

New highway route

A new highway south of Tucson linking Interstate 19 and Interstate 10, commonly called the Sonoran Corridor, has been selected by the Arizona Department of Transportation. Several more studies are needed before the route is ready to build.

