KELLY PRESNELL

Presnell is a Star photographer, and his keen eye and insatiable curiosity have resulted in some stunning pictures. His wrapping paper: Neon Tucson is from a photo essay Presnell did on neon signs in the Old Pueblo. Each letter in the word "Tucson" is from a different neon sign around town. "I tried to vary the shots as much as possible, throwing in some long exposures, motion, angles," says Presnell. "It took the better part of a year. There's a lot of neon in Tucson." Website: See his neon project at tucson.com/neon; while there, check out his other photo essays.
