

WEATHER Forecast for Tucson: Mostly fair clear, warm

Chinese Army's Cofounder Loses Political Post

2 Marshals Ousted From Party Positions; Mao Calls Military Alert Along Borders

TOKYO (AP) — Mao Tse-tung's purge shook up Red China's supreme military policymaking organ Sunday on the heels of an army takeover in Peking and a military alert along frontiers facing the Soviet Union and the coast areas from Nationalist China, a Japanese dispatch reported.

It said Marshals Chu Teh and Lin Biao were ousted from the Military Commission of the Chinese Communist party. Chu is 50, a cofounder with Mao of China's Red Army.

All the same time, a Peking broadcast quoted Mao as saying "very small number" of intellectuals rely on overtures of his party leadership in an effort to return China to "the old society," presumably meaning the days before the Communist seizure of power.

The Japanese Kyodo news service said in a Peking dispatch all high schools have ordered reopened March 1. This could be interpreted as an effort by Maoists to calm down the activities of Mao's youthful Red Guards.

All schools were ordered closed in September for a year to permit Red Guard students to purge Mao's party of President Lin Biao and his followers. Elementary schools were ordered reopened last week and

Politics In Arizona

The current session of the Arizona Legislature has diverted the importance of the forthcoming Tucson primary and general elections.

Mayor Lew Davis, a Republican who hasn't decided whether to seek reelection, says there is "tremendous citizen interest" in the city election, despite the fact the Legislature has been claiming much of the news space and radio-TV air time.

And there had better be, he asserted, because this time the voters will be electing a mayor and three members of the council for full four-year terms.

Well, he's right, because — The Democrats need elect only a mayor or one councilman to retain control of the municipal government.

Conversely, the Republicans will have to win the majority and all three council seats to regain the control they lost in the last election.

Despite the mayor's reluctance to commit himself on running, there is a general feeling in the city that he has little choice but to surrender to the Democrats, and this he's not likely to do.

Davis will be served by a mayor for six years when his present four-year term ends in December. The new mayor and council will be installed Dec. 7, Terms formerly were for two years but now are for four.

Republican terms expiring this year along with Davis' are those of Councilmen G. Freeman Woods, Ward 2, and James Sordahl, Ward 4.

The only Democrat competing for his term is Councilman James N. Corbett Jr., Ward 2 (Continued on 2A, Col. 1)

The Arizona Daily Star

An Independent Newspaper Printing The News Impartially

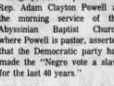

TUCSON, ARIZONA, MONDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 13, 1967

FINAL TEN CENTS

622-8855 TWENTY-TWO PAGES

Negroes Urged To Back GOP

'Even Goldwater' Would Get Support

Gregory, here to preach for Rev. Adam Clayton Powell at the morning service of the Abyssinian Baptist Church here, said it was his belief that the Democratic party had made the "Negro vote a slave for the last 40 years."

He said that Negroes should push the party by voting Republican.

Asked whether Negroes should support a Republican like former Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, who ran against President Johnson in 1964 and was branded a right-wing politician, Gregory replied:

"Yes, the right wing can't hurt us."

Inevitably, he said, Negroes have ended up with the "welter of the two evils." He added that such was the case when Johnson was elected.

Gregory said that Negroes have "to stop voting for the lesser of two evils." He said that the only way to do this was to vote for a new protesting tool.

The comedian made his remarks after his sermon, a sermon that kept the faith in the best traditions of Powell.

Gregory called for support of a nationwide strike by Negroes Monday, saying it was but the first of many work stoppages to force a new protesting tool.

"We're going to burn his pocket," Gregory said, alluding to the economic power structure.

Asked later how many he expected to participate in the strike, Gregory replied that he had no idea. He added, "You'll run a revolution with figures."

The strike was announced a month ago by the National Committee to Reelect Powell, which Gregory leads. The main thrust of the strike is in Detroit, where the idea originated, Gregory said.

He said that letters were sent to churches and organizations in 150 cities urging them to support the strike. He said that Negro leaders throughout the nation would go to Detroit Monday to help organize a second strike at once unspecified date.

Truck Accident Claims Life Of Ajo Resident

An Ajo woman became the victim of a fatal traffic fatality of 1967 when the pickup truck she was driving rolled over yesterday morning on State Route 88, 21 miles west of Tucson.

Mary Lopez Comargo, 42, was dead on arrival at St. Mary's Hospital, injured in the accident and in satisfactory condition, were Nancy, 25, Juanita, 21, and Alvarez, 4, all of Ajo.

All four were thrown from the cab of the truck after it ran off the road on a curve and rolled over one and a quarter times.

Mrs. Alvarez's body was taken to Adair-Purser Home.

Today's News Index

Checks Out All Peace Efforts

LBJ Delays Renewal Of N. Viet Bombings

Barre but for a towel these young men roll in the snow they taking a warm bath at Barlett, N.H. Most in New England did not feel so incited as the merry dipped well below zero.

N-Weapons Banned By Latins

Wording Threatens U.S. Agreement

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 12 (AP) — Twenty-one Latin American and Caribbean nations completed final action Sunday on a treaty to ban nuclear weapons from the area. The signing was set for Tuesday.

Both the formal support of both the United States and Britain as two nuclear powers that would respect the ban became doubtful. U.S. agreement was jeopardized when the conference specifically included in the area covered by the treaty Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. The U.S. had several times informed the conference that it would not agree to the inclusion of these areas.

A resolution with strong anti-colonial overtones that was passed at the session on August 15, 1965, by the British-led Latin American and Caribbean nations, which had been drafted by the United States, was rejected by the conference.

The resolution was pushed by Argentina to enlist Latin American solidarity behind her claims to the British-held Falkland Islands in the South Atlantic. Mexico, which had withdrawn the resolution on August 15, 1965, finally agreed to back a compromise version Saturday, and it was passed unanimously.

The vaguely worded text states that the nations are opposing the right of Latin American states for the purpose of representing territories that are subject to litigation or claims between an extra-continental power and one or more Latin American states. Argentine sources considered this as backing her claims to the Falklands.

Others voted for it because they considered it merely recognized that Argentina has claims. Trinidad said specifically that she was supporting it on the understanding it did not prejudice anything. Many Argentine sources considered this as backing her claims to the Falklands.

Others voted for it because they considered it merely recognized that Argentina has claims. Trinidad said specifically that she was supporting it on the understanding it did not prejudice anything. Many Argentine sources considered this as backing her claims to the Falklands.

Others voted for it because they considered it merely recognized that Argentina has claims. Trinidad said specifically that she was supporting it on the understanding it did not prejudice anything. Many Argentine sources considered this as backing her claims to the Falklands.

Others voted for it because they considered it merely recognized that Argentina has claims. Trinidad said specifically that she was supporting it on the understanding it did not prejudice anything. Many Argentine sources considered this as backing her claims to the Falklands.

Others voted for it because they considered it merely recognized that Argentina has claims. Trinidad said specifically that she was supporting it on the understanding it did not prejudice anything. Many Argentine sources considered this as backing her claims to the Falklands.

Others voted for it because they considered it merely recognized that Argentina has claims. Trinidad said specifically that she was supporting it on the understanding it did not prejudice anything. Many Argentine sources considered this as backing her claims to the Falklands.

Those Aren't Soap Chips

Washington Valley recorded 27 degrees below zero early Sunday morning. (AP Wirephoto)

U.S. Officials Keep Quiet

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a surprise move, President Johnson apparently has delayed renewal of U.S. air attacks on North Vietnam to check out the latest diplomatic efforts for an end to the fighting.

Tight official secrecy added to the dramatic impact of Johnson's move, marking the third pause — apart from holiday truces — in bombing since the air raids on the North began in February 1965.

While the President made a local public appearance Sunday for a Lincoln birthday speech, he avoided the Vietnam issue.

And Press Secretary George Christian said there would be no comment at this time by any government spokesman on the absence of reported raids on North Vietnam.

The other allied operations in the South, were resumed quickly with the end of the four-day lunar new year cease-fire at 6 p.m. EST on Saturday.

Informed sources indicated the bombing pause is likely to continue for at least another day in order to give full opportunity for the most recent peace attempts.

Both the Soviet Union and Britain have large in Washington's diplomatic scenario on how Hanoi might be brought to a conference table. So Johnson could be expected not to nip in the bud an effort from them.

Negro Leaders Finalize Detroit Strike Plans

National Walkout May Be Next Step

DETROIT (AP) — Proclaiming victory regardless of the outcome, Negro leaders Sunday made preparations for a general strike in Detroit and Mackinac, Mich., to protest the congressional action taken against Rev. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y.

Negroes in Detroit and Mackinac, Mich., are being asked to go to work and not to send their children to school Monday to protest what the strike leaders call a "double standard" applied to Powell.

The Harvard minister has been stripped of his committee chairmanship and denied reentry in the House pending an investigation of his activities in and out of Congress.

Sponsors say if the strike proves effective such a Italian-wide protest will be called later.

While predicting that about half of Detroit's Negro work force of some 80,000 would stay off the job, the strike leaders said they expected "any action that we are involved in a numbers game."

Some interpreted this statement as a forecast that the strike would not succeed.

The Detroit Board of Education Saturday said that any school absence linked to the boycott would be considered unacceptable. The Michigan Federation of Teachers, whose Detroit local is the bargaining agent for Detroit's schoolteachers, said it supports the strike effort.

Dr. Albert H. Wheeler, state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, reaffirmed Sunday his group's opposition to the boycott.

"We believe that these techniques are inappropriate in this specific situation," said Wheeler. "Many working-class Negroes are being urged in a categorical way to more detrimental to themselves than to the people who unseated Powell."

General Motors Corp. notified its union shop committees that absence in support of the strike would not be considered legal.

More important than the actual number of persons participating in the boycott, said Henry H. Hertz, general secretary of the strike committee, is the broad-based nature of the strike as a new test of protest.

"What we are doing is introducing the general strike as a weapon," Henry said. "This is the first time it has been used by Negroes in this country."

Henry said his workers had pulled about 1,500 letters as a protest over the double standard applied to Mr. Powell, and the percentage goes up to about 100 per cent, Henry said.

U.S. Officials Keep Quiet

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a surprise move, President Johnson apparently has delayed renewal of U.S. air attacks on North Vietnam to check out the latest diplomatic efforts for an end to the fighting.

Tight official secrecy added to the dramatic impact of Johnson's move, marking the third pause — apart from holiday truces — in bombing since the air raids on the North began in February 1965.

While the President made a local public appearance Sunday for a Lincoln birthday speech, he avoided the Vietnam issue.

And Press Secretary George Christian said there would be no comment at this time by any government spokesman on the absence of reported raids on North Vietnam.

The other allied operations in the South, were resumed quickly with the end of the four-day lunar new year cease-fire at 6 p.m. EST on Saturday.

Informed sources indicated the bombing pause is likely to continue for at least another day in order to give full opportunity for the most recent peace attempts.

Both the Soviet Union and Britain have large in Washington's diplomatic scenario on how Hanoi might be brought to a conference table. So Johnson could be expected not to nip in the bud an effort from them.

Viet Cong Wiped Out In Mishap

Lock Turns Tables On Mortar Attacks

SARONG, South Vietnam (AP) — Viet Cong gunners attempted to murder U.S. military band members in a bizarre twist of fate apparently blew themselves up when one round exploded in the basement of the house they were using.

One enemy round, however, exploded in a convoy of Vietnamese airborne troops passing near the American military headquarters, killing possibly 10 soldiers and wounding 10 more.

Vietnamese military police reported that the Viet Cong gunners were holed up in a vacant house in crowded Young Chi market, seven blocks from the U.S. headquarters, and were firing an 81mm mortar out of a window.

Private houses around the headquarters were peppered with rounds of 81 mm. One round landed outside the house of a British colonel.

"I would say the bombing will be repeated unless it can be repressed," Mabon said.

Peking Warns U.S. About 'Intrusions'

TOKYO (AP) — Red China has charged that U.S. military forces intruded into its territorial air space over the southern provinces in a brazen violation of five occasions Feb. 8-9.

Peking's New China News Agency in a broadcast Monday in Tokyo, said, "A spokesman of the Chinese Ministry has been authorized, in relation to these provocations, to issue the following statement: 'The U.S. military forces, to justify the 42nd session waring, have intruded into the territorial air space over the southern provinces in a brazen violation of five occasions Feb. 8-9."

Peking's New China News Agency in a broadcast Monday in Tokyo, said, "A spokesman of the Chinese Ministry has been authorized, in relation to these provocations, to issue the following statement: 'The U.S. military forces, to justify the 42nd session waring, have intruded into the territorial air space over the southern provinces in a brazen violation of five occasions Feb. 8-9."

Peking's New China News Agency in a broadcast Monday in Tokyo, said, "A spokesman of the Chinese Ministry has been authorized, in relation to these provocations, to issue the following statement: 'The U.S. military forces, to justify the 42nd session war-