MOM WILL MAKE IT BETTER

As children we always knew that mom had the power to heal. Who hasn't experienced the magic that happened when mom kissed our wounds and made the pain disappear instantly? As we grew older we also experienced her power to heal emotional wounds. When the world outside seemed too cruel to bear she always provided a haven that allowed us to pull ourselves together so that we could face the world again. As adults we know that a phone call home can put a whole new perspective on our problems. A mother's love and knowledge of her child is special. God knows us and loves us, too, even more than we can imagine. On Mother's Day, let your mom know how much her love means to you. Also, remember God's love as you praise Him at your house of worship.
