Loyce Miller, Leroy Bauman Wed Christmas

Grace Methodist church was the scene at 4 o'clock Christmas afternoon of the candlelight nuptial ceremony in which Miss Loyce Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude R. Miller, 512 Independence avenue, became the bride of Leroy E. Bauman, son of Louis H. Bauman, 174 South Barclay street with Rev. James W. Marlin, pastor, and Rev. Cecil R. Miller of Olin, Ia., brother of the bride, officiating. The date was the thirty-ninth wedding anniversary of the groom's parents.

In a setting of poinsettias, white tapers and pine sprays, the couple repeated their vows, attended by Mrs. Robert R. Melrose of Independence, sister of the bride, as matron of honor the Misses Veramae Miller and Marilyn Flesher, bridesmaids; Robert McNabb, best man, and Robert and William Moss, Claire Davidson and Gerald Bisbee, ushers.

Mrs. Cecil R. Miller of Olin presided at the organ, and accompanied Frances Jordan, who sang "Ave Maria" (Schubert) and "Be-cause" (Händel).

The bride wore a heavy white crepe gown, fashioned with a drop yoke of inserted lace, bell sleeves, fitted bodice and full skirt falling into a promenade train. Her fingertip veil of net was gathered to a bonnet of lace, and she carried a formal vertical arrangement of calla lilies and poinsettias.

Her three attendants were all attired in heavy poinsettia red crepe. Mrs. Melrose's gown was fashioned similarly to the bride's, with the exception of the fitted wrists on the long full sleeves, and the gathered skirt.

The bridesmaids' dresses were identical and were fashioned without the lace insert. All three attendants wore bonnets of crepe and carried wedding rings of red and white carnations and roses, tied in white satin bows.

The bride's mother, wearing delphinium blue crepe, and the mother of the groom, attired in black crepe, both had gardenia corsages. Immediately following the service, the couple received the congratulations from over 175 wedding guests at a reception in the church parlors.

At either side of a wedding cake centered the refreshment table, which was appointed in poinsettia red and silver.

Hostesses included the Misses Rose Marie Gulden, Jean Crowther and Virginia Taylor.

The couple will be at home at 87 Morrison avenue, West Somerville, Mass., after Jan. 1. The bride attended Cornell college at Mt. Vernon, Ia., and Iowa State Teachers college in Cedar Falls, while the groom after attending Iowa State Teachers college, attended the School of Theology in Boston university. He is now assistant minister at College Avenue church in West Somerville.

To Celebrate

La Porte City, Ia.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brokaw will be host and hostess to their relatives and friends Monday as they entertain at an open house celebrating their sixtieth wedding anniversary. They have lived in this vicinity all their married life, and moved into La Porte City from their farm five years ago.

Mr. Brokaw was born in New Jersey in 1862, and Mrs. Brokaw was born in 1864 at St. John, Mich. They are the parents of six children: Mrs. Minnie Burrows of Newton, Mrs. Nettie Franklin, Davenport, Horace and Harry Brokaw of Bemidji, Minn., Clifford and Ralph Brokaw, Waterloo.

The ceremony and Miss Marjorie Bergstrom and James Bergstrom attended the couple. Richard Dauber of Mechanicsville, nephew of the groom, was ringbearer, and Earl Strayer of Waterloo was usher.

The bride wore a blue crepe streetlength dress with black accessories, and the maid of honor was attired in a rose colored gabardine crepe dress. Both wore floral corsages.

A reception in the Bergstrom home followed the wedding. Centering the refreshment table, which was appointed in blue and silver, was a decorated bridal cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Leinen left following the reception for Baltimore, Md., where they will make their home. For traveling, the bride wore a natural camel's hair suit with black accessories.

The groom, who attended the American Technical school in Des Moines, is employed by the Martin Aircraft company in Baltimore. The bride has been teaching in the Mechanicsville school. She is a graduate of Iowa State Teachers college.

Attending the wedding from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Dauber, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hatcher and daughter Juanita and Mr. and Mrs. James Houle of Mechanicsville and Miss Audrey Leinen of Correctionville, Ia.

Spending the Christmas holiday and the weekend in Waterloo are Mr. and Mrs. Forrest R. Shores and daughter Marilyn of Janesville, Wis., as guests in the home of Mr. Shores' mother, Mrs. F. M. Shores, 1827 West Third street, and Mrs. Shores' parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Brown, 1122 Logan avenue.

Sacred Heart Young people's club will have a dance Friday night from 9 to 12:30 o'clock in the school gymnasium with Jimmy Smith and his orchestra furnishing the music.

OLD TOWN TROUGH PASSES. Superior, Wis.—(UP)—Iron Mike's, "where the house buys the first drink," is being wrecked. It marked the passing of another landmark and the end of many practical jokes. Iron Mike is an ornamental iron trough for watering horses which has decorated a street corner here for many years. It will be removed by the city and sold for scrap iron.

Form Steel-Clad Habits. The meticulous woman, career girl and home-maker alike, brushes her dress and hat when she takes them off, puts the dress on a hanger, the hat in a box or on a stand; and she brushes them again before putting them on again. She puts shoe trees in her shoes the moment they're off, cannot abide a crooked heel, and keeps a steel brush and glove shampoo handy for cleaning suede gloves, and has leather shoes shined frequently.

She knows how important it is to keep everything she wears, from underwear to topcoats, scrupulously clean and carefully pressed. She uses a deodorant or anti-perspirant regularly, and she sets aside just 10 minutes—but 10 minutes of every day—for exercise. (NEA)

Recipe for the Day. Aurora's postmistress, Mrs. Ruth Longnecker, offers her suggestion for an appetizing, economical casserole stew prepared from left over meat and fresh vegetables.

1 cup sliced onions 1/2 cups sliced 1/2 cups sliced carrots 1 1/2 cups meat, cut fine

Put thinly sliced onions in buttered casserole, add potatoes, then carrots and top with layer of left over beef, pork or ham. (Hamburger or sausage may be used if preferred.) Salt and pepper to taste, and add about one cup water. Bake in a moderately slow oven for about 30 minutes. Add water if necessary to keep moist while baking.

Served with a fresh green salad, rolls and light dessert, this dish makes a complete menu for a "cold day dinner."

Regiment Your Grooming. System takes the "suffer" out of the old adage about one having to suffer to be beautiful, especially where that all-important point, grooming, is concerned. So why not try to map out some kind of regimen allowing time for exercise, cleansing and grooming?

First, set aside one evening a week for self-glorification. It's fun, and every woman deserves at least that much personal care. It will give her a real lift and a good start on her beauty program, so that thereafter the daily routines will be performed more quickly and easily.

If your hair isn't attractive unless washed and waved once a week, try a special device for getting to the beauty shop regularly. A standing appointment may suffice. Most business girls go to the salon immediately after work or during lunch hour once a week. If she can shampoo and set her own hair, the systematic girl keeps an adequate supply of curlers, pins, wave-set lotion and hair-nets at home.

Wedding and Engagement Announcements Are Events in Many N. E. Iowa Towns

Tracer, Ia.—Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kosnar, Tracer, of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Evelyn Gail, to Cleo J. Noe, of south of Hudson. Paul Hanson of Cedar Rapids, and Miss Dawn Hanson, also of that city, sang "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me." The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Matron of honor was Mrs. James Hoak of Eugene, Ore., who wore a gold velvet gown. Miss Ruth Shellito of Independence, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and wore turquoise velvet. Both carried bouquets of poinsettias. G. W. Garens of Wauwatosa, Wis., was best man, and ushers were Clark Swan of Independence, Clarke Hovey of St. Louis, Mo., and Donald Wolfe of Fort Sill, Okla.

The bride wore a wedding gown which was worn by the grandmother of the groom, when she was married to Dr. A. G. Shellito of Independence 57 years ago Dec. 30. It was of ivory brocade satin, basque waist, draped apron front skirt with court train, with a veil of ivory illusion and lace.

A 6 o'clock dinner was served to 50 guests at Hotel Glen-Charles and the newlyweds left on a motor trip to New York. They will be at home to their friends at Hotel De Witt, Chicago, upon their return.

The bride is a graduate of Stephens college at Columbia, Mo., and the University of Iowa. She was affiliated with Delta Gamma sorority. Mr. Shellito graduated from St. John's Military Academy at Delafield, Wis., and from Northwestern university. He will receive his degree in medicine from the university school of medicine next March. He is affiliated with the Delta Tau Delta fraternity and the Nu Sigma Nu medical fraternity.
