

CONTINUED MILD. Clearing skies and little change in temperature are forecast for the area today. The high temperature today should be near 80, with tomorrow morning's low near 45. Yesterday's high and low temperatures were 80 and 52.

Two more inches of snow blew into sections of Montana yesterday on the icy winds of another winter storm that dropped temperatures to near zero. Details on Page 4A.

Global

OPIUM COMPENSATION. The United States will pay Turkey for a ban on the opium poppy. Turkish farmers will be paid to substitute wheat oilseed and animal feed crops for poppies. The amount the U.S. will pay remains a closely guarded secret. The ban will start next year. Page 9B.

EUROPEAN SUMMIT. The Common Market nations agree to approach Britain and three other candidates for membership about a summit meeting next year. They seek to form a common front for dealing with the U.S. and the Soviet Union. Page 11A.

GRAIN SOLD TO RUSSIA. The administration announces that $136 million worth of feed grain has been sold to the Soviet Union. Keys to the sale were the agreement of longshore unions, which had previously opposed loading such shipments, and uneasiness among Midwestern farmers facing huge grain surpluses. Page 6A.

INDIA-PAKISTAN RELATIONS. Mrs. Indira Gandhi says she will not consider pulling troops back from a border confrontation with Pakistan. She says the troop movements hide the real issue of self-determination for East Pakistan. Page 9A.

SCHOOL BUSING ISSUE. A long congressional battle is expected after the House's action on a bill to promote integration of schools. The House approves Nixon's request for $1.5 billion but forbids the use of any federal money to pay for busing. It also forbids education officials from encouraging busing. Page 8A.

SUPREME COURT NOMINEE. Sen. Edward Kennedy raises questions about the "stature" of Supreme Court nominee William H. Rehnquist. He says the advice given to President Nixon on constitutional issues has been faulty. Page 7D.

DELINQUENT TAXES. Several musicians, nightclubs and bars, radio stations, restaurants and health care facilities in Tucson owe state or federal taxes — a few from several years back. Among those who owe taxes are Travis Edmondson, one of the city's best known musicians, and Gregory Millar, director of the Tucson Symphony Orchestra. Page 1B.

GAY LIBERATION. Like members of other minorities, homosexuals have organized to push for public understanding and the elimination of both subtle and official discrimination. Second in a series. Page 2B.

SHERIFF'S FINALISTS. A list of nine names is announced from which the next Pima County Sheriff will be selected. The finalists will be interviewed Monday and a selection is possible sometime next week. Page 1B.

Full Chinese Delegation Due At U.N. Next Week

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations got official word from Peking Friday that the first Chinese Communist envoys will arrive here Monday and a full delegation to the General Assembly Wednesday or Thursday.

Officials and diplomats had been waiting for that information since the 131-nation assembly ousted the Republic of China and voted in the People's Republic of China Oct. 25.

A cable from Chi Peng-fei, China's acting foreign minister, informed Secretary-General U Thant that its delegation to the 26th session of the assembly "will leave Peking on Nov. 9 and will arrive at United Nations headquarters on Nov. 10 or 11."

The cable added: "Kao Liang (secretary) and five other advance men will arrive on the eighth." That means 16 Communist Chinese delegates will reach here within the next week.

Chi had already sent Thant the names of 10 members making up the delegation to the assembly. The head of the assembly delegation, Chiao Kuan-hua, is a deputy foreign minister.

The deputy head, Huang Hua, is being transferred from Ottawa, where he has been ambassador since July. Huang Hua will be China's permanent representative on the U.N. Security Council.

Workmen were painting in the dark two nights ago and cement sidewalks were laid as late as Thursday afternoon. Hammers and cans of paint and cleansing powder were strewn about last night. Among the work remaining to be done are the installation of more brick sidewalks and putting the outside fountain in working order.

Nonetheless, the building drew unanimous plaudits last night from the 500 city leaders, mass media representatives and other visitors attending a preview of the cultural center.

"This is a great living testimonial made possible by this community," said outgoing Mayor James N. Corbett.

"Absolutely magnificent," said Howard A. Shiff, chairman of the city Planning and Zoning Commission. "It's been a long time coming."

And outgoing city councilman Conrad Joyner said, "It's a real treat, after you've worked on something for eight years, to see it really happen."

Today's ceremonies begin at 9:45 a.m. with a concert by the Luke Air Force Band.

James Falk, special assistant to the President for domestic affairs, will deliver a message. Falk is a former Tucson lawyer and former president of the Tucson Transit Authority.

Ribbon-cutting honors will be shared by Oliver Drachman, chairman of the Community Center Commission; Harry Chambers, chairman of the Community Center Authority; and Corbett.

After the ceremonies, the public will have an opportunity to tour the center's arena, exhibition hall and music hall until 5:30 p.m.

Meanwhile, there will be continuous entertainment in the Community Center Plaza by the Air Force band, the Loren Nickel Orchestra, Cal Lewallen Rock Group, Tucson Boys' Chorus, Ballet Folklorico de Guadalajara, Estudiantina de Hermosillo, the Ev Martin Orchestra and Los Payadores de Pueblo.

At 2 p.m., Fiedler will ride by the center aboard a fire truck.

Continuous entertainment will also be provided Sunday during another open house from noon to 5:30 p.m. Monday will also be an open house day from noon to 5 p.m.
