

Senate Unit Urges Dodd Censure

No Time For Mikes
A story-faced Sen. Thomas Dodd ignores a newsmen's microphone as he heads for the Senate chamber, where he learned that the Ethics Committee had recommended that he be censured for "financial misconduct." (AP Wirephoto)

By E. W. KENWORTHY
A unit of the Senate Ethics Committee recommended Thursday that Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., be "censured" for conduct "contrary to accepted morals" that tended to bring the Senate "into disrepute and disfavor."
The unanimous recommendation of the six-member committee was based on three findings:
That Dodd had diverted to his own use at least $18,000 out of a total of $49,273 received from testimonial funds...

from 1961 to 1965, and from campaign contributions in 1964. That he requested and accepted reimbursement from both the Senate and private organizations for the same travel.
The report also raised the question of possible violations of law. It said the committee had directed the chairman of the committee to refer to the U.S. attorney general the question of an $8,000 contribution to Dodd by the International Ladies Corp., and to refer to the Internal Revenue Service the question of the taxability of...

with honesty and integrity, and the voters of Connecticut, in the year 1950, will be the best judges of my conduct."
Acceptance of the resolution of censure by the Senate would mean that Dodd would be expelled, fined, or lose his seniority, or have to relinquish his chairmanship of the subcommittee on juvenile delinquency or his vice chairmanship of the subcommittee on internal security.
However, because of the severity of the language in the resolution, it is believed Dodd would suffer great hurt within the Senate and probably also in his constituency.

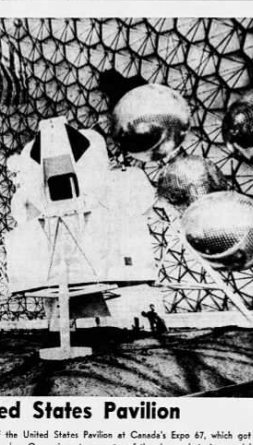

The Dodd case arose from a series of articles beginning on Jan. 24, 1966, by Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson, the Washington columnists, dealing with the relations between Dodd and Julius Klein, a Chicago public relations man.
The gist of the charges in the articles was that Dodd had received "things of value" from Klein for traveling to West Germany in April 1964 and interacting with Klein's clients, including the West German government.
Besides Stennis, the members of the committee, which is formally titled the Select Committee on Standards and Conduct, are: Wallace Bennett, R-Utah, vice chairman; John J. Sherman, Cooper, R-Ky.; James B. Pearson, R-Kan.; Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn.

WEATHER
Forecast For Tucson: Fair, cooler, windy
Temperatures
Yesterday: HIGH 87 LOW 51
Year Ago: HIGH 89 LOW 53
VOL. 126 NO. 117

The Arizona Daily Star FINAL
★ Independent Newspaper Printing The News Impartially ★
TUCSON, ARIZONA, FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 28, 1967 622-5855
TEN CENTS
FORTY-EIGHT PAGES

Irate Solon Threatens NASA

Says He'll Release Report On Apollo
By JACK MILLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William F. Ryan announced Thursday night that if the space agency does not make available a report he says he has already on the Apollo fire, he will release it in full to the press.
At issue is a set of notes called the "Phillips Report," in which an official of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration severely criticized the major contractor for the Apollo spacecraft, North American Aviation, Inc.
Ryan, a New York Democrat, said NASA has been asked for the report and has refused. He said he talked to a NASA official Thursday and was told that NASA does not intend to release the report.
Ryan issued to the press Wednesday what he said were excerpts from the report. And he said Thursday if NASA does not release the full report, he will do so Saturday at 10 a.m. EST.
NASA officials have said making the report public would damage the agency's relationship with North American. Instead, the agency has provided a summary of the findings of Maj. Gen. Samuel S. Phillips, Apollo program director for NASA.
Phillips' report was based on a study of operations at North American's plant in Downey, Calif., in December 1965. As reported in NASA's summary, the study was highly critical of North American. After a follow-up study in April 1966, Phillips said some deficiencies had been corrected.
Ryan's own summary of the report is that it found "incredible mismanagement" by North American and failure by NASA to give proper supervision.

United States Pavilion
This is the inside of the United States Pavilion at Canada's Expo 67, which got under way in Montreal Thursday. Occupying stage center of the above photo is a model of the lunar excursion module, scheduled to land Apollo astronauts on the moon. (AP Wirephoto)

To Observe Buddha's Birthday

Quiet Cong Propose 2-Day Cease-Fire

AID Funds 'Grossly Misused'
WASHINGTON (AP) — Testimony indicates, Sen. John L. McClellan said Thursday, that the use of some funds in the community import program in Vietnam was improper and "of highly questionable legality."
It also indicates, he said, "gross laxity and inefficiency" in the administration of the Agency for International Development — AID — program.
The Arkansas Democrat gave that assessment after three days of testimony before his Permanent Investigations subcommittee concerning alleged fraud and dishonesty in the program where the United States finances the imports.
Testimony at Thursday's session indicated that the Vietnam importer named the Binh Xuan Thai set up a phony $800,000 expense account to promote a worthless hair additive.
The man in charge of the program, assistant AID administrator Rutherford M. Pugh, was questioned for a day and a half.
He acknowledged there were inadequate procedures last year, but said AID has strengthened its controls.
Pugh said the abuses were deplorable but unavoidable at the time due to lack of agency manpower to keep track.
"A very alert administration would have caught it," Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., said at the end of Thursday's hearing.
At the close of these hearings was his case of Thomas Edison Hagler, of Treasure Island, Fla., a 26-year-old inventor of a battery-additive made mostly from spent salts, which the Bureau of Standards has described as "without merit."

Hot Time In Holland
Celebrating the birth of a son to Crown Prince Beatrix Thursday, a crowd that included doctors and nurses danced in Utrecht, Netherlands, on the grounds of the hospital where the child was born. (AP Wirephoto)

Allied Post Heavily Shelled
By BOB GASSAWAY
SAIGON, Friday (AP) — The Viet Cong today proposed a two-day truce next month in observance of Buddha's birthday. That would be twice as long as a cease-fire already suggested by the South Vietnamese government.
On the battlefield, Communist gunners hit an allied post in the demilitarized zone Thursday night with one of the heaviest enemy barrages of the war. Two U.S. Marines were killed and 42 other persons were wounded in this shelling, U.S. headquarters said. In a mortar attack near Hue early Friday, 10 Marines were wounded, it added.
The Viet Cong truce would run from 7 a.m. May 22 to 7 p.m. May 24. The South Vietnamese government previously had proposed a 24-hour truce on Buddha's birthday, May 23.
There was no immediate response from the South Vietnamese government to the Viet Cong proposal. Foreign Minister Tran Van Do has said the Saigon government would be willing to talk with North Vietnam about an extension.

U.S. Delays Two More Space Shots
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The space agency said Thursday that development problems would delay the first unmanned test flights of the Saturn 3 moon rocket and a lunar landing vehicle until the last half of 1967.
Both launches previously were scheduled to occur before the end of June.
The Air Force meanwhile prepared to orbit two nuclear detection satellites and three other military satellites early Friday morning.
A Titan 3 rocket, which has missed three planned launching dates because of problems, is scheduled to blast off between 5:51 a.m. and 8:13 a.m. EST to carry all five satellites to an altitude of 88,000 miles above the earth.
A faulty valve Wednesday caused fuel in the Titan 3 steering system to leak on the launch pad. There were no problems that the rocket's air-conditioning system had sucked in flames that might contaminate the payload, but officials Thursday said tests showed there was no problem.

Expo 67 Given Rousing Sendoff
MONTREAL (AP) — Despite a brief wildcat walkout of 100 or so security men, the Montreal World's Fair was given a rousing sendoff Thursday at a formal opening ceremony complete with cannon, fireworks, sirens and jets.
The curtain raiser of Expo 67 took place in crisp, clear weather. The gates are opening to the public at 9:30 a.m. Friday.
A first day crowd of 120,000 is expected.
The big fair was formally launched at 4 p.m. by Canada's governor-general, Roland Michener.
About 7,000 invited guests attended the ceremony in the amphitheater of the Place des Nations as the flags of 63 participating countries fluttered in the breeze.
The fair is a $775-million project based largely on two islands in the St. Lawrence River. Exhibits spread over 1,000 acres.
For a brief time Thursday morning, it appeared that the inaugural ceremony would be marred by the walkout of security men. For 90 minutes the strike did halt the two major transportation systems — Expo Express, the free elevated railway, and the Montreal, a local elevated system operated by the security men themselves.
Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson lifted Expo's symbolic flame and said, "This is a great day for Montreal, for Quebec and, above all, for Canada."

Hot Time In Holland
Celebrating the birth of a son to Crown Prince Beatrix Thursday, a crowd that included doctors and nurses danced in Utrecht, Netherlands, on the grounds of the hospital where the child was born. (AP Wirephoto)

Army Revolt Against Mao Reported
TOKYO (AP) — Another army revolt against Mao Tse-tung has broken out in Red China's northwest, using an "identification of his power struggle," Peking wall posters reported Thursday.
The condition of the province and far son was reported to be "satisfactory."
The army fired 8000 shells at several places in the country to mark the birth of the baby in the first grandchild of Queen Juliana and her husband, Prince Bernhard, who have four daughters, three of whom are married.
The baby's name has not yet been announced. So far all have-born sons in the House of Orange have been called Willem.
Prince Claus's marriage to Princess Beatrix on March 10 last year created controversy in the Netherlands because he had served in the German Army in World War II when Holland was occupied by the Nazis.
Royalists hope that the birth of a prince will diminish the public's feeling.
The last king of the Netherlands died in 1949. Since then the monarchs have been Queen Emma, Queen Wilhelmina and Queen Juliana.

Today's News Index
Old Pueblo was an Apache hangout 200 years ago, KC
First U.S. check for urban renewal, worth nearly a million, received by city, IB
The bells will ring again in Silver Bell... and they'll be telephone bells, 12C
City directory is lighter by 185 names, but it's the advertising that was cut and not the population, IB
Two thousand seminarians petition McNamara to provide draft exemption for those opposed to Vietnam war, IB
Bridge 90 Financial 80 Pub. Rec. 110
Census 10-11C Horsepower 11C
Crossword 11B Mousy Hires 14C Sports 14D
Editorial 12D Movies 13C Weather 14D

U.S. Delays Two More Space Shots
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The space agency said Thursday that development problems would delay the first unmanned test flights of the Saturn 3 moon rocket and a lunar landing vehicle until the last half of 1967.
Both launches previously were scheduled to occur before the end of June.
The Air Force meanwhile prepared to orbit two nuclear detection satellites and three other military satellites early Friday morning.
A Titan 3 rocket, which has missed three planned launching dates because of problems, is scheduled to blast off between 5:51 a.m. and 8:13 a.m. EST to carry all five satellites to an altitude of 88,000 miles above the earth.
A faulty valve Wednesday caused fuel in the Titan 3 steering system to leak on the launch pad. There were no problems that the rocket's air-conditioning system had sucked in flames that might contaminate the payload, but officials Thursday said tests showed there was no problem.

Gen. Goldwater Ends 'Career'
WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Harry Goldwater ended his career in the Air Force Reserve Thursday.
Goldwater, who was the 1964 Republican presidential candidate, will be feted at a ceremony Sunday at Sky Harbor Airport in Phoenix.

Army Revolt Against Mao Reported
TOKYO (AP) — Another army revolt against Mao Tse-tung has broken out in Red China's northwest, using an "identification of his power struggle," Peking wall posters reported Thursday.
The condition of the province and far son was reported to be "satisfactory."
The army fired 8000 shells at several places in the country to mark the birth of the baby in the first grandchild of Queen Juliana and her husband, Prince Bernhard, who have four daughters, three of whom are married.
The baby's name has not yet been announced. So far all have-born sons in the House of Orange have been called Willem.
Prince Claus's marriage to Princess Beatrix on March 10 last year created controversy in the Netherlands because he had served in the German Army in World War II when Holland was occupied by the Nazis.
Royalists hope that the birth of a prince will diminish the public's feeling.
The last king of the Netherlands died in 1949. Since then the monarchs have been Queen Emma, Queen Wilhelmina and Queen Juliana.

Today's News Index
Old Pueblo was an Apache hangout 200 years ago, KC
First U.S. check for urban renewal, worth nearly a million, received by city, IB
The bells will ring again in Silver Bell... and they'll be telephone bells, 12C
City directory is lighter by 185 names, but it's the advertising that was cut and not the population, IB
Two thousand seminarians petition McNamara to provide draft exemption for those opposed to Vietnam war, IB
Bridge 90 Financial 80 Pub. Rec. 110
Census 10-11C Horsepower 11C
Crossword 11B Mousy Hires 14C Sports 14D
Editorial 12D Movies 13C Weather 14D

Today's News Index
Old Pueblo was an Apache hangout 200 years ago, KC
First U.S. check for urban renewal, worth nearly a million, received by city, IB
The bells will ring again in Silver Bell... and they'll be telephone bells, 12C
City directory is lighter by 185 names, but it's the advertising that was cut and not the population, IB
Two thousand seminarians petition McNamara to provide draft exemption for those opposed to Vietnam war, IB
Bridge 90 Financial 80 Pub. Rec. 110
Census 10-11C Horsepower 11C
Crossword 11B Mousy Hires 14C Sports 14D
Editorial 12D Movies 13C Weather 14D

Yes — According To Latest Gospel
Have The Doves Turned Turtle?
By JAMES RESTON
WASHINGTON — The latest theory in this upside-down war in Vietnam is that a hawk is a dove and a dove is a hawk. This is the new gospel according to our embattled matters. The doves are deceiving the enemy into prolonging the killing, whereas the compassionate hawks are trying to bring the killing to a quick and merciful end.
The awkward thing about these two propositions is that there happens to be some truth in both. No doubt the Vietnam doves are inadvertently helping perpetrate the (Blum in Hanoi) that our divisions here at home will lead eventually to our doom.

Have The Doves Turned Turtle?
By JAMES RESTON
WASHINGTON — The latest theory in this upside-down war in Vietnam is that a hawk is a dove and a dove is a hawk. This is the new gospel according to our embattled matters. The doves are deceiving the enemy into prolonging the killing, whereas the compassionate hawks are trying to bring the killing to a quick and merciful end.
The awkward thing about these two propositions is that there happens to be some truth in both. No doubt the Vietnam doves are inadvertently helping perpetrate the (Blum in Hanoi) that our divisions here at home will lead eventually to our doom.

Have The Doves Turned Turtle?
By JAMES RESTON
WASHINGTON — The latest theory in this upside-down war in Vietnam is that a hawk is a dove and a dove is a hawk. This is the new gospel according to our embattled matters. The doves are deceiving the enemy into prolonging the killing, whereas the compassionate hawks are trying to bring the killing to a quick and merciful end.
The awkward thing about these two propositions is that there happens to be some truth in both. No doubt the Vietnam doves are inadvertently helping perpetrate the (Blum in Hanoi) that our divisions here at home will lead eventually to our doom.

Have The Doves Turned Turtle?
By JAMES RESTON
WASHINGTON — The latest theory in this upside-down war in Vietnam is that a hawk is a dove and a dove is a hawk. This is the new gospel according to our embattled matters. The doves are deceiving the enemy into prolonging the killing, whereas the compassionate hawks are trying to bring the killing to a quick and merciful end.
The awkward thing about these two propositions is that there happens to be some truth in both. No doubt the Vietnam doves are inadvertently helping perpetrate the (Blum in Hanoi) that our divisions here at home will lead eventually to our doom.

Have The Doves Turned Turtle?
By JAMES RESTON
WASHINGTON — The latest theory in this upside-down war in Vietnam is that a hawk is a dove and a dove is a hawk. This is the new gospel according to our embattled matters. The doves are deceiving the enemy into prolonging the killing, whereas the compassionate hawks are trying to bring the killing to a quick and merciful end.
The awkward thing about these two propositions is that there happens to be some truth in both. No doubt the Vietnam doves are inadvertently helping perpetrate the (Blum in Hanoi) that our divisions here at home will lead eventually to our doom.