

Have You Been Separated From Your Child(ren)?

U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement may be able to help you locate your child(ren) if you became separated during the immigration process.

You can ask for help locating and/or getting in contact with your child(ren) by making the following phone calls:

- If you need assistance locating your child(ren) or setting up regular communication with your child(ren), call the Detention Reporting Information Line at 1-888-351-4024.
- If you know that your child(ren) is in the custody of the U.S. Government, call the Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR) Parent Hotline at 1-800-203-7001.

ICE and ORR work together to locate children, verify the parent/child relationship, and set up regular communication and removal coordination, if necessary.
