

LITTLE ORPHANS

FEAST ON TURKEY

Thanksgiving Day Observed at St. Joseph's With Songs and Recitations

The seventy little tots at the St. Joseph's orphanage had a splendid feast yesterday noon at their Thanksgiving dinner, and the dinner which the Sisters provided for them was like something they had read about in fairy stories—only better.

The Sisters received many gifts from people in the city to aid them in preparing the dinner. It was served at 12 o'clock, and in the afternoon there were recitations and songs to make the day seem "different." The menu was:

Chicken Soup
Celery		Cranberries
Mashed Potatoes		Sweet Potatoes
Roast Turkey with Dressing
Mixed Pickles		Combination Salad
Mince Pie		Pumpkin Pie
Candy	Nuts	Apples

Indian Girls Entertained

A feature of the Thanksgiving observance at the Indian Training school yesterday was an entertainment given by the older boys of the school to the older set of girls in the parlor of the girls' dormitory.
