

WANTED: FUREVER HOMES

More than 2.7 million adoptable shelter pets are euthanized each year. Most of these healthy, friendly pets end up in shelters because they lose their homes in situations like a move or divorce. Adopting a shelter pet is easy, and it's the best way to stop the widespread animal suffering that occurs in factory-style breeding facilities that put their own profits above the health and happiness of the animals they sell. To learn more about how you can help an animal in need, please visit us online or in person today, and meet some of the great pets just waiting for a second chance at happiness.
