Health dept. reports two new COVID-19 cases, brings Tillamook County total to nine

As Tillamook enters into its third week of Phase 2 of reopening and restrictions related to the novel coronavirus, two more cases of COVID-19 are reported.

The Tillamook County Public Health Department announced Sunday, June 28, that it has been informed of the eighth and ninth positive cases of COVID-19 coronavirus in the county. The individuals are between the ages of 60-69 and 30-39 respectively.

Public health department staff is working with both individuals who remain under self-isolation at home. Contact investigation is currently ongoing. Community members with health concerns can contact the Health Center's COVID-19 nurse line at 503-842-3940.

COVID-19 is a highly infectious illness. Local and state health officials continue to urge all Oregonians to take steps to protect those who are most vulnerable to complications from COVID-19. Those considered "high risk" include adults 60 and older, or anyone with a serious health condition, including lung or heart problems, kidney disease, or diabetes, or anyone who has a suppressed immune system.

To help control the spread of the illness the public is urged to follow Oregon Gov. Kate Brown's March 23 executive order to stay home to the maximum extent possible.

Every resident should take these basic steps to protect those most at risk:

- Cover your mouth and nose when you cough or sneeze.
- Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, or mouth with unwashed hands.

- Stay home if you feel ill.

INSIDE OUT JUNE DAIRY PARADE: 'HERD' IT WAS ALL FUN

Staff

The 63rd annual June Dairy Parade was unlike any other in the long-standing history of the event.

Due to some outside-of-the-box planning by the Tillamook Chamber board and staff this year's event took on a new look, dubbed an inside out parade.

Instead of miles of floats parading through downtown Tillamook, the floats stayed in place and the spectators drove through the route, where they could enjoy the festivities from the safety of their car.

When COVID-19 restrictions began shutting down events left and right, the Tillamook Chamber of Commerce knew they would have to get innovative to keep the parade alive.

"We could have easily just folded up and said 'no parade this year' but I think it was important for the community to honor June Dairy Month and continue as much of a tradition as we could," said the Chamber's Executive Director Justin Aufdemauer.

Aufdemauer said, they had just over 400 cars drive through the parade route on June 27, which consisted of approximately 50 entries staged for three-quarters of a mile. As cars drove through in groups of 30, parade entries passed out candy, cheese, jerky and more goodies from a safe distance.

"I feel like this event was really all for the community," Aufdemauer said. "Just seeing how happy everyone was and how the entries were having a great time was really all we need to measure that it was a success."

Aufdemauer said there was a steady stream of cars all day long. "I don't think we could have had any better turn out and

COVID-19 testing in Tillamook County

What you need to know

Chelsea Yarnell
Guest Contributor

Have COVID-19 symptoms? Think you came in contact with a positive case? Need to be tested to return to work or travel?

These questions have left many people wondering, who's really eligible to be tested in Tillamook County?

COVID-19 testing at both Adventist Health locations and the Tillamook County Health Department follow the criteria outlined by Oregon Health Authority and the Center for Disease Control and Prevention. The criteria includes first consulting with a medical professional to determine if testing is necessary.

"We encourage patients who think they need testing for COVID-19 symptoms or exposure, to call our offices and make an appointment for an in-person or virtual evaluation," said Cherie Plaisted, Marketing and Communication Manager for Adventist Health. "During the call, tell the provider about your symptoms and how you think you may have been exposed to the virus."

While a healthcare provider must order the test, Adventist Health is conducting tests for patients who are required to have them by employers to return to work and when required for travel purposes.

"To keep everyone safe, anyone with COVID-19 symptoms should call their healthcare provider in advance of any visit to discuss their illness and allow the provider to prepare for your arrival," Plaisted said.

Results from the tests vary in wait time depending on availability of supplies and capacity.

"For patients with symptoms, we provide rapid point-of-care testing, also known as PCR testing," Plaisted said. "Adventist Health Tillamook uses the Abbott Rapid ID PCR test units at our clinics in Manzanita, Lincoln City, Vernonia and Estacada, as well as at our medical center here in Tillamook. Rapid ID test results are available within 20 to 40 minutes of testing. For clinics without PCR, the tests are sent to the hospital for analysis and are available within 24 hours. Test results from outside labs take an average of five days to return, depending on the lab's capacity, staffing, and other factors."

Those who need testing for non-medical reasons (travel or return to work) should plan ahead to allow for time for test results to be returned.

"Each week, we receive a specific number of tests and swabs for each rapid point-of-care testing site based on our needs," Plaisted said. "One of the benefits of being a part of a system of hospitals is that if our demand grows, we can access additional supplies, beds and expertise should we need it. However, the number of available tests and swabs are limited, so we must test based upon CDC and OHA guidelines. We work hard to manage the testing resources to balance an individual's desired to be tested with their need to be tested. By managing our testing resources carefully, we can ensure that we have testing supplies available to meet all of the needs for medically necessary testing."

Early on in the pandemic, testing availability was extremely limited based upon strict criteria from the CDC.

"As supplies and equipment have become available, we have increased testing based on guidelines, directives and needs," said Plaisted.

For those receiving tests at the Tillamook County Health Department, patients can expect to wait three to five days for results as they are all sent to the State lab.

According to Tillamook County Director of Emergency Management Gordon McCraw, currently, the Health Department receives 10 tests a week from the State.

"If we had a spike, they would ship many more," McCraw said.

Gov. Brown extends face coverings requirement to statewide beginning July 1

Gov. Kate Brown announced Monday, June 29, that Oregonians statewide will be required to wear face coverings in indoor public spaces, beginning this Wednesday, July 1. The guidance applies to businesses and members of the public visiting indoor public spaces. Face covering requirements are already mandated in eight counties.

"From the beginning of the reopening process, I have said that reopening comes with the risk of seeing an increase in COVID-19 cases beyond our health systems' capacity to test, trace, and isolate them," Brown said. "Over the last month, we have seen the disease spread at an alarming rate in both urban and rural counties. The upcoming July 4 holiday weekend is a critical point for Oregon in this pandemic, and we can all make a difference."

"Modeling from the Oregon Health Authority shows that if we don't take further action to reduce the spread of the disease, our hospitals could be overwhelmed by new COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations within weeks," Brown said. "The choices every single one of us make in the coming days matter."

Brown said face coverings that cover your nose and mouth play a critical role in reducing the spread of this disease because droplets from our breath can carry the virus to others without us realizing it. If we all wear face coverings, practice six feet of physical distancing in public, wash our hands regularly, and stay home when we are sick, then we can avoid the worst-case scenarios that are now playing out in other states.

"I do not want to have to close down businesses again like other states are now doing," Brown said. "If you want your local shops and restaurants to stay open, then wear a face covering when out in public."

Tillamook County Leadership discusses governor's opt-in face mask guidance

Hilary Dorsey
Staff Writer

Tillamook County Leadership discussed at their community meeting Friday, June 26, Gov. Kate Brown's opt-in guidance for wearing face masks, as well as other county updates related to COVID-19. "I've been very involved the last couple of days working with trying to provide some liability waivers for businesses, schools districts and local governments, so that if they are following recommended guidelines and responsible procedures, that they could not be sued if an employee or customer believes they contracted COVID from that business, in that school or in that government office," Rep. David Gomberg said. "I actually worked to create a letter, signed by 10 other Democrats, asking the Democratic leadership to move forward with an amendment that would provide that liability waiver." Tillamook County Community Health Centers Administration Marlene Putman said a seventh confirmed case was reported in the county on June 22, the first new case since April. On Sunday, June 28, the Tillamook County Public Health Department announced that it has been informed of the eighth and ninth positive cases of COVID-19 in the county. The center has received guidance from Oregon Health Authority (OHA) and the governor's office on face coverings. For the public in general, individuals are to wear masks, face shields or face coverings in all indoor spaces where physical distancing cannot be maintained. New guidance states that children between the ages of two and 12 are to wear masks as well. Putman added there are 28 individuals who are prepared to conduct contact tracing and they can still provide an online testing to train people to be a contact tracer if needed. Commissioner Mary Faith Bell said a lot of people had contacted the commissioners, asking them to opt in to Gov. Kate Brown's requirement for face masks. As of June 26, they were scheduled to discuss this at their board meeting at 10 a.m. Wednesday, June 1. Commissioner Bill Baertlein said so far, he had only heard comments from people who wanted to opt in to the rules. The City of Manzanita also asked the governor's office if the city could opt in to the face mask rules. They are currently following local guidance they issued for their city. "People are really getting on board with this mask thing," Manzanita Mayor Mike Scott.

Other cities were planning to make resolutions for local mask wearing, including Nehalem and Rockaway Beach. On Monday, June 29, Brown announced that Oregonians statewide will be required to wear face coverings in indoor public spaces, beginning Wednesday, July 1. The guidance applies to businesses and members of the public visiting indoor public spaces. Send comments to: headlightreporter@countrymedia.net

City manager, public works director resigns from Bay City

Hilary Dorsey
Staff Writer

Bay City Council held a special meeting Wednesday, June 24, to discuss Chance Steffey's resignation from the city manager and public works director positions. The city also extended the state of emergency declaration through Aug. 11. Steffey resigned from both positions Monday, June 22. "When I took the public works position, I thought it was a wonderful opportunity for a local boy to come back home and help give back to the community that I have always called home," Steffey wrote in a letter. "I really tried to make improvements that I thought were necessary to develop more effective services through more efficient processes." "I took the city manager position because someone needed to facilitate the processes to keep the city going, but again I have failed not only myself, you, the staff but also this community." At the meeting, the council decided to task the administrative committee with preparing the request and search for both a public works director and an interim city manager. The interim city manager would be a city manager that also guides the city through the transition from their former system of council acting as city manager to a fully documented procedure for a city manager, including updating ordinances. Mayor David McCall said he and

Baker spoke with the city attorney the afternoon after Steffey's resignation and her recommendation was to separate functions Steffey had and assign them to different individuals. The city council as a whole is not flexible enough. Until the city has an interim manager, they have divided the city manager's duties among different individuals. The mayor will perform the administrative duties and Council President Kathy Baker will perform the personnel and human resources-related duties. Current staff will oversee public works operations with Baker taking on the public works liaison position. Send comments to: headlightreporter@countrymedia.net still have made it work," he added. While it won't be a replacement for the traditional June Dairy Parade, Aufdermauer said he heard from many parade goers that they loved the drive-through aspect. Award winning floats This year's award winners included the Astoria Regatta, which took home the Mayors Choice Award for their energy and creativity in using fishing poles to safely pass out Swedish Fish to cars. "They were totally committed and upbeat the entire time," Mayor Suzanne Weber commented. The People's Choice Awards went to Oregon Coast

Dance Center for first place; Garrett Noffsinger for City Council Ward 1 for second place; and Josh Brown for Tillamook County Sheriff came in third place. Honorable mentions go to both Astoria Regatta and Tillamook School of Dance. Mayor Weber added that the parade moved at a perfect pace and allowed parade entries to chat with the people driving through. "I really appreciated that because usually with a parade you're on a float and you wave and keep on going," she said. "This was a way to reach out to people and communicate with them and listen to them; I really enjoyed it. It was really exciting to see how the kids enjoyed it because they felt they were the parade and everyone else was watching." It wasn't just the parade goers who had a blast, either. Tillamook School of Dance said on their Facebook page: "We've taught in masks, danced in 6-foot squares, learned choreography via email, practiced in the middle of a field, and sanitized until our hands cracked. The day finally came where these kids could come together and perform with their friends. There were smiles, laughs, tired feet and a few cracks in our voices as we came together at the end of a long day to say goodbye... It's been a tough year. Our world was turned upside down in April and May. We limped into June and fingers crossed we will be powerwalking back into the studio come September. Thank you for an amazing June Dairy Parade...we needed that." The Chamber would like to thank the Tillamook Kiwanis Club for volunteering for the day, and the Tillamook County Creamery Association for sponsoring the event.

SUMMER SAFETY TIPS for fireworks!

Celebrating summer holidays with fireworks can be fun, but it can also be dangerous. Here are a few helpful things to remember if you plan to use fireworks at your summer celebrations.

- ★ Do not string fireworks on utility poles or set them on padmount transformers.
- ★ When setting up fireworks, be sure you are in a clear area with no overhead power lines or electrical facilities nearby.
- ★ If fireworks or objects become entangled in power lines, do not try to free them, instead, contact Tillamook PUD immediately at (503) 842-2122 or (800) 842-2122.

Emergency Medical students practice skills through simulation scenarios

Chelsea Yarnell
Tillamook Bay
Community College
Guest Writer

"You are called out to an ATV accident at Sand Lake for a young female who was the un-helmeted rider on an ATV that crashed into another ATV. Patient is complaining of left thigh pain and is a little confused."

What do you do?

This scenario is just one example of what the Emergency Medical Services students at Tillamook Bay Community College (TBCC) faced at their simulation trainings on June 11.

In partnership with Adventist Health Tillamook, Nehalem Bay Fire & Rescue, Rockaway Beach Fire Rescue, and Nestucca Rural Fire Protection District, TBCC created scenarios with live actors for a hands-on-experience for their students.

"Under normal circumstances our EMS 106 class would participate in clinical and field rotations throughout the term," said Brooke Bennett, TBCC Program Coordinator. "The requirements are one, eight hour shift in the ER for a clinical rotation; and two, 12 hour shifts on the ambulance for field rotations. COVID has prevented students from the opportunity to participate in these rotations."

COVID impacted health-care programs throughout the country with delays in testing, labs, and clinical placements. The TBCC students were in jeopardy of not receiving hands-on experience before the term ended. TBCC worked with local partners to devise live simulations and alternate clinical experience, ultimately allowing students to complete the program.

At the training there were four stations, three with live patient scenarios and one in a moving ambulance. Jesse Walsh with Nehalem Bay Fire & Rescue provided a thorough demonstration of a high-fidelity mannequin.

"Practice and repetition is so critical," said Todd Hesse, Rockaway Beach Fire Chief. "Hands-on is one of the three main ways of learning. It prepares them for the field. It's really important."

Students entered the live patient scenarios by being read the circumstances of the settings. Broken legs. Chest pain. Respiratory distress. All ailments portrayed by live actors.

"Each of the (participating) partners brought staff members to serve as proctors and live patients," Bennett said. "I had been researching the best way to conduct scenarios and every positive outcome shows the use of EMS professionals or Standardize Patients (people that are paid actors to act out a patient role)... I learned of the advantage of having EMS professionals to be able to lead students as the scenarios play out."

Students were expected to verbalize and walk through how they would respond in each situation.

"You can get ready on some points on a mannequin, but to look and solve a problem by talking to your patient [makes a difference]," EMS student Casey Cannon said.

In the ambulance simulation, students were given an orientation of the equipment, medications, and expected to administer CPR in the back of a moving unit.

"They get a sense of the limitations by being in the back of the unit," said Dr. Mark Bowman, Prehospital Physician Advisor at Adventist Health Tillamook and Medical Director for the Healthcare Programs at TBCC, who helped oversee the training.

Even in the midst of the COVID pandemic, students are still eager to join the emergency medicine field.

"These students are people who are driven and boots-on-the-ground type people," Bennett said.

While the simulated event does not replace students' cognitive exam and psychomotor exam in order to get their National Certification and State Licensing, it is an opportunity for students to get hands-on-training while waiting to resume their field rotations.

The three fire districts involved in the training have agreed to sign an Affiliation Agreement with TBCC to allow students to complete field rotation time on fire calls. Clinical and field rotations will resume with Adventist Health in July for which Adventist Health will also be paying for all students' personal protective equipment during their time there.

"I am in awe of the way these community partners have stepped up in our time of need. We are so lucky to live in Tillamook County," Bennett said. "I believe this will be an ongoing partnership between TBCC and our local fire districts and the opportunity to provide better training and education to all future first responders."

This is usually the month when I talk about our wonderful TBCC graduation ceremony and provide the community with all the great statistics about our graduating class. Even though we had to cancel our graduation ceremony in June, and plan for it later this coming year, there is still much to talk about regarding our graduating class of 2020. However, with the recent protests and demonstrations throughout our country and the world, including right here in Tillamook, I want to focus on what TBCC is doing and plans to do to address racism with our faculty, staff, and students, as well as out in the community. I will proudly talk about our graduates and how we are celebrating their success and achievements in next month's column.

Being the only higher education institution in Tillamook County, we have a responsibility to offer a forum for discussing these kinds of issues in our community. Talking about systemic racism is very difficult for most whites and is one of the reasons it is still so prevalent in our society. It is now at the forefront of many conversations as a result of the senseless killing of George Floyd and others. We hope these conversations continue. That is the only way progress will be made. As Nelson Mandela stated, "Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world". The world has to change in regard to racism and we are committed at TBCC to use our role as educators to do everything in our power to make a positive difference in this critical issue.

The TBCC Leadership Team produced a statement about this issue and it was sent to all faculty, staff, students, and was posted on social media. It is posted on www.tillamookbaycc.edu in the News section under the Discover TBCC. We have an active Equity and Inclusion Committee at the college that has been in place for almost three years. They have been doing excellent work developing an Equity plan for TBCC as well as scheduling equity trainings and professional development for faculty and staff. Their work led to the Board of Education adopting a formal equity policy for the college last year. They have also hosted two presentations for the community that focused on racism and inclusion. This spring we created a book club to read books on equity and inclusion topics and discuss in small groups. Our first book chosen by the committee is White Fragility by Robin DiAngelo. This was before the George Floyd incident. That book is now rated as the number one book to read on the topic of systemic racism and how to start to address it. Almost half of our faculty and staff volunteered to read the book and be part of our discussions.

Our next step is to develop opportunities to involve the community in different discussions and information sessions. We will advertise these opportunities widely throughout the county as they are developed. We hope these sessions will allow us to continue conversations to more fully understand the ongoing devastating impacts of systemic racism on people of color and how we can best work together to dismantle them. We hope you will join us.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Response to Mayor Riggs column

This is a letter in support of Paula Tucker. Ms. Tucker's integrity was recently questioned in an editorial by Mayor Daniels. Ms. Tucker has served on the Garibaldi City Council, is currently (19 years) on the 911 Board of Directors and is an active member of the North Coast Christian Church. She has been a resident and home owner in Garibaldi for more than 50 years. She is honest and cares for her community.

Ms. Tucker and the "20" people referred to in the letter have been working to ensure that the city operates according to the Garibaldi Municipal Code. This has not been the case. At no time has anyone of this "group" asked for changes or special treatment. It should be concerning that there are 20 people who are concerned enough to make their opinions known and are attacked for that. As for his statement that this "group" wants the council to take fraudulent actions that is not true. The minutes are not always "written word for word" as evidenced at the last council meeting where a mistake was pointed out and it was corrected.

Mr. Daniels refers to the "group" as not wanting the city to follow the Garibaldi Comprehensive Plan. Nothing is further from the truth. These citizens have repeatedly referred to the GCP and asked that it be adhered to only to be told "it is only a suggestion, not a code". Anyone is welcome to follow the city council minutes to determine for themselves the truth of these statements.

Regarding Mr. Daniels recall there is cause for concern when a council member accosts a citizen in a public place, lays hands on her and refers to her as a "bitch", then lies about it. Mr. Daniels description of what transpired in not true. Chief Jay Marugg was witness to what occurred and has stated that what Paula Tucker and Caro (Kopacek described is an accurate account. Ms Tucker and Chief Marugg were having a conversation when Mr. Daniels approached, grabbed Ms. Tucker by the arm and spoke to her. Ms. Tucker reminded him that she had asked him previously not to speak to her and that he was never to touch her again. As she left the building Mr. Daniels referred to her as a "bitch". As per the police report Mr. Daniels stated that he would honor the request and not speak to Ms. Tucker.

However he did speak to her on at least 2 more occasions, once in the presence of the mayor.

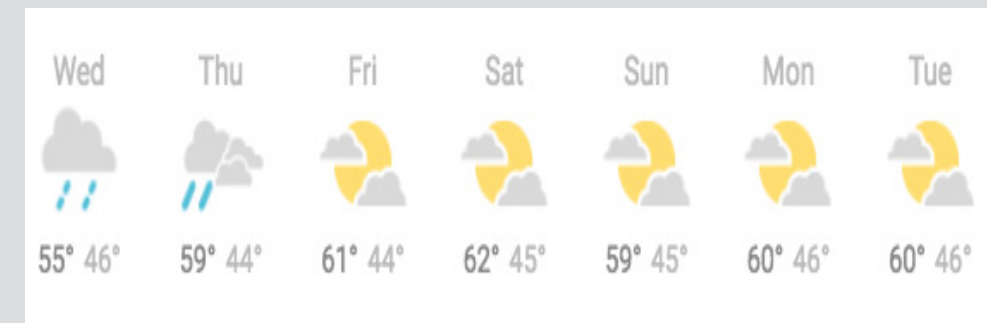

As far as this "small group" being against housing in Garibaldi that is also untrue. Yes there is concern and resistance to another apartment building in a residential neighborhood, especially as there are so many concerns and issues regarding the other two buildings. However no one has objected to single family homes being built. No one has told Mr. Daniels or anyone else that "they don't care what the GMC reads, in fact there has been constant reference to the need to adhere to the code. Mr. Daniels pats himself on the back as he states he is being attacked personally because he upholds the laws. Once again he is trying to rewrite facts.

TALES FROM THE LIBRARY

Bill Landau
Extension Librarian
Tillamook County Library

Out of reading material? There is nothing worse than having nothing to read, right? You will be excited to learn that we are expanding our Curbside Pickup hours. New expanded curbside hours at the Tillamook County Libraries begin July 1st, Monday – Friday, 12-5pm.

The Main Library in Tillamook will no longer be requiring assigned pickup times, but the branch libraries will continue to schedule specific curbside times because of limited staffing at these locations. Please call ahead to request library materials, 503-842-4792, or request materials on the library catalog, encore.oceanbooks.org using your library card number and PIN number. Once the items are ready to pick up, you will receive a phone call or email. At that point, you can drop by the main library back door from 12-5, or if you are picking up at a branch library, call your branch to schedule pickup times. Please provide your name and the last four digits of your library card number when you arrive. Your books will be checked out and ready for you to pick up. Returns of library materials will be accepted Monday – Friday, 12-5 p.m. If the hours do not work with your schedule, please give us a call to set up a special appointment to pick up your library materials. Please call 503-842-4792 for additional information.

In other news, the library is in the final stages of choosing a new library director. This Monday, we virtually interviewed one of the two candidates and the other finalist will be interviewed on Thursday, July 2. As a matter of fact, the public can participate in the public forum with the candidate on Thursday. Visit www.tillamook.org to find the Zoom link so you can tune in!

Please note the libraries will all be closed on the official county holiday closure of Friday, July 3. We will be back in business for curbside pickup at noon on Monday, July 6.

One last thing, if you are ever wanting a little free online entertainment, check out our library YouTube page. Just go to YouTube.com and search for the Tillamook County Library. Here you will find lots of amusing storytime presentations and craft programs by various library staff members. One of our current favorites is a stop motion video of the classic Five Little Monkeys song. This was created and performed by the talented Miss Angel from the Bay City Library, and she even wrote some of her own unique verses. Check it out.

Mayor Riggs has, in the past, referred to the citizens questioning the actions of the city as “a gang of seven troublemakers” and it appears that gang has now transformed to a “small group of 20”. Why is it necessary to denigrate persons who are concerned for their city? I do not know who is counted in this group or who is doing the counting. I do know that in 4 days time 126 people signed a petition to recall Mr. Daniels. That is more than 20 people who feel he is not appropriately representing this city.

In closing I ask that you read the minutes, talk to your neighbors and do not be bullied into making a decision when you vote. Ask what kind of person do you want to represent you on your city council.

Sincerely,

Carol and Carl Kopacek Garibaldi

Garibaldi does not need more apartment complexes

We are advertised as Garibaldi “the authentic little fishing village” Garibaldi has been our home for 28 years.

In the last four years Paul Daniels has become an apartment developer and now we have two apartment complexes, each are two and three stories high. These 30+ units are not affordable housing.

We have been concerned since last fall, so we wrote up a petition for all the residents to sign, if they felt that they too, didn’t want anymore apartments. We got 85 signatures in our city.

We presented the petition to the city council to ask staff to investigate how we could discourage this type of development. These complexes have no connection to our “little fishing village.”

The City Council and staff, during numerous council meeting since then, have made it clear that they are NOT interested in pursuing our request.

Some councilors keep repeating that Tillamook County needs every apartment complex. We are saying it doesn’t, all, have to be in our little town.

Paul Daniels has positioned himself politically by becoming a Tillamook Bay Port commissioner, joined several business boards, and has become a City of Garibaldi councilman.

In May Daniels applied for another conditional use in Garibaldi for another 66 unit apartment complex on one of the few large, buildable parcels that are on Hwy 101.

It was presented to the planning commission on May 23. Not everyone could participate. The hearing was continued on June 10, because the planning commission requested more information to consider the impact on our small community.

On June 10, the planning commission (after 5 hours of discussion) voted 3 to deny and 2 to approve the conditional use.

Paul Daniels is appealing their decision to the city council in July, hoping that the city council will reverse the planning decision.

At the city council meeting on June 15, the council voted not to allow any new evidence, so they will be reviewing the same evidence the Planning Commission was presented.

We love our town and are desperately trying to save it’s identity and commercial development.

*Carolee North

Get the facts, but get all of them

I agree with Garibaldi Mayor Judy Riggs that people should know the fact for themselves. However, they should know ALL the facts and know that these facts can be verified as true. The Mayor left out four key points in her commentary.

ONE: It’s a fact that in June 2015, the Garibaldi City Council voted and approved Resolution 2015-06, that “Standardized SDC Installment Payment Application and Agreement Terms” for Garibaldi. The Council established a set interest rate at “2 percent Over Prime.” In 2017, that interest rate would have been 5.75 percent.

This rate was determined to be fair and equitable to both the applicants seeking SDC financing and the city taking the financial risk of assuming a loan. This resolution supersedes Ordinance 288, which was passed in January 2006, which did not set any clear or fair interest rate.

TWO: Under Resolution 2017-05, the former City Manager John O’Leary ignored the applicable Resolution 2015-06 rate and proceeded to offer Paul Daniels and his partners a 2 percent interest rate. There is no known motive or persuasion for O’Leary to grant the low rate without officially notifying the City Council as was required. As a consequence, Daniels received preferential treatment from a City employee to pay less than half of the set amount.

THREE: Under the attachment cited by Mayor Riggs, under Condition A, it was intentionally misleading to include the 2 percent interest rate as if it was part of the Oregon law ORS 233.210 and the Garibaldi Municipal Code 13.25.808. There is no particular interest rate set in either of these legal rules.

FOUR: Two other applicants also received the 2 percent interest rate to finance their SDC fees. In both cases, there were no Resolutions for the City Council to vote on approving the payment agreements. In fact, there are no records to show the Council was ever told about the agreements until recently. In comparison, the SDC financing interest rate in neighboring Bay City is reportedly set at 14 percent.

The 2 percent rate was presented to one applicant/business owner, who wished to remain anonymous, who said the low rate was offered to him as “a deal” by O’Leary to offset what the applicant said were high SDC fees. In both cases, the applicants acted in good faith and were unaware of the City’s official higher rate.

Mayor Riggs dismissed that Garibaldi city managers have made such “deals” without council approval. These deals represent a significant loss of revenue to the city.

The city could use the money. A few weeks after I was seated to the City Council, I learned that Garibaldi’s finances had been mismanaged for seven years; that there was poor budget tracking and accounting. It was such a mess that a certified accountant had to be contracted at $18,000 to sort out just one year.

During his term, former City Councilor Norm Shattuck went on record to voice his concerns about the city’s financial problems. He was ignored. At the February 18, 2020 City Council meeting, Mayor Riggs revealed that, as a City Councilor, she too was aware of the problems, but said nothing more.

In mid-2018 and 2019, the City was having problems paying its bills. Former Fire Chief James Rhyce said he complained to current City Manager Geoff Wullschlager that his chief’s cell phone was turned off several times for nonpayment. This was confirmed by current Fire Chief Jay Marugg. Former Administrative Assistant Kylie Jo Poklikuha reported that the City’s credit card had been declined during the 2019 Garibaldi Days.

As I have attempted over time to get to the bottom of why these incidents occurred to ensure they are not repeated, I have been met with resistance. As a City Councilor, Paul Daniels said that I should “let sleeping dogs sleep.” He added: “It’s a small town.”

As I prize and value Garibaldi as my home, it is again difficult and troubling to report this. However, people deserve all the information in order to make a wise decision.

Mayor’s column was disappointing

I am extremely disappointed in my mayor, Judy Riggs who felt compelled to write an article encouraging the people of Garibaldi to “look at all the facts” related to the recall of city council member Paul Daniels. That’s appropriate and always a good reminder when voting.

What’s disappointing is that after that reminder she turned the whole article into a thinly veiled attempt to sway the voters to vote no for recalling Mr. Daniels. The irony here was no consideration was given for the “other side” of the issues related to the recall.

Mayor Riggs should not get publicly involved in a recall election, instead taking a neutral position in fairness and vote her own conscience at the kitchen table like the rest of us.

Destroying history

To condone actions of people who are destroying our statues our businesses and disrespecting our law enforcement, is unconscionable. The people who are protesting without full knowledge of an issue, are providing cover for unlawful people, who are doing the looting and burning of property. And defunding of our law enforcement will bring us back to the days of vigilantes, just think about the vigilantes oversight.

People don’t join the military to destroy, they join because they want to preserve our freedom. Even when the views of others don’t align with their own. As a veteran, I have heartburn over the people who have no tolerance for our past. I have found nothing is gained from one viewpoint or prospective.

As far back in time as we can look, we find people have destroyed statues, books etc., that was indifferent to their point of view. How much have we lost of our history? When we don’t recognize our past, we lose, and likely to repeat our errors.

Removing statues is no different than burning books.

Facebook is two-faced

In a recent article regarding the Facebook project at Tierra Del Mar, Facebook’s attorney is reported as stating on the record to the Land Use Appeal Board (LUBA), “this is the same as any other infrastructure.” Yet, in a message to the Oregon Coastal Alliance (ORCA) dated April 15, the very same attorney stated the site was covered under state law regarding “critical infrastructure” facilities. So which is it Facebook? Is your site just “the same as any other infrastructure” or is it a “critical infrastructure facility?” And when you’re done sputtering out an answer to that one, please tell us which time your lawyer was lying.

An open letters to the community: Commissioners, Sheriff’s Office, Health Dept. announce support of Black Lives Matter

The Tillamook Board of County Commissioners (BOCC) unanimously affirms that Black Lives Matter in Tillamook County and pledge to do everything in our power to protect the rights of people of color in our community.

“We are fortunate that we have not had any terrible incidents of racial violence in our county like the tragic deaths of black citizens in other parts of the country,” said board chair Bill Baertlein. “I like to think that is because we have a culture of kindness and decency in Tillamook County, and those are the values I want to uphold. However, we are all aware that racism exists, sometimes hidden and sometimes right out in the open. As a commissioner I want to say, “Not here, we will not tolerate racism in our community.”

Commissioner David Yamamoto is the liaison to law enforcement. “My biggest issues as a commissioner is the life, health and safety of every citizen in Tillamook County, by definition that includes black lives. Moreover, I am committed to the life, health, and safety of all people of color in our community and otherwise vulnerable populations.”

“Our Sheriff’s Office does a great job protecting all of the citizens of Tillamook County,” said Yamamoto. “They strive to operate from the values of Duty, Honor and Service in everything they do. We

OBITUARIES

Cathy Puderbaugh Thompson

March 13, 1946 - Feb. 3, 2020

Cathy passed from this life into the next at 73 years of age, from a prolonged illness. She was the daughter of the late Morris and Dorothy Puderbaugh of Netarts.

Cathy is survived by her three daughters and families in the Bremerton, Washington area, as well as two sisters; Betty Rolston and family, and Patty Eddy and family.

There will be no service. Her family would like any expression of remembrance to be a donation to CHI Francis-Hospice in Washington.

Patricia Ann Rock

Dec. 4, 1930- June 22, 2020 and they were married the following summer on July 4, 1954. Over the ensuing years Pat devoted herself to being a dairy farmer's wife and raising a family with Bill in Cloverdale. When her older children reached school age she returned to teaching as a substitute for the Nestucca School District, a job she took great pride in. Pat enjoyed time with family, traveling with Bill and was an avid reader. She is survived by husband Bill Rock, daughters Amy (Rob) Seymour and Betsy Rock (Alan Fudge), sister Phyllis Dutton, grandsons John (Kaylie) Seymour, Van Fudge, Leith Seymour, Drummond Fudge and great grandson Lochey Seymour. She was preceded in death by son Randy Rock and grandson Will Seymour. A family and friends gathering will be held at a later date. Memorial contributions can be made to South Tillamook County Library or Clover's Day Parade.

No funeral arrangements are planned at this time.

John Harry Jenck

May 10, 1951 - June 17, 2020

John Harry Jenck aka Blue Flash of Tillamook passed on June 17, 2020 at the age of 69. John was born May 10th 1951 in Toledo, OR. to Leo and Marie Jenck. He was the oldest of 10 children (5 brothers & 4 Sisters).

John was a lifelong avid hunter, fisherman, and outdoorsman with more stories than anyone of us could know. He was admired for his extremely hard work ethic, and a laugh that could light up a room and put a smile on anyone's face. He will be deeply missed by so many.

John is survived by his wife Donna, whom he married in 1992, his seven children John, Jacyn, Jamie, Jason, Johna, Billy, and Jennifer; his 12 grandchildren Zachary, Lexi, Preston C., Preston T., Conner, Jesse, Ryan, Ian, Owen, Trask, Ryden, Kylee and Maizi.

John was a devoted husband, an outstanding father and an incredibly loving grandfather "papa".

Service to celebrate John will be held at the Alderbrook Grange, 5995 Alderbrook Rd. Tillamook, OR. on July 3rd 2020. 1-4 p.m.

Roger Dale Chinn Sr.

Sept. 21, 1944 - June 19, 2020

Star veteran and the two of them moved to Tillamook, Oregon.

Roger Sr. worked in a variety of positions as he and Filine raised their two sons, Roger Jr. and Paul. Roger Sr. also returned to school through Tillamook Bay Community College to work on his GED.

Retirement brought with it many medical challenges that Roger Sr. accepted with courage, grace, and humor. His humor brought joy to everyone who worked with him.

As Roger Sr. follows his love, Filine, in death, he will be fondly and lovingly remembered by his sons, Roger Chinn, Jr., and Paul Chinn and their families, his sisters and brother, Louise Adkins, Beverly Slayton, Verta Slayton, and Joseph Chinn, and his many other dear family and friends.

A celebration of his life will be held at a later date.

Roger Dale Chinn, Senior, was born on Sept. 21, 1944, and grew up in West Virginia. He passed away the morning of June 19, 2020.

Roger Sr. met the love of his life, Filine Workman Chinn, when the JobCorps program brought him to Oregon. They returned to West Virginia while Roger Sr. served in the US Army during the Vietnam War. He returned as a Bronze

Bay City Arts Center hosts classes and virtual camps

DISCOVERY IN STONE

The Bay City Arts Center (BCAC) has announced the first stage of its gradual re-opening with a "Discovery in Stone" workshop to be held the weekend of June 27-28. Stone carving is an activity that lends itself well to social distancing, and participants are always encouraged to wear face masks and eye protection, even without the risk of viruses.

"Because this is a fairly safe type of event, we may do stone carving more often this summer," said Charlie Wooldridge of the BCAC. "We're thinking of holding workshops once a month through the early fall if we see enough interest from the community."

Most aspects of Discovery in Stone will stay the same:

- 1) the art studio and grounds will be open from 9 to 4 p.m. each day for carving;
- 2) tuition will be by donation;
- 3) stone and tools will be supplied; and 4) instruction will be available. The main differences this summer: 1) the need for pre-registration; and 2) that face masks will be mandatory for all participants.

To register for the June Discovery in Stone workshop, call Charlie at 503-842-7013 or send an email to baycityartscenter@gmail.com.

VIRTUAL SUMMER CAMPS

Join the BCAC for live online art camps via Zoom. We will be conducting summer camps online this season until we are able to resume in-person camps. Check out our COVID-19 Art Ed Resource pages for current camp offerings!

CAMPS BEGIN MONDAY JUNE 29. Call Leeauna Perry (503) 842-2701 for details and to register.

Also, if you have ideas for art camps that you would like to see offered online this summer, let us know. We will be adding additional camps as summer progresses.

We can also coordinate friend and family group custom designed art online sessions. Get a group of your friends together and let's get artsy! Inquire for details.

can and should be proud of law enforcement in Tillamook County. But racism is insidious, and we all have to be vigilant to root it out when it crops up."

"One of the things I love about Tillamook County is that we are community minded," said Commissioner Mary Faith Bell. "We come together in extraordinary ways to help one another and to be of service. I believe that those values shine through these dark times and will serve us in becoming more aware of the experience of black people and other minorities living in our community."

"The racial tension and social upheaval happening in our nation is an excellent opportunity for all of us to grow in empathy and awareness and think about the experience we want for our neighbors and their children. As an elected leader I want everyone who lives here to feel safe and to be safe. I want all of our children, collectively, of every race, to feel loved and embraced and supported by our community. I want mothers and fathers and grandparents of color to feel valued and included. I want Tillamook County to be a safe place where love prevails, and the golden rule is our guiding principle: do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

Attached are the Tillamook County Sheriff's Office and Tillamook County Community Health Center statements affirming their commitment to compassion and equity.

Commissioners, Bill Baertlein, Mary Faith Bell, David Yamamoto

Sheriff's Office

The fundamental duty of Office of the Tillamook County Sheriff is to serve our fellow man; to safeguard the lives and property of those in our community; to protect the innocent, the weak, and the peaceful against violence or disorder; and to respect the Constitutional rights of all men to liberty, equality, and justice.

It is our goal that the members of our office will never act officiously or permit personal feelings, prejudices, animosities, or friendships to influence our decisions. We will be uncompromising on criminal activity and will relentlessly prosecute those who would prey upon others in our community, we will enforce the law courteously and appropriately without fear or favor, malice or ill will, never employing unnecessary force or violence and never accepting gratuities. We will strive to do what is right even when no one is looking, and we will hold each other accountable for our actions.

Our badges are a symbol of public faith, and we accept it as a public trust to be held so long as we are true to the ethics of law enforcement. We will constantly strive to achieve these objectives and ideals, dedicating ourselves to the betterment of our society and profession. The Sheriff's Office recognizes there are a lot of concerning things happening in communities all over our state and country. We believe in the words of Dr. Martin Luther King, who said, "Violence never brings permanent peace. It solves no social problem: it merely creates new and more complicated ones. Violence is impractical because it is a descending spiral ending in destruction for all. It is immoral because it seeks to humiliate the opponent rather than win his understanding; it seeks to annihilate rather than convert. Violence is immoral because it thrives on hatred rather than love. It destroys community and makes brotherhood impossible. It leaves society in monologue rather than dialog. Violence ends up defeating itself. It creates bitterness in the survivors and brutality in the destroyers."

James Horton
Tillamook County Sheriff

Community Health Centers

The Tillamook County Community Health Centers and the Community Health Council, acknowledge the tragic recent and persistent violence against our African American community. The more recent killings of George Floyd, Ahmaud Arbery, Breonna Taylor, and countless others illustrate our society's tolerance of racially driven brutality, violence, and marginalization of some of our most vulnerable populations.

Systemic racism in our communities is directly related to increased rates of unemployment, poverty, incarceration, overall mortality, diabetes and cardiac related mortality, infant mortality, and psychological distress. We also see this through the disproportionately increased numbers of African American, Native American and Latinx communities who have suffered from Covid-19 infections and increased death rate from such infections.

This systemic racism also leads to increased frequency and severity of childhood abuse, neglect and household dysfunction which has a direct adverse relationship to substance abuse, smoking, obesity, diabetes, heart disease, stroke, cancer, depression, suicide, and chronic lung disease in adulthood.

In addition, minority communities have decreased access to health care, lower high school graduation rates, and less access to higher education opportunities.

Our vision of health equity includes the commitment to tackle racism, prejudice, and violence against our minority communities, and mitigate structural racism in an effort to eliminate racially based disparities thereby improving the health of our entire Tillamook County community.

FENCEPOSTS

It's a sign of the times: What should I find out beachcombing, not a rare fishing float or even a choice agate, but a mask? Camouflage pattern with black elastic ear straps; if it's yours, neighbor, let me know and I'll arrange for you to pick it up. I brought it home to wash and add to our growing collection; it appears as if we'll be needing masks for quite some time to come.

I had a nice chat with the Widmer kids the other day. Sophie, age 15, just completed her freshman year at Tillamook High School. Her brother, Thorson, is 13 years old and just finished the 7th grade at Tillamook Junior High School. And they'll both tell you that it was one of the strangest years ever, ending the way it did. Both kids had Chromebooks to work remotely during the pandemic. But it was hard doing everything by video, with the teacher not physically present to explain or answer questions. It was especially difficult being away from their school friends, both in the classroom and outside it. Sophie missed her spring track season, but she feels worse for eight-graders and high school seniors; they had to forgo traditional graduation ceremonies.

Both Sophie and Thorson Widmer, however, look on the bright side. Sophie learned to cook and bake during these past few months; her mother says Sophie has actually become an amazing vegan chef during quarantine. Sophie also does dog walking in her spare time. Thorson uses skateboarding to relax and has a new quarter pipe ramp out in front of his house, a birthday gift from a good friend and his dad, as well as a half pipe out back. Of course, there is always the beach to explore. Thorson's best find on the beach is a time capsule, otherwise known as a message in a bottle. That is indeed a rare treasure, as any beachcomber would tell Thorson. Both Widmer children are looking forward to friends moving fulltime to Cape Meares this summer, a family with a girl Sophie's age and a boy Thorson's age (the giver of the mini-ramp). I'll be sure to introduce that new family to you readers via the Fencepost when they arrive.

John Harland wants to thank the first responders who helped his daughter when she had a recent bike accident on Bayocean Road (fortunately just painful bumps and scrapes). Cape Meares first responders Mike Smith, Olli Ollikainen and Dave Audet quickly arrived on the scene and took great care of her, managing the scene safely and professionally until the ambulance arrived. All of us in Cape Meares agree with John when he says it is terrific that we have such dedicated volunteers in our community! John also wants to thank the nurse who stopped to help, the passing driver who called 911 and the ambulance EMTs whose names he doesn't know.

A reminder that there will be no Cape Meares community potluck on July 4 this year due to the coronavirus pandemic. Wishing you a happy and safe holiday!

Thanks to the Neskowin-Nestucca-Sandlake Watersheds Council (NNSWSC) for writing to the Fencepost with several news items. First, the Council seeks to partner with local riverfront landowners. They're working with landowners to establish native riparian vegetation at the mouth of Three Rivers and on the banks of the Nestucca River off of Resort Drive.

These sites were previously host to invasive blackberry species and extensive reed-canary grass monocultures. The new sites will contain a diverse group of native shrubs and trees; including such species as, twinberry, Pacific mininebark, red-flowering currant, red-osier dogwood, western red cedar and spruce. As these planting sites mature, they'll provide valuable ecosystem services in the form of stream-bank stabilization, improvement to water quality for aquatic species and recreation, increased shading and future inputs of large woody debris. More immediate benefits are increased forage for native birds and pollinator species. If you are a riverfront landowner in the area and would be interested in having a native plant restoration project on your property, please reach out to them by calling 503-965-2200.

The Council also seeks individuals to serve as volunteers to collect water samples from local collection sites for periodic testing. No experience is necessary and training is provided. The posts require 3-5 hours once a month and a reliable vehicle to transport yourself to and from remote collection sites and to deliver water samples to the Watershed Council office in Pacific City. For more information (or to sign up) call Caleb Mentzer, at 541-513-2604 or email assistant@nestuccawaters.org. Watch this space for additional NNSWSC news next week.

Greetings Bay City! We have been in the valley for two days visiting our daughter and family; a much needed reprieve from the isolation and uncertainty of the pandemic. I loved every minute with our grandchildren, then it was time to come home. Before we left our daughter shared with us that, for her, going to the beach feels like a respite. I think those of us who live at the "Beach" sometimes take the beauty and magic of the coast for granted. It's easy to do. No matter where you live on this earth, people want to live, visit, and congregate at the "Beach". I know we grumble about the tourists, but we can't blame them, especially now, for wanting to seek out a place of refuge. Because we live here, and unlike the tourists, we don't have to go home. I am the one on the porch with a "Goodbye, come back soon, but not too soon" wave. Living at the coast does not mean that we own the beach, the water, or the view; but in many ways, we are the caretakers, and we should be gracious hosts.

I could fill the newspaper with stories of good deeds being done, and they never cease to amaze me. But it is the good things we do with genuine love for one another, stranger, friend, or foe, that our community is known for.

I'm sending you my favorite recipe for Deluxe Strawberry Dessert from the Bisquick "No Time to Cook" summer recipe book (1980).

- 2 cups Bisquick mix
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1/4 cup firm butter or margarine
- 1/3 cup sugar

- 1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 2 egg yolks
- 1 cup sour cream
- Strawberry glaze
- 1-1/2 cup strawberries

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Mix baking mix and 2 Tbsp sugar. Cut in margarine. Pat in round pan, 9 X 1-1/4". Bake 10 minutes. Mix 1/3 cup sugar, the nutmeg, yolks and sour cream; spread over hot layer. Bake 20 minutes; cool completely. Arrange strawberries on layer. Spread slightly cooled glaze over strawberries. Refrigerate remaining dessert.

(To prepare glaze: Mash 1/2 cup strawberries; mix 1/4 cup sugar and 1 tbsp cornstarch in 1-1/2 qt. saucepan; gradually stir in 1/4 cup water and the strawberries; cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until mixture thickens and boils; boil and stir one minute; stir in a few drops of red food color, if desired.)

Thank you for reading the Fencepost, and I'll see you next week.

The holiday weekend is upon us. Please be mindful that there will be lots of visitors to our area (increased traffic) so be safe and patient. While it won't be like the 4th of July we've celebrated in the past with parades and large gatherings, we have the opportunity to make some new traditions. Like having a backyard BBQ, boating, or kayaking, enjoying the company of a small group of family or friends, or just hanging out at home. We are still in the 101 Critical days of summer safety, so whatever your plans, play safe and have fun.

Summer Reading has started! You can sign up with Norma and pick up your reading log from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday or go on <https://tillamook.beanstack.org> and register. If you read five books in the adult program you win a t-shirt! The kids' program is also available.

As the library is not open to the public yet, you can order your books on www.tillamook.org or call Norma directly at 503-322-2100 from noon until 5 p.m. You can pick up your ordered materials after 2 p.m. when they are available. Norma calls to schedule a pickup date so they are checked out and ready to go. Use the west side entrance for pick up and drop off; the outside drop boxes are currently closed. If you need an escape during the current constraints, get a book, magazine, movie or music and sail away.

I was excited to run into Lizzy Lou Turco at Fred Meyer. I even recognized her in her mask! She works in the area as a camp host, and I hadn't seen her since last summer.

DON'T YOU WANT TO TAKE ME HOME?

Hi, I am named after America's favorite cookie. Can you guess? It's Oreol! Like my black tuxedo? My foster Mom says I am all kitten. I play hard and then take a long nap, preferably on a warm lap. I want to be adopted by You. Be sure to fill out the adoption application and there are many other kittens almost as cute as me who are ready to be adopted. Listen up. If you adopt me, this is important. My favorite toy is a mouse.

Adoption fees range from $75-100.

TILLAMOOK COUNTY WELLNESS

Outdoor Recreation - There's a Map for That!

Imagine if there was a map that included all the outdoor recreation amenities and trails in Tillamook County. How cool would it be to have a convenient way to find places to hike, ride, paddle, bike and bird watch within minutes from where you live?

Thanks to a partnership between Tillamook County Wellness (TCW), Visit Tillamook Coast, Northwest Youth Corps and the U.S. Forest Service, having access to this exciting resource is closer than you might imagine. Beginning in January 2020, efforts have been underway to build a GIS database and map for all recreational opportunities throughout Tillamook County. GIS Intern, Samantha "Sam" Goodwin and TCW Access to Physical Activity (APAC) Co-Chair, Marty Wisheart, were recently interviewed on KTIL's Tillamook Today show to share more about the project.

"There are hundreds of recreation activities in Tillamook County," Goodwin stated in her interview, "but right now people have to search all around from individual sites like State Parks or the Oregon Department of Forestry to find what there is to do here." Sam has worked with local, state and federal agencies to gather all that data and put it into one system. In the process, she has discovered many local waysides, waterfalls, parks and community pathways for which there is no official information. "We're building a one-stop place for recreation," says Sam. "This is really meant to help locals get out and enjoy activities and the natural beauty we have here." Nan Devlin, Executive Director for Visit Tillamook Coast, states that "what is good for locals is also good for visitors and vice versa," noting that Transient Lodging Tax (TLT) revenue directed to her organization is being used to support this work.

In addition to his leadership role with TCW, Marty Wisheart is President of the Tillamook Off-Roads Trails Alliance (TORA), which has secured funding to build more than 30 miles of mountain biking trails in the Siuslaw forest near Sandlake in partnership with the U.S. Forest Service. Trail building is slated to begin this Fall with access to trails anticipated by Summer 2021. TORA has been actively involved in increasing community access to recreation, especially for kids and youth, by building trails and helping coordinate Trails Day events. According to Marty, "we have so many recreation assets here and a lot of it is just not known." He adds, "It's not enough to build opportunities for people to get active, we have to make sure people have the information they need to decide if an activity is right for them - if they need special gear, how easy or hard the trail is, and so on. The more information we can give to people, the more likely they will feel confident about trying something new and that's really what we want to see."

The map includes details

for all trail types, surfaces and difficulty levels, as well as access for people with disabilities. It will be sortable by different types of activities, including boat launches and water trails, making it easier for people to plan outings. And, for people worried about their secret destinations being discovered by the masses, county leaders acknowledge this is already happening. County Commissioner, Bill Baertlein emphasizes, "Visitors are already coming and will continue to travel here to enjoy our trails and outdoor recreation. This map and the processes supporting it will help us get out in front of the issue and be proactive rather than reactive." Leaders also state that having more places on the map helps spread activity around, preventing heavily visited areas from being "loved to death." Tourism leaders agree that increasing recreation within the local population instills a sense of pride and ownership, creating stewards who help protect these beautiful places. North Coast Tourism Management Network's volunteer beach and trailhead ambassador program is one example, as are volunteer opportunities through the local chapter of Trailkeepers of Oregon. For information on how to volunteer as an ambassador contact Arica Sears at icom@thepeoplescoast.com and to learn more about Trailkeepers visit <https://www.trailkeepersoforegon.org/get-involved/>.

Thanks to an extension of funding and on-going support from the sponsoring agencies, the GIS mapping project will continue until all identified locations are completely mapped and approved by governing agencies. Next the group will determine how users can access the map platform on-line. Michelle Jenck, Tillamook County Wellness Coordinator indicates there is a plan to include a page or link from their new website scheduled to launch this summer.

The 4th of July will be different this year. But we still have so many blessings with which we can cheer.

Spending a day at Rockaway Beach is truly a blast. Having celebrations and memories that definitely will last.

We can barbeque, play volleyball or dip our toes in the sand.

Our town really knows how to celebrate, our reputation is grand.

A spark of timeless Americana in a sea of red, white and blue.

Come to Rockaway Beach and find your 'Star Spangled You!'

One thing that won't change on the Fourth of July is the Lions selling hot dogs at the wayside. That's been going on as far back as I can remember, and my memories go back about 42 years. Be sure to stop by and purchase a mouth-watering hot dog. This is a wonderful fundraiser by our local Lions Club. Our International Police Museum has some grand news this month. They had a generous donation from the owners of Washed Ashore Arts, Crafts & More and Ringing Anvil Design Blacksmith Shop at 420 S Hwy 101. Because of Herman and Angie Doty's generosity, the IPM will be able to continue to serve our community for another twelve months. You guys are awesome. Our community thanks you.

While I am on the subject, the IPM can use your donations. We are really so lucky to have this museum in our community. This museum has an extensive collection of vintage and modern national and international police uniforms and equipment. It is truly a treat for visitors. It is such a family friendly museum and with no entry fee they survive totally on donations. With Covid 19 and a substantial rise of rent, let's help them out. We do want to keep our unique International Police Museum in Rockaway Beach.

Let's bedazzle the community with patriotism! We can turn our town into a celebration of liberty, life and love. Let's adorn our doors with charming displays of our stars and stripes. Let's greet each other with jubilation. And let's electrify our neighborhoods with lights and wave streamers that will inspire others to do the Rockaway boogie. We should be so proud that we start a hummin', yup, the Fourth of July is really a comin'.

"I believe in America because we have great dreams, and the opportunity to make those dreams come true." That's Rockaway Beach, "Sugar Coated in my stars and stripes!"

take out). If you are a business owner and have made changes to your hours of operation for the summer, please check to ensure the information accurately reflects your availability. To make updates, contact Laura at the city on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 503-322-3327.

I have seen some community Facebook requests for information regarding the Lions Club Sight and Hearing program. The Garibaldi Lions serve from Garibaldi to Idaville. For information, please contact Pastor Jeff Coon at the God's Lighthouse Church at 503-322-3501.

The council is taking a hard look at the current noise ordinance due to the large number of complaints. We need to establish a quiet time, as the only hours specifically listed are for construction. You may only do construction operations during the hours of 7 a.m. until 6 p.m. I would like to ask residents to please be respectful of your neighbors, especially during the warm summer nights when people tend to have their windows open overnight for some relief from the heat. We are a bedroom community with a diverse population of work schedules.

Other complaints I am hearing are about continuously barking dogs, loose dogs, owners not picking up after their dogs when they walk them, and a lack of yard maintenance (tall grass) and appearance (broken down vehicles and trash). There are specific rules about all of these things. Let's be proud of where we live and strive to work together to solve these issues. If you need help, please contact me before it becomes a problem.

Community is unity. We are all in this together.

Habitat for Humanity selected as the 2020 Halo Award winner

The Halo Awards are North America's highest honor for corporate social initiatives and cause marketing and showcase successful consumer engagement and employee engagement efforts. This prestigious CSR, cause marketing and corporate social impact award focuses on initiatives where brand purpose and social impact intersect to help build a better world and the bottom line. Such is the case for Habitat for Humanity.

There are two commonly held myths about Habitat for Humanity.

First, that former President Jimmy Carter founded the global housing nonprofit.

Second, that the organization gives homes away for free.

Neither, it turns out, are true. President and Mrs. Carter are indeed Habitat's most famous volunteers, but they didn't found the organization. And Habitat homes are not free. They are purchased by low-income homebuyers who help build them and then pay an affordable mortgage.

Habitat for Humanity began in 1976 as a grassroots effort on a community farm in southern Georgia. The Christian housing organization has since grown to become a leading global nonprofit working in local communities across all 50 states in the U.S., and in more than 70 countries. To date, Habitat has helped more than 29 million people gain access to new or improved housing.

For many years, a third myth persisted—one that was particularly vexing for the nonprofit's fundraising and communications teams. Habitat for Humanity doesn't need money, the myth went, because all the supplies are donated and volunteers provide all the labor for free. Habitat is a great activity for a Saturday morning, but it isn't a cause that needs financial support.

Of course that's not the case. Habitat depends on financial support to acquire land, employ contractors, secure permits and pay staff. While grassroots in history and culture, the organization—which helped serve more than 7 million people around the world in fiscal year 2019 and is the second-largest private homebuilder in the U.S.—depends on financial support from a wide range of donors, including major corporate partners.

To combat this challenge, Habitat has increased its focus on cause marketing and consumer fundraising. Since concentrating its efforts in 2017 around the theme of home through the organization's signature "Home is the Key" campaign, Habitat has dramatically increased the scope of its corporate partnerships with business allies such as Nissan, At Home stores, Chico'sFAS, and Google Nest. These cause campaigns, together with the long-standing support from other industry leaders such as The Home Depot, Lowe's, Wayfair and Whirlpool, fuel Habitat's work in the U.S. and abroad.

Offering varied ways of engaging has increased Habitat's appeal to corporate partners. Companies can organize employee volunteer days on a Habitat site, donate products for sale in Habitat for Humanity ReStores, or leverage major event sponsorships that offer national media platforms. Increasingly, partners that join Habitat through one channel end up deepening and widening their work with the organization over time.

State Fire Marshal asks you to keep firework use legal, safe

The Office of State Fire Marshal (OSFM), the Oregon Fire Service, natural resource agencies, Oregon licensed fireworks wholesalers, and safety experts are asking Oregonians to "keep it legal and keep it safe" when using all fireworks.

The 2020 Oregon fireworks retail sales season opens June 23 and runs through July 6. The OSFM and its partners want everyone to know what fireworks are legal to use in Oregon without a permit, where they are allowed to be used, and how to use fireworks safely.

"In Oregon, consumer legal fireworks can only be purchased from permitted fireworks retailers and stands," said State Fire Marshal Jim Walker in a press release. "State regulations limit where those fireworks may be used. Starting in July, risks for wildfire in many parts of Oregon will be high. Fireworks can also start structural fires that threaten lives and property, as we have seen in past years."

Residents who plan to visit public lands and parks for the July Fourth holiday are asked to leave all fireworks at home. The use of fireworks is prohibited in national parks and forests, on Bureau of Land Management lands, on U.S. Fish and Wildlife properties, on state beaches, in state parks, and in state campgrounds.

For residents who purchase legal fireworks, the OSFM encourages everyone to practice the four B's of safe fireworks use:

- Be prepared before lighting fireworks: keep water available by using a garden hose or bucket.
- Be safe when lighting fireworks: keep children and pets away from fireworks.
- Be responsible after lighting fireworks: never relight a dud. Wait 15 to 20 minutes then soak it in a bucket of water before disposal.
- Be aware: use only legal fireworks and use them only in legal places.

Oregon law prohibits the possession, use, or sale of any firework that flies into the air, explodes, or travels more than 12 feet horizontally on the ground, without a permit issued by the OSFM. Fireworks commonly called bottle rockets, Roman candles, and firecrackers are illegal in Oregon, without a permit.

For the last reported five years through 2019, there were 1,173 reported fireworks-related fires in Oregon, resulting in more than $4.9 million in property loss and contents damage. During that same period, fires resulting from fireworks resulted in one death and 36 injuries. The data from structural fire agencies do not include incidents that occurred on federal and other state lands.

Officials may seize illegal fireworks and charge offenders with a class B misdemeanor, which could result in a fine of up to $2,500 per violation and a civil penalty of up to $500. Those who misuse fireworks or allow fireworks to cause damage are liable and may be required to pay fire suppression costs or other damage. Parents are also liable for fireworks damage caused by their children.

"All of us share the responsibility to use only Oregon consumer legal fireworks and use them carefully," Walker said. "Please also consider your neighbors and their pets before deciding on when and where you choose to light legal fireworks."

999 Public Notices

THE GARIBALDI CITY COUNCIL REGARDING THE APPEAL OF A PLANNING COMMISSION DETERMINATION OF CONDITIONAL USE APPLICATION 2020-01 NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the GARIBALDI City Council will hold a public hearing virtually on Zoom on July 21, 2020 at 6:30 p.m. The purpose of the hearing is to consider an appeal of CU 2020-01 Planning Commission decision for the development of a 64-unit multi-family dwelling complex. The applicant is requesting for the development of the project through the Conditional Use Process. The Zoom meeting ID is 856-5935-6209, and the password is 739254. Interested parties may also attend by phone at: (446)248-7799

The appeal of the Planning Commission decision is in accordance with Section 18.210.060 of the Garibaldi Zoning Code. The decision by the City Council will be the final decision for this application within City jurisdiction.

The subject property is located on the north side of E. Garibaldi Avenue between Nelson Lane and Martin Smith Drive and is identified on Tillamook County Assessor's Map #1N 10 22BB as tax lot 00100. Persons wishing to participate in the public hearing may appear virtually in person or by representative at the date and time listed above. In addition, written testimony will be received up to one week prior to the public hearing and can be sent to the City of Garibaldi, PO Box 708 Garibaldi, OR 97118. This hearing will be restricted to the record made on the decision being appealed, and no new evidence or testimony not already introduced during the Planning Commission review will be considered. Failure to raise an issue in the hearing, either in person or by letter, or failure to provide sufficient specificity to afford the decision-maker an opportunity to respond to the issue precludes appeal to the Land Use Board of Appeals based on that issue. It is the responsibility of the applicant in this matter to raise constitutional or other issues relating to any proposed conditions of approval. The failure of the applicant to raise such issues with sufficient specificity to allow the City Council to respond to these issues precludes an action for damages in circuit court. A copy of the application and all documents and evidence relied upon by the applicant are available for inspection at no cost and will be provided at a reasonable cost. One week prior to the hearing, a staff report related to this application will be available for inspection at no cost and can be provided at reasonable cost.
