First-graders visit strawberry farm

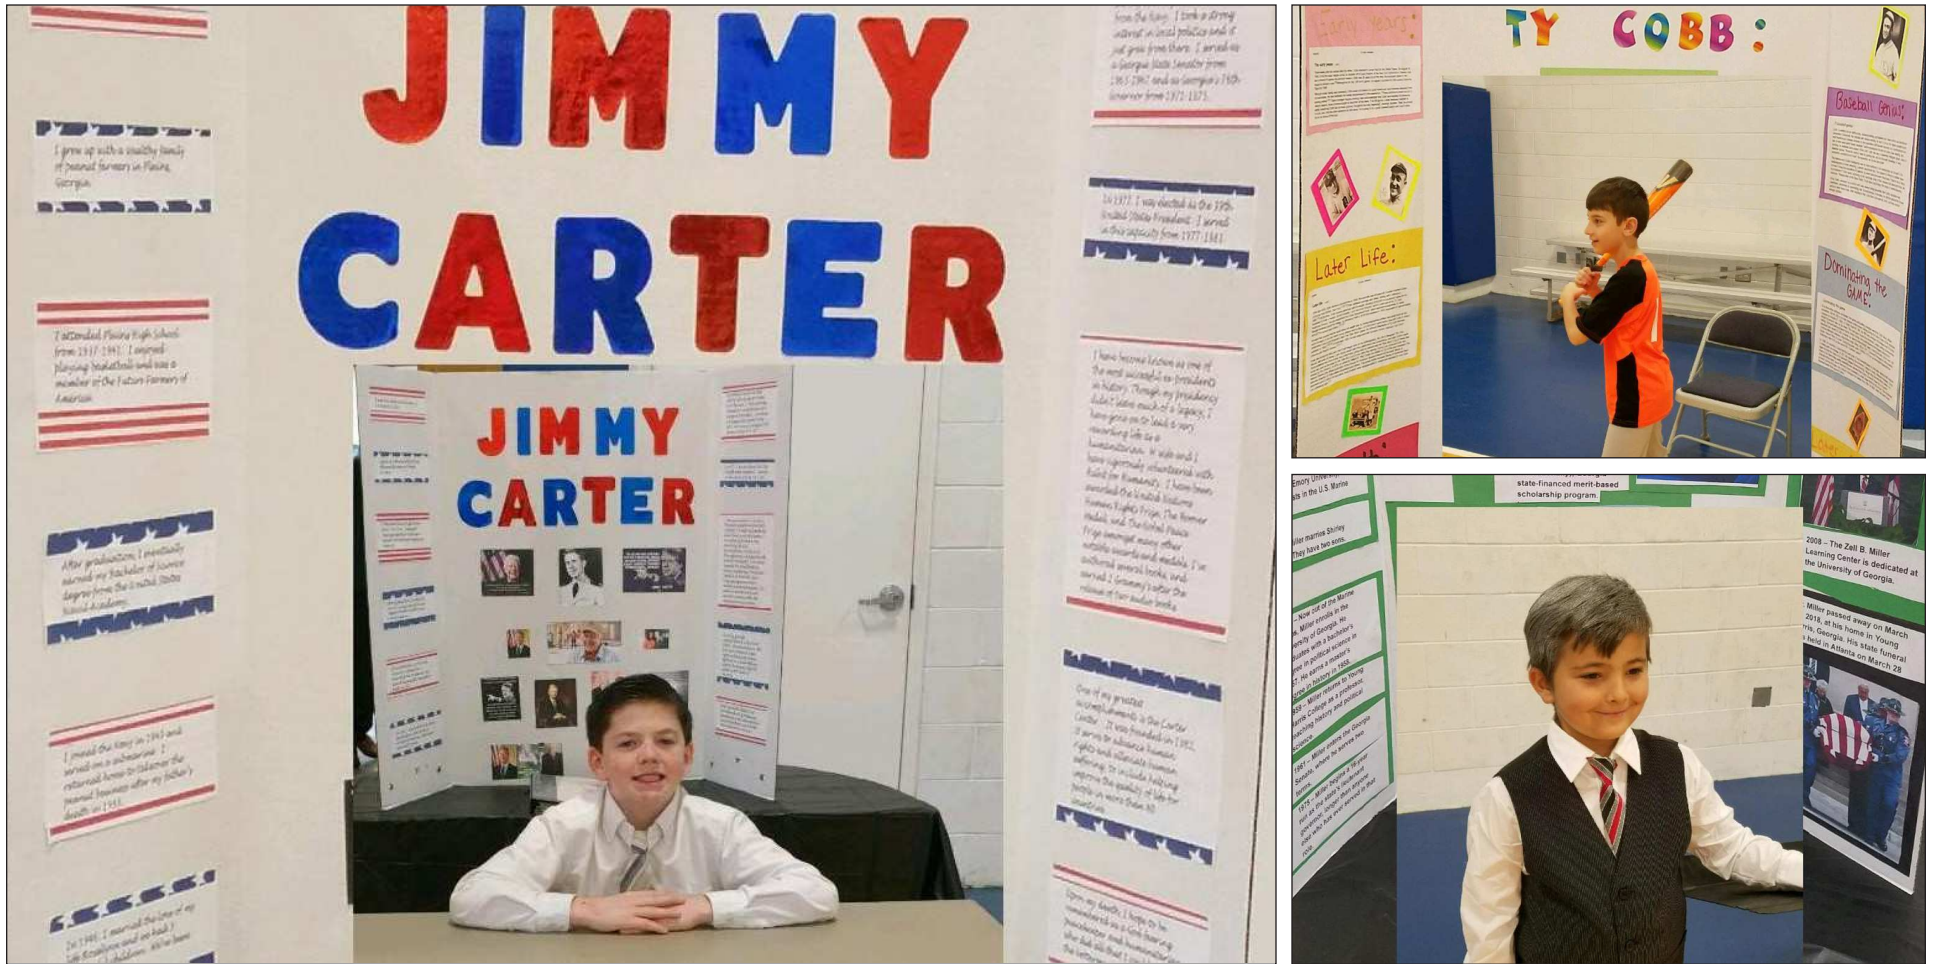

Contributed photo
After completing a science unit on plants, JMA first-graders visited Washington Farms in Watkinsville. On the field trip, the students learned about how strawberries grow. The students enjoyed the petting zoo, hay ride, and a large slide. It was a beautiful day to be picking strawberries.

Contributed photo
Mrs. Simons and Mrs. Johnson's classes enjoyed a fun day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Whipple. The children played in a bouncy house, planted a flower, played corn hole and badminton, and had their faces painted. The classes enjoyed a yummy picnic, too.

JMA students make solar ovens

Contributed photo

At JMA, Mrs Stefano's class made their own solar ovens. They went outside to make s'mores in their ovens. It was a delicious experiment.

Pre-K students open smoothie stand

Contributed photo

At JMA, the pre-K students opened a smoothie stand. They sold strawberry smoothies to several teachers. They used their math and counting skills to prepare and serve the smoothies. It was a delicious treat.

SCA hosts Officer Appreciation Dinner

Contributed photos

The Jr. Beta Club of Sinclair Christian Academy, under the direction of Stephanie Seiberg, hosted its first Officer Appreciation Dinner. They had the opportunity to support local officers and thank them for all they do. They were treated to spaghetti and all the trimmings.

Pre-K students tour fire station

At JMA, Mrs. Sheppard's pre-K class took a field trip to visit the fire station. The students toured the fire house, learned all about fire safety, and learned how the fire suit protects the firemen.

JMA students escape Emoji Island

At JMA, fourth grade students tried to escape Emoji Island. In order to do this the teams must solve math problems from concepts learned this year. Only one team will escape. Who will it be? Teams who won are pictured on the right side of the collage above. Congratulations to John Thomas Manley, Aubri Medders, Jonas Crager, and Damien Moore. These were the first students in Mrs. Fietkau's home room to escape Emoji Island after solving five math challenges. Congratulations to Graysen Paradise, Joely Smith, Emma Renfroe, and Conner Hudgins from Mrs. Deariso's class.
