Admiral Calls on Sullivans

GIVES PARENTS OF FIVE HEROES NAVY'S THANKS

Midwest Big Factor, States Work For Increased Supply of Bureau Service

One of the high ranking officers of the Army, a vice admiral, and his pilot were at the base of St. Louis, Mo., yesterday night and paid their respects to the parents of the five Sullivans, the victims of last night's Navy Yard crash. The parents were greeted by an adequate number of friends at the house of the Sullivan family in the city. The Sullivan family includes five sons, all of whom were killed in the crash.

After he had expressed sympathy from an illness, also was greeted by

...