

Culture of Excellence Powers GCMH's Continued Success

At Grundy County Memorial Hospital (GCMH), our mission is more than words—it's reflected every day in the way we care for our patients, support each other, and grow together. We take great pride in the strength of our workplace culture, our outstanding team members, and our shared dedication to the communities we serve.

"An exceptional culture doesn't happen by chance—it's built intentionally," says Adam Scherling, MHA, GCMH President. "We make it a priority to listen to our associates, support their growth, and celebrate their contributions. This recognition reflects their hard work, compassion, and commitment to making GCMH a place where both patients and employees feel valued."

A Workplace Where People Thrive

Our team members describe GCMH as family-oriented, supportive, and driven by a shared purpose. In a recent employee engagement survey, feedback highlighted the trust in leadership, the encouragement of professional development, and the focus on work-life balance. Jenny Schultz, GCMH HR Business Partner, says, "We know that when our team members feel supported—personally and professionally—they can deliver the best care. From supporting work-life balance to robust training opportunities, we're committed to making GCMH a place where people can thrive."
