Are Your Children Up To Date On Their Immunizations?

Kids grow out of many things, but vaccines are not one of them. Every year in the United States, 2.5 million people die from vaccine-preventable disease. Because adolescents are at risk for many of these serious diseases, immunization is especially important. The following are immunizations that are recommended by your child's doctor.

Gardasil is most effective at preventing, Human papillomavirus (HPV), which can cause cancers in both boys and girls.

- Recommended for teens from 9-14 years of age. This includes 2 doses given 6-12 months apart.
- Teens 15 years of age and older will receive a 3 dose series with the 2nd dose given 1-2 months after the 1st and the 3rd dose given 6 months after the 1st.

Menveo There are 5 vaccine-preventable meningitis groups. Menveo covers 4 of those groups (A,C,W,Y)

- Recommended for teens from 11-18 years of age. This includes 2 doses with the 1st given at 11-12 years of age and a booster shot at 16 years of age.

Bexsero This immunization covers the 5th group of meningitis-B — that was not included in the Menveo vaccination.

- Recommended for teens 16-23 years of age. This includes a 2 dose series, with shots given 1 month apart.

Boostrix This immunization covers tetanus, diphtheria and pertussis.

- Required for teens 10 years of age and older.
- Needs to be updated every 10 years

9-12 Years

- HPV (2 Doses)
- Meningococcal ACEWY
- Tdap

13-15 Years

- Meningococcal ACWY (if not previously vaccinated)

16-18 Years

- Meningococcal B
- Meningococcal Booster

18-25 Years

- Meningococcal B
- Meningococcal Booster

No More Cavities!

Did you know a toothbrush bristle is too large to reach the inside of the grooves on the back teeth? These areas are likely to get cavities because bugs like to live in those bumpy holes and grooves. These areas are difficult to keep clean because a toothbrush bristle cannot reach into them. These areas can be shielded from nasty bacteria by painting on a thin protective covering known as a dental sealant. It only takes a few minutes to place a dental sealant, the tooth is cleaned and the sealant is "painted" onto the chewing surface. Sealants have been shown to reduce the risk of decay (cavities) by 80% in back teeth (molars). Sealants can help you stay cavity free at any age—kids, millennials and seniors. At your next dental appointment, ask our team how sealants can benefit your smile, oral health, and let's all say "no to cavities!"
