

WEATHER

Forecast for Tucson: Mostly fair, cooler, windy.

Temperatures Yesterday: HIGH 75 LOW 39

Year Ago: HIGH 64 LOW 35

U.S. Weather Bureau

VOL. 126 NO. 17

Printed at signed shop meter

The Arizona Daily Star

An Independent Newspaper Printing The News Impartially

TUCSON, ARIZONA, TUESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 17, 1967

FINAL

TEN CENTS

622-5815

THIRTY PAGES

Legislators Told County Needs

Reassessment Also Studied

By AL BRADSHAW JR. Star Staff Correspondent

PHOENIX — Junior college and re-assessment were among the major issues presented Monday by the House of Representatives.

The House of Representatives also heard testimony from the Arizona Junior College Board president.

Information compiled by the state junior college board estimates an initial enrollment of nearly 2,000 for the 1967-68 school year.

Fruchtender told a joint session of the Senate and House Education Committees.

Samuel H. Morris

Former Regent Dies In Miami

Lawyer Helped UA In Med School Battle; Always Worked Hard For Education Ideas

Samuel H. Morris, 81, a man responsible for many of Arizona's advances in higher education, died yesterday in the Miami-Inspriration Hospital, Miami, Fla., after a long illness.

A resident of the Glendale-Mesa area, Mr. Morris was one of Arizona's most distinguished citizens and was a powerful influence as a member of the Board of Regents, in the establishment of the University of Arizona's Medical College.

He was a friend of Presidents, since he was a Democratic National Convention delegate from 1940 to 1962.

Former President Harry S. Truman was one of Mr. Morris' favorites. Their friendship dated back to the time before Truman, a member of the U.S. Senate from Missouri, ever thought of becoming vice president.

Mr. Morris, a lawyer, was a member of the University of Arizona State College of Arizona Board of Regents from 1943 to 1951, and from 1955 to 1962. He was president of that organization from 1943 to 1951, and from 1961.

Mr. Morris is the only person ever awarded honorary degrees from all three Arizona universities.

In his farewell address to the board of regents on Dec. 30, 1962, Mr. Morris urged the legislature to provide more money for faculty members and continue expansion of new three schools.

The following may be received honorary doctor of law degrees from the University of Arizona, Arizona State University and Arizona State College-Pagosa from 1943 to 1961.

Mr. Morris was a member of the UA board of regents at the time one board was created to represent all three of the state's institutions of higher learning.

The New Orleans native was a lifelong worker for higher education. His greatest service to the public, many UA board members believe, was in helping to secure salary raises for university and college faculty members. This was done primarily through the UA board.

Mr. Morris came to Arizona in 1939 from New Orleans. He attended public schools in Princeton, N.J., and graduated from the University of Michigan in 1913.

He returned here the same year and was admitted to the Arizona Bar Association after serving as a general law practitioner one year in St. Louis, Mo. He moved to Glendale and became secretary of the Old Dominion Club in 1918, with James E. Mast Sr., he organized the first National Vietnam War Veterans and his Domestic spending program.

(Continued on D-6, Col. 1)

Grand Jury Legality Upheld

Supreme Court May Get Appeal

By VINCE DAVIS

For the second time the Arizona Court of Appeals yesterday held that Superior Court Judge John P. Collins had no authority to order the Pima County "Inquiry probe" grand jury dissolved.

In a supplemental opinion written by Judge John P. Mahoney, the appellate court gave the green light for re-constitution of the grand jury.

"It has never been the intention of this court to stay the grand jury proceeding, the unanimous opinion declared.

It is expected that the matter of the legality of the grand jury, which has a bearing on many cases involving the state's legislative influence to obtain state witness, will be taken immediately to the Arizona State Supreme Court.

Dr. John Barrett, state junior college board chairman, told the committee "we feel we are doing a fine job, from the taxpayers' point of view, educational standpoint."

"It is rather remarkable we were through a period of 40 years of growth in this state without establishing an additional level of higher learning."

Officials from each of the existing and proposed junior college legislatures of their present programs and proposals for future development.

Members of the House Ways and Means Committee, under the chairmanship of Rep. Tony Booth, R-Pima, heard Mr. Arnold, a Denver tax consultant and expert on re-assessment.

Arnold urged the lawmakers to hold informal public hearings to educate the taxpayers on the re-assessment program.

"I suggest you make a very serious effort to tell the taxpayers that this is not a device to produce more revenue," he said. "Everyone tends to get very emotional about taxes."

Arnold also stressed the importance of setting up a program so that Arizona "never again" will have to go through a re-assessment.

He also warned that if the legislature goes so far that it will be held in contempt of the complaining public upon the lawmakers.

The state appraisal division will have ready by April 30 a listing of the full cash value of some 1.3 million property parcels in Arizona.

There would also be a state agency, Arnold said, responsible for valuing all utilities. Some officials associate new values of some utilities, while others are under state jurisdiction.

Because Judge Garrett did not order the jury discharged pursuant to Judge Collins' order, the Appeals Court held Judge Garrett "clearly restrained" his decision to keep the grand jury in session.

Molly stated that the court sees an "essential distinction" between administrative powers and judicial powers — in short, the grand jury's power to investigate and the administrative "hot" power of the Superior Court when the grand jury is issued, Judge Garrett said with a flourish.

"However, even if we accept what we believe was undoubtedly the fact — that the respondent judge had the duty of assignment judge on the question in question — we do not believe that such action gives authority for the order in question."

He added, "a matter of good government that you might take a look at."

Arnold warned that if the legislature goes so far that it will be held in contempt of the complaining public upon the lawmakers.

The state appraisal division will have ready by April 30 a listing of the full cash value of some 1.3 million property parcels in Arizona.

There would also be a state agency, Arnold said, responsible for valuing all utilities. Some officials associate new values of some utilities, while others are under state jurisdiction.

Because Judge Garrett did not order the jury discharged pursuant to Judge Collins' order, the Appeals Court held Judge Garrett "clearly restrained" his decision to keep the grand jury in session.

Molly stated that the court sees an "essential distinction" between administrative powers and judicial powers — in short, the grand jury's power to investigate and the administrative "hot" power of the Superior Court when the grand jury is issued, Judge Garrett said with a flourish.

"However, even if we accept what we believe was undoubtedly the fact — that the respondent judge had the duty of assignment judge on the question in question — we do not believe that such action gives authority for the order in question."

He added, "a matter of good government that you might take a look at."

Arnold warned that if the legislature goes so far that it will be held in contempt of the complaining public upon the lawmakers.

The state appraisal division will have ready by April 30 a listing of the full cash value of some 1.3 million property parcels in Arizona.

There would also be a state agency, Arnold said, responsible for valuing all utilities. Some officials associate new values of some utilities, while others are under state jurisdiction.

Because Judge Garrett did not order the jury discharged pursuant to Judge Collins' order, the Appeals Court held Judge Garrett "clearly restrained" his decision to keep the grand jury in session.

Molly stated that the court sees an "essential distinction" between administrative powers and judicial powers — in short, the grand jury's power to investigate and the administrative "hot" power of the Superior Court when the grand jury is issued, Judge Garrett said with a flourish.

"However, even if we accept what we believe was undoubtedly the fact — that the respondent judge had the duty of assignment judge on the question in question — we do not believe that such action gives authority for the order in question."

He added, "a matter of good government that you might take a look at."

Arnold warned that if the legislature goes so far that it will be held in contempt of the complaining public upon the lawmakers.

The state appraisal division will have ready by April 30 a listing of the full cash value of some 1.3 million property parcels in Arizona.

There would also be a state agency, Arnold said, responsible for valuing all utilities. Some officials associate new values of some utilities, while others are under state jurisdiction.

Because Judge Garrett did not order the jury discharged pursuant to Judge Collins' order, the Appeals Court held Judge Garrett "clearly restrained" his decision to keep the grand jury in session.

Molly stated that the court sees an "essential distinction" between administrative powers and judicial powers — in short, the grand jury's power to investigate and the administrative "hot" power of the Superior Court when the grand jury is issued, Judge Garrett said with a flourish.

"However, even if we accept what we believe was undoubtedly the fact — that the respondent judge had the duty of assignment judge on the question in question — we do not believe that such action gives authority for the order in question."

He added, "a matter of good government that you might take a look at."

Arnold warned that if the legislature goes so far that it will be held in contempt of the complaining public upon the lawmakers.

The state appraisal division will have ready by April 30 a listing of the full cash value of some 1.3 million property parcels in Arizona.

There would also be a state agency, Arnold said, responsible for valuing all utilities. Some officials associate new values of some utilities, while others are under state jurisdiction.

Because Judge Garrett did not order the jury discharged pursuant to Judge Collins' order, the Appeals Court held Judge Garrett "clearly restrained" his decision to keep the grand jury in session.

Molly stated that the court sees an "essential distinction" between administrative powers and judicial powers — in short, the grand jury's power to investigate and the administrative "hot" power of the Superior Court when the grand jury is issued, Judge Garrett said with a flourish.

"However, even if we accept what we believe was undoubtedly the fact — that the respondent judge had the duty of assignment judge on the question in question — we do not believe that such action gives authority for the order in question."

14 Miles From Hanoi N. Viet Oil Depot Hammered By U.S.

Ground Action Continuing

By ROBERT D. OHMAN

SAGON (AP) — U.S. fighter-bombers hammered an oil depot within 10 miles of Hanoi yesterday. Pilots said they ignited Communist MiGs, but one challenged them in the closest major strike to the North Vietnam capital since the victory last month over Hanoi's claims of civilian casualties.

In the biggest ground operation of the war, allied troops methodically cleared a Viet Cong jungle road 20 miles north of Saigon. The rubble of planes supporting 30,000 American and Vietnamese soldiers in Operation Cedar Falls could be heard in the South Vietnamese capital.

The U.S. supercock jet pounded the road, allied troops methodically cleared a Viet Cong jungle road 20 miles north of Saigon. The rubble of planes supporting 30,000 American and Vietnamese soldiers in Operation Cedar Falls could be heard in the South Vietnamese capital.

"We're not trying to take anything away from North Vietnam except their appetite for conquest in South Vietnam," Rusk told newsmen after a four-hour foreign policy report to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Rusk closed-off report listed a renewed effort of the official Senate inquiry into the U.S. position in Vietnam.

Sen. Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, said it is the duty of Congress to question American policy and to force a re-examination.

"It shouldn't be allowed to pass without being challenged," said Fulbright, a prominent critic of the U.S. stand in southeast Asia.

Fulbright said the fundamental issue is whether the war is "an national interest," and he expressed hope that escalation has not reached the "point of no return."

Some bodies had been buried — lives and kidneys removed.

In other action yesterday, U.S. B-52 bombers made 10 minutes at Communist base camps south of Saigon. A B-52D on the South China Sea was shot down by Communist fighters, U.S. pilots flew 100 miles north of Hanoi, including the Viet Tri refinery.

The Viet Tri refinery was encircled but not hit. Communist forces were reported to have destroyed the plant.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

14 Miles From Hanoi N. Viet Oil Depot Hammered By U.S.

Ground Action Continuing

By ROBERT D. OHMAN

SAGON (AP) — U.S. fighter-bombers hammered an oil depot within 10 miles of Hanoi yesterday. Pilots said they ignited Communist MiGs, but one challenged them in the closest major strike to the North Vietnam capital since the victory last month over Hanoi's claims of civilian casualties.

In the biggest ground operation of the war, allied troops methodically cleared a Viet Cong jungle road 20 miles north of Saigon. The rubble of planes supporting 30,000 American and Vietnamese soldiers in Operation Cedar Falls could be heard in the South Vietnamese capital.

The U.S. supercock jet pounded the road, allied troops methodically cleared a Viet Cong jungle road 20 miles north of Saigon. The rubble of planes supporting 30,000 American and Vietnamese soldiers in Operation Cedar Falls could be heard in the South Vietnamese capital.

"We're not trying to take anything away from North Vietnam except their appetite for conquest in South Vietnam," Rusk told newsmen after a four-hour foreign policy report to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Rusk closed-off report listed a renewed effort of the official Senate inquiry into the U.S. position in Vietnam.

Sen. Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, said it is the duty of Congress to question American policy and to force a re-examination.

"It shouldn't be allowed to pass without being challenged," said Fulbright, a prominent critic of the U.S. stand in southeast Asia.

Fulbright said the fundamental issue is whether the war is "an national interest," and he expressed hope that escalation has not reached the "point of no return."

Some bodies had been buried — lives and kidneys removed.

In other action yesterday, U.S. B-52 bombers made 10 minutes at Communist base camps south of Saigon. A B-52D on the South China Sea was shot down by Communist fighters, U.S. pilots flew 100 miles north of Hanoi, including the Viet Tri refinery.

The Viet Tri refinery was encircled but not hit. Communist forces were reported to have destroyed the plant.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

The fire was the second in a month to hit Chicago's convention center, the oldest and largest structure of its kind in the world, which was to open at McCormick Place Feb. 11.

The national best show scheduled to open at McCormick Place last in March had been expected to attract 300,000 visitors.

14 Miles From Hanoi N. Viet Oil Depot Hammered By U.S.

Ground Action Continuing

By ROBERT D. OHMAN

SAGON (AP) — U.S. fighter-bombers hammered an oil depot within 10 miles of Hanoi yesterday. Pilots said they ignited Communist MiGs, but one challenged them in the closest major strike to the North Vietnam capital since the victory last month over Hanoi's claims of civilian casualties.

In the biggest ground operation of the war, allied troops methodically cleared a Viet Cong jungle road 20 miles north of Saigon. The rubble of planes supporting 30,000 American and Vietnamese soldiers in Operation Cedar Falls could be heard in the South Vietnamese capital.

The U.S. supercock jet pounded the road, allied troops methodically cleared a Viet Cong jungle road 20 miles north of Saigon. The rubble of planes supporting 30,000 American and Vietnamese soldiers in Operation Cedar Falls could be heard in the South Vietnamese capital.

"We're not trying to take anything away from North Vietnam except their appetite for conquest in South Vietnam," Rusk told newsmen after a four-hour foreign policy report to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Rusk closed-off report listed a renewed effort of the official Senate inquiry into the U.S. position in Vietnam.

Sen. Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, said it is the duty of Congress to question American policy and to force a re-examination.