Change Ghana Speaker for Wartburg

(COURIER NEWS SERVICE) WAVERLY — An unexpected United Nations assignment has forced a change in Wartburg College's convocation program Tuesday.

T. O. Sowa, first secretary, economics and trade, of the Ghana embassy has replaced colleague R. K. Fosu, who is first secretary, political.

Fosu, originally scheduled to address the convocation, was unexpectedly assigned to the U. N. and could not fulfill his Wartburg commitment.

Sowa, keynoting an emergent nations series, will address himself to the aspirations of the newly formed countries and the role that Ghana is playing in this movement.

HIS SPEECH is scheduled for 10 a. m. in Wartburg's chapel-auditorium and is open to the public.

Following the Ghanaian will be former ambassador to Ethiopia, Dr. Joseph Simonson, on Nov. 30; the second secretary of the embassy of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, Ivan P. Azarov, on Dec. 5; the ambassador to the Organization of American States, the honorable Desleppis Morrison, on Dec. 7, and a representative of the Peace Corps on Dec. 14.

Wartburg's current series on the emergent nations is the second this year on the school's convocation program. Earlier communications was discussed.

Pamper Tray

LIGHT, STURDY, PORTABLE & ADJUSTABLE

IDEAL BOOK REST & WRITING TABLE

Add a new dimension to your comfort and convenience while in bed. Your PAMPER TRAY slips between inner-spring and mattress in a wink. It provides a firm, attractive surface for dining, card playing, etc. You can adjust the PAMPER TRAY to tilt at the proper angle for reading, or writing. A tiny lip on the edge holds the book in place. The PAMPER TRAY can be placed on the floor, next to the bed, and makes an attractive useful night table. The large 18"x11" stain-proof tray has a beautiful rich walnut wood-grained finish. The entire tubular frame is chrome-plated. When not in use it fits into a space no larger than your dresser drawer.
