Depression to End in July, Says Dawes, and Proves It

Human Nature to Be Answer to Seemingly Insurmountable Difficulties, He States; Pessimists Too 'Darned' Government-Minded, Declares Fines Financier

By W. A. MATHEWS "America is on the verge of a real economic recovery. Natural forces of human nature are definitely working for recovery and in May of this year and positively not later than July we will know that depression is over."

Thus without any aids or aids, in language of unmistakable clarity and meaning, emphasized with continuous assurance by his famous underlying paper, spoke Charles C. Dawes, former vice president of the United States...

DELAY IN BONUS ACTION IS SEEN BY LEGISLATURE

Solons May Have Chance to Vote on Both of Proposed Bills

PHOENIX, March 9.—(AP)—House passage of the bonus bill today became doubtful today when leaders agreed upon highly unusual procedure designed to assure a clear test on inflation.

The understanding was that at least 10 days and perhaps 15 hours of debate — enough to consume three normal days' work — would be required.
