THREE MAYOR CANDIDATES; TWO FULL TICKETS

Daily Courier Carrier Boys Enlist as Treasury Agents to Sell Defense Stamps; 140 Tackle Job With Enthusiasm

[Courier Photo]

This is the group of Waterloo Daily Courier newspaper carrier boys, fired with enthusiasm for their new work as defense stamp salesmen, who were pictured Saturday immediately following a sales promotion meeting. The boys were photographed outside the Courier building, Park avenue and Commercial street, as they set out to take orders for defense stamps from persons on their routes in the city.

SCHOOL FLAGPOLE BROKEN, RAMMED THRU 29 WINDOWS

Major Repairs Required on Dewar Schoolhouse; Trio of Boys Held.

Sheriff's deputies announced early today their arrest of three Waterloo youths who allegedly confessed they took part in a wholesale window-smashing escapade Friday night at Dewar's town school in which a flagpole section was rammed thru 29 windows and a door, "apparently for the fun of it."

In custody, for investigation at county jail, were Dick Fournier, 20, of 236 Cortland street, Leslie Akers, 19, who gave his address only as Kern street, and John Allgood, 18, of 709 Clough street.

Car Seen Near School. Deputy H. M. Mitchell said the trio was arrested as suspects because their car was seen in the vicinity of the school Friday night. A fourth boy and three girl companions of the jailed threesome will be questioned today or Monday, Mitchell indicated.

The battering ram, said deputies, was a 15-foot section of two-inch pipe, broken off from the flagpole top.

The 29 windows—all of those in the basement of the building and all those on the main floor in the front of the school — were smashed with the battering ram, or with stones.

Door Battered. The front door, also, said deputies, had been battered with the piece of two-inch pipe.

It was thought probable that the vandals broke off the uppermost 15 feet of the flagpole by using the rope attached to the pulley at the top.

Deputy Mitchell reported that many of the window sash had been damaged by the battering ram and would have to be repaired or entirely replaced. All of the glass in the 29 windows and front door must be replaced, he added.

Classes Will Meet. For a while Saturday, school officials thought it might be necessary to forego classes Monday, until repairs could be made, but Mitchell said last night that the work would be done Sunday, so that school could be held Monday, as usual.

The Dewar school is located on the south edge of town. Discovery of the damage was made early Saturday by persons living near the building, who notified school officials and the sheriff's office here.

Joining with enthusiasm in the common effort to win the war, 140 Waterloo Daily Courier carrier boys Saturday formed an army of "official" United States defense agents to sell defense stamps to persons on their paper routes throughout the city.

The boys are doing this without any compensation but merely as their part of the war effort.

Meeting Saturday noon, the carriers were divided into groups of defense stamp salesmen who will help Uncle Sam win the war against the axis.

Badges stating the boys are official United States defense agents for defense stamp sales were distributed to the carriers at the meeting, which was under direction of Ray C. Eggert, Courier circulation manager.

Deliver Next Trip. Carriers are to take orders for the stamps and give receipts for the money when they call on customers and prospects, and will deliver the stamps on their next trip.

An hour after the meeting closed Saturday, one of the carriers reported that he had already obtained orders for $6 worth of stamps.

Some other carriers also made reports Saturday afternoon of orders already taken.

Carriers will sell the defense stamps only within the city limits, it was announced.

More Convenient. Housewives and other persons giving the carriers orders for the stamps will find this method more convenient than going downtown to postoffice, stores or banks every time they want to purchase stamps.

A "victory dinner" will be given by the Courier management to the group of carriers making the greatest stamp sales, James Hayes, superintendent of city carriers, said.

Work of the "agents for defense" will be recognized by the United States treasury department in the form of the following awards:

When a carrier sells 187 10-cent defense stamps he receives a handsome bronze honor shield, bearing in relief the picture of a Minute Man.

Further Awards. When he sells 375 additional 10-cent defense stamps he receives a silver bar as a second award to add to the honor shield.

When he sells 750 additional 10-cent defense stamps, he receives a gold bar as a third award to add to the honor shield.

Then for each 750 additional 10-cent defense stamps he receives gold bars to be added to the honor shield.

THREE ICE FIRMS SPLIT UP CITY TO CUT OVERLAPPING

Effective Tomorrow; Necessary to Conserve Delivery Equipment.

In co-operation with the federal government's request to conserve tires and trucks, Waterloo's three ice companies have agreed to a division of territory so that only one company will make deliveries in any one district, it was announced Saturday.

Proprietors of the three companies estimated that, by eliminating duplication of routes, a saving of 40 to 50 per cent will be effected in mileage of all trucks of the three firms.

The three companies are the Artificial Ice & Fuel Co., Crystal Ice & Fuel Co., and the Young Coal company.

To Insure Continued Service. Effective tomorrow, the new arrangement will be a conservation measure and a means of assuring continued ice service to Waterloo patrons, it was pointed out.

The office of defense transportation in Washington, D. C., last week urged that stores and other businesses pool their delivery services or take other joint steps to conserve tires.

Notices to ice users will be sent out by each of the companies, notifying the patron which company will serve the particular district in which he lives. Unused coupon books from any company will be honored at face value by the company assigned to the patron's district.

One Delivery a Day. The notice says, in part: "We believe that this change will effect a more punctual service and prove more satisfactory to you. We should like to make only one delivery per day, and your help is asked to make this possible. We also urge you to call early in the day for deliveries in case the serviceman has already passed your house."

Your past patronage is much appreciated, and we hope you will find this method of conserving our vital defense equipment satisfactory."

Prices Uniform. Prices will be uniform for ice in all three districts. While it is possible there may be a slight advance in prices this year, this will be nominal because of the economies effected thru elimination of duplication, owners of the companies stated.

When a resident wishes to start taking ice, he should call any of the three companies and it will notify him in which district he lives and which firm will serve him.

Co-operation of the public is urged to assure success of the new arrangement.

WILLARD NAMED TO A & L BAKERY SALES POSITION. Fred R. Willard, 1008 West Eleventh street, who has been sales supervisor for Allstadt & Langlas Baking Co. for 35 years, Saturday was promoted to assistant sales manager of the company, it was announced by Charles E. Parsberg, vice president in charge of sales.

Laundries and Cleaners Limit Delivery Trips

A curtailed wartime delivery service will be instituted by seven Waterloo laundries and dry cleaning establishments starting Monday, according to an announcement made Saturday by seven leading firms.

The new regulations will limit deliveries and pick-ups to two regularly-scheduled trips each day. The present ban on new tires and trucks is given as reason for the changes.

The first delivery and pick-up starts from the plants between 8 and 8:30 a. m., and the second between 1 and 2:30 p. m. An extra charge will be made for laundry brought to the plants in the morning and desired the evening of the same day.

Laundries and dry cleaners co-operating are the Imperial Certified Cleaners, the Model Laundry & Cleaning Co., My Valet Cleaners, Sibert's White Laundry & Cleaners, Unique Cleaners, Varsity Cleaners and Furriers and the Waterloo Laundry & Cleaning Co.

EAST HIGH HOBBY SHOW THIS WEEK

Winners on Public Exhibition Wednesday, Thursday.

The fourth annual hobby show for East High school students will be held at the school library on Wednesday and Thursday, March 18 and 19, it was announced Saturday.

Students are asked to bring their entries in the contests in seven divisions to the school Monday and Tuesday of next week and these entries will be judged Tuesday night.

The seven divisions are collections, industrial art, photography, models (ship and airplane), radio, art and nature. Each division is divided into classes, in each of which ribbons will be awarded first and second prize winners. Medals will be given the division champions.

The exhibit of prize winners will be open to the public March 18 and 19 between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m.

The East High student council, of which Miss Margaret Barnes is advisor, and the library, under Miss Lillian Enlow, are co-operating in the staging of the show.

Five Sullivans Thank Mayor for Honor to Parents

A letter expressing the thanks of the five Sullivan brothers, now in the navy, for the treatment accorded their parents and sister at a breakfast held March 4 to mark the start of Waterloo's defense bond campaign, Friday was received by Mayor Ralph B. Slippy.

The Sullivan brothers thanked Mayor Slippy and the people of Waterloo. Their mother received an honor emblem at the breakfast. The five brothers—George, Francis, Joseph, Madison and Albert—are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Sullivan, 98 Adams street. Mrs. Sullivan had written to them details of the breakfast.

Man 95 Years Old Puts His Money on Uncle Sam

George E. Rath, Black Hawk county chairman for promotion of sales of U. S. defense savings bonds and stamps, said Saturday indications show that practically all Waterloo firms have by now offered their employees some payroll deduction plan for buying the securities.

He said many employers have informed him all their workers have already started buying the stamps and bonds on the pay deduction basis.

Many have asked for advice and instruction from the committee concerning various types of workable plans, he said. This information is free to all who desire it.

In Other Towns. Other Black Hawk county municipalities have started drives, too. In Cedar Falls the city defense council is preparing to send letters to all employers asking them to offer some payroll deduction plan to their employees, as was done in Waterloo during the first week in March. All promotion is being handled by the council, of which A. W. Moore is chairman.

La Porte City is planning a drive for March 24 and 25 to obtain pledges that they will buy bonds and stamps on a regular basis as they specify.

Up to Buyer. Each buyer will be given complete freedom to determine what amount he thinks he is able to pay each week or month or other period as he directs, according to Mayor R. F. Hawkins, who, with Postmaster Glenn Teeter, heads the work.

Other municipalities in the county are expected to outline their own promotion schemes later.

Grand Jury Takes Recess Until Next Wednesday Morning

The Black Hawk county grand jury, in session from last Tuesday thru Friday, adjourned until 10 a. m. Wednesday, when it will resume its investigations, County Attorney Paul L. Kildee said Saturday. The proceedings were deferred because Court Shorthand Reporter Henry W. Brandt, who is serving as clerk for the grand jury, will have to serve in Delaware county district court in Manchester Monday and Tuesday.

DRAFT BOARD SEEKS VOLUNTEER TYPIST. A volunteer is being sought by the east Waterloo draft board for the position of typist during clinical examination of registrants, Mrs. Thelma Bollerup, chief clerk of the board, announced Saturday.

Any young man now doing typing in an office, perhaps a registrant who is deferred, may volunteer for the work to do two or three hours of typing every other week as his part in the defense effort.

The "volunteer" would not be in government service but would be contributing his effort.

Many Firms Now 100 Pct. Payroll-Plan Bond Buyers

George E. Rath, Black Hawk county chairman for promotion of sales of U. S. defense savings bonds and stamps, said Saturday indications show that practically all Waterloo firms have by now offered their employees some payroll deduction plan for buying the securities.

He said many employers have informed him all their workers have already started buying the stamps and bonds on the pay deduction basis.

Many have asked for advice and instruction from the committee concerning various types of workable plans, he said. This information is free to all who desire it.

In Other Towns. Other Black Hawk county municipalities have started drives, too. In Cedar Falls the city defense council is preparing to send letters to all employers asking them to offer some payroll deduction plan to their employees, as was done in Waterloo during the first week in March. All promotion is being handled by the council, of which A. W. Moore is chairman.

La Porte City is planning a drive for March 24 and 25 to obtain pledges that they will buy bonds and stamps on a regular basis as they specify.

Up to Buyer. Each buyer will be given complete freedom to determine what amount he thinks he is able to pay each week or month or other period as he directs, according to Mayor R. F. Hawkins, who, with Postmaster Glenn Teeter, heads the work.

Other municipalities in the county are expected to outline their own promotion schemes later.

Army Has Place, Future for All, Writes Corporal

"The army has a wonderful plan of activities in which to show a soldier it is doing all it can to acquire for them comfort and happiness," Corp. Leslie R. Von Moore, a member of the United States selective service army stationed at Camp Funston, Kan., said in a letter received recently by his mother, Mrs. H. D. Moore, 433 Onida street.

Leslie volunteered for service a year ago on March 15 in the east Waterloo draft board area.

"There is a chance for every young man in the army, but he will never know until he once experiences it is today with its up-to-date conveniences," Leslie said.

He wrote that he is attending radio school and expects to graduate soon.

"Some day after returning to civilian life, I expect to continue on with radio," he said.

His letter continued: "It has been quite an experience to me being a radio operator, and also a telephone operator, which attached me to the signal corps for three months. I was then released for the maneuvers. Since the ending of the maneuvers I am back with the troop, where I gained the rank of corporal."

"I am proud to say I have one year of service already and willing to stick to the finish. Our country needs every man."

SLIPPY, MORGAN EACH HAS SLATE; HOLMES RUNS TOO

Two Three-Term Mayors Vie for Fourth Term, First in Waterloo History.

A field of 27 candidates for 12 city offices—three of them aspirants for mayor—was lined up today for Waterloo's biennial city election of Monday, March 30, as the deadline for filing of nominating papers fell at midnight Saturday.

Two complete tickets of 12 members each, Mayor Ralph B. Slippy's incumbent slate and the Waterloo Economy ticket headed by Former Mayor M. J. Morgan, were on file, together with the petitions of three independent candidates—Frank A. Holmes, 239 Miller street, for mayor; Fred W. Clute, 1330 1/2 Westfield avenue, for First ward councilman; and R. Lawrence Kilgore, 1017 Vine street, for park commissioner (six-year term).

Other Entries Fade. Indications that two other full tickets, or partial slates of candidates, might be filed faded Saturday when W. D. Perrin, 345 Derbyshire road, and Roger M. Moore, 1809 Falls avenue, passed up the opportunity of entering petitions which they had taken from the city clerk's office.

Perrin, declaring his obtaining of papers "was just a joke from the start," returned his unused petitions to the clerk's office Saturday morning.

"Practical Joke." He said a group of friends had planned to circulate a petition as a practical joke on a young businessman here.

Moore said last night that he had obtained his set of papers for another person, who later had decided not to go ahead with the formation of a ticket.

Kilgore previously had filed for the short term as park commissioner but changed to the long term.

Eleven Incumbents. Eleven of the 12 persons affiliated with the Slippy slate are incumbents, seeking re-election to their offices for another term. Only other member of the ticket is M. Emmet Waters, 316 Kingsley avenue, automobile firm sales manager, who is a candidate for First ward councilman.

C. J. Turner, present First ward councilman, is moving from the First to the Second ward soon, into a new home, and could not be a candidate for the First ward post.

Three for Mayor. Principal interest in the local campaign is expected to center on the three-way race for mayor in which Slippy, Morgan and Holmes are opponents.

Slippy, the city's chief executive since April 1, 1936, is now finishing his third term and asking a fourth.

Morgan, mayor from 1930-36, also seeks his fourth term in the office.

Back in 1934, Morgan won his third term by defeating Slippy. Two years later, with the two men again pitted against one another, Slippy emerged as winner.

Former Legislator Candidate. Holmes, as an independent, declared he entered the race on the encouragement of friends. A candidate in the June primary of 1938 for state representative on the Republican ticket, Holmes polled enough votes to finish fourth in a six-way race when Arch W. McFarlane and E. M. Lichty were nominated.

Holmes was formerly secretary to a United States senator from Illinois, and was for four years member of the pardon and parole board of Illinois.

Slippy is a veteran civil engineer; Morgan, a retired clothing merchant here; and Holmes, an exterminator manufacturer.

Never Before Four-Term Mayor. In Waterloo history, no mayor has ever held office more than three two-year terms, or six years.

Should either Slippy or Morgan win, therefore, their entering upon a fourth term, for their seventh and eighth years will set a precedent locally.

One Ticket at Castle Hill. The Citizens' ticket, consisting of all incumbent town officials except Fred Thomson, treasurer, is the only ticket which has filed papers for the Castle Hill election March 30.

Seeking re-election are John Hanson, mayor; C. W. Renshaw, assessor; and H. B. Hackett, L. H. Bailey, Guy Pettay, W. G. Rigdon, and C. F. Cutshall, all councilmen. David Galloway is nominee for treasurer.

Independent

An independent candidate for mayor, Frank A. Holmes, 239 Miller street, above, Saturday filed nomination papers to become the third man in a triangular race, opposing Mayor Ralph B. Slippy, incumbent, and M. J. Morgan, head of the Waterloo Economy ticket.

Captain Shepherd in Ireland AEF

Writes Parents: "Nothing to Worry About."

Capt. Loyd M. Shepherd, who was among the first American troops landed in North Ireland last month, is "not expecting any action soon," and he told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Shepherd, 1329 Avalon avenue, in a letter that "there's nothing to worry about."

With Captain Shepherd in Ulster are his two sons, Sgt. Maxwell Shepherd and Corp. Robert Shepherd, connected with his company.

Mrs. Loyd Shepherd and their daughter, Esther, are again in their home at 427 Kingsley avenue, after having lived in Alexandria, La., while the men were training at Camp Claiborne near by.

Captain Shepherd wrote that he "would like to tell a lot of things" that wouldn't pass army censorship. The letter, just received here, was mailed Feb. 15.

Gladiolus Show August 1 and 2

The Waterloo Gladiolus show, which is expected to attract exhibitors from surrounding areas, will be held Aug. 1 and 2 this year, probably at the Masonic temple, Bob White, secretary of the Waterloo chapter, Iowa Gladiolus society, announced Friday.

Colored motion pictures of the 1941 gladiolus shows at Sioux City, Waterloo and of the midwest show at Chicago, will be shown at a meeting of the Waterloo chapter, Iowa Gladiolus society at 3 p. m. Sunday in the Y. M. C. A.

CHRISTIAN YOUTH COUNCIL TO MEET

The Christian Youth council will meet at the Y.M.C.A. Monday at 7:30 p. m. at which time committees working on the planning of the annual Easter sunrise service are to report.

Dale Andres, of First Evangelical church, has automatically become installed as president of the Christian Youth council, owing to the fact that Grace Thieman has resigned the position because she is leaving the city. Andres was the vice president, and will now act as president until the annual election in April.

Clarmont Troutner Gets Detroit Job

Clarmont H. Troutner, 509 Leland avenue, clerk in Hotel Russell-Lamson for 10 years, has resigned and will go today to Detroit, Mich., to be a tool worker for the National Twist Drill company.

Succeeding him here is Eugene Craig, who has been a clerk in Hotel Tallcorn, Marshalltown, Ia., since Jan. 1. He is married and has a 14-month-old son. He is making his home in Brockwell Arms apartments.

Troutner's wife and their two girls, Barbara Lee 2, and Kay Frances, eight months, will go to Detroit to live in about six weeks.

SCOUTS WANT SCRAP RUBBER AND METAL

Waterloo Boy Scouts are collecting old rubber and scrap metal as well as waste paper, according to the scout offices here. Any article containing such rubber or metal is wanted by the boys. Persons having such articles may call the Waterloo scout office.
