Findling asked fire department staff to work on updating the proposal to encompass just the two Garibaldi entities. By the time of the meeting, they had completed an updated budget proposal and were waiting for a contractor to update the paperwork required by the county to be added to the ballot.

The budget document showed that with the same proposed tax rate of $2.50 per $1,000 of assessed property value, the department would bring in around $675,000 annually against a projected budget of just over $544,000.

The need for supplemental funding from the city, as included in the original proposal, would be removed in the new configuration, sending an extra $100,000 to Garibaldi’s general fund annually. A fire department employee said that the district would require funding for the first five months of operations before tax revenues started to arrive, but that it would be able to repay the city within the fiscal year.

Given the late-breaking change in plans, councilors asked for additional time to review the provided documents and to allow updates to the documents requesting inclusion on the May 2024 ballot. The council tabled the matter and scheduled a special meeting for October 20.

Findling also announced that Garibaldi had been selected as a Coast Guard City, an honor shared with just 33 cities, including Newport, Astoria and Florence on the Oregon Coast. The application process was shepherded by former Councilor Laurie Wandell and a ceremony will be held on November 28 at 10 a.m. at the Old Mill Event Center to celebrate the selection.

Neah-Kah-Nie School District Superintendent Tyler Reed also attended the meeting and updated the council on happenings in the district.

Reed, who took over as superintendent in July, said that this year the district has three main focuses: treating people well, student growth and improving communications with the community, with a special focus on social media outreach.

Reed also discussed the cooperative agreements that exist amongst the three school districts in the county, which include shared access to career and technical education resources for all their students. Reed also said that through Tillamook Works the districts have been helping students find internship and apprenticeship opportunities during their junior and senior years of high school, and asked business owners to consider participating.

Tillamook council discusses transmission line ordinance update

WILL CHAPPELL
Headlight Editor

Tillamook’s city council held a first reading of an updated ordinance regulating the upkeep and repair of wastewater transmission lines servicing private residences at their October 16 meeting.

Jason Hopkins was also appointed with a unanimous vote to temporarily fill the seat of his wife, Councilor Rebekah Hopkins, who has been unable to attend meetings in recent months and the council voted to approve an increase to their monthly stipend.

The council reached a consensus to move forward with the transmission line update, which will see the period allowed for repairs greatly extended while maintaining the current penalties for failure to remediate issues.

City Manager Nathan George told the council that the issues with the city’s wastewater system were longstanding, with ordinances addressing repair responsibilities dating back to the 1970s. Each year, damaged lines allow the inflow and infiltration of excess wastewater that costs the city more than $1 million to process. The update to the ordinance is part of a push to address the issues and reduce the excess processing costs.

The primary update to the ordinance would be an extension of the time allowed to complete repairs after a problem is detected from 60 days to 180 days, with the ability for property owners to appeal for a further 180-day extension or hardship waivers.

The ordinance would maintain the $250 per day fine assessed to property owners who did not complete the work within the allotted time frame and the offending property’s water utility bill would be doubled until their transmission line was repaired.

Inspection of transmission lines would be required after the sale of a home, to allow new connections, if a property’s use changed or in several other circumstances, a past requirement that has not been enforced recently.

The size of the fine drew intense scrutiny from Councilor Nick Torres who argued that it was too high and could potentially bankrupt a hypothetical, elderly female constituent.

George clarified that the $250-a-day fine could be waived at his discretion or appealed to the city council. He further said that the fine was standard for many violations across the city, citing overgrown grass and yards with garbage.

George said that he hoped the fine would not be levied and said that the city was working to educate homeowners about a warranty that covers the transmission lines to lower their risk. George mentioned an outreach event that the city is holding on October 30, at 6 p.m. at Tillamook Bay Community College to get that message out.

Torres was unconvinced, though the other councilors said that without a fine the ordinance would be toothless and offer the city staff no tools to force compliance.

Mayor Aaron Burris questioned why homeowners were responsible for sections of transmission line under the public right of way

THS band director dreams of implementing marching band and community band

'Zombie Outbreak' haunted house to raise funds for band

By CHELSEA YARNELL
Guest Contributor

New school year, new band director, new music. Andy Sharma joins the Tillamook School District Staff as band director after six years of teaching around the Pacific Northwest including time as an adjunct professor at George Fox University. "I wanted to teach in public schools again and especially in high school. That's what I was aspiring for," Sharma told the Headlight Herald. "The community as a whole really values and puts a lot of effort into music and the arts." As band director, Sharma oversees band and music classes at both Tillamook High School and Tillamook Junior High School as well as the pep and jazz bands. "This year is starting off with me getting to know the students and their talents. We're working on fundamentals and paying attention to how we are building our tone and technique," Sharma said. "My predecessor Bob Lee instilled great knowledge in them. I'm learning about traditions and what makes the Tillamook program." With the pep and jazz bend underway, Sharma has dreams of adding a marching band in the future. "[It's] something that's a few months to year away, but we want to start small like marching in the Tillamook Holiday Light parade," Sharma said. "It will be fun and interesting; adding a new aspect to our football games [in the future]." In the meantime, Sharma said the students are looking forward to upcoming band trips and concerts. "We'll be traveling to the University of Oregon's Festival of Bands at the end of October," Sharma said. "It's a great thing for our students to see field marching bands." To raise funds for the program and future trips, the THS band will be hosting a "Zombie Outbreak" haunted house. The haunted house will be open October 26, 27, 30 and 31 from 7-10 p.m. at Tillamook High School. Admission is $5. Catch the THS and TJHS bands live at their winter concert on December 12 at Tillamook High School.

Members sought for community band

In addition to working with Tillamook students,

Sharma wants to expand musical opportunities to the community. "We're trying to get more traction with a community band," he said. "We have about seven people who have a background and are interested in playing. We're still looking for as many members as we can." If enough interest is garnered, Sharma says he plans to host practices at a nearby church with rehearsals on Sunday evening. "We welcome people with any number of years of experience, even if they haven't played their instrument in a while," he said. "We want to represent the town of Tillamook and show we have an active music scene." If interested in joining the community band, reach out to Sharma at sharmaa@tillamook.k12.or.us

$43M in food benefits for Oregon children

STAFF REPORT
Country Media, Inc.

The Oregon Department of Human Services (ODHS) will be issuing additional food benefits for young children whose families received Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits between Sept. 1 2022 and May 11, 2023. These additional food benefits will provide approximately $43 million in additional food assistance for 99,000 young children in Oregon. "We are grateful to have been able to provide more than a $1 billion in addition food benefits to children and students in Oregon since 2020," ODHS Director Claire Seguin said. "As communities continue to be affected by COVID-19 and the rising cost of food, we know that many families are experiencing hardship and are struggling to get enough healthy food for themselves and their children. We encourage anyone who is struggling to meet their basic needs to contact our partners at 211, the Oregon Food Bank and their local Community Action Agency for support during this difficult time."

Eligibility for P-EBT food benefits

- Families must have received SNAP benefits at any time between Sept. 1, 2022 and May 11, 2023.
- Children in the family who were age 5 and under at any time during this period are eligible to receive additional food benefits.
- Families will receive the additional food benefits for every month during this period that:
- One or more children in their household were ages 5 and younger
- The family was receiving SNAP benefits.

Families will receive an extra $67 food benefit per child for every month between September 2022 and April 2023, and $30 for May 2023. Families can receive up to $566 in additional food benefits for each child who is eligible.

How children will receive P-EBT food benefits

Families who are currently receiving SNAP benefits will receive the P-EBT food benefits onto their EBT card on Oct. 17. Families who are no longer receiving SNAP benefits will receive a P-EBT card in the mail with the food benefits on it. These cards will be arriving in the mail within the coming weeks.

What is the P-EBT program?

Since 2020, Oregon has issued approximately $1 billion in P-EBT food benefits to help children in Oregon get enough quality and nutritious food.

These additional food benefits are part of the P-EBT program, a temporary COVID-19 response program meant to provide additional food support for children whose access to adequate and quality food received through school programs may have been impacted by COVID-19. Visit pebt.oregon.gov for more information about the P-EBT program. Families with specific questions about their child's eligibility or P-EBT card can contact the P-EBT Call Center at (844) ORE-PEBT or (844) 673-7328. The P-EBT Call Center is available Monday through Friday 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Pacific in seven language options (English, Spanish, Russian, Vietnamese, Somalian, Mandarin and panel interview in the week preceding the selection and will be formalized by a board order at the board’s meeting on October 25.

Olson brings a deep reserve of experience in county issues to the position, having served on many county government committees and boards across the county. Bell and Skaar both expressed admiration for his knowledge base and commitment to serving the people of Tillamook County.

“A lot of people have identified Doug as someone should be at this table and I agree with that,” Bell said, referencing numerous past attempts by people in the county to convince Olson to run for the board.

After addressing the rest of their legislative and administrative agenda, Bell and Skaar returned from a brief recess to consider the six final candidates who had participated in the public process over the last weeks: Olson, Ken Henson, Jerry Keene, Matt Williams, Paul Levesque and Paul Fournier.

The commissioners began by thanking all the applicants for their participation and praised the ideas that they had brought to the table during the process.

Skaar then announced her three top candidates among the finalists as Olson, Keene and Levesque.

Skaar said that she preferred choosing a candidate who would not be running in the 2024 election. She also said that she had put emphasis on an ability to hit the ground running with a strong knowledge base in her considerations and weighed the importance maintaining diversity on the ground.

She also encouraged Fournier, Williams and Henson to run next year, saying she believed they brought good ideas to the fore and would make good commissioners.

Bell said that in her personal deliberations, she had tried to consider who the voters would choose as a guide. Like Skaar, Bell said that she preferred selecting somebody who was not running in next year’s election, to avoid giving an incumbency advantage to one candidate.

An ability to come up to speed quickly was also a priority for Bell and she said that she had arrived at the same three candidates as her top three choices.

The commissioners then discussed each of the finalists and what had drawn their attention to them.

Both commissioners said that Keene was brilliant and that his passion for the opportunity had shown through in the process. They also mentioned his experience writing legislation as an attractive trait and cited his leadership of two attempts to incorporate Oceanside.

Olson’s deep knowledge of Tillamook County and the issues facing it, as well as his experience participating on various county committees and boards from the county’s budget committee to Tillamook Lightwave to the Tillamook People’s Utility District also impressed Bell and Skaar.

Skaar noted that Olson had previously announced his plans to retire at the end of 2024 and said she was concerned about the prospect of taking him away from those other committees during his last year of public service.

Bell interpreted Olson’s impending retirement differently, saying that she was thrilled that Olson would choose to spend his last year in such a demanding position.

Levesque, who served in the county government for more than 40 years, also has a deep familiarity with the issues facing the county and its administration, both commissioners noted, with Bell referring to him as the “brain trust of Tillamook County.”

From there, each named their top two candidates, with Skaar voicing support for Olson and Keene, and Bell selecting Olson and Levesque.

Bell suggested that they select Olson since they both had him in common among their top two.

Skaar again returned to the issue of Olson’s retirement, saying that she was worried about him starting projects during his time as commissioner that he would not see through following his retirement. She said she felt that Keene would continue volunteering with any projects he started and expressed concern about replacing Olson on the county’s budget committee, which already has one vacancy.

Bell said that, given his history, she believed Olson would see through any projects he started as a county commissioner. She also questioned why Skaar would prioritize continuity in this instance after both had agreed that selecting a person who would serve on an interim basis was the best course of action.

Skaar agreed to select Olson for the appointment and the commissioners directed staff to prepare a board order formalizing the decision at their meeting on October 25.

Skaar asked Yamamoto for his feedback on their deliberations and he said that he felt they were “absolutely going in the right direction,” and praised the decision to select an interim appointee.

on the crowded dancefloor pulsing to “everything from 70s disco to trance, high energy, to country western.”

In 2006, the couple sold the Timberline and moved to Lincoln City, where Blackford got his first nonprofit job, working as the development director at the North Lincoln Hospital Foundation. Blackford met his mentor, Connie Isaac, while working at the organization and his interest in nonprofits was whetted.

After several years, medical issues facing his parents led Blackford to relocate to Albany to help take care of them.

Struggling to find a job in the area, Blackford came across a listing on Craigslist for the executive director position at Communities Helping Addicts Negotiate Change Effectively (CHANCE), a nonprofit group serving people suffering from mental health and substance abuse disorders.

Blackford was quickly hired and set about growing the organizations’ offerings, finding funding that boosted the budget from $89,000 to over $3.6 million during his tenure and using that money to operate five locations across three counties and build a 140-bed shelter.

“That is where I got my true love and passion of doing what I do now, helping people, making a difference in peoples’ lives, making a difference in the community,” Blackford said. “Because it’s not just about what we do for the individual, it’s about what we do for the community.”

Positive community impacts are important to Blackford, who said that offering people mental health and substance abuse treatment and helping to house them increased the entire community’s safety and livability.

When CARE’s executive directorship became vacant earlier this year, Blackford learned of the opportunity and was immediately drawn to the new shelter that is coming to First Street in Downtown Tillamook, and, specifically, its lack of barriers for access.

“That one little phrase, no-barrier, is what caught my eye and said I want to be a part of this,” Blackford said. “I want to be a part of building a shelter and building this for the community.”

The new shelter will include the 400-square-foot, no-barrier facility, open 365 nights a year, as well as six smaller units that will house individuals, couples or families, depending on their size. The shelter’s first phase will also include two bathrooms with plans to expand the facility next year with additional shelters, a laundry facility and kitchen, and other services for homeless residents.

While the shelter has received county approval for construction on the lot between CARE’s headquarters and the U.S. Postal Office, work has been delayed by site planning issues springing from the property’s steep slope. Blackford said that groundbreaking on the project is expected shortly, with opening planned for near the end of the year or in the first weeks of 2024.

In addition to the shelter, Blackford is passionate about CARE’s other offerings and its outreach work to inform those experiencing homelessness about the supports available, including help with finding mental and other healthcare, housing, employment and social services.

Blackford also said that working with community partners is critical. He wants to build relationships that will allow calls about homeless people to be channeled to CARE by first responders. He said that this will provide a preferable alternative to incarceration or trips to the emergency room and get the person the support they need.

“Instead of having one more mark on their record, let’s do something different for them, let’s see if we can’t make a positive impact on their life by supporting them with other programs,” Blackford said.

The mission of helping those experiencing struggles with mental health issues and substance abuse disorders is deeply personal for Blackford, who is in recovery and has been sober for 28 years. He also lost his oldest sister to an overdose, which he credits for helping him to come to terms with his own addiction issues and inspiring his career choice.

“That is one of the triggers that put forth in my mind wanting to help people with addiction and mental health,” Blackford said. “I didn’t know where it would lead me but the death of my sister just had a horrible impact on me but it also had a very positive impact because it put me on a footprint and on a path of helping people.”

Those personal experiences have also given Blackford a deep empathy for those CARE serves and informed an approach that prioritizes their humanity. Among other things, this includes eschewing the term “client” in favor of “peer,” to promote a feeling of equality between staff and those they serve.

Blackford is also passionate about training, diversity, equity and inclusion, and accessibility of services for all. He is adamant about the importance of community partnerships with both organizations, the homeless community and all citizens of the county, inviting anyone to join him for a coffee to discuss CARE’s services.

“CARE cannot do it alone,” Blackford said, “the only way that we’re going to be successful is by working with our community partners.”

Blackford encouraged anyone who is interested in supporting CARE to consider volunteering with the organization, making a cash donation or bringing supplies like, socks, garments or sleeping bags to CARE’s headquarters on First Street.

CARE will also hold its third-annual, online fundraising event on December 1, with a watch party being planned at its offices.

The first reading of the ordinance update passed with a vote of 4-1, with Torres voting against, and a second reading will occur at the council's next meeting.

The council also unanimously to increase the monthly stipend awarded to the councilors and mayor. The original stipend had been approved in 2007 at $50 a month, before being increased but not updated in ordinance in 2020 to $125.

The council voted to formalize the $125 stipend, while approving a higher, $200 stipend for the mayor in recognition of the office's extra duties.

Councilors also removed language tying the stipend to meeting attendance, noting that they attended meetings in addition to the two monthly council meetings and were responsible for fielding calls and other public outreach throughout the month.

The Tillamook Cheesemaker football team got its biggest win of the season on October 19, downing the Cowapa League powerhouse Scappoose Indians 46-29 in a road matchup.

The win came thanks to a persistent offensive performance led by another standout showing from senior quarterback Tanner Hoskins and a bend-don't-break effort from the defense. The Cheesemakers now have a shot at a share of the league title and a playoff home game, after their final touchdown gave them the edge in the event of a tied league championship following the regular season's conclusion this week.

"That was a playoff caliber football game for sure," Tillamook Head Coach Kye Johnson said. "They are as good of a program as anyone in the state, at any level. So, putting together a complete game the way we did and walking out of there with a win is a huge deal for us."

Hoskins completed the game with 294 yards passing and three touchdowns against one interception and contributed 102 yards and two touchdowns on the ground while stepping up in the defensive secondary for the Mooks.

"He's making smart, aggressive decisions and his athleticism and instincts are top notch," Johnson said of Hoskins. "I think he's the most dynamic offensive player in 4A football."

Scappoose started the game with the ball in excellent field position after recovering an onside kick attempt by the Mooks to start the game. The Indians picked up a first down before a holding penalty put them behind the chains and forced a punt.

Tillamook's offense took over at their own 40-yard line and established a rhythm immediately. Receptions from Griffyn Boomer and Eligio Maciel combined with a rush from Hoskins and horse collar penalty against the Indians to give the Mooks a first and goal from the five-yard line.

But after a penalty for aiding the runner on first down, Tillamook had a mishandled snap on second that ended up on the ground and was recovered by Scappoose for a turnover.

The Indians advanced the ball to near midfield with a thirty-yard pass, but back-to-back pass deflections by Tillamook defenders on second and third downs forced another punt.

Starting at their own 36-yard line, the Tillamook offense took advantage of slow subs on second down, snapping the ball quickly, allowing Andrew White to bust open a 24-yard run. Hoskins rushes on two consecutive plays put the Cheesemakers inside the redzone, before White found paydirt on a third-and-goal from the three-yard line shortly after.

Hoskins's point after attempt sailed wide and the Cheesemakers led 6-0 with just over two minutes remaining in the first quarter.

Scappoose responded with a touchdown drive of their own, with the highlight play coming on a fourth and nine near midfield that the Indians converted with a pickup to the Tillamook seven. With a successful PAT, Scappoose took a 7-6 lead with two minutes gone in the second.

The Cheesemakers took over at their own 26 and started driving with White picking up first downs in the air and on the ground before Hoskins rushes moved the ball into Indian territory. Scappoose, which played a chippy game and drew penalty flags all night, interfered with a Tillamook receiver and drew an unsportsmanlike penalty and player ejection for a late hit on Boomer to set up a first-and-goal from the nine.

Running back Seth Wehinger picked up seven yards on a bruising run before Hoskins punched it in from two with a quarterback draw. A successful PAT put the Mooks on top 13-7 with 5:49 to go in the first half.

Scappoose answered back in kind with its quickest drive of the night, scoring on a short receiving touchdown in just over a minute and a half to retake a one-point lead, 14-13.

A touchback on the ensuing kickoff set the Cheesemakers up on their own 20 and an offside call against the Indians gave the Mooks a first down. Facing a fourth-and-three several plays later, Tillamook Head Coach Kye Johnson elected to go for it.

Hoskins found White in the flat, where the back slipped one tackle and found a lane, breaking away from the defense for a 68-yard touchdown scamper. Tillamook attempted a fake field goal on the point-after play but the Indians sniffed it out, leaving the Mooks with a 19-14 lead with 1:38 remaining in the second.

A Scappoose three and out and Hoskins interception on a last-second Hail Mary sent the Mooks to the locker room with the five-point lead.

Tillamook's opening possession of the second half started at their own 32. After two plays for no gain, Maciel found a huge hole in the Indian secondary near midfield and took a Hoskins pass for a 68-yard touchdown.

Tillamook went for two following the score but were stuffed by the Indians, leaving them with a 25-14 edge.

Once again, the Indians answered with a quick touchdown drive, trimming the Tillamook lead to 25-21 at the eight-minute mark in the third quarter.

Tillamook's next drive was sabotaged by repeated penalties against the Mooks, ending with a fake punt attempt from their own three-yard line falling short of the needed thirty-yard-plus pickup for a turnover on downs at the 33.

The Cheesemaker defense dialed up the pressure on the next possession and forced a turnover on downs at the 26-yard line.

The Mooks next drive built some initial momentum, with Wehinger and Carson Rieger advancing the ball into Indian territory, before Boomer fumbled the ball after a reception, with Scappoose recovering.

The Indians started marching, entering Tillamook territory, before another fourth down conversion attempt ended with an incomplete pass and gave the ball back to the Mooks at their own 34, shortly into the fourth quarter.

Maciel came up with another long reception for the Mooks on their next drive before Wehinger took a rush 20 yards to the left

Perhaps feeling additional inspiration with their festive homecoming atmosphere, the Neah-Kah-Nie High Pirates football team played their best game of the season with a 26-0 win over the Corbett High Cardinals (2-4 SD1, 2-5 overall) October 13 at Neah-Kah-Nie High School.

The Pirates (2-3 SD1, 2-5 overall), guided by first-year Coach Alejandro Quintana-Rios, had an outstanding performance in winning their second straight contest and securing their first home win since 2019. Neah-Kah-Nie just resumed its varsity football program this year after a two-year absence, which followed the 2020 COVID-19 canceled season.

"The kids played really well and holding a team to zero points is pretty tough to do, but we had a good defensive game plan and the kids went out there and executed it very well," said Quintana-Rios. "I felt like we were in control of the game from start to finish. Since it was our Homecoming game too, the kids came out ready to play and they were really excited to get out there and show our hometown crowd what we can do. We're hoping that we can keep our momentum going in our next game too."

Following a scoreless first quarter, the Pirates went up 6-0 in the second when senior quarterback Anthony Allen threw a touchdown pass to freshman receiver Nathan Vance. The Pirates remained on top 6-0 at halftime.

The Pirates took the second half kickoff from the Cardinals and started their

Cheesemaker boys' soccer wins Cowapa League title

By MIKE WEBER
For The Headlight Herald

The Tillamook High Cheesemakers captured their first Class 4A Cowapa League boys soccer title since 2016 after concluding their 11-game season Monday versus the St. Helens High Lions (result unavailable).

The No. 2 ranked Mooks (10-0 league, 13-1 overall), won four recent games over league opponents, while outscoring them by a margin of 10-2.

The Cheesemakers won at home 3-0 over the Banks/Vernonia High Braves (1-8 league, 2-11-1 overall) October 7, followed by a 2-0 road win over the Astoria High Fishermen (2-4-2 league, 3-7-2 overall), which marked their fifth shutout this season. Junior forward Diego Lara scored both goals in the win over Astoria.

Tillamook, guided by head Coach Brian Reynolds and assistant Coach Ulises Chacon, won at home 2-1 over St. Helens (2-4-2 league, 3-6-3 overall) October 12, followed by a 2-1 win over the Seaside High Seagulls (5-3 league, 7-4-1 overall) October 17 at Seaside.

“Seaside is very tough team and we knew that we would have another close game with them,” said Chacon. “We’re really cranking out the wins now and it feels great to win the league title. We’re hoping that we’ll keep winning because we’re focusing on making a deep run in the playoffs this year. After we let the first game (a 6-1 Aug. 31 loss to Newport) kind of slip away from us, we’ve recovered well, but it was a real wake-up call for us at the beginning of the season.”

Chacon, a 2016 Tillamook High graduate, is in his first year as the Mooks assistant coach, and he’s also a coach for the Oregon Coast Football Club youth soccer squad.

The Mooks fell behind 1-0 20 seconds into the contest at Seaside High School and overcame the deficit when Lara scored in the 29th minute, knotting the score at 1-1 and where it remained at halftime. Lara’s goal was his 14th and he broke the Tillamook High School all-time single season scoring record that was previously held by Ethan Miller.

Senior midfielder Bryan Hernandez scored the game-winning goal in the 61st minute, putting the Mooks on top 2-1 and they held on to get the close win. The Mooks won the previous matchup with Seaside by one goal to in a thrilling 3-2 home win September 28.

Senior forward Christian Cordova and Lara each scored for the Mooks in the win over the Lions. It was a scoreless tie at halftime and then the Mooks scored two second half goals for a 2-0 advantage. St. Helens scored a goal in the 71st minute, making it 2-1.

The Mooks reached the OnPoint Community Credit Union OSAA 16-team state playoffs for a third straight season and they’ll play a first round game home game on November 1 against a yet-to-be-determined opponent. The Mooks are hoping advance past the first round after losing in that round the last three season. With a win, Tillamook would reach the Nov. 4 quarterfinals for the first time in recent history.

for a rushing touchdown. A successful PAT attempt put the Mooks ahead 32-21 with just over eight minutes to play.

Scappoose returned the kickoff to the Mooks’ 36-yard line and their offense took advantage of the short field, scoring a rushing touchdown moments later. A successful two-point conversion cut the Tillamook lead to 32-29 with 6:28 to go.

Tillamook took over at its own 35, and began a methodical drive, highlighted by a Ryan Wilkes reception that moved the Mooks into Scappoose territory and 14-yard Wehinger rush to the 11. On third down from the 13-yard line, Hoskins found Rieger in the end zone for a touchdown that extended the lead to 39-29 with 1:38 to go.

At this point, the Mooks faced a unique situation, with the opportunity to secure the tiebreaking decider if their final margin of victory was greater than 13 points.

“What unfolded in the last six minutes of the game was something we hadn’t encountered before,” Johnson said. “Score to go up by 10 points late in the game, and then needing to recover an onside kick with 90 seconds left and then still try to drive it the rest of the way to score again was a really unique circumstance to be in.”

Aided by a personal foul penalty on the Indians for a late hit following the previous touchdown, Tillamook lined up for the onside kick at the Indians’ 45. Hoskins’s bouncing kick careened off the hands of a Scappoose player and the Mooks jumped on the loose ball at the 30-yard line.

After three incomplete passes, Hoskins kept the drive alive with a fourth-and-ten scramble for a first before finding White for a reception at the goal line. Hoskins then punched the ball in on a draw. Hoskins’s extra point sailed through the uprights and gave the Mooks the final, 46-29, margin.

“I’m so proud of the effort and the heart we showed for a full four quarters,” Johnson said. “I think that was an indicator that we have kept improving all season long, and also that when we are locked in like that, we can be a tough football team.”

With the win, Tillamook improved to 6-2 on the season and 3-1 in league play, putting them in a three-way tie for first place in the Cowapa League with Scappoose and the Seaside Seagulls.

This week, the Cheesemakers travel to Milwaukie to take on the 3-5 Mustangs with a chance to win a share of the league title, after winning outright last season.

first possession of the second half at their own 20-yard line. It didn’t take the Pirates long to get into the end zone. Allen (28 carries, 237 yards rushing) scored on a first down, 80-yard touchdown run, to help the Pirates take a 12-0 advantage.

Following Corbett’s ensuing possession, the Pirates had another impressive quick score. Senior Asher Kronoff took control of a Cardinal punt and scored a touchdown on a 90-yard punt return to extend the lead to 18-0 in the third quarter.

The Pirates extended their lead in the fourth when Allen capped a scoring drive with a 10-yard touchdown run. Allen then tossed a two-point conversion pass to sophomore receiver Nathaniel Tinnes, putting the Pirates on top 26-0.

The Pirates faced the Knappa High Loggers (4-1 SD1, 4-2 overall) in their last league game October 20 at home (result unavailable). Neah-Kah-Nie concludes the season with an October 27, 7 p.m. Senior Night/ Tillamook County rivalry home game against the 2-5 Nestucca High Bobcats.

“YOU CAN’T POUR FROM AN EMPTY CUP”

Seaora Cuevas and her husband Klo readily admit that they moved to Pacific City to surf. But once they had been in town for a while, they fell in love with the community. So much so that when it came time to name her new business, Seaora included the numbers 97135. Numbers that locals know as Pacific City’s zip code.

Called a “coastal apothecary and candelarium”, Ritual 97135 is an unforgettable place, even more miraculous when you realize that all the candles, jewelry, artisan soaps and lotions have been created by Seaora.

Besides the amazing scents, the first thing you’ll notice when you walk in is that the shop has a remarkable ability to relax you. You can buy Seaora’s creations online, and customers from all over the country do just that, but visiting Ritual 97135 is part of the charm.

To fully appreciate Ritual 97135 is to understand that Seaora is by nature a healer and not by accident. When Seaora was just ten, her mother was diagnosed with cancer. She was able to live nine more years, far longer than her doctors had predicted, partially because the family made a remarkable effort to eliminate carcinogens from their lives. As she helped care for her mom, Seaora learned to make natural soaps, shampoo, conditioner, lotions and candles. She witnessed the importance of her mom’s daily ritual of self-care and she discovered how precious every moment we have left really is.

Seaora and her husband raised three children of their own while running a nursing home in Eastern Washington. In 2010 they moved to Newport, where Seaora worked for the newspaper and also did freelance graphic design. Take a look at the packaging of Ritual 97135 products and you’ll understand what a fine designer she is.

Using only natural ingredients, including top-grade essential oils certified as Clean-Safe, Seaora makes all of Ritual 97135’s products right in the shop. Customers tend to linger and watch her work, partly because she’s so interesting to talk to. She’ll look you in the eye and say: “take good care of yourself – you can’t pour from an empty cup.” Seaora enjoys the customer interaction too: “Ritual 97135 has become my favorite place to be,” she explains. “I just love coming in here.”

Located in Pacific City’s Shops at the Village, what every mall should be, Ritual 97135 is just two doors down from Seaora’s other business, Sanctuary 97135, a self-care studio offering massage therapy, wellness coaching, Reiki healing and mid-intensity UVB tanning beds (the safe kind). The tanning beds promote bone density and assist in clearing skin issues. “More importantly,” says Seaora, “our customers tan to reduce Seasonal Affective Disorder and other depressive moods.”

In a small concession to nature’s plan, Seaora recently transitioned from surfing to boogie boarding. In addition, she enjoys hiking, fishing, painting, reading and archery. Her new passion is playing the drums while her husband riffs on guitar.

Seaora is also rather enthusiastic about her local bank, our Oregon Coast Bank Pacific City branch. “Their customer service is phenomenal,” she points out. “I couldn’t imagine banking with anyone other than Oregon Coast Bank – they look out for me.”

Seaora’s glowing endorsement is certainly appreciated, but we’d like to add one of our own. If you’re ever in need of a unique and perfect gift, handcrafted on the coast, you’ll find it at Ritual 97135. But don’t forget yourself. Seaora is right: being mindful of your own daily rituals of self-care is important – “you can’t pour from an empty cup”.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Please vote yes for NCRD

Dear community members,

I am writing you today to both introduce myself and to ask for your help in supporting the North County Recreation District (NCRD) by voting yes on ballot measure 29-177 during the November 7th, 2023, Special Election. This is a renewal of the 5-year Operational Tax Levy and is essential to ensure funding of the existing services and programs that we all enjoy.

First though - a little bit about my family and me. We moved here in 2022 after a lengthy search for a small coastal town with good schools and a strong sense of community. NCRD was one of the first points of contact for us when we moved here - and in fact the pool and school swim program were major factors in choosing this area. While our son attended preschool at New Discoveries, we realized just how important NCRD is for us and the entire community. The memories we have made and the relationships we have formed there are precious - and the reason why I decided to run for an open board position last spring. Having the opportunity to help nourish and shape NCRD is an honor.

This levy does not present a tax increase and does not fund the new pool project. Five years ago, this passed by an astonishing 72.9% - and this year with your support, I hope we are able to surpass that percentage. Please vote yes for NCRD.

Sincerely,
Michael Howes
Board Member, NCRD

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Support NCRD's wellness mission

To my fellow community members:

I am writing to encourage you to support North County Recreation District (NCRD) with a YES vote in the November 7, 2023 Election. Approving the Tax Levy for General Operations at NCRD will ensure operations of this important community resource for another five years.

When I moved to North Tillamook County several years ago, NCRD was one of the first community resources I discovered. I visit the fitness center regularly each week and have taken an assortment of fitness classes over the years.

I have also appreciated the NCRD Performing Arts Center (PAC), a remarkable venue for a small coastal community like ours. One of the highlights each year is NCRD's support for the Missoula Children's Theater. This partnership offers young people in our community an opportunity to participate in a week-long theater camp that culminates with a delightful performance for the community.

As CEO of Nehalem Bay Health Center (formerly Rinehart Clinic) I have additional insights into NCRD as a community partner. NCRD helps support the clinic's wellness programming by coordinating with our staff on wellness classes for patients.

The variety of programming available at NCRD reaches all ages and the facility provides an opportunity for social gatherings that help build community. From art shows and community theater to spin classes and swimming, there's something for almost everyone at NCRD. Please join me in supporting this important community resource with your YES vote in the November election.

Sincerely,
Gail Nelson

GUEST COLUMN: TRYING TO SEE

Caregiving's Bittersweet Memories

A friend's husband just died from Alzheimer's Disease, after several years of her giving him loving care. She will now start to gather and reweave the threads of her own life, as many other people have done after painfully similar experiences, including myself twelve years ago. And my dear partner of two years, Phyllis, took care of her husband until exhaustion finally set in for her. So many of us in such circumstances do our best, even go beyond what we think is our best, until we finally realize we can no longer take care of our loved ones by ourselves.

Jan, my wife of 27 years, died on July 4, 2011 of Alzheimer's Disease, having been diagnosed with it eight years earlier. After her diagnosis, in the moderate stages of the disease, she experienced a slow decline in her memory capacity, which depressed her. She began to forget recent events, some from only moments earlier. She slept longer, exerted herself less, became less confident, more tentative when walking. She took my arm everywhere we went. Her sense of mental and emotional well-being began to decline as she realized the disease would become worse and eventually kill her.

In one sense, my life became easier in the early stages of Jan's illness, even though I took over grocery shopping and cooking, cared for the house and yard, and gave increasingly detailed care to her. I could now make decisions we had previously shared, and she was glad for that. All decision-making became harder for her, created tension and anxiety, and contributed to angry outbursts on her part. I learned to navigate our changing lives in a new way: patience blended with love and respect for her.

TRYING TO SEE

merslife@gmail.com

Three years later, things had become worse. I had read and reread and marked up that great book, "The 36-hour Day," which was like a "how-to" bible for me as a caregiver. Jan began to have TIAs (transient ischemic attacks), non-bleeding strokes of indeterminant cause, wherein oxygen is temporarily cut off from one's brain. She would lose her balance and sometimes collapse, be unable to answer questions and just stare at nothing.

During the first several of these attacks I raced her to the nearby hospital and the emergency staff evaluated her, then prescribed the platelet inhibitor, Plavix, to fend off a possible major stroke. Each time, after an hour or so, she recovered and could not remember that anything unusual had happened. After several more TIAs, the doctor told me, "Mike, we've done what we can with the Plavix. You don't need to bring her back here when she has these attacks. Just let her rest at home." That was disheartening to hear because I feared that something worse might happen to her, and felt inadequate to cope with that big unknown, and I would be on my own to deal with it.

Both of us grew more tired as time passed; we went to bed earlier, sometimes around 8:30 p.m. I ran my thumb over her eyebrows and forehead, which always helped her fall asleep. Watching her grow drowsy calmed my own troubled heart.

In her book, "Alone with You," Marisa Silver wrote that human love is a "...mixture of frustration and gratitude and hatred and tolerance and surprisingly intractable, illogical attachment." No doubt, love can be all those things, though I never felt the "hatred" element.

There came a time when I could not do the work alone anymore, fearing my own physical and emotional collapse. I was exhausted, felt on the edge of tears. My hands had begun to tremble. I got up in the night to help her to the bathroom or change the bedding, was unable to leave her alone for fear of what might happen to her. Confused at times, I made poor decisions. Months went by with my tormented back-and-forth thinking. Could I go further in caring for her? How could I move her away from our home? Anguish and guilt and grief took me over.

But I was lucky. An excellent Catholic-run nursing home stood only a few miles from our place. Leaving her there was the hardest thing I ever had to do in my life. There was also relief in it for me, but when I went home that first night, I felt like the vilest creature that had ever walked the earth. I curled up in our cold bed and bawled my eyes out.

As the months passed, I spent hours with her each day. She could no longer walk, and forgot who I was. She could not speak coherently, but whatever her words meant, I just said, "Yes, I agree," or nodded "Uh-huh" and smiled. She seemed satisfied with my responses.

Then, perhaps she had a major stroke, though the doctors were not certain. But they said she was near the end of her life. I sat beside her bed each day for the last two weeks and held her hand. I talked to her. She never opened her eyes or gave any indication that she heard me when I spoke. But when I squeezed her hand, sometimes I thought she gave me back a small squeeze.

In the last moment of her life, Jan opened her eyes for the first time in a couple of weeks and raised her head up. She looked straight skyward, and a look of tremendous awe filled her face. She slowly sank back onto the pillow, closing her eyes. Her breathing slowed over several minutes, and finally stopped. After a moment I realized she had gone away. I just sat there awhile holding her hand, and wept. She had been released, and so had I.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

We want to hear from you and encourage you to write letters to the editor.

Because of space limitations, shorter letters have a better chance of being printed. We may edit your letter for style, grammar and clarity, although we do as little editing as possible. Letters longer than 300 words will not be printed. Letters can be on any topic, but letters on local issues will be given preference.

Letters to the Editor that attack or challenge private individuals or private businesses will be refused. Challenges to public officials may be permitted. Only one letter per writer will be published on a single topic each month.

Thank you letters are limited to mentioning individuals and non-commercial organizations and cannot exceed 200 words.

Letters need to be submitted by 4 p.m. Wednesday the week prior to publication.

We also welcome longer guest editorials. These might be columns written by newsmakers, public officials or representatives of local organizations. These can run a little longer in length.

To verify authenticity, all letters and guest editorials must be signed and include your address and daytime phone number. We won't print your street address of phone number. Any guest opinion may appear on the Headlight Herald website.

While we strive to publish all viewpoints, Headlight Herald and Country Media reserve the right to refuse to publish any letter or guest editorial.

Congratulations are in order for a number of Cape Meares artists and writers whose work will be featured in the 2023 edition of “The North Coast Squid: A Journal of Writing and Art,” published by the Hoffman Center for the Arts in Manzanita. In fact, one of Ciel Downing’s photographs will be on the front cover. Bev Stein will have a photo collage in the magazine, and writings from Ciel, Butch Freedman and Helena Fagan will be included in this issue as well. The Hoffman Center will host a “Squid Writers Read” Friday, November 3, from 7 to 9 p.m. Audience attendance for this event is capped at 50; advance registration is required (there may be a livestream option; check the Center’s website at <https://hoffmanarts.org>). A “Squid Art Show Gallery Opening Reception” will take place Saturday, November 4, from 2 to 4 p.m. This will be an informal, drop-in event; no registration required. The art pieces will be up at the Hoffman Center all month, with many for sale. Hats off to our talented neighbors.

A recent meeting of the Cape Meares Community Association Board resulted in a decision to increase the fees for use of the Barbara Bennett Community Center. The new fee structure is $100 for a full day and $50 for a half day. The board retained the rule that if an event is sponsored by a community member and open to everyone in the community, there is no charge. The sponsoring community member must be present for the event, paid or free. Claudia Cameron and Steve Quinn were also added to the Board at this meeting. In further Board news, Aaron Cope has taken over as Treasurer. The Board thanks departing Sean Kohles for his excellent work in this role.

Bring back the good old days. Years ago, BJ Byron hosted Sunday coffees at our community center, an informal way to visit with neighbors while warming up with some yummy treats. Ann and Steve Quinn have restarted this tradition, with the first coffeehouse held on October 15. About 15 individuals showed up to partake of scrumptious gluten-free apple spice and raspberry almond muffins, delicious sourdough cinnamon buns, and nutritious apple slices and oranges. All this plus some good coffee and a selection of teas; it was fun and a great way to foster connections in the community. Thank you, Ann and Steve. The next coffeehouse is planned for December 10 from 9-11 a.m. Text Ann at 503-457-7536 if you’d like to bring something to a gathering or help with set-up or clean-up.

Trick or treat. The Cape Meares Halloween potluck will be Saturday, October 28. The social hour starts at 6 p.m. and the dinner at 6:30 p.m. Please bring a dish to serve eight; CMCA will provide sodas and water, as usual. BYOB if you would like. Costumes are encouraged but optional. See you there.

This column is going to press before the Great American ShakeOut of Oct. 19. Tune in next week for a report on how Cape Meares did in this important drill to prepare us for a 9.0+ magnitude earthquake and subsequent tsunami.

September’s city council meeting ended with a comment from Mayor Charles McNeilly about participation in city government: “How to get involved? Watch the workshops. Workshops are the discussions that lead to decisions.” These begin at 4:30 p.m., the second Wednesday of each month. You can attend in person or via Zoom, on the Calendar section of the city’s Web page, <http://corb.us>. You can also sign up to receive the agenda packets for these workshops by entering your email at the bottom of that page.

These workshops provide the mayor, council members, and city manager Luke Shepard the opportunity for questions, discussion and inquiry into the issues on the agenda for the meeting which follows. They give a preview of what projects are being considered, as well as insight into how the city makes decisions which affect us all.

I attended the October workshop. The first item on the agenda was a discussion of the preliminary Streets Capital Improvement Plan (CIP), a look at required improvements (including water and sewer where needed) for a number of streets in Rockaway. The CIP, submitted in the packet emailed out to anyone on the list, includes a five-year plan with streets and their needs listed in detail.

Another discussion centered around the Anchor Street playground. This ADA-compliant playground will include a number of outdoor activities suitable for wheelchair users. Designed by BCI Burke, the company that built the popular pirate-ship playground at the Wayside, this looks like an inviting and soon-to-be-cherished answer to the city’s expressed need for more activities for kids, both residents and visitors.

ROCKAWAY BEACH
sfisher71@yahoo.com

The council expects to vote on the playground in next month’s meeting, and groundbreaking could begin in 6 to 7 weeks after that. From then it’s an expected 14-week process for construction, meaning we could have this new playground by early spring, in time for next year’s tourist season.

Even more significantly, the council then had a conversation about ranking and prioritizing tasks on the city’s schedule for the next year. The 35 projects on the schedule, many of which are already in progress, are sorted into categories based on their timeline for execution or completion during the next year. It was left that City Manager Shepard would schedule a future workshop to go over each of the tasks, line by line. Councilor Mary McGinniss stressed that this needs to be public, with recordings and announcements.

A lengthy discussion over the relative importance of these projects resulted in the mayor proposing a meeting specifically to walk through the list, with an eye towards the importance of each task. I will post details of that meeting when it is scheduled.

One final topic significant to the city: the 2024 Fourth of July celebrations. Controversy exists over whether to continue our traditional fireworks displays, with increasing concern about noise, pollution and more, or to consider replacing it with a drone display. Councilor Mary McGinniss stressed the need for a public conversation about this question, and Mayor McNeilly proposed a feasibility discussion about any proposed drone display.

This is a question that is bound to elicit strong emotions on both sides, and I will publish the dates, as far in advance as possible, for when the city will hold the discussion about our Fourth of July celebration. Expect it during November, as this is the lead time required to prepare for our Fourth of July event.

In short, this workshop included discussion of at least three vital questions about the city’s present and future. Some of these questions have yet to appear in a city council meeting. Why? The meetings are meant as an up-or-down vote on items on the agenda.

The workshops provide back-and-forth discussion on the merits and challenges of programs and projects the city is facing. Again, workshops are open to the public but not nearly as well attended as the city council meetings.

This is something we can change.

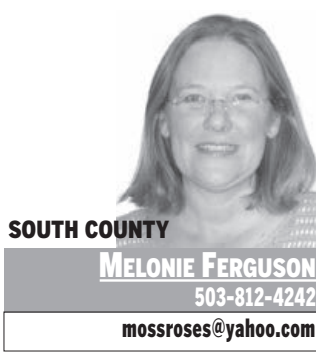

If you want to learn more about these workshops, sign up for the email list on the city Web site, <http://corb.us>. You’ll receive the agendas for workshops and city council meetings, with all attachments. You can attend in person or via Zoom.

A weekend getaway with Diane, a friend from high school, was postponed last Saturday because of illness. Diane and her Mom hosted me Friday night (with my pup Maggie) despite being under the weather. While neither of them tested positive for Covid, they did have many of the symptoms. We headed home disappointed, and I have my fingers crossed that I don’t show symptoms later this week.

Flu Shots are being offered throughout the County. They’re offered from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Tuesday, October 24 at Tillamook County Fairgrounds. Fairgrounds are located east of downtown Tillamook on Third Street. In our neck of the woods, we can drop by Nestucca’s K-8 School, between 3:30-6:30 p.m. on Wednesday, October 25. It’s located a mile south of Cloverdale off U.S. Highway 101. North County Recreation District will host a flu shot clinic from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. on Thursday, October 26. It’s located off U.S. Highway 101 in downtown Nehalem. Monday, October 30 and Tuesday, October 31, flu shots are available back at Tillamook County Fairgrounds. The hours are 9 a.m.-4 p.m. see directions, above. My source doesn’t address billing; bring your insurance card, if you have one.

Tillamook United Christian Church will serve a take-out dinner from 4:30-6:30 p.m. this Thursday. The menu is ham, mashed potatoes with gravy, green beans, a dinner roll with butter and a slice of pumpkin pie. The price is $15 for adults, $13 for children aged nine or younger. The address is 602 Laurel Avenue, Tillamook.

This coming weekend is the last weekend before Halloween. Bear Creek Artichokes, located three and a half miles north of Beaver on U.S. Highway 101, has a u-pick pumpkin patch from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. on Saturday. There is live music on the patio there from noon to 2 (weather permitting) and complimentary cookies, hot cider and wine tastings. Farmer Creek Gardens, located across U.S. Highway 101 from the Farmer Creek Wayside (a couple miles north of Hebo) also sells home grown pumpkins.

Two last minute reminders- first, that Tillamook Elks Lodge will host a Senior Citizen Prom (for retirees and seniors) from 12:00-3:00 p.m. this Saturday. Dress in costume for a chance to win a prize and call in advance for free lunch. Call 503-815-1603. The address is 1907 Third Street, Tillamook. Second, remember that local youngsters are invited to “Trick or Treat the Dory Fleet” in the parking lot of Kiawanda Community Center from 5-7 p.m., also on Saturday. The address is 34600 Cape Kiawanda Drive, Pacific City.

As we go to press a Hooker’s Ball is being advertised online. it’s planned from 8 p.m. until 2 a.m. at Sportsman Pub and Grub, located near the flashing light in Pacific City. The 21 and older event is a fundraiser to support Nestucca Fire and Rescue. We’re encouraged to come in costume for a chance at prizes, and there will be door prizes and a D.J. The cover charge is $20 or a $15 presale at the door.

Professional storyteller Dan Overholser will weave a web of mystery and delight with over forty minutes of tales from the beyond. The event, sponsored by Abundance Day Spa, will include light refreshments, fun and games and is planned from 4-6 p.m. on Sunday, October 29 at the corner of 5th and “D” Streets in Bay City.

Hebo’s own Marilyn Burkhardt is showing a collection of self-portraits through the end of this month at her gallery. The Burkhardt Gallery is open from 11a.m.-4 p.m. Thursdays through Sundays. The address is 34395 U.S. Highway 101 (at Bridge Street) in Cloverdale.

Let’s mark our calendars for Food Roots’ 15th Annual Pie Night Fundraiser. The Gala is slated from 5 p.m. the evening of November 4. Admission is $50. Included will be appetizers, beer and wine, dessert pie and ice cream. Live and silent auctions will entertain participants and The Oak Bottom Boys will perform live music.

Happy birthday this week to: Sawyer Adkins, Anna Allen, Reagan Dooher, John Elliott, Joseph Fagan, Minita Hagerty, Amanda Hinkle, Wyatt Link, Payton Owens, Carol Pippenger, Amanda Polivka, Joey Sigman, and Sam Thurman.

Tommy White was last seen by his identical twin brother, Robby, and friends at their home on 10th St. in Garibaldi around the 10-10:30 pm time range on Saturday, October 14th, 2023. Tommy had finished his shift at Crab Rock Pizza, stopped off at the Garibaldi Chevron for an alcoholic beverage purchase and reportedly walked home. Then a few minutes after he got home, he went out of the house, beverages and jacket reportedly left behind. Tommy does not own an automobile and his bike is still at the house. All known friends and family have been in contact, with nothing to report. Tommy White is 21. He stands about 5’6”, slender with squared shoulders, brown hair, pure blue eyes and an unforgettably radiant smile that has likely brightened your evening at Crab Rock Pizza or Garibaldi Portside Bistro in the last couple years.

Tommy is the son of Cheryl Gierga, the proprietor of Pacific Gypsy boutique as well as a part-time bartender at the Ghost Hole Public House. He, his identical twin brother Robby, and mother all live at the 10th St. Residents. I am aware of the events because I’ve been in contact with the family and helping construct a timeline of events for authorities.

As I write, it’s Wednesday, October 18th, 2023, and I’m forty five minutes away from this week’s shortened deadline. Now, as editor Chappell could attest, I haven’t met a deadline I don’t like to play chicken with, but on this occasion, I’m holding out hopes that I have something more concrete to note. And now I’m hoping I’m writing filler for some just-before-print changes. If you’re reading this, then nothing’s changed as of Friday, the 20th.

GARIBALDI

This also means that the first copies of this edition, available Monday night, October 23rd, will be 5 days from our posts’ deadline. All that to say any more details or prognostications will simply be in vain. So, I’m stealing the time to do something way more incredible...

I’ve known Tommy and Robby since they were about 15, 16 years old. They had a relative serve with me on the Planning Commission. Katie and I, living in the area of town we call the “Cavitt Compound,” and being supporters of “Bistro Nation,” we’ve had numerous conversations with Tommy over the years.

A couple years ago, Tommy asked me if I wanted to see him fight in an MMA fight. I was like, “When did you get into MMA? And where do you train?” He gave me the details, and noted he had been training since he was in 8th grade, when he was being picked on for his size and decided to learn how to defend himself.

Tommy gave me the online link to his Sunday fight. I sat and watched him take on a fighter he was clearly giving away 3-4 inches and thirty pounds to. Sure, he lost, and like all of us mama’s boys, he was overtly gentlemanly about the whole thing. But even in such graciousness, you could see Tommy was more and more believing that it’s true what that say about it not being as much about the size of the man in the fight, but the size of the fight in the man.

I note that now, with nothing but seemingly a puff of smoke to go on, that whatever you are, and whatever you’re doing, and if it’s Monday night and things are the same, that, Tommy, I’m hoping you’re remembering the size of the fight in you. For it is incredible. And we’re ordering ribeyes for us and our families when you get back.

If you see or hear anything, or have some surveillance video you think might help, please contact Tillamook County Sheriff’s Officer Mike Reeves, or the TCSO dispatch at (503) 842-2561, or simply call 9-1-1. Don’t send evidence to me as it could taint the chain of command. Of course, I’ll take a tip and pass it along, but anything that appears to be evidence should go to TCSO. Lastly, Tommy’s extended family is in town to pound the pavement and conduct additional searches. At this time, Robby & Cheryl have been instructed to stay home for when Tommy arrives. Anyone offering to lend support, a hand, a pair of eyes, a shoulder, or even a casserole to the search for Tommy, please call his mother, Cheryl Gierga, at 503-300-8033.

Keep fighting, Tommy, whatever the battle. Thank you, y’all.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2023 Christmas Baskets Tillamook Ecumenical Community

While it may seem premature to start planning for the Christmas holidays in October and November, it is actually the ideal time to do so. During the holiday season, many families and seniors struggle with financial insecurities, and stress can become overwhelming for many individuals. We are dedicated to taking every possible measure to alleviate that stress and make the holiday season as enjoyable as possible.

The Tillamook Ecumenical Community is organizing its annual Christmas Food Basket Program. By preparing for this event now, our volunteers and providers will have sufficient time to shop for holiday meals and gifts for those in need.

Starting October 23, 2023, if you live in Oceanside, Netarts, or Tillamook, we encourage you to apply for the Christmas Food Basket. The applications will be available at the CARE office located at 2310 1st St., Tillamook.

Once completed, the application must be returned to CARE, INC. office by November 13, 2023.

Are you interested in sponsoring one of the families? Our Christmas giving program depends on the generosity of sponsors and donors. If you would like to provide a Christmas basket for a family or a senior in need this holiday season, please contact Shirley at 503-842-6192. You can mail your donation to TEC St. Albans Episcopal, 2102 6 St, Tillamook, OR 97141. We welcome cash donations and are excited to partner with you.

For residents residing in the North or South County, please contact

North County CHILD, Nehalem Bay UMC, P.O. Box 156 Nehalem Bay 97131, phone 503-368-5612

Tillamook's Ecumenical

Community is a non-profit organization that operates on faith-based principles and is committed to serving the needs of individuals in the community. The community consists of five churches in Tillamook, OR: St. Albans Episcopal, St. Johns, UCC, Tillamook United Methodist, St. Peter Lutheran, and Sacred Heart Catholic.

Crafting Change through Art: Join the Marine Debris Transformation Retreat

Heart of Cartm, in partnership with Oregon Arts Commission is excited to announce the upcoming "Marine Debris Transformation Retreat." This immersive and inspiring retreat is set to take place from November 3-5, providing a unique opportunity for individuals passionate about coastal conservation, art, and positive change. Marine debris is a pressing issue affecting communities worldwide, and our coastal haven is no exception. At this retreat, marine debris becomes a symbol of transformation. Whether you're an artist, a scientist, or someone who simply cares about the coastline, this weekend promises to be a catalyst for change. Attendees will create powerful works of art and writing that can inspire change.

Friday, November 3rd, 3:00-6:00 is the Leaders Lecture with Elizabeth Roberts, marine debris artist and clean oceans advocate; Courtney Edwards, Elakha Alliance; Jesse Jones, Oregon Shores; Denise Harrington, 2022 Teacher at Sea for NOAA and Wendy Jackson, American and British psychotherapist. You may purchase a ticket just for the Friday lecture.

On Saturday morning, attendees of the weekend retreat will conduct a NOAA Marine Debris Monitoring Assessment shoreline survey, gathering crucial data for future conservation efforts. Then, take their finds back to the Heart of Cartm workshop for transformation. On Sunday morning, attendees will engage in writing and group discussions.

This isn't just a retreat. Together, attendees and leaders are contributing to a movement of impactful strategies to combat marine debris locally and globally. Your voice and creativity are essential. By participating in this retreat, you directly contribute to Heart of Cartm's vision of a dynamic culture focused on actively using waste as a resource for social, economic and creative benefit.

Reserve a seat for the weekend - November 3-5, 2023, or just the Friday, Nov 3rd Leaders Lecture. Seats are limited. To reserve your spot and learn more, visit our website at www.heartof-cartm.org/marinedebris or contact us at 503-664-0446.

Garibaldi to receive prestigious Coast Guard City designation

Garibaldi will officially accept the Coast Guard City designation November 28th, 2023, at 10 a.m. at the Old Mill Event Center (210 3rd Street, Garibaldi).

There are 1256 Coast Guard stations in the United States and Garibaldi will become the 34th city to receive this prestigious designation. Three other cities on the Oregon coast have also earned this great honor: Newport (2005), Astoria (2010), and Florence (2017).

At the ceremony, Rear Admiral Charles E. Fosse, USCG will present Garibaldi Mayor Katie Findling with a proclamation recognizing the City of Garibaldi and the community for their support of local Coast Guard members and their families. The Admiral is the Commander of the Thirteenth Coast Guard District, headquartered in Seattle, Washington. He is responsible for all Coast Guard operations throughout the Pacific Northwest which includes Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, and 125 nautical miles of the international border with Canada. We expect an impressive presence of Coast Guard members, as well as local, county, state, and federal officials in attendance.

The Coast Guard City Program recognizes communities that support local Coast Guard members and their families through a broad range of activities, programs, and actions. As an example, the City of Garibaldi presented a Pat Patterson Day proclamation on March 7, 2022, to honor Mr. Patterson, one of the few remaining WWII Coast Guard veterans who served his entire duty in Garibaldi. The community came together for a Coast Guard Appreciation Day in August 2022 with lots of family activities and a special competition between the Garibaldi Fire Department and the Coast Guard, live music, and a special tribute to a recently passed Coast Guard retiree. Garibaldi also has a Coast Guard exhibit at our Garibaldi Maritime Museum, a U.S. Coast Guard Historic Boathouse where people come every year for Coast Guard history, and significant educational opportunities for students. Coast Guard cities are required to renew their designation every 5 years by demonstrating their ongoing support.

Firewise Action Plan adopted in Bay City

The City of Bay City is pleased to announce that the City Council adopted a Firewise Action Plan at its regular meeting on October 10, 2023.

Activated by the proximity of the Pike Road Fire in 2020, a core group within the Bay City Emergency Volunteers has been working to improve the City's preparedness for wildfires, and specifically helping property owners better prepare their properties for wildfire risk reduction.

"With the adoption of this Plan, we have taken a significant step in realizing the goals of preparing our community in preventing wildfire damage," said City Manager David McCall, "but there is a lot of work that needs to be done. Thanks to our good, cooperative relationship with Garibaldi, we were able to utilize some specialized equipment to start creating a fuel break and reduce the overgrown vegetation amassed in our public rights-of-way."

The City of Garibaldi procured this equipment in 2023 through a grant from the State Fire Marshall's Office, for use in the region for fire fuel reduction activities. "This specialized equipment augments the capacity of our Public Works Department for this task."

For more information, contact the City of Bay City.

The adopted Firewise Action Plan can be viewed at www.ci.bay-city.or.us/epc

OBITUARIES

Ingeborg “Inge” Nirri

October 15, 1926 ~ October 4, 2023

On October 4, 2023, Inge was freed from her earthly bonds, just shy of her 97th birthday. She was born in Berlin, Germany on October 15, 1926, to Erich and Hedwig Olthoff into a childhood wrought with the rise to power of the Nazi regime. Escaping post war Germany in 1949, when Inga and her husband obtained a sponsorship to come to America. Her American dream began in Evansville, Indiana where she and Nicholai welcomed their child, Tamara. She eventually left Evansville for New York City, as a single parent, after the dissolution of her marriage.

While living in New York, she worked as an office manager, for a physician’s group, to support herself and her child. Inge managed to save and return to post war Germany, for a reunion with family and sight-seeing of post-war Europe.

In 1959, Inge married John Nirri, a flight engineer with Pan Am airlines. This union brought forth two children, Janice and Jason. John’s duty assignments took them to Tiawan and later to Japan, for a number of years, until finally returning to the States in the 1970s. They settled in Tillamook, Oregon after buying a local hardware store and set about raising their children and joining a community rich with its own history.

Inge developed and maintained many close friendships with the common threads of diversity and belief in the ever-evolving human spirit. She tended her flower and vegetable gardens with the care of a master gardener and saw to the needs of the wildlife near her home.

Inge was predeceased by her parents, the fathers of her children and many beloved friends. Left to cherish her memory are daughters Tami and Janice, son, Jason and adopted granddaughter Jessica, stepson Jim (Linda), granddaughters Kara and Elizabeth, Laurel and Ellen, great grandsons Daniel and Sean and many others whose lives she touched. She will be missed.

OBITUARIES

Kathy Myers

September 20, 1953 ~ September 13, 2023

Kathryne (Motschenbacher) Myers passed away September 13, 2023 at the age of 69 after her long battle with cancer.

Kathy was born September 20, 1953, in Tucson, AZ to Bernard and Betty Motschenbacher. She grew up in Klamath Falls, OR. She met Monte Myers, while he served in the Navy and were united in marriage in January of 1972 in Bend where they both worked in the Timber and Timber support industry. Together they lived in Bend for more than 20 years before moving to Tillamook, OR in 1994, where they opened and owned Main Ave Books. Monte was a purchasing agent for Tillamook Creamery. Kathy was an avid quilter and sewing fanatic, a hobby which she shared with her mother and sisters. She was preceded in death by her mother and father, her husband Monte, and her oldest son Steve Myers. She is survived by her son, Mike Myers, granddaughters Kailyn Sutton, Patricia Myers, Shannon Myers and Alexandria Myers, her sisters Carol Powell, Toni Myers and Betty Jacobsen.

A service will be held October 28 at Grace First Lutheran Church in Bend at 1:00 pm. Autry’s 4 Seasons Florist is handling floral arrangements.

OBITUARIES

John Joseph Lamkin

September 16, 1933 ~ October 12, 2023
“I outlived all of my friends! I guess I win!!!!”

John Joseph Lamkin was a beloved husband, father, grandfather and friend. John passed away peacefully in his home on October 12th in Netarts, OR. John was 90 years old.

John was born on September 16, 1933, in Pratt, Kansas. He grew up in both Los Angeles, California and Garibaldi, OR. John moved to Garibaldi, OR in 1940. He attended Tillamook Catholic High School where he enjoyed football, basketball and academia. He had a beautiful singing voice which he was able to share with many in the musicals which his high school performed every year. As a freshman in high school, he met his soon-to-be-wife while roller skating with his friends. She was only 12 years old!!!

While attending the University of Portland, John married Kerma Arlea Fitzwater of Twin Rocks, OR on October 23, 1954. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1956. After being part of the ROTC program, John enlisted in the U.S. Air Force and was sent to a variety of places like San Antonio, TX, Lincoln, NE and Winter Haven FL finally returning to Portland in October 1960. One assignment was to protect our country as a Strategic Air Command, Bomb Wing (SAC) pilot during the Cold War with Russia. John earned the rank of First Lieutenant and was very proud to serve in the military.

During this time, John and Kerma welcomed five children to their family. After five years in the military, John was honorably discharged so that he could spend more time with his family.

John worked for the First National Bank, First Interstate Bank, and Wells Fargo Bank for his entire career of 30+ years! He was ultimately promoted to be the Assistant Chief VP of the Auditing and Examining department. He was a well trusted man with impeccable integrity.

John was born and raised in the Catholic faith. His faith and family were the two most important things in his life.

John was a member of the Knights of Columbus through the Catholic Church as a very young man. He was also a Lifetime Member of the Elks Lodge wherever he lived. In the later years, he taught Religious Education for adults at Sacred Heart Church in Tillamook, OR.

John was a very involved parent who encouraged all of his children to reach their potential and enjoy life. He was involved with the Boy Scouts for many years and attended all the sports activities of his children.

John was a great outdoorsman, loving camping, backpacking, boating, fishing and hunting. Most of the family vacations were in the woods stargazing, finding swimming holes, building and sleeping in snow caves, eating the fish caught in the rivers, and spending time around the campfire with his family. John honed his culinary skills and did all of the cooking during these vacations to give Kerma a break, even baking pies and cakes in a Coleman oven!

John had many hobbies, but found that he was also gifted as an artist. He used a variety of mediums, but oil painting was his favorite! Many of his works of art are hanging in the homes of his family members.

John is survived by his wife, Kerma Lamkin and four children, Denise Lamkin, Shauri Lamkin, Sr. Theresa Lamkin, OSF and David Lamkin (Robin). He has two living grandchildren, Jonathan Lamkin (Christina) and Mikaela Lamkin (Shauri’s daughter). He was preceded in death by his first born son, Daniel John Lamkin. He was also preceded in death by his brother, Ralph E. Schmidt, his father Samuel Erwin Lamkin and his mother Mary Christine Schonlau Schmidt Lamkin, brothers Maurice Schmidt (Eleanor), Larry Schmidt (Judy), William Lamkin and his sister, Dorothy Schmidt. His death was also preceded by his first grandson, Dustin James Lamkin.

There will be a Rosary before the Funeral Mass at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Tillamook, OR. (2405 Fifth Street). The funeral Mass for John will be held on October 25, 2023 at 11:00 AM at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Tillamook, OR. (2405 Fifth Street). Following the Mass, all are welcome to join the family for a reception at the Tillamook Elks Lodge (1907 Third Street). The interment will be at the Sacred Heart Cemetery in Tillamook, OR off of Highway 101 South after the reception.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests a donation be made to Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Tillamook, OR.

OBITUARIES

Kenneth Andrew Cameron

August 23, 1949 ~ October 15, 2023

Ken Cameron passed away on October 15th, 2023 in Polson, Montana. Ken was born August 23rd, 1949 in Tillamook, Oregon. He graduated Tillamook High School in 1967 and Clatsop Community College in 1969. While attending college, Ken worked for Oregon State Forestry. He soon went on to work for both the Bureau of Land Management (Tillamook) and the United States Forest Service in Alaska. In 1971, Ken took over management of a Champion International reforestation nursery in Lebanon, Oregon. In 2000, Ken moved to Montana to manage a tree nursery for Plum Creek. Ken retired in 2010. Ken is survived by his son, Andy, his daughter-in-law, Rebecca, and grandson Dominic. Ken has requested that no service be held. A celebration of life, however, will occur at a future date in Polson, Montana.

in official records of TILLAMOOK County, Oregon in book/reel/volume No. and/or as fee/file/instrument/microfilm/reception number 2017-07242 and subsequently assigned or transferred by operation of law to SELECT PORTFOLIO SERVICING, INC. covering the following described real property situated in said County, and State. APN: 65949 1S1002BB04000 LOT 1, 2, 3, 7 AND 8, BLOCK 10, FULLER'S ADDITION TO BAY CITY, IN TILLAMOOK COUNTY, OREGON. Commonly known as: 8726 11TH ST, BAY CITY, OR 97107 The undersigned hereby certifies that based upon business records there are no known written assignments of the trust deed by the trustee or by the beneficiary, except as recorded in the records of the county or counties in which the above described real property is situated. Further, no action has been instituted to recover the debt, or any part thereof, now remaining secured by the trust deed, or, if such action has been instituted, such action has been dismissed except as permitted by ORS 86.752(7). Both the beneficiary and the trustee have elected to sell the said real property to satisfy the obligations secured by said trust deed and notice has been recorded pursuant to Section 86.752(3) of Oregon Revised Statutes. There is a default by grantor or other person owing an obligation, performance of which is secured by the trust deed, or by the successor in interest, with respect to provisions therein which authorize sale in the event of such provision. The default for which foreclosure is made is grantor's failure to pay when due the following sum: TOTAL REQUIRED TO REINSTATE: $54,477.17 TOTAL REQUIRED TO PAYOFF: $192,097.47 Because of interest, late charges, and other charges that may vary from day-to-day, the amount due on the day you pay may be greater. It will be necessary for you to contact the Trustee before the time you tender reinstatement or the payoff amount so that you may be advised of the exact amount you will be required to pay. By reason of the default, the beneficiary has declared all sums owing on the obligation secured by the trust deed immediately due and payable, those sums being the following, to- wit: The installments of principal and interest which became due on 11/1/2019, and all subsequent installments of principal and interest through the date of this Notice, plus amounts that are due (if applicable) for late charges, delinquent property taxes, insurance premiums, advances made on senior liens, taxes and/or insurance, trustee's fees, and any attorney fees and court costs arising from or associated with the beneficiary's efforts to protect and preserve its security, all of which must be paid as a condition of reinstatement, including all sums that shall accrue through reinstatement or pay-off. Nothing in this notice shall be construed as a waiver of any fees owing to the Beneficiary under the Deed of Trust pursuant to the terms of the loan documents. Whereof, notice hereby is given that QUALITY LOAN SERVICE CORPORATION, the undersigned trustee will on 1/31/2024 at the hour of 9:00 AM , Standard of Time, as established by section 187.110, Oregon Revised Statutes, At the Front Entrance to the Tillamook County Courthouse, located at 201 Laurel Avenue, Tillamook, Oregon 97141 County of TILLAMOOK, State of Oregon, sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash the interest in the said described real property which the grantor had or had power to convey at the time of the execution by him of the said trust deed, together with any interest which the grantor or his successors in interest acquired after the execution of said trust deed, to satisfy the foregoing obligations thereby secured and the costs and expenses of sale, including a reasonable charge by the trustee. Notice is further given that any person named in Section 86.778 of Oregon Revised Statutes has the right to have the foreclosure proceeding dismissed and the trust deed reinstated by payment to the beneficiary of the entire amount then due (other than such portion of said principal as would not then be due had no default occurred), together with the costs, trustee's and attorney's fees and curing any other default complained of in the Notice of Default by tendering the performance required under the obligation or trust deed, at any time prior to five days before the date last set for sale. Other than as shown of record, neither the beneficiary nor the trustee has any actual notice of any person having or claiming to have any lien upon or interest in the real property hereinabove described subsequent to the interest of the trustee in the trust deed, or of any successor in interest to grantor or of any lessee or other person in possession of or occupying the property, except: Name and Last Known Address and Nature of Right, Lien or Interest KATHLEEN TODD 8726 11TH ST BAY CITY, OR 97107 Original Borrower For Sale Information Call: 800-280-2832 or Login to: www.auction.com In construing this notice, the singular includes the plural, the word "grantor" includes any successor in interest to this grantor as well as any other person owing an obligation, the performance of which is secured by the trust deed, and the words "trustee" and "beneficiary" include their respective successors in interest, if any. Pursuant to Oregon Law, this sale will not be deemed final until the Trustee's deed has been issued by QUALITY LOAN SERVICE CORPORATION. If any irregularities are discovered within 10 days of the date of this sale, the trustee will rescind the sale, return the buyer's money and take further action as necessary. If the sale is set aside for any reason, including if the Trustee is unable to convey title, the Purchaser at the sale shall be entitled only to a return of the monies paid to the Trustee. This shall be the Purchaser's sole and exclusive remedy. The purchaser shall have no further recourse against the Trustor, the Trustee, the Beneficiary, the Beneficiary's Agent, or the Beneficiary's Attorney. If you have previously been discharged through bankruptcy, you may have been released of personal liability for this loan in which case this letter is intended to exercise the note holders right's against the real property only. As required by law, you are hereby notified that a negative credit report reflecting on your credit record may be submitted to a credit report agency if you fail to fulfill the terms of your credit obligations. GO FIGURE! by Linda Thistle

The idea of Go Figure is to arrive at the figures given at the bottom and right-hand columns of the diagram by following the arithmetic signs in the order they are given (that is, from left to right and top to bottom). Use only the numbers below the diagram to complete its blank squares and use each of the nine numbers only once.

9:00 AM, standard time, as established by ORS 187.110, AT THE FRONT ENTRANCE TO THE TILLAMOOK COUNTY COURT-HOUSE, 201 LAUREL AVENUE, TILLAMOOK, OR 97141, sell at public auction to the highest bidder in the form of cash equivalent (certified funds or cashier's check) the interest in the above-described real property which the grantor had or had power to convey at the time it executed the Deed of Trust, together with any interest which the grantor or his successors in interest acquired after the execution of the Deed of Trust, to satisfy the foregoing obligations thereby secured and the costs and expenses of sale, including a reasonable charge by the trustee. Notice is further given that any person named in ORS

86.778 has the right to have the foreclosure proceeding dismissed and the Deed of Trust reinstated by payment to the beneficiary of the entire amount then due (other than the portion of principal that would not then be due had no default occurred), together with the costs, trustee's and attorneys' fees, and curing any other default complained of in the Notice of Default by tendering the performance required under the Deed of Trust at any time not later than five days before the date last set for sale. Without limiting the trustee's disclaimer of representations or warranties, Oregon law requires the trustee to state in this notice that some residential property sold at a trustee's sale may have been used in manufacturing methamphetamines, the chemical components of which are known to be toxic. Prospective purchasers of residential property should be aware of this potential danger before deciding to place a bid for this property at the trustee's sale. In construing this notice, the masculine gender includes the feminine and the neuter, the singular includes plural, the word "grantor" includes any successor in interest to the grantor as well as any other persons owing an obligation, the performance of which is secured by the Deed of Trust, the words "trustee" and "beneficiary" include their respective successors in interest, if any. Unscramble these twelve letter strings to form each into an ordinary word (ex. HAGNEC becomes CHANGE). Prepare to use only ONE word from any marked (♥) letter string as each unscrambles into more than one word (ex. ♥RATHE becomes HATER or EARTH or HEART). Fit each string's word either across or down to knot all twelve strings together.

Each numbered row contains two clues and two 6-letter answers. The two answers differ from each other by only one letter, which has already been inserted. For example, if you exchange the A from MASTER for an I, you get MISTER. Do not change the order of the letters.
