Former Tillamook School Dist. Superintendent Curt Shelley.

Cost of Shelley's resignation hits district hard

Will Chappell
Headlight Reporter

Further details have emerged about Curt Shelley's abrupt resignation as superintendent of Tillamook School District on November 14.

Chair of the Tillamook School District Board Matt Petty revealed that an outside investigation conducted into Shelley by Ussery Consultants, Inc. during October, cost the district $12,856.

The report generated by the investigation, however, will remain confidential due to it being a personnel matter. Shelley's separation agreement also prohibits Shelley or the District from releasing the report.

Petty said that he could not comment further on the investigation, citing employee privacy concerns.

Shelley will receive $158,656 from the district through October 31, 2023, in addition to his insurance benefits.

When accounting for taxes, the district will spend $171,893 on severance pay for Shelley and an additional $17,964 on insurance benefits, for a total of $189,857.

Adding the cost of the investigation to that figure brings the total expenditure by the district on Shelley's separation to $202,713 so far.

Shelley was not entitled to severance pay or continued benefits in the case of his resignation under the terms of his contract, but the school board unanimously approved the separation agreement at their November 14 meeting.

Shelley's contract, renewed in March 2021, only provided for severance pay only in the case of termination without cause.

However, Oregon Senate Bill 1521 that went into effect in March 2022, would have complicated efforts by the board to terminate Shelley without cause.

The bill requires school boards to provide superintendents with 12 months' notice of such a termination.

Costs to the district will continue to mount as the search for Shelley's successor begins in the New Year.

The school board will meet in early December to discuss bids from various recruitment firms for their assistance in the search. Search firms generally charge a percentage of the salary of the new hire as their fee.

Petty said the school district would work with the recruiting firm to determine pay and benefits for the new superintendent.

Acting Superintendent Bruce Rhodes is being paid at a prorated salary of $140,000 for his stint with the district, which will last until January 13, 2023, when he will be replaced by an interim for the spring semester.

Neah-Kah-Nie's school district is also searching for a new superintendent to take the place of the retiring Paul Erlebach and will be advertising their position with a pay range of $140,000 to $160,000.

County Clerk certifies November election results

Will Chappell
Headlight Reporter

Tillamook County Clerk Tassi O'Neil submitted certified election results for the 2022 election on December 1, with most results from the county matching those reported earlier.

In the City of Tillamook, Nick Torres pulled ahead of Dean Crist by two votes, 128 to 126, in the race for the fifth council ward after earlier results had shown a dead heat in the race.

Crist has until December 19 to challenge the results of the election but will incur the expense of the recount should he choose to do so.

The certified count revealed that Greg Sweeney and Christopher Kruebbe both received four write-in votes for an open seat on Bay City's city council.

Following a recount to confirm the tie, a drawing of the lots will be triggered. The drawing between Sweeney and Kruebbe will take place on December 9 at 9:30 a.m. at the county clerk's office and consist of the two drawing playing cards from a deck.

The winner of the draw will then decide whether to accept their write-in victory, as will Anthony Boatman who received six write-in votes in the same race.

If either Boatman or the winner of the draw declines, it will fall to Bay City's government to select a councilor to fill that vacancy. O'Neil said that a two-voter household that should have voted in the Tillamook's fifth council ward race had erroneously had the race left off its ballots. However, the oversight was only brought to O'Neil's attention two weeks after the election, and she had no way to address the problem.

Other results from the county that were certified by O'Neil on December 1, matched those reported in the weeks following the election, with a final vote total of 14,741, representing a 69.55% turnout.

Rockaway Beach, Nehalem and Manzanita will be welcoming new mayors, with Charles McNeilly defeating incumbent Sue Wilson in Rockaway Beach, Phil Chick beating out Lydia O'Connor to fill the position being vacated by Bill Dillard in Nehalem and Deb Simmons replacing the departing Mike Scott in Manzanita after running unopposed.

"I believe we need a deeper transparency in our city government, increased information sharing and a deeper, more consistent response to residents' concerns," McNeilly said while campaigning.

McNeilly brings a background working in electric utilities and banking to the position and campaigned on a platform of better managing and benefiting from short term rentals.

Wilson congratulated McNeilly at a city council meeting the day after the election, and thanked residents for their support during her time serving the city.

Nehalem Mayor-elect Phil Chick has a background in water utility management and ran for mayor on a platform of water quality and fiscal responsibility.

"I am committed to see that the city fully explores diverse funding opportunities, while financing improvements through city means other than debt," Chick said.

In Garibaldi, Mayor Tim Hall held off a challenge from former Mayor Judy Riggs to retain office.

"We have an undisputed record of achievements," Hall said while running for mayor.

County's proposed business license fee met with push back

Will Chappell
Headlight Reporter

A proposed business licensing fee for Tillamook County met with voluminous and vociferous public backlash at a public hearing at the board of county commissioners meeting on November 30.

Business owners from up and down the county came out for the 9 a.m. meeting and unanimously derided the proposal, leading Board Chair David Yamamoto to cancel a previously scheduled public hearing in favor of forming a working group on the issue.

The proposed license would have been required for all businesses operating in the county, with limited exceptions.

Applicants for the license would have needed to certify their compliance with state, federal and local laws and pay an annual licensing fee between $75 and $300 depending on their number of employees.

The licensing program would have been administered by the Tillamook County Economic Development Council and funds generated by the fee would have contributed to council initiatives.

As written, the ordinance would have given county officials the right to enter businesses to inspect them for compliance.

Trouble was clearly brewing for the proposed ordinance as the weekly meeting got under way at 9 a.m.

Usually sparsely attended, the commissioners' meeting room was packed with a standing room only crowd of agitated business owners who spilled into the courthouse's hallway.

Agitation grew when County Attorney William Sargent told the assembled crowd that public comment on the proposed ordinance would need to wait until the advertised meeting time of 10:30.

Most of the business owners waited through the regular meeting and another public hearing to have their voice heard, and more arrived as the official start drew close.

In a break between the end of the board meeting and the start of the first public hearing, Yamamoto drew up a chair to speak to those in the audience.

He said that the county government wanted to have an idea of who was operating businesses in Tillamook to help prevent illegal operations.

Yamamoto also stressed that the purpose of public hearings was to solicit feedback and amend proposed legislation.

The crowd gladly obliged Yamamoto, offering an hour and a half of critical, sometimes vitriolic feedback to the board.

The most common point of contention with the bill was the right of entry to inspect for compliance.

Business owners, many of whom operate out of their homes, strongly objected to the idea of a county official entering their businesses to inspect.

Many expressed skepticism that any county official would or even could be qualified to assess compliance with all state, federal and local laws for the wide variety of businesses across Tillamook County.

They also were doubtful that the county would be able to hire a staffer to carry out enforcement, given labor shortages in Tillamook.

The economic development council also drew sharp criticism.

Business owners questioned the council's purpose, complaining that they saw no benefit from its work and had no desire to supplement its budget with no specifics for how those funds would be spent.

The licensing fee itself was criticized for being overly broad, with some noting that as written it would apply to people running multi-level marketing businesses out of their homes or small-scale firewood vendors.

Others complained that the 30-day application review period was too long, the fee was unprecedented among Oregon counties and that penalties were overly harsh.

But above all, business owners expressed

NKN School Board starts search for new district leader

Will Chappell
Headlight Reporter

After 11 years with the Neah-Kah-Nie School District, Superintendent Paul Erlebach will be retiring at the end of this school year.

The school board has begun the search for Erlebach's replacement with help from the Oregon School Board Association and will be ramping their efforts up as the new year begins with the announcement of a new superintendent expected in March.

"Neah-Kah-Nie has been a great school district to work with," Erlebach said. "It's a very progressive school district and we've always had a stable board."

Erlebach arrived in the district following twelve years serving as principal of several schools in and around Ontario, Oregon. Before that he had started his career as a Spanish teacher and English language development coordinator in The Dalles.

In his time with Neah-Kah-Nie, Erlebach has overseen many facilities and program improvements and expansions, but he stressed that the students had remained his number one focus.

"Anytime I was with students is a favorite memory," Erlebach said, "students are the clients so they're my boss and I feel an obligation to the students."

That commitment led to a continuing focus on keeping district facilities and programs evolving to meet the needs of the community.

Erlebach points to the expansion of the preschool programs at Garibaldi and Nehalem Elementary Schools and the construction of the student health and wellness center at Neah-Kah-Nie High School as highlights from his time at the helm.

In all, Erlebach oversaw more than $15 million in capital improvements around the district.

"He has been very effective in his tenure here and he will be missed," Neah-Kah-Nie School District Board Chair Sandy Tyrer said.

But Erlebach was quick to emphasize that his efficacy was only possible with support from the district's staff.

"Really, it's the staff that makes Neah-Kah-Nie a special school district," Erlebach said.

After his retirement, Erlebach and his wife plan to remain in the community doing volunteer work and traveling.

Erlebach said that the school board had requested he stay on briefly after his contract expires on June 30, 2023, to help facilitate a smooth handover and he has agreed.

"I just want to make sure that the district is in good hands when I leave, a successful transition is very important to me," Erlebach said.

The search for Erlebach's successor is being led by Tyrer and Administrative Assistant Kathie Sellars.

In the search, the board is soliciting feedback from both district staff and community members to find the right candidate.

"We are looking for the best candidate and the best fit for this district," Tyrer said. "We want to make sure we go into this well-informed of what all areas of the population want to see in a superintendent."

The first step in gathering input was a recent online survey to gauge the qualities community members would like a new superintendent to possess.

More than 300 responses were collected. They identified integrity, honesty, cultural competency, respect of diversity, communication skills and appreciation of students as some of the top qualities community members want prioritized in the hiring process.

The next step in the recruitment is forming a screening committee with 11 or 12 members to help the board in the recruitment process.

Two thirds of the screening committee will be district staff while the remainder will be community members. Invitations have been sent out and the district will announce the committee's membership when responses have been received.

Paul Erlebach has ran the NKN School District for the past 11 years. He retires in June 2023 and the school board is beginning a search for a new district leader.

This committee and the school board will review applications and decide which applicants to interview before jointly interviewing those selected.

The final hiring decision will be made by the board after soliciting feedback from the public, district staff and Erlebach.

"We have a good group of board members and they're approaching this process in a very thoughtful, organized and transparent manner," Sellars said.

Tyrer and Sellars said that they plan to begin advertising the pending job vacancy before the end of the year. The district will offer an annual salary between $140,000 and $160,000 plus benefits to the new superintendent.

They said that they will consider all applicants who have the relevant certificates and qualifications.

"There's a good process in place and we have a lot of faith in it," Tyrer said. "We believe we'll get the results that we want."

Manzanita Planning Commission approves Steeplejack Brewing proposal

Will Chappell
Citizen Reporter

The Manzanita Planning Commission approved a new two-building development by Steeplejack Brewing on Laneda Avenue in two separate votes across their September and October meetings.

Architectural rendering of Steeplejack Brewing showing the outside seating.

The lot at 220 Laneda Ave. belongs to Harder Coastal Holdings and will feature a restaurant and taproom in one building and three hotel rooms above an arcade in a second.

Following the approval, City Manager Leila Aman said that she has received calls from residents concerned about the development's impact on downtown parking.

"It's clearly evoking some intense feelings from community members," Aman said.

However, she said that as city manager and planning manager she can only require the development include parking spaces called for by the city code.

The new building will take the spot of a house that has long sat abandoned on Laneda, being used for a burn exercise by the fire department at one point.

Steeplejack Brewing was started by college roommates Brody Day and Dustin Harder in 2019.

Their first location opened in a converted church in Northeast Portland. They have since opened another in West Portland and a production facility in Hillsboro whence they distribute beer across Oregon and Washington.

"Dustin and I love Manzanita and we're committed to preserving it just as it is," Day said. "Our project is specifically designed to enhance the community feel and small-town charm that Manzanita has."

The Manzanita location, which Steeplejack is developing in conjunction with Harder, will not be home to any production facilities, only food and beverage service.

The other half of the project will contain an arcade below three hotel rooms in a separate building.

Day and Harder envision the arcade housing several pinball machines and standup video game cabinets as well as frozen yogurt or ice cream with a toppings bar.

Day said that they hope to offer a gathering place for the community and said they want to be good neighbors.

"If you look at our projects, we have a long track record of developing with community in mind," Day said.

While three on-site spaces are included for the hotel, with two more designated for its use nearby, the arcade and restaurant will rely on street parking, raising concerns from some in the community.

However, the plan is in compliance with the city's code which only requires commercial developments add off-street parking if they exceed 5,000 square-feet in size, which this one does not.

"Our job is to evaluate applications based on the code we have," Aman said, "and that's what we did."

She said that she was happy to discuss residents' concerns about downtown parking but that she could not set policy for the city.

Aman pointed out that the city government along with those of Wheeler and Nehalem is in the process of developing a new, combined Transportation System Plan that will address the needs of the three in conjunction.

The new TSP has been in development by Fehr and Peers and will be submitted to the cities' governments before the end of the year. It will then be brought before the three city councils in January to begin final review and adoption, which should take around six months.

Aman said that increasing signs to help visitors find currently underutilized lots, adding time restrictions or paid parking in downtown, and increasing bike parking are several potential solutions to help alleviate residents' parking concerns.

She reiterated that as city manager she was not in charge of making those decisions or setting priorities and that she follows the city council's guidance when implementing policy.

"If the city council sees this as being a priority and concern, we can address it," Aman said.

For their part, Day and Harder remain focused on bringing a new space to Manzanita for residents to enjoy. Harder has a home in town and Day said that he was looking forward to having a place to hang out at his favorite place on the coast.

Steeplejack hopes to break ground in the spring of 2023 with an opening date in 2024.

"We're really excited about being part of the community," Day said.

personnel, well-maintained utilities and a forthcoming Oregon Department of Transportation project upgrading Highway 101 through the city as signal accomplishments of his first term in office.

Tillamook Mayor Aaron Burris and Bay City Mayor David McCall ran unopposed for reelection.

The measure to incorporate the community of Oceanside as a city failed by an almost twenty-point margin. The measure to increase the gas tax in the City of Tillamook was rejected by voters as well, with 60% opposing.

Psilocybin related businesses will temporarily be banned from the cities of Tillamook and Nehalem as well as unincorporated Tillamook County, while voters in Wheeler appear set to welcome the businesses by a margin of 123 votes to 113.

In the Second Council Ward Rebecca Hopkins held off a challenge to retain her seat.

Garibaldi's City Council will be welcoming two new members after Linda Bade and Norman "Bud" Shattuck garnered the highest vote totals for two at-large openings.

In Rockaway Beach, Terry Walhood will yield her seat to Cindy Kay Gregory, after losing a reelection bid.

Wheeler voters chose Karen Matthews, Deanne Ragnell and Dave Bell as at-large councilors to serve four-year terms.

Nehalem residents will be represented by Hillary Howell, Sandi Huntley and Dave Cram in positions one, two and three on the city council, respectively.

In Manzanita Brad May-erle and Linda Kozlowski were elected to the council, edging out Mark Kuestner by less than two dozen votes for the two available, at-large openings.

The final unofficial tally also included updated results on statewide races.

After polling somewhat well in early returns, Democratic Governor-elect Tina Kotek, ended up with just over 36% of the vote in Tillamook County.

Republican nominee, Christine Drazan, received 45% of votes cast in the county, while independent candidate Betsy Johnson garnered nearly 18%, more than double the percentage of voters who supporter her statewide.

Democrat Suzanne Bonamici will represent Tillamook in the House of Representatives thanks to re-districting starting in January. Bonamici beat Republican challenger Christopher Mann by more than 35 percentage points to retain her seat, although Tillamook County preferred Mann by a three-point margin.

Incumbent Democratic Senator Ron Wyden also easily won reelection to Washington, beating Republican Jo Rae Perkins by 16-percentage points.

Democrats retained control of both houses of the Oregon state legislature in Salem, but Tillamook will be represented by two Republicans.

Suzanne Weber will be the new State Senator for the 16th District representing Tillamook, after defeating Democrat Melissa Busch. Weber was previously Tillamook's State House Representative.

In the race to replace Weber, Republican Cyrus Javadi narrowly edged out Democrat Logan Laity, winning by just over two percentage points.

After trailing on election night, Measure 111 guaranteeing affordable access to healthcare for Oregonians pulled ahead thanks to late voters, winning by just over 1%.

Measure 114 had a similarly tight margin, but will pass, meaning Oregonians will need a permit to carry a handgun in the state and certain high-capacity magazines will be banned.

Measure 112 passed by a much more comfortable, double-digit margin and will remove slavery and involuntary servitude as criminal punishments in the state's constitution.

The most popular of the proposed measures was Measure 113, which passed with a staggering 68% of the vote. Going forward, it will disqualify Salem legislators who miss more than ten sessions without an excuse from holding office in the next term.

Winter Term Registration is open at Tillamook Bay Community College

Registration is now open for winter term classes at Tillamook Bay Community College (TBCC). Just in time to usher in the new year, winter term begins on January 9.

TBCC offers classes in person, online, through Zoom, and a combination of different modalities. Start your career in healthcare, industrial manufacturing, criminal justice, business, and more. With scholarships available for any type of student, there is no end to the opportunity at TBCC.

This winter, TBCC is offering the Strong Start scholarship. This scholarship is available to any first-term student. Not only is this a tuition scholarship, but it will also cover course fees and any required textbooks for a group of courses that students need to be successful in college.

Interested in non-credit classes to continue your learning? TBCC has many Community Education courses available this term, from photography to genealogy, because education is for everyone. Don't miss your chance to discover a new interest or learn more about your passions.

First-time students at TBCC will need to complete an admissions application and attend a student orientation session before registering for classes. You can get started online at www.tillamookbaycc.edu/admissions-registration, or by contacting the Student Services team at studentservices@tillamookbaycc.edu. Students who have recently taken classes at TBCC can register online after speaking with their Success Coach.

TBCC does not require SAT or PSAT scores to enroll. They are an open-admission college, which means all students are welcome to attend. Your placement in classes is determined by multiple measures.

A schedule of credit courses and non-credit community education classes offered throughout the term is available on the TBCC website, tillamookbaycc.edu. If you need assistance, please contact Student Services at 503-842-8222 ext. 1100.

anger and concern over what they saw as an example of government overreach.

They said that between federal and state regulators and business licensing required by cities in the county, they were already well-regulated and assessed a plethora of fees.

The general sentiment was that the county government was primarily concerned with revenue generation but that the proposed licensing fee was poorly written and left room for abuse.

Communism was mentioned by several public commenters and some expressed disappointment with the commissioners for proposing such legislation.

Several went so far as to say that they would not comply with the ordinance if enacted.

In response to the outpouring of discontentment, the commissioners all expressed their desire to assuage the public's concerns.

Commissioner Mary Faith Bell suggested a working group be formed with business owners to investigate the issue further and devise a better proposal and volunteered to participate in the working group.

Commissioners Erin Skaar and Yamamoto quickly accepted the offer and Yamamoto canceled a second public hearing on the ordinance, which had been scheduled for December 13.

OBITUARIES

Robert Donald Dietsche
July 5, 1937 ~ Oct. 3, 2022

Bob Dietsche, aged 85, passed away at his home in Manzanita, Oregon, on October 3, 2022. Bob, co-founder of Django Records, a local jazz radio host and celebrated author, was born to JD and Myrtle Dietsche in Niles, Ohio, on July 5th, 1937.

His family moved to Toledo, Ohio, where he attended school and graduated from DeVilbiss High School in 1955. In 1956 His family moved to Cheney, Washington where his father was the manager of the Nabisco Flour Mill. Bob attended Eastern Washington State College for two years, then transferred with a tennis scholarship to Oregon State University before transferring again to the University of Oregon. He was a member of the Beta Theta Pi Fraternity and graduated in 1961 with a degree in Education. During his time at Eastern Washington, he joined the Air National Guard and was honorably discharged in 1964.

After graduation, Bob travelled in Europe and on his return married his college girlfriend, Susan Lathrop in Portland, Oregon. The next year, 1963, his son Donald Thomas Dietsche was born. Bob began his teaching career as an English teacher, first at Beaverton High School and then at Oregon City High School. In 1969, he earned his Master's degree in Liberal Studies at Reed College.

Jazz was his passion. At the University of Oregon, he was the drummer in the Pete Mortensen Trio and an avid record collector. In 1973 he and his friend Don Anderson opened the first used record store in Portland, Django Records, which developed into an important and popular venue for both jazz collectors and indie rock fans. He sold the store in 1999. During this period, Bob taught Jazz History classes at most of the colleges in the Metro area and was a jazz DJ at several local radio stations, including KMHD, KBOO, and OBP where he hosted his show Jazzville.

Bob was the author of two books: Jumptown, The Golden Years of Portland Jazz, 1942-1957, which won the Bill McClendon award for Excellence in jazz, and Tatum's Town, The story of Jazz In Toledo, Ohio, 1915-1985, which won an ARSC award for Excellence in research of historical recorded sound.

Always a tennis fan, Bob was a member of the Irvington Tennis Club and the Portland Athletic Club. At fifty, he won the Oregon State Senior Men's Singles Title two years in a row and the Grand Prix (Northwest Senior Men's) Singles Title. In 1986 he coached the Oregon Episcopal School girls' tennis team, winning the state championships. That same year he was a live tennis commentator for the Portland Panthers, a franchise of Team Tennis.

Bob is survived by his sister, Karen Ford, Susan, his wife of 60 years, and his son Donald (Aileen Wilson), and two grandchildren Ewan and Isla Dietsche, his brother and sister-in-law, Tom and Bonnie Lathrop, and seven nieces and nephews.

A Celebration of Life will be held at a time and place to be determined. Please contact dondietche@gmail.com for information.

December means hoops action at area schools

Will Chappell
Headlight Reporter

December has begun, signaling the beginning of basketball season in Tillamook County.

Across the county, coaches are aiming for playoff appearances and are optimistic about their squads' prospects.

Last season, the Tillamook High boys' basketball team made the play-in round of the state tournament before falling to Corbett on the road.

Following the departure of senior captains Marshall Allen and Aiden Johnson along with five other rotation players, the Mooks are looking for several returning players to step into bigger roles.

Assistant Coach Greg Werner said that the staff will be looking for Judah Werner, Zeyon Hurliman and Tanner Hoskins to mature into leadership roles this year.

The Cowapa League is set to be tough, with Scappoose and St. Helens reclassifying from 5A this year, and Seaside and Astoria amid strong runs.

Werner said that the Mooks will rely on a great work ethic and team first mindset to vie for a league title and play as late into the season as possible.

The girls' basketball team in Tillamook will be led by seniors Tori Pesterfield and Gabi Garcia. Head Coach Trent Meyer said that the team will "outrun, out hustle and be tougher than any other team out there."

In Nestucca, Head Coach Justin Hartford is returning to the Bobcats boys' team after a season away because of Covid.

He expects seniors Cody Hagerty and Diego Ponce to lead the way for Nestucca as they push for a league title.

Hartford said that playing team basketball and not being selfish would be keys for the Bobcats to do so and said that having fun and competing were goals for the team.

Hartford expects Knappa, Mannahouse Christian and Faith Bible to be top contenders in the league.

The lady Bobcats will look to build on strong finishes in the last few seasons as a springboard to making the playoffs this year.

The group has fallen just short of the playoffs the last two seasons, finishing third in their league.

But with the league expanding this year and set to send three teams to the state tournament, Head Coach Tevin Gianella is bullish on the Bobcats' chances.

Gianella said that with a short rotation, staying out of foul trouble would be crucial for Nestucca and they will continue their fast-paced, run-and-gun style of play.

Hayley Knight, a junior, made second team all-league last season after receiving honorable mention as a freshman and Gianella is looking for her to take another step forward.

He also expects senior Wendy Hurliman and juniors Makayla Weber and Kyla Hurliman to stand out for the team, which has set a goal of making it to Pendleton for the first time since 2009.

Neah-Kah-Nie has left Nestucca's league following a reclassification to 3A, and Head Coach Corey Douma said the transition will present stiff challenges to the Pirates girls basketball team.

Last year the squad went 12-10, a respectable mark in a season hampered by Covid.

Three seniors departed, but the team will be counting on returners Bella Hamman, Ashlynn Lawrence, Kennedy Fletcher, Rose Koch and Kailynn Stinnett to lift the team.

Douma said that the program's has seen increased participation and will field a junior varsity squad for the first time in several years. He looks forward to learning, growing and competing every day.

Banks and Corbett were both moved to the 3A classification after qualifying for the 4A tournament last year and Douma expects them to be near the top of the league standings.

Pirate boys basketball Head Coach Erick White also expects new arrivals Banks and Corbett to pose stiff competition in the league.

Last season, Neah-Kah-Nie went 8-10 overall and is looking to take a step forward with leadership from Captains Eddie Loza and Espen White, both of whom started last season.

White said that teamwork and being in-tune would be key for the Pirates, who he expects to be undersized in many league matchups.

Neah-Kah-Nie will start their season against Gaston and Nestucca on the road this week before their home opener on Friday against Kennedy.

The Nestucca girls' team started the season off strong with a 48-29 win at Waldport. The boys' team kicked off the season with a 43-35 loss against Delphian at home on November 30.

They will host Neah-Kah-Nie on Tuesday before a road matchup at Willamina on Friday.

The Cheesemakers begin their season in Banks on Tuesday before a home matchup with Valley Catholic on Friday.

Area schools notch good fall sports seasons

Will Chappell
Headlight Reporter

Tillamook County high schools had highly successful sports seasons this fall, with five teams qualifying for state tournaments while dozens of players across the county won awards for their individual performances.

Tillamook High School's volleyball and football team won league titles as did Nestucca's football team, while the Cheesemaker boys' soccer and Bobcat volleyball teams also advanced to their state tournaments.

The Cheesemaker volleyball team went 16-6 during the regular season and won a first-round playoff matchup at home against Hidden Valley before falling to Baker and Cook County in the tournament held in Springfield.

Defensive specialist and setter Kate Klobas was named the Cowapa League Player of the Year while Mooks' Head Coach Lavonne Rawe was recognized as the league's Coach of the Year.

Klobas also earned a place on the all-league team where she was joined by teammates Dannika Goss, Emily Skaar and Maritza Nieves. Cheesemakers Lexie Graves and Malli Lewis received honorable mention.

The Cheesemaker football team had one of the best seasons in program history, going 10-3 and advancing to the final of the state tournament, before losing to Estacada.

Wide receiver Zeyon Hurliman was recognized as Cowapa League Offensive Player of the Year and Co-Punter of the Year and was named to the all-league offensive team.

Quarterback Tanner Hoskins, running back Judah Werner and linemen Ken Lopez and Austin Berry-Killian joined Hurliman on the all-league offensive team and Hoskins was also named Co-Kicker of the Year.

On the defensive side of the ball, lineman Sam Diaz, linebacker Gilbert Whitlatch and defensive backs Tyler Moncrief, Parker Mckibbin and Garrison Gunder were all selected for the all-league defense team.

Defensive back Baird Hagerty was named to the all-league second team and backup quarterback Seth Wehinger and defensive back Eligio Maciel were noted for honorable mention.

Cheesemaker Head Coach Kye Johnson was named Co-Coach of the Year in the Cowapa League in his eighth season at the helm in Tillamook.

Sam Diaz was honored as Tillamook's player of the game in the championship game after notching 5 tackles and 12 assists.

Nestucca's football team also had a strong year, going 6-2 in the regular season and winning the Special District One League Championship before coming up just short against Umatilla in the first round of the playoffs.

Andres Sandoval was selected defensive lineman of the year while Cody Hagerty was named both offensive and defensive back of the year and placed on the first team all-league for his performance on both sides of the ball.

Offensive linemen Cooper Holloway and Dylan Prock, linebacker Bronson Gaine, Punter Diego Ponce and kicker Draven Marsh were all named to the first team all-league as well.

Seven Bobcats were named to the second team all-league: offensive linemen Ponce and Chris Ehly, running back Bernardo Zamudio, defensive linemen Dylan Prock and Aiden Sifford, linebacker Eli Love and defensive back Zac Collins. Honorable mention went to Gaine for his work at running back.

Nestucca's volleyball team went 14-7 on the season, coming in second place in the Northwest League and qualifying for the playoffs before losing in the first round at Stanfield.

Outside hitter Kyla Hurliman and setter Rachel Gregory both made first team all-league, Abby Love made second, Hanna Geil third, and Taylor Knight received honorable mention.

Bobcat runners had a strong season in cross country, with Micah Rigg placing 21st in the state in the combined 1A/2A/3A field and making first team all-league. Kerrin Higdon and Betsy Mondragon also both garnered first team all-league honors.

Tillamook High's boys' soccer team was another tournament qualifier from the county, going 10-4-1 on the season and finishing second in the Cowapa League before losing to eventual state champion Ontario in a first-round road matchup.

Cheesemaker midfielders Carter and Cole Affolter, and Elliot Lee, defender Ryan Mizee and striker Diego Baragon Lara all got All Cowapa League nods. Brayan Hernandez and Christian Cordova Vega received honorable mention.

The Tillamook girls' soccer team struggled through a 1-11-1 season, but junior defender Areli Velazquez Villa shone and was named to the all-league team.

At Neah-Kah-Nie High School, cross country runners Izabella "Bella" Hamann and Madison Graham were given all-league honorable mention in the Coastal Range League.

Recapping the Mooks historic football season

Will Chappell
Headlight Reporter

The Tillamook Cheesemaker football team matched the best season in program history, going 10-3, winning a Cowapa League title and advancing to the state championship game.

The season was marked by a many-pronged rushing attack, imposing defense and a Mooks' team that thrived in harsh weather conditions.

Coming into the season, the Cheesemakers faced the prospect of seven road games to start the season as Doc Adams field in Tillamook underwent a $2.3 million renovation.

Entering his eighth season as head coach, Kye Johnson knew that the Cheesemakers were ready to build on a run of recent success after struggling in his first seasons as head coach.

"Eight years ago, when I got to Tillamook the Cheesemakers were down and out," Johnson said. "It was tough to find .500 seasons, but we just kept getting better and better every year."

Before this season, the Mooks had made the Oregon School Activities Association Division 4A playoffs in three of the past four years and advanced as far as the quarterfinals in 2019.

But in 2022 Tillamook stumbled coming out of the gate, losing its first two games.

In Marshfield in week one the Cheesemakers lost a nailbiter 15-14 as Zeyon Hurliman hauled in two touchdown receptions.

Week two saw the Mooks suffer another close loss, falling 20-12 against former Cowapa League rival Banks whose defense forced three turnovers in the game.

The Mooks season turned the corner in week three when they visited Woodburn. Quarterback Tanner Hoskins had a huge night rushing for two touchdowns and chipping in another passing to Hurliman, with Gilbert Whitlatch giving the Mooks another on the ground.

Ordinance #88, the EDC, and the death of economic freedom by unelected bureaucrats

Over the last three years many of us were shocked into awareness of the heavy-handedness of unelected officials from such bureaucracies as the CDC, the NIH, and the Oregon Health Authority. This last week it became apparent that our local government is willing subvert our free market economy under a small council with 2 employees. On November 30th, the Tillamook County Commissioners held a public hearing on Ordinance #88 Business License Fee for Unincorporated Tillamook County. This new fee for businesses outside of cities in the county was so vague in its language that it included definitions such as “‘Doing business’ means to engage in any activity in pursuit of profit, gain, livelihood or any other purpose [emphasis mine].” Worse still was the “Violations and Penalties” section of this ordinance included a “$600.00 for any one offense. . . Each day constituting a separate offence” and “Inspection and Right of Entry.” This means that individuals with home-based businesses believed to be in noncompliance could be forcibly entered by a warrant: Selling firewood or eggs without a license would become a risky business. Why did the Board of Commissioners consider a hearing on this ordinance? That will have to be answered by the commissioners, but specifically Commissioner Bell. Commissioner Bell sits on the Economic Development Committee of Tillamook County that recommended this ordinance. Reviewing the minutes of the EDCTC back to 2020 reveals Commissioner Bell had primary role in the formation of this ordinance. Bell did not work alone. Bill Sargent, County Counsel, stated during the public hearing that past commissioners refused to hold a hearing for this ordinance. How long has this ordinance been under consideration? That is unclear at this time, due to the amount of documentation that must be obtained and sorted through.

What is clear is that in September 2020 Terre Cooper, EDCTC Director, presented this ordinance to the EDCTC Board for drafting. Why all the concern about private individuals pursuing economic freedom through various means, many of which are already under multiple state and federal regulatory bodies? Why did Ordinance #88 give the EDCTC the ability to raise fees at any time and be solely responsible for approving licenses and violation fees? How much does the EDCTC need beyond its multiple grants and their $108,000 county budget? According to their website most of their accomplishments include sitting on other bureaucratic boards throughout the county and state and administering small business grants. So young men selling firewood and families selling a litter of puppies in a year need to fund EDCTC staff attendance of Zoom meetings? Democracy may die in darkness, but economic security dies under the bureaucracy of unelected administrators. The response from the citizenry was sufficient to lay

Travel to Iceland next Summer with the Tillamook Chamber

Justin Aufdermauer
Executive Director

Next August the Tillamook Chamber is excited to host a 6-day trip to Iceland to explore the rugged scenery full of glaciers, waterfalls, volcanoes and mountains painted with striking color patterns. If you’ve heard Iceland is “other worldly” then now is your chance to see it for yourself! During our trip we will enjoy four nights in hand-picked hotels, and four sightseeing tours with expert, local tour guides. We will spend our first full day in historic Reykjavik, often called “the greenest city on Earth” and visit its Old Town Center, Parliament House, and modern City Hall among other stops. Then, after getting a feel for city life we will head out to the Golden Circle, a ring of some of Iceland’s most magnificent natural wonders - including one of the most powerful waterfalls in Europe. During our second day exploring the natural beauty of the area we will also be treated to lunch at Fridheimar Farm, where fresh produce is grown in a greenhouse heated by geothermal energy. If that wasn’t enough, the third day we will embark on an excursion to the South Coast to enjoy views of lush farmland, striking waterfalls, beaches, glaciers, and picturesque villages. We will have the opportunity to stand behind the impressive Seljalandsfoss waterfall, view the majestic Eyjafjallajökull volcano, marvel at the beauty of the Sólheimajökull glacier, and walk on the black sands of the South Coast. There is a lot to cover in only six days, but we have had several requests from community members for a shorter trip and Iceland was the perfect-sized destination to accommodate those requests. We also aimed for late summer so that parents and school staff who are normally so busy have an opportunity to join us for the first time. Not to mention the weather in August is supposed to be the best all year round! If you’re ready to go, you can receive $100 off your trip when you book in the next 30 days. You can book online at www.grouptoursite.com/tours/icelandchamber or by calling 1-800-438-7672 and using our tour reference number: 70131970. Or, if you still need to talk it over come see me at the Chamber HQ and we can go over the details together. We will also be hosting an informational meeting at the Chamber on December 20th at 5:30 pm for interested travelers.

Ordinance #88 to rest temporarily, but it needs to be given a proper burial at sea. Forget a threatening China, communism just came to Tillamook County from the office of an administrator paid by us, rented from our community college.

More on Ordinance #88

Have you heard about Ordinance 88? The Economic Development Council with the support of the Tillamook County Commissioners have proposed Ordinance 88: The Business License Fee for Unincorporated Tillamook County. This would require all new businesses & existing businesses in the county to first apply to continue to operate their business. This includes Farms, anyone operating under an MLM business (such as Avon, Scentsy, Plexus, etc.) and even garage sales if they last more than three days or are held more than five times in a year. Minors are exempt thankfully. If your application is approved a yearly fee of $75, $150 or $300 will be imposed depending on how many people you employ. If you own multiple businesses in the same building each business will require it’s own business license. Non-profits, businesses that are exempt by state or federal constitution and businesses exempt from property tax will not be required to pay the fee. If your business license application is rejected, suspended, revoked or you didn’t obtain one and you are found to be operating your business you are facing fines of up to $600 per day of non compliance, an investigation will be opened up and if you refuse to let them enter your business including home business a search warrant may be issued to gain right of entry. Our county commissioners are stating that Ordinance 88 is absolutely necessary for public health, safety and general welfare due to an existing emergency. What is this existing emergency? Well we don’t know, they haven’t told us. What we do know is that we are no longer under a state of emergency due to COVID because that was allowed to expire. Where will the money go you may ask. Well to put it plainly it will go into a slush fund for the Economic Development Council to spend as they see fit. Why do they feel entitled to your hard earned money and why should you have to apply to earn a living? I urge you please contact our county commissioners and tell them you want Ordinance 88 to die and never resurface. Also please take a moment to look at who is on the board for the Economic Development Council.

A universal perspective

There’s a day when we’re born and a day when we die. And we might as well laugh about it... as to cry. We come from oblivion... briefly entering the light. Just her for a second ... then we re-enter the night. But night and day... from a deep space perspective, are on in the same... our reality is elective. We know so little ... So much is subjective. Billions of galaxies ... incomprehensibly far... 70 years at the speed of light... just to our next star. Trying to comprehend ... we know not how... embracing the concept of time... universally... the time is now. We title our concepts, like “the speed of light” ... but there’s something even faster... that’s the speed of night. You see, the dark is everywhere ... only punctuated by light. For the universe to exist is too miraculous to ignore ... with God all this are possible... the proof, obvious ... who would need more?

What fun to run into Louise “Weezie” and Mike Watkins the other day! They were wrapping up a quick weekend visit to their old place on the corner of 4th St. NW and Pacific Ave. here in Cape Meares. I found out that they had sold that home to a niece and her husband back in January. Now, Weezie told me, they will have relaxing visits, with no homeowner responsibilities. Brilliant!

Fabulous football! The Ducks vs. the Beavers (cheering sections about equally divided in our family) delivered an exciting game, with the Beavs coming from behind and nixing the Ducks’ chance to play for the Pac 12 championship. Later that day, Tillamook High School played Estacada for the State Class 4A Football Division Championship, only the second time the Mooks have had that honor (the first was in 1977). A huge hometown crowd traveled to Hillsboro to cheer on their Cheesemakers while others, such as the Steens and the Smiths, listened to the game on local radio station KTIL. The Mooks were game, but Estacada dominated the time of possession and won the championship. THS took home the second-place trophy to put in their trophy case; something to be proud of! This was Tillamook’s best football team in 45 years. Congrats to all Mook players, coaches and fans.

Capt. Pete and I made a run up to Wheeler the other day. We had a malfunctioning lamp that we just couldn’t figure out how to fix, so we took advantage of the Repair Café at Heart of Cartm that we had been reading about over the past year. On the second Saturday of the month, from 3-5 p.m., experienced repair people man tables in the shop’s work room. From lamps and mixers to jewelry and clothing, these wizards repair or patch your beloved but broken items, with an objective of keeping your things out of the landfill. Originally the operators of the recycling transfer station in Manzanita, Cartm has transformed itself under the leadership of Executive Director Jessi Just into this new endeavor in Wheeler. There is an interesting little thrift store as well as a workshop hosting classes and the Repair Café event. Heart of Cartm has a good success rate with repairs, fixing a dozen or more objects at each session and asking only for donations. We certainly were satisfied, going home with a working swing-arm lamp. Just go to their website, heartofcartm.org, to register for the next Repair Café and to read more about this wonderful, earth-friendly nonprofit organization.

It’s a daily occurrence. A car wanders about Cape Meares, with a driver and passengers looking lost...you can bet money that they are searching for the lighthouse! The last car we directed had a Utah license plate. Yes, Google sends them right here to our village...but they can’t get through to the lighthouse from here. Another reason to look forward to the Cape Meares Loop Road project being completed, which will once again route folks from the lake on up to the lighthouse. We can’t wait!

It was good to hear from Ron Watson; he has some great ideas for Fencepost readers. “Linda Watson and I would like to go see the Christmas lights on residences in Tillamook County. Perhaps,...[folks could} turn them on to light up dreary mornings for school bus riders. Perhaps some group could add a strand of LED lights (interior or exterior) to the house of a senior citizen or disabled veteran and give them $25 to cover the electric bill increase. I think the elderly would be pleased to have their house add to the holiday spirit.”

The Riverbend Players extend what has become a beloved holiday tradition this year, with their fifth annual performance of “It’s A Wonderful Life,” December 9-11, at the North Coast Recreation District in Nehalem.

The Joe Landry adaptation of the classic Frank Capra film is staged as a radio play, which adds the excitement of live sound effects created on stage to the comedy, drama, and pathos of this story. For a small theater group such as the Riverbend Players, the radio-play format also allows them to bring in new talent without the apprehension that many people have around memorizing lines. It’s a great way to help newcomers experience the magic of creating emotions out of thin air.

This year, Riverbend has added students from Nehalem Elementary School to the cast. Fans of the movie know that the early scenes involve young George Bailey, as well as his schoolmates Mary Hatch and Violet Bick. In the past, these roles have typically been played by the same actors cast in the adult roles, pitching their voices higher to represent the youth of their characters.

Instead, audiences will have the opportunity to meet ten-year-old Oliver Finch Arnold, who plays young George and his brother, Harry Bailey. Oliver will be joined by Chloe Ward, who has previous stage experience with the Missoula Children’s Theater. Chloe plays young Mary Hatch and Tommy. A third elementary student, Annabelle Davis, joins the cast in the roles of Pete, Ruth Bailey, and young Harry. (You might have seen Annabelle at Kelly’s Marina, as her parents are the new owners.)

This highlights another way that the radio-play format offers opportunities to performers: each actor can take on multiple roles, which encourages them to explore the differences in character, motivation, and emotional content of the parts they play.

ROCKAWAY BEACH
sfisher71@yahoo.com

Other performers include several newcomers to The Riverbend Players, as well as a few veterans. Tom Mattia, after taking theater courses at the University of Texas before a busy career, takes on five roles including Mr. Martini and Ernie the cab driver. (Fun fact: the roles of Bert the cop and Ernie the cab driver from the 1946 film inspired the Sesame Street characters Bert and Ernie.) He is joined by Bonnie Rames, who after three decades in the travel and tourism industry has returned to the stage, drawing on high-school theater experience. One of her roles is Mrs. Hatch, the mother of Mary Hatch who becomes Mary Bailey during the course of the play.

The key roles of George and Mary are played by actors familiar to audiences: Bryan Church and Julee Ward. Bryan made his Riverbend debut as Mortimer Brewster in last spring’s production of “Arsenic and Old Lace,” where he captured the manic hilarity of the character brought to life by Cary Grant in the film. Bryan also ran the sound booth for last October’s “Dracula!”

Julee entranced audiences in her Riverbend debut as Anelle in “Steel Magnolias,” and more recently as Elaine Harper in “Arsenic and Old Lace.” One nice touch to her role here as Mary Bailey: her daughter Chloe is playing the young Mary. Julee also has the pleasure of playing her own rival for the affections of George: Violet Bick, played so memorably by Gloria Grahame in the film.

Following up on the success of “Arsenic,” Frank Squillo (familiar to fans of Wanda’s Cafe in Nehalem) returns both as director and as a performer. Frank brings his talent to the roles of Mr. Gower, the druggist, and Mr. Potter, the Scrooge-like villain of the piece. He is joined by his husband, Patrick Conner, who takes on multiple roles including Uncle Billy, who sets off the financial crisis around which the play’s climax revolves. And I can take a moment here to correct an omission in my review of “Arsenic,” and note that Patrick was the set designer for the Brewster residence in that play.

“It’s A Wonderful Life” runs for three performances: Friday and Saturday, December 9 and 10, at 7 PM and a Sunday matinee at 2 PM. All performances will be at the NCRD Performing Arts Center, 36155 9th St, Nehalem, OR.

GARDENING MATTERS

Gardeners’ gift guide part 1

As always, my December columns will be some ideas for gifts for the gardeners on your Christmas list. They are my favorite columns to write in a year as I like finding new things to suggest.

A gardening friend suggested a couple of gifts to include in this year’s guide. One was a set of garden markers that she found through Gardeners’ Supply (gardeners.com). When I checked them out, there were a wide variety of sizes and material choices as well as price ranges. For example, the tall zinc-coated ones were $22 for a set of 25. Small copper ones were 10 for $15. Slate markers were on sale for $15 for a set of 12. So you could find a size and look for even the pickiest gardener. They might be fun to use as package tags, too, especially the ones you can wipe off and reuse.

The Gardeners’ Supply home page had a whole feature on providing shelter

GARDENING MATTERS
CARLA ALBRIGHT

and respite for our pollinators which I thought was great since pollinators are so important in our gardens. Bee and butterfly habitats, bird feeders and bird baths, and even bird houses can be found here. Lots of good ideas as well as gifts. There is a pollinator protection page in their Force for Good section in the subcategory “Causes We Believe In.” Lots of helpful information there. Gardeners’ Supply also has a wide array of sets for starting seeds, including grow lights and shelves. I saw in their “new” section a very cool wooden bamboo basket that can be inverted to be a garden stool. This one was a little pricey at $70, but worth it for that special gardener. It’s pretty, too.

There are other companies that carry gardening supplies, but Gardeners’ is probably the best-known and the company I have had the best luck with. Having said that, I found a really clever – and pretty – rain gauge on Gardener’s Edge website. It is called a floating rain gauge and can be found for about $32 at https://www.gardenersedge.com/worlds-coolest-rain-gauge-24-resin/p/RRB24. There are lots of other rain gauges, though, for much less cost. It all depends on how much you are willing to spend. But I highly recommend giving a rain gauge to any Pacific Northwest Coastal gardener. Good information and fun to keep track of the amount of rain we actually get in our yards.

Now for a great gift for that special person that wants to learn more about gardening on the North Oregon Coast: the Tillamook Master Gardener classes. I heard from the incoming President Cammy Hickman that there is a deadline for applying this year of December 16, so I want to feature that in this column. The Tillamook County Master Gardener Association is back to holding in-person (or online) training starting on January 5, 2023 and running weekly until April 2nd. The location will be the OSU Extension Office at 4506 Third Street in Tillamook and will include just about everything you need to hit its stride the next week when a Saturday trip to Tonasket in Washington witnessed a 62-point explosion from the Mooks.

Running backs Judah Werner and Seth Wehinger led the way for the Cheesemakers with three and two touchdowns apiece on the ground. Landon Mitchell and Whitlatch both rushed for touchdowns as well and Hoskins threw one each to Hurliman and Logan Motsinger.

Heading into league play, Tillamook was 2-2 and trending in the right direction with both offense and defense humming.

The Cheesemakers started league play with a trip to Seaside on the Seagulls' homecoming night.

Once again, Werner led the way, rushing for two touchdowns in a 39-14 win for the Mooks. Whitlatch rushed for a touchdown and Hurliman caught two, while another came on a trick play pass from Tyler Moncrief to Garrison Gunder.

The Mooks defense stifled Seaside on the evening, holding them scoreless in the first half and taking the ball away twice behind a characteristically strong performance from lineman Sam Diaz.

In the next week's game against St. Helens, the defense once again came to play. This helped the team weather an uneven first half from the offense in which Hoskins threw an interception and lost a fumble on consecutive possessions.

Despite this the Mooks carried a 21-9 lead into the locker room before pulling away for a 49-17 final behind two touchdowns apiece from Hurliman and Whitlatch, and one each from Parker McKibbin, Moncrief and Wehinger.

Tillamook improved to 3-0 in the Cowapa League and 5-2 the next week with an easy 40-7 win against the Astoria Fighting Fishermen who were mired in a winless season.

This set up a showdown with league powerhouse Scappoose the next week with the Cowapa League title hanging in the balance.

The game marked the Mooks return to Doc Adams field for the first time on the season and took place on a windy night.

Tillamook did not lead the entire game as touchdowns from Werner and Moncrief tied the game at seven in the second quarter and again at 14 late in the fourth, sending the game to overtime.

In the extra period, a huge goal line stand by the Cheesemaker defense gave the offense the chance to win the game with a score.

When the Mooks failed to advance the ball, the game appeared headed to a second overtime, but a gust of wind gave a Hoskins field 45-yard field goal attempt just enough length to clear the crossbar, giving the Mooks the 17-14 win.

"I'm super happy for our community, super happy for our school," Johnson said after the victory, which secured a share of the Cowapa league title and playoff berth for Tillamook.

The next week the Mooks secured sole possession of the league title with a dismantling of Milwaukie, winning 56-6.

This sent the Cheesemakers into the playoffs with a 7-2 regular season record riding a seven-game win streak.

The playoff run got under way for the Cheesemakers amid an epic rainstorm blowing in off the Pacific for a rematch with the Woodburn Bulldogs.

The torrential downpours and gale-force winds severely limited both offenses, leading to five combined turnovers and only one completed pass for the Mooks.

But Tillamook found a way to advance, holding Woodburn off 12-8 behind rushing touchdowns from Hoskins and Wehinger.

The quarterfinal matchup against Gladstone took place in much fairer conditions and the Cheesemakers won handily, 28-6.

Tillamook's defense stifled the Gladiators all night and the Mooks' rushing attack was relentless, piling up four scores, with two from Werner and one each from Hoskins and Moncrief.

The win sent the Cheesemakers to the semifinal of the state tournament and a matchup with the La Grande Tigers at Barlow High School in Gresham.

On a frigid evening, the Tillamook defense had its best performance in a standout season forcing six turnovers.

The Mooks needed every one as La Grande's high-powered offense still managed to put 21 points on the board.

But four rushing touchdowns from Werner and a game-sealing interception from Moncrief sent the Cheesemakers to the state championship game with a 28-21 victory.

In the final game, the Cheesemakers met their match in the Estacada Rangers. Riding their own 11 game win streak and program-best season, the Rangers overwhelmed the Mooks behind a fearsome running attack.

In front of a 5,000 strong crowd at Hillsboro Stadium the Saturday after Thanksgiving the Cheesemakers fell to the Rangers 32-8.

Sam Diaz was honored as Tillamook's player of the game in the championship game after notching 5 tackles and 12 assists.

Even with the defeat in the championship game, the Cheesemakers equaled the best outcome in program history, matching the 1977 team that finished runner up.

Their Cowapa League title was the first league title won by Tillamook since 1999 and 10 players were named to all-league offensive and defensive first teams.

Hurliman was recognized as both the Cowapa League Offensive Player of the Year and Co-Punter of the Year; Hoskins was named Co-Kicker of the Year and Johnson Co-Coach of the Year.

Hoskins and Hurliman were joined on the all-league first teams by Diaz, McKibbin, Moncrief, Werner, Whitlatch, offensive linemen Austin Berry-Killian and Ken Lopez, and defensive back Garrison Gunder. Wehinger and defensive backs Eligio Maciel and Baird Hagerty received honorable mention.

"This means everything," Johnson said reflecting on the season after the championship game. "We were kind of the outsiders this year, we laid low, we were kind of under the radar."

But he said that this season should serve as notice that the Cheesemakers are here to stay.

Johnson repeatedly praised his coaching staff who has stayed with him throughout his tenure for helping him to build a strong program that can sustain success.

"We'll be back, I'm sure of that," Johnson said. "This is just the beginning of some really good post-season runs for the Cheesemakers."

Mudd Nick foundation holds successful fundraising event

Monica Isbell
MNF Board President

On the weekend of September 16 and 17, the Mudd Nick Foundation (MNF) held its annual charity golf tournament, auction, and dinner – for the first time in three years – in person. The golf tournament on Saturday had a great turnout of 74 golfers. Some groups played nine holes and some 18 holes. Doug Nicholson, co-founder and board member, reported that all received tee prizes and there were awards for first, second, and third place teams for nine holes and eighteen, as well as awards for longest drive, closest to the pin, and closest drive to the string in the fairway for both men and women.

One-hundred-eighty participated in the Saturday night dinner. President Monica Isbell welcomed the attendees and thanked them for their past, current, and future donations. She acknowledged the board and the dozens of volunteers who made the event possible. She also expressed gratitude for the many individuals and merchants that donated silent and live auction items. The Neah-Kah-Nie (NKN) High School choir under the steady hand of Michael Simpson, teacher and director, sang The Water is Wide, an old folk song arranged by Mr. Simpson that had a complicated harmony. Lynn Mudd, co-founder and board member, and Brad Mudd, vice president, announced that the winner of the 2022 Jim and Lynn Mudd Service to Children Award was John Isbell, who served as a board member for over a decade and, for the bulk of that time, also as treasurer. John recently shifted to Emeritus status and was unable to attend the event in person.

The audience heard presentations from three speakers. First, Cole Brown, a NKN High School senior, related some of the adventures he had as an exchange student last summer to Costa Rica in the Partners of America program that was made possible by a grant from the MNF. Rachel Lee, senior and class president, spoke about the many ways in which the MNF has impacted her life since kindergarten. Lastly, Gale Nelson, CEO of the Rinehart Clinic, let the attendees know that a sizable grant by the MNF made it possible for the new Neah-Kah-Nie Student Health & Wellness Center at the High School to serve students in District 56 and the larger community. After enjoying a gourmet dinner with a Hawaiian theme, including an entire roast pig, Doug and Brad conducted a lively oral auction.

Liz Carroll, who attended the dinner for the first time with husband Dan, shared her impressions about the MNF and the fundraising event. “It’s amazing what a few people with a great idea can accomplish. The Mudd Nick Foundation sets the example and shows us all what is possible. When Dan and I made Nehalem our full-time home, we got involved in supporting local organizations and events. We quickly realized all the good the Mudd Nick Foundation was doing for the north coast youth and, in turn, their parents by providing educational and recreational activities for school-aged children. For us, it was an easy decision to lend our support and the opportunity to attend a September Luau Fundraising Dinner sounded fun. Prior to the dinner, we stopped into the pub to check the OSU football game score. When we told the server we weren’t ordering food because we were headed to the Mudd Nick event she thanked us profusely and shared a long list of opportunities her children had received as a result of the Foundation. Then at the event, hearing the students speak about their experiences, it made offering our support an even easier decision. We look forward to next year’s event.” Another local attendee mentioned that he loved the Saturday dinner because it is one of the very few events in the area where people can dress up and make donations for a great cause.

During 2022, grants from the MNF touched the lives of over 2,100 children. Learning Experiences included Mis-soula Children’s Theatre, 4H Camp, art camps, Battle of the Books, Fire School, OMSI camps, learn to cook camps, Forest-to-Sea Camp, and the Costa Rica student exchange program, among others. In addition, the MNF continued to provide funding to the Grub Club, which furnished meals to children in North Tillamook County in the summer and other times when school wasn’t in session.

MNF is a 501(c)3. Donations are welcome throughout the year and are dedicated to enhancing the lives of children in District 56 and expanding their perspectives and opportunities. The web site is www.muddnickfoundation.com.

Don’t miss the magic of OCDC’s ‘The Nutcracker’

Capture the magic of the holiday season with Oregon Coast Dance Center’s 15th annual performance of “The Nutcracker”. Performances will be held Friday December 16th at 7:00 pm and Saturday December 17th at 2:00 pm, in the Tillamook High School Don Whitney Auditorium.

Lisa Greiner, owner of Oregon Coast Dance Center said “15 years is a lot of Nutcracker performances, and every year, after the show I think ‘how are we going to do this again and make it unique?’. Magically things always come together and shows from year to year are slightly different with new costumes, props, or dances. Rehearsals are so exciting for all of us!”

Local dancers from ages 3 to 70 will perform in this wonderful, family-friendly Christmas tradition. “The Nutcracker’s” magical story follows a young girl who falls asleep after a Christmas Eve party at her house. As she sleeps, she dreams herself into a fantastical world where her beloved Nutcracker comes to life and defends her from the Mouse King. The Nutcracker Prince takes her to his Kingdom of Sweets where she is greeted by the Sugar Plum Fairy and characters from different countries, who all perform for her.

At the end of the night, she wakes up, back at her house, and wonders if it was real...or just a dream?

These performances serve as a fundraiser for the Oregon Food Bank. Tickets are available at the door. Admission is $10/person age 13+, $5/person ages 4-12, and age 3 and under are free. Doors open at 6:30 pm on Friday December 16th and 1:30 pm on Saturday December 17th. They will not be accepting food in exchange for tickets.

Oregon Coast Dance Center has been offering dance and performing arts in Tillamook County since 1975. For more information visit www.oregon-coastdancecenter.com or call 503-842-7447.

to know to become a better gardener. When the class finishes, you (or your giftee) will be asked to volunteer for 40 hours to help others in the community. I know that sounds like a lot, but you have a year to accomplish it and it goes by faster than you think. You can volunteer at the Learning Garden, the farmers’ markets, community gardens and many other TCMGA activities. Its also a great way to meet new people with like interests; I know that from experience. Cost is $150 which includes the Sustainable Gardening Handbook. There are also several scholarships available. (Contact Sarah Ostermiller at sarahos-termiller@oregonstate.edu for more information on those.) You can also visit www.tillamookmastergardeners.com for full descriptions and a schedule of classes. There is an online application at <https://beav.es/5Ao>, or you can register your giftee in person at the Extension Office.

By the way, this is a great gift for yourself, too. But don’t forget that deadline.

I am going to do some shameless self-promotion now. I have written a new book called Four Seasons in the Pacific Northwest Coastal Garden. This book is more of a personal journey than was my first book, which was more of a guide to gardening. I spent two years working on this book, beginning during the Covid-19 lockdown when all we could do was garden. It was a journey of love and I am thrilled with the final product. Maybe your gardener will be as well. This book is filled with photos of my garden. This high-quality paperback is available from my website gardeningmatterstillamook.com. The cost is $28.95 plus $5 if I need to ship it. If you live in Tillamook County, I can also arrange to meet you to deliver a copy if you email me at gardeningmatterstillamook@gmail.com. Or you can find copies at the Garibaldi Museum.

Next time, I will find some ideas from local shops since it will be too close to Christmas for shipping.

deed reinstated by payment to the beneficiary of the entire amount then due (other than such portion of said principal as would not then be due had no default occurred), together with the costs, trustee's and attorney's fees and curing any other default complained of in the Notice of Default by tendering the performance required under the obligation or trust deed, at any time prior to five days before the date last set for the sale.In construing this, the masculine gender includes the feminine and the successor in interest to the grantor as well as any other person owing obligation, the performance of which is secured by said trust deed; the words "trustee" and "beneficiary" include their respective successors in interest, if any. Pursuant to Oregon Law, this sale will not be deemed final until the Trustee's deed has been issued by The Mortgage Law Firm, LLC. If any irregularities are discovered within 10 days of the date of this sale, the trustee will rescind the sale, return the buyer's money and take further action as necessary.If the sale is set aside for any reason, including if the trustee is unable to convey title, the Purchaser at the sale shall be entitled only to a return of the monies paid to the Trustee. This shall be the Purchaser's sole and exclusive remedy. The purchaser shall have no further recourse against the Trustor, the Trustee, the Beneficiary, the Beneficiary's Agent, or the Beneficiary's Attorney.Also, please be advised that pursuant to the terms stated on the Deed of Trust and Note, the beneficiary is allowed to conduct property inspections while there is a default. This shall serve as notice that the beneficiary shall be conducting property inspections on the referenced property. Without limiting the trustee's disclaimer of representations or warranties, Oregon law requires the trustee to state in this notice that some residential property sold at a trustee's sale may have been used in manufacturing methamphetamines, the chemical components of which are known to be toxic. Prospective purchasers of residential property should be aware of this potential danger before deciding to place a bid for this property at the trustee's sale. NOTICE TO RESIDENTIAL TENANTS The property in which you are living is in foreclosure. A foreclosure sale is scheduled for 02/22/2023 (date). The date of this sale may be postponed. Unless the lender that is foreclosing on this property is paid before the sale date, the foreclosure will go through and someone new will own this property. After the sale, the new owner is required to provide you with contact information and notice that the sale took place.The following information applies to you only if you are a bona fide tenant occupying and renting this property as a residential dwelling under a legitimate rental agreement. The information does not apply to you if you own this property or if you are not a bona fide residential tenant.If the foreclosure sale goes through, the new owner will have the right to require you to move out. Before the new owner can require you to move, the new owner must provide you with written notice that specifies the date by which you must move out. If you do not leave before the move-out date, the new owner can have the sheriff remove you from the property after a court hearing. You will receive notice of the court hearing.PROTECTION FROM EVICTION IF YOU ARE A BONA FIDE TENANT OCCUPYING AND RENTING THIS PROPERTY AS A RESIDENTIAL DWELLING, YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO CONTINUE LIVING IN THIS PROPERTY AFTER THE FORECLOSURE SALE FOR:• 60 DAYS FROM THE DATE YOU ARE GIVEN A WRITTEN TERMINATION NOTICE, IF YOU HAVE A FIXED TERM LEASE; OR• AT LEAST 30 DAYS FROM THE DATE YOU ARE GIVEN A WRITTEN TERMINATION NOTICE, IF YOU HAVE A MONTH-TO-MONTH OR WEEK-TO-WEEK RENTAL AGREEMENT.If the new owner wants to move in and use this property as a primary residence, the new owner can give you written notice and require you to move out after 30 days, even though you have a fixed term lease with more than 30 days left.You must be provided with at least 30 days' written notice after the foreclosure sale before you can be required to move.A bona fide tenant is a residential tenant who is not the borrower (property owner) or a child, spouse or parent of the borrower, and whose rental agreement:• Is the result of an arm's-length transaction;• Requires the payment of rent that is not substantially less than fair market rent for the property, unless the rent is reduced or subsidized due to a federal, state or local subsidy; and• Was entered into prior to the date of the foreclosure sale. CLOSURE SALE:RENT YOU SHOULD CONTINUE TO PAY RENT TO YOUR LANDLORD UNTIL THE PROPERTY IS SOLD OR UNTIL A COURT TELLS YOU OTHERWISE. IF YOU DO NOT PAY RENT, YOU CAN BE EVICTED. BE SURE TO KEEP PROOF OF ANY PAYMENTS YOU MAKE.SECURITY DEPOSIT You may apply your security deposit and any rent you paid in advance against the current rent you owe your landlord as provided in ORS 90.367. To do this, you must notify your landlord in writing that you want to subtract the amount of your security deposit or prepaid rent from your rent payment. You may do this only for the rent you owe your current landlord. If you do this, you must do so before the foreclosure sale. The business or individual who buys this property at the foreclosure sale is not responsible to you for any deposit or prepaid rent you paid to your landlord.ABOUT YOUR TENANCY AFTER THE FORECLOSURE SALE The new owner that buys this property at the foreclosure sale may be willing to allow you to stay as a tenant instead of requiring you to move out after 30 or 60 days. After the sale, you should receive a written notice informing you that the sale took place and giving you the new owner's name and contact information. You should contact the new owner if you would like to stay. If the new owner accepts rent from you, signs a new residential rental agreement with you or does not notify you in writing within 30 days after the date of the foreclosure sale that you must move out, the new owner becomes your new landlord and must maintain the property. Otherwise:• You do not owe rent;• The new owner is not your landlord and is not responsible for maintaining the property on your behalf; and• You must move out by the date the new owner specifies in a notice to you.The new owner may offer to pay your moving expenses and any other costs or amounts you and the new owners agree on in exchange for your agreement to leave the premises in less than 30 or 60 days. You should speak with a lawyer to fully understand your rights before making any decisions regarding your tenancy.IT IS UNLAWFUL FOR ANY PERSON TO TRY TO FORCE YOU TO LEAVE YOUR DWELLING UNIT WITHOUT FIRST GIVING YOU WRITTEN NOTICE AND GOING TO COURT TO EVICT YOU. FOR MORE INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR RIGHTS, YOU SHOULD CONSULT A LAWYER. If you believe you need legal assistance, contact the Oregon State Bar and ask for the lawyer referral service. Contact information for the Oregon State Bar is included with this notice. If you do not have enough money to pay a lawyer and are otherwise eligible, you may be able to receive legal assistance for free. Information about whom to contact for free legal assistance is included with this notice. OREGON STATE BAR, 16037 S.W. TRUSTEE'S NOTICE OF SALE T.S. No.: OR-22-942537-RM Reference is made to that certain deed made by, IAN R DOOHER as Grantor to TICOR TITLE COMPANY OF OREGON, as trustee, in favor of MORTGAGE ELECTRONIC REGISTRATION SYSTEMS INC., ("MERS") AS NOMINEE FOR CALIBER HOME LOANS, INC., ITS SUCCESSORS AND ASSIGNS, as Beneficiary, dated 11/9/2017, recorded 11/15/2017, in official records of TILLAMOOK County, Oregon in book/reel/volume No. and/or as fee/file/instrument/microfilm/reception number 2017-06911 and modified as per Modification Agreement recorded 9/20/2021 as Instrument No. 2021-07884 and subsequently assigned or transferred by operation of law to Freedom Mortgage Corporation covering the following described real property situated in said County, and State. APN: 178998 2S0910CB00600 LOT 9, REPLATTING OF MONTE VISTA, IN THE COUNTY OF TILLAMOOK, STATE OF OREGON. Commonly known as: 8250 MAGNOLIA DR, TILLAMOOK, OR 97141-8285 The undersigned hereby certifies that based upon business records there are no known written assignments of the trust deed by the trustee or by the beneficiary, except as recorded in the records of the county or counties in which the above described real property is situated. Further, no action has been instituted to recover the debt, or any part thereof, now remaining secured by the trust deed, or, if such action has been instituted, such action has been dismissed except as permitted by ORS 86.752(7). Both the beneficiary and the trustee have elected to sell the said real property to satisfy the obligations secured by said trust deed and notice has been recorded pursuant to Section 86.752(3) of Oregon Revised Statutes. There is a default by grantor or other person owing an obligation, performance of which is secured by the trust deed, or by the successor in interest, with respect to provisions therein which authorize sale in the event of such provision. The default for which foreclosure is made is grantor's failure to pay when due the following

CERTIFICATE OF READINESS (UTC R 5.100)

The proposed order or judgment is ready for judicial signature because:

1. [] Each party affected by this order or judgment has stipulated to the order or judgment, as shown by each party's signature on the document being submitted.

2. [] Each party affected by this order or judgment has approved the order or judgment, as shown by each party's signature on the document being submitted or by written confirmation of approval sent to me.

3. [] I have served a copy of this order or judgment on each party entitled to service and:

[] No objection has been served on me.

[] I received objections that I could not resolve with a party despite reasonable effort to do so. I have filed a copy of the objections I received and indicated which objections remain unresolved.

[] After conferring about objections, the objecting party agreed to independently file any remaining objection.

4. [X] Service is not required pursuant to subsection (3) of this rule, or by statute, rule, or otherwise.

5. [] The relief sought is against an opposing party who has been found in default.

6. [] An order of default is being requested with this proposed judgment.

7. [] This is a proposed judgment that includes an award of punitive damages and notice has been served on the Director of the Crime Victims' Assistance Section as required by subsection (5) of this rule.

DATED this 7th day of November, 2022.

X marks the crossroads, at which we:

Reduce the amount of waste we generate
Reuse whatever we can, giving materials another purpose in life
Recycle everything that can be truly recycled

Rethink how we approach waste, and conserve resources for future generations.

This Season Gift Responsibly
Traditions are special, many traditions this season involve gift giving. This season if you are purchasing gifts for kids make sure that the gifts are not lottery products. These products can introduce kids to gambling and can increase a child's risk of future problems with gambling. To learn how you can prevent problem gambling visit www.opgr.org.

To avoid peer pressure drinking

Create an "exit plan" to help her make good choices.

Talk with your child about what to do when faced with a difficult decision about alcohol. Come up with a plan together to avoid drinking, such as texting a code word to a family member or practicing how to say "no thanks" in a safe environment. For tips on how—and when—to begin conversation, visit www.underageddrinking.samhsa.gov.

En esta Temporada Festiva, Regala con Responsabilidad
Las tradiciones son especiales y muchas tradiciones en esta época implican hacer regalos. En esta época, si vas a comprar regalos para los niños, asegúrate de que los regalos no sean productos de lotería. Estos productos pueden introducir a los niños a las apuestas y pueden aumentar el riesgo de un niño de tener problemas con las apuestas en el futuro. Para saber cómo puedes prevenir los problemas con las apuestas, visita www.opgr.org.

Ideas de obsequios para niños:
Libro
Entrada de cine
Juego de caja
Peluche
Rompecabezas
Materiales de arte
El tratamiento para los problemas con las apuestas es gratuito y funciona:
