

5-column grid

Digging in

Two major mining projects have been proposed in Southern Arizona. Australian mining company South32 plans to expand its operation in the Patagonia Mountains to mine for zinc and manganese, while Canada-based Faraday Copper plans an open-pit and underground copper mine in the Galiuro Mountains near Mammoth.

