

WAR VICTIM WAS ARIZONA COWBOY

BISBEE, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Pvt. William Floyd Shields, the state's first announced casualty in the war with Japan, was a southern Arizona cowboy before joining the army.

He had been employed on ranches near Douglas and Tombstone and in Pima county.

His father, John Clyde Shields, a goat rancher near Elfrida, at one time was a Santa Cruz county deputy sheriff and in 1931 and 1932 was a cattle inspector in the Bisbee district.
