WORLD MOURNS LOSS OF THE GREAT ROOSEVELT

"AMERICA'S MOST TYPICAL AMERICAN," KNOWN IN EVERY CORNER OF THE EARTH, PASSES INTO THE INFINITE IN SLEEP AT OYSTER BAY HOME

CABLES FLASH CONDOLENCE TO SAGAMORE HILL

Remarkable Energy Held Colonel Up to Last; Death Was Near Over Month Ago, but Fact Was Quietly Concealed From World

(By A. P. LEASED WIRE)
Oyster Bay, N. Y., Jan. 6.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, 26th president of the United States, who died at his home on Sagamore Hill, early today, will be laid to rest without pomp or ceremony in Youngs' Memorial cemetery in this village, Wednesday afternoon. He will be buried on a knoll overlooking Long Island sound, a plot which he and Mrs. Roosevelt selected soon after he left the White House.

In the words of the clergyman who will conduct the funeral service, "America's most typical American," known in every corner of the earth, will go to his grave as a "quiet, democratic, Christian country gentleman beloved by his neighbors."

After prayers at the Roosevelt home, at which only members of the family will be present, the funeral service will be held at 12:45 o'clock in Christ Episcopal church, the little, old frame structure where for years the colonel and his family attended divine worship.

No Flowers, It Request.
At the request of Mrs. Roosevelt, no flowers will be sent. The altar will be decorated only with laurel placed on it for Christmas season. Also in conformance with Mrs. Roosevelt's wishes, there will be no music and no eulogy, but only the simple service of the Episcopal church, conducted by the pastor, the Rev. George E. Talmage.

The church, founded in 1705, and rebuilt in 1878, will accommodate less than 500 persons, so that admittance will be by card only. These cards, it was announced, will be issued from the colonel's office in New York and will be given only to relatives and intimate friends.

Cables Flood Oyster Bay.
Cable messages and telegrams of condolence, not only from fellow-countrymen of high and low degree, but from distinguished citizens of many nations, were pouring into Oyster Bay tonight by the hundreds. All expressed heartfelt grief at the passing of a great man and deepest sympathy for Mrs. Roosevelt, always devoted to her distinguished husband and one of his most trusted advisers. The widow is bearing up bravely under the shock of his sudden death, coming so soon after that of their youngest son, Lieutenant Quentin Roosevelt, who lost his life in a battle with a German airman, last July.

Grief Hastened End.
The death of Colonel Roosevelt is believed by the physicians who attended him to have been hastened by grief over Quentin's death, coupled with anxiety over the serious wounds suffered by Captain Archie Roosevelt while fighting in France.

He was proud of his soldier sons and their heroism, but he was a devoted father, and he grieved for the one who gave his life for his country, as well as for the other who was wounded. He hid his suffering from the world, however, in the hope that he might set an example for other fathers and mothers who had given their sons to the nation.

Preached "Americanism" To Last.
To the last, Colonel Roosevelt had been preaching "Americanism," and few realized that his health had been shattered. It was believed that the rugged constitution which had stood him in good stead through so many years of "strenuous life" would not fail him and that he would regain his usual health. His messages of late, however, had been delivered through the medium of editorials or public statements, instead of as addresses.

Even to his neighbors in Oyster Bay, it seemed impossible that life had ended so suddenly for the Rough Rider hero of Spanish War days, the statesman who, as governor of New York and president, had wielded the "big stick" so fearlessly; the big game hunter of tropical jungles; the citizen who preached preparedness long before his country entered the world conflict.

End Without Warning.
Apparently neither Colonel Roosevelt nor his wife had any foreboding that death would so soon still his active mind and body. It was only yesterday that Mrs. Roosevelt sent a letter to Charles Stewart Davison, chairman of the General Citizens' committee appointed to welcome returning soldiers in New York, announcing that the colonel would accept the honorary chairmanship of the committee.

"The rheumatism has invaded Colonel Roosevelt's right hand," wrote Mrs. Roosevelt, "so he wants me to write that he has telegraphed his acceptance. This note is to assure you that he will be at your service by spring time."

Dies Painlessly in Sleep.
It was at 4:15 o'clock this morning that the president died in his sleep, painlessly. His death was due directly to a blood clot lodged in one lung, the result of infection.

First Rank Men of All the Nations Unite In Tribute To Roosevelt's Greatness

New York, Jan. 6.—Men of national prominence who paid tribute here today to Colonel Roosevelt, termed him "the greatest American of his day." "A personification of the Americanism of which he was the most doughty champion," "one of the greatest figures of our time," and "the last man to claim that he was always wise, but one who always fought for what he believed right."

The former president, classed in a resolution of the board of aldermen as "the truly typical American of his age," was lamented by Alan R. Hawley, president of the Aero Club of America, as "depriving the aeronautic movement of one of its strongest supporters."

Frank A. Vanderlip said it was the colonel's courage more than anything else that gave him "the marvelous following" that he had. Theodore N. Vail declared the colonel's death would cause "universal sorrow" and was "a great loss to the country and to the people."

"Greatest American" Says Gerard.
Former Ambassador James W. Gerard described Theodore Roosevelt as "the greatest American of his day" representing "the highest type of the real old-fashioned American, whose place would be hard to fill because 'he understood and represented all sections of America.'"

"I am deeply shocked," said Thomas F. Ryan, "the country has lost a man who always fought for what he believed to be right, but more than all he was a true American."

John Mitchell, former head of the United Mine Workers of America, now chairman of the New York State Food commission, said the colonel's "attitude towards industrial and social righteousness had a tremendous influence upon the minds and activities of all those forces which have worked for human betterment—and his death deprived America of a force which it had need of in the solution of the readjustment problems growing out of the war."

"Admired Him Greatly"—Edison.
"I admired him greatly," said Thomas A. Edison. "He was one of our greatest Americans. He was straight. He was honest."

"It was my pleasure to serve under him during the trying days of Panama canal construction and as a man his charming and magnetic personality enshrined him in the affections of all who knew him," said Theodore P. Shonts, who was chairman of the second Isthmian canal commission.

TRIBUTES FROM PARIS.
Paris, Jan. 6.—Theodore Roosevelt's death came as a shock to Paris, which was unaware of his illness. The public had been expecting the fulfillment of his proposed visit to France.

J. J. Jusserand, the French ambassador to the United States, said: "The unexpected death of one who has upheld all his life the principles of virile manhood, straightforward honesty and fearlessness, will be mourned all over the world, nowhere more sincerely than in France, whose cause he upheld in her worst crisis in a way that shall never be forgotten."

Henry White, one of the American peace commissioners, said: "I have heard of Mr. Roosevelt's death with deep sorrow because of the loss to the nation of a great public servant and to myself of a lifelong friend."

America Poorer, Says Hoover.
Herbert C. Hoover said: "The news of Mr. Roosevelt's death comes to me as a distinct shock. America is poorer for the loss of a great citizen, the world for the loss of a great man. His virility and Americanism has been one of our national treasures."

"Col. E. M. House said: "I am greatly shocked to hear the news that comes from America. The entire world will share the grief which will be felt in the United States over the death of Theodore Roosevelt. He was the one virile and courageous leader of his generation and will live in history as one of our greatest presidents."

Colonel House sent to Mrs. Roosevelt a cablegram saying: "Mrs. House shares with me the great sorrow which all Americans feel over the death of our great president."

I. W. W. BRING EXPLOSIVE GAS TO COURT ROOM

(By A. P. LEASED WIRE.)

Sacramento, Calif., Jan. 6.—Bottles containing a phosphorescent and highly inflammable matter, discovered after the setting of haystack and other fires in California, were discovered today by Sheriff Trafton, of Santa Cruz county, witness in the trial of a group of Industrial Workers of the World, charged with various acts of sabotage in California.

The sheriff testified that one bottle of the substance was taken from Godfrey Ebel, defendant, and a portion of its contents smoked when placed in the sun.

Wilson Plea for Huge Food Fund Is Approved By Committee in House

(By A. P. LEASED WIRE.)

Washington, Jan. 6.—By a vote described as "very close," the house appropriations committee today approved the request of President Wilson that congress appropriate $100,000,000 for relief work in Europe, outside of Germany. The bill, as finally agreed upon, will be reported to the house tomorrow and Chairman Sherley said he would seek prompt action.

Opposition to the president's proposal was not on party lines, Democrats as well as Republicans voicing disapproval. Some members were said to have protested that a comprehensive plan for the administration of the relief should have been presented to the committee, and insisted that definite information should have been given as to the amount of contributions to be made by allied countries. As finally approved, the bill gives the president discretionary authority in the expenditure of the fund.

CAMPBELL NOW HELMSMAN FOR SHIP OF STATE

New Arizona Governor Inducted Into Office; Crowds Applaud Clean-Cut Inaugural Address; Appoints More State Officers

(By Star Phoenix Bureau.)

Phoenix, Jan. 1.—Thomas E. Campbell, first Republican governor of the state of Arizona, took the oath of office on the balcony of the capitol shortly after 10 o'clock this morning, in the presence of a large crowd of citizens representing every section of the state.

The oath was administered by Supreme Court Justice Baker, new-elected. Immediately afterward the retiring governor, George W. P. Hunt, introduced the new governor to the crowd.

Governor Campbell delivered a brief but pointed inaugural address, which was well received. He was frequently interrupted by applause, especially when he denounced the I. W. W. and Bolsheviki as enemies of liberty and civilization.

Immediately after the ceremony Governor Campbell proceeded to the executive office, which was turned over to him by Louis Lowenthal, secretary to the retiring governor, Hunt.

Hunt Goes to Get Cap.
Hunt returned to the office which, save for part of one year, he has occupied for almost seven years, to get his cap. He then left the capitol on foot, recalling to many his walking to the capitol in February, seven years ago.

Brilliant sunshine and draped flags on the balcony of the capitol added to the impressiveness of the scene at the governor's inaugural. The reception to have been held in the governor's office tonight was cancelled on account of the renewal of the quarantine in Phoenix, caused by the renewal of the influenza epidemic here.

Governor Campbell's two sons are ill with influenza.

Dr. Cummins Hospital Head.
The new governor today appointed Dr. Thomas J. Cummins of Verde to be superintendent of the state hospital for the insane. The appointment of Doane Merrill to be chief clerk of the state engineering department was announced by State Engineer Holmquist, newly appointed by Campbell.

All the newly-elected state officers took the oath of office today.

Fred Smith of Coconino county was named to be steward of the state hospital.

Text of Inaugural Address.
The full text of the inaugural address delivered by Governor Campbell on assuming the reins of Arizona's government at the state capitol in Phoenix yesterday is as follows:

The privilege accorded me in appearing before you the second time to take the oath of executive demonstrates that the determined will of a free people has been made manifest. To the people of Arizona I consecrate my whole service, reverently invoking the help of Almighty God for strength, wisdom and fidelity.

With the termination of our world war, Arizona, in conjunction with every other state in the union, is on the threshold of a period of reconstruction. Individuals, as well as the state, must pursue different courses from those imposed by war conditions; industries will face new and perplexing problems; public policies which have been adequate in the past will now be hopelessly ineffective. The world has been shaken to its foundations, and while the broken fragments of our civilization remain intact, the shattered walls of our civilization must be rebuilt. The structure which will replace the demolished one must be of a more solid and enduring construction that it can never be rent asunder by any force of man.

Sees Broader Democracy.
We will do well to heed the warning of one of our eminent statesmen: "The danger of any reconstruction is not the invention of the human mind; the danger is in letting go the old before the new is tested. The ship must not be allowed to drift. We must be sure that we have the right to take us in the new direction before we let go the old anchor. The nation is ripe, not so much for any one change in its way of doing things, as for an extension and broadening of its own old way. We shall reconstruct, build anew, for a broader democracy in which men will learn more perfectly to work together, not for the making of a great state, but on the contrary, for the making of more self-owned and growing individuals."

Duty to Returned Soldiers.
Thinking men and women know the first few months of peace will present problems equally or more serious than those which confronted us prior to our entry into the war. It was my duty to sever the business and financial interests of our loyal men and send them abroad to perpetuate liberty that it will be to receive back and return to this the business and financial interests they left. They accomplished nobly the mission we sent them to perform. Now, the first duty of every American citizen, woman is to the thousands of men who will shortly return. "The war is done, but our duty is not done. Upon our shoulders rests the burden of reconstructing our industries to best fit the need of our returning soldiers, will rest the stability of the civilization which we shall contribute to the world. It was my duty to men have fought and have been ready to die to preserve our liberty. Can we insure them liberty when they return to our shores?"

I. W. W. Belong With Kaiser.
Anarchy possesses Russia. It threatens Germany and Austria. Italy and France may easily be contaminated by the same evil. Violent reformers of any body politic, whether they be known as I. W. W. or Bolsheviki, are enemies of civilization and liberty, because they are enemies of order; they are enemies of equal opportunity; they are enemies of equality; they are enemies of every principle upon which our civilization has been built. Do you realize the cost in life, in treasure, in mistakes, to make a nation orderly, self-governing and free? It has taken a century and a half to bring this nation to the place that it occupies today—and yet a fraction of time could break it all down. "Eternal vigilance," Patrick Henry told

Famed Chateau-Thierry "Teufel Hund" Marines Are Back in New York

New York, Jan. 6.—Six hundred of the famous Fifth and Sixth Marines who fought in the battles at Chateau Thierry, Belleau wood and Soissons, came home today with 800 soldiers, on the cruiser North Carolina, which made her first trip as a transport. Every one of them had been wounded and nearly every man displayed a decoration—a Croix de Guerre, a D. S. C. or a four-ragere. They have been discharged from hospitals and organized into casual companies for the voyage home.

GT. BRITAIN HAS DEFINITE PEACE PROPOSAL READY

So Has France; Platforms to Be Put Before American Executive On His Arrival in Paris This Morn; Peace Meet Next Week

(By A. P. LEASED WIRE.)

Paris, Jan. 6.—President Wilson is due back in Paris at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. There will be no formalities over his arrival and he will proceed to the Murat residence for a series of conferences which will begin to give concrete form to the work of the peace congress.

Lord Robert Cecil, the British authority on a league of nations, will be one of the early arrivals in Paris after the president. Premier Lloyd George, if the British cabinet situation permits, is expected toward the end of the week, and Foreign Secretary Balfour is ready to come from Cannes.

Britain Has Definite Plan.
Lord Robert Cecil, it is understood, is ready to present a quite definite plan, giving the British viewpoint on a society of nations. Leon Bourgeois also is prepared to outline the French plan, while the American delegates have been engaged actively in putting their views in definite shape. The president is expected to take a lively interest.

Others likely to see the president are Senator Owen of Oklahoma, Premier Venizelos of Greece, and a Zionist delegation for discussion of questions concerning Palestine, Syria and Armenia. Parts of the Polish, Czechoslovak and Serbian delegations have arrived and are seeking interviews with the president, who doubtless will confer with all of them.

The outlook is for a busy week, preparatory to the assembling of the international conference next week.

PRESIDENT POINCARRE COMING.

Paris, Jan. 6.—President Poincarre will probably visit the United States late in June or early in July. This announcement was made by the president himself to the Associated Press this evening.

When it was suggested that the greatest reception ever accorded a foreign ruler was awaiting him, the president said: "I must return President Wilson's visit. I am not looking for the honors of a reception. I simply wish to thank America and Americans for what they have done for the cause of liberty and France."

BRITAIN TO EDUCATE ARMY.

London, Jan. 6.—For the British officers and men who are to be kept in the field until peace negotiations are concluded, the government is planning an educational service corps to give them quick and intensive special training to fit them for civilian employment. Courses of instruction will cover industrial and commercial organization, banking, insurance and accounting.

New Faction In Mexico Would Have Both Carranza and Villa Retire For La Bassa

(By A. P. LEASED WIRE.)

El Paso, Jan. 6.—The union of Mexicans which was formed at Liberty hall yesterday by 600 Mexican refugees, is now believed by federal officers here to be in fact a movement backing General Felipe Angeles in his efforts to bring about a peaceful readjustment of Mexico's internal affairs. It developed today that Gen. Federico Cervantes, who made the principal speech at the meeting yesterday, is an officer of the organization in New York of which Angeles is president.

Rumors that Angeles' mission to interview Villa had the sanction of the American state department were denied here officially tonight. One report in circulation here is that Angeles is attempting to have both Carranza and Villa retire and have Francisco Leon La Bassa serve as provisional president, pending another election. However, it is not generally believed that Carranza would consider such a proposal. General Angeles was reported to have been at San Lorenzo, Chihuahua, last week, to interview Martin Lopez. It is not known whether he had yet seen Villa.

BOLSHEVIKI HAVE ALARMING GRASP UPON NEW YORK; TROTSKY ENVOYS FLOODING NATION

Five Groups of "Reds," Reeking With Trotzky Gold, Spreading Tentacles in Shadow of the Statue of Liberty, U. S. Admits

SECRET AGENTS LAND ON AMERICAN SHORES

Plans Include Weaning Away of Radicals From the American Labor Federation; Department Justice "Spots" 2,000 Leaders

(By A. P. LEASED WIRE.)

New York, Jan. 6.—Department of justice agents in New York who have been watching German suspects in this city have been assigned to the work of frustrating the activities of five groups of Bolsheviki which have established headquarters here, it was announced tonight. The spread of Bolshevism was admitted to have become "alarming."

Coincidentally, Alfred L. Becker, deputy state attorney general, declared that his department has unearthed evidence that secret agents of Lenin and Trotzky have reached this city with a fund of nearly $500,000 to be used for propaganda purposes.

These agents, it was said, have been circulating in workshops and factories, holding secret meetings, which culminated today in the opening session of a three-day convention in the Labor Lyceum building.

Plans of the agitators are said to include a program for weaning away from the American Federation of Labor radical members of 65 unions throughout the country, who are to be urged to organize "workmen's councils" under the Lenin-Trotsky plan.

At the offices of the department of justice it was admitted that a card index of 2000 "red" agitators in this and other cities has been compiled.

BERGER'S FATE TO JURY TODAY.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—The case of the five Socialist leaders charged with conspiracy to violate the espionage law will be given to the jury tomorrow afternoon. Closing arguments of counsel were begun today.

District Attorney Charles F. Clyne, in opening for the government, described the alleged anti-war activities of the defendants as organized sedition.

He said the Socialist leaders deliberately violated the espionage act and deserved the severest punishment possible under the statute. He declared that the defendants had plotted together to break down public morale and discourage recruiting in the army and navy.

PLAN ANTI-BOLSHEVIK FIGHT.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Plans for an extensive propaganda campaign against the spread of Bolshevism as a part of the post-war work of the National Security League were discussed today by Col. Charles E. Lydecker, president, before the special house committee investigating activities of the organization during the last congressional campaign.

Asked by Representative Reavis of Nebraska, if he believed Bolsheviki ideas were general in congress, Colonel Lydecker said he thought not.

"What I fear," he said, "is that Bolsheviki ideas will so spread among the laboring class of the country, unless it is stopped, that industrial unrest will be caused."

Chihuahua, was captured December 28 by a Villa band under Martin Lopez and forced to go to San Lorenzo, Chihuahua, where the wounded from the battles of Villa Ahumada and Rubio ranch were being cared for but had no medical attention, according to a rancher who arrived here today from El Valle. Dr. Stull was captured by Lopez and a band of 25 Villa men after they had looted the town of all bedding, blankets and supplies for the wounded men.

Fighting was reported to have occurred last Monday between the Villa main command and the home guards at Satevo, 59 miles south of Chihuahua City. The fight lasted 35 hours, during which the home guards exhausted their ammunition and retreated to the hills, leaving their dead and wounded on the battlefield.

WILL OF MRS. GATES PROBATED.

Beaumont, Texas, Jan. 6.—The will of Mrs. Delora Gates of Port Arthur, widow of the late John W. Gates, was probated here today. After naming nearly fifty beneficiaries ranging from $500,000 to her brother in Illinois, to $2000 each given employees, amounting in all to $1,300,000, Mrs. Gates bequeaths the remainder of the property to her niece, Delora F. Angell of St. Charles, Ill.
