

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU TUCSON AND VICINITY. Clear skies and mostly light breeze. Temperature: 70-80. Wind: Light to moderate. Visibility: 10 miles. Relative humidity: 60-70. Precipitation: 0.00-0.00.

PETITIONERS SEEK 1948 BALLOT ON LABOR MEASURE

Bill Implementing 'Right To Work' Amendment May Be Suspended

By ROGER OSMARA

Organized labor in Arizona has apparently won a two-year reprieve from the effect of a bill passed by the state legislature to put teeth in the "right to work" amendment adopted at last election. Petitioners, asking that Senate Bill No. 65 be put on the ballot in 1948 as a referendum measure, have been placed in circulation and according to state law, when they are adequately signed, will be handed to the secretary of state the measure's operation will be suspended pending an election.

Since slightly more than 600 signatures are needed on such a petition, it is regarded as a reasonable conclusion that labor will be able to submit the referendum request. The measure would require that the legislature adjourn— a legal requirement. Provides Civil Action. Senate bill No. 65 has almost the same effect as the constitutional amendment which was adopted to prohibit the denial of membership in a labor organization, but it contains a section making a person who violates the law liable to a civil suit. It also makes labor unions liable. The measure is signed by both houses and signed by the governor last fall. It contains an emergency clause and is therefore not operative for 90 days after it is signed.

The "Right to Work" amendment was the subject of heated controversy prior to the last election and to some extent cleared interest in races between candidates. Promoted as a measure to outlaw closed shop contracts, it carried in all counties and states that have signed several test suits which have not yet been decided. The suits in general question the constitutionality of the law.

Petitioners Circulated. The Arizona Labor Journal, which is published by the Arizona State Federation of Labor, states that sufficient petitions, totaling 40,000 names have been put into circulation to refer the bill to a vote of the people.

The petitions are being circulated throughout the state, and in Tucson are being handed out by Humphreys, business agent of Painters Local 105.

In its article on the circulation of the petition, the labor newspaper states that while the amendment, as it now is, will cripple labor unions seriously and effectively, it will completely wipe out active bargaining. Senate Bill No. 65 will completely wipe out active bargaining in the state.

It states that the legislature proposed to assume the measure was a "mandate" of the people, and that pressure was brought on the legislators almost entirely by big campaign and big farmers, "a group that has not been affected by labor unions directly."

It adds: "The state code books believe the people voted for the right to work amendment, but they were misled by false state-wide and malicious propaganda."

Procedure Outlined. The state code books state that the legislature or five per cent of the qualified electors may petition the submission to the people a measure enacted by the state legislature with a few exceptions concerning public peace or health, etc. In the notes to decisions, the code states that a referendum petition nullifies the vote of the legislature approving the measure and it can only be come law when approved by the voters.

The legislature adjourned in the middle of March, giving the unions the opportunity to get their petitions in before the middle of June to prevent the law's becoming effective.

Supreme Court Hears Re-Argument on Land Trade Case Thursday

PHOENIX, April 15.—(AP)—One of the state's most complicated legal tangles is scheduled to be reviewed next Thursday when the supreme court of Arizona hears oral arguments of the controversial final count in a land trade case.

The case centers around the trading by the old state land board in 1941 of 1,446 acres of irrigated and improved land in the state of Arizona for 1,280 acres of desert land. At earlier hearings, it has been brought out that the transfer was accomplished through a series of deceptive or other legally required steps.

Gov. Sidney P. Olson started proceedings to recover the land and the litigation has continued intermittently since then.

FILE IS PREVALENT. PHOENIX, April 15.—(AP)—The most prevalent communicable disease in Arizona during the week ended last Saturday, the department of health reported today. A total of 167 cases of the disease were reported. The total number of all diseases was 421 cases, compared with 326 the previous week.

Reynolds' 'Bombshell' Makes 'It Round World in 79 Hours'

NEW YORK, April 16.—(Wireless)—(AP)—The Reynolds "bombshell" plan roared over La Guardia Field at 12:03 p. m. (EST) today, completing a round-the-world flight in 79 hours after taking off from La Guardia at 5:11 p. m. (EST) last Saturday. The arrival signal at 5:11 p. m. (EST) will be heard by 10,000,000 people in 14 states and 11 countries. The official arrival time was announced by Capt. Kenneth R. Berry, manager of La Guardia Field, who has now had the "bombshell" original takeoff.

Log of the Reynolds' "Bombshell" will be heard by turning to Page 3. Capt. William Odum, 28-year-old veteran of Burma, Timor, Ceylon, set the plane down on the water in two minutes after touching over the perimeter of the field. No official timing was made of the actual landing. The reconstructed plane made flight engineer, stepped out of the plane and was greeted by a group of photographers and plane to pose for photographers and a group of well-wishers through police lines to greet the plane. The route followed by the "bombshell" was: London, England; Paris, France; Rome, Italy; Cairo, Egypt; Karachi, India; Shanghai, China; Tokyo, Japan; Alaska; and Edmonton.

Opposition to Rincon Village Incorporation Develops Here

Sahuro Forest Associates Forms Group With Possible Interest in Proposed Village's Land Acquisition East of Wilmot Road

Probable opposition to the proposed incorporation of a large area east of Tucson into a municipality to be known as Rincon Village, developed Monday night when a group of citizens met at the headquarters of the organization of a new city group named the Sahuro Forest Associates. Following formal organization, the group discussed the proposed incorporation of Rincon Village, which would include the area between the Rincon Mountains and the Rincon Mountains, and especially as to the construction and maintenance of highways, and then authorized appointment of a committee to look into the matter. Charles B. Maguire, city landscape engineer, was named as chairman of the group, asked for a prompt committee report.

100 Square Miles. Sahuro Forest Associates, located in an area of approximately 100 square miles, is bounded on the north by the Rincon Mountains, on the south by the Coronado National forest, and on the east by the Rincon Mountains. The eastern boundary was set by the group, including the Rincon Mountains, and on the south by the Rincon Mountains. The eastern boundary was set by the group, including the Rincon Mountains, and on the south by the Rincon Mountains.

The group is interested in the proposed Rincon Village incorporation only insofar as it affects their property lying east of Wilmot road. The proposed village, if originally envisioned, would extend for one mile from Wilmot road to the Rincon Mountains.

Opposition Voiced. While the organization did not go on record regarding the incorporation, preferring first to receive a report from the incorporation, several members expressed their opposition to the incorporation on the grounds that it would not include properly to acquire and maintain roads without paying high taxes. The incorporation would be sufficient to care for its own roads.

Maguire said one of the main objections of Sahuro Forest Associates is to promote paved highways and the construction of bridges where needed. He added that he had no objection to the incorporation of the area, but that he was not in favor of the incorporation of the area.

Maguire said he had no objection to the incorporation of the area, but that he was not in favor of the incorporation of the area.

Ex-Trading Post Owner Held For Bribery in Gaming Drive

ST. JOHNS, April 15.—(AP)—J. Berry, former operator of a trading post on the Rio Grande and an important figure in the northern Arizona gambling case, was held in the Apache county jail here tonight pending payment of $20,000 bond on a charge of offering a bribe to Chief Criminal Deputy Emilio Garcia of Apache county.

Garcia is the fourth person arrested in connection with a drive to close the trading post. He was charged with offering a bribe to Garcia. He was charged with offering a bribe to Garcia. He was charged with offering a bribe to Garcia.

Sullivan and Hendricks face charges of offering a bribe to Garcia. He was charged with offering a bribe to Garcia. He was charged with offering a bribe to Garcia.

WE WILL FIGHT, SCHWELLENBACH SAYS OF STRIKE

Labor Chief's Arbitration Plan Refused; Disputants Scored by Secretary

WASHINGTON, April 15.—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Harold L. Ickes today said that "we will fight" the proposed arbitration plan of the American Federation of Labor (AFL) in the case of the telephone strike. Ickes said that the AFL plan was "a fair and reasonable plan" but that he was not in favor of it. He said that he was not in favor of the AFL plan because it was not in the interest of the public.

Schwellessbach said in a radio broadcast that he was not in favor of the AFL plan. He said that he was not in favor of the AFL plan because it was not in the interest of the public. He said that he was not in favor of the AFL plan because it was not in the interest of the public.

Refer to the public utility nature of the telephone industry. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system.

Refer to the public utility nature of the telephone industry. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system.

Refer to the public utility nature of the telephone industry. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system.

Refer to the public utility nature of the telephone industry. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system.

Refer to the public utility nature of the telephone industry. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system.

Refer to the public utility nature of the telephone industry. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system.

Refer to the public utility nature of the telephone industry. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system.

Refer to the public utility nature of the telephone industry. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system.

Refer to the public utility nature of the telephone industry. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system.

Refer to the public utility nature of the telephone industry. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system.

Refer to the public utility nature of the telephone industry. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system. The health and safety of the public depends upon the continuous operation of the telephone system.

TRUMAN ASKS ARMS EXPORT BAN; DEMOCRATS, FEW, FLAY WALLACE; MARSHALL SEES USR SABOTAGE

White House Action Foreseen By Veteran Group Chiefman

Ex-Cabinet Member Sees America Short, Says Sen. Lucas, Terming Touring Speaker 'Merchant of Confusion'

WASHINGTON, April 15.—(AP)—Talk of possible congressional passage of a law to ban the export of arms to Russia and other countries was the subject of a White House statement today. The statement said that the White House was "not in a position to comment" on the proposed legislation.

Senator Wallace, who has been touring the country, was the subject of a White House statement today. The statement said that the White House was "not in a position to comment" on the proposed legislation.

Senator Wallace, who has been touring the country, was the subject of a White House statement today. The statement said that the White House was "not in a position to comment" on the proposed legislation.

Senator Wallace, who has been touring the country, was the subject of a White House statement today. The statement said that the White House was "not in a position to comment" on the proposed legislation.

Senator Wallace, who has been touring the country, was the subject of a White House statement today. The statement said that the White House was "not in a position to comment" on the proposed legislation.

Senator Wallace, who has been touring the country, was the subject of a White House statement today. The statement said that the White House was "not in a position to comment" on the proposed legislation.

Senator Wallace, who has been touring the country, was the subject of a White House statement today. The statement said that the White House was "not in a position to comment" on the proposed legislation.

Senator Wallace, who has been touring the country, was the subject of a White House statement today. The statement said that the White House was "not in a position to comment" on the proposed legislation.

Senator Wallace, who has been touring the country, was the subject of a White House statement today. The statement said that the White House was "not in a position to comment" on the proposed legislation.

Senator Wallace, who has been touring the country, was the subject of a White House statement today. The statement said that the White House was "not in a position to comment" on the proposed legislation.

Senator Wallace, who has been touring the country, was the subject of a White House statement today. The statement said that the White House was "not in a position to comment" on the proposed legislation.

Senator Wallace, who has been touring the country, was the subject of a White House statement today. The statement said that the White House was "not in a position to comment" on the proposed legislation.

Senator Wallace, who has been touring the country, was the subject of a White House statement today. The statement said that the White House was "not in a position to comment" on the proposed legislation.

Senator Wallace, who has been touring the country, was the subject of a White House statement today. The statement said that the White House was "not in a position to comment" on the proposed legislation.

An Independent Newspaper Printing the News Impartially

ASKS CONGRESS FOR CHANGE IN NEUTRALITY ACT

Would Try Munitions to World Trouble-Makers, President States

WASHINGTON, April 15.—(AP)—President Truman asked Congress today for revision of the neutrality act to empower the government to ban arm shipments destined for any international "trouble-maker." He said in a special message that the government must be able to "change the eyes" of American weapons to "changes in the international situation."

In effect, he was asking Congress to amend the neutrality act so that it would prohibit the export of arms to any country which is engaged in a "trouble-making" activity. He said that the government must be able to "change the eyes" of American weapons to "changes in the international situation."

Truman proposed that section 12 of the neutrality act be amended so that it would prohibit the export of arms to any country which is engaged in a "trouble-making" activity. He said that the government must be able to "change the eyes" of American weapons to "changes in the international situation."

Truman proposed that section 12 of the neutrality act be amended so that it would prohibit the export of arms to any country which is engaged in a "trouble-making" activity. He said that the government must be able to "change the eyes" of American weapons to "changes in the international situation."

Truman proposed that section 12 of the neutrality act be amended so that it would prohibit the export of arms to any country which is engaged in a "trouble-making" activity. He said that the government must be able to "change the eyes" of American weapons to "changes in the international situation."

Truman proposed that section 12 of the neutrality act be amended so that it would prohibit the export of arms to any country which is engaged in a "trouble-making" activity. He said that the government must be able to "change the eyes" of American weapons to "changes in the international situation."

Truman proposed that section 12 of the neutrality act be amended so that it would prohibit the export of arms to any country which is engaged in a "trouble-making" activity. He said that the government must be able to "change the eyes" of American weapons to "changes in the international situation."

Truman proposed that section 12 of the neutrality act be amended so that it would prohibit the export of arms to any country which is engaged in a "trouble-making" activity. He said that the government must be able to "change the eyes" of American weapons to "changes in the international situation."

Truman proposed that section 12 of the neutrality act be amended so that it would prohibit the export of arms to any country which is engaged in a "trouble-making" activity. He said that the government must be able to "change the eyes" of American weapons to "changes in the international situation."

Truman proposed that section 12 of the neutrality act be amended so that it would prohibit the export of arms to any country which is engaged in a "trouble-making" activity. He said that the government must be able to "change the eyes" of American weapons to "changes in the international situation."

Truman proposed that section 12 of the neutrality act be amended so that it would prohibit the export of arms to any country which is engaged in a "trouble-making" activity. He said that the government must be able to "change the eyes" of American weapons to "changes in the international situation."

Truman proposed that section 12 of the neutrality act be amended so that it would prohibit the export of arms to any country which is engaged in a "trouble-making" activity. He said that the government must be able to "change the eyes" of American weapons to "changes in the international situation."

Truman proposed that section 12 of the neutrality act be amended so that it would prohibit the export of arms to any country which is engaged in a "trouble-making" activity. He said that the government must be able to "change the eyes" of American weapons to "changes in the international situation."

Truman proposed that section 12 of the neutrality act be amended so that it would prohibit the export of arms to any country which is engaged in a "trouble-making" activity. He said that the government must be able to "change the eyes" of American weapons to "changes in the international situation."

Truman proposed that section 12 of the neutrality act be amended so that it would prohibit the export of arms to any country which is engaged in a "trouble-making" activity. He said that the government must be able to "change the eyes" of American weapons to "changes in the international situation."

PHOENIX, April 15.—(AP)—The state's most complicated legal tangles is scheduled to be reviewed next Thursday when the supreme court of Arizona hears oral arguments of the controversial final count in a land trade case.

Bela Gramer Hanged, British Clam Down

JERUSALEM, Wednesday, April 16.—(AP)—The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine.

The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine. The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine.

The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine. The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine.

The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine. The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine.

The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine. The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine.

The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine. The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine.

The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine. The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine.

The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine. The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine.

The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine. The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine.

The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine. The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine.

The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine. The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine.

The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine. The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine.

The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine. The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine.

The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine. The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine.

The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine. The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine.

The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine. The British government today announced that it had hanged Bela Gramer, a Hungarian spy, and that it had agreed to a "clam down" in the British military position in Palestine.