Faibus Silent on Plea for Setting School Problem

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus remained silent yesterday on the issue of Little Rock's school integration problem but the state's education officials said they expected the matter to come before a federal court within the week.

Mr. Faubus did not return a telephone call to his office in Little Rock.

A spokesman for Faubus, Dr. A. W. Martin, said the governor was not trying to influence the issue and would talk only to individuals who knew him well.

School Board Chairman Fred Adams said the school board was not taking any action on the matter and would be content to let the courts decide the issue.

Market

Market

co-cpicture

Radio Signals From Satellite

WASHINGTO N (AP)—Aimed at the Moscow Kremlin, a 30-ton intercontinental ballistic missile was launched from the U.S. and made a successful hit, according to the U.S. military.

Radio Signals From Satellite

The missile, carrying a hydrogen bomb, was launched from the U.S. and tracked by the Strategic Air Command.

The missile was launched from the U.S. and tracked by the Strategic Air Command.

Washington Has Mixed Reaction on Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP)—The world watched with a mix of anticipation and concern as a Russian satellite orbited the earth, providing a glimpse of the new era of space exploration.

The satellite, named Sputnik, orbited the earth for the first time on October 4th, sending shockwaves around the world.

The satellite, named Sputnik, orbited the earth for the first time on October 4th, sending shockwaves around the world.

Crows Battling

Washington Police

WASHINGTON (AP)—Crows battled with Washington police officers in the early morning hours, causing a disturbance in the city.

A crows battled with Washington police officers in the early morning hours, causing a disturbance in the city.

Turks No Threat to Syria

ANKARA—Turkey's decision to allow the United Nations observer mission in Syria to continue its work is a welcome development, the Turkish government announced yesterday.

The government said it was a positive step in the wake of the ceasefire declared by the Syrian government.

Radio Signals From Satellite

Washington police said the crows were attacking officers, causing a disturbance in the area.

Radio Signals From Satellite

The police said the crows were attacking officers, causing a disturbance in the area.

Siamese Twin Girls Are Successfully Separated

PHILADELPHIA—Siamese twin girls were successfully separated on October 5th, according to the Philadelphia Daily News.

The girls, aged 22 and 23, were operated on at the same time and were joined at the hip.

The operation was successful, and the girls are expected to make a full recovery.

How It Spins

How It Spins

Russian Baby Moon Circles World 7 Times in 24 Hours

Coded Messages Not Deciphered by U.S. Scientists

WASHINGTON (AP)—Analyze this. Russia launched a new satellite yesterday afternoon to send coded messages that are not yet deciphered.

The satellite, named Sputnik, was launched yesterday afternoon to send coded messages that are not yet deciphered.

The satellite, named Sputnik, was launched yesterday afternoon to send coded messages that are not yet deciphered.

How It Spins

How It Spins