50th Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. STEVENS

An open house next Sunday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock will mark the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Stevens, 1826 Borch Ave. The couple's two daughters, Mrs. Harold Risley of near Dunkerton and Miss Audrey Stevens of Rochester, N. Y., will assist as hostesses. The former Hazel Stein and Mr. Stevens were married on Dec. 21, 1904, at the home of the bride's parents in Reinbeck. They have resided in Waterloo for about 49 years. Mr. Stevens retired on Oct. 1 from the Herrick Refrigerator Co. where he had been employed for the past 48 years.

Verna Wagoner King's Daughters Circle Organized

CEDAR FALLS — The first circle of The King's Daughters to be formed in Cedar Falls and the first to be named after the Iowa Branch president, Mrs. H. D. Wagoner of Waterloo, had an organization meeting and Christmas luncheon Tuesday. The members of the new Verna Wagoner Circle gathered at the home of Mmes. A. J. Fish and Floyd Casebolt, 1807 Grand Blvd. Special guests were Mrs. Wagoner; Mrs. Ed Lorenzen, Black Hawk County president; and Mrs. Henry Aries, president of Margaret Bottoms Circle of Waterloo which is sponsoring the circle. Mrs. Ray Mayes, 3128 Cadillac Dr., was named temporary chairman and Mrs. J. C. Hecksmiller was chosen secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Wagoner conducted an admission and reconsecration service. The group plans to have its next meeting Jan. 11 in the home of Mrs. J. V. Musser, 1818 Hawthorne Dr.

Be Smart

A variety of veils and laces are being shown this year to go with evening gowns. We like a lace shawl, heavily jeweled, to give your face a frame of glamour. A black velvet band with a lace veil will accentuate your hair, rather than cover it, and has a young charm that you cannot resist.

Waterloo Scene of Many Christmastime Parties

Many Waterloo homes and restaurants are the scenes of Christmas parties in the final days before the holiday arrives. Seventy members of the Optimist Club and the Opti-Mrs. Club joined for a Christmas dinner Tuesday evening at Hotel President. Jack Keever was named "Optimist of the Year." Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Parker of Chicago, who returned by plane to Waterloo to attend the party. They headed the men's and women's groups last year. Mrs. Louis E. Fidler was accompanist for group singing and vocal selections were presented by the Four Beat Men. Don Wenthe, president of the men's group, was chairman for the dinner. Also present was Mrs. N. A. Gollinvaux, president of the women's group. Three-year attendance pins were awarded Myron Potter, Frank Ruhoff and Mr. Wenthe. A two-year pin went to Herbert Wise and one-year pins to Ernest Lang, Fred Button, B. R. Bachtell and Dr. Benjamin Coppock. Approximately 225 persons attended the annual Christmas party for members of the Catholic Daughters of America which occurred on Tuesday evening in St. Edward's parish hall. The program included selections by a string ensemble from St. Edward's school under the direction of Sister Mary Lolita, a ballet number by Rosemary Nichols and several selections by James Tanner, accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Dravis. Mr. Tanner also led in community singing which was followed by a gift exchange. Mrs. William Townsend and Mrs. Carl Speck were co-chairmen of the committee in charge of the party. Approximately 21 members of Xi Theta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, attended a Christmas party on Tuesday evening in the Congress Suite at Hotel Russell-Lamson. Mrs. Elmo Moore received the exemplar degree in a candlelight ceremony conducted by the chapter president, Miss Frieda Anderson. Mrs. Moore is a former member of Beta Delta chapter. Mrs. William Morse, former of arrangements were Mrs. Byron Guernsey, Miss Mildred Vokun, Mrs. Frank vanKerkhove, Miss Margaret Bierie and Mrs. Ted Shreve. Sixteen persons attended the dinner. Miss Rose Gurupatham of Madras, India, was the guest speaker at the annual Christmas meeting of Quota Club on Tuesday evening. Miss Gurupatham, who is regional secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association for Southern India, is spending five months here and is a guest at the Waterloo YWCA. She spoke on "Christmas in India." The holiday meeting opened with a dinner in the Elk's Club which was attended by about 45 members. The program included piano solos by Miss Mary Helen Sisson, vocal selections by Roger Lockard and Christmas cornet numbers by Henry Hay. Mrs. Henry Willoughby of Cedar Falls gave a Christmas reading. In place of the regular gift exchange, members contributed money to the Ground Observer Corps for its current project to move the observation post to the top of the Hotel Russell-Lamson. Gifts for patients at the Black Hawk County Home were brought by members and will be distributed at the home at a party on Christmas Eve. CEDAR FALLS — Mr. and Mrs. Einar Madsen entertained their employees from the Regent Cafe at a Christmas party on Tuesday evening. A dinner for the employees and their families was served at the
