

Proposed congressional districts in Tucson area

This map shows how the Independent Redistricting Commission proposes to split Tucson into two congressional districts. Mayor Regina Romero, a Democrat, says that while a split makes sense, this proposed division is unfair because it separates the University of Arizona from downtown, among other issues.

